

Now we are making devices to knock all interference out of television. According to a McGraw-Hill publication these devices are on sale, and in England it is unlawful for motorcycles and other motors to operate without being fully equipped.

This would go a long way toward popularizing TV. In some localities local interference wrecks havoc on reception.

It will be a great blessing when one may turn on his television set, with some assurance that he may tune in without fighting outside elements which at times are so numerous that it is impossible to bring in a picture on the screen. All you get is "snow and squawks."

By the time you are reading this, America will have undergone a complete change politically, at any rate. Dwight D. Eisenhower will be serving as president of the United States, and influence from this country is felt all over the world.

The least that can be said is that a majority of citizens in this country will have a leader they trust. They believe in him, and so far he has done or said nothing to change their opinion. He has not made any wild promises, just for the sake of convenience, but he has promised to serve them to the best of his ability.

Eisenhower does not own any political debts, and it appears he will continue in the "free" manner. "Patronage" was never a plank in his platform, for one of his cabinet members is a "Democrat who fought him during the campaign." Mr. Eisenhower must have decided that the man in question was a very capable individual, and that regardless of political affiliations, he thought he was qualified to serve at this post with honor and distinction.

Right now it should be our duty and desire not to expect too much too quickly. The world was not made in a day, and our political set-ups won't be changed overnight. It is going to be a slow and difficult task. Let our criticism be changed into prayers for our leader. He seems to welcome the leadership of God, and prayers from 160 million people will go a long way toward restoring us to a normal state.

Confidence has been restored, and we may look forward to better and brighter days.

The Fat Stock Show to be held in Fort Worth, gives promise of being bigger and better than ever before. Many residents of this county will be in attendance, and will enjoy the many programs and entertainments. There is one thing about Fort Worth, that city never does anything in a half-hearted manner. When final decision is reached, the entire city may be expected to give it liberal backing. That's why the stock show is always good.

Which reminds us that Eastland County is to have a stock show, though somewhat smaller in size. Our show is for the purpose of encouraging young men and women who are to be our producers of tomorrow. This show too, will be worth while and is certainly worthy of our support.

We are wondering today just how many individuals in the Washington through are going to feel that they got their money's worth. First they had to get to Washington, and may neglect their work to do. Most likely hotel rooms have been sold out for some time, and if they are lucky enough to find an army cot in a flophouse at about $40 per day, they may consider themselves lucky.

Because of the size of the crowd you may have to stand about six miles from the center of activities. You will not get to see Ike unless it is on TV, and if the sand is blowing you won't be able to tell when Truman goes out or when Ike comes in.

You will come home with swollen feet, a hungry "tummy" and in need of rest. But during the remaining days of your life you can tell about the time when you went to "Eisenhower's Inauguration." And that will be something.

The R. A. P. Poles, after spending some time in Lovington, N. M., have returned to Eastland. Mr. P. P. Pole was endeavoring to open a business in that city, but has trade failed to go through.

O. H. Dick made a business trip to Brownwood Monday for the purpose of locating his daughter and son-in-law, the Kenneth Williams, in Howard Payne College. The couple is now comfortably located on the college campus.

County's Dimes Drive Set-Up Is Complete Today

The Home Demonstration Clubs at Morton Valley and Colony will lead the 1953 March of Dimes drives in those communities. Mrs. J. A. Bates of Ranger, chairman of the current fund-raising effort, announced Wednesday morning.

Appointments of volunteer workers in those communities, the Eastland County Dimes drive chairman said, completes organization of the entire area.

The fund-raising effort, now in progress, is scheduled to end on Jan. 31.

"We're asking Eastland Countians to lend their all-out support to this highly worthy cause," Mrs. Bates said. "The county unit of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is heavily in debt as a result of last year's terrific and costly toll of this dreaded epidemic."

"Thirteen persons, most of them children, were victims of the insidious disease," the county March of Dimes chairman said, "and the cost of care and treatment for them forced the county organization to negotiate two loans with the national organization."

"There is no indication whatever that 1953 won't be another record polo year," the chairman declared, "and that's why it is so vital and necessary that we all give and give liberally during this March of Dimes drive."

