Parmer County Third In Drilling "Apps."

Approximately 52,627 permits for water wells have been issued by the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 since the beginning of its well permitting program in February 1953. The third-highest number of well applications came from Parmer County.

High Plains Water District rules require persons to obtain a water well permit if the well they plan to drill or re-equip is expected to produce in excess of 100,000 gallons of water per day (69.4 gallons of water per minute).

Wells that produce less than 69.4 gallons of water per minute do not require water well permits from the Water District. Wells drilled prior to the Water District's creation in 1951 are also exempt.

The number of permits issued by county during the 47-year period includes Lubbock County, 8,245; Lamb, 6,085; Parmer, 5,902; Hockley, 5,891; Deaf Smith, 5,514; Castro, 4,770; Floyd, 4,555; Bailey, 3,634; Lynn, 2,987; Cochran, 2,066; Randall, 1,608; Hale, 896; Crosby, 270; Armstrong, 129; and Potter, 75.

It should be noted that all parts of Cochran, Crosby, Hale, and Lynn Counties have been annexed into the High Plains Water District since 1953. As a result, the number of permitted wells may not accurately reflect the total number of wells in those counties.

an annual average of 247 permits were issued during the 1980s, and an annual average of 572 permits were issued during the 1990s.

Applications for water well permits are made at the High Plains Water District permitting office in the county where the proposed well is to be drilled. After receiving an application for a well permit from the County Secretary, landowners/operators must obtain the signature of three County Committee members representing the county in which the well is to be located before any drilling operations can legally begin.

Wells must be drilled 120 days following the filing date of the water well permit application. If a delay is encountered, landowners/operators may file for an additional 120-day extension of time.

All water well permits applications and drillers' logs since 1953 are on file at the Water District's Lubbock office and duplicate copies for individual counties are on file at the respective District well permitting office.

Additional information about the water well permitting program is available by contacting the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas 79405-1499 or by calling (806) 762-0181. The Water District web site is www.hpwd.com and the e-mail addresses are hpwd@hpwd.com and info@hpwd.com.

Also, at a location 4 miles east of Hub, a cotton modular belonging to Billy John, was destroyed when vandals used one of John's tractors and ran over the modular.

Damage was estimated at $20,000. No suspects have been identified.

Friona Star and Bovina Blade Survey

WITH THE END OF THE 1990s, and the coming of Y2K, we are attempting to locate someone who was born in the 1800s, and is still around in the year 2000.

Such a person's life will have touched three centuries, if you ignore the "purists" who say that the 20th century doesn't end until December 31, 2000.

At any rate, if you have a relative (preferably) who meets the criteria, please send us the info, so we can share this with our readers through a feature article.

We are willing to pay a $25 "news tip" for the first person to contact us with your "three century" relative. We would like for the person featured to have a connection with Friona and/or Bovina, such as being a former resident, etc. Obviously, this person has already reached age 100, in order to meet the qualifications listed.

Ye Editor has had this idea in the back of his mind for some time. I recall that as a youngster at home, one of my favorite articles in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, which we received daily, was Robert Ripley's "Believe It or Not!"

Ripley's daily feature showed a tombstone showing a person who was born in the late 1700s, and lived past the dawning of 1900. The heading said "His life spanned three centuries," or something to that effect.

I am a little bit jealous, because my longtime newspaper associate, Sue Cannon of Olton, has beat me to the punch in this category. Sue, who publishes the Olton Enterprise, had such a feature article in her issue of January 9, 2000.

In fact, my friend Sue had not one, but two former Olton residents featured in her page 1 article. Clara Bell was born September 22, 1898, so she observed her 101st birthday this past September.

Roy McFadden, a longtime farmer in the Olton area, was 100 years young on November 27, 1999. Both of the two centenarians were in reasonable good health, and McFadden still lives in his own home. It appeared that Mrs. Bell was in an assisted living home.

In the article, McFadden stated that he came to the Olton area in August of 1925, moving from Cass County, Iowa. He said it took seven days to get to the Texas plains, as he came in a Chalmers truck. There were no highways, just dirt roads (in some places), and trails through the prairie, he told Sue Cannon.

That sounds a lot like what my grandparents told me about moving from Western Oklahoma to their first place in Bailey County, at about this same time. They took a route, a good bit of which later became Highway 86, but at that time was mostly prairie. They were obliged to open and close many gates along the way.

Today, we zip down our highways without a thought about what these early settlers went through. We go up and down the caprock, mainly having to watch our speed if it's on the downgrade. How long did it take to make it up the caprock, if going east to west? That's something I forgot to ask my grandparents.

