GIN SEASON IS WELL UNDERWAY IN AREA

Total bales of cotton ginned in this area by noon Oct. 12 was 1,800 at Merkel Farmers Cooperative Gin, 681 at Noodle Co-Op Gin and 263 at Planter's Gin in Trent. Morris Smith, manager of the Merkel gin, was unable to give an estimate of the number of bales they will gin this season. Last year's total was 3,801. The gin is operating 24 hours a day.

Robert Riney, Noodle gin manager, said they expect to gin as much or more than the 2,500 bales ginned last season.

No pickers and pullers are needed in the Trent area, according to C. W. Edwards of Planter's Gin. Late cotton will be machined, he said.

Pickers and pullers are also plentiful in the Merkel area, but more hands are needed in Noodle Riney said.

According to reports by the managers, the rain during the early part of the season damaged the quality of the staple, lowering the price about $15 a bale.

T. L. Jones, who farms south of Trent, says he probably has the earliest cotton in that area. With ginning season just started good, he has already had 31 bales ginned and only has about 10 more to go.

Edwards said he expects the season's total to be under that of the 1,693 bales ginned last year.

JUSTALINE

By Maxine Gardner

—to tell you the weather in Merkel is fine. That is, it's fine if you like hot, dry weather. Hope you tidy "do-everything-at-a-certain-time" people haven't been too uncomfortable since you took your air conditioners down.

jal

A political rally, much livelier than anything the Democrats or Republicans have staged in these parts, was held in the school auditorium last week. Parties represented were the "Seventh Satellites," "Westerners," "Little Rascals" and the "Mad Party."

One of the slogans used was "I'm voting Mad—you go Mad too." Platform of one of the parties promised T-bone steak every Friday, no school on Mondays, no F's on report cards (this brought enthusiastic applause) and hour long recesses.

In case you haven't guessed—the rally was held prior to election of officers for the Merkel elementary student council.

jal

Since next week is National Newspaper Week, we will again tell you a little about your newspaper. The Merkel Mail goes into more than 2,000 homes and is read in 32 states, Canada, the Canal Zone, Old Mexico, Bermuda, Germany and Japan.

jal

We would like to remind you again at this time that our deadline for news copy is Tuesday noon. It is absolutely necessary for us to maintain this deadline in order to get the papers in the mail on Wednesday night.

jal

We would like to pass along an article which appeared in the Georgia Press Association bulletin some time ago. It is called "Some of the Joys of Newspapering" and tells some of the things you have to do in one normal day when you are in the newspaper business.

Explain to Mrs. Smith why Aunt Sara's 85th birthday party isn't on the front page, with pictures. Explain to an advertiser why it is impossible to get him on page three.

Explain to an ex-subscriber why you had to cut off his unpaid subscription.

Explain deadlines 500 times a day and why you have to have them.

Explain why some weeks you've got news running out your ears and other weeks the paper reads like a report on Amalgamated Steel.

Apologize to an advertiser for an error in his ad and smile sweetly while he tells you what an idiot you are.

Decipher news that comes in written on cherk pads, paper napkins, a corner of junior's arithmetic paper or the back of a letter from cousin Frank.

Put a balky linotype that is as nervous as a dish of jello and puts you further behind when you're already behind.

Cope with a folder that is anti-social and wallowing in its own importance, at the final minute, to keep you from getting a paper circulated.

Explain to a customer arriving late with copy that if you get his stuff in you'll have to leave somebody else out and then explain to the one you left out.

The last run made, you'll feel a sense of relief—for about five minutes. Then the phone starts ringing and you begin explaining why you did this or didn't do that and it starts all over again.

BADGER TALES

By Ruthie Corder

Well, it looks as if six weeks test week is almost over, and 50 percent of the students made it through without developing an ulcer (these statistics were contributed by Donna Rutledge). Everyone is all torn up because tests are just about over, but Jerry Don Doan is on the spot, consoling everyone with the happy news that there is only six more weeks until we will have some more. Speaking of six weeks do you realize that the school year is a sixth over?—Oh well.

Thursday afternoon the senior class is having a "bake-sale". It will be held down-town in front of Mellinger's. If any of you people would like to have a home made cake or pie, just phone in your order to any member of the senior class and it will be delivered to your home (if you don't live about forty miles out in the country). Prices will be reasonable.

Saturday afternoon the senior class picked another bale of cotton — and made almost forty dollars. Quite a few kids were there.

All members of the future teachers need to get in their "dues"—and new members had better learn the pledge — because installation isn't very far in the future.