Boosters From Fort Worth Due Here Thursday

A group of Fort Worth businessmen are due to arrive in Eastland, Thursday afternoon, January 22, at 1:45, traveling by chartered bus, according to a message received here by H. J. Tanner of the Chamber of Commerce.

The troopers will arrive from the West, coming in from Cisco. The bus will be equipped with a sound system, and will contain a trio of musicians as well as the businessmen. They have asked for a police escort to pilot them into the city and to a suitable point where they may disembark and meet citizens of the city, while scattering invitations to the Fat Stock Show.

While this is being done the musicians will play, sing, and announce facts concerning the show that might be of interest to Eastland people. Remember the time: Thursday afternoon, at 1:45 p.m.

The message was signed by William Holden, executive vice-president of the Fort Worth chamber of commerce.

Olden Takes 2 Games From The Gorman Quint

Olden Hornets, boys and girls, took two games from the Gorman Panthers Tuesday evening at the Olden Gym.

Coach Hillard's girls took a rather decisive victory over their opponents; the final score being 46-37 in favor of Olden. Canet was high to take scoring honors with 25 points. Brown was high for the Panthers with 24 points.

In the boys game Coach Weaver's quint held on to take a close one from the Panthers. Final score was Olden 38 and Gorman 35.

Norton was high for the Hornets with 10 points, closely followed by Rowch and Slaten.

Gilbert was an outstanding player for Gorman.

The Hornets will be in action again Thursday night when they play at the Rising Star Tournament.

Ike Likes Everybody, Everybody Likes Ike

Regardless of whether a man is a Democrat or a Republican, all America was thrilled Tuesday at noon when General Eisenhower took the oath of office as president of the United States. Just prior to taking the oath the general asked that his audience in Washington and all over the United States, who were served by radio and television, that they bow their heads in prayer. The general delivered the prayer, and many who heard him, say that the words, and his general tone, were sufficient to rock the very foundations of iniquity.

"A mighty good way to begin a difficult task," one of our readers declared.

"It took a big man, and a man who knows God, to have done our president did," said another.

"That's the way Eisenhower has been all along," said a third man. "He does not capitalize on his Christianity, though he is a devout follower of God."

Eastland Woman's Relative Dies

Funeral services were held in Hereford Jan. 6 for Rev. M. M. Beavers, pioneer Methodist preacher, who died Monday in the Deaf Smith County hospital following a two weeks illness. Rev. T. Edgar Neal, pastor, officiated.

Rev. Beavers was the brother-in-law of Mrs. W. T. Rutherford. He and his wife, who survive, visited here last September with Mrs. Rutherford, who makes her home here with her daughter, Mrs. L. C. Harlow.

For 48 years Rev. Beavers had been active in West Texas Methodist affairs. After his retirement in 1939 he maintained an active interest in the Hereford Church and the Northwest Texas Conference.

Other survivors include three sons, Lama of Hereford, Milton of Big Delta, Alaska and Morris of Lubbock; four daughters, Zoe Beavers of Dalhart, Mrs. Hubert R. Freeman, Mesa, Ariz., Mrs. J. W. Hendrix, Hereford, and Miss Lovie Beavers, Lubbock and three sisters, Mrs. M. L. Brittain and Mrs. C. L. Jackson of Woodward, Okla., and Mrs. Ola Leverage of Pauls Valley, Okla.

Two New Tests Are Announced For Palo Pinto

Two new locations for tests were announced late Tuesday. Both are located in neighboring Palo Pinto County.

Wilcox Investment Co. No. 1 Hart Cattle Co. has been staked as a wildcat three miles northwest of Brad in Palo Pinto County. It's 2,310 feet from the west and 2,420 feet from the north lines of Section 18, Block 3, T&P Survey. Proposed depth is 1,950 feet with cable tools.

The other test is the Palo Pinto Oil & Gas Corp. No. 12 William Sanders which has been staked 10 miles north of Strawn, 220 feet from the north and 2,800 feet from the east lines of Section 43, Block 2, SP Survey. The new FPO&G project, to be drilled with cable tools, is scheduled for 1,500 feet.

