Wallace Lumber robbed Garza County Sheriff's Department solves case

by Bill Galusha
 Garza County Sheriff's Department was notified Wednesday October 19 at approximately 7:30 a.m. of a break in and robbery at Wallace Lumber 119 N. Ave. H. Sheriff's Deputies Randy Johnston and J.W. Jolly answered the call.

When the Sheriff's Deputies arrived on the scene they noticed a clay pot that had been thrown through the front window to gain entrance. The time of the robbery was estimated by Charles Wallace, owner, to be approximately 11:30 p.m. the previous evening. After initial inventory was taken it was found that four chain saws, a skill saw and knives, as well as other miscellaneous tools and items totaling over $1,800 had been stolen.

A confidential informant was found and revealed that a suspect had been seen the previous evening in the vicinity carrying some large items, and stashing them in the weeds. Deputy Johnston, Deputy J. W. Jolly and Garza County Sheriff, Kenneth Ratke began an immediate search of the area. While searching an area along the railroad right of way along the end of E 11th, Deputy Jolly noticed some items in a hole among the weeds. After further investigation it was determined that the items were from the robbery at Wallace Lumber.

The confidential informant also revealed that two of the stolen chain saws had been sold to a party living on Ave. F. After arriving at the residence on Ave. F, Sheriff Ratke informed the occupant that he was aware the merchandise was in the residence and requested to search. Permission was given to search and the two chain saws were recovered from the residence without incident.

The previous evening a 41 year old Hispanic male had been arrested and jailed on PI (public intoxication) charges by Deputy Tommy Binford and Deputy Clint Schoonover. The subject was searched and was found to have a Case Knife in his possession that matched the description of knife that was listed as stolen. This information was turned over to Deputy Johnston. The suspect was interrogated by the Sheriff's Department and denied any involvement. After the recovery of the two saws the suspect was confronted again and denied any involvement.

Johnston, after gathering all the merchandise onto a table in the jail cafeteria brought the suspect into the room. Upon being confronted with the merchandise and being read his rights, the suspect confessed to the robbery. From the time the robbery was reported October 19, to the time the merchandise was returned to Wallace Lumber October 21, less than 48 hours had elapsed.

Formal charges of Burglary of a Building, a State Felony, will be filed against the defendant before the Grand Jury, October 26th. "The case is still under investigation, we believe he did not act alone," said Sheriff Ratke.

S.T.A.R.S. celebrate "Red Ribbon Week"

Post Middle School S.T.A.R.S. are taking part in the National Red Ribbon Week that began October 24 and runs through October 28. The campaign is sponsored by Texans' War on Drugs, a not for profit organization that provides quality prevention and education programming to Texas. S.T.A.R.S. is sponsoring different activities each day to make all of middle school aware that drug free is the way to be.

Monday:
 Students came to school to large red ribbons on all the trees around the school and a banner on the front entrance. All S.T.A.R.S. members gave everyone in the middle school a red ribbon that says "Drug Free Begins With Me" and asked everyone to wear it each day this week.

Sixth grade members who will put the Pals puppet program on for K through second grades distributed sets of coloring activities for all students K through second to make them aware it is Red Ribbon Week. Red ribbons were tied on all vehicles around Middle School in recognition of Red Ribbon Week.

Tuesday:
 "Drug Free My Buddy and Me" (pick a buddy and dress as twins). Middle school students will bash out drugs this week by bashing a vehicle donated by Delwin Fluitt. Sonny Mason donated his service to bring the car to school and pick it up after the week ends.

Wednesday:
 "Red Day." Students and faculty are asked to wear red the entire day. There will be a contest to see who can wear the most red. Stickers with drug free messages on them will be passed out during the day.

