Deer Outlook Is Fairly Good

Deer Season Laws Cited By Commission

With fair shooting expected, the Executive Secretary of the Game & Fish Commission outlined some major regulations designed to guide Texas hunters when the deer season opens under the general law, opens Sunday, Nov. 8. The general law season extends through December 31.

He said gunners should remember that game wardens are not privileged to ignore violations since the state law specifies what hunters should NOT do. For example, if a hunter shoots a doe deer he must be prosecuted regardless of the circumstances unless it is the rare case of a doe having horns. The same applies to buck deer bearing less than the legal pronged horn.

Some other regulations:

Two legal deer are allowed each hunter, with the law requiring a paper tag from the hunter's own license to be securely attached to the carcass. One secure method, he said, is to slit a small pocket in the hide to insert the tag. This has an added advantage in case the buck is stolen.

Hunting from public roads or on enclosed land without permission of the land owner is prohibited by law. Dogs or deer calls cannot be used. Horn rattling is permitted.

Shooting hours are from one half hour before sunrise to one half hour after sunset.

Wild turkey regulations are similar. The limit is three gobblers for the entire season.

There are some special seasons on deer. West of the Pecos the shooting runs from November 20 to November 25, both days inclusive. In the 25-county Panhandle bracket, the season is from November 15 to November 24, both days inclusive. In the six-county Possum Kingdom regulatory region, the season is from November 15 to 20. Only one buck deer is permitted in these areas. Several counties have special laws.

He said the estimated 100,000 plus deer hunters would be mainly concentrated in the 41-county Edwards Plateau, or Hill County, area and that the deer harvest would approximate 40,000 of the estimated 500,000 deer in the state. Turkey prospects are reported better than last year when an estimated 5000 gobblers were bagged.

The Executive Secretary cautioned hunters against carelessness, cigarettes or camp fires, stressing that areas burned over now won't reproduce grass until next spring.

A Pint Of Blood May Save A Life, So Do Your Duty

A pint of blood—what's your type?

It's blood we are talking about, and you can spare a pint, or rather share a pint, with some lad in far off Korea, whose very life depends upon your aid.

Maybe you feel faint at the sight of blood, but the boy in Korea will welcome it with much delight.

It's our Blood Bank we are interested in, and Co-Chairman Homer Smith, says that if Eastland "goes over the top" it will be through the efforts of Eastland people. The Bloodmobile will be in Eastland on Nov. 25, so plan to do your part.

It is strictly humanitarian—nobody pays for human blood. The Red Cross merely sees that blood and blood derivatives reach our wounded boys in Korea.

Workers have pledge cards so when yours arrives, fill it out and turn it in. Our boys are waiting—remember this.

Announcements Of Nazarenes

Sermon subject at the Church of the Nazarene Sunday morning will be "Vision or Nightmares." At the evangelistic service at 7:30 o'clock in the evening the subject will be "Face to Face with God." Sunday School will begin at 10 a.m. and the NYPS at 7 p.m. You are invited to attend these services.

Mable Grimes Is 1952 Football Sweetheart

Presentation of the Eastland High School Maverick's Sweetheart was an elaborate ceremony of color and flash at the game between Eastland and Bangs Friday night, Nov. 14th, at Eastland stadium.

Miss Mable Grimes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Grimes, was selected by the Mavericks and was escorted to the field by Don Roff and Norman Watson, the two captains who hold equal rank.

At the half of the game the star arrived on the side lines with the Sweetheart, attired in royal purple velvet suit and chick white cloche and a gleaming circle of rhinestones. She aligned with the two captains who escorted her to the center of the field where the majorettes, Patsy Simpson, Sylvia Sullivan, Jane Ann Jernigan and Janis Little, formed an arch with their batons. The captains and Sweetheart marched through the arch and approached the band who had formed appropriately a football. Janie Dutton, senior cheer leader stood in the center of the huge football and as the band played "All American Girl" she received the honor. George Bledsoe, band director, announced her name. Captain Watson was given the honor of presenting the ribboned "Sweetheart" and the first kiss for Miss Grimes. Captain Roff presented the bouquet of gold mums and the second captain's kiss. At this point of the ceremony the band played "The Alma Mater, a beautiful and serious moment for all those who walk through the portals of good old Eastland High. Mr. Eddie Hooker, present coach, Mr. Wendell Siebert, former coach, and Mr. W. G. Womack, superintendent of EHS, had places of honor in the ceremony.

