Local Farmer Places In State Corn Contest

Bin busting yields despite a weather-delayed harvest across much of the country helped Bill Hunt capture third place in the Irrigated division of the 1992 National Corn Growers Association National Corn Yield Contest in Texas.

Hunt posted a yield of 280.50 bushels per acre to be among the 508 winners who received top honors in the annual contest.

This year's contest included 2,470 harvested entries from 44 states, up from 2,262 completed entries last year. It represents the largest number of entries ever in the 28-year-old contest, according to Randy Cruise, NCGA president from Pleasanton, Neb.

The contest entry was planted in a field that had raised corn and cotton in 1991. It was planted April 6, 1992 in 40-inch rows, and watered with furrow irrigation. It was harvested on October 7, 1992 at 18.30 percent moisture.

To achieve the award-winning yield, Hunt applied approximately 260 pounds of nitrogen, 70 pounds of phosphate and 20 pounds of potash per acre. He used atrazine at 1.00 pound per acre to control weeds.

College Financial Aid Seminar Well Attended

A large number of students and parents attended the sixth annual College Financial Aid Seminar Tuesday night at the Muleshoe High School Cafeteria. Nancy Kidd, president of the Jennyslippers gave the welcome and Billy Downing introduced the panel of speakers.

Sponsored by the Jennyslippers, the seminar was open to all area juniors and seniors seeking higher education. Officials from several colleges and universities were on hand instructing students on where and how to apply for scholarships, as well as other means to finance their education.

Al Bishop, MHS principal, also welcomed everyone to the seminar and thanked the Jennyslippers for sponsoring it. Bishop stated that scholarship applications are available at Mrs. Marr's office. He encouraged the students to go by the office, stating that he or Mrs. Marr would help them in any way possible.

Included on the panel of speakers was Linda Tinsley, director of Financial Aid at West Texas State University. Ms. Tinsley encouraged the students to talk to their school counselor about the scholarships which are available. "In addition to scholarships, there are Financial Aid and Gift Aid programs available," said Ms. Tinsley. "Loans are good if looked at as an investment, but don't borrow more than you need. There is also federal work programs, most schools try to have part time jobs for students. Work is a good thing, but don't let it become a priority," she continued.

"If you want to know where to look for scholarships, take a look in the mirror," said Dr. Ronny Barns, Assistant Vice President of Student Affairs from Texas Tech University. "Scholarships are usually awarded on some unique quality of a student. Another thing, you can look to family ties. Do your parents belong to any clubs or organizations that offer scholarships. Its also a time to brag. List everything you are, or have been involved in both school and the community, it does make a difference." Dr. Barns also stressed neatness on an application.

Carolyn Karvosky, Associate Director, Student Financial Aid at Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, and Leo Hatten, Sr. Coordinator of ENMU were also on hand and gave pointers on filling out applications for Federal Student Aid. "Unfortunately you do have to pay out of state tuition, except when you take six hours or less or when taking summer courses.

Annual Toast To Texas Celebration Tuesday

The annual Toast To Texas has been re-scheduled for Tuesday, March 9 on the Bailey County Courthouse lawn.

The toast was originally scheduled for March 2 but was re-scheduled due to the death of Dusty Rhodes.

Beginning at 2 p.m. sharp, the program will get underway with the toast, followed by the welcome and a touch of the history of Bailey County by the Mayor of Muleshoe Robert Montgomery.

Sharon Grant will sing "Texas Our Texas". Bailey County's contribution to the great state of Texas--Saluting Agriculture will be presented by Bailey County Judge Marilyn Cox.

This part of the program is planned to coincide with the theme of the annual Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture banquet, which is scheduled for March 26.

Paula Braddock and a host of other special guests will provide special entertainment.

Another added attraction this year will be Cliff Allen, who will demonstrate saddle making. Nelda Merriott stated that she hoped to have both Boy and Girl Scouts on the program. She also stated that she hoped to have the entire fourth grade class walk over from Mary DeShazo Elementary. It has become a tradition for the fourth graders to attend the toast as a group. Following the celebration, the Courthouse and Law Enforcement Center will hold an open house, sponsored by the Jennyslippers.

Due to the cold weather in December the Boy Scouts were unable to collect their usual supply of canned food for the Food Box here in Muleshoe, so a trailer will be on the lawn if you would like to donate some canned food to the Food Box. "All food collected will remain in Muleshoe, for those facing an emergency," said Nelda Merriott.

Straight From The Heart Of Texas ...

David Bradley

From the west Texas town of Muleshoe, comes a real artist of country music! David Bradley, newest member of the "Sons of the Pioneers" family, lived every summer in Muleshoe from 1969-1974. He then moved to Muleshoe, living here from 1975-1977. While living in this quiet town of approximately 5,000 people, he worked at Carl's Meat Market for one year, and Piggly Wiggly for one year as a meat cutter. He then moved to Amarillo and worked for Piggly Wiggly until the company sold out in 1979. He was a meat cutter for twelve years, and in 1986, began playing music professionally, joining the "Sons of the Pioneers" in 1988.

A real cowboy from West Texas, David has an excellent voice and members of the group claim, "he is the finest yodeler the Pioneers have had since the days of Roy Rogers.

Before joining the group, David played with other various groups such as being feature vocalist, yodeler, and band leader in 1992 at Silver Dollar City in Branson, Mo.; band leader, vocalist and musician for "Junction" music group in Dallas from 1986-1988; featured vocalist and yodeler in 1986 for the Ozark Country Jubilee in Branson; featured vocalist, yodeler and musician for Ozark Mountain Hoe Down in Eureka Springs, Ark. in 1984; and featured entertainer, vocalist from 1981-1983 for Johnie High's Country Music Revue in Ft. Worth, Tx., Mesquite Opry in Mesquite, Tx., and Grapevine Opry in Grapevine, Tx. He has also done jingles for radio and TV and songwriter demos. In 1985 he was with an opening act for the "Judds" and also in 1986 for "Hank Williams, Jr."

