WHITTLIN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

Probably the biggest surprise to come out of the Democratic convention last week was that it offered no real surprises. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey received the presidential nomination with just about the number of delegate votes which it had been predicted for weeks that he would receive.

His choice for vice president wasn't surprising in that no one individual had been given any better chance at the position than anyone of a half dozen or so others.

The trouble during the convention in Chicago with the Hippies, Yippies or whatever was bad enough, but no worse probably than could be expected and the trouble seemed to be handled quickly and efficiently by Chicago lawmen in spite of protests by a minority of people who charged "police brutality."

We were disappointed that Senator Eugene McCarthy, the chief challenger to Humphrey for the nomination, didn't go along with the majority of delegates and offer his support to the party and its chosen leader after the balloting was over.

Frankly, we think McCarthy is hurting himself and his political future more than he is the Democratic Party and its chosen representatives now by remaining silent or attempting to continue to hold what little of the spotlight he can.

McCarthy ran a good race and he lost. Period. It's all over now. He and his followers have three choices, two of which are not good. They can throw in with Humphrey-Muskle, with the GOP or remain dissatisfied. The latter two choices are bad.

To jump on the Demo bandwagon now would be the best thing for McCarthy and his political future, we'd guess. Maybe he will offer his enthusiastic support to the nominee winners before this appears in print.

The community's new clinic is constructed, well-staffed and in "business". That doesn't mean that everything is in tip-top financial shape.

According to present estimates, the organization behind the clinic, which is made up of the people of this community, will be some $10,000 in debt come July 1 of next year. Arrangements for the financing have been made, of course, through First State Bank and everything is progressing according to schedule.

But, that money needs to be paid. Correction: Must be paid. The clinic project deserves the continued support of the entire community. Maybe the fact that the construction work is over will take some of the glamor off the project. Continued work toward payment of the loan is necessary, though, for the project to be considered successful.

The Knights of Columbus gave half the profit from their bingo stand at the Bull Town Days carnival to the fund, for instance. Every contribution helps.

We don't mean to be crying "Wolf!" as far as the clinic is concerned. We just want to point out that the project isn't completed until the indebtedness is paid.

Outstanding pledges aren't enough to pay off the difference. More help, such as the BTJ bingo, memorials, and other donations are needed.