New AF Service Program Started

A new Air Force program, which went into effect Oct. 1, allows many former servicemen who were separated from military service less than one year to reenlist in the same grade held at time of separation.

Sgt. Sidney R. Harp, local Air Force recruiter, said servicemen who have been separated longer than one year may reenlist with a lower rank.

Enlistment procedure is as follows: separated less than one year — same grade as separated; separated more than one year but less than two—one grade lower; separated more than two years but less than 30 months — two grades lower; separated more than 30 months, but less than three years—three grades lower; separated over three years —A-3c.

There are 134 different fields open to former servicemen who wish to enlist, Sgt. Harp said.

Prior servicemen will select a base of their choice, he added and will know what their assignments are before leaving the recruiting office.

More information may be had at the recruiting office, Room 307, Post Office Building, Abilene, or call OR 2-8949.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the newspapers of the nation during the week of October 15-21, 1960, are observing National Newspaper Week with the theme "Your Newspaper—Freedom's Guardian" and,

WHEREAS, This theme is particularly appropriate during the year of a great national election in our nation and during world-wide political upheaval which is serving as a cloak for the enemies of democracy to seize control of the press and subsequently the minds of their fellowmen, and

WHEREAS, our newspapers are a potent force in bringing about desired civic improvements in our towns and cities because of enlightened public opinion shaped and nurtured by the free American press, and

WHEREAS, our nation's business system, built on moving goods from the shelf or showroom to the consumer, benefits largely because our newspapers help by their advertising columns to move goods, thus creating jobs and helping to build prosperity for Americans, and

WHEREAS, there is tremendous emphasis on youth today, both at home and abroad, and one of the greatest heritages we can give our youth is a free press that will keep their government free and their lives free,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, the mayor of Merkel do hereby proclaim the week of October 15 to 21, 1960, as NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK IN THE CITY OF MERKEL and urge all citizens to take time to reflect upon the theme "Your Newspaper—Freedom's Guardian" with special attention to the need in the world today for uncensored channels of information that will help to dispel suspicion and distrust among men.

EARL HUGHES
Mayor of Merkel

Badgers Defeat Baird Bears, 16-8

The first-half scores made by the Merkel Badgers while they were holding the Baird Bears at bay led to a 16-8 Badger victory in Baird Friday night.

Receiving the kickoff, the Badgers began a slashing attack which carried them down to score on their first possession. Quarterback Lester Dorton made an end run for 30 yards and the touchdown.

Tailback Ronnie Reeger ran the extra points, and Merkel was ahead only two minutes deep in the game.

In the second quarter, Badger fullback Phil Seymour slanted off tackle to make the final 10 yards needed to score, and Reeger ran the extra points.

Baird took the kickoff which followed and ran it back 80 yards and across the goal line, only to have the ball called back because of holding.

The Bears finally scored in the third, when after taking the kickoff, they marched to the 15-yard line where Calvin Barnes, quarterback, passed to end Timmy Higgins for 15 yards and the score.

The combination was duplicated for the two extra points.

Merkel made two other scoring threats during the first half, but fumbled both times.

LAMBDA BETA CHAPTER SEES SLIDE PROGRAM

"New Rooms For Old," a celanese color slide program on home decoration, was shown on Oct. 4 at Taylor Electric Auditorium for the Lambda Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

The model meeting was the second in a series of events scheduled for the sorority's rush season. Pledges present were Mrs. J. L. Mason, Mrs. F. M. Cox, Mrs. Frances Carey and Mrs. Franklin Myrick.

The program, presented by Mrs. Gerald Derrick and Mrs. Bob Gardner, featured 50 room settings with many How-To-Do-it ideas for giving old rooms a new look. The rooms were redecorated and photographed in a five-story town house in New York City, a 49-year-old home in the country and several city and suburban apartments.

The above pictures taken in a city apartment, show a rather plain, dull "old room" transformed into a "new room," which suddenly comes to life and sparkles with the lavish use of colorful fabric.

Other rooms in the program offered suggestions for enlarging window areas, hiding jutting radiators, concealing bulging walls, brightening dark corners and correcting a score of architectural defects by the skillful use of elegant fabric cover-up, unique curtains and hinged fabric screens.

Mrs. Homer Patterson was hostess.

Home Demonstration Notes

By LORETA ALLEN

Taylor County Home Demonstration Agent

It's not necessary to spend a lot of money for clothing in order to be well dressed. Extension clothing specialists of Texas A&M College say the important thing is to plan well and choose wisely — keeping your activities and your budget in mind.
Suggestions on how to do this are given in the extension bulletin, "WARDROBE DOLLARS AND SENSE." Teen-age daughters in your family will enjoy a leaflet written especially for them entitled, "WARDROBE PLANNING." It's cleverly illustrated and includes simple inventory sheets for wardrobe planning.

