Bovina Farmer Vernon Estes, who has the same last name as a certain individual who has been receiving a lot (that's an understatement) of unfavorable publicity throughout the nation, claims no kin, and rightly so, to the individual in question.

EXCHANGE STUDENT--Elke Steffens of Germany, Bovina's first exchange student, is shown with three members of the family with which she will live during her stay in Bovina. ELKE STEFFENS--

Exchange Student Thinks This Country "Wonderful"

By Dolph and Sue Moten "Everything in America is air conditioned--even the cars!" That was one of first impressions of Elke Steffens, from Germany, who is Bovina's first exchange student.

Elke (pronounced Elka) will make her home with the Vernon Estes family during her stay here. She arrived in Amarillo via plane Sunday and was met there by the Estes.

Normal schooling there, however, is 13 years plus college. Had she stayed in Germany, she would have been in her 13th year.

This is fifth year of vegetable production on a commercial basis in Bovina area. Cantaloupe acreage is down slightly this year and this will cause overall cantaloupe production to be lower than years past.

CURBS AND GUTTERS GOING IN -- These two scenes are now common in Bovina as Pioneer Pavers, Inc. of Lubbock are installing curbs and gutters on Third Street and Highway 86. Bovina Implement League Champions Bovina Implement Co. Yanks are winners of Bovina Lions boys baseball program. The Yanks wrapped up the championship Friday afternoon with a 6-1 win over Charles Oil Co.

That win gave the Bovina Implement Co. club a season record of 11 wins and three losses while Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply, second place team, won 10 times while losing four.

forward to football and basketball seasons. She also "loves animals," she says.

Name of Miss Steffens hometown is Bliesdorf, which is near Baltic Sea. Her father is postmaster there.

Robert Morton To State Workshop

Robert Morton, agriculture instructor in Farwell High School will be in San Antonio, August 7-10 to participate in a state-wide workshop.

The four day meet is being held as a part of a program in Vocational Agriculture to further improve the professional competency of the state's teachers.

An address will be heard from Dr. Charles E. Irvin a national figure in educational circles. His subject will be "To Teach Is To Sell." Dr. A. W. Renney, director of Agricultural Branch, U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare will address the group on "Agricultural Education In The Years Ahead."

In addition to the lectures, workshops will be conducted in "Animal Health Program in Texas", "Regulations Concerning The Use Of Chemicals", "Operation Blackland Income Growth," and "Diffusion Process of Communications."

The business meeting will be conducted by Dr. M. D. Mobley, Executive Secretary of The American Vocational Program. Officers and board members will be selected and a program of work outlined for 1962-63.

She has attended a protestant boarding school in a town near her hometown.

The blonde-haired, blue-eyed exchange student is 18 years old. Her visit here was arranged through Women's Society of Christian Service of Bovina Methodist Church.

Elke's older brother is an officer in German army and is presently at Fort Bliss at El Paso on a 14-day tour of practicing missile firing.

The Estes and Elke are making plans to visit with her brother there.

Farms are different here than in her native country, she points out. There, she says, fields are more scattered and are bordered by hedgerows.

With the lack of trees and fences, Elke thinks fields on the High Plains look "convenient."

Miss Steffens brought gifts from her home country for all members of the Estes family.

Though she will probably continue to be amazed by the differences in this country and her own, Elke is looking forward to her year's stay in this community . . . as are the people with whom she will be associated.

The league was hampered during its last regularly-scheduled week because of cancellations due to conflicts. Then rain stopped make-up games from being played the following week, which was first week in August. These two delays caused several games to be cancelled. However, neither of the top two teams were forced to cancel a game because of a lack of players. They each accepted one grats game from teams which could not field a team.

Roy Stowers was winning pitcher of Bovina Implement in the final game. Randy Hutto took the loss for Charles Oil.

The two top teams waged a nip and tuck battle for the top spot throughout the 15-game season. At beginning of the league, the two looked like the teams to beat and that's the way it turned out.

Proving to be Oklahoma Lane's downfall was a loss to cellar-dwelling Red Tops in final week of the season. Had that game gone the other way, they would have been tied with Bovina Implement for league lead.

Farmers' Debate Is Tuesday Night

A public debate on the comparative qualities of the Kennedy Administration's Farm Program is scheduled for the night of Tuesday, August 14 at scheduled) is concluded with a November 9 game with Vega here.