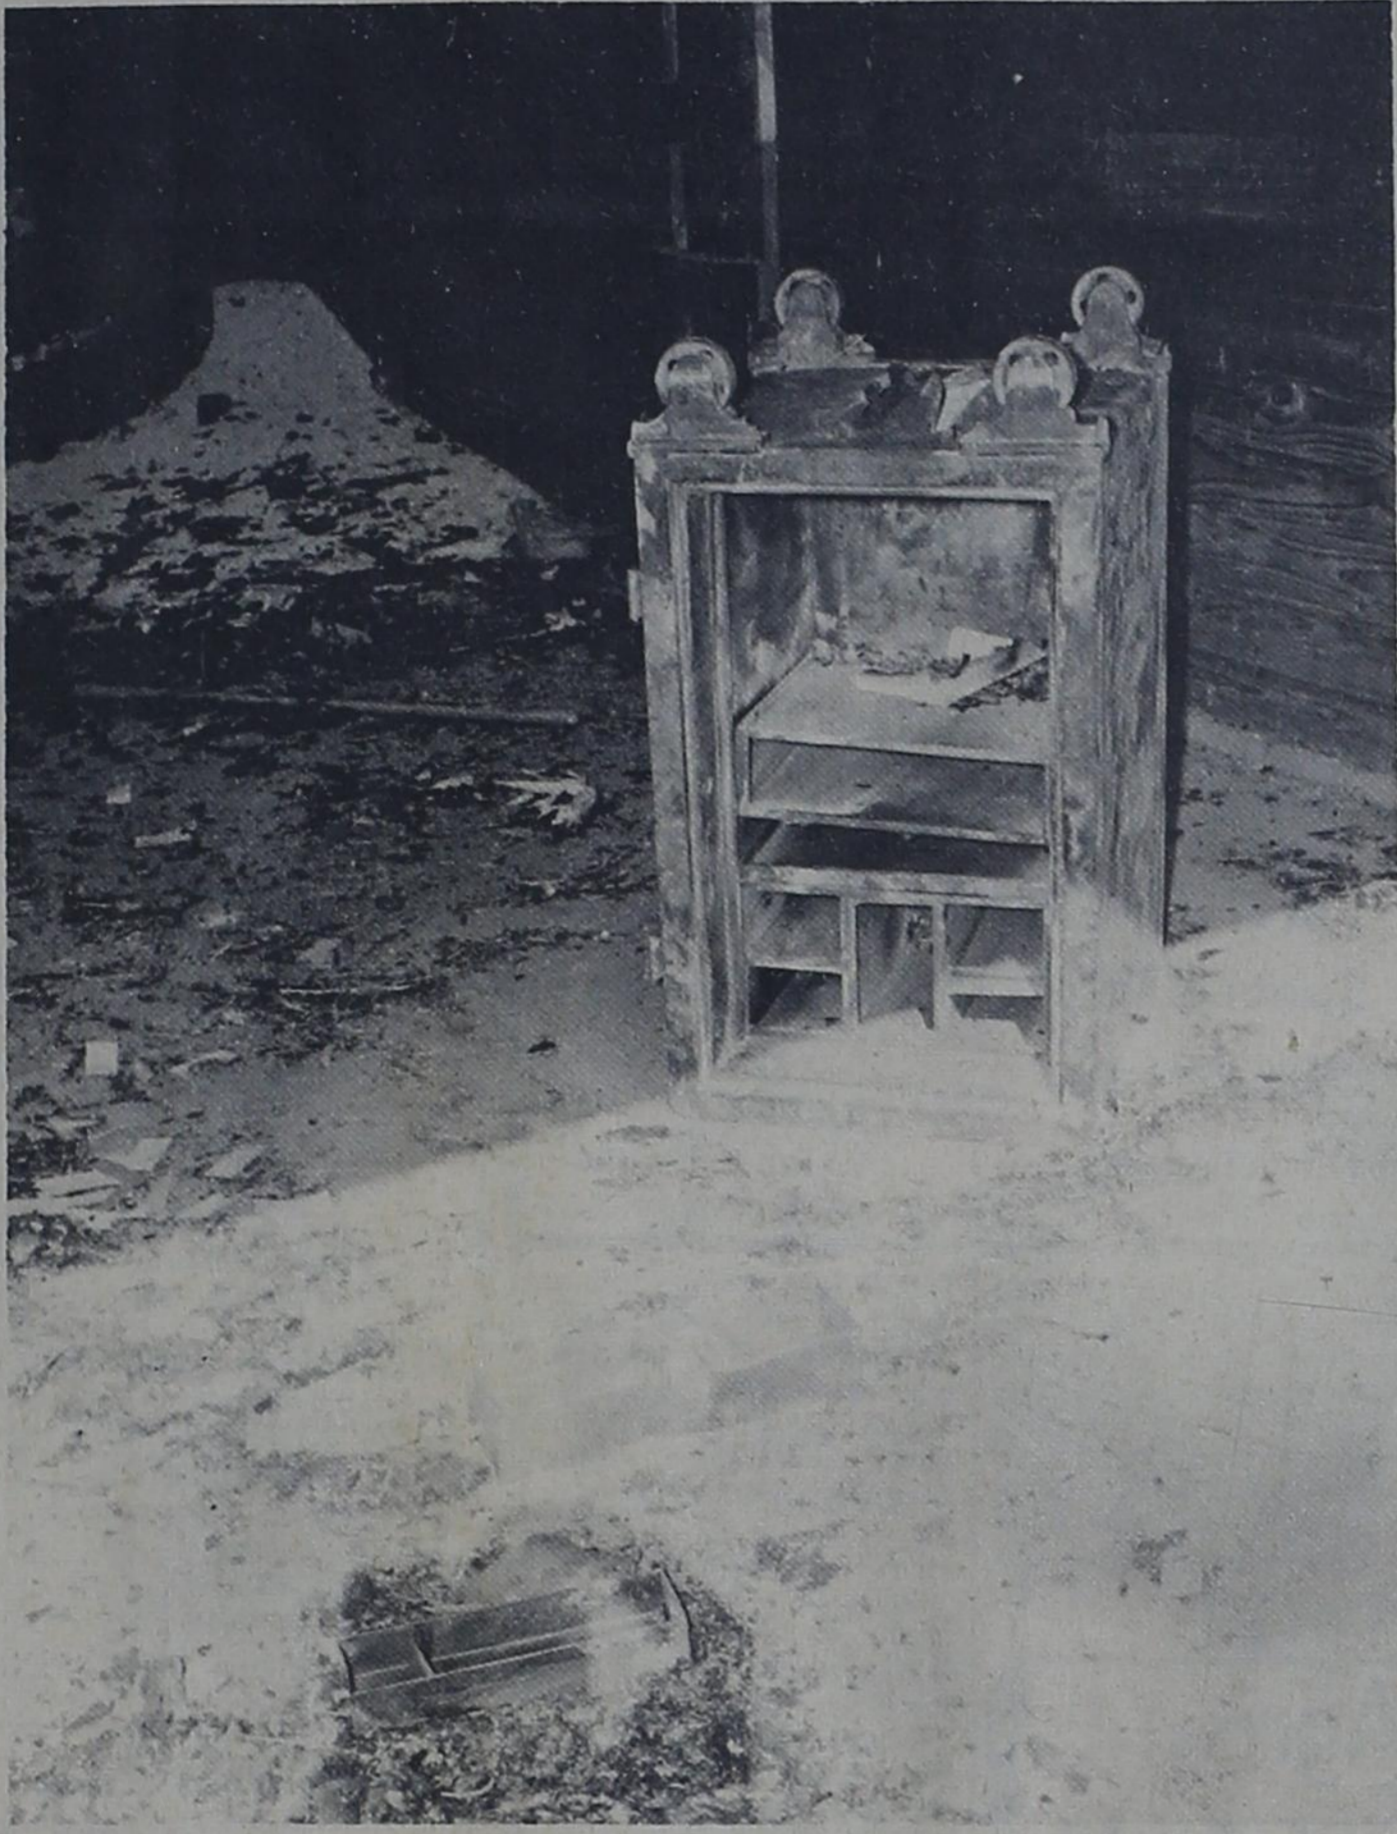

Bovina businesses 1969 football contest is slated to begin in next week's issue of The Blade.

This week is a good time to be studying on your football "lesson" if you have designs on the grand prize, which will again be an expense-paid trip for two to the Cotton Bowl in Dallas.

With the permission of sponsors of the contest and participants, we plan this year to add professional games to the contest.

Professional football has become more popular, it seems from here, during the years since the contest was originated with only high school and college games. Most of the contests games will still be of the non-professional type, but some CRACKED SAFE --- With the door torn off, turned on its top and the papers inside smoldering, this safe was found in a barn 1.5 miles east of Bovina Sunday morning. It was stolen from the office of Bovina Wheat Growers, Inc. Some $48 in cash was taken from it. Some of the papers inside the safe, including grain warehouse receipts and a checkbook were recovered unharmed, according to Jim Russell, Wheat Growers, manager.

At Wheat Growers --

Safe Cracking Job Nets Burglars $48

Safe crackers were at work in Bovina Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

The safe of Bovina Wheat Growers, Inc. was stolen and taken approximately a mile and a half east of town to a barn.

Inside the barn, the safe was apparently beaten open and the contents were ransacked.

The safe contained approximately $48 in cash when it was stolen, according to Jim Russell, manager of the business.

The safe was discovered in the barn before it had been missed from the office. Earl Stevenson was changing irrigation water on his farm near the barn early Sunday morning and saw the fire of the papers burning inside the safe. Stevenson reported what he had found to Deputy Sheriff Henry Minter.

The locked door of the safe was torn off, evidently after an unsuccessful attempt had been made to gain entry from the bottom.