Eastland '11,' Underdogs, Put Up Stiff Battle

The Eastland Mavericks, outweighed approximately 14 pounds per man, went down to defeat before a fairly large crowd at Maverick Field here Friday night 13 to 7. In the ball carrying department, for Bangs, it was all Johnny Pierce. He scored both touchdowns and passed for the only extra point registered by the Dragons. Behind the massive Dragon line, Pierce danced and waltzed for two touchdowns in the first quarter and although he did not score again, he was a threat until the game ended.

Vern Maroney was the offensive star for the Mavericks, aided by several good gains by Jamie Jessop and J. D. Hanson. Maroney was aided in his long dashes by some bone shaking blocks thrown by Hanson, Jessop and Norman Watson, who played brilliantly on both defense and offense. In fact Watson was in on about half of the tackles made in the Maverick line. Roff, Muirhead and Edwards all played great defensive ball for the Mavericks.

After the first seven minutes of the first quarter the Maverick forward wall held the Dragons scoreless.

Eastland's J. D. Hansen opened the game with a long kick to the Bangs 25 yard line where Pierce returned to the Dragon 35 yard line. After a series of line plays Bangs punted to the Maverick 30 yard line and on the second play from scrimmage Bangs covered a fumble on a pitch out, Maroney to Hanson. On the second play from scrimmage Pierce went through right tackle and on over the goal line for a touchdown. Pierce's try for extra point was blocked by Don Christman.

Eastland took the kickoff and after failing to make a first down Hanson punted to the midfield stripe. The Dragons, with Pierce doing most of the ball packing, worked the ball to the Maverick 27 yard line. Here on exactly the same play that he scored a few minutes before, Pierce broke over the right side of the Maverick line, hit the west sideline and on over for his second touchdown. Pierce's pass to end Graves was good. Dragons 15 Mavericks 0.

Bangs kicked off and the Mavericks, with Jessop and Hanson lugging the ball, worked to the Dragon 40 yard line, using the spread formation. Striking quickly at right tackle, Vern Maroney burst in to the Dragon secondary and drifted toward the east sideline. Aided with key blocks thrown by Hanson and Jessop, he hit the sideline and streaked across into pay dirt. However an illegal formation was called against the Mavericks and the ball was brought back to the Maverick 45-yard line. The half ended after a punt exchange with Bangs in possession of the ball.

After taking the kickoff and failing to go with it, Hanson punted to Pierce on the Dragon 42. Here the Maverick line rose up and held and on 3rd down Pierce tried to quick kick. The center section of the Maverick line led by Hanson, Roff, Muirhead and Edwards, broke through and blocked the kick. Bangs was charged with a 15 yard clipping penalty, Eastland getting possession.

STRAWNITE, MOTHER-IN-LAW ONLY SLIGHTLY INJURED IN FRIDAY NIGHT AUTO CRASH

Two Strawnites were mighty lucky to be alive today.

They're Francis Joseph Dixon and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Joe Barton, who suffered only minor injuries as a result of what might have been a fatal automobile accident Friday night near midnight.

Dixon lost control of the 1950 model Chevrolet sedan he was driving on the curving pavement of State Highway 16, 144 yards from the intersection of U. S. Highway 80, about 11:10 p.m., according to a report of the State Highway Patrol.

The automobile, traveling at a speedy pace, left the pavement, skidded off the gravel shoulder of the highway, rammed into a pile of stumps, and then bounced off overturning several times before it finally came to a rest on its side. The vehicle was badly damaged.

Site of the accident was about 11 miles east of Ranger and three miles west of Strawn.

Dixon and his mother-in-law were rushed to the Strawn Hospital in a Triplett Funeral Home ambulance. However, Dr. Paul C. Pedigo, attending physician who rendered treatment to the accident victims, said the pair suffered only minor injuries in the mishap.

Only 33 Left—Shopping Days Are Dwindling

How about your Christmas shopping?

Have you begun to select those Yuletide gifts, to attend to some of those buying details that sometimes are left to be done at the last minute?

If you haven't, next week might be a grand time to start.

