

City to begin annual chip seal coating maintenance project

By Martha Toles Frost

Muleshoe citizens can anticipate street seal coating and repair of the city's concrete reservoir early next week, City Manager Dave Marr announced.

As early as Monday, the streets along the south and east sides of the community park will be sealed with hot asphalt, then chip sealed with rock.

Marr said the ongoing project helps maintain 20 percent of the city's streets each year so that all streets can receive the coating at least every five years. The purpose is to prevent potholes and to provide good traction, he added.

Work will begin early next week and should be completed by Friday, weather permitting.

People should avoid driving through the hot asphalt, he cautioned. And when they notice work has begun, it will be helpful if they avoid parking on the streets.

Also next week, the concrete reservoir, which the city has been attempting to repair since February, will be repaired order to prevent it from leaking.

During the repairs, the city's water supply will be at less than 50 percent of capacity, Marr said. "We encourage citizens to reduce water usage and to conserve water during the week by watering yards at night instead of in the daytime. This will help conserve water for peak demand times."

There will be plenty of water to drink and for fire protection, Marr added, saying that citizens would be notified if a shortage necessitated more stringent rationing.

The city's reservoir is fed by 14 wells, Marr said, but only four of them can pump directly into the city.

In order to discontinue the practice of using potable water to irrigate the city's parks, the

Electronic benefit transfer to be available in county

LUBBOCK - In 41 counties of West Texas, the state's Department of Human Services (TDHS) is bringing the electronic age to public assistance.

A plastic debit card is replacing paper food stamp coupons and checks for Aid to Families with Dependant Children (AFDC).

Beginning August 1, households in the Panhandle and the South Plains areas receiving aid will use an electronic debit card called the Lone Star card.

Bailey county is one of the counties offering electronic benefit transfer. New applicants for food stamps and AFDC will be issued the card beginning July 24.

The red, white and blue Lone Star card accesses the state's electronic benefit transfer, or EBT, system. The EBT system transfers funds electronically from the state to vendors or benefit recipients.

Food stamp recipients use the card to pay for groceries at the checkout counter, and AFDC recipients use the card to access cash for basic living expenses.

Phase I of the Lone Star card began in parts of Houston last year, and Phase II in the Metroplex went on line June 1.

Breast cancer screening scheduled for July 20

Registered nurses on staff

The Women's Center of the Don and Sybil Harrington Cancer Center and High Plains Baptist Health Systems will conduct a breast cancer screening at Muleshoe South Plains Health Care Providers, 208 W. Second St., Muleshoe on July 20.

Each participant at the screening will receive a breast exam and one-on-one instruction in breast self-examination by a registered nurse specially trained in breast cancer detection, and mammogram by a mammography technician.

The program is certified by FDA, American College of Radiology and the State health Departments of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Breast cancer affects one in eight women. The key to winning the battle against cancer is early detection by having an annual breast exam, mammogram and performing a breast self-exam each month.

There will be a fee charged, and financial aid is available for breast screening and mammograms to individuals who qualify.

For more information or to schedule an appointment, please call the Women's Center at Harrington Cancer Center at (800) 377-4673 or (806) 359-4673.

Muleshoe All-Stars third at district

LUBBOCK - Muleshoe's senior league All-Stars took third place out of 14 teams competing in the All-Star district baseball tournament in Lubbock, July 1-10.

The Muleshoe team lost the semifinal bout with Martin Luther King All-Stars, 5-4, on Saturday, July 8, then dropped into the losers' bracket to take on Post in a battle for a championship slot. Post claimed the victory, 14-4, and the Muleshoe All-Stars settled for third place in the tournament.

The local All-Star team climbed to the semi-final slot after winning three straight impressive games. The clincher came when they rallied from a 9-2 deficit to beat the Shallowater All-Stars 13-9, July 4, and advance to the semifinal game against the Martin Luther King All-Stars.

After getting off to a slow start against Shallowater, the

Virus

New Mexico has quarantined 50 premises and their regulations also restrict livestock within the surrounding 10-mile area from being moved across state lines.

To support New Mexico in containing the infection and preventing its spread, the majority of western states, and Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas have issued similar restrictions on livestock from affected areas.

Until the outbreak is officially cleared up, New Mexico livestock may not enter Texas if VS infection has been diagnosed within 10 miles of the animal's home ranch or farm within the past 30 days.

Additionally, the 12 member TAHC commission requires that livestock coming from New Mexico be accompanied by a certificate of veterinary inspection with the following statement, written by an accredited veterinarian:

"All animals identified on this health certificate have been examined and found to be free from Vesicular Stomatitis. During the past 30 days, they have neither been exposed nor located within 10 miles of a premise where Vesicular Stomatitis has been diagnosed."

"To stop the virus from spreading, New Mexico also has set up a restricted zone in its counties along the Rio Grande, where most of the infected horses have been detected," said Dr. Terry Beals, TAHC executive director.

"The zone is 80 to 90 miles long and 20 miles wide. Livestock are not to be moved from this area until the outbreak is over."