David's grandparents, Arthur M. and Chelle Bradley, lived in Muleshoe and were members of the Calvary Baptist Church. His parents, Gene M. and Shirley Bradley reside in Dallas, and still own the farm in Muleshoe. His aunt and uncle, W.S. "Sam" and Hazel Bradley live in Lazbuddie. David and his wife, Thea now live in Branson, Mo. and in Tuscan, Arizona during the summer.

David says he still visits Muleshoe and the farm once a year for about a week during pheasant season. "I truly hope to live in Muleshoe again someday," David said. "Muleshoe has always been my home away from home." He adds, "I have wonderful memories of there of working on the farm, and my family."

The "Sons of the Pioneers" began in 1933, when Len Slye, Bob Nolan and Tim Spencer formed the Pioneer Trio. In 1934, when Hugh Farr joined the group, they became the "Sons of the Pioneers". In 1937, Len Slye left the group and became Roy Rogers "King of the Cowboys" at Republic Movie Studios. Pat Brady was his replacement, and later became his sidekick, driving the jeep "Nelliebelle". Bob Nolan and Tim Spencer retired in 1949, with Tom Doss and Ken Curtis replacing them. Ken left in 1952 and later became "Festus" in the TV series "Gunsmoke".

Dale Warren, trail boss and member of 39 years as a Pioneer, says "The songs of yesterday were great, but so is the music of today." He says, "The talented new members, combined with the old regulars makes the Sons of the Pioneers forever old-forever young." Warren adds, "We're just getting started. I won't be around for the next fifty-seven years, but the Sons of the Pioneers will and the tradition will live on."

Ag Leaders Talk Pollution Prevention As Regulators Listen

Agricultural producers and environmental regulators agreed recently that an ounce of pollution prevention is better than a pound of regulatory cure.

At a regional workshop in Fort Worth, officials with the Environmental Protection Agency heard the first reaction of major groups in agriculture, fisheries and forestry to the agency's new national Pollution Prevention Strategy. The program was developed as a result of the 1990 Pollution Prevention Act.

And the agriculture leaders weren't shy about sharing their views. They said that permitting regulations should be consolidated and called for consistency among federal and state regulatory agencies.

"We need one-stop shopping," said Ron Horol of the Louisiana Farm Bureau. "Too many times, we design and install equipment to meet permit requirements of one agency and then discover we must go through another process with a separate agency often with conflicting standard."

"Concentrated animal feeding operations are already meeting existing federal and state 'no-charge' regulations," said Ross Wilson of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association.

Also, permits that require large capital outlays, like waste management systems, need to be consistent with typical financial payout factors.

"Bankers don't look kindly on loans that have an eight-year payout with only a five-year permit," said John Sweeten, agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Producers also said they wanted regulations that recognize site differences.

"We can't apply the same practices to the wetlands of Texas and the dry areas of the High Plains," said Ken Horton of the Texas Pork Producers.

"The reality is that enforcing environmental laws in agriculture can't work the same as for industry," said Harry Wells, EPA's agriculture coordinator in Washington, D.C. "A few producers 'do right' only because there is a threat of regulation."

"But agriculture is just too diverse. There aren't enough EPA policemen or Texas Rangers in the world. Regulation is a component of environmental protection for agriculture but not the only component."

Wells outlined EPA's "infant strategy" for voluntary pollution prevention in agriculture.

"This regional meeting is the sparkplug, the first, we hope, to spark interest in similar exchanges between industry and the agencies charged with environmental protection. We Washington people here were here just to listen."

"They really did listen," said Sweeten. "I've never seen producers so encouraged and feeling they are being heard. It's an exciting step for the two groups to come together at this stage of a new program. Nobody denies the problems, but all are trying to problem-solve for the future with effective voluntary programs."

Phil Christensen, strategic planning coordinator with USDA's Soil Conservation Service agreed: "The ag community's responses help keep us practical. Voluntary compliance is far more likely too, if producers feel it is not a 'top-down' program imposed on them."

Speakers on both sides called for more time for producers to get the environmental information and education needed to implement new practices.

"De-emphasize blame and help farmers find the best ways not to pollute water," said Brad Lamb with EPA in Dallas.

There seemed to be a consensus that mandated regulations aren't the solution for agriculture. Laura Townsend of EPA in Dallas echoed her Washington colleagues as she outlined the Pollution Prevention Program.

"After-the-fact regulation is neither economically feasible nor environmentally sound," she said. "We have learned it's the greatest limitation to enforcing environmental laws. Rather we must develop production practices that prevent pollution."

"The Pollution Prevention Strategy places major emphasis on source reduction. The work groups developed from this conference will provide valuable insight to regulators from the people most affected in the field."

The workshop drew 100 people from Texas and its four bordering states. Other suggestions compiled during separate commodity work sessions include:

- * Integrate pollution prevention into economic decisions;
- * Develop a workbook or checklist guide for permit applications;
- * Support research and studies of ongoing operations and best management practices;
- * Resolve conflicting regulations on pesticide storage and disposal; and
- * Offer benefits to early adopters of improved pollution prevention practices.

Clinton Approval

Polls show President Clinton's economic program supported by about 75% of all Americans.

Senator Teel Bivins

Let me quote from a letter written by a man serving time for aggravated sexual abuse. He wrote the letter to a judge in an appeal for surgical castration:

"I have been afflicted by obsessive sexual behavior most of my life. It's not like I have not attempted to change. I've seen some very good therapists on my own and every time I've gone to prison. I have sought and obtained counseling. It was a condition of parole which I fulfilled the last time I was released. But I'm afraid none of it has helped much."

