

WHITTLIN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

Bovina has the same directions, North, South, East and West, as most other places, but few people, even long-time residents, know which is which.

This is an oddity of the town which is hard to explain. Maybe it's because the town doesn't sit "square with the world." The city was evidently designed with the Santa Fe railroad as a guideline instead of a compass.

This causes confusion which will probably continue forever. We've heard people who were old enough, smart enough and who had lived here long enough to know the directions, argue about which direction is south and which is east, for instance. When you start breaking the quadrants in half and talk about southeast and northwest the problem becomes complex and the arguments get louder.

The situation is so bad that some people who have a great deal of ability to get along with others and don't allow themselves to argue will just admit they don't know for sure about the exact directions and let it go at that.

The Santa Fe, according to railroad terms, runs east and west through town. As a matter of fact, SF Agent Dean Hastings says that all trains run east and west and none go north and south, according to railroad terms.

So, there's one point of confusion right there. When the train leaves here for Friona, for instance, it's going "east." But actually, according to the map it's going northeast. The same thing is true the other way -- the railroad runs southwest to Farwell, but the trainmen will tell you it's going west.

Therefore, if you use railroad terms, you would say that Wilsey Switch, between Bovina and Farwell, is west of Bovina. We could go along with that, maybe, but then which way would you say it was to Pleasant Hill from Bovina? Well, if Wilsey Switch is west, perhaps Pleasant Hill is north. That, too, we might go for until we consider FM Road 1731 which goes from Bovina to Rhea. If our first two assumptions are right, which they aren't, then that road would have to go east. Certainly it doesn't and the confusion still exists.

Moving on around, we could say that Highway 60 follows the railroad east to Friona. If that's true, which again it isn't, which direction does Highway 60 to Dimmitt run? It's east, too, and it's impossible for two roads which aren't parallel to be going the same way, obviously.

Under normal circumstances, a reasonably-sensible person can regain his lost sense of direction by studying a map. That approach will almost work in Bovina -- as long as you just look at the map and don't try to apply it to reality. When the map is put away and you try to apply what you've figured out to the "world," so to speak, the confusion returns.

We daresay that half the people in Bovina don't know and can't tell you accurately within 45 degrees of which way their houses face. That's no knock on the intelligence of the people, either.

Numerous people will admit that they know their directions just fine out in the country, but when they get to town they're as lost as little kids as far as directions are concerned.

The problem isn't a major one, of course, but we have noticed that it's something that people who live here just learn to accept and don't bother to figure out.

It's comforting to us, though, to notice which direction is which when we're in a place where we know we're right.

