Up The Canyon

By TOM RUSSOM

Due to the fine rains, our area is in real fine shape. We had about a two inch rain and it was all fine as could be.

It put out some stock water and most of it went right in to the ground.

Here is about the story on most of the wheat; some farmers thought the wheat suffered an awful lot from the extreme dry weather we had before any rain came, and some of the wheat took a severe hail storm; in fact some places a total loss, and of course some of the wheat missed the storm and as to how good it is no one knows yet.

In the Nubia area, Dewell McLean, A. D. Scott and Leroy Riney have some real good looking wheat and so far have missed the hail storms. A few days ago I was a guest of Cramer Reynolds, riding over some of the area, north of Merkel. We saw a few fields of wheat in that area that looked real good. I was interested in the wheat and oil, and Reynolds was interested in the grass and his cattle.

It looked to me like cattle, grass, and oil would keep a fellow going pretty good. We were discussing conditions in the Merkel trade area, and we thought it looks good, and since then, we got a lot more rain which will take us into summer.

We had a short visit a few days ago with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Weston of Midland. They were here for Mrs. Weston's father's funeral. Frank Demere who was killed in a car wreck.

It was interesting to hear that Weston's entire family, mostly boys, work on the ranch. One son - in - law also works on a ranch.

Mrs. Weston is the former Lena Lee Demere.

The report we had Sunday night from John Coomer was that his wife and Mrs. Raymond Demere, who were in the car wreck that killed their brother, Frank, were still in the Simmons Hospital, and would be several days before they would be able to come home.

Mrs. A. R. Toombs of Merkel visited over the week end in the home of her daughter and family, the Joe Seymores.

Miss Audrey Mae Lamb of Abilene visited over the week end in Mrs. Sam Butman's home and attended church at Pioneer Church Sunday.

John B. Hughes, a stock farmer in the Blair area said at church Sunday he had about enough rain to get started on, but since then he has probably had two more inches.

Maurice Johnson, who ranches on the east side of the Canyon, said things are in real good shape there and at Oplin, where he has an interest in farming. He said the wheat at Oplin was real good shape.

We certainly want to extend our sympathy to the entire families of Frank Demere, in the loss they had.

On the nights of May 14-16 there will be a Layman's Retreat at the Butman Camp. All the church leaders in the Merkel area are invited to attend. There will be supper served each night at the cost of those who attend.

We were very sorry to hear about the tragedy of the Reynolds family. Their daughter lost a husband and two children in a fire at their home in Wichita Falls.

Spray new Caparol
after cotton is 6 inches high to control weeds.

Control most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in cotton with new Caparol* herbicide. Simply apply as a directed spray to the base of your cotton when it is six inches or higher.

You'll get good knockdown of weeds and grasses that are less than two inches high... plus some killing action through the roots of later-germinating weeds.

The cost of this treatment, when Caparol is applied in a 10 inch band, can be as little as 85 cents per acre. Compare this with the $2-3 per acre it would cost you for hoe hands.

Later on in the season, you can go in and make a layby application of new Caparol to control weeds until the cotton is high enough to shade them out.

With new Caparol, you'll have no reason to worry about soil residue carryover to harm next year's spring-seeded crops.

Ask your supplier for new Caparol.

A Classic Stance

As famous as the Babe himself, his batting stance is like an exclamation point to many a great moment in baseball.

One of the greatest is dramatically presented in a TV public service announcement series called "Great Moments," currently being shown throughout the country. Produced by U.S. Army Recruiting Service, the film shows Ruth calling his shot in the 1932 World Series against the Chicago Cubs. In response to jeering Cub fans, Ruth, with a count of three and two, defiantly turns to the crowd and points to where he'll hit the next pitch—over the bleachers and out of the park. The jeers turn to a full-throated cheer as the ball sails along the predicted route.

Other "Great Moments" in the Army series include Edison's development of the incandescent lamp, Nathan Hale's defense of freedom, and the California Gold Rush.

Luther Fleming Dies of Gunshot

The body of Luther Wayne Fleming, 68, was discovered by his wife in a car in the driveway of their home at 4 p.m. Thursday. He had a gunshot wound in his forehead.

A .22 caliber bolt action rifle lay nearby, according to Chief of Police D. B. Bowen. Time of death was believed to be 3 p.m. Justice of Peace R. H. Buchanan ruled "death by a self-inflicted wound."

Mr. Fleming had been a resident of Merkel the past three years.

Funeral was held at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Starbuck Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Bill Tanner, First Baptist minister, officiating. Burial was in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Fleming was born June 1, 1896, in Aplin, Ark., and married Dewie Chester Nov. 2, 1919 in Plainview, Ark. They moved to North Carolina and then to Merkel when he retired in 1962. He was a veteran of World War I.