Surprisingly, this isn't an unusual request. Offenders request castration, because they feel victimized by uncontrollable sexual compulsions (caused by testosterone from their testicles). That option is unavailable to Texas inmates. Instead, a small percentage receive counseling while they serve time. And of this group, studies have shown that they often reoffend at a greater rate than those who received no counseling at all.

If the above inmate is the average sex offender, he'll repeat this crime. In fact, he'll probably commit numerous offenses before being caught. It's a vicious cycle with women and children in the middle.

I've introduced a bill in the Texas Senate that would allow sex offenders to voluntarily receive surgical castration as a treatment. I want to emphasize the word "voluntary." No one would be forced into castration as a punishment. This procedure would be offered solely as treatment. It could in no way be used as a punishment for sex offenders.

In fact, not every offender requesting castration would receive it. Castration would be available only for repeat offenders. Volunteers would be screened and counseled to ensure they'd benefit. They'd also need consent from spouses.

I know castration is an emotional issue, but I hope debate can stay on a reasonable scientific level. You might remember the well-publicized case in Houston more than a year ago when a state district judge there was considering a sex offender's request to be castrated as part of a plea bargaining agreement.

The whole case became an emotional circus with unsubstantiated allegations of racism flying around. It bears mentioning that there are more white sex offenders in Texas prisons than Black or Hispanic. And there's no doubt research supports the use of voluntary castration as a way of allowing compulsive offenders to lead normal, productive lives.

Europe has had tremendous success with voluntary castration. Recidivism rates there are around 3%, compared to ours which range anywhere from 50% to 80%. Because of this state's alarming increase in sexual assaults, we cannot ignore the demonstrable effectiveness of this treatment.

Some have argued that castration of any kind is barbaric, and therefore, should never be considered. But isn't it more barbaric to send unreformed sex offenders who have requested castration back onto the streets to prey on innocent people? Besides, if it's not barbaric for a woman to remove her ovaries, why is it barbaric for a man to remove his testicles?

According to the U.S. Department of Justice, sexual assaults in the United States have jumped 59% in the past year. Obviously, available treatments haven't worked. We can continue to counsel sex offenders with the same failed results or we can offer a treatment that's proven to work.

Good News For Asthmatic Sufferers

A simple surgical procedure may help people with asthma who suffer from recurring attacks known as "sinobronchial syndrome."

"Sinobronchial syndrome occurs when patients are treated for an asthma attack, but not the clogged sinuses that triggered the attack. This causes the asthma to return again and again," said Dr. Gene Alford, an assistant professor of otorhinolaryngology at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Alford and his colleagues use endoscopic surgery to clear the sinus drainage canals. In the procedure, a tube with a tiny cutting device attached at the end is inserted through the nose.

Through a "telescope", the surgeon opens the bony channels of the sinus and removes excess mucosa, the moist tissue that lines the sinus cavity. In asthmatics or people with allergies, the tissue swells, causing the channels to close.

Endoscopic surgery is easier on the patients than is standard sinus surgery, says Alford.

"Sinus surgery used to leave large incisions above the mouth, bruising around the eyes and up to two weeks of swelling," he said. "With endoscopic surgery, there is usually no more than an overnight stay, no incisions and no bruises. Plus, it dramatically opens up the sinuses, reducing the likelihood for sinobronchial syndrome."

Alford says the surgery is also effective for people with allergies who have failed "standard medical treatment."

"Obviously, if an over-the-counter drug works, then endoscopic surgery is out of the question," he said. "But if the doctor has tried the normal treatments and drugs, and the allergies persist, then the surgery is usually recommended."

That's good news for the some 40 million Americans who suffer from allergies or sinusitis, says Alford.

"Endoscopy has really revolutionized sinus surgery," he said. "We're seeing some real good, long-term results. And it's not just for the most extreme cases."

Is there a different method to cook frozen and fresh hamburger patties in a microwave?

Yes. Frozen patties should be turned over after part cooking. Fresh hamburger patties need only be rotated after half cooking time.

Both should be microwaved on High, and patties covered with wax paper.

Hawaiian Bread

1 yellow cake mix, dry
5 cups flour
4 pkg. dry yeast
1 1/4 cups hot water (out of tap)
1 1/4 cups "hot" pineapple juice

Mix the above ingredients in a large bowl. Let rise until double in size. Place on a lightly floured board. Knead 1 minute. Shape into rolls. Let rise until double. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Variation: Substitute all water for the juice. For a round Hawaiian bread, place about 1/3 of the dough in the center of a greased small pie plate. Let rise. Brush with a whole beaten egg. Bake as directed.

2 tsp. ground cinnamon
1 cup pecans, chopped
1/2 cup margarine, melted
1 recipe of Hawaiian Bread (above)
1/2 cup whipping cream

Mix brown sugar and cinnamon. Roll out 1/4 of dough into a rectangle about 1/4 inch thick. Cover with half of the sugar-cinnamon mixture. Drizzle with 1/4 cup melted margarine. Roll out, starting at the long side. Slice into 3/4 inch slices. Lay slices in a 8x8 inch pan that has been greased and the remaining sugar-cinnamon mixture spread in the bottom. Sprinkle with pecans. Pour whipping cream over rolls. Let rise until double. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes, or until done.

Farmers To Benefit From Reduced Rates

For the fourth time in the last 12 months, the variable interest rate for Federal Land Bank Association agricultural, rural housing and farm-related business loans has declined. The new rate, effective March 1, is 8.2 percent.

The new rate benefits nearly 30,000 farmers, ranchers and rural homeowners throughout Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas who do business with FLBAs.

"Like other businessmen, farmers are concerned about keeping their business costs as low as possible," said Michael R. Davis, president of the Farm Credit Bank of Texas. "We hope this latest rate reduction will help create a more favorable financial environment for our stockholders."

Davis said the rate reduction was a reflection of the bank's lower cost of funds and the FLBAs' strong financial performance.