The schedule this year, as in recent years, has no open date. Gee considers this fact both good and bad. He figures that a week's rest just before district would be good to allow any injuries the team has to heal. On other hand, with no open date, the players don't have an opportunity to get "stale."

Gee considers the schedule changes an improvement over that of a year ago, "especially from standpoint of the fans."

Mustangs will be defending District 2-B champions, having romped over district competition easily last year.

All schools in the district have new coaches except Bovina and Vega. Gee and Assistant Coach Malcolm Kennedy will be in their third year of tutoring the Mustangs. Junior High Coach Doug Beatty will be in his second year.

Football practice will begin Monday, August 20, with twice a day workouts which will continue until school starts September 4. After that practice sessions will be in afternoon.

Gee figures that Happy will be team to beat in district play. The Cowboys lost only two men off last year's squad and neither of those was an offensive starter. "They have all that speed back and they'll be a senior ballclub just as we will," Gee says in regard to Happy.

Also to be reckoned with in district play is Vega, which finished second in last year's race and has most of those players returning.

The three Bovina football coaches are in Lubbock this week attending annual state coaches school.

Registration was Tuesday morning with sessions to be concluded Saturday.

Mustangs' '62 schedule appears in a clip-and-save-type ad, sponsored by Three-Way Chemical Co., in this issue of The Blade.

the Lazbuddie High School Auditorium.

The program, which will be open free of charge to the public, will begin at 8 p.m.

Representing the area farmers who oppose the program will be Frank Hinkson, Parmer County farmer from Lazbuddie. He will point out the discrepancies in the Kennedy-Freeman farm program and will offer his positive approach to the situation.

Speaking for those who are in favor of the Administration and its farm program will be Paul Lewis, Lamb County farmer. He will seek to point out the merits of the present farm program, and explain how it is a positive and beneficial approach to the problems confronting the nation's agricultural industry.

All area residents, whether engaged in farming or not, are urged to attend the debate. It is expected that the program will not last more than two hours.

SAVE MONEY TWO WAYS WITH PHILGAS*

Philgas, the modern tractor fuel, gives you added power while cutting your operating costs — actually saves you dollars and cents two ways:

- Philgas costs less than other tractor fuels. It gives you added power at less cost per gallon.
- Maintenance costs are less when you use Philgas. You need fewer oil changes. There are no unburned fuel deposits to damage rings, plugs and valves. With Philgas your tractor runs for years before overhaul is needed.

Thousands of farmers are saving money by using Philgas as a tractor fuel. We would appreciate the opportunity of showing you the convincing facts of how Philgas can save you money.

WITH PERFECT RECORD--

Wheat Growers Softball Champs

Bovina Wheat Growers edged Firemen, 3-2, in men's softball league Friday night to complete the season for both teams. Those two teams each had perfect records in this summer's league--Wheat Growers didn't lose a game and Firemen failed to win one. Neil Smith was winning pitcher for Wheat Growers. He was aided by homeruns by Darrell Read and Jimmy Clements. Glenn Hromas took mound loss for Firemen.

The league will be completed this Thursday night when Bovina Dairy Freeze and Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply make-up a game which was cancelled last week.

Those teams are presently tied for second place and winner of this week's game will have undisputed possession of it.

Whittlin--

Members of city council do, we know, have a multitude of problems when they're acting on the city's business without us picking on them. Still, we'd like to see them consider paving these two blocks under the present street improvement program.

Such paving would, we think, be worth much more than just two more blocks of paving. It would help eliminate some of the traffic problem which now exists on North and Third Streets and would also provide more ideal business locations.

Several years ago we would have had enough confidence in our own judgement to KNOW that such paving would be a good idea. Since we've mellowed down through the years we just THINK it would be a good idea now.

But we don't see how city could go wrong by providing that paving for all its citizens.

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

ANOTHER BUMPER YEAR IN PROSPECT

August is the month of high hope on the High Plains. August is when lucky farmers already "have it made" and some not so lucky are sweating out their chances to see how crops will mature under the hot Southwest sun.

Crop prospects are excellent in the Parmer County area. The two principal cash crops, cotton and grain sorghum, are in tip top condition. The cotton (upper left) is fruiting heavily and possibly damage from insects is virtually over. Grain sorghum (upper right) is headed for another record yield year. The crop in the picture is "through." No more irrigation water will course down the thirsty rows. The full, heavy heads of grain have only to ripen in the pre-autumn sun.

The area's small but lively vegetable farming business is at the peak of its activity (lower picture). All in all, things are looking mighty good on the farms of the Parmer County area.