Personally we feel that he "testified" at a time when all America was listening. When the big hour came, he had God at his side. He was not ashamed to admit his human frailties when God was holding his hand.

When asked what he thought of our president, Judge B. W. Patterson said "it couldn't be better—he is shooting right down my alley."

Fred Parsons at the A&P store would not admit that he voted for him, but he seems mighty well pleased. "I wanted a Democrat, but Ike seems to be alright."

J. B. Johnson admits that he is mighty well pleased. "I think we will all like him."

Joe Stephen was elated to the fullest degree. "At least we have a real man in the White House now—a man who will not 'cuss' especially while on duty. He will

New Studebaker Due In Ten Days, Warren States

Studebaker's 1953 passenger cars will hit the market with an impact as terrific as the one which accompanied the introduction of the company's postwar models for 1947.

That's the word from Mr. Warren, Studebaker dealer in Eastland.

"The report from South Bend," says Mr. Warren "is that the new models, which will be introduced in about 10 days, will get the public as excited as did Studebaker's first jet-streamed cars right after the war."

Complete details concerning the new cars cannot be released for another week or so," Mr. Warren points out, "but rumors out of South Bend have it that the new Studebakers will be exciting in their new styling and design, possess lower centers of gravity and overall silhouettes, and he as talk-of-about as any cars ever introduced by an American automobile builder."

"The public will get the type of automobile they have come to expect from Studebaker," says Mr. Warren. "It will be the kind of car that epitomizes the company's one hundred years of contributions to the field of transportation and be the tip-off on what to expect during the second century now getting under way."

respect his office and the people who gave it to him."

O. B. Shero, when asked what he thought about the inauguration stated that it is "wonderful. Confidence can be restored when a man like Eisenhower controls the reins of government."

E. C. Satterwhite didn't have too much to say, though he looks about as well pleased as Eisenhower himself. "He acts like he knows what he is doing and going to do."

Mrs. White over at the County Judge's office, said "fine, everybody should be happy."

Judge Hart and Frank Sparks, seasoned politicians, didn't talk very much, though we think we saw a happy smile on both their faces.

Lions Club Has Special Program

Judge Milburn Long had the program at the Lions Club Tuesday, and being a judge of "good programs" as well as of law, he invited Mr. and Mrs. Grady Pipkin to furnish the program.

It will be remembered that the Pipkins made an extended visit to Europe during the past summer, and while there they took many pictures. Several movie films were made, and the program at the Lions Club was the showing of a number of these films.

There were scenes in Denmark, Norway, Switzerland and in Italy. However, the most attractive were those made in the Swiss Alps. They were really something very different, and were very educational.

Mrs. Pipkin who took most of the pictures, served as narrator and gave a word picture as the film progressed.

The program was highly enjoyed by all who saw it, and the club gave the Pipkins a vote of thanks for making it possible.

Sullivan Wins Crawley Award

David Sullivan of Woodson, one of the standout members of the Ranger Junior College Rangers 1952 football squad, is the recipient of the first annual Jimmie Crawley Memorial Award to be given each year to an outstanding letterman of the RJC grid aggregation.

The memorial award, according to sponsors, was set up by the faculty and coaching staff of Ranger Junior College and is dedicated to the memory of Corporal Jimmie Max Crawley, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crawley of Ranger, who died on Triangle Hill in Korea on Oct. 15, 1952.

The late Cpl. Crawley attended Ranger Junior College for two years and was an ace performer on the Rangers' football squad. He graduated from Gorman High School in 1947 prior to attending RJC and was a student at Midwestern University at the time of his induction into the armed forces in 1951.

High Schoolers May Join RJC CAP Squadron

The Ranger unit of the Civil Air Patrol may now accept enlistments of high school students in this area, Captain Dick Henderson of Ranger Junior College, commander of the civilian flying group, announced Wednesday.

Those interested, he said, may secure application blanks from him or his aides at Ranger Junior College.

A weekly session in ground instruction for the high schoolers is being planned for Tuesday nights at 7:30 p.m. at the Ranger college.

High school students interested in the CAP program and its many benefits are urged to contact Capt. Henderson at the earliest opportunity.