Only 33 more shopping days remain before Christmas, Eastland Countians are reminded today, and they're also advised that "early bird" shoppers get best selections and, usually, effect greater savings in their purchases of Yuletide gifts.

Merchants over the Eastland County area report largest stocks of Christmas merchandise in years and urge families in this section to fill their gift needs now.

Most merchants offer convenient layaway and budget plans that make early Christmas shopping both easy and economical.

Remember—only 32 more shopping days until Christmas.

In the boys game the Hornets dropped a fast one to the Scranton quint, by a score of 48-35. Capt. Lindsey played a neat game last night, and took scoring honors.

These clubs will meet again in the Olden gym Tuesday night, November 18, with plenty basketball for all spectators. Coach Weaver and Hilliard invite you to be on hand at 7 o'clock to witness the game.

99 Per Cent American Adults Believe In God

Of-heard comment that America's younger generation is headed toward Hades and that this great land of the free and home of the brave is spiritually decadent were contradicted today by the first impartial nation-wide survey of religious beliefs ever made in the United States.

The heartening finding of the coast-to-coast poll:

Ninety-nine per cent of American adults believe in God.

The survey, made by an independent commercial opinion research firm, cut across racial and religious lines and examined the beliefs of Catholics, Protestants, Jews, other sects, and those professing no religious beliefs. The questionnaire and polling techniques, four months in preparation, were reviewed and approved by Dr. George Gallup of the Gallup Poll.

In the questionnaire, the basic question put to Americans was: "Do you believe in a God?" The question was understood. It could not be side-stepped because of a lack of directness. Ninety-nine per cent said they believe in God. Only one percent said they do not believe.

Looking more closely at the survey, belief in a God among those who said they were Protestant was found to be just under 99 per cent, those who said they were Catholic just under 100 per cent, among those who said they were Jewish slightly less than 97 per cent. Disbelief was greatest among those who said they belonged to no church group. Of the sexes, women stood at close to 100 per cent while men mustered only 98 per cent.

In addition, all who answered "Yes," were asked: "How strong would you say this belief is?" "Absolutely certain there is a God" — "fairly sure there is" — "not quite sure, but like to think there is" — "not at all sure, but not sure there isn't."

Of the total, 87 per cent were absolutely certain, 10 per cent fairly sure, and 2 per cent not quite sure, with less than 1 per cent not at all sure. Of the Catholics 92 per cent were absolutely certain, 7 per cent fairly sure, 1 percent not quite sure. Of the total Protestant, 87 per cent were absolutely certain, 10 per cent fairly sure, 2 per cent not quite sure. The Jews were 70 per cent absolutely certain, 18 per cent fairly sure, 9 per cent not quite sure. Of those from no religious group, only 55 per cent were absolutely certain, 21 per cent fairly sure, 7 per cent not quite sure, and 2 per cent not at all sure. From this group came the largest percentage who did not believe in God: 12 per cent, and the 3 per cent who did not know.

Future reports on the survey's findings will show the intensity of that belief in practice.

Drunk Meter Tests Aid Cops

CHICAGO — Drunk-meters were used in 242 cities last year to back up arresting officers' charges that motorists were intoxicated, a survey showed.

The International City Managers Association said the reporting cities were in 42 states where courts admit the chemical test evidence for drunkenness.

The association said a survey made by the National Safety Council showed that conviction rates of arrests for drunken driving increased considerably when chemical tests were used. In the 242 cities, almost half had 100 per cent convictions based on the tests, while only one-fourth achieved 100 per cent when the tests were bypassed, the report said.

In the drunk-meter test a suspect blows a balloon full of air. Then the breath is passed through a series of tubes containing chemicals. Reaction of the chemicals determines alcoholic content of the suspect's blood.

POTPOURRI AND WORSE

(By Major Hoopie McCorkle)
Telegram Philosopher

Among the numerous other innovations of life, we should like to mention the H.D.C., now so prominent in this and other states. Only this week we had occasion to visit the Eastland County organization, and it was not only education and entertaining, but very pleasurable as well.

It was Achievement Day, and nine of the eleven Eastland County Home Demonstration Clubs were represented.

The work in this county is under the direction of Misses Mildred Daniel and Rozelle Winston, who are in Charge of Club Work here. Miss Daniel is Home Demonstration Agent and Miss Winston is her assistant. Both are splendid and have made wonderful records here.

