Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas
MEMBERS OF CONGRESS from cotton producing areas agree on one thing, certainly there is a need for new legislation. THE SENATE HAS PASSED A BILL which, in effect, permits two choices for farmers. One is to have increased acreage with lower price supports, and the other is to reduce acreage and maintain higher support prices. The Senate Bill also junks the present concept of "parity" and substitutes a loan value based on the past three years. AT THE PRESENT, THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON AGRICULTURE is not looking with favor upon the Senate Bill and is attempting to produce one of its own. It is certainly hoped that some constructive measure can be produced before the Congress adjourns. It is the last chance for a farm bill in this session. THIS PAST WEEK, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES passed H. R. 10, known as the Jenkins-Keogh Bill, providing that self-employed people, such as those engaged in the professions, druggists, barbers and others, be allowed to have their own retirement fund. The Bill provides that a self-employed person may defer income taxes on 10 per cent of his income up to $2500 a year, but not more than $50,000 in a lifetime, as a "set aside" for old age. This measure seems only fair to those people who are not eligible for Social Security under the present law ON MAY 15, THIS COLUMN PREDICTED that the Administration would again ask Congress for authority to increase the Government's permanent debt limit. THE PRESIDENT HAS NOW ASKED CONGRESS to increase the temporary debt from the present ceiling of $280 billion to $268 billion, and the permanent debt ceiling from $275 billion to $285 billion.

RECREATION IS BECOMING one of the biggest businesses in the United States. At present rate, Americans will spend approximately $40 billion for recreation in 1958. This figure represents one-seventh of all spending. It is called a depression-proof business. ONE REASON GIVEN FOR CONTINUOUS INCREASE in pleasure spending is bigger and better pensions, earlier retirement, long vacations and short weekends. Another reason is the common practice of business paying for vacations, fishing trips, etc., for its customers.

A RECENT SURVEY by Sames Management Magazine shows that sales executives use this method extensively in dealing with buyers and prospective buyers. A SERIOUS PROBLEM IS BEING CREATED by this switch in the habits of our people. Outdoor recreational areas are becoming scarce and crowded. Recreation with any privacy is almost a thing of the past in the North and the East. States with water boundaries have reserved only comparatively small areas for the public. Likewise, Federal reserved areas are being taxed beyond capacity in most places during the vacation season.

with just enough orange juice and cream cheese to hold together. Nice sauce for ham loaf uses 1 cup of maple-flavored syrup heated with 1/2 cup crushed, drained pineapple.

Skewer together 2-inch squares of bacon, seasoned hamburger, mushroom caps and chicken livers. Broil and serve on heated crusty rolls.

Blend together softened butter and garlic salt, then spread this on very thinly sliced small rye bread and toast until bread curls slightly. These are delicious appetizers.

Dip day-old slices of bread with crusts removed into sweetened condensed milk. Drain and dip in coconut flakes. Toast on lightly greased cookie sheet in a moderate oven for 15 minutes. This makes a wonderful snack or dessert.

TODAY'S PROBLEM: Worry!
WILLIAM MINOR, Jeanette, Pennsylvania, started in his first job with a company so big that it took weeks, sometimes months for one to learn all the procedure, the paper work and the systems. Materials were hard to get, for the United States Government had priority over many kinds. But William was interested in getting ahead, may, he was determined to get ahead! So he threw himself into his work, took on practically the responsibility, if not for the entire company, at least for his section of it. He worked all day and he thought matters out at night. The result was that after a year or more of this pressure, he went home so tired at night that he spoke gruffly to his wife and children, when he bothered to speak to them at all. It wasn't long before he found the children were keeping out of his way; that his wife had something to do at some spot where he was not. That didn't matter. He had plenty to think about and he could best do it in solitude. In church one Sunday morning, the minister asked of the congregation, "What are you getting out of life?"

During the larger part of the remainder of the service, William's mind was on one thing, "What was he getting out of life?" About all he could sum up was "a bare living and a lot of worry." Toward the end of the service, he did hear "if you're not getting what you want, why not analyze your situation, and remedy any failing?"
All that afternoon, he thought of those remarks of the minister. He did analyze, and he decided that worry filled entirely too much space in his existence. How to rout it? He didn't know. But he did know to go to the library and get books on the subject. One sentence stuck in his mind: "Live for the day only; do your best; let the future be what it may."
And that was all that was needed to change William Minor from a morose, harrassed individual, who saw little prospect of promotion, to a cheerful man who loved being with his family at the end of the day, and who got a promotion in just a few months.