Both cars were badly wrecked, and Mr. Harbin sustained some serious and painful injuries. Kimbrough was not hospitalized.

A bond hearing for Donald Hawkins Brown, 24-year-old Dallas man charged with the New Year's Eve slaying of Joe Campbell, finance company collector and son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Campbell of Ranger, has been set for Thursday morning at 9:30 a.m. in Dallas, it was announced early today.

Brown is being held without bond in the Dallas County jail pending the hearing.

The hearing originally had been scheduled for Tuesday morning, but Justice of the Peace Glenn Byrd postponed the session until tomorrow morning.

District Attorney Henry Wade and Homicide Capt. Will Fritz were in a long conference yesterday afternoon discussing the bizarre case.

Young Campbell, 25 years of age and a former resident of Ranger, was brutally slain in a South Dallas residential section on New Year's Eve. Brown, apprehended and arrested in Fort Worth several days ago, denies any connection with the murder. However, Det. Fritz claims a pair of Brown's trousers, splashed with blood, definitely link the red-haired former Dallas bus driver with the crime.

Campbell's body was found aflame in a car owned by the Pacific Finance Co. He had been shot four times in the head with a .25-caliber revolver.

Dallas detectives allege that Brown had an argument with Campbell relative to his delinquency in payments on a 1947 model Buick sedan. The suspect was three payments in arrears. Following the words, the detectives believe, Brown assaulted Campbell, later shot him and then, after drenching the collector's body with gasoline, he set it afire in the 3400 block of Guter Avenue in Dallas where a few minutes later firemen discovered the body when called to extinguish the blazing auto.

A few hours after the slaying, Brown, his wife and their two small children disappeared from their modest apartment in a South Dallas rooming house and became the object of a Southwest-wide manhunt which was climaxed with Brown's capture in Fort Worth several days later.

J. D. Hanson was high score man for the Mavericks with 12 points to his credit. King of Dublin scored 13 points. Others scoring for Eastland included George a d Stanley Harris with 7 points each, Doug Williamson 6 points and Charles Collins and Bobby Jack Pittman 2 points each.

Dublin girls also won over the Eastland sextette with a final score of 31-24 in Dublin's favor. Norma Gene Robinson won high score with 12 points, trailed by Billie Jo Trout with 8 points and Wanda Beck with 4.

TWO-WAY X-RAY MACHINE DESIGNED

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—A highspeed X-Ray machine that takes two pictures simultaneously from different angles has been designed by a St. Louis University radiologist.

Shooting pictures from above and from the side, the machine is expected to aid diagnosis of ailments by giving a better view of body organs than the conventional one-way X-Ray does.

The machine takes 12 sets of X-Rays in three seconds. The four-pound X-Ray plates are rapidly fed into place from two loading chambers, exposed, and ejected.

The device, which is still being developed is called the Brodeur biplane serialograph after its designer, Armand E. Brodeur.

XXI GEORGE KENDALL looked into the red face of Albert P. Sutworth. The client had come up to George's room after George had received the call from the desk clerk. If ever a man's expression showed anger, Mr. Sutworth's did.

"You have double-crossed me, young man." "Double-crossed you? Why, Mr. Sutworth! How can you say such a thing." "Don't try to stall around. I know what you're up to."

"Yes, I do." "Mr. Sutworth," George's voice was calmer now. "I was just going to send you a telegram, resigning from the case. Your daughter just threw me into a vegetable and fruit stand today."

"She did? I received a phone call from her early this morning. She said she was through with Chief Big Bear and was going to marry a man by the name of George Kendall. That's you, isn't it?"

"So you're going to resign. You don't care for the fee and bonus—you're going to marry my daughter and inherit everything I've got."

"The engagement's off—for the present, Mr. Sutworth. There was an—er—a quarrel after she phoned you. She's gone back to Arno, but I'm no quitter. I'm going after her again tonight."

"Humph. We'll see about that." "Mr. Sutworth, would you prefer me or Mr. Arno as a son-in-law?"

"I don't want her to marry a hard-boiled private detective. I know all about 'em. I read detective stories. They carry guns, make love to every woman they meet."