And while we are on the subject we might mention Mrs. W. W. Fewell of Cisco, who is county chairman, and Miss Annie Lucy Lane, District H. D. Agent who resides in Stephenville. Other prominent leaders were there, but the writer was so busy sampling cakes and pies, to get their names.

It will be remembered that Eastland County Clubs were without an agent for several months during the earlier part of the year, and women of the county are to be commended for their good work in carrying on despite this handicap.

Once on the field however, these young ladies have been working long hours in an effort to "catch up", and get the program on sound footing.

"Achievement Day" was really something, and we enjoyed it very much. We had pipe dreams, and dreams of the days of long ago. Our mind was carried back to pre-HDC days, and as we marveled at the exhibits brought in by the various club members, we could not help but think of women of yesterday.

In those days we had no Home Demonstration Clubs. It was a case of every woman for herself and the world be darned. Our mother and millions of other mothers of 50 or more years ago, really suffered, and as we remember, men didn't flock in to lighten their burdens. Back in those old "wood burning stove days" mother did most everything that was to be done. She most likely cut the wood if she didn't haul it or drag it up from the pasture.

She would milk the cows, feed the pigs and cook the breakfast, while her husband remained in bed trying to get over yesterday's hunting or fishing trip.

She could not go in and grab a loaf of pre-sliced bread, drop it in the electric toaster, and begin calling breakfast as she poured coffee from a modern percolator. She would grind the coffee and brew it in some kind of an old pot. She also sliced the bacon—it didn't come shield in those days, and if she had any eggs she would search them out of the haystack. Yep, mothers in those days had a pretty rough time, as compared with her modern daughter who lives on pre-digested food and a little Melba toast.

On Achievement Day we didn't see even one old smoky kerosene lamp, but we saw some of the most beautiful fancy work, dressed up pastry and fine garments we have ever seen.

Mothers of fifty years ago didn't know what they were missing. To them work was work and all of it drudgery. Most of them were old and bent by the time they entered their 30s, but her granddaughter of today might be classed with the flappers, even when she reaches the age of 50.

Men of yesterday were no meaner than men of today, but they were not so thoughtful. Husbands would march off early in the morning, spend the day fishing and hunting with neighbors, and then sit around the fire in the evening while mother cleaned and dressed what game they may have brought in. Of course while father was out chasing bob-whites all over the country, stopping occasionally to take a "nip" from his jug, mother was at home "resting." Of course she had to do her "resting" while she put out the family wash on an old tub board, but that was nothing, for she was used to it. And during the day she found time to clean house, patch snagged garments for the family, iron and bake a cake for Sunday.

She would bring her water up from the spring—father was too busy hunting to drag up a barrel on the "slide", and beside this, mother really needed the exercise. She didn't know what a water faucet looked like, and a modern steam laundry was "Latin" to her. Deep freezers had never been dreamed of, and refrigerators were no more than a varnished box with a little chunk of ice in it. These boxes did not refrigerate anything, but they kept the floor wet and muddy, and the ice man didn't help conditions any, as we remember.

If mother happened to reach the age of 40 she was usually a bent and crippled old lady, too old to go anywhere, and so tired she would not have found enjoyment even if she had gone. Summed up in a few words she had "just killed herself working."

No wonder we marveled at Achievement Day! We saw mother there who may have been 75 years old, but they looked fresh enough to drive a high powered car to a football game. And right here we want to say that the HDC has been very active in this change over. Women are no longer considered as a beast of burden, but are classed as human beings of the highest type.

In this day husbands want to see their wives a happy and contented women, and with all our labor saving devices this is quite possible at a minimum of cost.

At the HDC Club women meet and talk over their problems. They have specially trained agents to work with them, and they are doing a good job.

At these meetings they learn new "tricks," and have learned that it is really cheaper to buy commercial soaps and washing powders than it is to get out in the back yard, fight the elements and try to pull off a batch of old lye soap. At these meetings they learn to sew and make useful and beautiful garments and "what nots". No less than 66 exhibits were on display on Achievement day.

There was leather work that would compare very favorably with factory products. There were silver trays, baskets and textile exhibits. Beautiful quilt tops were found, as was copper tooling numbers. The why for all this may be answered this way. The women are no longer slaves, but are energetic and free. They both have the time and the inclination to do these things, and the movement is growing by leaps and bounds. Thanks to the HDC.