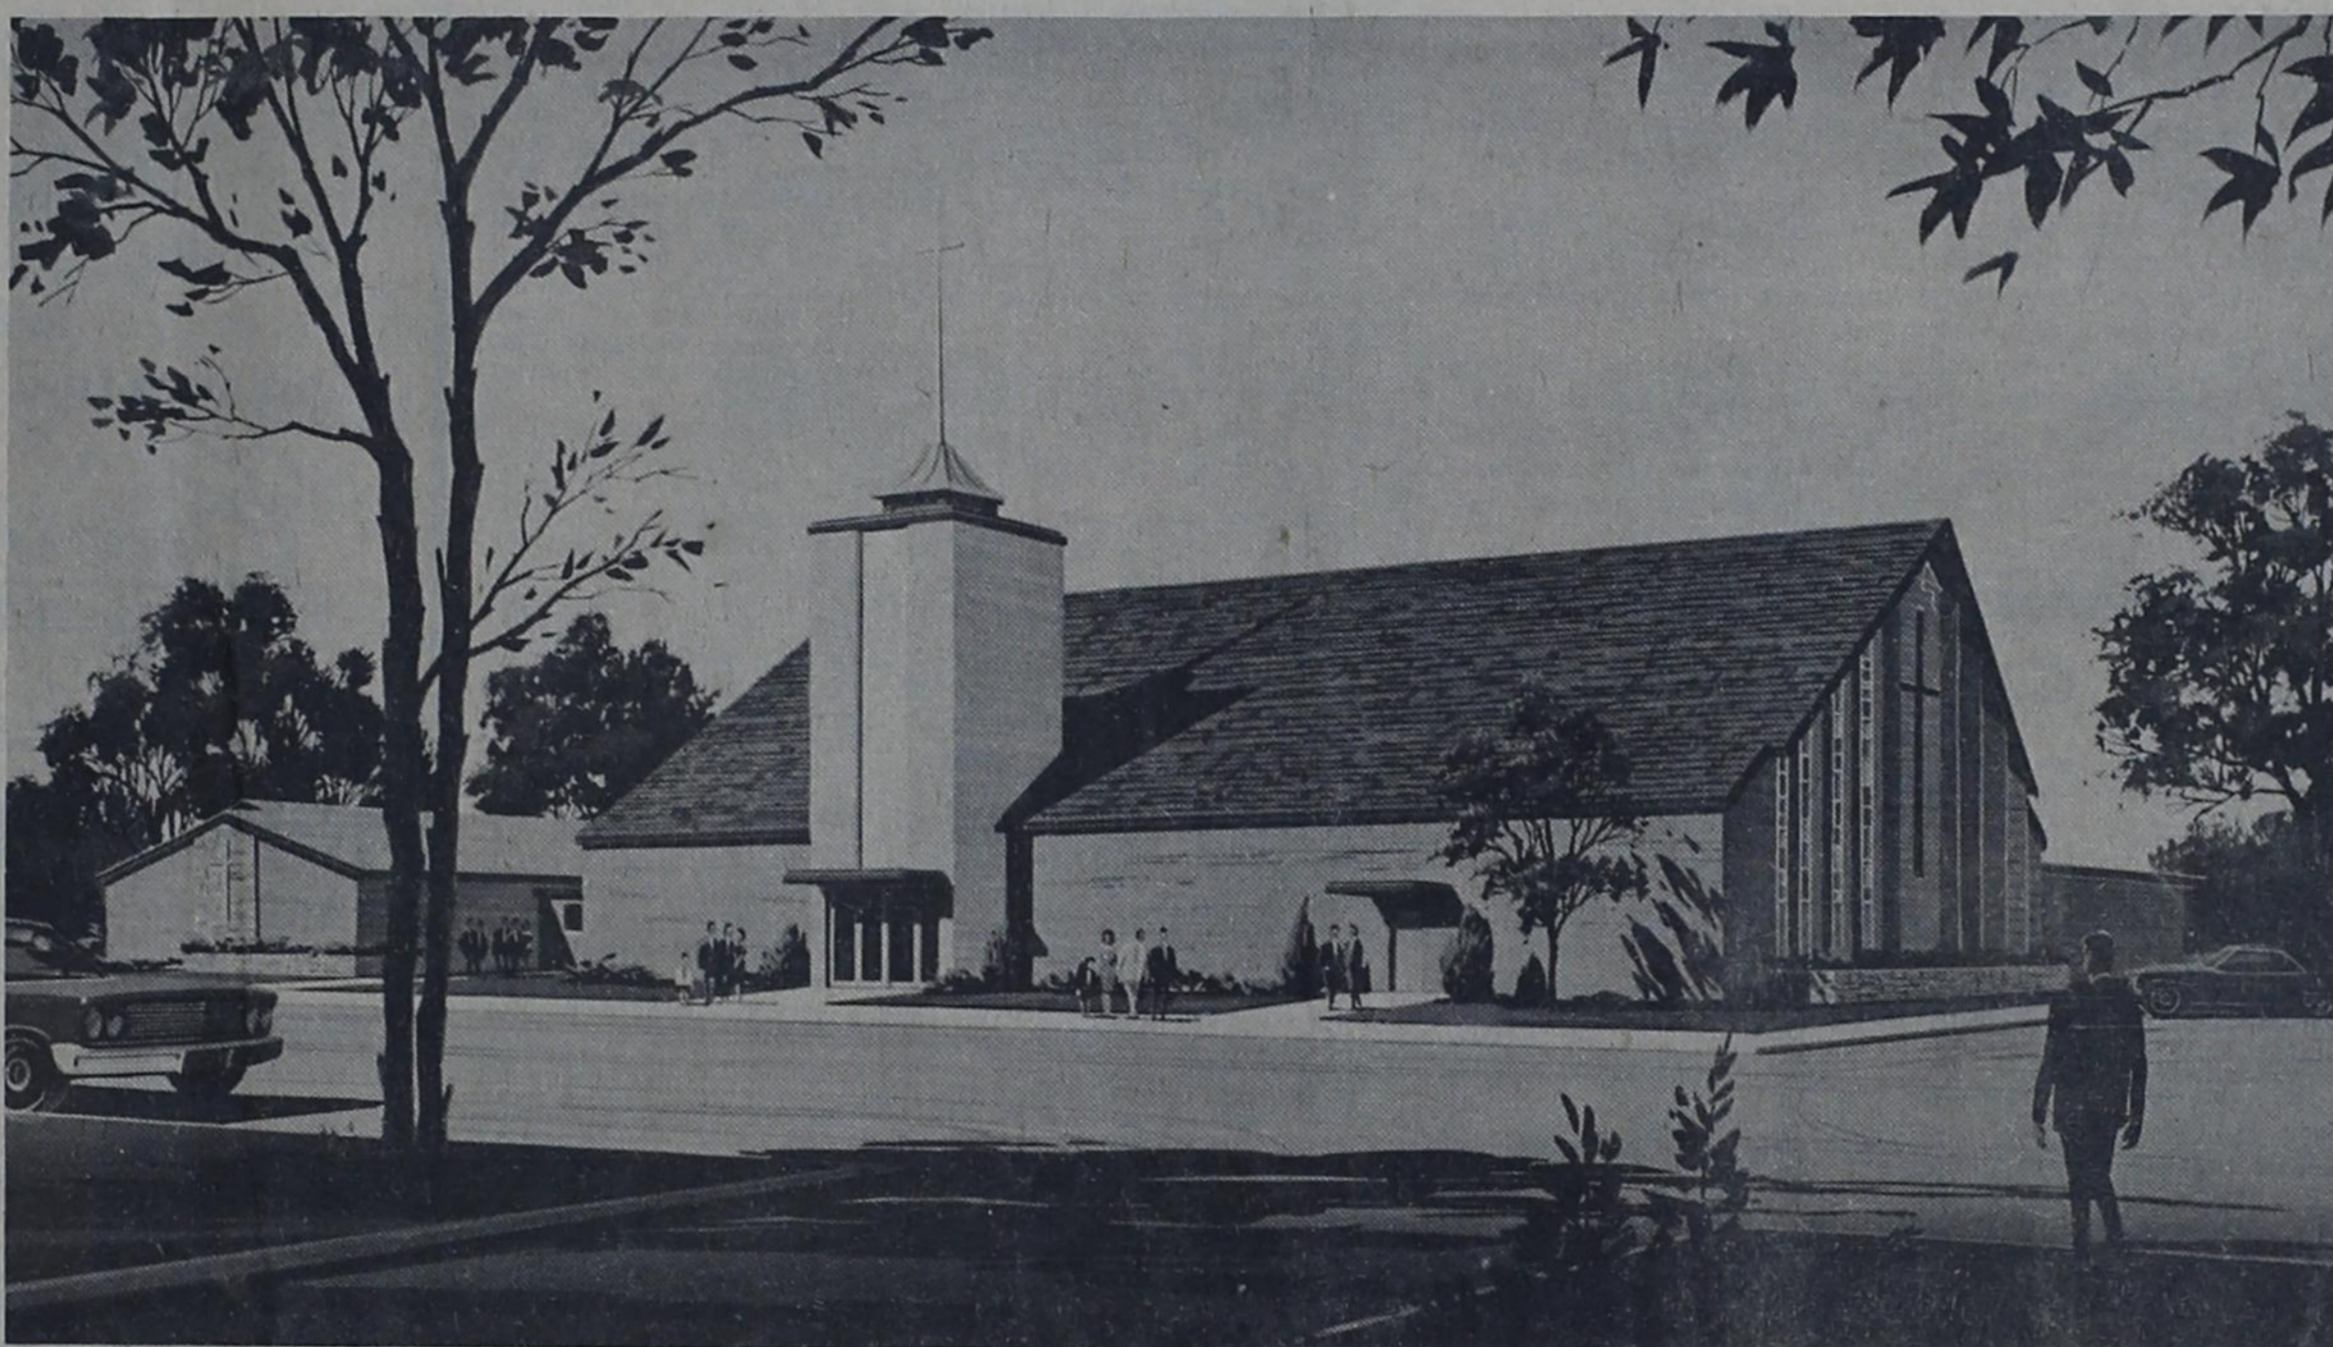

People have known to comment, for instance, that, in Bovina, the sun comes up in the south every morning . . . and they're almost convinced in their own minds that such is the case. That makes it go down in the north or northwest, at best.

Yes, from the standpoint of directions, Bovina is one strange place.

$120,000 Project --

Methodists Launch Building Program

Architect's drawing of the new building of Bovina Methodist Church which is now under construction.

Plans Include New Sanctuary

A $120,000 building and remodeling project was launched this week at Bovina Methodist Church.

Contract for the expansion and improvements was let last week to Wylie Hicks Jr., of Amarillo and work started this week. The construction contract calls for $108,000 "in round figures," Rev. J. B. Fowler, Jr., pastor of the church, said. The difference in that figure and the overall total will be used for furnishings, he explained.