"Then you prefer Mr. Arno?" "I didn't say that. I don't want her married to a big muscle-bound wrestler with cauliflower ears, twisted nose. Is he bald or does he wear long hair—or maybe it's cut Indian fashion—" "Mr. Arno is hefty, but not bad looking, Mr. Sutworth. And I don't carry a gun. I don't make love indiscriminately, and I'm not hard-boiled."

"You and Arno both are fortune hunters." "I'm not. I won't have any of your money—I'll make my living as a farmer."

"A what?" "Your daughter and I want to live on a farm. Now, good-day, sir, I'm off to patch up our quarrel."

George darted out of the door. Mr. Sutworth's alarmed cry came after him, but George was down the stairway and out of the building free of pursuit. George had much to do.

The question is, George thought, will Marilyn react the way he expected her to?

But Marilyn would, if she were the dream girl he thought she was. Firmly convinced that Marilyn was the girl of his dreams, George dined alone in a nearby restaurant and then made his way to the carnival grounds.

IT was getting dark and the early crowd had arrived. The ferris wheel churned, the merry-go-round whirled to the wheeze of a mechanical organ, and the Seneca Springs Annual Carnival was in full swing.

Midway lights flashed their sparkling brilliance on a thousand and one, the entire population of the city almost, wide-eyed people who milled through the sawdust and crowded the rows of concession stands on each side of the midway.

The aroma of peanuts and hamburgers and hot dogs struck George's face with force and the din of barkers pounded into his ears above the murmur of the crowd. Here were some dancers performing to the music of a threepiece band, and there were acrobats in tights, freaks who ate fire and swallowed swords, fortune tellers, and animal acts. Yes, animal acts, for they would play an important part in Detective George Kendall's pursuit of happiness.

George found Max Arno's concession stand. It was simply a soft-drink stand, but the soda water was sold under the label of Indian medicine, guaranteed to cure the blues and made locally by the Seneca Springs Bottling Works. Max was dressed in an Indian suit, complete to a war bonnet, and he was not doing a bad job in selling his wares.

As George moved a little closer to the stand, he caught a glimpse of Marilyn Sutworth. She was clad in jeans, a brightly colored shirt with the shirt-tail out, and a cowboy hat, and was helping Max serve his soda pop.

GEORGE slipped back into the crowd before Marilyn saw him and then threaded his way toward the animal cages. These were back of the sideshow tents and behind the cages were bales of hay and straw, feed and bedding for the animals.

George found activity around these bales and piles of loose hay. Here George's secretary was hard at work, scooping up armloads of the hay and carrying the stuff to a truck parked nearby. Helping her was the tawny haired young man, Tom Faber, who would drive the truck. The vehicle was half filled with straw and hay.

Then Verna Denton saw her boss. She stalked toward him. "This is the stupidest brain child anyone ever had," she said wiping perspiration from her brow. "If you don't get arrested for kidnaping, you'll probably get yourself married."

"At least I won't be a quitter," George said hotly. "Sometimes it's better to quit."

Taxi Tycoon Aids Nature

A Texan who never lived on a farm until he retired has become a fervent advocate of moves to aid wildlife, the soil, trees, grasses, and waters.

He is J. M. Harris who made a fortune in the cab and insurance business in San Antonio. He and Mrs. Harris have spent a quarter of a million dollars renovating an area along Rebecca Creek near Spring Branch. Their project is described in the current edition of Texas Game and Fish Magazine.

Harris has been credited with effecting valuable research in grass seeds by determining which kinds of grass are desirable for different soil. On his own place he already has quadrupled the animal unit carrying capacity on the land.

Down on the creek level, springs feed a chain of ponds ranging up to a mile long and 25 feet deep. Giant cypress trees decorate the sylvan setting.

Harris has definite ideas why people should be more interested in conserving natural resources:

"Our country was founded by people who knew the value of land and water and trees. The roots of the soil are in every American home."

"By heritage, everyone has the right to own a piece of land. And if a lot of the money wasted in misdirected effort could be devoted to conserving our natural resources and into beautifying the countryside, our country really would be a showplace."