Everything was fine until they let us visit the cats department. Up until that time we had been on good behavior, and nobody had suggested that they throw us out. But when we got a large plate and circled that festive board, it was awful. We dearly love good food, and on this table you could have found anything. It broke our heart that we couldn't sample everything, but it was impossible.

There was chicken baked, roasted and fried, with dressing or gravy as the occasion demanded. At least 50 brands of salad, and the 4 varieties we tried were all good. Vegetable were piled so high a fellow needed a pitch fork to load his plate. We were satisfied to the fullest, but wept when we could eat no more.

We would like to join this organization, even if only on an associate member basis.

P.S.—We forgot to ask Miss Daniel or Miss Rozelle when they will have the next county-wide feed. We certainly enjoy them—especially the cakes.

"It" is a huge, 12-ton knife and face-grinder built by the Samuel C. Rogers & Co. plant here. The designer, Arthur F. Moul, who said he worked six months in perfecting the design, explained that security reasons prevented him from disclosing its purpose or destination beyond telling that it will be used by the government in the atomic energy program.

Moul recently gave a demonstration of the grinder for engineers from Japan, England, Argentina, Switzerland and China. He pointed out it is the first ever made incorporating the hydraulic fluid-drive motor principle in a heavy duty face-grinding machine and edge-grinding machines.

Nation's Fire Losses for 1951—
... are way up according to report of National Board of Fire Underwriters just released. Three quarter billion dollars went up in smoke, an increase of 12.3%, and more than 11,000 persons lost their lives. The causes are listed as about the same as previous years with careless use of matches and smoking accounting for 27%. Misuse of electricity, overheated chimneys and flues, lightning, spontaneous combustion and explosions are others in order.

DRAGONS—

(Continued from Page 1) ion of the ball on the Dragon 14 yard line. On the first play from the spread formation, Maroney streaked through the Dragon line and into the secondary. He was pulled down on the one yard line, Williams, taking a Maroney hand-off, went over for the touchdown. Stan Harris who kicked the 23 yard field goal last Friday night plus two extra points, added the extra point with Jessop holding the ball. Score 13 to 7 Bangs.

The Mavericks, after taking a Dragon punt, worked the ball to the Bangs 25 yard line, Jessop doing most of the ball advancing. Here however the Dragon line, led by 199 pound McGaughey and 165 pound James Smith, overpowered the Maverick line and stopped the drive cold. In fact they threw the ball carrier, Maroney, back to Dragon 36 yard line. The game ended a few minutes later with Bangs holding onto the ball.

Civic League and Garden Club Tea

The monthly meeting of the Civic League and Garden Club was a Thanksgiving Tea with a Book Review by Mrs. E. E. Freyschlag. She reviewed "The Old Man of the Sea," by Ernest Hemingway and gave a most interesting and broader interpretation than the average reader has found in this particular book. She concluded it with a very forcible moral which so many readers have admitted that they had completely overlooked.

Mrs. Grace Reed, Superintendent of Eastland Memorial hospital was introduced and gave a talk on the urgent need for an Auxiliary for the hospital and explained the purposes and plans.

Mrs. Don Hill chairman for refreshments with her committee, Mmes. I. C. Inzer, C. T. Lucas, Hubert Westfall, Billy Frost, Jack Germany, Carl Garrett, Earl Conner, Sr., and H. L. King arranged a handsome table of Italian ecru lace cloth with an appointment of red and green polished apples and gay colored autumn leaves.

A very large attendance of both members and guests were served spiced punch and cookies. Mrs. Buda Butler president was asked to the seat of honor at the tea service.

BIGGER ACRES WITH LEGUMES

This farmer wanted to buy some more land, but it just wasn't available close enough to do him any good. He decided to make his present farm bigger—not in size, but to get as much yield as he would have from owning more land. By growing and plowing-under a crop of clover, he found he could increase his succeeding corn yields by 18 percent. It was produced cheaper, and he found that he was making as much clear profit on his present farm as he could have expected from buying the additional land using the old methods of farming. Your PMA office can help you with suggested legumes for soil building.

A bank account makes it possible for you to plow-under a part of your income, storing it away to draw upon at some future time. It's like making your future income bigger.