Farmers Gin Construction Moving At Rapid Pace

"We hope to be able to gin a bale of cotton by September 15," said Jimmy Fletcher, who was just recently hired as the first manager of Friona's Farmers' Coop Gin.

Construction at the new gin site was really getting into "high gear" this week, with work proceeding on the main gin building, and beginning on other phases, including excavating for the scales.

Fletcher comes to Friona from Estacado, Texas, where he was manager of the Farmers Gin Company there during the past year. Prior to that, he managed the Bethel Gin at Portales, N. M., for two years.

Fletcher got his start in the ginning business at Buster's Gin at his home town of Ropesville. He spent six years there, learning the business "inside out."

A graduate of Ropesville High School, Fletcher and his wife

Geneva have three sons, Randy, 7; Timmy, 3; and Kym, 2.

The new manager is impressed with the Friona area, and sees a bright future for the new gin.

The Farmers' Coop Gin is to be outfitted with all-new equipment, with an original capacity of around 14 bales per hour.

The gin will not burn any burrs, eliminating the smoke problem. The burrs will be returned to the farmer for use as fertilizer.

FRIONA'S NEW Farmers' Co-op Gin is rapidly taking shape two miles south of the city on state Highway 214. Completion of the gin is scheduled in time for this fall's crop. New manager of the gin, Jimmy Fletcher (right foreground) says he hopes to be able to gin a bale at the new gin by Sept. 15.

Three-County Growers Plan Vegetable Display

Plans were disclosed this week for "Salad Bowl on Display," a county fair-type competition in fresh vegetables and canned goods for vegetable growers in Parmer, Deaf Smith and Castro Counties.

The contest is scheduled for Saturday, September 29, at the Hereford Bull Barn. Any individual in the three counties is eligible to enter, and should write Larry Kaul, Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce, Hereford, for entry rules.

The basic requirement is that the individual raise the product to be entered, rather than a group. A grand prize will be awarded to the individual entering the largest number of vegetables.

"The purpose of the show is to let the frozen foods industry know about the diversification possible in growing vegetables in our area, with the goal of getting a large frozen foods processing plant in the area," said Frank Ford, chairman of the Agriculture committee of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce.

"We'd like to have as many entries as possible from Parmer County, to help make the show a success," stated Ford.

It was pointed out that representatives from Libby's, A&P Shurline and other companies have been invited to judge the show. There will be contests for each type of vegetable, as well as canned goods, with ribbons awarded the winners.

Cattlemen To Meet

Recent developments in the beef cattle industry will be in the spotlight at the quarterly directors' meeting of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association in Wichita Falls, Sept. 22. Branding, taxation, and a number of other factors of importance to cattlemen will be discussed, according to Joe Fletcher, TSCRA secretary-general manager.

People who are doing some home canning this summer are urged to make entries. Equipment dealers who would like to display vegetable handling equipment may notify the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

"Getting a processing plant in our area is possible because of beef-feeding here," said Ford. "This would make for a year-round operation, with beef processing in the vegetable off season."

For physical fitness include something from each of the Big 4 food groups in your daily diet: Group 1 -- milk and milk products. Group 2 -- yellow and green vegetables, citrus and other fruits. Group 3 -- meat, eggs, fish and poultry. Group 4 -- whole grain or enriched cereal and bread.

Katie Blackstone Receives Ribbon At District Contest

Katie Blackstone represented Farmer County in the District 4-H Dress Revue that was held Wednesday, August 1 at 3:30 p.m. in the YWCA Auditorium in Amarillo. One hundred 4-H Club girls, parents, and guests attended the annual event.

Katie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Blackstone of Lubbudde, modeled a brown, hand screened, cotton print shirt-waist dress. She chose black accessories to complete her outfit.

Judging for the fit of the dresses, accessories and the poise and grooming of the girl took place at 1:15 before the public dress revue. However, construction and record books were judged the day before. All girls were awarded blue, red, or white ribbons. Katie was presented a white ribbon. This was her first year to be eligible for district judging.

Winners in the district who will compete in the State 4-H Dress Revue, October 6 during the State Fair in Dallas are Gail Carruth of Dallas County, Phillis Dalsing of Gray County, Linda Holt of Hansford County, and Mary Ann Edlin of Hartley County. First alternate is Kathryn Ann Sneed of Sherman County, second alternate, Terry Langkeit of Lipscomb County, and third alternate, Carole Walton of Potter County.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

We are quoting the last two or three statements in an interview held by Wayne E. Swegle, managing editor of Successful Farming magazine, with Orville Freeman, United States Secretary of Agriculture.