Russell estimated the safe weighs 400 to 500 pounds. It is equipped with wheels, however, which, no doubt, helped in moving it from its location in the office of the grain elevator-farm supply business.

The barn in which the safe was discovered is located is owned by Grady Sorley, a house nearby is vacant.

Entry to Wheat Growers' office was made through a window, Russell said. The safe was then evidently loaded from a dock after being taken out a rear door, he said.

In addition to the cash, the safe contained business records, including grain warehouse receipts and a check-book. All of the warehouse receipts and the checkbook were recovered unharmed by Russell, who was summoned to the scene.

Russell said that nothing else inside the office was taken, as far as could be immediately determined. A candy cash box which was in the same office room as the safe was unharmed.

Farmer County Sheriff Chas. Lovelace and Minter are investigating.

Last Week --

Showers Break Long Dry Spell

Rain last week ended a summer-long dry spell in the area.

Showers Wednesday night and Thursday night totaled in excess of an inch of moisture, bringing smiles to the faces of farmers.

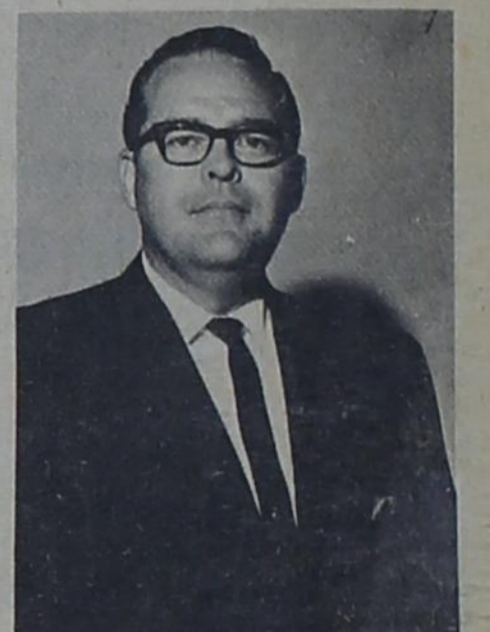

The total amount wasn't, in most cases, as much as was needed, but it was sufficient to give the irrigation wells a boost and some farmers figured they had enough moisture to plant their wheat crop on without pre-watering or watering it up.

The best part of the showers might have been that the dry-spell was finally broken.

For two weeks prior to the showers, the skies had threatened rain and temperatures were cooler than normal because of the heavy clouds.

The rain, coupled with the approaching long Labor Day weekend, slowed farming activities Thursday and Friday.

The moisture total, from an inch to an inch and a half, was considered general throughout the area.

REV. WILLIAM G. IRWIN

At Baptist Church --

Revival Starts Sunday

Rev. William G. Irwin will be the visiting evangelist for revival services at First Baptist Church of Bovina which will begin Sunday and continue through the week, according to Rev. Ken Moore, pastor of the church.

Services will be conducted twice daily on weekdays -- at 9:30 a.m. and 8 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Rev. Irwin is pastor of Harvey Street Baptist Church in Gainesville.

Jim Laster will lead the congregation singing and will be in charge of arranging special music for the services. He is music director of the church.

This is the regular Fall revival of the church.

"We extend a sincere welcome to each and everyone in the community to attend any or all of these services," Rev. Moore invites.

Announcement of the revival is made in an advertisement in this issue of The Blade.

Mexican Dinner Here Sunday

Guadalupe Society is sponsoring a Mexican dinner Sept. 8 in St. Ann's Parish Hall. Serving time will be from 11 a.m. till 2 p.m. and from 4 p.m. till 6 p.m.

There will be entertainment and free door prizes. The public is invited to attend.

Organization Cancels Bingo For This Week

Regular Saturday night bingo at St. Ann's Parish Hall for this week has been cancelled.

The cancellation of the bingo was made necessary so the hall can be prepared for the annual Mexican Dinner the next day, announces Gene Brito, general program chairman for the Knights of Columbus, the organization which sponsors the bingo games.

The weekly bingo games, to which the public is invited, have been conducted for about the last year, Brito says, and will return on a regular basis after this week. The games begin at 9 each Saturday night.

