WHITTLIN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

Didn't somebody once tell us that if the Republicans got elected that money would get tight and interest rates would go up?

Well, they did and the other two propositions followed right along behind some six or eight months later.

So, now that it has happened maybe we shouldn't be surprised.

It's disappointing, though. There for a few months we thought maybe this time it wouldn't have to be that way. No such luck. Interest rates, we understand, have hit their high of recent years -- 20 or more -- and it could be that the end isn't in sight. And not only that, but money is scarce even with the increased rate for the use of it.

Maybe, just maybe, the Republicans aren't to blame for these money problems. And then again maybe they are. Anyway, they'll get credit for it from this department until someone proves differently to us.

People who know Bill Bradshaw will most all agree that he speaks with a slow drawl. Some would even say that's an understatement.

That was what evidently caused a misunderstanding between Bill and us a couple of weeks ago.

As we were preparing to leave the Bradshaws anniversary open house, Bill told us "not to hurry."

We told Bill, who was several steps away at the time of the conversation, something like, "Yeah, we'd better go, but we have enjoyed it." Possibly we put the emphasis on the "enjoyed" part of the sentence.

Bill's reaction was one of almost surprise and we thought there for a minute we'd said something wrong. We thought maybe you weren't supposed to say that you'd enjoyed an anniversary open house or something.

Then, he asked us to repeat what we'd said. We did. Then he confided that he had misunderstood us. He said he thought we said we were "going to Joy-ja" (Georgia).

That, we'd guess, was another near-breakdown in communications.

Don't look now, and as far as we know there's no news story to print in conjunction with what we've heard, but a group of Bovina men are considering going into the pork production business.

This could certainly be still another boost to this area. Extra income such a project could provide for those involved and it could provide still another payroll as well. Pork production is also a great utilization of what is probably our greatest asset as an area -- grain sorghum production.

The recent opening of Jimmy Dean's new pork packing plant at Plainview adds to the attractiveness of such a venture.

We're all for the cattle business to be sure, but at the same time we're of the opinion that money invested in a good hog operation might have a greater return than cattle feeding or whatever.

We're not charging for this observation and we probably have its worth priced accurately, but we'd like to encourage verbally diversification into pork production in the area. There's no reason that we know about that hog feeding and cattle feeding won't work in the same area.

Hasn't the Midwest been proving this for years?

If our assumption is correct, someone's missing a bet by not getting in on the ground floor of the pork production business in this area.

Cattle feeding is still in its infancy in this area, but there is always room for expansion and diversification, we'd guess. We'd like to see the hog feeding business get started in our neck of the Plains, too.

The following was clipped from Kerr Paper Co.'s house organ and it is relayed here with the possibility that some of the advice might be useful: SACHEL'S SECRET:

Satchel Paige, the famous baseball player, will long be remembered for his endurance record as an active player, and also for his six rules for staying young, phrased in his own inimitable language:

1. Avoid fried meats which angry up the blood.
2. If your stomach disputes you, lie down and pacify it with cool thoughts.
3. Keep the juices flowing by jangling around gently as you move.
4. Go very light on the vices such as carrying on in society. The social ramble ain't restful.
5. Avoid running at all times.
6. Don't look back. Something might be gaining on you.

Baptist Youth Sponsor Revival

The youth of First Baptist Church and Calvary Baptist Church in Dallas will co-sponsor a revival tonight (Wednesday) through Sunday.

The revival will be concluded Sunday night, and the Calvary visitors will return to Dallas. First services will be tonight at 7:30.

The Dallas group will arrive in Bovina this (Wednesday) afternoon from Glorieta, N.M., where they have been staying at the Baptist Encampment.

They will be staying in the homes of members of First Baptist Church.

Services will be held Thursday and Friday morning at 11 a.m., and each night at 7:30.

Between services, the combined groups will be taking a religious census in the Bovina area. "We hope to reach every home in Bovina," Rev. Ken Moore said earlier this week. Copies of "Good News for Modern Man," a modern interpretation of the Bible, will be distributed to residents.