The feature of the new building will be a sanctuary which will seat a total of 325. The present sanctuary had seating for some 200.

Church services will be conducted in the Fellowship Hall during the construction period. The building program is expected to take approximately five months, Rev. Fowler says.

The new sanctuary will have a total of 4100 square feet not including the balcony. Also to be built new are six new church school classrooms which will have a total square footage of 1100. A total of 2000 square feet in the present building will be remodeled.

New church office space is also included in the building program.

Planning for the expansion and remodeling program was started in early 1964. Rev. Harold Morris was pastor of the church at that time.

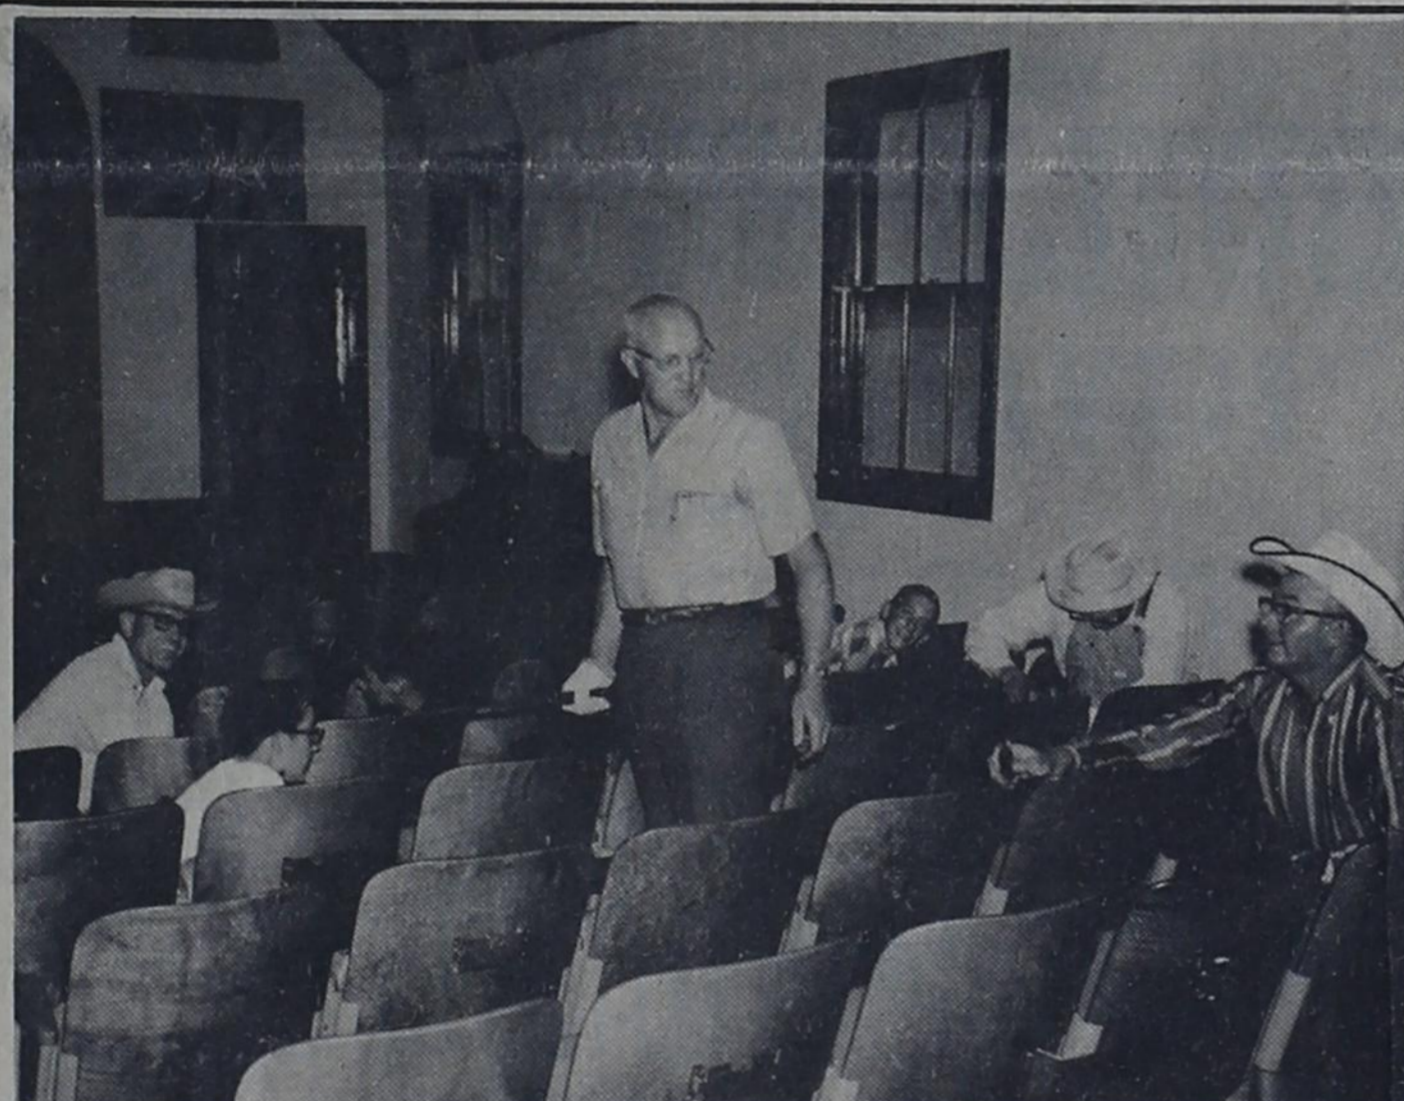

The last addition to the church, which has 330 members, was the fellowship hall and classrooms. It was completed in 1956.

Members of the building committee are Bedford Caldwell, chairman; Mrs. Robert E. Wilson, Vernon Willard, L. M. Grissom, Jim Ware and Durward Bell.

Building finance committee members are Robert E. Wilson, Leon Grissom and A. L. Hartzog.

Architect for the project is L. E. Wassum of Amarillo. The new building will have the main entrance on the west side. Central heating and air conditioning will be a feature of the structure.

The last service in the present sanctuary were held Sunday.

METHODIST WORK -- Seats in the sanctuary of Bovina Methodist Church were taken out Monday by members of the church as work started on the new building and remodeling program. Men helping with the work were, left to right, Bob Wilson, Bedford Caldwell, I. W. Quickel and Rouel Barron.

Totals 2.5 Inches --

Rain Continues; Halts Harvest

Rains, which were general throughout this area, totaled some 2.5 inches Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Though the showers brought the just-started wheat harvest to a halt, farmers were generally pleased with the additional moisture.