Question: "Mr. Freeman, are you, in essence, giving a franchise to the farmer to operate?" Answer: "In a sense, I suppose that's true."

And then, here is an excerpt from a memorandum sent last month to State ASC Committee members by Administrator Horace Godfrey of USDA Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service: "We know that you were as disappointed as we in the defeat of the farm bill in the House on June 21. Nevertheless, as I have previously stated, we lost a battle but not the war."

Farm Bureau vigorously opposed this "farmer franchise" bill and feels largely responsible for its defeat, and is proud of it.

J. T. Jones, Farm Bureau Weed Committee Chairman, reports that all plot maps of bindweed on railroad right of ways have been forwarded to Santa Fe with the exception of the area between Friona and Bovina. If there are some farmers in that area interested enough to come by, get the maps, walk and mark the spots of bindweed thereon, these will be forwarded for treatment.

We consider the following paragraph from a speech by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover very appropriate for reading and study by every citizen: "Our nation holds in trust the last hope of a free civilization. Our dedication to truth, justice and individual dignity must not be compromised. If we are strong enough, and care enough, and maintain our national integrity, this nation will survive the terrible threat that presents itself today. With God's help, we will meet the challenge of survival. This is the heritage of America."

Your County Farm Bureau membership is forty above the same time in 1961. Your membership is invited.

FHA Business Was Good During 1961 Fiscal Year

Arch T. Fowler, Area Supervisor of Area 20 of the Farmers Home Administration in Texas, announced today that during the past fiscal year, July 1, 1961, to June 30, 1962, the FHA had collected $4,390,149 in the seven counties that make up Area 20. The seven counties are Bailey, Castro, Cochran, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, and Parmer.

Fowler also explained that during the past fiscal year, 1961-1962, the Farmers Home Administration has assisted a large number of farmers to produce their 1962 crops. Loans totaling $3,761,435 have been made in this seven-county area during this same period of time.

The HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

This is definitely home food preservation time for most homemakers on the Golden Spread. Within the next few weeks an enormous quantity of vegetables and fruits will be processed and stored for future use. All of us will be busy canning, freezing, preserving and pickling various produce items.

One of the most important things to keep in mind regardless of the method you plan to use is the length of time it takes to complete the job. The quality and flavor of vegetables is much better if very little time elapses between picking and storing.

For adventures in good eating this winter each of us should try a few new recipes. Of course, some of the things we prepare will not go well with some members of our families, but serving the same old vegetables in the same old ways sometimes gets monotonous.

Having a few jars of pickles made by the following recipes will add variety to many winter meals.

Pickled Okra (1 clove per pint) hot pepper (1 pod per pint) okra dill seed (1 teaspoon per pint) 1 quart vinegar 1 cup water 1/2 cup salt

Place garlic and hot pepper in bottom of hot jars. Remove part of the stem of okra pods. A part of the stem must be left on. Pack okra firmly in jar, and add dill seed. Bring vinegar, water and salt to boiling point; simmer for 5 minutes. Pour over okra; seal jars, yield: enough pickling solution for about 6 pints.

Watermelon Pickles 7 pounds (1 gallon) watermelon rind 2 (2-inch) pieces of stick cinnamon 2 tablespoons whole cloves 2 tablespoons whole allspice 10 cups sugar 1 quart white vinegar

Select thick rind from a firm melon. Cut green skin and pink flesh from rind and discard. Cut rind into cubes or thin slices. Soak rind several hours or overnight in cold water, in the refrigerator, if possible. Drain, cover with fresh water, and boil about 20 minutes, or until tender. Drain. Tie spices in a clean white cloth. Combine sugar and vinegar, add spice bag, and simmer to form a thin syrup. Add rind and simmer until fruit is clear (about 15 minutes). Pack into hot, sterile jars and seal. Yield about six pints.

Green Tomato Pickles 1 gallon green tomatoes 6 large onions 1/2 cup salt 1 tablespoon whole black pepper 1 tablespoon whole cloves 1 tablespoon crushed celery seed 1 tablespoon mustard seed 1 tablespoon ground mustard 1 lemon 3 pods red sweet pepper 3 cups vinegar 3 cups brown sugar

Slice tomatoes and onions thin. Sprinkle salt over them and let stand overnight in a stone jar. Next morning, freshen in cold water for 1 hour. Tie spices in a cheesecloth bag. Slice lemon and two pods of pepper very fine. Drain tomatoes and onions.