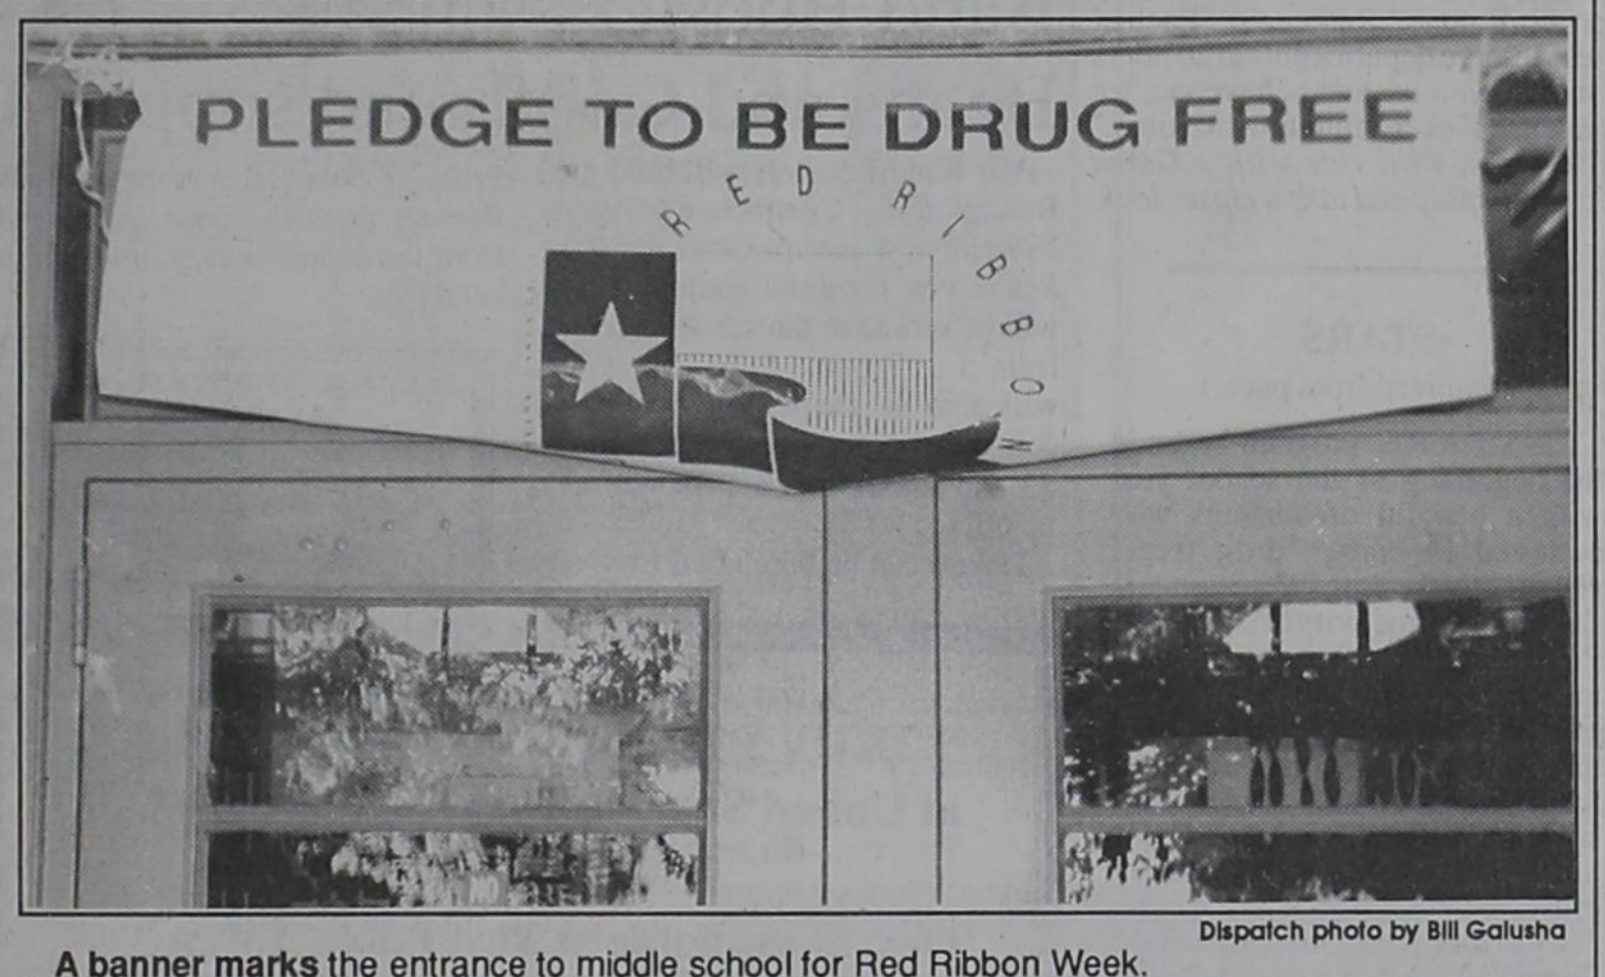

Thursday:
 "Put a Lid on Drugs Day." All students and faculty are asked to wear hats to show their support of Red Ribbon Week.

Friday:

All middle school students will receive drug free information while in their homerooms. Each day on the P.A. system S.T.A.R.S. members will make drug free messages and Monday and Friday the Singing Stars sang on the P.A. system. The three classes in Post Middle School had a decoration competition in the school halls. Each one of the teachers' doors was decorated red with drug free messages.

United Supermarket will be sacking groceries that were decorated by S.T.A.R.S. members during the Red Ribbon Week. S.T.A.R.S. members are selling lollipops all week with drug free messages on them.

Cotton crop refuses to die

by Bill Galusha
 The rains have been a welcome sight for the ranchers and wheat growers but for the cotton growers it's been a hindrance. "The rains have come late," said John Senter, County Extension Agent. Cotton growers have sprayed their crops with defoliant so the plant would die and it could be stripped. The problem is that the rain has stopped the plant from dying.

With the plant beginning to grow again the cotton can not be stripped and the growers can not justify the added expense of spraying again. The growers are now forced to wait until the freeze kills the plant before they strip it. For this area the first freeze usually comes sometime during the first two weeks of November. "All they can do is hope for an early freeze," Senter said.

Some growers who stripped their cotton early have had time to prepare their fields for next year. "If they got their fields ready before the rain, they are in good shape. The dry land growers whose crop is still in the field are hurting," said Senter.

The amount of cotton being ginned this year is way down from the same time as last year. Close City Gin has ginned approximately 250 bales so far this year. Last year at this time they had ginned nearly 800 bales. "Last year we were ginning 14 hours a day, this year we are ginning as the cotton comes in. The quality is good but the yield is way down," said Lavern Aten, manager of the Close City Co-Op Gin.