At County Clerk's Office --

Newcomers May Now Vote For President

Voters who have lived in Texas less than a year may apply for a ballot during a 15-day period beginning Friday, September 6, if they want to vote for President and Vice President in the coming general election, Bonnie Warren, Farmer County clerk, has announced. Applicants must appear in person at the county clerk's office.

This will be the first time that persons having less than a year's residence in the state will be able to vote in a presidential election, Mrs. Warren said. A law passed by the Texas Legislature last year permits a voter who moved to Texas from some other state less than a year before general election day to vote for President and Vice President, but for no other offices, if he will have lived in Texas at least 60 days on election day. In order to vote, he must possess all the qualifications required of electors under Texas law except the ordinary residence requirements, and it must also be shown that he was either a qualified elector in another state immediately before his removal to Texas or that he would have been eligible to vote in the presidential election in the state where he formerly lived if he had remained there until election day.

Mrs. Warren said that a person who had been issued a voter registration certificate, voter identification card, or other document showing that he was a registered voter in the state from which he moved should take this document with him when he goes to the county clerk's office to apply for a ballot. If he does not have written proof of his registration, it will be necessary for the clerk to obtain verification of his voting eligibility from the voter registrar or other appropriate election official at the place of his former residence before he will be accepted for voting.

Applications must be filed with the clerk by 12 noon Saturday, September 21. However, the voters will not actually vote until the period of October 21-November 1, when they will return to the clerk's office and cast their ballots. Mrs. Warren said that each applicant will be given written notice informing him whether his application has been accepted after the clerk receives a reply from the voter registrar in the state of former residence.

Persons voting in the presidential election under this special procedure need not be registered as voters in the county where they now live.

Mrs. Warren emphasized that this voting procedure applies only to persons who will have lived in Texas less than a year on election day. If a person moved to Texas before November 5, 1967, he must be registered with the county tax assessor-collector in order to vote in the general election on November 5, and he will vote in the regular manner on election day. However, only those persons who became residents of Texas after October 1, 1967, may register at this time, and they must register by next October 5 in order to vote in the election on November 5. Registration for persons who became residents on or before October 1, 1967, closed last January 31.

Booster Meeting Tuesday

Organizational meeting of Bovina Mustang Booster Club for the present school year has been scheduled for Tuesday night, announces J. D. Kirkpatrick, president.

The meeting will be in the high school library and will begin at 8 p.m.

New officers for the Boosters will be named at the meeting, Kirkpatrick says, and a membership drive will be planned. Membership dues in the organization are $5 per year.

Roy Allen is the present secretary-treasurer.

WATERMELON TIME --- Preparing to serve the chilled watermelons in the tank in the foreground are, left to right, Superintendent L. F. Jacobs, Grady Sorley and Lawrence Jamerson, board member, prior to the school board-sponsored watermelon feed for the public Thursday night at the football field. The watermelon was served informally under rain-threatening skies.

CLINIC CONTRIBUTION --- Gene Brito, left, and Dan Koelzer, members of the Bovina-Friona chapter of the Knights of Columbus, display the $146 check which the organization contributed to Bovina Medical Clinic. The amount was half of the profit from the KC bingo stand which was operated at the Bull Town Days carnival. Koelzer is Grand Knight of the organization and Brito is general program chairman.

BLADE WANT ADS Are Bovina's Best Salesmen.

WATCH YOUR LANGUAGE One wit claims that an angler's stature in the fishing world is measured by his mouth as well as his ability to fish.

In other words, if you're going to tell fish stories, you'd better talk like a fisherman.

To foster improved relations between novices and old hands, the folks at Mercury Outboards have come up with a few suggestions that will get any beginner off to a good start.

Certain words always ruffle the feathers of the pro. Pole heads the top of the list. Poles are something you would fly flags from or push a boat with.

Fish smash, strike, bust or hit a plug, but never bite it. Bites and nibbles immediately reflect the use of bait -- never recommended when spinning a yarn.

Call your outboard rig her. It's the only other gal in the lives of men to which wives seldom object.