Directing the programs will be Calvary's Minister of Education, Joe Backus, Minister of Music Richard Lamb, and youth preacher Randy Smith.

Backus and Rev. Moore were members of the same Odessa church before taking their present positions. They have been planning the revival during the past year.

During Celebration --

Exes Banquet 'One Of Best'

Plans are now being made for the Bovina Ex-Students Banquet to be held during Bull Town Days.

The banquet will be Saturday, August 16, in Bovina Schools cafeteria.

"We're trying to send out invitations now, so anybody who knows of address changes contact me as soon as possible," Susie Smith, ex-student secretary, says. She can be reached at 238-6961.

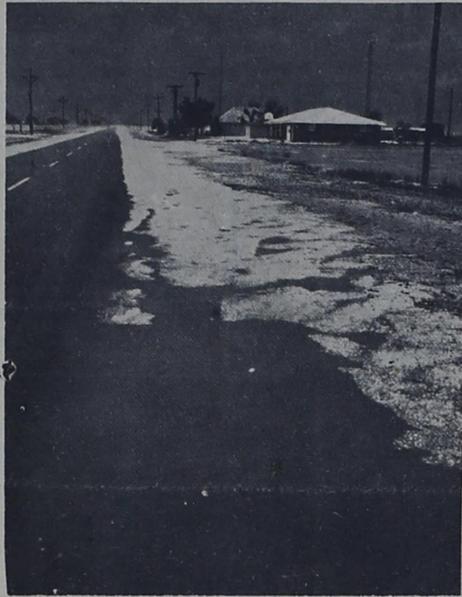

Plans are being made to have Richards Catering Service, Lubbock, provide food. Surprise entertainment will also highlight the 7 p.m. gathering.

Approximately 110 people attended last year's banquet. The earliest ex-student was a member of the 1907 class.

"We expect this to be one of the best banquets we've had," stated Mrs. Smith. "We have to have people come and participate to make it a success, though."

Officers for the Ex-Students Association are Mr. and Mrs. Buck Ellison, president; Mr. and Mrs. Don Spring, vice-president; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Smith, secretary/treasurer; and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Clayton, food and decoration chairmen.

Crop-Destroying Hail Strikes Area

AFTERMATH -- Hail lined FM Road 1731 south of Bovina Friday afternoon following the destructive storm which destroyed crops in the area. The banks of hailstones were created by a Highway Department maintainer which removed the hail from the pavement. As the hail melted, a fog-like condition existed.

Storm Ruins Wheat, Cotton

Hail wiped out a strip of Parmer County crops south and west of Bovina Friday afternoon.

The crop-destroying hail ruined wheat fields which were on the brink of being ready to harvest and the young cotton crop which was just getting started.

The area primarily involved in the hail damaged area was from one to six miles south of Bovina and then east and west of FM Road 1731.

Damaged, but to a lesser extent than the cotton and wheat, were grain sorghum and sugar beets. Some farmers in the hail-damaged area thought early this week their milo and corn would overcome the hail damage. However, the crops were destroyed, too, in some sections.

The present time is considered too late to re-plant cotton and this acreage will probably be planted to soy beans. Grain sorghum may be planted over now with good prospects of producing an average crop, barring additional setbacks, most farmers believe.

From the standpoint of hail resistance, sugar beets are probably the toughest crops grown in this area. They can be hurt by hail but it is highly unusual when they are destroyed.

On the bright side of the weather picture Friday was the fact that the hail was accompanied by almost two inches of rainfall. One optimistic farmer even expressed the theory that the rainfall advantage might, in the long run, outweigh the hail damage.

In other sections of the area, the rainfall was not accompanied by hail. West and north of Bovina, there were no hail reports.

Some of the cotton in the hail-damaged strip was up to its second stand after having been hailed out by an earlier storm.