Last year the Hackberry Co-op Gin baled 17,000 bales of cotton. As of Friday morning they had ginned only 2,000 bales, and expect to gin around 10,000 for the entire year. "Most of the time we don't get started ginning until in the afternoon and we have to shut down by 9 p.m. because of the moisture in the cotton," said Debra Sims, office manager of the Hackberry Co-op Gin. "Last year we ginned 24 hours a day," she added.

Keith Bell said, "This year we've ginned about 642 bales so far and expect to gin around 4,000 total for the year, that's down about one-fourth from what we did last year. The dry land quality has been poor, but the irrigated cotton has been good quality," he added. With all the stress the dry land cotton has endured this year the strength of the cotton is good but the length of the fiber is bad.

"This hurts the price of the cotton. I don't expect any good changes in cotton prices, it will probably stay around 50-60¢ per pound," Senter added.

"I heard one dry land grower say he was getting two-tenths a bale to the acre and others said they were getting almost one-half bale per acre. In some of the irrigated fields they are getting as much as two bales to the acre," said Senter. The drought has been felt all around the West Texas area. In Dickens County the rain fall has stopped the cotton from dying and yields are down dramatically. "In our dry land cotton we are probably averaging less than one-quarter bale to the acre," said Robert Herrington, Dickens County Extension Agent.

"I estimate about 20% of the crop has been stripped. It's hard to say for sure what the overall average per acre will be for the county, but I'd say it's pretty close to what we had talked about before, (150 lb. per acre) in dry land cotton. It could be a little less if the rain continues and we have a late freeze. The rain is making an already tough situation even tougher for the dry land cotton growers," Senter said in closing.