Dr. Beals said animals are considered to be free of the disease 30 days after their last lesion has healed. Although VS is rarely fatal, the virus, which has an incubation period of two to eight days, can cause severe weight loss.

Affected dairy cattle experience a dramatic drop in milk production. The economic impact on feedlot cattle would also be significant.

Dr. Beals urged Texas producers to watch for possible VS symptoms in their herds of cattle, horse, swine, sheep or goats.

If signs are noticed, producers should call their TAHC area office, or the headquarters in Austin at (512) 719-0700, or the USDA at (512) 482-5555, a trained disease diagnostician will be sent to the premise to assist in making a diagnosis.

city council voted Tuesday to drill three new wells—one at Babe Ruth Park, another at East Side Park, and a third at the Little League Park. Recreational activities should not be affected by the drilling, Marr said.

City Secretary Mary Hicks said that instead of drilling a new city well for drinking water, the council had determined that it would be less expensive to drill three wells for irrigation purposes only.

Marr said that in order to promote Muleshoe and tourism, the council voted to allow at least $5,000 for the advertising of Muleplex Production's "Keepers of the Legend," provided separate bills would be brought individually to the council for payment.

Letter to the Editor

Two little flags

Dear Editor:

I write this in direct response to a previous letter submitted to your paper for publication. (Sunday July 9, 1995)

It was of two "dismayed and disturbed" ladies who did not appreciate very much a Mexican flag on a patrol car at the July 4th Parade. (I assume that the police car leading the parade did not help matters much!)

I am saddened, and, yet, strangely not surprised, that in the midst of a parade full of clowns, fancy cars, smiling faces and laughing children, some could not see beyond a small flag flying before a police car.

Yes, we do live in Texas (God's Country, some call it!), but we are also a country "of many tastes," different cultures—different people. I say this police person was entitled to fly any flag of his/her choosing. Last time I checked it was still a free country—or isn't it?

Incidentally, the correct procedure to display the American flag is with courage, an open heart and peace.

Thank you, Diana Bermea Farwell, TX

P.S. I congratulate Muleshoe for the well planned and always entertaining July 4th Parade!

Like It or Not, Two Plus Two Always Equals Four

Ideas have consequences, and one of the most mistaken, dangerous, and, sadly, prevalent, ideas in our society today is that there is no such thing as absolute truth and, consequently, no such thing as an absolute standard of right and wrong.

If nothing is wrong, does it important, which is why Jesus poked fun at the pompous and urged the Pharisees to try majoring on the "weightier matters."

We don't like Pharisees. But, as G.K. Chesterton writes, "A person can be right and not be right-minded." The fact that "two plus two always equals four" is just as true whether it comes from the lips of Mother Theresa or Pontius Pilate. It's a mistake to scoff at truth just because we don't like the person teaching it.

2) Because breaking rules is easier if you can convince yourself that there are no rules. And maybe no Ruler. I've known and loved some honest agnostics, but most atheists who are loud about their disbelief are living life in such a way that they simply can't afford for God to exist.

But in a world created by God, a world which still reflects His nature, some things are true, some are false; some things are right, some are wrong. And the best way to know the difference is to follow the One who is "the Way, the Truth, and the Life" (John 14:6).

You don't have to be hung up, ignorant, or hateful to believe in an absolute standard of right and wrong, that truth is not just whatever we wish it to be.

Absolutes can be difficult, but a world without them would be a very mixed up, frightening place. Absolutely.

follow that everything is right? Is there no moral difference between, say, murder and mercy, because nothing is moral or immoral? If nothing is false, is everything equally true? Can two plus two equal four on Monday but amount to five on Tuesday?

I know at least two reasons why the very bad ideas alluded to above are very tempting.

1) Because of the arrogance of some who claim to have the whole truth and nothing but the truth. If you want to know exactly what God thinks on any issue or, for that matter, which side of your head to part your hair on, just ask. They'll be happy to tell you.

These folks don't understand that while all genuine truths are equally true, not all are equally

You may not be thinking about a cozy fire in the fireplace but you may be thinking about getting your fireplace cleaned out this summer and ready for that first West Texas norther in the fall.

The safe and effective use of a chimney often involves the elimination of creosote, a tar-like condensation caused by the incomplete burning of wood. The accumulation of creosote not only blocks the effective functioning of the chimney, it is also highly flammable.

If you choose a chimney sweep professional, many have received certification from the Chimney Safety Institute of America and belong to the National Chimney Sweep Guild.

Get more than one estimate for cleaning your chimney and be wary of an estimate that is substantially below the others.

Keep in mind that a chimney should be inspected at least once a year. Call the BBB at 763-0459 or (800) 687-7890 to check out your chimney sweep professional.

BBBs across the country are reporting an increase in scams that are used to steal long distance phone services. Business owners, managers and employees need to alert themselves to the different types of schemes currently being used by con artists to steal long distance services from places of business.