Okay--get busy. Find us a 100-year old with a local tie-in, so we can give them a headline!

The Cassidys

Concert To Feature Irish Musical Group

The Hereford Community Concert Association will feature traditional and 20th century Irish music by The Cassidys at the organization's concert on Tuesday, February 1, 2000.

The event will be held at Hereford High School, beginning at 7:30. Guests are asked to park on the west side of the building.

The Cassidys, one of Ireland's finest traditional bands, is a family of five brothers who have been performing together since their childhood days on the rugged western coast of County Donegal. Na Casaidigh, as they are known in Ireland, come from a family of twelve siblings and were raised speaking Irish Gaelic. They only learned English as a second language once they started school.

The Cassidy boys were surrounded by music as they grew up. Their father was, and still is the choirmaster at their church, where he often composes music for special occasions. The Cassidys sisters are talented harpers and singers.

Each of the brothers studied several instruments and developed fine vocal harmonies. As a family group, the resonance of their voices and close-knit harmonies create a distinctive sound which characterizes their concerts to this day.

The group has toured every major city on several continents. They have appeared in New York's Radio City Music Hall, Carnegie Hall and Citicorp Center. Cassidy concerts have thrilled audiences in large concert halls in Dublin, Austria and Switzerland, packed coffeehouses, pubs and cafes across North America and played prestigious folk events like the Philadelphia Folk Festival. They were chosen to perform for President Clinton (and an audience of 80,000) during his visit to Ireland.

Audiences and critics applaud the Cassidys for their dynamic, exciting, on-stage performances. Between wild, joyful dance music and reflective airs, the group performs beautiful, harmonic vocal music, sung primarily in the evocative Gaelic language. They have a contemporary approach to traditional Irish music, blending a wide range of instruments in their own arrangements. The songs they sing, both Gaelic and English, honor the heritage that fostered their music, while giving it a bountiful dosage of their own style.

To each concert, and on every recording session, the Cassidys bring a unique combination of humor, musicianship and intelligence that wins respect and standing ovations from audiences worldwide. The Cassidys' deep respect for the music, the lore, and the history of their homeland, reverberates through their music. And they are not afraid to contemporize their sound to put a new spin on the old songs.

Stallman, a Colorado County rice farmer, served as Texas Farm Bureau president since 1993. During his tenure, Stallman has visited Parmer County twice, touring such local industries as Excel and Paco Feedyard and visiting with area farmers.

"You Ain't Got A Thing If You Ain't Got That Ring!!"

This Sunday will be the second biggest "piggin' out on food" day of the year. Thanksgiving is the number one day for food consumption, Super Bowl Sunday is second.

Super Bowl Sunday, with its parties, sports bar munchies, and pizza box pyramids, is a day like no other in America.

Copious quantities of liquid and solid nourishments are ordered and delivered while fans crowd around the six-foot TVs and cheer on the language challenged gladiators who are beating each other's brains.

They want this win for one reason. Not the Lombardi trophy, not the extra money. It is the ring, man, ya' know? The Super Bowl ring is the holy grail.

St. Ann's Catholic Church of Bovina is sponsoring their annual German Sausage Dinner in the church's Parish Hall Sunday, February 6. Serving time is 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m..

The menu will include: German sausage, creamed potatoes, gravy, green beans, sauerkraut, cranberry sauce, relish plate, homemade bread, desserts, tea and coffee. Donations will be $6 per adult and $3 for children under 6 years.

Take-out plates will be available at no additional charge. Sausage will be available by the pound on the day of the dinner.

The dinner coordinators are Sabina Schilling, Tami Schilling and Nancy Schwertner. Everyone in the community is invited.

USA Today's January 21-23 edition featured pictures of all 33 past Super Bowl rings along with some interesting ring trivia. You might want to remember some of this to amaze (or bore) your friends to fill the time during the 3-hour pre-game and one-hour post game shows, not to mention the 45 minute half time.

Cowboys owner Jerry Jones, who knows more about professional football than any living or dead person, says, "The Super Bowl ring is the single most impressive symbol of being a champion in all of sports." And JJ knows about being a champion.

The USA Today report said there are fewer than 4,000 Super Bowl rings in existence, that's why they are so valuable. Each year the rings contain more diamonds and gold.

The National Football League will pick up the tab for 125 rings at $5,000 each for the team that wins this Sunday. They set the price limit to be fair and avoid one-upmanship among the teams. The newspaper says it doesn't work.

The club owners, who contract directly with the ring makers, often add more glitz than $5,000 will buy. So the jewelers, who like a little prestige themselves, agree to make the rings at a loss.