Oats and Lewis united in marriage September 17

Mrs. Randy Lewis

Cassie Oats of Slaton and Randy Lewis of Post were united in marriage Saturday, September 17, 1994 at 7:30 p.m. at Westview Baptist Church in Slaton. Dr. Chris Seidlitz officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Commie and Debbie Oats of Slaton. Parents of the bridegroom are Edwin and Linda Lewis of Post.

Grandparents of the bride are Brannon and Kathy Busby and Bobbie Poer, all of Slaton. The bridegroom's grandparents are Mary and John Gist and Maxine Lewis, all of Post.

Presented for marriage by her father, the bride wore an elegant gown of ivory satin and alencon lace designed by Mori Lee. The heavily beaded bodice featured a v-neckline, long renaissance sleeves and a basque waist. The sheath, adorned with Italian lace, was highlighted with a detachable train flowing to a cathedral length.

To complete her attire the bride chose a floral half wreath headpiece highlighted with a single pouf, pearl sprays and silk illusion veiling.

The bridal bouquet was designed in an English garden style using soft pink roses and white and wine astromeria lilies accented with purple larkspur and tied with a Victorian lace bow and long streamers. A lace handkerchief belonging to the bride's great-grandmother, Cassie Copeland, was tucked into her bouquet for something old. She wore pearls belonging to her grandmother, Kathy Busby, for something borrowed.

Maid of honor was Melissa Dwyer of Ketchikan, AK. Matron of honor was Debbie Oats, the bride's mother, of Slaton.

Bridesmaids were Paige Carter of Chandler, AZ; Allison Ashburn of Lubbock; Tonya Bruster of Slaton and the bride's cousin, Amy Velasquez of Dalhart.

The attendants wore floor length faile wineberry suits trimmed with Victorian ivory lace and carried long-stemmed flowers in colors of wine, purple and rose.

Best men were Chad Wall of Plains and Jay McCook of Amarillo.

Groomsmen were Scott Lewis of Houston, brother of the groom; Greg Storie and Randy Mandrell, both of Lubbock; and Mike Wells of Post.

Flower girl and ring bearer were Elyse Busby and Garrett Jay Busby, cousins of the bride, of Aledo.

Registering guests was Brandi Brush of Slaton.

Ushers were Jerry Cureton of Lubbock; Eric Wanjura and Vic Wanjura of Lubbock, cousins of the bride; and Shawn Ballard of New Home.

Candlelighter was John Davis Wanjura of Lubbock, the bride's cousin.

Soloists were Benny and Paula Jackson of Post.

Guitarist was Jerry Montgomery of Slaton and organist was Beverly Montgomery, also of Slaton.

Following the ceremony the bride and groom were carried to the reception at the Slaton Opry House by a horse drawn carriage.

Serving at the bride's table were Kim Alfred of Marble Falls and Fay Garcia of Idalou. Julie Wagner of Mansfield and Cristy Bell of Lubbock served at the groom's table.

The bride is a graduate of Lubbock Barber College and is employed at Debbie's Finishing Touch in Slaton as a nail technician.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Texas Tech University and is self-employed in farming.

After a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will reside outside of Southland.

Rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in the Atrium at the Villa Inn where a tropical theme was carried out.

On the day of the wedding, Sue Wanjura of Lubbock, the bride's aunt, hosted the bridesmaids luncheon at Broadway Manor in Lubbock. Special guests were the bridegroom's mother and the bride's grandmothers.

The farther backward you can look, the farther forward you are likely to see.

Tax 'n Facts

ABOUT DISCLAIMER WILLS

When there's a will, there's usually another way.

If a will does not shield as much from taxes as it could, a disclaimer will, in which the surviving spouse or another heir disclaims some or all of an inheritance, can offer post-mortem estate planning.

A disclaimer--an unqualified refusal to accept a property transfer or gift-- is particularly effective for estates of $500,000 to $1 million, often because the estate has grown over the $600,000 tax-free limit since the will was written. Disclaimers must be made within nine months of the transfer of property or when the disclaimant turns 21, whichever is later. The time limit cannot be extended.