Only a minimum of hail fell during the three rains. That came Friday night and the damage it did was nil.

Thursday night's total was the largest of the three rains. It measured 1.5 inches. An additional half an inch fell Friday night and a like amount Saturday night.

The totals were slightly less in some areas, but the moisture was fairly close to the same throughout this section.

The 2.5 inch total made June by far the leading month this year in rainfall. Earlier rains in the month had measured 2.75 inches making the total 5.25 through the end of last week.

Though farmers here weren't complaining, they were casting anxious eyes toward the skies this week hoping that rain-threatening clouds would hold off until the wheat could be cut. Prospects for additional rain this week were good.

Some wheat fields, burdened by a heavy crop and weakened by a moisture-soaked stalk, is down. This will present a problem in harvesting. However, it is believed that most of the grain can be saved by careful combining.

Roping Club's --

BTD Saddle On Display

A new saddle, which will be given away by Bovina Roping Club during Bull Town Days 1966, is now on display. It is in First State Bank of Bovina.

The handmade saddle will be awarded Saturday, August 20, the final day of the three-day celebration. Roping Club members are presently accepting $1 donations. The annual community-wide event will be the primary benefit from the promotion, according to Rouel Barron, Roping Club president.

At a regular meeting Monday night at Bovina Restaurant, club members agreed to ride in three parades in the next six weeks. They are scheduled to go to Plainview tomorrow (Thursday) for a parade at 4 p.m. A parade in Amarillo is scheduled for July 2.

July 7, club members have been invited to join other groups in Muleshoe for a day-long ride to Earth's annual rodeo and downtown parade.

Also scheduled is a trail ride for Roping Club members and their guests. It will be July 21 with the starting point and destination to be announced. Jon Lin Riddle and Bill Lookingbill, who are in charge of club activities, says the ride will be about five miles in length. Each club member will be asked to invite a guest to the trail ride.

St. Ann's School Lasts Two Weeks

One hundred children ages 5 to 17 have enrolled in the annual catechism summer school at St. Ann's Catholic Church, which started Monday, June 13, and will end Friday, June 24.

Daily schedules run from 8:45 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Leading the instructions are three seminarians, Fratre Armond, Fratre Ephraem, and Fratre Linus, from Atonement Seminary in Washington, D.C., which is affiliated with Catholic University. Two lay people, Mrs. Lupe DeLeon and Miss Arsenia Cano, are assisting the seminarians.

Women from the Guadalupe Society and the Altar Society are also assisting with the school.

Study material includes catechism and practical problems for the teenagers.

Board Checks Taxes

City of Bovina's tax equalization board examined the tax rolls and made minor adjustments at a session Monday afternoon at city hall.

Members of the board are Tom Bonds, J. E. Sherrill and A. B. Wilkinson.

July 11 is the date set for the public to meet with the city equalization board.

The city's tax evaluations are the same this year as they were last year.

Expect 8 Teams --

Lions Planning Softball League

Plans are underway for a men's slow-pitch softball league to begin here July 11, Jim Russell, Lions Club president, announces.

This will be the second year for such a league here. Eight teams participated last season and played seven games each. That many teams are expected again this season, Russell says. Games will be played after Little League games the first week of the slow-pitch season. After the first week, the Little League will be completed and two slow-pitch games per night may be scheduled then.

Bovina Lions will again sponsor the league and award a trophy to the first place team. Entry fee will be $25 per team and the Lions Club will furnish the balls from the entry fee fund, Russell says.

Teams wishing to enter the league should contact Russell. He will accept entry fees and rosters.

A list of teams and the schedule is expected to be announced early next month.

ST. ANN'S CATECHISM SCHOOL -- Youngsters play softball during play period at the annual catechism school this week at St. Ann's Catholic Church.

NO SALE HERE -- Wendol Christian, right, got a half-a-dozen refusals when he offered the $2 Bull Town Days shaving permit to this sextet of Bovina Roping Club members who are growing beards to publicize the annual community celebration. Ed Isaac is chairman of the shaving permit sales committee.

Pessimistic, indeed, is the fellow who figured out after three days of rain here, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday and then an all-dry on Sunday that "a drought has set in again."

The rain this year, which was late in making an appearance, has been ideal since it started on the night of May 31. This month's total is already exceptionally good. And to make that even better is the fact that it has come slowly enough that most of it has been soaked into the soil and not lost to run-off plus the fact that there has been little or no crop loss to hail--as of early this week.

Semi-official reports we've heard lately indicate that the slow-pitch men's softball league, which we mentioned in this space last week, may begin as early as the first week in July instead of mid-July.

That'll be all right if it doesn't interfere with the boys baseball program.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:
 Yesterday, June 17, I picked up a copy of your paper in the parking lot at Oklahoma State Tech, and noticed where you say your Roping Club is all dressed up and ready to go. May I invite you to attend the Okmulgee Round Up Club Pow Wow, July 7, 8, 9. Now, you have been asked to a special event. Seriously, if any of you are up this way, we would love to have you attend our 3-day celebration. This is an annual affair, but the first year that it has been sponsored by our Round Up Club. Best of luck to you in Bovina.

Pat Campbell, publicity chairman for Pow Wow, 320 W. 10th, Okmulgee, Oklahoma

June 22, 1966

Salt River Valley Produce Co. has leased a building here to be used this summer for the vegetable harvest. "Machinery will be moved from South Texas about July 1 and we will begin installing it immediately," Otto Ables, representative for the company, said.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ray Barron on the birth of a 7 lb. 7 oz. baby girl, born Friday afternoon at West Texas Hospital of Lubbock. She was named Marissa Carol. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Turner, of Kingsland, and Mr. and Mrs. Rouel Barron, of Bovina.

Rocky Steelman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carol Steelman, has been awarded a perfect attendance pin by Rev. John Ferguson of First Baptist Church. Rocky hasn't missed Sunday School for the past five years.

Coach Darrel Read conducted practice sessions with some 40 bpps in preparation for the first baseball games of the season. Read says he may field two Little League teams in addition to one Pee Wee team and possibly teams for older boys.

TEN YEARS AGO
 June 20, 1956

Nita Turrentine, who has leased Bovina's newest business--Bovina Restaurant--says the business will be open within the next seven days. The grand opening will follow within a short period of time.

Nuptial vows were solemnized Saturday, June 9, in the Bovina Methodist Church for Julia Dee Kelso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Kelso, and Leon Milton Langford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer M. Langford, of Pleasant Hill.

Gary Ray Whitesides, three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Whitesides, was honored with a birthday party in his home Monday. Guests were Benny Kent, Kay Looney, Lynn and Lee Looney, Bonnie, Jerry, and Kreta Morris, Janet and Barbara Cox, Sherril Moore, Terry Whitesides, Kathy Sikes, and Wilda Whitesides.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

So the hunting bug bit you and you want to buy a shotgun?