"It is worth the loss to be able to say you made the Super Bowl ring," says John Petterson of Tiffany's. You remember Tiffany's. They sell expensive jewelry and serve breakfast.

Josten's Jewelers has made 21 of the 33 Super Bowl rings. Josten's uses the prestige of making the Super Bowl rings to help win contracts to create high school and college rings.

The ringmakers are not allowed to make Super Bowl ring knockoffs, so they make commemorative pins and pendants that look like the rings. Last year Denver fans bought thousands of the pins and pendants for $75 to $500 each.

After the 1998 Super Bowl, one Denver player spent more than $150,000 on Super Bowl jewelry for family and friends.

Did you know that the losing teams also get Super Bowl rings? The league only allows about $2,500 for the loser's rings but many players refuse to wear them because, "well, you know, dey is losers, man!"

The largest Super Bowl ring ever made was a size 23 and is about as big as a half dollar. It belongs to William "Refrigerator" Perry who played for the Chicago Bears' 1986 Super Bowl team. He had it sized for his middle finger because "you get more gold that way."

For last year's Broncos ring, the NFL granted Denver an additional $400 per ring because they won two in a row.

The paper said that John Elway's ring is valued at about $50,000. Collectors say even the most basic ring is worth at least $10,000.

The very first Super Bowl ring was created in 1967 for the Packers. They cost less than $1,000 to make. Vince Lombardi's ring from that game is now worth nearly $100,000.

Experts say the most valuable existing Super Bowl ring, which is worth more than $100,000, belongs to Broadway Joe Namath. Joe and the Jets won the 1969 Super Bowl after Broadway Joe's now famous prediction they would beat the Colts.

Super Bowl rings are not just for the players. All employees get one, from the waterboys to the secretaries.

Denver gave rings to its cheerleaders. Raiders owner Al Davis had one made for Frank Sinatra.

Former Raiders guard Gene Upshaw stopped wearing his ring because they were so big. "They're like VWs sitting on your finger," he said.

Sometimes they get lost. Jim Parmer, a former Chicago Bears scout lost his in a lake near Abilene while playing with his grandkids. He bought an $1,800 metal detector, hired a scuba diver and two hours later had the ring back on his finger.

Gene Upshaw put his ring in one of those banks that look like a Pepsi can but he forgot to tell his housekeeper. They mistook the bank for an empty can and threw it out with the trash. He never found it.

"I can replace the ring," he told the reporter, "but I can never replace the value of what that ring meant to me."

Then they have personal troubles too. Pittsburgh Steeler star Rocky Bleier played on four Super Bowl team winners with the Steelers. He had to sell all four to a friend for $40,000 to pay back taxes.

Upshaw said he recently paid $4,000 to get a former teammate's ring out of hock.

So as the 5 p.m. or thereabouts kickoff time approaches on Sunday until the game is finally over around midnight, keep the munchie bowl full and the pepperoni pizza coming. Don't forget plenty of ice. We'll have coffee later.

While they are grabbing for the diamond ring, we might be grabbin' for the remote. Are you ready for some FOOTBALL!

Mustangs, Fillies Lose Two, Face Homecoming

OUCH!! The Bovina Mustangs and Fillies were scorched by Farwell last Friday, then had to travel to Sundown to begin the second round of district play on Tuesday. They lost there too!

The Fillies had a tough task as they faced the Farwell Lady Blue, ranked number 3 in State 2A.

The Fillies trailed by 36-12 at the half and managed only 12 more points in the second half as the Lady Blue romped to a 74-24 victory.

Scoring for the Fillies were: K'Leigh Scroggins, 14; Letie Vargas, 5; Marissa Rodriguez and Melissa Cano, 2 each; Marisol Antillon, 1.

At Sundown, the Fillies improved their scoring but not enough for the victory as they lost to the Sundown girls.

Students On Clovis CC Honor Roll

Bovina students attending Clovis Community College were named to the Fall 1999 Vice President's Honor Roll, according to Dr. Becky Rowley, vice president for educational services.

The students earned at least a 3.5 grade point average while enrolled in twelve or more credits during the fall semester.

The following students from Bovina were named to the list: Maria Amaran, Missy Cupit, Christopher Dopp, Alexandria Dopp, Graciela Murillo and Tracy Smith.

It's A Boy For Couple

Ken and Darla Mullens of Tyler are parents of a baby boy. He has been named Edward Kenneth and is the couple's first child.

The baby weighed seven pounds, eleven ounces and measured twenty inches long.

Grandparents are Sam and Ella Jo Stormes of Bovina Kenneth and Linda Mullens of Big Sandy, Texas.

Great grandmothers are Martha Myers of McAllister, Oklahoma and Erma Mullens of Longview, Texas.