In addition to reducing the variable interest rate, the bank has received regulatory approval to originate and sell loans through the Federal National Mortgage Corporation (Fannie Mae).

"Our entrance into the Fannie Mae market is exciting because it enables the district's FLBAs to offer 30-year fixed-rate mortgages to rural home buyers," Davis said. "Fannie Mae gives our borrowers yet another option to meet their financing needs."

The Farm Credit Bank of Texas provides loan funds through 48 FLBAs in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas. FLBAs make long-term agricultural and rural housing loans through locally-owned and operated offices. Additional information on FLBA loans is available through the local offices.

High School Activity Programs Real Bargain

and cooperation.

At a cost of only one to three percent (or less in many cases) of an overall school's budget, high school activity programs are one of the best bargains around. It is in these vital programs--sports, music, speech, drama, debate--where young people learn lifelong lessons that are as important as those taught in the classroom.

Unfortunately, there appears to be a creeping indifference toward school activity programs by the general public. This neglect undermines the educational mission of our schools and the potential prosperity of our communities, state, and nation. It is imperative for all concerned citizens to be aware of the facts regarding extra curricular activities and their role in the educational process.

Activities are not a diversion but rather an extension of a good educational program. Students who participate in activity programs have higher grade point averages, better attendance records, lower drop out rates, and fewer discipline problems than students who do not participate. These are facts--not myths.

Activity programs provide valuable lessons for many practical situations, work habits, team work, sportsmanship, winning, losing, time management, etc. Through participation in extracurricular activity programs students learn self discipline, self confidence, and develop social skills to handle many situations. These are qualities the public expects schools to produce in students so that they become responsible adults and productive citizens.

At a recent seminar of corporate leaders, many business leaders were surveyed about education and requirements for job success. The number one job requirement indicator for new employees was the ability to get along and cooperate with others. Activity programs are the best laboratory in education for teaching teamwork

Don Nickles, U.S. Senator (R-Okla):

Rotary Hears Program On Public School Financing

"On May 1 you will have the opportunity to vote on three constitutional amendments and all they will do is change the rules for school finance," said Bill Moore, Superintendent of the MISD, in speaking to the Rotary Club at noon Tuesday. "If the voters approve these amendments there are a number of changes to comply with it."

These changes could include: legalization of CED's, part of the Sales Tax (Lottery has nothing to do with it), Working Group Settlement, Recapture money on county basis, Penny Pool, Single County CED, Companion Bill 749, and School Consolidation.

"Consolidation would hit the big cities harder than they would us. Then there are the unfunded mandates," Moore continued. The state mandates something and the school districts have to pay for it. I am not against some of the mandates, its just getting the money to pay for them."

The state has promised to put up $750 million to help build schools, if the district is eligible, Moore told the Rotarians. "MISD would not qualify due to it being a pay as you go district. The ones who would benefit the most from this money would be the valley and Metroplex."

"In order to get these amendments passed, they must have a bill out by May 1. Moore continued.

"They speak of closing the schools in June if a solution is not reached, school will already be out then. The question is when will they open again." When asked about the enrollment in the Muleshoe schools, Moore stated that it was down slightly, but it was starting to pick up.

David Tipps, president, called the regular meeting to order and Terry Hutto led the group in two songs.

Bill Moore was in charge of the program.

Muleshoe Track Season Begins at Ft. Stockton

The Muleshoe High School track team attended the Comanche Relays at Ft. Stockton on Feb. 26 and 27. The Mules and Lady Mules make the annual trip to one of the best track meets in West Texas, according to Coach Randy Adair.

Muleshoe competed in the same division with five AAAA schools and seven other AAA schools. The AAAA state champion from last year, San Angelo Lakeview won the boys division. The Ft. Stockton Lady Panthers won the girls division.

The Comanche Relays have been run for forty six years in a row. "It is always a very organized and well-run meet," said Coach Adair. "It usually features the best teams in West Texas and is always well attended. The Chamber of Commerce co-sponsors the meet as well as a tennis tournament and golf tournament on the same weekend.

"Hundreds upon hundreds of athletes compete in the full weekend of activities. The chamber sponsors a dance for the competitors on Friday night. The coaches are given a Bar-B-Q dinner that same night. The meet is very prestigious and a very good way to start the high school track season.

"The Muleshoe Mules performed well with a very young team of mostly ninth and tenth grade athletes. Two seniors were outstanding at the meet. Eric Cisneros ran second in both the 1600 run and 3200 run. Eric was the most competitive in the 1600 with a time of 4:37.9. The state champion in AAAA from last year, Jeff Lewis of San Angelo Lakeview, edged Eric down the final straightaway and ran a 4:35.6.

"Monica Clemons came in second in the Long Jump with a jump of 15'11 3/4". Monica lost by just 1/4" to Brandy Fowler of Midland Greenwood. Monica had a jump of 17'2" that did not count due to a foul at the jumping board. However, this was an excellent jump in cool temperatures and the first met of the year.

"Also, a big surprise for the Mules and Lady Mules were several other competitors. Alfredo Gonzales came in third in the polevault. He jumped 11'0" and was very close to jumping 11'6" at the competition. In addition Jesus Flores placed fifth in the 400 meter dash with a time of 54.54. Jesus is just a sophomore and Alfredo is a freshman. Both Jesus and Alfredo are outstanding young track men with a very good future in track.

"LaTonya Payne did well at the meet placing fifth in the shot put and sixth in the discus. Keetha Glover also had a great meet placing third in the 1600 meter run with a time of 6:19.8. Every other finisher in the top six of her event was a AAAA runner. Keetha and LaTonya are both in the tenth grade. Several of the competitors for Muleshoe did their personal best at the meet. Congratulations to the track team for a good start."

The high school team competed Saturday at Floydada. The junior high teams competed Friday at Tulia. This was the first meet for the junior high teams.