BALANCING BUDGET WILL BE BIG TASK OF NATION'S NEW CONGRESS, BURLERSON REPORTS

By OMAR BURLERSON
Member of Congress

The transition period between the election of General Eisenhower on November 4 and his inauguration is now concluded and it should not take long for the new administration to begin functioning. The Congress has been in a more or less standby position from its convening on January 3 until after the president was formally inaugurated.

The change in the administration appears to be about as orderly as could be expected. It is going to take time for the new officers to assume their responsibilities. For regardless of what they have done before, these men naturally must to a certain extent "feel" their way into their new position. Likewise, the Congress itself may move more slowly than normally, and that has always been rather slow. However, most of the Republican leaders in the Congress are experienced men and the change in the Congress will not be as serious as in the executive branch. This is true in most respects than one. Not only must the new cabinet officers and new heads of departments familiarize themselves with their duties, but with very few exceptions, they are businessmen and not out of the ranks of the professional politicians. It is not easy for anyone, regardless of what his past experiences may be, to step into the maze of governmental operations and be able to bring about immediate results.

The new congress apparently is going to make the most strenuous effort to balance the budget. To do so, stringent measures must be adopted. Obviously, if appreciable reductions are made, they must be made from the military since the national security claims about 73 per cent of the estimates. How can it be done without impairing the defense program? That of course is the big question but two or three fundamentals need be determined immediately—First, what are the essentials and absolute requirements for safety; how can Congress be reasonably certain that the estimates of the military "brass" are realistic, and how can the Congress control the military spenders to see that waste and extravagance is eliminated. When these big questions are resolved on a practical and workable basis, the cost defense preparation can be considerably reduced. Until

A matter of great concern to those of us from agricultural areas is the decline in farm prices and particularly in livestock. It is believed that the new House Agricultural Committee will look into this matter as to why livestock prices are so low and at the same time why meat is still high to the consumer. They should inquire as to whether price ceilings are to blame by keeping retail prices so high. While the committee is making its inquiry, likely they will extend their probe into the prices of corn, wheat, cotton, lard and other farm products. In the meantime, Congressman Clifford Hope, Chairman of the Agricultural Committee has already asked the Department of Agriculture to answer some tough questions as to what is responsible for sagging farm prices.

Six cities—Akron and Columbus, O., Birmingham, Ala., Louisville, Ky., San Antonio, Tex., and Seattle, Wash.—can issue revenue bonds without a vote of the people, according to a survey by the American Municipal Association.

The total figure as submitted is $78,600,000,000. The estimated income is $68,700,000,000 which leaves a deficit of nearly $10,000,000,000. It is believed that when President Eisenhower submits his own budget, it will be considerably lower, but regardless of what he submits, I believe it is safe to predict that the figures above quoted will be substantially reduced by the Congress.

As is always the case, some pressure groups having a vested interest in federal spending are already preparing to campaign against reductions in the budget submitted. Some of these groups use the method of contacting people back home, who in turn will contact their Congressmen and Senators to support certain programs and projects.

HAVE FAITH

In God
In Ourselves
In Our Fellow Men in Freedom

IN THE FAITH WE PLACE IN GOD . . . in ourselves as individuals . . . in our fellow men and . . . in Freedom — rests the future of our nation!

The faith of our country's founders was a sturdy and simple faith.

They believed in the Power which sustains through any crisis.

Upheld and guided by that Power, they believed in their own strength to do: to achieve, to build.

And, thus sustained and fortified, they believed that Freedom was more than an abstract dream: they made it an accomplished fact.

This Freedom is our children's birthright — ours to hand on to them and to their children — undiminished, undespoiled.

This is a sacred trust — one in which we must not fail.

Yet these are troubled times. What can we do?

We can do as those before us did . . . renew the spirit that built our country.

We need . . . Faith in God, Who answers prayer . . . Faith in ourselves, and in our work . . . Faith in our fellow men, their courage and their honesty . . . Faith in Freedom . . . and in its strength!

When we have done these things — and only then — can we be secure in the knowledge that our children will be free and our country safe.

We must not fail.