Little Eddie also has a great-great grandmother, who lives in Oklahoma.

by 34-52. In district, the Fillies are now 0-6.

Leading scorer for the Fillies was K'Leigh Scroggins with 9 points. Other scoring was: Vargas, 8; Christen Stowers, 6; Rodriguez, 6; Antillon and Amber King, 2 each; and Cano, 1.

The Mustangs held their own against the Farwell Steers but came up short at the buzzer as they lost 45-52, in spite of scoring 28 points in the second half.

Scoring for the Mustangs was led by Jason Stone and Paulino Gonzales who each had 13. Adding points were: Tyson Kerby, 9; Sergio Nieto, 8; and Josh Quintana, 2.

Down at Sundown, the Mustangs were in the game until the fourth quarter when Sundown outscored them in the period 22-6. Final score had the Mustangs losing 50-73. They have a district record of 1-5.

Both teams will host Morton tonight, Friday, January 28, as they celebrate homecoming and hope to put a couple of marks in the win column. The Mustangs only district win was at Morton earlier.

The homecoming queen and king will be crowned before tonight's varsity girl's game which begins at 6:30 p.m. The coronation will be about 6-6:15 p.m.

County Gets Monthly Tax Rebate

Texas Comptroller Carole Keeton Rylander delivered $197.2 million in monthly sales tax payments to 1,105 Texas cities and 119 counties. It is a 20.3 percent increase compared to the $163.8 million paid in January, 1999.

January's sales tax rebates include local sales taxes collected by monthly tax filers in November and reported to the Comptroller in December.

Parmer County's January payment was $22,454, compared to $19,323 in the same period last year. Bovina received $2,455; Farwell, $3,702; and Friona, $16,296.

Bovina's current tax rate is 1%; Farwell is 1.5%; and Friona is 2%.

Scooter's Scoops

By SCOOTER RUSSELL

The weather looks like rain a lot these days, but supposedly, there hasn't been enough moisture in the air to rain. However "the weather boys" are predicting rain and snow before the week is over so we're hoping.

We do need rain so badly but these spring-like days have been nice to do yard work and probably one could go fishing....

NEWS AROUND TOWN...

Jay and Furne Harris lived in Bovina many years and raised their family here. Furne had a dress shop in the Blade building for a number of years. They now live in Odessa and have lots of problems.

Their niece called me Sunday night and wanted me to let you know about them. They were both taken by ambulance to the Odessa Medical Center on December 10, where they have been patients since. Furne was supposed to be released early this week but will have twenty four hours of Hospice care in her home.

Jay has a feeding tube in his stomach and is very critical. If you want to send them a card, the address is: 1010 North Maple, Odessa, Texas 79761. The telephone number is 915-333-9344.

Their son, Dana, lives at Monahans, which is only about thirty or forty miles from them and their other son, Wes, lives in Oklahoma City.

Our thoughts and prayers are with the Harris family.

We were saddened to hear that Mildred Davis died after an accident when the wind caught the door of her car and threw her to the pavement. She remained in a coma for several days following the accident and then passed away.

Mildred was Erith Hawkins' cousin. We understand Betty and Harold Hawkins came from Mineral Wells and Betty and her daughters, Vicki and Deborah, both of Lubbock, and Deborah's daughter, Holly, provided the music at the funeral, which was held in Clovis.

Don and Juanda Murphy went to Ballinger and visited family members recently. They visited with Don's mother, Mattie Murphy, and also Juanda's brother and his wife, Bobby and Janice Patton and Don's sister, Jean. They spent several days and came home last Saturday night.

Friends said the Parsons' daughter, Patricia Martinez, was able to be out of the hospital and home for the past weekend. She is still taking "chemo" treatments in Amarillo. The family attended church together on Sunday.

Keith Garner has been home for a couple of weeks and friends said he got a real good report when he went back to his doctor.

Keith broke bones in a leg and other injuries in an automobile accident. He was in the hospital and rehab for several weeks in Amarillo and was released only recently.

Congratulations to Ella Jo and Sam Storms on the birth of their sixth grandchild, Edward Kenneth, born January 12. His parents are Ken and Darla Mullens of Tyler.

Ella Jo drove down and spent a week with them and brought Darla and the baby home with her. Her husband will come for her in another week.

Ken is manager of the toy department in the Wal-Mart Super Center in Tyler and Darla is "a comp shopper" for Wal-Mart.

Sid Lloyd, former resident, now living in Hale Center was able to come over the weekend and visit with friends. Her daughter Patsy, brought her to Bovina and she rode to Friona with Minnie Kelso.