Contributions can be made to this fund at any of the Lazbuddie businesses, including Lazbuddie Garage, Lazbuddie Grocery, Western "66", Foster Fertilizer, Shirley Anderson Elevator, Farmer's Union Coop, Clay's Corner Grocery, Tide Fertilizer and Ivy Fertilizer.

Contributions can be mailed to any of these businesses or to the Lazbuddie Baptist, Methodist or Church of Christ churches.

Weather By Willie

Some showers this week. A warmer trend is in sight -- we'll see the sun this week. --Willie HAIL DAMAGE -- Don Sudderth, who farms some three miles south of Bovina, views his hailed-out cotton field. The young crop, which had already been re-planted after being hailed out earlier, was destroyed in Friday afternoon's storm. Sudderth believes the time is now too late to re-plant cotton and will plant the acreage to soy beans.

Annual Tax Meeting Held

The Tax Board of Equalization of Bovina Independent School District met yesterday (Tuesday) in School Tax Office at Ridgelea Elementary School. The annual public hearing enables property owners within the Bovina School District to meet and discuss jurisdiction with the Tax Board.

Serving on the Equalization Board were Durward Bell, Don Murphy, Leon Grissom, Billy Marshall, and Christian Drag-er.

Activities Set --

Youth Program Underway Here

Bovina's Community Action-Office of Economic Opportunity -- sponsored Summer Youth Program began this week with registration Monday and Tuesday at the American Legion Hall. The Summer Youth Program is "designed to provide job opportunities, educational enrichment, and recreational activities" for area youths, and give them experiences "which provide for the development of leadership, self-direction, increased skills, and self-respect."

Bovina ministers and the Office of Economic Opportunity are working together to coordinate summer activities.

"We want to gather the youth of the town to work, play ball, go on field trips, to movies, perhaps arts and crafts -- whatever the kids want to do," Father Gerald Dunford said. "Well see what the kids want to do and plan accordingly," stated Pearl Cervantez, OEO representative.

Volunteer workers Adella Serna and Ninfa Espinoza and two Catholic seminarians are presently helping with the program. "We'll take anybody who wants to help," added Mrs. Cervantez. "Anyone who wants to, can volunteer."

Community youth are divided into age groups, and will be able to plan their activities. A volunteer will be in charge of each group.

The federally financed program is under the jurisdiction of the Amarillo OEO. The Bovina-Friona area has a budget of $1,000, including $100 for travel.

Wife To Teach --

Steelman Resigns From School Board

Bovina Schools will continue to pay teachers $500 above the state schedule. This decision was made at a regular monthly meeting of the board of trustees Monday night.

Don Murphy, a former six-year member of the board, was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Eddie Gayle Steelman. Steelman resigned because his wife will be employed as a grade school teacher during the forthcoming year. Murphy had been the next-highest candidate in the election in April.

Mrs. Steelman is a graduate of West Texas State University. The board officially accepted the resignations of three teachers, John Paul Jones, Mrs. Floye Burnett and Mrs. Marie Smith. Mrs. Steelman will replace Mrs. Burnett on the faculty.

July 4th Dance

In Legion Hall

Bovina area youth are reminded of the Fourth of July dance to be held in the Bovina American Legion Hall.