Using the unlimited marital deduction, it is not unusual for one spouse to leave the whole estate to the other. But at the death of the second spouse, anything over $600,000 becomes taxable. A disclaimer will spells out where the money should go if any of it is disclaimed by the principal heir--often into a trust for the next generation.

Post Bold Gold Antelopes stifled by the Idalou Wildcats

The Post-Idalou clash was a top-billed area game. Mental mistakes, a quick injury problem and penalties led to the Post downfall. The Antelopes didn't make a first down until a Casey Hart interception ignited a lethargic, Post offense. At this point, it was late in the second quarter and the Wildcats had already tacked 21 points on the scoreboard.

The Wildcat points came early and quick. Post had kicked to the Wildcats pinning them deep in their own territory. An offside penalty rubbed out the play with the Antelopes kicking again. This time the Cats returned the kick to the Wildcat 26 and immediately put together a nine play 74 yard drive to score. The PAT was good and Idalou led 7-0. On the ensuing kickoff, quarterback Bodie Simpson was hit and received a shoulder injury. He came out of the game with Heath Eagle manning the controls of the Lope offense.

The Lope offense gained 5 yards in three downs and punted on the fourth down. Again the Lopes were flagged for an infraction and would have to punt again. Russ Bird's punt was blocked and the scramble for the loose ball commenced in the end zone. Bird finally gathered the loose pigskin in, but the Wildcats received a safety. The Bold Gold kicked from their 20-yard line with the wildcats returning the ball to the Lope 42-yard line. The host team scored again on an eight play drive. The PAT was no good, but with 1:39 still to play in the first quarter, the scoreboard read Post 0, Idalou 21.

The Antelope defense picked up their play and Idalou was shut out in the second quarter. Hart's interception insured the lead wouldn't increase. After the interception, Post moved from its own 10-yard line to the Wildcat 20 mixing in the running game and passes. Facing third and six from the 20, Casey Hart and Bodie Simpson threw two incompletions that ended the drive. The Antelopes retired to the dressing room with a revived spirit for the second half.

The second half started with the Wildcats kicking to the Lopes. The ball was muffed by a Lope receiver and the Wildcats recovered at the Post 20. Two plays later, they scored their fourth touchdown of the night. The PAT was no good. Again the Lopes let the ball roll out of bounds at their own 10-yard line. Three plays produced only 1-yard and the ball was punted away.

Idalou took over at the Post 33. Three plays later the Wildcat offense had produced a fifth touchdown. The PAT was good.

Again, on the kick from Idalou the Antelopes again couldn't find the handle on the football and recovered the ball at the 18 inch line. A thrown pass fell incomplete on the first down. On the second down, quarterback Heath Eagle dropped back to pass, but was swarmed by the Wildcat defense for a safety. The score was Post 0, Idalou 36.

The only points put up by the Lope offense occurred with 4:09 in the fourth quarter. Quarterback Eagle dropped back and launched the ball to end Cody Bain. The ball was tipped high into the air and fell into Bain's arms. He ran untouched into the end zone completing the 49-yard pass-run play. The two-point conversion was a running play by fullback Saul Martinez who ran untouched into the end-zone. The score at the end of the game was Post 8, Idalou 36.

The Antelopes have this Friday open and will play Seagraves here November 4.

Quail season opens this month

Texas hunters will soon begin loading their shotguns and loading up their bird dogs as another quail season begins. Quail season opens October 29 and continues through February 26, with a bag limit of 15 birds per day and a possession limit of 45 birds.

Wildlife biologist with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, conducted 36 quail census lines throughout the Panhandle regulatory district, which extends from Jones County westward to Andrews and Martin Counties and North throughout the Texas panhandle. According to Jim Lionberger, wildlife biologist with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, the number of quail observed on these census lines decreased by 48 percent when compared to the same census lines conducted in 1993, with the largest decrease being found in the Southern half of the district.

This decrease in quail numbers can be largely attributed to extreme heat and drought conditions during the summer. Besides the obvious detrimental effects on range conditions that can result in quail losses, extreme heat and drought conditions can have a harmful effect on egg laying and incubation, says Lionberger.