What gauge will it be--10, 12, 16, 20, 28 or 410?

Any, or all, can be obtained from well-stocked gun shops.

Each gauge is suitable for a specific purpose, but there are several gauge guns that are considered all purpose. If you have an evergreen money tree out in the back yard, then go ahead and buy a gun of each gauge.

Unfortunately most of us don't have access to the money tree, so we have to settle for one gun, maybe two at the most. Gauge size is going to be dictated by what you plan to hunt.

A 10 gauge gun is strictly for geese, although there are some hunters who use it for pass-shooting ducks. It's a small cannon and it packs a wallop, so think twice about it punishing your shoulder.

If each shot bruises your shoulder, then you better go for a smaller gauge if you expect to enjoy any kind of accuracy.

Above all if your hunting includes quail and dove, don't go for the 10 gauge. You won't be able to get small size shot unless you load your shells.

Best all-purpose gun is the 12 gauge. It packs the power and shot to down waterfowl at long range. With buckshot or rifled slugs it will handle deer and big game. Its effective accurate range with slugs, however, is limited to about 100 yards.

From 50 to 55 percent of the shotguns sold every year in the U.S. are 12 gauge. This ratio has been holding true for many years, and because of this popularity, a wide range of powder and shot loads are easily obtainable.

A 12 gauge will serve every purpose all the way from deer to waterfowl to quail.

There was a time when the 16 gauge was almost as popular as the 12, but that was a long time ago. Today the 16 makes up about 23 per cent of annual shotgun sales. However, this gun covers the same range of uses as the 12 bore.

Whereas the popularity of the 16 is declining, that of the 20 gauge is increasing. This is especially true since the advent of models chambered to handle three-inch shells. In fact, with the three-inch shell the 20 gauge in the field is now capable of doing almost anything a 16 can do.

Although the 20 is a little light for long range duck shooting, it is adequate for waterfowl hunting over decoys, pheasant, quail and dove shooting. It's not much of a gun for deer, even with rifled slugs. Its range is much too short.

A 28 gauge should be limited strictly to small game and bird shooting other than waterfowl. It's a light gun that allows for very fast swinging onto the target.

A 410 will handle small game and birds up to about 30-35 yards. With slug ammo it will take care of small game to about 80 yards. But it isn't an adequate weapon for deer hunting.

A 410 is not a money-saver to shoot. Don't get the idea that just because it is small, the shells are cheap. Actually the price difference between a box of three-inch 410's and a box of 20- or 12-gauge shells is so slight it's ridiculous.

Only way to save money on shotgun shells, regardless of gauge, is to load your own.

Be suspicious of anyone willing to sell an off-gauge shotgun at a pittance price. These are guns like the 14, 24 and 32 gauge models, which were once manufactured in this country. They'll shoot okay. But you'll spend most of your hunting time hunting shells or component parts for loading shells. At best these off-gauge guns are collector's items.

NEWS NOTES

CAR RAMS DRIVER, PLANE
 Prestwick, Scotland--Gordon Anderson will have a hard time explaining to his insurance company how he was injured when his car ran into his plane. The 41-year-old man parked his car on the runway, left the motor running and as he walked to his plane the car rolled forward, caught him in the middle and fractured a rib.

BUCKSHOT FOR CONG
 Albuquerque, N.Mex.--Mrs. F. M. Brown sent her son, Army Sgt. Frank Brown, a 12-gauge shotgun for use in Vietnam. Checking with military and postal authorities, before mailing the gun, she learned shotguns were popular weapons among U. S. troops. Her son said the military did not issue shotguns, but would provide ammunition.

ROCKET FAILURE
 Denver, Colo.--After pouring gasoline on the back of his pants and lighting it with a match, a 10-year-old boy admitted to police "he didn't take off like a rocket." He was treated for burns and released. The lad said he got the idea from a magazine picture.

TRAVELING BASKETBALL
 Detroit--Twenty-four men from Delta Chi fraternity of Wayne State University recently dribbled a basketball 168 miles to John Carroll University in Cleveland. Each student averaged 7 miles an hour and dribbled an hour at a time.

Conservative estimates have placed Texas Tech's 1975 enrollment at 35,600.

4-H ACTIVITIES

The Lazbuddie 4-H Club has made a worthwhile contribution to their community by providing four "litter barrels" in that area. From the looks of the highway litter, many others are needed throughout this county. Perhaps this club project will inspire others to want to help in keeping the community highways clean.

Dale Blackstone, 4-H member of Lazbuddie, has made a great deal of progress on his landscape project this year. He has put out peach, plum and apricot trees, rooted some hedge privet, put out roses and has a nice flower bed of many varieties of annuals and perennials. He keeps the lawn and has plans for a patio and evergreen shrubs for foundation plantings.

The Friona 4-H Club will have a workshop on lamps at their next meeting which will be the second Monday in July. A lamp kit has been ordered for those who need a study lamp and Ray Simpson, educational director for the Deaf Smith Electric Coop., will conduct the workshop.

County camp date has been set for Holy Ghost Canyon near Pecos, N. M. Both boys and girls are going to this camp and this is an opportunity for them to learn how the pioneers of this country lived, by experiencing a little of the "rough" ways of living for a few days.

A new project for 4-H members from ages 9-12 will be available for next year. This is called "More Fun Caring for a Young Child." It will require about six weeks to complete and could work very well with the "Money Management" project for those who want to earn money for baby sitting. Training of leaders for this project may be held if interest is shown. This is good for the boy or girl who does not want to take a foods or other projects and is a real learning experience and can help them do a better job as "baby sitter."

Comfort, Safety And Easy Care Sought In Furnishings For Elderly -- Older citizens need home furnishings that are safe, easy to care for, and comfortable.

Home furnishing features to look for in selecting furniture for senior citizens actually are the same features which appeal to all members of the family, regardless of their ages.

Attractive colors in furnishings can add much to the lives of older persons. For example, blues and greens are relaxing, while yellows and pinks enliven or "pep up" a room. Patterns and textures are important, too. The absence of pattern is relaxing, but the use of some pattern can add interest and activity to a room.

New, easy-care fabrics used in the home mean less work for any homemaker, regardless of age. Attractive, soil-resistant fabrics are available. Fabrics have been treated to resist both oil and water if they bear the label of "Zepel," "Scotchgard," and "Bangard." Furniture and table and desk tops also are easy-care in design.

Older persons, especially, need comfortable chairs and couches designed so they will be easy to rise from. Furniture that is easy to move is important for all homemakers. However, it is recommended that if furniture is lightweight, make sure that it is well-balanced, strong and safe.