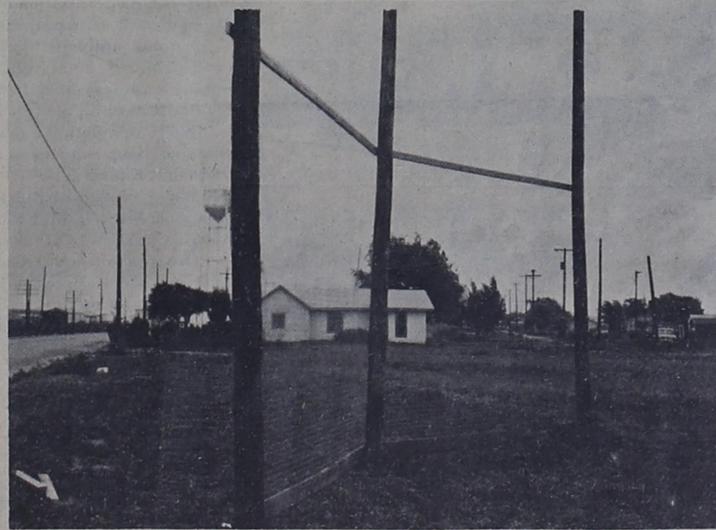

The dance will last from 9 p.m. to midnight, and music will be provided by Jerry and The Pacers of Amarillo.

Turnout at this dance will have bearing on the dance during Bull Town Days, Mrs. Elton Venable, LTD dance chairman, said.

of vocational agriculture teacher, which was resigned by Jones, were screened. Board members agreed to meet again Monday night for the purpose of interviewing five or six of the top applicants. Superintendent L. F. Jacobs said he had received some 12 applications for the post.

Approved by the board was the purchase of new band instruments and equipment in the amount of $4900. The money will be paid over a three-year period.

A two-year progress report on present students and graduates of Bovina Schools was presented to the board by Charles Turner, school counselor.

NEW BACKSTOP -- A new baseball backstop was erected Monday by Lions Club members. The new field is located across the street east from the present lighted field and will be used for some games, possibly pee-wee. Working on the project were Kenneth Howard, Leonard and Carl Rea. Promoters of the new field believe it will "take the pressure off" the main field and will allow games to be over earlier. A late ending time is the result when three games are played in one evening on the lighted field.

Attendance Satisfactory --

Church Of Christ Completes VBS

Bovina Church of Christ completed its Vacation Bible School last week with an average attendance of approximately 145.

"We had a maximum attendance of 153, Mickey Patterson, church minister, said. "It was quite a bit below last year's, when we had around 211," but the turn-out was considered satisfactory.

The theme for the week-long school was "Jesus Loves Me."

Teachers for Vacation Bible School were Lola Villa, Spanish pre-school; Monta McClaran and Linda Marshall, 2-3 year olds; Glenna Monk, Lathryn Beardain, and Edna Woelfel, 4-5 year olds; Millie Capps and Montie Howell, First Grade; Ina Bea Boothe and Mabel Ellison, Second Grade; Ethel Johnson and Nancy Mayfield, Third Grade; Virginia Rhodes and Barbara Patterson, Fourth and Fifth Grade Girls; Ernest Marshall and Suetta Rushing, Fourth and Fifth Grade Boys; Barbara Cockerham and Jannie Mosley, Sixth and Seventh Grade Boys; Patterson, teenagers; and Joe Villa, adults.

"Our preacher keeps telling us not to judge our neighbors, but it sure takes the fun out of things!"

GOOD NEIGHBORS

Words written in the sand soon vanish. Symbols lose meaning unless matched by action and life. Deeds are what really count, for people remember the doing.

Jesus spoke often to his followers about the direction of their lives. His "thou shalt" and "thou shalt not" directives were to help his people see and understand what God willed for them. When he talked about love he was most explicit, for he told us to love God and our neighbors. He pointed out that we could not love God without also loving our neighbors.

Another lesson which Jesus taught us is that differences and geography do not determine who our neighbors are. Our neighbors are those people we meet in the course of living.

The question is "Are we good neighbors?" Do we care and lend a helping hand? Is that help limited or do we seek to be good neighbors on the broadest scale we know? A good neighbor is very simply a person who cares. Our world needs good neighbors who will reach across the fences that divide men, and extend a helping hand.

Join your good neighbors at the church of your choice this Sunday!

D.P.S. Records Nine Accidents

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated nine accidents on rural highways in Parmer County during May, said Sergeant W. E. Wells, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in five persons injured and estimated property damage of $6,600.00. The rural traffic accident summary for this country during the first five months of 1969 shows 48 accidents resulting in one person killed, 30 persons injured, and estimated property damage of $34,770.00.