Landowners interested in quail management can implement practices on their property that are beneficial to quail and other wildlife species. Practices such as discing in strips along habitat edges and controlled burning, result in growth of forbs or weeds that are preferred food items for quail. Practices such as half-cutting of mesquites can create areas of loafing cover for quail.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department provides technical assistance to landowners wishing to improve the quality of wildlife habitat on their property. For technical assistance, call Jim Lionberger, wildlife biologist, at 915-573-9864, in Snyder; Calvin Richardson, wildlife biologist, at 806-746-6101, ext. 345, in Lubbock; or contact Danny Swepston, district wildlife biologist, at 806-353-0486.

Smoke detector know-how

"My job at the Texas Commission on Fire Protection is directing programs on fire prevention education," said Anne Easterling. "So each October, I write a news release telling everyone to change their smoke alarm batteries when they change their clocks back too standard time. But a recent experience with my own smoke alarms taught me that this information alone just isn't adequate. Fortunately, my experience was relatively uneventful, but now I know that taking care of you smoke alarms isn't always quite that easy."

"So I have updated and improved the instructions on how to take care of your smoke alarms, and here they are," Easterling said.

Right now, go check your smoke alarms. Just lift up the cover of each alarm and check to see what kind of battery they use. (By the way, most homes should have more than one smoke alarm, but that's another story.) Write yourself a note about whether each smoke detector uses AA or 9-volt or another type of battery.

Now, go to the store and buy at least two batteries for each smoke alarm in your home. (Actually, finish reading this story, then go to the store and do what follows.)

When you get back from the store, replace the battery in each of your smoke alarms. Then press the test button on the alarm to make sure it works. If it doesn't work, try another battery.

If it still doesn't work, go back to the store and buy a new smoke alarm.

Then, go to your calendar and note the date. On the same day of the next month, write a note to check your smoke alarms again. Keep on doing this each month.

At the end of one year from the time you put those new batteries in, replace them, even if they still work. Many different things can affect battery life, so better safe than sorry.

Last, but not least, make sure that everyone in your home knows what they are supposed to do if a smoke detector goes off. Smoke detectors can and do save lives, but only if you react appropriately to the noise!

Halloween fun

Parents can scare up an array of nutritious treats worth 'gobin' this Halloween, says a nutritionist at the USDA's Children's Nutrition Research Center.

Dr. Corine Montandon, as assistant professor of pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine, offers the following ideas:

- Small boxes or packets of nuts or raisins or dried fruit/granolamix.
- Single-serve sized cartons of 100% juice.
- String cheese or other small low-fat cheese packages.
- Packages of low-fat crackers with either peanut butter or cheese filling.
- Sticks of sugarless gum.
- Small containers of puddings that require no refrigeration.
- Single-serve boxes of dry cereal.
- Packaged fruit rolls.
- Single-serve packets of low-fat popcorn that can be microwaved later.
- Commercially baked and individually wrapped muffins.

Coins, stickers, trading cards, movie coupons, coloring booklets, neon shoelaces, crayons, pencils, or plastic snakes and spiders also make great substitutions for sweets, she added.

Before the festivities begin, Montandon encourages parents to establish some "goodie guidelines".

When children return from trick-or-treating, parents should sort through the bags of Halloween hand-outs.

"Separate treats into perishable and non-perishable portions. Carefully examine each item and discard anything that is not properly wrapped or sealed", she said.
 "Halloween candy as well as other sweets can be a part of children's diets if eaten in moderation", she said.

Bergstein sells oilfield service

Bergstein Oilfield Services, Inc., was recently purchased by Davis Oilfield Service, Inc. Davis Oilfield Service is owned by Calvin and Steve Davis of Post. Bergstein Oilfield Services, Inc. was started in 1981 by Pieter Bergstein. Later their services expanded to Lubbock, Levelland, Denver City, Andrews, Odessa, Big Springs and Hobbs and Carlsbad, New Mexico. They became the largest hot oil company in the nation. In 1989 Bergstein Oilfield Services, Inc. was approached by Exxon to help with the Valdez, Alaska oil spill. This spawned Bergstein Environmental, Inc. specializing in oil spill clean ups, hazardous waste transportation, emergency response, rescue services and safety classes. According to Pieter Bergstein, the reason for selling was to concentrate more on the environmental business with offices in Lubbock, Dallas, El Paso and Albuquerque and feels that Post will be better served by a local operation.