Use local fish names only. A speckled trout in Florida is considerably different than a spee in Ontario. A lake trout becomes a mackinaw in the west, and a togue in the northeast.

So choose your words with care, advise the lads at Mercury Outboards. You may not be able to make other fishermen believe you, but at least you can hold their attention.

TRAVELING WITH CHILDREN

Motor trips with infants and children require just a few extra precautions to assure a safe and comfortable journey. If possible, limit your travel to only 200 or 300 miles a day...

HEATSTROKE

Cool it as much as possible in hot and humid weather, and lessen your chances of suffering heat exhaustion. Victims of heatstroke usually exhibit the following symptoms: pale and clammy skin; rapid and weak pulse rate; complaints of weakness, headache, or nausea; and cramps in stomach, legs or arms.

ARE HOME FURNISHINGS FOR STATUS OR PEOPLE?
Home and furnishings have become a symbol as to the status of people. Some status seekers have show places for strangers - with little thought to convenience. Homes really should be for people to live in and not show places.

Some homes recently observed have much to be desired as to the basic needs of individuals, their goals and values. The physical needs a home can fulfill are: a place to rest, to sleep, and a place to eat.

There really is another need that a home must fulfill and that is mental well-being. Adequate storage can certainly contribute to this. No one can really feel peace in midst of clutter; therefore, a closet for instance should be more than a big space with doors. Adequate storage means: well-organized storage—a place for everything. Another point in storage that is often overlooked is that it should be easy to see, easy to reach and easy to grasp. The growing girl needs plenty storage space for books, treasures and clothing. A pegboard on one wall is almost a must for the teenager's room.

Few homes have a well-planned study desk for students, equipped with a good lamp designed for study. Some 4-H members who have taken projects in home improvement this year have made this addition to their bedrooms. Deborah Harding, Farwell 4-H'er, is one that made this improvement and is quite pleased with the results. Information on study desk and study lamps are available in the Extension office, so if Johnnie is not taking the interest in his home study assignment that he should, could be he lacks the proper place to work or a poor light, or both.

4-H'ers and parents responded well for the Bull Town 4-H exhibit that was held in the Legion Hall on Friday. The exhibit included information about 4-H project work and Achievement Awards. Also, 4-H'ers in the parade looked very "sharp" in their green vests and 4-H emblems.

County Extension Clubs will start off the fall program with the County Council meeting at 2 p.m., Monday, Sept. 2, at County Agent's office in Farwell. Also, 4-H Clubs will start regular monthly meetings again in September. Enrollment for the new year will be in order, as well as election of new club officers.

KEEPING UP—News in clothing are the new sweatshirts being made from knit polyester and cotton blend which makes them washable again and again without changing shape or color. The traditional man's shirt is being replaced by fall shades of mandarin orange, raspberry pink and striped shirts. Really nothing dull about the way the male population will look.

FOOD PRESERVATION— seems to be high on the list at this time of year. A point to be kept in mind is the nutritive value and quality of these foods, which depends largely on the treatment before freezing, storage temperature, and method of cooking and serving. For freezing, select ripe fruit which is slightly riper than for canning, but not soft nor mushy. Tree or vine ripened fruits contain more vitamins and have a richer flavor. In general, fruit is prepared for freezing as for eating. Many calls have come in for the new book, "Frozen Foods," this week. It's free and an excellent guide for those who are freezing foods and are interested in conserving all the natural goodness and food value.

Reflections From The Blade

TEN YEARS AGO
September 3, 1958

The season opener for the Bovina Mustangs will be on their home territory Friday night at 8. Opponent will be the Fort Sumner, N.M., Foxes, the opener last year that left the Mustangs defeated, 20-0.

A total of 422 students were enrolled at Bovina School for the first day Tuesday, according to Superintendent Warren Morton. Celia Berry is the drum major for the Bovina Band. She was selected Friday along with four other girls as twirlers.

The Bovina Mustang field house and football facilities will be on display Thursday night at 8. Coaches Bobby Wills and Charles Don Smith are scheduling an open house for that night, before the first Mustang football game of the season Friday night against Fort Sumner.