They had lunch with residents in Prairie Acres Nursing Home, Julia Leake, Dottie Ward, Howard Kelso, and a longtime friend, Gladys Mosley of Friona.

They returned to the Kelso home and visited with other friends, Charlsie Eubanks, Edna Scott, and Anne Corn.

We express our sympathies to Tiny Chisom, whose father passed away. He was Eddie Chisom and lived at Hughes Springs, Texas. He suffered a heart attack and died shortly afterwards at the hospital. Mr. Chisom's wife preceded him in death several years ago and he was survived by seven sons and two daughters and several grandchildren.

We had a good time with our family visiting over the weekend. Tami and Arty Kunselman came from Spearman and their daughter, Gina and Cody Coleman came from Amarillo.

They also visited with Arty's parents, Pat and Pat

Kunselman, and all the family had breakfast at our home Sunday morning. They left Sunday after Pat and Pat fixed dinner and celebrated Arty's birthday.

Nelline Spicer had fun with her granddaughter, Kylee Veazey of Hereford. Kylee's mom, Nena, who is an assistant superintendent in Hereford schools, had to fly to Austin on business and Nelline went over and spent a few days with Kylee, who is thirteen years old.

Thanks for helping with the Scoops and news, have a good, rain week...Scooter

Jodi Wilburn, Ted Peabody III Exchange Vows In Hereford

Jodi Wilburn and Ted Peabody III, both Hereford residents, exchanged wedding vows Saturday, December 18 at 4 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, Hereford.

The ceremony was conducted by Dorman Duggan, pastor of the Community Church in Hereford. Jim Peabody, pastor of the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church, Texico, New Mexico, presented a scriptural lesson on marriage.

Parents of the couple are Jerry and Charlotte Wilburn and Ted, Jr. and Darliss Peabody, all of Hereford. The bride is the granddaughter of Arnold and Amy Hromas of Bovina.

The altar of the church was draped with greenery, tulle and goosemer with small white lights laced with the material. Four columns were also draped with tulle greenery and white roses accented the columns. White candles were lit inside glass hurricane lamps. The unity candle was accented with roses.

Scott Shaw of Hereford, pianist, accompanied Kelley and Heather Wilburn, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, as they sang "When I Fall In Love" and Shannon Wilburn, brother of the bride, sang "I Will Be There."

The bride was presented in marriage by her parents. She was attired in a formal length satin wedding gown featuring covered buttons the length of the dress and train. The bodice was covered in pearls. Her veil was made by the groom's mother and flowed in two layers of tulle gathered at the crown.

She carried a bouquet made by her mother consisting of white and yellow roses, baby's breath, white lilacs and greenery.

Following bridal tradition, the bride wore the blue garter that her mother wore at her own wedding. She placed a penny with her birth year in her shoe and carried a keepsake in her bouquet to represent her grandmothers and great-grandmothers.

Lori Wilburn of Hereford served her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Lisa Hromas of Bovina, cousin of the bride, Amy Corbitt of Thorphy Club, Texas, Misty Hollinger of Plainview, sister of the groom, and Miriam Wilks of Hereford.

Stephanie Wilburn, niece of the bride and daughter of Shannon and Melanie Wilburn of Hereford, served as the junior bridesmaid. Audrey Lieb of Morse, Texas, cousin of the groom, was the flower girl.

The bride's attendants wore formal length crepe hunter green gowns. They carried bouquets of white and yellow rose buds.

Phil Peabody of Texico, New Mexico, cousin of groom, was the best man. Grooms-men were Justin Furnace of Eddy, Texas, cousin of the groom, Tim Peabody of Texico, New Mexico, cousin of the groom, Brandon Rogers of Abilene and Mike Sims of Grapevine, Texas.

Mrs. Ted Peabody III

Andrew Wilburn, nephew of the bride and son of Shannon and Melanie Wilburn of Hereford, was the junior groomsman. Bret Wilburn of Hereford, son of Kelley and Heather Wilburn, was the ring bearer.

Serving as ushers were Brad Hromas of Bovina, uncle of the bride, Corey Willis and Toby Willis, cousins of the groom from Amarillo.

The reception was held at the Hereford Country Club. The guests were served a buffet meal with a dance following the meal.

A four tiered wedding cake was accented with silk flowers in the bride's chosen colors of white, hunter green and yellow. The groom's chocolate cake was decorated with a large "P" in calligraphy print. Both cakes were made by Pam Carpenter, cousin of the bride.

Following a wedding trip to Branson, Missouri, the couple is making their home in Abilene.

The groom graduated in December and is employed at Wiley Baptist Church in Wiley, Texas. She is a junior at Hardin-Simmons in Abilene.