Add all seasonings except one pod of pepper to the vinegar, then add tomatoes and onions. Cook for 30 minutes, stirring gently at intervals to prevent scorching. Pack in jars and garnish with slender strips of the red pepper, placing them vertically on opposite sides of each jar. Process in hot water bath for 15 minutes.

Pop Tate's Relish 1 basket (about 1 gallon) green and red tomatoes 1 basket (about 1 gallon) green and red sweet peppers 1 stalk celery 12 medium onions 1 bunch carrots 1/4 cup salt vinegar sugar 1 box mixed pickling spices approved farming practices, drilling irrigation wells, installing water distribution systems, building terraces, fencing, and other things necessary to increase the productivity of his land resources; and a few Emergency Loans to just help a man through this crop year.

Put tomatoes, peppers, celery, onions and carrots through food chopper and mix well. Add salt. Let stand in cool place overnight to draw out juice. The next morning, press through colander or cloth sack to remove the juice. Measure vegetable mixture and add equal amounts of vinegar and sugar, cup for cup. Put spices in a cloth bag and add to vegetables. Cook to desired thickness. Add sugar or vinegar to suit taste.

Fowler said that in 1961 many borrowers paid the FHA in full and if present prospects for the crops this year were reached that many more would pay out in full in 1962.

One of the requirements for borrowing from the FHA is to be unable to secure the needed assistance through regular conventional credit sources. Many of the farmers that FHA assisted during the drought years have paid FHA in full and have returned to the credit sources they used before coming to the FHA. The assistance that FHA gives to farmers and ranchers is a contributing factor in the overall economy of a county or community. This is especially important in a practically total rural area without any large industrial payrolls.

MOUNT OLIVE, N. C., TRIBUNE: "The truth is . . . that in lower job levels, federal pay is higher than comparable work in private businesses. Many clerks, secretaries and various other types draw nice pay checks for doing very little, in fact. Private industry, however, pays those executives, and others, who produce, and who create profits and capital, more—quite often—than the government pays many of its ablest servants. This is only right. Government service has never been an inducement to Americans on the grounds that one can make more money, or as much, as in private business."

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

DERYL COKER

The 4-H Boys Camp held in Holy Ghost Canyon is over and those who attended certainly enjoyed the trip. We ended up with 30 4-H Club members and 12 adult leaders.

I certainly appreciate the efforts and help by the adult leaders.

Speaking for myself, I gained several pounds from the excellent food that Mr. James Mabry prepared. If 4-H members and adult leaders have never attended one of these camps they should start planning now for next year, so they will know they haven't missed anything.

The recent rains have been a great asset to Farmer County. They came at a time when cotton was fruiting and grain sorghum heading. These rains should definitely boost our county income this year. But as normal when the weather is wet we have weed problems to contend with. Some cotton fields will need to be cleaned so as the cotton can be harvested mechanically because we might not be able to obtain labor for hand harvesting.

Due to the rains we can expect an increase in harmful insects. Bollworm damage is increasing in many areas of the High Plains and we in Farmer County should keep a fairly close tab on our insect situation. If we should have bollworms this year it is very important that we find them while they are small or just after hatching so control measures will be effective.

A one-day school for cotton gin operators will be held at Lubbock, August 21. Five sessions will be held simultaneously with factory trained engineers from the five co-operating gin manufacturing companies serving as instructors. Cotton gin operators who plan to attend are requested to register at least a week in advance of the school. If you should need additional information come by the office.

Several reports over the state of Texas have shown that Ruelene, a chemical which is used for cattle-grub control has caused some ill effects. Our entomologist says that Ruelene should not be recommended for grub control until a more satisfactory formulation is available.

So far this year we have had three cases of screwworms reported, which is good as compared to last year.

We expected to have a few screwworms this year, but we should have even less worms next year and eventually we should have no screwworms at all.

Livestock producers should continue to collect samples and send in or bring them by my office, so the people working on this program can stay abreast of the current situation.

Are you getting your son's and daughter's clothes ready for school? This year's back-to-school clothes have a different trend. News in little girls' clothes, both dresses and sportswear, is that many designers of adult wear are designing dresses for the little girls.

This means that they will reflect a definite grown-up design. One designer will feature a little jacket outfit which may be done in a variety of fabrics. The skirts may be swirl, flared or done with unpressed pleats. Jackets may be cut - away or squared off design.