Garden Club
by Margaret Barley
Never in my life have I had such a hard time trying to finish a cup of coffee. It wouldn't have crossed my mind that all those "nice," whoops, I mean all those "lovely" ladies of the Garden Club could be so dastardly. If I so much as looked the other way, some tidy little person would pick up my cup and take it to the kitchen. After all, it was at my house -- if I had wanted it picked up, I would have done the picking. Perhaps it had something to do with Halloween, or because our meeting was on the 13th and we had 13 there -- Ida Jones, Irene Mitchell, Alma Williams, Sybil Cockrum, Maureen Hudman, Shorty King, Annie Laurie Francis, Marion Wheatley, Carlene

Kyle, co-hostess Thelma Epley, (good sandwich maker), and new associate-member, Louella Bilberry. Our other, very much appreciated guest, Ida Mae Wilks gave us a real look at southern belles in her review of "A Southern Belle's Primer or Why Princes Margaret Will Never Be A Kappa Kappa Gamma." If you've ever moved to a new town and seemed to have a difficult time fitting in with the people who have lived there always, think on this. A real southern belle was always and evermore from the town where she was born. Consider the lady who had lived in Mobile for 99 years. When asked where she was from, her reply was, "Birmingham" -- the place where she was born. And how would you like to choose a husband based on what silver pattern was used by his family, supposedly an indication of the personality traits of his family. Using dark meat in chicken salad was unforgivable and words describing other ladies, in descending order of their complimentary meaning were: lovely, precious, darling, cute, sweet (kiss of death), and nice (kiss of death with coffin sealed). To all those lovely, precious, darling, cute ladies who kept getting my coffee cup, just want you to know I had a whole cup by myself after you left.

Gamma Mu met in the home of Metta Tyler on October 11 for their monthly meeting. Members present enjoyed a meal of tuna sandwiches, chips, dips and a fruit platter. Hostesses for the evening were Metta Tyler and Jana Bullard. The group discussed fundraisers for the year. Members in attendance were: Metta Tyler, Jana Bullard, Shellee Odum, Ofelia Hoover, Marta Williams, Debbie Webb, Melanie Morris, Christina Jones, Deborah Guinn and Christy Morris.

The restructuring of PLEXAR I will, among other things: (1) reduce the maximum line size from 30 to 9; (2) obsolete and grandfather certain optional features; (3) eliminate the requirement to subscribe to Feature Package Two in order to subscribe to certain optional features; (4) reduce the nonrecurring and monthly rates of certain features; and (5) increase the nonrecurring charges for the PLEXAR I System Charge ($2.10 to $8.00), Call Transfer Disconnect feature ($3.00 to $8.00), and Convenience Dialing I feature ($6.35 to $8.00). All current PLEXAR I customers will have the option of keeping their current PLEXAR I service, switching to the new restructured PLEXAR I service, or switching to PLEXAR II service with ten or more lines. The proposed PLEXAR II restructure will, among other things: (1) change the tariffed offering to serve the market segment of 10-74 stations; (2) create two station pricing structures, one for customers with 10-29 stations, and one for customers with 30-74 stations; (3) reduce the sensitivity for the loop portion of the rate to two price bands: 0-2 miles, and beyond 2 miles; (4) offer a PLEXAR II basic station that can be flexibly configured, from a number of standard features, to meet the individual customer requirements; (5) change the way the termination liability is calculated so the customer is responsible for 65% rather than 56% of the present worth of the remaining monthly payments in the contract; (6) create an option that allows month-to-month customers to convert to long term contracts of at least three years and receive a credit or "contract signing bonus"; and (7) establish a System Subsequent Change Charge which applies per serving central office when changes are made that affect the entire system. Current PLEXAR II customers will also have the option of keeping their current PLEXAR II service, or switching to the new restructured PLEXAR II service. PLEXAR II customers with at least 75 stations also have the option of switching to PLEXAR Custom service in certain situations. This application has been assigned Docket Number 13210. Motorists urged to be on the lookout for trick-or-treaters

It's nearing the end of October, the leaves are falling, temperatures are changing and children are getting excited about Halloween. Although private parties have taken over for the traditional door to door "trick or treats", still many young children will be taking to our neighborhoods for that all familiar chant.