The junior high will compete at Friona on March 13. The girls high school team will run at Lubbock Roosevelt on March 13. The boys high school team will run at the West Texas Relays in Odessa on March 12 and 13. Everyone is asked to support the Muleshoe track program.

The Muleshoe High School meet will be held on Saturday, March 27. The Junior High meet will be on Saturday, April 3. Anyone interested in helping with the meets as a worker, judge, or timer is asked to contact Coach Adair at 272-7571.

Volunteer workers will receive a complimentary cap and/or T-shirt for working the meet. Support the Muleshoe students and athletes and plan on attending both meets.

The high school district meet this year is at Dimmitt on April 16 and 17. The junior high district meet is April 24 and is also at Dimmitt. The district meet will be at Muleshoe in 1994, and plans are already being made for that event.

"These Mules can run!!!!" said Coach Adair.

Veterans Given Chance To Bid On State Land

A catalogue listing 468 tracts of forfeited state land reserved exclusively for bids from Texas veterans is now available from the Texas Veterans Land Board (VLB) by calling 1-800-252-VETS. Bids will be opened on April 27 at 1 p.m.

Located in 124 Texas counties (with the majority in North, Central and East Texas) the tracts, known as Type I properties, range in size from five to 227 acres.

The VLB will finance the full amount of all winning bids. There is no limit on the amount loaned or on the number of tracts that an individual can bid on. However, eligible Texas veterans are limited to one land purchase in the sale and must not have previously purchased land through the VLB.

"Texas veterans should take advantage of this sale if they are in the market for land to use for recreation or an investment," said Garry Mauro, chairman of the VLB. "Since these tracts have never been offered for sale by the board, this sale gives Texas veterans an excellent opportunity to buy land with 100 percent financing."

Tracts not sold in the April sale will be offered to both veterans and non-veterans through local real estate agents.

Eligible Texas veterans will receive a 7.79 percent interest rate with a 30-year assumable fixed-rate loan. A $25 non-refundable fee for each bid submitted is required.

The sale will be by sealed bid only, with a minimum bid set on each tract. All bids must be received by April 27 at 1 p.m. Bidders need not be present at the bid opening in Austin.

NEWS FROM Association of Texas Professional Educators

Our communities are seeing an epidemic of violence; increasingly, these violent acts are being perpetrated by the young, many times near schools or on school grounds.

The January/February issue of ATPE News, the official publication of the Association of Texas Professional Educators (ATPE), examines the growing problem of youth violence. The journal also visits Judson ATPE Vice President Clarence Alberts, who is working to stop student violence and gangs at Judson High School. Both of these articles are the first part of a two-part series on the subject; the March/April ATPE

News will look at what school districts across the state are doing to combat youth violence and gangs.

This issue of ATPE News also looks at health care of children, which is sorely lacking in the state and nation. The problem and possible solutions are discussed.

The January/February ATPE News also includes a special 11 page convention section to help ATPE members prepare for the association's 13th annual state meeting, to be held March 25-27 at Austin's new convention center. Also provided in the journal is a discussion of educators' responsibilities and rights in dealing with child abuse victims and violent students. The hurdles facing the 73rd Legislature, which currently is struggling to solve Texas' public school finance dilemma, also are discussed.

With 57,400 members, ATPE is the largest independent, nonunion educators' association in the state and nation. Its membership consists mostly of classroom teachers but also includes administrators, paraprofessionals, retired educators, education students and public members.

ATPE News is published five times a year by ATPE. Subscriptions are $10 per year and are available by writing to the Editor, ATPE News, 505 E. Huntland Drive, Suite 250, Austin, Tx 78752-3792.

KENW-TV

Public Television

Festival '93

March 5th - 22nd

Celebrate New Mexico

KENW-TV knows how to make fund raising fun and profitable for their viewers, and this year's Festival '93 "Celebrate New Mexico" membership drive is no exception.

March 5th - 22nd on Eastern New Mexico's Public Television station, viewers can be eligible to win vacations, shopping sprees and more when they tune in to KENW. Drive organizer Jan Smartnick, KENW-TV development officer, has planned "Community Nights" which will feature some great vacation giveaways from areas across the beautiful land of enchantment. When viewers make a pledge to the station, their names will automatically be entered into the hopper for the drawings.

Viewers do not have to make a pledge to the station to be eligible for the drawings. They may bring by or mail a 3" X 5" card with their name, phone number, and address appearing on it to KENW TV, 52 Broadcast Center, Portales, NM, 88130.

Communities having their own dedicated evenings throughout the March Drive include Roswell (5th), Tucumcari (6th), Carlsbad (8th), Farmington (9th), Red River (10th), Portales (11th), Truth or Consequences (13th), Ruidoso (14th), Raton (15th), Las Cruces (17th), Melrose (18th), and Alamogordo (19th).

Also, "North Plains Mall Night" is March 12th, while "Floyd Jamboree Night" will be held on March 20th.

Programming throughout the drive will be "first-rate," according to Smartnick, when the station debuts 16 brand-new programs on the airwaves.

"Everyone loves the new Public Television hit, Barney and Friends, so we're extremely pleased to offer to our younger viewers an all-afternoon Barney marathon, slated for Sunday, March 7th from 2:30 to 6:00 p.m.," adds Smartnick.

Other great programs during Festival '93 include From the Heart, a Lawrence Welk special hosted by Barbara Mandrell on Saturday, March 6th at 7:00 p.m. The program features special appearances by The Lennon Sister, Pete Fountain, Floyd Cramer, and The Jordanaires.

On Sunday, March 7th at 7:00 p.m., Great Performances salutes composer/lyricist Stephen Sondheim in "Sondheim: A Celebration at Carnegie Hall." In the special, Glenn Close, Madeline Kahn, Patti LuPone, Liza Minnelli, Bernadette Peters, and many others perform selections from the master composer and lyricist's eclectic repertory. The concert confirms Sondheim's reputation as the American musical's most daring innovator and consummate craftsman.