Safety features to look for when selecting furnishings for older citizens are low beds, chairs with rubber guards on the bottom of the legs, and non-slip materials under rugs. And the fewer sharp corners and edges on a piece of furniture, the safer it is. More furniture with safety features is now available, as furniture manufacturers become more safety conscious.

ROMAN RITUAL

Roman baths were renowned for their opulence. And opulent they were, if you enjoy bathing in pools of cold water! The five hour Roman ritual included tennis, steam treatments, anointments with oil, cascades of hot, warm, then cold water, and scraping with a curved metal tool. Only after this routine was a leisurely soaking allowed. A Roman bath can't compare with today's hot running water and mild Dial soap with AT-7 which contains hexachlorophene to reduce skin bacteria. And we can bathe any time we wish, whether or not we precede tub or shower with five hours of strenuous activity!

MR. AND MRS. DAVID B. HEFFINGTON

Shockley-Heffington Vows Exchanged

Marriage vows for Myrtice Shockley and David Byron Heffington were read in the chapel of the First Methodist Church of Clovis by Rev. C. C. Morgan, grandfather of the bride, recently, before an altar centered with a golden arch candelabra holding white cathedral candles and backed by emerald palm standards. On either side were fan shaped bouquets of white gladioli, white stock, and white pom pom mums. Completing the setting were gold three branched candelabra and numerous emerald palms.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Amos Shockley, of Mesa, Arizona, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Heffington, of Tempe, Arizona, are parents of the groom.

Something old was a gold wedding band belonging to her mother; something new, a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom; something borrowed, her jacket from her aunt, Mrs. Ted Baker, of Clovis; and something blue, a garter.

Linda Estes, maid of honor, was attired in a street length dress of lilac satin brocade with empire waist and A-line skirt. She wore a headpiece of two satin roses from which fell a short veil of silk illusion, and carried a cascading bouquet of white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Darlene Heffington, sister of the groom, of Tempe, Arizona, and Renee Trahan, of Dallas, cousin of the bride. They were attired identically to the maid of honor and carried a smaller version of her bouquet.

Merril Watson of Muleshoe was the flower girl; she wore a princess style dress of lilac satin brocade with a headpiece consisting of a circlet of white net attached to a large satin bow. She carried a white basket holding white pom pom mums and miniature ivy.

Ring bearer was Edwin Watson of Muleshoe, cousin of the bride.

Attending the groom as best man was his cousin, John B. Syers, Jr., of Tempe, Arizona. Groomsmen were Bob Tysler, of Cheyenne, Wyoming, and Lonnie Tidwell, of Clovis.

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Shockley chose a beige silk sheath dress with celery green and beige accessories.

Her corsage was of amber carnations tipped with metallic gold.

Mrs. Heffington chose a pink shirtmaker dress of cotton satin with matching jacket and pink and white accessories. Her corsage was white carnations tipped in pink.

The reception, hosted by Mrs. C. L. Jones, of Bovina, and Mrs. Ray Tidwell, the bride's aunt, was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The table, laid with an imported lace and linen cloth, featured an arrangement of orchid stock, white roses, and white shasta pom pom mums, flanked by tall white tapers. Mrs. Jack Groce, of Anton, aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake.

For the wedding trip to Boulder City, Utah, the bride chose an olive green and beige linen sheath with beige jacket and olive green accessories.

The couple are now at home in Mesa, Arizona, where the groom attends Arizona State University, and the bride is employed at the East Branch of the Arizona Bank.

Layette Shower For Mrs. Wines

Mrs. Dean Wines was guest of honor at a pink and blue shower Monday afternoon at the Community Room of the First State Bank.

Refreshments of cake and punch were served from a table laid with white linen. The cake, made by Mrs. Richard Sims of Hereford, was decorated with flowers and topped with a cradle made with icing.

Hostesses were Miss Juanita Sims, Mrs. Delbert Morris, Mrs. Jimmy Owens, Mrs. H. H. Kelso, and Mrs. Boyd Gilreath.

The Ransom

The Son of Man came . . . to give His life a ransom for many.
Matthew 20:28

All men, thinkers, speakers, poets, philosophers, regard death as the sad end of their work. But to Christ, death was a part of His work, and not only a part, but the greatest and most important part, the one part which He had in mind from the very beginning. His death was His crowning achievement.

Why? Because His death was a ransom. A ransom is a price paid in exchange for captives that they may be freed, or for criminals that they may be pardoned.

Now think of a man, nineteen centuries ago, standing up in a far-off corner of the world and saying, "My death is the price paid for the ransom of the world." If we believe that Jesus Christ ever spoke those words, we will have to believe that He was either the Son of God and the Sacrifice for the world's sin, as He said He was, or else we will have to believe that He was a fake, a liar, and an impostor! Are we going to believe the latter?

Or are we going to believe that He is our Savior from sin, our Deliverer from death, and our only Hope of heaven? Through Him we have peace with God, comfort in trouble, hope in death, and the sure promise of eternal life. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved."

Come Thou precious Ransom, come,
Only hope for sinful mortals! Amen.

During May --

8 Accidents In County

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated eight accidents in Parmer County during the month of May, according to Sergeant W. E. Wells Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area. The crashes resulted in 10 persons injured and an estimated property damage $5,350.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first five months of 1966 shows a total of 37 accidents resulting in one person killed, 23 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $29,134.00.

The number of traffic deaths in Texas has risen steadily since 1960 with 2254 deaths to 3028 deaths in 1965. "For the first five months of 1966, 1137 persons have died in traffic compared to 1032 deaths for the same period of 1965," the Sergeant stated, "This 10% increase is alarming, and when you re-evaluate our heavy volume traffic months are still ahead, we must anticipate increasing problems in the accident picture."

The Sergeant appealed to the motoring public to assist in the reduction of this trend, otherwise, the death count at the end of the year will far exceed the record number of 3028 deaths in Texas during 1965.

Gary Foster At ROTC Camp

Cadet Gary N. Foster, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson J. Foster, Route 1, Farwell is attending Reserve Officer Training Corps summer camp at Fort Sill, Okla. He is a student of West Texas State University, Canyon.

During the six-week encampment, which began June 15, he will receive advanced training in the military subjects he has been studying at school. Cadets are trained in various subjects which will provide them with the skills necessary to command. On completion of the ROTC program, graduates may receive commissions as second lieutenants.

Messenger Eye Bank Officer

Steve Messenger, of Friona, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the Hi-Plains Eye-Bank.

Messenger has served two years as director of the eye-bank and has served as second vice president of the organization. He is a member of the Friona Lions Club.

"What," inquired the visitor, "do you have in the lovely vase on the mantel?"

"My husband's ashes," she replied.

"Oh, I'm sorry," was the embarrassed apology. "I didn't know he had died."

"Dead? Who's dead? The bum's just too lazy to look for an ashtray."