Blouses may feature floppy or tailored bows. If belts are used they will be wider than last season. And look for set-in sleeves and princess curves in both dress and sportswear lines. Dresses without collars are good again for another season.

Even though high fashion trends are for a certain line, consider your personal line. Long tunic lines are for slender, tall figures as are wide belts. Big bows on blouses and dresses are not for short height and short waist figures. These bows tend to make you shorter. "What design of fashion looks best for me?" is a good question to ask yourself no matter what is high fashion.

Along with current rush of freezing corn I thought you might want to try our freezing method for corn - on - the - cob. Corn is at its best when it is young with small, plump and tender kernels and thin, sweet milk. If the milk is thick and starchy, it's better to freeze corn as cream style.

For corn on the cob, husk and remove most of the silk. Trim off damaged end from ear worms. A good way to remove most of the silk remaining on the ears is by washing ears in water. All silk will be removed easily by the washing. Then sort ears according to size for different heating times.

Heat water to boiling in a large kettle. Drop a few ears at once into the water that is boiling vigorously. Cover and begin timing. Too many ears will cool the water too quickly. Heat small ears that are less than one and one-fourth inches in diameter for seven minutes. Medium ears, from one and one-fourth to one and one-half inches in diameter should be heated nine minutes. Large ears that are over one and one-half inches should be heated 11 minutes.

Cool the ears immediately in iced water for the same length of time that it required for heating. Drain and pack the ears into polyethylene bags or wrap in moisture - vapor - proof material.

If polyethylene bags are used, fill with the needed number of ears for meal serving or number easy to close open end. Dip filled bags into lukewarm water to force air out of the bags. Submerge food below the water, then twist the opened end of the bag that is above the water line. The bag will become collapsed tightly around each ear of corn forcing all air out of the bag. The twisted end of the bag can then be closed with a rubber band or wire band. I have found that the bags will remain closed during the freezing process if the twisted end of the closing is folded over before the rubber bands are tightly twisted over this end. Then freeze immediately.

If you needed more information for freezing than what was available in my news column last week, write for or come by for the free bulletin "Frozen Foods." If you follow directions accurately you should have successful frozen foods during the fall and winter months.

If you need more recipes for serving fresh potatoes that are so plentiful now, ask for the USDA bulletin, "Potatoes in Popular Ways." Also, recipes for potato dishes are available in the bulletin, "Vegetables, Vegetables."

Next week I shall be out of the office while I am on annual leave. If you need any information you may contact our junior assistant, Miss Celia Patton. I shall be back in the office August 20.

Farmers Hear Report About Curbing Irrigation Waste

Area farmers met last Friday at the Hub Community Center to discuss the problems of waste irrigation water.

The expectations of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District for the individual farmer were explained.

Most of the farmers were in agreement that they needed to make use of their "tailwater."

It was pointed out that through the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, control of the area underground water is left in the hands of the farmers through the county committee system, with no state or federal control.

"The district expects all farmers to do something about their tailwater waste," said T. I. Burleson, committee chairman for the farmers' group. "They realize that we're busy with our crops at this time, but recommend that after we're through harvesting this fall, we do what needs to be done to avoid waste," Burleson said.

It was suggested that three or four farmers might want to go together and "pool" their runoff water into one lake, for use by one of their group either to pump back onto crops, or for grassland.

Tom McFarland, district general manager, states that if a farmer has a particular problem in working out a solution to his waste water, he should contact him at the Lubbock District Office.

The district has an engineer whose job it is to help design such facilities free of charge. It was stated that the district wants to avail themselves of this service whenever possible.

Rains Cut Irrigation Costs

The rains which finally covered the Southern High Plains rather generally have been excellent, and as a result the farmers have saved thousands of dollars through reduced irrigation pumping costs.

Now, however, many are commencing again to pump water to the growing and fruiting crops. Some never stopped. During this stage of crop growth -- when the crops are in peak bloom -- adequate moisture is most necessary for optimum yields.

This is the time also when a minority of irrigators will have water losses due to "tailwater" escaping from the cropland.

It is apparent that many farmers should take better care of their irrigation water. Particularly, in view of the fact that the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District has just published a map which shows declines of the underground water level amounting to more than 100 feet in some areas of the southern High Plains during the past 24-year period.

In a day when farmers do considerable talking about high production costs, and justifiably so, many of them could effect substantial savings through the use of good irrigation management practices.

"A big bankroll won't count when the roll is called up yonder."