Peter, Paul and Mommy, Too, scheduled Wednesday, March 10th at 8:30 p.m., showcases new songs as well as old favorites for the entire family. The program features the folk trio's television debuts of "Hey, Motswala," "Day Is Done," and others.

KENW-TV, a Public Television station located on the campus of Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, New Mexico, hosts three membership drives annually. All funds raised are used to pay for programming costs incurred by the station. If you want to become a "Friend of KENW-TV," contact Jan Smartnick at 562-2112 in Roosevelt County. Travelling With The Texas Angler

by Keith R. Warren

Our wake up call came at 5:30 a.m. at the Sand Castle Condominiums. I jumped out of bed and turned the television on to watch the weather forecast. Just as we'd predicted, the wind was going to blow 15-20 miles per hour.

My wife, Debbie, and I were in Port Aransas, Texas, preparing to go offshore fishing aboard the SCAT CAT. This party boat can fish upwards of 80 people and goes out daily from Fisherman's Wharf. We selected the 9 hour trip rather than the 12 hour.

As we parked the truck in their parking lot, we counted over 20 out of state license plates. These cars belonged to winter Texans who now make their winter homes on our Texas coast.

The manager of Fisherman's Wharf, Roy Schuster, was busy advising the anxious crew of fishermen of the conditions, "the seas were calm overnight, but later on today the winds should pick up pretty good. The boat ride will take about 3 hours to get to the fishing spot. Yesterday the SCAT CAT brought in over 1400 pounds of fish." Even though Roy had warned the fishermen of rough water and high swells, they were willing to take their chances and try their luck. About 15-20 minutes into the trip, the wind had picked up and some people started to look a little pale. Within a few minutes, some of the people started to look green. They were seasick and we still had 2-1/2 hours to travel until we could fish.

As these people were obviously miserable, I glanced over at Debbie Applicants must complete a registration packet, which can be obtained for a $25 fee from SPC's Law enforcement program. Applications must be returned by May 3.

Housing will be available on the SPC campus.

just hoping she'd be OK. Sure enough, she was fine. She said, "Keith, if you can go through 9 months of pregnancy without getting sick, you can do this." Of course she had taken precautionary measures with a patch and motion sickness medication, but I believe she had a good point, because the majority of the sick were men.

When we finally reached our destination there was a huge round of applause and everyone got busy fishing. For several hours people were catching fish one after the other. All fishing equipment and bait is provided by SCAT CAT. The SCAT CAT also has a concession stand, so you don't need to bring food or drinks. You don't need a Texas fishing license or saltwater stamp because you are fishing in Federal waters.

Red Snapper made up most of the catch, but there were some 4 to 5 pound trigger fish brought in as well. It's not uncommon to catch Tuna, Amberjack, Kin Mackerel, Barracuda, and many other species of saltwater fish. I'd been on this trip before, but the action this time was much better.

For some of the older fishermen on board, the deck crew provided electric reels. This allowed them to winch the fish from the bottom with just a push of a button.

Suddenly it occurred to me that no one was sick anymore. For some reason when you're catching fish you forget about your misery.

When we returned to Fisherman's Wharf at 6:00 p.m. everyone was tired but there were smiles all around the boat. Young people and not so young people had enjoyed an affordable day of offshore fishing, and catching. After claiming your catch, Fisherman's Wharf will clean and filet your fish for a nominal charge, ice it down for you and send you on your way.

Offshore fishing is a great way to spend a day. My personal recommendation for anyone who has never been is to check with your physician for a prescription of motion sickness medication. Believe me, it's worth it!

For more information on Port Aransas, contact Lanette Nolte at the Port Aransas Chamber of Commerce, 1-800-45-Coast.

Each year thousands of Texans await spring time in anticipation of the white bass run. Sometime between early January and April, Texas rivers are full of these feisty spawning game fish. Most states are not as fortunate as Texas. Their white bass spawning run begins and ends in approximately 30 days. But due to the size of our State, it is springtime in the Valley and still winter in the Panhandle. Each spring every lakes' population of white bass converge up river. As mother nature instinctively tells them it is spawning time, millions of these fish head for the flowing waters that feed the reservoirs they call home.

The male white bass proceed up river from the main lake first, followed by the females a couple of weeks later. Both male and females will travel as far up river as possible. This usually means to the swift head water or rapids.

Females will dispense their eggs in the current. They do not have spawning beds as do black bass. The eggs are then fertilized by males as the eggs float down river. Many times, these fish will be so full that when they are removed from the water by fishermen, they will spew eggs or sperm from their anal vent.

There is no easier fish for beginning anglers to hone their skills on than the white bass. They are ferocious eaters and put up a very respectable fight for their size. Many hard-core bass fishermen take advantage of the annual spawn of white bass by taking their wives or children with them.

For the fisherman who wants fish for the freezer, the white bass are great. Easy to catch, limits are generous, they can be found in hundreds of rivers throughout the State and they are delicious.

Best lures to use are small baits that resemble bait fish. Small spoons, Rattletraps, and jigs are the most popular and productive. These lures fished in combination with light line (10 lbs. or less) and a light action rod will make any angler respect the fight these feisty fish are capable of.

Water clarity is big factor. Early spring rains have a tendency to turn most rivers off color or even muddy. Generally, the clearer the water, the better the catching will be. Even in the muddiest waters you can still catch these fish. Most anglers believe that muddy water will run them back into the lake, but this is not so. The fish are still in the river, but are more difficult to catch because they can not see the lure. This is why I prefer to use a 3/8 ounce Rattletrap, which has a tremendous vibration and makes a lot of noise. The fish can find this bait easier than most.