A healthy skin requires a healthy diet. Teen-agers with weight or complexion problems should take special note of the foods required for healthy bodies.

according to extension foods and nutrition specialists of Texas A&M College. This applied for adults, too.

If you have weight or skin problems, why not check your diet? "FOOD FOR FITNESS," a colorful leaflet available from your county Home demonstration agent's office, gives an easy-to-follow plan for balancing your daily food needs.

Work more vegetables into the diet by using them to spark appetites on these hot summer days. Extension foods and nutrition specialists suggest crisp, colorful raw vegetables for appetizers, between-meal snacks and tasty salads.

Recipes for dips and other party refreshments are given in the extension bulletin, "FOOD AND FUN WITH FRIENDS." Being kind to your appliances will help cut repair bills, remind extension home management specialists of Texas A&M College.

Getting down to specifics, here are some reminders that will pay off:

Slamming refrigerator, oven or freezer doors weakens latches and hinges. Thus, some day you will not have a tight seal. Failure to defrost allows a thick buildup of ice. This puts a strain on the motor and could even burn out the motor.

Hot soapy water is not for your ice trays. The manufacturer has waxed the trays to prevent the ice sticking. Hot water removes the wax and the tray refuses to let the ice go until you practically melt it.

Soaps and synthetic detergents are just not friendly to each other. Even a tiny amount of soap that failed to rinse out last week start a fight with the synthetics used this week, and you have a scum that collects in your machine.

Neglecting to empty the lint trap in your dryer causes the pump to clog, and puts the dryer out of operation. Sharp metal objects picked up by the vacuum cleaner could damage the motor or puncture the bag.

Your own ignorance can cause you to commit many sins against equipment: so read your instruction book. Keep it handy where you can find it.

Cooler weather means more social activity for all family members. Entertaining friends with ease is an art that can be easily learned, according to extension foods and nutrition specialists of Texas A & M College.

FOOD AND FUN WITH FRIENDS, an extension bulletin written by the specialists, is designed to help you. Ideas for invitation, refreshment and other details are given for both large and small parties. Get a copy of the bulletin from your county home demonstration agent.

Delicious, hot quick breads will be more tempting than ever with cooler weather ahead. Make your own homemade Master-mix for biscuits, muffins and cornbread now. It will save time and energy later.

Directions for the Master-mix are given in extension bulletin, "QUICK BREADS." Also included are delicious recipes for new and different quick breads. Get a copy of the bulletin from your local extension office.

Do you bruise easily? . . . A vitamin C deficiency might be responsible. . . . Orange, grapefruits and other citrus fruits are rich in vitamin C important to good health of the blood vessels. Eat some vitamin C rich foods every day.

Mrs. C. W. Guthrie of Big Spring, Mrs. Othel Okelly of Trent and Mrs. Denzel Cox and Mrs. Hallie Burden of Merkel attended funeral service for their sister-in-law and aunt, Mrs. J. M. Pike, held at Clarksville Saturday, Oct. 1.

IN MERKEL

Mrs. Edna Petty, sister of Mrs. J. W. Moore and daughter of J. Blackburn, was bitten by a big rattle snake at her home near Vera, in Knox county, recently, and died the following night from the effects of same. Mrs. Petty was reared in the Canyon and has many friends who regret the sad occurrence.

Messrs. A. J. and E. H. Ray have recently purchased the Buttman gin, placing same in fine running condition, and are now prepared to serve the farmers of their community.

Earl Baze is now with the Merkel Dry Goods Store, entering upon his duties there this week.

J. L. Barker one of the splendid citizens residing on route four was here recently and made this office a pleasant and appreciated call. He says his crop is fine. He also has our thanks for two subscriptions to the Mail.

Miss Lillian Watts, who is the efficient bookkeeper with the Merkel Motor Co. is now taking a two weeks vacation. She contemplates going to the Cotton Palace and Dallas Fair during her vacation.

Carl J. Tucker, now of Paris, but for many years a citizen of Merkel, was here this week to see after the splendid farming interest he maintains in the Mulvey Canyon community and to shake hands with his numerous friends. Although a man 75 years of age, the Carl, is in fine health and able to go about as he pleases.

Martha SS Class

Meeting Held In Earl Foster Home

The Martha SS Class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Earl Foster Thursday evening, Oct. 6. Mrs. E. R. Clack and Mrs. A. D. Fulton were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Irl Walker, president, presided at the business session. Opening prayer was by Mrs. Twyman Collins.