The Parmer County Certified Seed Growers will hold their annual tour Friday, September 5. The tour will begin at the Hub Community Center at 9 a.m., and end with a luncheon there at 1 p.m.

SIX YEARS AGO
September 5, 1962

Bovina Mustangs, with promises of a far-better-than-average team, kickoff 1962 season Friday night against the Springlake Wolverines. The game will be played on the host team's field. Parmer County's first 1962 loads of milo were delivered to Bovina Thursday of last week.

The August 30 delivery date was believed to be one of earliest, if not the earliest, since irrigation came to the area. For first time in opening day history, enrollment of Bovina Schools soared over the 500 mark Tuesday, the first day of school.

PARMER COUNTY'S FINEST

Barbara Schulze Bride Of Glendale King

Barbara Gail Schulze, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Schulze of Floydada, became the bride of Glendale King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady King, Farwell, in a ceremony at Trinity Lutheran Church at Lockney at 6 p.m., August 24. The double-ring service was read by Rev. L. J. Durkop before a background of fan-shaped palm leaves and baskets of white gladioli.

The wedding marches and pre-nuptial music was provided at the organ by Becky Scheele, who also accompanied soloist, Fred Maxey.

Serving as best man was Ronnie Reed of Knickerbocker, Tex. Groomsmen were Lawrence King, Slaton, and Monroe Schulze, Jr., Ft. Worth. Serving as ushers were Jimmy Spikes, Lubbock, and Larry Potts, Friona. Ringbearers were Lonnie King, Slaton, and Lesia Schoppa, Vernon.

Serving as maid of honor was Donna Schulze. Bridesmatron was Mrs. Monroe Schulze, Jr., Ft. Worth. Bridesmaid was Patsy Schulze, Floydada. Bridal attendants were attired in identical street-length dresses of turquoise dazzle satin, designed with shoulder bows and slightly gathered waists. Their headresses were minute veils in matching hue. They wore white dahlia corsages.

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, chose a formal wedding gown of ivory satin, designed with a white lace empire bodice and long lace sleeves. Her full-length veil of tulle was held by a jeweled crown. Her bouquet was a cascade Bible arrangement of white dahlias, enhanced by lace and ribbon streamers. Carrying out bridal tradition, something old was pearls; new was her dress; borrowed were the pearls from her mother; and blue was the traditional garter.

All male members of the bridal party were attired in western suits and boots. Mrs. Schulze wore for her daughter's wedding a royal blue bonded knit dress with white accessories and a maroon dahlia corsage. Mrs. King chose a baby blue two-piece knit suit and white accessories with a maroon dahlia corsage for her wedding attire.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. The serving table was laid with a white lace cloth and centered by the bridesmaids bouquets. Green punch was served with the white double-ring wedding cake, which was decorated in a western motif. A single flower centered the registration table and a large bouquet of mixed flowers adorned the gift table.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nev., Mrs. King wore a baby blue two-piece suit with beige accessories and a corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride, a 1965 graduate of Floydada High School, attended South Plains Junior College at Levelland and is presently attending West Texas State University where she is a junior.

The groom, a graduate of Lazbuddie High School, also attended South Plains Junior Col-

THE SERMON ON THE MOUNT

News comes from the American Bible Society that over ten million copies of the New Testament in Today's English Version has been placed in the hands of readers. This fact indicates that more and more people are reading the scripture which is presented in a fresh, up-to-date wording. The following is a portion of the familiar Sermon on the Mount from Matthew 5:3-10.

- "Happy are those who know they are spiritually poor: the Kingdom of heaven belongs to them!
- "Happy are those who mourn: God will comfort them!
- "Happy are the meek: they will receive what God has promised!
- "Happy are those whose greatest desire is to do what God requires: God will satisfy them fully!
- "Happy are those who show mercy to others; God will show mercy to them!
- "Happy are the pure in heart: they will see God!
- "Happy are those who work for peace among men: God will call them his sons!
- "Happy are those who suffer persecution because they do what God requires: the Kingdom of heaven belongs to them!

Let us consider joining the multitudes who are reading the Scriptures!