The days of catching over 100 white bass each day per person are not gone. It's only a matter of being in the river at the right time in early spring and you will enjoy catching all day long. Please remember to observe the minimum length requirement and daily bag limit.

Keith Warren is the Host of The Texas Angler Television, which broadcasts state wide.

Ask the Vet

Dear Dr. Paul, My husband and I are expecting our first child in June. We have an inside cat and I've heard that could be bad for the baby. Can you please give me some advice?

Many, many millions of babies have been born and raised in households with pet cats where both the babies and the cats did just fine as cohabitants. It would be a good idea to take the cat to your veterinarian for a complete check up before the baby is born. If it hasn't already been done, your veterinarian will want to run tests to make sure the cat doesn't have toxoplasmosis; as an inside cat, chances are very low that he has this condition. More importantly, you should discuss toxoplasmosis with your personal physician. It would be a good idea under your supervision, once the child is born, to expose the cat to the baby and his or her personal effects. It is important to continue to show attention to the cat to prevent the development of jealousy or exclusion. It would be wise to keep the cat out of the baby's crib; sturdy crib nets are available for this purpose. The benefits of a child growing up with a pet far outweigh a few minor risks.

Dear Dr. Paul, Our puppy has really bad breath. Is there anything we can do about it? Also, does that mean the puppy could be sick?

If your puppy has persistent bad breath (halitosis), I strongly recommend you seek veterinary services promptly. Persistent halitosis is not normal in animals and is a good signal that something has gone wrong. Systemic stomatitis is an inflammatory process in the mouth that is secondary to a wide range of, and often advanced, systemic malfunctions. Since you did not mention that your puppy was showing any other symptoms of ill health, it is more likely that an infection of the oral cavity is causing the halitosis. Such an infection could be caused by bacteria, fungi or viruses. A small foreign body may be lodged in the oral cavity resulting in tissue irritation and infection. Or it could be trapping food which is decaying. Your veterinarian will be able to make a diagnosis and prescribe appropriate therapy.

Dear Dr. Paul, Our black lab started scratching and biting himself last year. He lost much of his hair, his eyes matted, and he is listless. He also has seizures. What would you recommend?

You have described a set of symptoms that could apply to dozens of maladies. The only recommendation I can make is for you to take your dog to a veterinarian. Depending on the diagnosis, the dog's age and his response to any therapy applied, you and your veterinarian can then make some decisions relative to quality of life your dog might expect. I am curious about the seizures you mentioned and would like to hear from you again. How long has this condition been present, how often do they occur, what is the intensity of the seizure and is your dog on any kind of anti-convulsant medication?

Dear Dr. Paul, I keep bees and have heard a lot of talk about a problem with bee mites. I'm concerned that my bees may be affected and wonder what I should do about this problem?

You're right, there has been widespread concern about the incidence of bee mites and their adverse impact on bee colonies as well as on the economics of honey production. The good news is that the EPA has recently registered a new product. New pesticides must also be registered in each state, and that process is underway now. The new product is called Miticur® and it is effective against both tracheal and varroa mites; whereas, other products available are effective for one or the other mite but not both. The Miticur strips should be placed in the hives only when the honey supers have been removed and should remain in place for at least six weeks. If you have questions about whether your bees are infected with mites or not, you should contact your state bee inspector or your state extension bee entomologist.

If you have questions for Dr. Paul, write to him at: Ask The Vet, Hoechst-Roussel Agri-Vet Company, P.O. Box 20421, Kansas City, MO 64195 or call 316-764-32739.

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS

OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS SPECIAL ELECTION MAY 1, 1993

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Section 1 of Senate Joint Resolution 7 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to redistribute among other school districts ad valorem taxes levied and collected by a school district. The amendment would also allow the legislature to create county education districts with the taxable property of existing school districts in one or more counties combined. County education districts may levy, collect, and distribute ad valorem taxes as authorized by general law. The legislature would be allowed to set the rate of the ad valorem tax to be imposed in a school district or county education district or it may authorize the board of trustees of each school district or county education district to set the rate, provided that the rate of county education district ad valorem taxes may not exceed $1.00 per $100 valuation of taxable property, unless a higher rate is approved by the voters of the district. The amendment also provides that the amount of ad valorem taxes redistributed among school districts by the legislature and effectively redistributed within a county through county education districts may not exceed 2.75 percent of the sum of the state revenue appropriated for public schools and the revenue from local ad valorem taxes levied and collected for public schools. The term "state revenue" does not include revenue from ad valorem taxes, revenue for the provision of free textbooks, or contributions to a retirement system. Finally, the amendment provides that it does not affect the distribution of the available school fund under article VII, section 5, of the Texas Constitution.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment allowing limited redistribution of ad valorem taxes for schools, authorizing the legislature or local districts to set a minimum tax rate in county education districts, and placing a cap on the ad valorem tax levied by county education districts."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Section 2 of Senate Joint Resolution 7 proposes a constitutional amendment that would provide that, except for state educational mandates imposed in compliance with the Texas Constitution or federal law, or unless enacted by a vote of at least two-thirds of the members elected to each house of the legislature, a school district may not be required to comply with an obligation requiring expenditure of school district funds unless the obligation is fully funded. The amendment also requires the legislature to provide by law a procedure for determining whether an obligation is fully funded. In the absence of such a procedure, and at the request of a school district's board of trustees, the comptroller of public accounts shall determine whether or not an obligation is fully funded. This amendment applies only to state educational mandates enacted after December 31, 1993.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment exempting a school district from the obligation to comply with unfunded state educational mandates."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 4 proposes an amendment to article VII, section 5(b), of the constitution, which currently authorizes the legislature to provide for using the permanent school fund to guarantee bonds issued by school districts and certain education-related revenue bonds issued by the state. The amendment would repeal the provision authorizing the use of the permanent school fund to guarantee state revenue bonds, but would permit the legislature to provide by law for the issuance of general obligation bonds or revenue bonds of the state for the purpose of making loans to, or purchasing bonds of, school districts for the purpose of acquisition, construction, or improvement of instructional facilities, including all furnishings. The amendment also provides that the state, pursuant to general law, may forgive the payment of principal and interest on all or part of a loan made to a school district under the amendment to partially finance an instructional facility. The cap of $750 million on the amount of bonds that could be issued under article VII, section 5(b), as amended, would be retained. The amendment would repeal the current provision of the constitution permitting the legislature to authorize bonds in excess of $750 million by two-thirds record vote of both houses of the legislature. While any of the general obligation bonds issued under the amendment or any of the interest on those bonds is outstanding and unpaid, there would be appropriated out of the first money coming into the state treasury in each fiscal year, not otherwise appropriated by the constitution, the amount sufficient to pay the principal and interest on the bonds that matured or became due that fiscal year.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of $750 million in state general obligation or revenue bonds to assist school districts in partially financing facilities, authorizing the state to forgive payments of loans made to a school district for partially financing facilities, and repealing the authorization for $750 million in state revenue bonds guaranteed by the permanent school fund."