A last-minute invitation is being given by the Texas Department of Public Safety to young men to fill its uniform ranks. A recruit training school for the position of patrolman will begin in July.

Applicants must be between the ages of 20 and 35, at least 68 inches tall, weigh not less than two pounds or more than three and one-half pounds per inch of height, and be in sound physical condition. They must be a citizen of the United States, and of good moral character.

Because of the short time remaining to test applicants, young men are urged to contact the nearest DPS office or patrolman immediately.

3 Accidents Reported In Week

Three accidents were recorded in and around Bovina last week by City Marshal Ronny Mitchell.

Tuesday of last week a vehicle driven by Rev. Ott Robinson, pastor of the Assembly of God Church in Friona, collided with a car driven by Andy Anceria. The accident occurred at the Oklahoma Lane crossroads.

Rev. Robinson was driving south on FM road 1731, and Anceria was traveling east on FM Road 145.

Anceria and his wife were taken to Clovis Municipal Hospital. Mrs. Robinson was taken to Parmer County Community Hospital in Friona.

No injuries were reported in an intersection collision on Ave. D. and 4th Streets about 1:15 p.m. Sunday.

A car driven by Doris Ann Corn collided with one driven by Johnny Diaz.

J. Edwin Beene and Leonard Dopp were involved in another accident approximately one mile east of Farwell about 12:10 p.m. Sunday.

The Dopp car was turning towards Bovina, and the vehicle driven by Beene was going towards Clovis, N.M.

No injuries resulted from that crash.

I can do all things in Him who strengthens me. (Phil. 4:13).

Today's prayer thought is like a pattern or blueprint for harmonious happy living. We can take this kind of idea. "We refuse to be upset or unhappy about anything. Through Christ in us we are peaceful and harmonious at all times and under all circumstances. We may not achieve perfect results on every occasion, but each effort strengthens us and brings us closer to our ideal."

The NFO

The National Farmers' Organization (NFO) is made up of farmers and run by farmers for the purpose of getting fair prices for farm products.

The trend is established. Farm prices continue to drift downward, with only an occasional short lived price rise. NFO is designed only to help farmers reverse the trend. Farmers cannot do this as individuals -- but they can do this as an organized group.

NFO is not asking farmers to desert their present farm organizations, but only to join the NFO for the purpose of bargaining collectively for a fair price. NFO has the system to gain better farm prices and to protect the farmer in the market place.

If this areas economy is to remain stable, all segments of the economy must continue to receive a fair return for goods and services. The businessman needs the farmer and the farmer needs the businessman.

NFO has the communication system to give the best information on supply and demand of farm products. Because farmers have failed to set their price in the past, the buyer has been forced to set it for them. Through NFO farmers are setting their own price -- NFO members in the grain sorghum producing areas of Texas and bordering states are asking a minimum net price to the farmer of $2.00 cwt for milo--a price not unrealistic considering that full parity for milo is $3.08 cwt. NFO has also been responsible for an upward pressure on livestock prices bringing cattle and hog prices closer to parity.

NFO is now the largest active participating farm organization both locally and nationally. Let's keep it that way. Be at our next meeting and participate in the business.

NFO NEEDS YOU AND YOU NEED NFO!!