An old-timer is one who can remember when a member of the beat generation was a lad leaving the woodshed.

Two men had been standing at the bar for quite a while. "Hank," said one to his friend, "does your tongue burn after you drink a lot?"

Hank pondered the question. "Don't know," he replied, "I've never been drunk enough to light it."

Helen Isaac called us last week expressing a desire to see about starting Girl Scouts here in Bovina. Interested, we went home and dug out our old Girl Scout Handbook. The copyright is 1952, which dates us to be sure, but principles of Scouting remain about the same through the years.

Designed for girls between seven and 18 years of age, Girl Scouting is divided into three groups: Brownies, ages 7 to 10; Intermediate Girl Scouts, ages 10 to 14; and Senior Girl Scouts, ages 14 to 18. The organization was founded in England in 1909 by Miss Agnes Baden-Powell, sister to Lord Robert Baden-Powell, founder of the Boy Scouts. Juliette Gordon Low brought Girl Scouting to America in 1912.

Similar to Boy Scouts in many ways, Girl Scouts are divided according to ages into troops; proficiency badges in categories from agriculture to sports and games may be earned to gain Second Class, First Class, and Curved Bar ranks (Curved Bar corresponds to Eagle Scout in Boy Scouts).

Some commentator on the radio last was speaking about Boy Scouts and stated that more than one-half of the poverty-stricken, culturally deprived people in the United States have never heard of Boy Scouts. He further said that the Job Corps was promoting the idea of using Boy Scouts to help enrich the culture of these people.

Girl Scouts achieves the same ends as Boy Scouts. From our own experience with the organization, we remember gaining knowledge of patriotism, good citizenship, good health habits, courtesy, responsibility, and self discipline.

For example, to earn the My Community proficiency badge one must do these things:

1. Know when your own family emigrated to this country;
2. Find out how many racial and nationality backgrounds there are among people in your community;
3. Know the main occupations of people in your community;
4. Choose several jobs in your community that you are interested in. Find out what future opportunities there would be in them for you;
5. Know the traffic laws in your community. Find out about the law enforcement and how you can help to enforce the laws.
6. Know how to get in touch with police, fire department, and hospital in your community.

For the most practical badges such as Housekeeper, one must do the following:

1. Know the equipment needed to perform various household tasks;
 2. Demonstrate cleaning of enameled, aluminum, or stainless steel ware; brass; silver; mirrors; and windows;
 3. Clean your refrigerator;
 4. Help to give a thorough cleaning to one room in your house.
- Helen Isaac says that Mrs. Ralph Wilson of Friona will be glad to assist us in getting Girl Scouts started here in Bovina. If you are interested call Helen or Mrs. Wilson. We should do something about it before August 1, if we are going to do anything about it at all.

Be sure to see the big bash at Fourth Street and Dimmitt Highway, June 26, at 3 p.m.

Since lawyers can be disbarred and priests unfrocked, why shouldn't people in other professions be similarly fired? How extraordinary if electricians got delighted; musicians, denoted; cowboys, deranged; models, deposed. And just imagine mediums getting dissipated; dressmakers, unbiased; Far Eastern diplomats, disoriented.

Worst of all, perhaps, poor teachers can be outclassed and reporters, depressed! -- taken from the Panhandle-Plains Auto Club's Travel Topics.

4-H Camp Set July 25-28

The Parmer County 4-H Camp for boys and girls has been set for July 25 through 28. The camp will be in Holy Ghost Canyon, which is near Pecos, N.M. The camp fee has been set at $9 per member and is due in the County Agent's office by July 15.

A meeting will be held July 12 in Bovina to work out the final plans for the camp. There will be several activities for the 4-H'ers to take part in while they are on their camping trip. The members and leaders will camp out. James Mabry from Lazbuddie will be the cook for this annual trip to the mountains and this will be about his 16th trip with 4-H'ers to this area.

Parents who are interested in attending and helping serve as leaders should contact one of the county extension agents or Roy Miller, Lazbuddie; Franklin Bauer, Friona; Mrs. Earl Hise, Bovina; or Mrs. John Christian, Farwell. Both extension agents plan to attend and an additional 10 to 13 adults will be needed to attend to help furnish transportation.

A man was being shaved and at the same time was getting a manicure. He said to the girl: "How about a date tonight?" "I don't think my husband would like that," she replied. "Ask him," the man urged jokingly.

To which the girl replied: "You ask him. He's shaving you."

A near-sighted man lost his hat in a strong wind. He gave chase, but every time he was catching up with it, it was whisked away from under his hand. A woman screamed from a nearby farm house. "What are you doing there?"

The man mildly replied that he was trying to retrieve his hat.

"Your hat!" exclaimed the woman.

"There it is, over there by the stone wall; that's our little black hen you've been chasing."

Bank-Lawlis, Cicero Lead --

Baseball Program At Halfway Mark

Bovina Gin-Generalgas moved into a tie for second place in Bovina's Little League during the past week of play with a pair of wins.

Though the Gin-Gen boys knocked off the league-leading First State Bank-Lawlis Gin-entry Thursday night, 2-1, Bank-Lawlis held on to the top spot in the league with a 4-2 season mark.

Bovina Gin-Generalgas and Oklahoma Lane each have 4-3 marks at the halfway mark in the season.

Tuesday night of last week, Bovina Gin-Generalgas outlasted Bovina Wheat Growers-Bovina Insurance, 15-12, to start its surge for the top rung.

The Oklahoma Lane Eagles continued to indicate Monday night that they'll be in the battle for the championship flag as they hit BWG-BI with a 25-4 haymaker.

The game scheduled for Friday night, between BWG-BI and the Rhea Tigers, was postponed because of the wet field. It is slated to be played Friday night at the conclusion of that night's regularly-scheduled program.

In the pee-wee division, the Oklahoma Lane Eagles got a solid hold on second place with a pair of wins during the past week of play.

Cicero Smith continues on top in the league with a 6-1 mark though the Cats didn't play from Tuesday of last week through Monday of this week.

Oklahoma Lane's wins were over Big Nick's Little Machines, 8-2, Thursday and Bovina Blade-Bovina Welding, 18-9, Monday. The Machines walloped cellar-dwelling Blade-Welding, 18-9, Tuesday.

Friday's game between Cicero and Blade-Welding was postponed because of wet grounds. It was slated to be played Saturday afternoon. A shortage of players, however, forced it to be postponed again.

The following standings do not include Tuesday night's games:

LITTLE LEAGUE STANDINGS

| Team | W | L | Pct. |
|-------------|---|---|------|
| Bank-Lawlis | 4 | 2 | .666 |

On The Farm In Parmer County

By JOE VANZANDT
County Agent

There are two short courses coming up during the next month that will be of interest to some here in Parmer County. Both of these will be held at Texas A&M University at College Station.