Este es el informe explicatorio sobre la enmienda propuesta a la constitución que aparecerá en la boleta el día 1 de mayo de 1993. Si usted no ha recibido una copia del informe en español, podrá obtener una gratis por llamar al 1/800/252/8683 o por escribir al Secretario de Estado, P.O. Box 12060, Austin, Texas 78711.

Nursing Home News

by Joy Stancell

Mr. Blalack was visited by his sister Nora Wednesday afternoon.

D.B. Ivy, Arnold Beckett, Ms. Simkins, Birdel Warren, Clara Weaver, Stella Morgan, Mr. Blalack, Wilma Clements, Blanch Awbrey received a visit from Ashley Turner Tuesday afternoon.

Sunday afternoon, Rev. and Mrs. Petersen and members of the Progress Baptist Church came to sing and play gospel music. Brother Petersen lead in the Devotional time.

Tuesday afternoon, Laverne James,

Olive Cox, Beth Watson, Beverly Wagnon, Audrey and Amy Petersen came to shampoo and set the ladies' hair and give manicures. Thursie Reid also gave manicures.

The sounds of March are special-the snap of sheets on the closeline (remember?), the clattering of small birds as they land in the little flocks, and the far-off and lovely sound of a single cow, the sound of music lead by volunteers heard up and down the halls, coming from the Day Room.

Friday afternoon, Irene Splawn, Grace Scarbrough, Winnie Berry, and Gladys McAlisher came to play dominoes and skip-bo with the residents.

Thursday morning Rev. David McIntire assisted by Clara Lou Jones, Rue Kimbrough, Lisa Turner, and Ashley lead us in our Devotional time.

This week we have spent several days celebrating Texas Independence. Tuesday we kicked it off with a Toast to Texas with special music (Texas songs) lead and sung by Lisa Turner with Clara Lou Jones on the piano. Following the program, refreshments of Texas shaped sandwiches, chips, Texas dip, Texas shaped sugar cookies and Texas water was served. Wednesday morning, we had a nice display of home made quirts to feast our eyes upon. We tried our luck at Texas Trivia. We all did pretty good. Prizes of blue bonnets were awarded to all who participated. Refreshments of Texas barbecue, pinto beans, and combread prepared by our special "Mrs. Texas" were served.

The family support group will meet Monday, March 8, 1993 At 7:00 p.m. We invite you to come and join and give your support to others, as well as receive.

Happy March birthdays to Felister Legg-3/19/1914, Otiillie Wisian-3/15/1905, O'hana Snider-3/19/1930, Clara Weaver-3/24.

The Eastern Stars will host the March birthday party Thursday March 25th at 2:30 p.m. We invited all the families and friends of the birthday people to come join the celebration.

If everyone thought alike this would be a stagnant world.

Little Church In The Wildwood

Everyone in the Church
The Church in Everyone

Some where in the background of most church-members there lies a childhood church. For many of us it was a little, very unimpressive building, but the Gospel we heard there was most impressive; it spoke of the real questions we had about life, why we were here and where we are going. Over the years, however, we have moved far away from the little church, but, tragically enough, many of us have left our membership and loyalty back with the old church of childhood. It is a tragedy because now we really have no church; we are neither a part of that church or one where we live. It is most important that one keep alive his fellowship with others who are trying to worship God and live by that faith. To the fellowship God gives strength and guidance, joy and comfort which are utterly missing elsewhere. Don't be a cut flower Christian. Keep your roots planted in a church of which you are a living part.

this week. Concentrate

Smoke & Fed Offices

The lawmakers who helped ban smoking on most domestic flights have a new target: federal office buildings including the White House and Capitol.

Panels Move Swiftly

Congressional committees moved swiftly on family leave and "motor voter" legislation bills Democratic leaders want to get to president Clinton.

SMILES

An Extravagant Start

Nurse--It's twins, sir.
Young Husband--
Good heavens! And I told my wife we must begin in a small way.

Good Suggestion

Salesman--I've been trying for a week to see you. When may I have an appointment?
Manager--Make a
date with my secretary.

Salesman--Oh, I did,
sir--and we had a wonderful time--but I still want to see you.

Kept His Promise

Bride--All men are brutes. My husband promised me a surprise if I learned to cook, so I took lessons.

Friend--You did! And what was the surprise?
Bride--He dismissed
our cook.

Quite A Few

A revivalist said to his congregation:
"There is a man
among us who is flirting
with another man's wife.
Unless he puts $5 in the collection box, his name will be read from the pulpit."

When the collection
box came in there were six $5 bills in it, and one for $2 with a note pinned to it, saying:
"This is all the cash I have, but will send the other $3 on Wednesday."