The Bovina Mustangs will get their first inter-school football competition tomorrow (Thursday) at Claude as they go there for a scrimmage session.

Dead or Alive --

Wanted: Plant Cover

By Edward Glenn Phillips
 Parmer County Soil Conservationist

For the protection of cultivated land against erosion by wind and water, nothing can take the place of continuous cover of dead or living plants, or both.

This is true regardless of location, rainfall, soil, or the kind of farming or ranching that goes on.

In the Plains country, however, the need for plant cover grows more important as conditions tend toward the dry side. At the same time getting good cover becomes a tougher job.

The job is two-sided: First, a crop must be grown that will yield good amounts of residues; second, the residues must be managed in a way that will protect the soil until a new crop covers it.

Experience of farmers and ranchers and research work have taught important lessons. Burning crop residues is one of the worst mistakes that can be made. And too much tillage wears out the residues, and, therefore, should be held to a minimum.

Leaving stubble and other crop residues on the surface has proven especially valuable in the grain summer-fallow areas where 15 or 16 months usually pass between harvest and the planting of a new crop. One way of leaving such cover and disturbing the soil surface as little as possible is by using equipment having sweeps or blades 32 inches wide or wider.

This practice is known as stubble mulching. It is a year-round system. In it all tillage, planting, cultivating, and harvesting operations are done in a way to keep crop residues on the surface to protect the soil. Where wheat is grown each year, more cutting or stirring of stubble is possible without serious harm. The period for seedbed preparation is shorter. Narrower sweeps, chisel-type implements, or even disk-

A 1-1 tie was the result of a scrimmage bout with BHS ex-footballers last week.

Stone said the Mustangs' defensive secondary looked good in the exes scrimmage and that overall the defense was ahead of the offense, which is to be expected at this stage in the practice sessions.

Offensive improvements are expected to be made by the time the team scrimmages with Claude.

"We lacked offensive teamwork," Stone pointed out. "We played like a group of individuals instead of like a team."

Injuries have been scarce to squad members thus far. The team came out of the exes scrimmage in good physical condition, according to the head coach.

Bobby McMeans, a freshman end, has been lost to the team for the next several weeks. He has rheumatic fever.

A bright spot in the pre-season practice picture, Stone says, is the fact that several freshmen members of the squad are looking good.

Probable offensive starters in the Claude scrimmage include:

Game and horns in front of the hunters includes two sets of moose horns, a grizzly bear and a caribou, which is being held by Minyen. The group flew commercially to the site of their hunt, north of Montana. They hunted six days. Also killed, but not shown here, was a black bear.

Football Injuries Are Target of National Trainer Clinics

A comprehensive, nation-wide program, designed to cut sharply the number of football injuries among high school and college athletes, has been warmly received by school officials all over America.

Known as the Bike Training program consists of hundreds of lecture-demonstrations given by experts to those responsible for the prevention and treatment of gridiron injuries.

The importance of the program is underscored by the fact that football injuries continue to increase throughout the country each year, and most of them occur in players from 16 to 18 years of age.

"More than 45 Bike clinics have been held in all parts of the country already this year."

said D. L. Thomas, field manager of the Bike Division of the Kendall Company, sponsor of the program.

"The programs are well attended by team physicians, coaches, trainers, and student trainers," Thomas said. "We run the clinics for both college and high schools officials, and we do it in conjunction with the Athletic Association of the sponsoring university. Often, the clinics are also sponsored by the High School Conference of a given area, or by the County Medical Society."

The Bike Training Room Foundation, operating under the direction of five of the nation's top trainers who serve on its board of directors, was originally designed to stimulate greater athletic safety by awarding training room equipment to deserving schools.

Many of the nation's outstanding trainers have served as guest lecturers at the Bike clinics. Questions concerning all phases of injury-prevention and treatment, as well as the

FOOD POISONING

Protect yourself and family against food poisoning on picnics and outings. If you prepare perishable dishes at home, refrigerate them immediately, and keep such food cold until serving or cooking. Discard any food that appears spoiled or tainted. Take along several nonperishable food items such as canned food, potato chips, and clean raw fruits.