Mrs. Ernest Teaff gave the devotion on "Working Together With God."

Names were drawn for secret pale and for four group leaders.

Refreshments of orange punch and cookies were served to the following members: Mmes. W. I. Boynton, Collins, Charlie Sherrill, Leon Harris, W. O. Hardy, Teaff Walker, Alonzo Peterson, Dent Gibson, Lake Renfro, Lewis Spratlin and W. T. Sadler.

Does History Repeat?

The Great Depression that began with the stock market crash of 1929 was known as the Republican depression, or the Hoover depression—and with good reason. As the economy skidded and bread lines lengthened, the Republican leaders and the moguls of business and finance (the jobs were often interchangeable) attempted to cure the depression by pretending it didn't exist.

The President of the Stock Exchange (who later went to jail) issued optimistic statements. Remember the slogans? The country was "fundamentally sound." "Prosperity is just around the corner."

The Republican Party did nothing, the depression deepened, human misery gripped the land, to be followed, within four years, by fear, chaos, panic.

There is an analogy between 1929 and 1960. Again, unemployment is becoming a greater problem. In depressed areas of the Appalachians, and elsewhere, the scenes are reminiscent of 1929. The economy has softened. Steel production is down to 50 percent of capacity. A "recession" is predicted by conservative business publications. And what are the Republicans doing? Nothing. What is the Republican candidate saying? He says everything is rosy in the best of all possible worlds.

But you can't fool all the people all the time, especially people who remember being fooled once before, or who have heard the sad story from their fathers.

Is There a Difference?

Differences between the political parties in an election year are hard to pinpoint. Once every four years the Republicans start talking like Democrats. The rest of the time they act like Republicans.

Underlying this strategy of politics is the fact that one party cares and the other doesn't. The theme of the Democratic Party has been service to all the people. The theme of the Republicans is service to the privileged few.

VOTE FOR TEXAS

RICHARD M. NIXON, candidate for President, is a Californian, but he thinks the Texas way. Richard Nixon stands for:

- A strong national economy and defense so that America will not have to apologize to Khrushchev for anything;
- A sensible farm program that will attack and solve the present problems.
- Texas retaining its tidelands, and a tax policy favorable to Texas.
- Local control of our schools.

If you will read and compare Nixon's platform to that of his opponent, you will agree that a vote for Nixon is a vote for the best interests of Texas.

METHODIST MISSIONS MAGAZINE DEPLORES BIGOTRY IN ELECTIONS

"To vote for or against a man simply because he is a member of a group (Jew, atheist, Roman Catholic) is bad politics and worse religion," World Outlook, the national Methodist Missions Magazine, says in an editorial in its October issue.

The editorial concluded, "This election is too important for any voter to make up his mind on any other basis than the political issues and the candidates' positions on them."

The World Outlook editorial is its second relating to the question of "A Roman Catholic for President." Parts of the editorial were published in Sept. 11 issues of the New York Times and New York Herald Tribune. World Outlook has a circulation of 140,000 and is edited by Miss Dorothy McConnell, the Rev. Dr. Henry C. Sprinkle and Arthur J. Moore, Jr.

Entitled, "The Catholic Issue," the editorial says:

"With the nomination of a Roman Catholic for the presidency, the so-called religious issue has been revived on the national political scene. Unfortunately, it does not seem to have been revived in any intelligent way.

"We commented on this question before (A Catholic for President, Aug., 1959) and our position remains the same now as it was then. Since that time, the discussion has grown more heated. We should like to reiterate some simple distinctions.

"Both Senator Kennedy and Vice-President Nixon come from religious traditions which raise questions about the candidates' positions on certain issues (the separation of church and state in Kennedy's case; the issue of national defense in Vice-President Nixon's case). It seems legitimate to us to ask certain questions. We would never say that a man's religion should have no influence on his politics.

"It is not legitimate to refuse, however, to listen to the answers and to declare that a candidate must be voted for or against not because of his stated position but simply because of his membership in a certain group.

"To maintain such a position is also to deny the value of the human personality in favor of assuming that man is socially controlled. This is not good Protestantism. After all, the Protestant tradition does not apply only to Protestants."

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stockbridge visited her mother, Mrs. Nannie Glenn, and sister, Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Collins, all of Breckenridge the past weekend.

John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson are the men who get things done, who believe in strengthening small business, encouraging new ventures and greater industrial growth . . . and who believe a fair share of the national income is the right of every farmer.

Here is Texas' hope for the future . . . to put an end to GOP policies that have brought tight money, HIGH INTEREST rates, growing business failures, and the cost-price squeeze on the farmer.