MRS. KENNETH BEWLEY
... former Wanda Rose Swinney

Wanda Rose Swinney, Kenneth Bewley Marriage Vows Read In Home Rites

Wanda Rose Swinney and Kenneth Bewley were married Saturday evening, Aug. 23, in the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. M. E. Randolph officiated at the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Swinney of Merkel, and Mrs. Charles Holley of Sweetwater and Paul Bewley of Fert Worth.

The bride wore a white taffeta dress with a net overskirt. Her waist length veil of illusion fell in tiers from a tiara of seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with gardenias.

Miss Syra Swinney, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Her dress was blue taffeta with a net overskirt and she carried a bouquet of bachelor buttons tinted blue.

Joe Brazelton was best man. Candeligher was James Swinney, brother of the bride.

Margaret McCain, cousin of the bridegroom, registered guests at the reception following the ceremony. Mrs. Duane Shugart and Mrs. Kent Satterwhite presided at the refreshment table.

The couple will make their home in Sweetwater.

Georgia Jan Gibson, Burl McCoy Married In California Church

Georgia Jan Gibson and Hollis Burl McCoy exchanged marriage vows Aug. 11 in the Church of Christ in Oldale, Calif. Woodrow Gann, minister, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Gibson of Bakersfield, Calif., and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Hollis McCoy of Merkel.

The couple attended Abilene Christian College and are making their home on a farm in the Trent community.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white eyelet batiste dress with a full length skirt. A white cloche made of bows held her fingertip veil. She carried a white orchid surrounded by Stephanotis.

Freda Gibson was maid of honor and Dona Jenkins of Fresno, Calif., was bridesmaid. Their dresses were fashioned like that of the bride, only in pale blue. They carried arm bouquets of blue delphiniums.

Gerald McCoy of Haskell attended his brother as best man. Michael Gibson, brother of the bride, and Bill Allen, nephew of the bride, from Anaheim, Calif., served as candelighers and ushers. Seth Rollins, cousin of the bridegroom, was groomsman. Gail Jenkins of Fresno was flower girl.

A girls' trio presented the wedding music. The reception was held in the church annex.

For a wedding trip to Yosemite National Park and San Francisco, Calif., the bride wore a toast colored sheath with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Shafter High School in California and at ACC belonged to Pandora Social Club. The bridegroom was graduated from Merkel High School and ACC where he was a member of Frater Sodalis at ACC.

Mrs. Blanche Cockerell and daughter, Bettv Jo, and son, Carey Don, visited Mrs. Cockerell's mother, Mrs. Mary Carey, from Tuesday to Thursday last week. They also visited Mrs. Truman Carey and children and numerous friends in Merkel. They returned to their Fort Worth home Thursday afternoon.

Do Not Shoot More Than Ten Doves Per Day

Don't be confused, it may cost you a fine for killing too many doves, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game & Fish Commission. The North Zone season opens Sept. 1.

This year's hunting regulations, approved by the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service, permits a possession limit of 20 birds after the first day. This does not mean, the director warns, that a hunter can go out and kill 20 birds in one day and get by with it.

The daily limit is still 10 birds. However, after the first day a hunter may have two days' possession, provided he doesn't have them on his person or in a manner to indicate they were all killed on the same day.

"The dove is a migratory bird and as such comes under final federal control," the chief says. "This year the possession limit has been modified, as will as the season lengthened. A good dove crop indicated early this year is responsible."

The chief also warned that new licenses must be obtained before hunting Sept. 1. These licenses are required for all hunters between the ages of 17 and 65 who hunt out of their own county. The new licenses will be available next week from game wardens, sporting goods stores and county clerks.

New fishing licenses also will be required at the same time.

— SHOWTIME —

At the Pioneer—Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 9, 10, and 11.

Cast: Marlon Brando, Montgomery Clift, Dean Martin, Hope Lange, Barbara Rush, May Britt, Maximilian Schell, Dora D. M., Lee Van Cleef, Liliane Montevecchi, Parley Baer, Arthur Franz, Herbert Rudley. Produced by Al Newman; directed by Edward Dmytryk.