Major Lamar Beckworth of the Texas Department of Public Safety said, "Many disasters can be prevented this Halloween if parents and motorists will use good judgement". Major Beckworth stated, "Small children should be accompanied by older children or adults and trick or treating should be confined to those areas that the parents are familiar with. Costumes should be light in color, non-flammable and any type of mask used should not prevent the child from being able to see".

Parents should also instruct their children in some traffic safety tips, insuring that they look in all directions before crossing streets and to walk, never run. A flashlight carried by the child can serve as a warning to motorists, and children should be instructed to use sidewalks whenever possible. Motorists should use extra caution in residential areas and be on the lookout for kids darting into the streets between parked vehicles. Remember, they are excited and pre-occupied with trick or treating. Drivers need to be extra alert.

For those who wish to participate in this upcoming Halloween evening and receive a visit from that little ghost or goblin, it is a good idea to remember to leave that front porch light on and to insure there are no obstructions in the walkways.

Thomas, Fluitt elected to serve on SWCD board

On October 4, 1994, B.L. Thomas and Delwin Fluitt of Graham Community were elected to serve on the Garza Soil and Water Conservation board of directors. Thomas represents Zone One of the district. Fluitt will represent Zone Two.

The purpose of the Garza SWCD, is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on agricultural lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers, ranchers, and local community entities on conservation matters.

The board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purposes.

The five members serving on the district board of directors are responsible for district policies and procedures for carrying out the district program within the framework of the Texas soil conservation district law.

Thomas and Fluitt are both active in farming in Garza County.

In Texas there are 213 soil and water conservation districts. Each is a legal subdivision of state government organized by local agricultural landowners with the assistance of the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board. Unlike most other legal subdivisions of state government, SWCDs do not have the powers of taxation or eminent domain. All conservation programs managed by the district are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator or other potential users of the SWCD's programs.

From the Pulpit Take these chains from my heart and set me free!

There is a country song which says, "Take These Chains From My Heart and Set Me Free" and in the days in which we live, many seem to be bound by various heartache and the desire is to be set free from these chains. The problem is that people look for this freedom in the wrong places. They look for things in this old world to set them free such as fame and fortune, drugs and amusements, thrills and excitement. None of these things bring freedom from the chains that bind and hurt. The only one that has the power to set one completely free is Jesus Christ. Jesus said, "I came to seek and to save (or set free) that which was lost." Again the Bible says, "If the son of God sets you free, you shall be free indeed." John 8:36. Let us consider one of these chains that brings bondage. The Chains of Worldliness This includes the collecting of things instead of an experience with God. People put much stock in things. Things become a way of life for some and take the place of God in their lives. What is needed is an experience with Jesus Christ. He is the only one that will completely satisfy and set people free from the bondage which they are seeking. Jesus is all a person needs in this life and the life to come. This includes the cares of this world instead of the caring for ones own spiritual welfare and needs. The cares of taking care of a family to some, take the place of a relationship with God. Thus their family becomes their God. Caring for a family is needed. God expects us to care for our family but not to put our family before Him in our lives. The cares of taking care of a business. Again, to some their business becomes their God and with it bondage, not freedom. J.C. Penny said, "If you are too busy in your business to attend church then you are too busy." Jesus said that the cares of this world choke the word of God within the heart. The Apostle Peter went fishing again after following the Lord Jesus Christ simply because he was caring for the cares of this world instead of doing the will of God. Jesus asked Peter, "Do you love me more than these?" There are some many chains that bring people into bondage. Worldliness is only one of them. If you're singing that country song "Take These Chains From My Heart and Set Me Free" remember that Jesus Christ is the only one that offers real freedom. Rev.