We urge you to come to our next meeting

From Erosion --

Lawns, Gardens Need Protection

"Soil and water conservation applies to town and city dwellers as well as farmers and ranchers," Soil Conservation Service representative Gary A. Batte of Friona said this week. Among the more serious conservation problems around the home are surplus water management and distributed soils. Land that may never have had soil and water conservation problems in its native state can be plagued with them as it is converted to suburban uses. Rain that once fell on open land now falls on roof tops, driveways, and paved streets. Even the best land can be ruined by uncontrolled water runoff. It can quickly rob areas of valuable surface soil, smother green lawns with silt deposits, and flood homes and basements. "To control runoff," Batte advised, "be sure that the soil is shaped so that water drains away from the house and low areas are filled." Excess water from adjacent properties can be diverted away from the home by the construction of small diversions and terraces. Erosion can be prevented by covering the ground as completely as possible with growing vegetation or some substitute such as mulch, or gravel. Areas that must carry concentrated runoff need to be permanently paved or protected by special turfs, riprap, or other means. The surface soil in the average new subdivision is usually less than ideal. The original soil may have been scraped off, and tar paper, wood scraps, siding, brick, plaster, and other materials that limit plant growth are often found just under the soil surfaces. When locating sites for shrubs or trees, it is a good idea to dig a much larger hole than necessary to check for buried debris. At the same time the soil can be checked for root penetration and permeability. More information on solving soil and water conservation problems around the home and in improving lawns and gardens can be found in Agricultural Information Bulletin 244, "Soil Conservation at Home" and in the Yearbook of Agriculture reprint, "Home Gardens and Lawns," by Dr. Charles E. Kelley. Single copies of both publications are available free from the Soil Conservation Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250.

STEAM FLAKE VS. MICRONIZED GRAIN SORGHUM

Recently a feedlot evaluation of steam flaked and micronized grain sorghum was conducted at the Lubbock Feedlot, Dr. Lowell Schake, area extension livestock specialist from Lubbock, assisted in coordinating and conducting this test. The following information was supplied by Dr. Schake in a preliminary report on the feeding test.

INTRODUCTION

Micronized grain sorghum has evolved through the combined efforts of Chardo Pierce of Lubbock and research previously reported. Originally, popping of the grain was thought to be essential to increase nutrient availability and was accomplished by dry heat produced by gas fired infra-red burners. Data derived from feeding and digestion trials indicated that popping was not essential. These data suggested that dry heat treatment reducing the grain to about 7 per cent moisture followed by rolling may produce a feed grain with certain unique feeding qualities. The term micronization was coined to describe this heat treatment since microwaves were emitted from the burners used during processing.

PROCEDURE

Four hundred uniform Hereford steers were made available for this study by the Lubbock Feedlot. Steers were randomly placed in 1 of 4 lots of 100 head each. Two hundred head of these steers received the steam flake grain and the other 200 head received the micronized grain. One replicate (or 100 steers) on each of the processed grains was treated with anthelmintic drugs.

Total weight of each replicate of steers was taken on December 2 and at 50-day intervals thereafter. Grain and ration samples were taken on a weekly interval. Steers averaged 1150 pounds before shipped for slaughter. Detailed carcass data was acquired from a random sample of approximately 35 carcasses from each replicate.

SUMMARY

Feedlot performance of steers fed rations containing micronized grain rations gained 1.12 lb. more per day than steers fed rations containing steam flaked grain. Conversely, pounds of ration required per pound of live animal gain was 0.20 lb. less for steers fed steam flaked grain rations compared to steers fed micronized grain rations. These data are consistent with field observations comparing steam flaked and popped grain rations. Carcass characteristics tend to be rather uniform except for several minor advantages for carcasses resulting from steers fed micronized grain rations. Most of these differences appear in accordance with observed differences in feedlot performance of the steers. Results of this field trial indicate that both of these processed grains produced carcasses with near equal value with slightly improved feedlot performance of steers fed the micronized grain rations. Most of the improvement in feedlot performance occurred early in the feeding period.

GSPA Officers

In Washington

Officers of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association were in Washington, D.C. last week working with senators and other farm leaders in an effort to remove the limitation of payments from the bill passed by the House of Representatives concerning 1970 agricultural appropriations.

Melvin Barton, Dimmitt farmer and vice president of GSPA, traveled to Washington, D.C. with the association's executive director, Elbert Harp. In addition to the limitation of payments, Harp and Barton met with administrative leaders, congressmen, and leaders of other farm organizations to plan long range farm programs.