A popular novel has been drawn and quartered, and its guts and mind have been ably transferred to the wide screen so that a film of high interest has emerged. The locale and subject matter is well shifted as the time and scene demands, and as a result, interest is maintained on high throughout. The members of the cast are eminently suited to their tasks and assignments, with Brando, Clift, and Martin particular stand-outs. The direction is superior, the writing of high calibre, and the production values very good. Audiences will be intrigued, interested and well-entertained. The screen-play is by Edward Anhalt, based on the novel by Irwin Shaw.

To Rural Schools
The American Farm Bureau Federation has joined with the Heritage Foundation and now every rural and community school in the nation is getting one of the records. Farm Bureau local officials in every community and county are making formal presentations of the records to their colleges and schools. This record distribution is a part of the Farm Bureau's nationwide Good Citizenship Program. The full program sets an example for every other organization in the nation. Through the full program every one of the approximately 8,000,000 men, women and children in Farm Bureau families across the nation are stimulated to be active citizens — getting an understanding of citizenship responsibilities in our great Constitutional Republic and learning how to intelligently participate in its political and governmental life.

A SPLENDID SCHOOL PROJECT

By GEORGE S. BENSON
Director—National Education Program

School officials are urged by the Farm Bureau to use the new hi-fi Star Spangled Banner recording as a daily or weekly stimulator for a program in American citizenship: (A) to focus attention on a significant phase of our heritage; (B) to stimulate a study of our heritage of freedom and what it means; (C) to help students acquire a new appreciation of our National Anthem.

Full Courses Needed
Charles B. Schuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said: "It is hoped that this new high-fidelity recording will instill in the thousands of young Americans attending our schools a deeper appreciation of our National Anthem, and a greater understanding of the rights and responsibilities of our treasured American heritage. I hope that it will stimulate a study of the true basic freedoms that we have, how we got them, and why they need to be defended by Americans everywhere."

Reverence For America
Every American school child, besides learning that our nation is founded on faith in God, should be given the opportunity to generate a reverence for our flag; our National Anthem, the Star Spangled Banner; the Declaration of Independence; the United States Constitution; and to be thrilled at the long list of high-lights in our nation's forward progress. Every school should have the Stars and Stripes displayed and hold periodic ceremonies to dramatize the significance of patriotism. One of the most inspiring stories in the literature of the nations of the world is the story of the writing of the Star Spangled Banner.

Mr. and Mrs. Lige Harris have returned home after a visit to their nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Miller of Big Spring, and their granddaughter, Marion Hays of Coahoma.

This year the American Heritage Foundation asked the Boston Symphony Orchestra and the Chicago Symphony Orchestra to record the Star Spangled Banner on a high fidelity RCA Victor (78 RPM). The results are two tremendous renditions of our stirring national anthem. The Heritage Foundation has made a gift of the record to every urban high school, grammar school, and elementary school in the nation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jennings of Plainview visited their brother, T. J. Amason Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Doan visited their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schenault and Mr. and Mrs. Don Doan and family of Stamford.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Perry and daughter, Martha, and Mrs. T. V. Armstrong attended the Smith reunion at Granbury last weekend.

Persons who have made the most thorough-going studies of the world-wide Communist movement have been impressed with the zeal with which the Communists dedicate themselves to their "cause." They contrast this with the apathy of so many Americans toward the cause of freedom, and some of them wonder whether our way of life can survive when its enemies give themselves over entirely to their "cause" while patriotism in the United States has declined in scope and intensity.

We need to revitalize our patriotism. One of the vital areas for cultivating a forceful love of country is the schools. No school administration is fulfilling its responsibility if it is failing to stimulate in the hearts and minds of children under its care a profound respect and deep loyalty to our nation. The best way to accomplish this is to teach the children the facts about our nation, its dramatic history, its unparalleled progress and all about the political and economic institutions that have made possible its progress and our individual prosperity and freedom.

Mr. and Mrs. Lige Harris have returned home after a visit to their nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Miller of Big Spring, and their granddaughter, Marion Hays of Coahoma.

Chicago Millionaire Takes Over Reins Of International Life Insurance Co.

Chicago millionaire John D. MacArthur has been named chairman of the Board of Directors of International Life Insurance Co. of Austin.

International Life is a 16-year-old company doing business in 10 states, with its home office in Texas.

Announcement of MacArthur's appointment to the post, and his acceptance, was made by James E. Dunne II, executive vice president of International Life Insurance Co.