Beware of bogus service technicians claiming to be from your telephone company. These con artists are calling companies and asking for assistance in testing the phone line. The unsuspecting employee is asked to test the line by pressing certain numbers on the keypad and then hanging up.

This gives the con artist access to one of your outside lines. The thief then uses your phone line to make international or long distance phone calls.

If this happened to you or you suspect it has happened, call you Better Business Bureau at 763-0459 or (800) 687-7890. We'll tell you about other long distance scams next time.

Dear Editor:

I take this means to express my appreciation to the people of Mulshoe and especially to the Ex-Students Ass'n for your hospitality during the recent reunion.

We thank you for your hard work in chasing down all of us "out-of-towners." The joy of seeing old friends again is a rewarding experience.

A special word for those of you who live close by but chose not to attend; we missed you. Many came long distances to visit, perhaps for the last time, with you. We hope to see you next time.

Although I have endured many snide remarks about being from Mulshoe, I consider it a privilege to have been born, reared and schooled among the best people in the world.

See you in five years.

Ronnie Gail Barrett, James Hamilton exchanged vows in ceremony July 1

Ronnie Gail Barrett and James Ray Hamilton were united in marriage on Saturday, July 1, at the First Baptist Church in Muleshoe. Stacy Conner officiated.

Ronnie Gail is the daughter of Ronnie and Sherry Barrett of Muleshoe and James Ray is the son of Eddy and Diane Hamilton of Breckenridge, TX.

The bride wore an ivory satin gown with a sweetheart neckline and a basque bodice which was decorated in lace motif with pearl beading and sequins outlining the neckline and the front of the bodice.

Satin covered buttons on the back of the bodice ended with a double bow accented with lace and pearls. The leg-omuttion sleeves featured an accordion pleated look. The sleeves were accented with beads and sequined lace. The sleeves came to a point at the wrist.

Scalloped lace with beading edged the entire skirt bottom. The semi-cathedral train had a beaded and sequined motif look scattered on the bottom, along with the matching accordion pleated feature, which added to form a fan-like effect.

To accent the dress she wore diamond earrings which were a wedding gift from the groom. She wore a pearl necklace with matching earrings, which belonged to her grandmother, who had given them to her daughter, the mother of the bride.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white calla lilies, freesia, star gazer lilies with galax leaves, springria fern, and embellished with satin ribbon.

The bride wore a 1970 penny in her shoe. This is the grooms birth year. She also wore a 1995 penny in her shoe, for good luck.

The groom's attire was a tux shirt, black tie with a Texas Tech emblem (Double T), black vest, black tux jacket with tails, black wranglers and black boots. He wore a Texas Tech belt buckle which was a wedding present from the bride, he Bridesmaids were Mandy Carr of Lubbock and Jennifer Love, sister of groom, of Stephenville, TX. Bridesmaids wore teal off-the-shoulder summer dresses. Flower girl was Amanda Nabors, cousin of the groom. The flower girl and all bridesmaids wore 1995 pennies in their shoes.

Ringbearer was Colt Ellis, cousin of the bride.

Groomsmen were Douglas Farmer, cousin of the groom, of Graham, TX, and Dale Roberts of Seminole, TX. They wore black half tuxes, teal bow ties and black wranglers.

Something old was the bride's mother's first set of wedding rings. They are 25 years old. Something new was the wedding dress and veil. Something borrowed was a handkerchief and pin with the initials of the groom's great-grandmother, Hazel Erwin. Something blue was her garter.

Registering guests was Dana Davis, aunt of the bride.

Music was provided by Alan and Kerry Finney. The reception was held at the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church. The bride's table was set up with punch bowls that belonged to the bride's great-grandmothers, Dana Arnold and Sammie Moore.

The crystal cut bowl used to serve the mints belonged to Hazel Davis, a friend of the bride's family. The cake server used at the bride's table was the cake server that her parents had used at their reception twenty five years ago.

The Precious Moments figurine on the bride's table was a gift to the bride from her grandmother, Mary Moore. Dana Davis, aunt of the bride, Gail Glass and Renee Glass, cousins of the bride, served at the bride's table.

The grooms table had a

chocolate cake decorated with the double T emblem for Texas Tech, the college from which he graduated.

The brass pieces used at the groom's table belonged to the bride's cousin, Judy Wilbanks. The Precious Moments figurine on the table was a gift to the bride from her aunt, Dana Davis.

Sherry Cooper and Paige Freeman served at the groom's table.

The groom's parents, Eddy and Diane Hamilton, hosted the wedding party with a supper at K-Bob's in Clovis, NM, Friday, June 30.

The bride and her bridal party and family friends were treated with a bridesmaids' luncheon, Saturday, July 1, in the home of Anita Allgood.

THE LIGHT

"Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path."

The bible, God's word, has often been compared to a light, for it penetrates the darkness and reveals God to man. It is the light that leads man down life's pathway. For those who study it, it reveals not only the past, but also the future.

"The entrance of thy words giveth light; it giveth understanding..."

Attend church and hear God's leaders expound on His word.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