'Great,' Says Randy --

Barrett Returns From Boys State

Randy Barrett returned this week from participating in the American Legion Boys State at Austin.

The session is sponsored annually by the American Legion in the belief that youth should be offered a better perspective of the practical operations of government. It was held on the campus of the University of Texas.

"I think it's great," Randy said about his experience. "I don't think anything can beat it. I wish everyone could go."

During the session, delegates were divided into political parties and cities to nominate and support candidates for state offices.

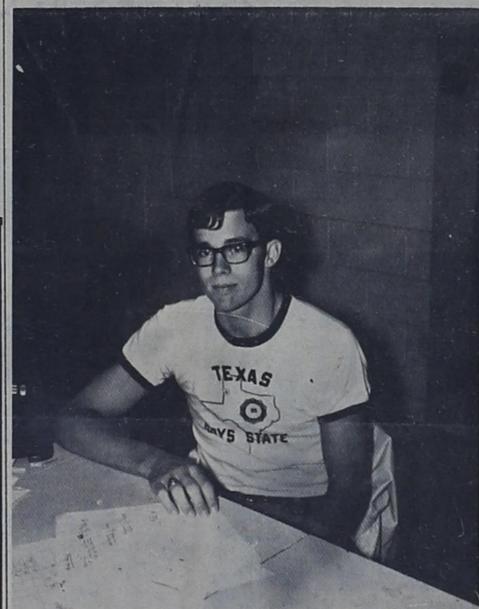

Randy was a member of the Federalist Party, whose candidates were elected as Governor and Lieutenant Governor. Edwin Collins, Del Valle, was the first Negro to be elected governor of Boys State. "He was the best qualified, he'll make a good governor," Randy added. "There wasn't anything about race. His speech elected him -- he's a good speaker."

Lance Bruun, Houston, was elected lieutenant governor. In addition to government activities, representatives were in charge of lowering the flag on campus. They participated in football, basketball, volleyball, and softball tournaments, and in callisthenics led by Governor Preston Smith.

Waggoner Carr and H. Roe Bartle, former mayor of Kansas City, Mo., spoke to the group.

BOYS STATE REPRESENTATIVE -- Randy Barrett recently returned from American Legion sponsored Boys State. The miniature government-in-action session was held in Austin. Representatives elected local and state officials and were addressed by Waggoner Carr and H. Roe Bartle, former mayor of Kansas City, Mo.

Elect Candy Wilson Mayor

Candy Wilson, Bovina High School representative to American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State, now in progress at Austin's St. Edward's University, was elected City Mayor of Galahad's Grotto last week.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wilson, and was sponsored by Bovina American Legion Auxiliary.

Girls State was organized as a national Americanism activity in 1937 by the American Legion Auxiliary. Non-partisan and non-political, its purpose is to provide citizenship training, to afford an opportunity to live together as a self-governing group, and to inform girls of the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of voting adults. They learn about government by performing the same duties as office holders. Participants are selected principally on a basis of character and leadership from students who have completed their junior year in high school.

The 1969 session of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State has grown from an experimental conference of 94 girls at Baylor University in 1941. It has become the largest single extra-curricular educational program for high school girls in Texas. This year, 430 girls are attending plus two from Mexico City, making a total of more than 8,400 girls in Texas who have participated in the program.

Former citizens of Girls State and members of the Texas American Legion Auxiliary comprise the 60 member staff who volunteered to direct and lead the program. The director, Miss Frances Goff of Houston, is Director of Special Projects for The University of Texas M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute, Houston. The Associate Director is Mrs. T. J. R A PERSISTENT FEVER CAN BE A WARNING

When a raging fever fails to cool down after 24 hours — beware. This could mean that your body may have a serious problem that it cannot handle without medical help.

If, despite your self-treatments, a continuous low grade fever persists for several days or weeks, this may be your body's warning of a chronic infection, such as rheumatic fever, mononucleosis, etc. You would be wise to let your physician find out what may be wrong.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service.