Surviving are his wife; two sons, Claude Wayne of Greensboro, N. C., Winford Eugene of Houston; a brother, Ben Vandalsen of Moultrie, Ga.; four grandchildren.

Windmill Little Leaguers Battle

TOMMIE NEILL, Reporter

On Tuesday, May 4, the first game of the season was played by the Hicks Cardinals and Carson's Giants, the Giants winning by a score of 6 to 5.

The second game of the night was played by the WTU Wilowatts and the F & M Bankers. The Killowatts won by 15 to 7.

Along with the sand and high wind on Thursday, May 6, we played two more exciting games. The John Deeres, sponsored by Malone Implement, lost 10-5 to the REA Willies. The second game found the WTU Kilowatts fighting the Carson Giants for a tie game of 7-7.

Friday, May 7, ended the week's play with the John Deeres winning over the Cardinals 16-7. The second game of the night brought the Willies against the Bankers. It was a close game, with the Willies winning 3-2.

For the first week of play the teams now stand at:

Team	Won	Lost	Tie
Kilowatts	1	0	1
Giants	1	0	1
Cardinals	0	2	0

SYMBOLS OF LIBERTY GREAT SEAL of AMERICA and RURAL ELECTRIC EMBLEM

THE GREAT SEAL of the United States, expresses the history, purpose and courage of America. Officially adopted by Congress in 1782, the Great Seal was designed by Charles Thomson and William Barton.

In essence "the Seal" is a brief pictorial of the Bald Eagle, in the beak of the Eagle is a scroll bearing the inscription, "E Pluribus Unum," (one out of many) referring to the union of many States. In the right claw the Eagle clutches an olive branch, significant of our hope of universal peace. In the left claw there is a bundle of arrows, a grim and purposeful reminder of our power in War. On the breast of the Eagle is a shield, unsupported, this signifies America's reliance on our strength and virtue. The shield also stands for Congress representing and unifying the people.

The constellation of 13 stars, over the Eagle, is America taking its rightful place among the sovereign powers of the world.

This is the emblem of your Rural Electric Cooperative and while it does not have the distinguished and colorful history of "The Great Seal" there is a powerful story represented in these black and white lines.

Your Rural Electric Cooperative emblem portrays the determination of Rural Americans as they sought opportunity to provide electrical progress for themselves. This courage, finally won from Congress the establishment of a law that assured rural Americans equal economic opportunity through the assistance of your Rural Electric Cooperative.

This emblem is the purpose of rural Americans in their continuing efforts to aid in the preservation of basic American Ideals. Ideals that make it possible for your Rural Electric Cooperative to . . .

PLAN FOR PROGRESS FOR PEOPLE . . . NOT FOR PROFIT!

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY G. WILSON HARDER

There has probably never been a more charming bureaucrat in Washington in all history than Mrs. Esther Peterson, the presidential advisor on consumer affairs.

Highly intelligent, most articulate, and very personable, she is a fantastically able platform performer. In fact, if in entertainment industry instead of politics, she might easily be a competitor with Helen Hayes for title "first lady of the theatre."

G. W. Harder

Of course, it is hard to imagine why the Federal government needs an office for consumers. It would seem obvious that all people are consumers of something or other. Thus compared to Senators and Congressmen who only represent a part of the people, the office must be higher than the Congress, as what Congressman can claim the whole nation for a constituency.

However, it is interesting to note some of the activities of the office for consumers. Just as invasion of advertising has to a large extent diverted the Federal Trade Commission from important tasks it is supposed to perform, advertising has become a very big thing in the affairs of the office of consumers. Last year it was attempted to get the Federal Communications Commission to issue an edict prescribing exactly how much advertising a radio or TV station can run.

The Congress passed a law prohibiting the FCC from making any such ruling.

But in a recent speech Mrs. Peterson commented on this legislation saying "Can self-regulation work in an area where there is such limited guidance from government?"

This is a very provocative and interesting statement. It means "Can the members of the broadcasting industry, largely made up of independent entrepreneurs, run its own business, or should government tell each operator how to operate?" Thus in a nutshell is expressed the entire bureaucratic concept, namely, that nobody, but nobody, is as competent to run a business as a government employee.

Actually, there are two very strong regulatory agencies working on the broadcasting industry. One is that if a station's programming becomes too clogged with advertising, then it fails to attract listeners. The second regulation is that if this happens, then it fails to attract advertisers. In other words, the law of supply and demand works quite freely in the broadcasting industry.

As a matter of fact, this law is working right now.

Because many stations have been running too much commercial content, many big advertisers are now forsaking the airways to place their advertising budgets in newspapers.

Government guidance is no substitute for the guidance contained in the profit and loss statement of any business.