The first is the Texas Greenhouse Vegetable Growers Short Course and Conference on June 27 and 28. The two day event will cover nearly every aspect of greenhouse tomato production. Many outstanding specialists in this field are on the program. During the past year we have had four different individuals come by and discuss greenhouse tomato production with us. If you have any thoughts about possibly going into this type of business, you should definitely attend this event. You could learn more in these days than you could in a long time of reading and visiting with some of the same people. For more information on this, please contact the county agent.

Over the past two years we have received many inquiries about improved pastures. A Pasture and Forage Short-course is scheduled for July 7 and 8 at Texas A&M. The program will cover most phases of grass and forage production. Both of these shortcourses come at a busy time for most Parmer County folks but either one will give you an excellent educational experience as well as a nice trip into that part of Texas as there are several places of interest in that general area. Contact the county agent for more information.

GRASSHOPPERS

Young grasshoppers are appearing in abundant numbers in several areas of the state.

Grasshoppers are relatively easy to control when they are young but become increasingly difficult to control as they near maturity. They are best controlled in their hatching areas before they begin to migrate over larger areas. Frequently, spot treatment of the hatching areas will prevent later wide-spread damage.

Eggs are usually deposited in late summer and fall in the soil in grassy, uncultivated areas such as roadsides, fence rows, idle crop land and pastures, the entomologist said. The young nymphs, after hatching the following spring, feed in the vicinity for several days before beginning to disperse to fields, pastures and gardens. Applying control measures while population is still fairly concentrated will reduce later damage to pastures and crops.

Several insecticides give effective control of young grasshoppers. Producers should pay careful attention to the label precautions before applying any insecticide to pastures or crops.

JOHNSONGRASS

This is a real busy time for our farmers. Too often many just can't find the time to rig up a sprayer at this time and spray the Johnsongrass along

CAN YOU SPARE 3 SECONDS

That's all it takes to add ZIP Code to your address. ZIP Code is a time and money saver. It takes a short cut through the Postal System, and assures earlier deliveries.

GRAIN SORGHUM

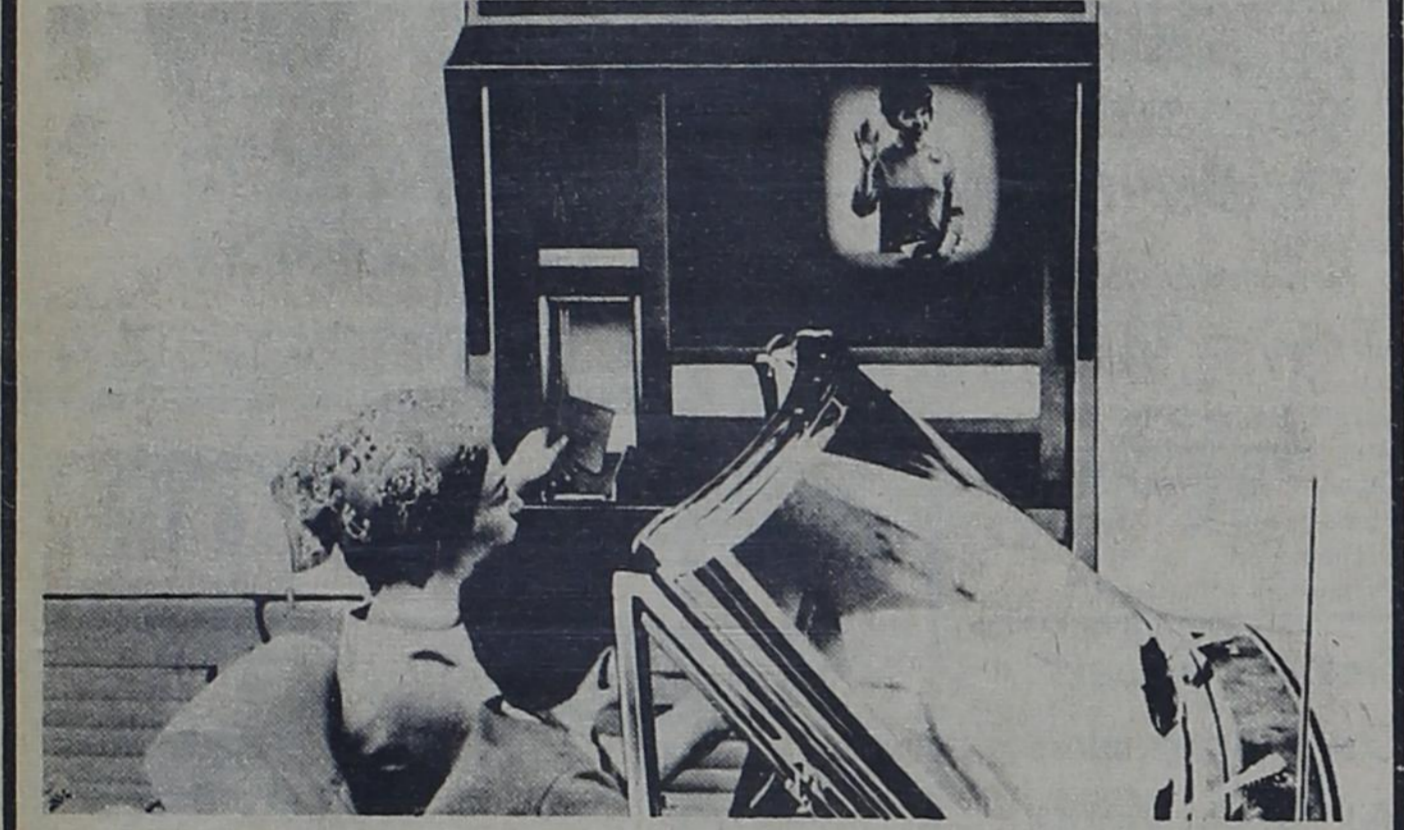

Generally speaking over the county we have a real good sorghum crop started. Recent rains have helped a little on our irrigation requirements but some areas have already got the first irrigation applied to sorghum.

During the past two years we have seen a few fields where the heads did not completely bloom and set a full head of grain. We don't know exactly what causes this condition but high temperatures and sometimes lack of water have caused the same condition in greenhouse experiments.

The sorghum head is beginning to form about 35 days after emergence and this is an important time in the sorghum plants life. A good supply of moisture is needed about this time to insure a good seedhead is being formed. If you have adequate water and are shooting for maximum production, don't wait until your sorghum shows a moisture stress to start your irrigation. These top sorghum yields just need a lot of water and don't let these rains fool you into waiting too long to start your sorghum irrigation. Check the moisture conditions in your soil and plan to irrigate when about 50 per cent of the available soil moisture has been used.