The appointment followed MacArthur's assumption of management of Cumberland Associates, Inc., of Louisville, Ky., which owns controlling interest in International.

Cumberland Associates is a holding company organized for the purpose of acquiring controlling interest in small and medium sized life insurance companies. International Life was acquired by the company last December.

In announcing MacArthur's appointment, vice president Dunne said, "Mr. MacArthur's broad experience in the field of insurance will be a valuable asset to International. His addition to the firm will assure greater growth and progress for International Life and at the same time facilitate the acquisition of additional companies by Cumberland Associates."

MacArthur is president and sole owner of Bankers Life and Casualty Co. of Chicago. He also has other extensive insurance interests throughout the nation.

Bankers Life has over five million policy holders, more than $35,000,000 in capital and surplus, and in excess of $130,000,000 per year in premium income.

MacArthur is known as one of America's richest men. His fortune has been estimated at $75,000,000 to $100,000,000. He ranks as the largest individual owner of a life insurance company in the world. In addition, he owns or operates 11 other insurance companies.

When MacArthur agreed to take over Cumberland Associates, at the invitation of its officials, he said, "We're going to make a real company out of it."

"That will be his goal here, too," stated Dunne.

Unlike 54 of the 76 richest Americans who either inherited their money or made it in oil, where taxes give investors a break, MacArthur was born poor and was flat broke 20 years ago.

Today he is content to drive a 1953 Cadillac with 60,000 miles on it, and his wife drives a 1955 model. He buys most of his suits ready made, "wherever I happen to be—and not as often as the wife would like."

Despite his immense wealth, MacArthur has neither a butler nor a chauffeur. "It would drive me crazy seeing some guy standing around waiting for me all the time," says the Chicago insurance tycoon.

The MacArthurs never vacation. They have been talking about going to Europe for the past 15 years and they hope "next year" they finally will make it.

MacArthur already has made plans to leave his money to charity.

Handicapped workers comprise more than one third of the clerical staff of Bankers Life.

Born in Pittston, Pa., MacArthur is the youngest of the four sons of William Telfer MacArthur, a Presbyterian minister.

His brother Charles, 18 months older, was the famous playwright husband of actress Helen Hayes. Charles was a top flight newspaperman and co-authored "The Front Page" with Ben Hecht. Charles died in 1956.

Another brother, Telfer, is publisher of Oak Leaves and other suburban newspapers around Chicago.

The third brother, Alfred, is in the insurance business.

John MacArthur pays over $5,000,000 a year in taxes on his insurance companies alone, not including his personal income tax. Typical of the man's attitude is his statement that, "You hear a lot of bellyaching about high taxes. But the government never made anyone pay taxes who couldn't afford to pay."

MacArthur's other enterprises include an aircraft maintenance firm employing 1,000 persons in Miami, Fla.; ranches at Alamosa, Colo.; over 100 oil and gas wells, and a bank in Park Ridge, Ill.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

What will happen if you should die without executing a legal and proper will? Who will inherit your property? Your husband, wife, mother, father, children, your wife's relatives? The best way you can say who will have it is to provide a will which will protect your rightful beneficiaries and dispose of your property in accordance with your wishes.

When a deceased has no will, or dies "intestate" as the law calls it, the property of that person is distributed according to a detailed formula fixed by law. In some cases this may be the way you yourself would divide it—but in many cases it is not.

The provisions of the law concerning the distribution of the property of a person who dies without a will are rather complicated, and all of the possibilities cannot be covered by a general statement.

There are different rules for real estate and for personal property, for community property and for separate property, for homestead property, and for all of the many possible combinations of surviving relatives. Each situation must be carefully studied to determine the correct distribution of the property.

For example, here is a general idea of how the community property which you and your spouse have accumulated will be divided if you do not make a will prior to your death.

If your husband or wife survives and there are no children, the surviving spouse receives all of the property.

If, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of deceased children, they would divide one-half of the property, while the surviving spouse would receive the other one-half.

Of course, grandchildren do not share in the estate unless their parent who would inherit is deceased. And when descendants of previously deceased children do inherit, they receive only the portion that the child would have received, regardless of the number of such descendants.

An odd note, perhaps, is that the surviving spouse already owns one-half of the community estate prior to your death, and the law adds nothing to this share where there are children surviving.

When there are only children and their descendants surviving, they divide the entire community estate between them.
