Judge Hansard appoints lawyer for Smith in Blodgett murder case

Search warrant authorizes investigation of area ranches for missing body

By Becky Warren
 Accused murderer Jerry Smith, of Post, appeared before 106th District Judge George Hansard, Tuesday, October 17, in the Garza County courthouse for an arraignment. The judge appointed John Caton of Seminole to represent Smith, who is being held in county jail here on charges that he murdered Edna Blodgett. A bond was set at $250,000.

A search warrant has been approved by the District Court authorizes law enforcement officers to search an area ranch in connection with the Blodgett case.

In other district court action Tuesday: Marvin and Diane Pettit, charged in the case of compelling prostitution, were advised by the court that the child involved in the case, will remain in the custody of Child Protective Services.

In a related matter to the same case, Manuel Espinoza, accused of indecency with a child, was arraigned and bond was set at $7,500. Espinoza posted bond and was released.

In another case of indecency with a child, Clarence Warren, Sr., plead guilty to the charge and was given a 10 year probation, which includes the restriction to not be alone with any child under the age of 10.

PHS band earns Division I Rating at UIL marching contest

The Post High School marching band earned a Division I rating at Tuesday's University Interscholastic League (U.I.L.) Region 16 Marching Contest at Jones Stadium in Lubbock. The First Division Rating qualifies the PHS band to advance to the Area D Marching Contest on Saturday, October 28.

Their program included three difficult Latin pieces: Quixote's Conquest, Brazilian Breeze and Sierra Sister. On the field, the band was led by Drum Majors Jayson Fry and Joseph Sanchez. Soloists were Bill Cole on trumpet, Marty Dissinger on trumpet, Ricky Quinonez on trombone and Emilio Moreno on baritone. One the field, the Color Guard was led by Gracie Torres (Captain) and Dominica Polanco (lieutenant).

According to Mr. David Lewis, PHS head band director, the band members put together a difficult show and did it very well. "They are to be commended for their efforts", Lewis said. "As directors, there is only so much we can put into a program like this. Eventually it just comes down to how much of their hearts the students are willing to put into the show".

The band will be going on to compete against other First Division 2A bands from our Region as well as from the Regions of Amarillo, Midland/Odessa and El Paso. Lewis says that there will probably be about 15 bands involved in that competition, with the top two bands from each class advancing to the U.I.L. State Marching Copntest in Austin next month.

"We can only qualify every two years for this, so we are very excited to be able to go on to Area. This year only 1A, 2A and 4A schools can qualify to advance", Lewis explained. The other bands in Region 16 to qualify were Sundown, Hale Center, Abernathy and Idalou. There are fifteen 2A bands in Region 16.

Lewis told us that the band will have 9 rehearsals between now and Area Competition on the 28th. "And you can bet we're glad to have them! Area Competition is tougher in a number of ways. The most visible sign is that there are 5 judges instead of 3". He went on to explain. "The actual judging is a little different, as well. Each band is rated on a 1000 point scale- 500 points available for music, 350 points for marching and 150 points for general effect. The general effect area is where the auxiliaries, in our case the Color Guard,

Tower Theatre hosts talent search

by Ruth Lewis
 Saturday, October 28, the Tower Theatre in Post will host a talent show. According to Wanda Mitchell, spokesperson for the Tower, this particular show serves more than one purpose.

"The Tower is a community theatre, and we want to get the community involved in more than just sitting in the audience", Mitchell said. "We felt that a talent show was a good way to get that kind of involvement started. We encourage everyone with any kind of talent to enter. But, there's a little more to it than that".

Although she wouldn't go into any detail, Mitchell went on to explain that there is a brand new type of production coming to the Tower in November that will really involve the community. "It's called Polley's Follies, and that's all I can tell you, except that it will be loads of fun for everyone - the performers and the audience".

The talent show on October 28 will also serve as the audition platform for any entrants wishing to audition for Polley's Follies. "All people have to do is indicate on their talent show registration form that they want to audition", she explained. "We will also hold auditions on Thursday, October 26th for people who can't or don't want to audition in the talent show. The entry fee for the talent show is $10 for individuals and $12 for groups, but, the first prize in the talent show is $100, and those audition spaces are going to fill up fast". The second prize is $35 and the third prize is 4 tickets to the first performance of Polley's Follies.

Anyone wanting more information about either production, or anyone wanting to register should contact Wanda Mitchell at the Post Chamber of Commerce, 806-495-3461, or Ruth Lewis at "Unique" Marketing and Design, 806-495-3297.

Hit-and-run results in minor injuries to local child

By Becky Warren
 An eight year old boy received minor injuries last Tuesday night as a result of a hit-and-run accident in the 500 block of West 13th Street. Thomas Curtis was struck as he was riding his bicycle at approximately 7:50 p.m.

Curtis was treated at the scene by Post EMS and transferred to Garza Memorial Hospital for treatment. He was kept overnight for evaluation and observation.

Witnesses stated that a white pickup was going west on 13th Street at a high rate of speed when it struck the victim with the right front fender.

Sheriff's deputy Bo Kimmons, who was investigating the accident, was advised by the witness that the vehicle was a small white pickup, then said it was a full-size new model Ford pickup. At the hospital Deputy Kimmons spoke to Rodney Tidwell, a firefighter who stopped to help. Tidwell told him that the description of the pickup was a crew cab (4-door) new model Ford or Chevy. He said it was described as an oil field pickup with no markings.

Deputy Kimmons left the hospital in search of the vehicle. Later he was called back to the sheriff's office where they had reports about who the vehicle belonged to. Kimmons then went to the residence of one of the young men and talked to him. When asked where he was at the time of the accident the young man stated that he and other young man had been riding around. He then told Kimmons and his father what had happened.

The subject then stated that after they realized what had happened they got scared and promised not to tell anyone else.

After Kimmons spoke with the subject he went to the residence of the subject that was driving the pickup and spoke with his mother about the situation.

Both subjects were then taken to the sheriff's office and were cooperative with the deputy.

No charges have been filed against the two 18 year old men at press time.

The sheriff's office received 54 calls during the past week.

On October 13 a 21 year old male was arrested for warrants from JP #4. He was released after serving time.

On October 14, a 21 year old female was arrested for public intoxication. She was released. Also a 24 year old male was arrested for a Class "C" assault. He was released after posting a $300 bond.

On October 15 a 19 year old male was arrested on warrants (traffic) out of Lubbock County. He is still being held. Two 18 year old males was arrested for Class "A" assault and both are still being held.

 Editor's Note: I want to personally apologize for the error last week in our Post Notes column... in the last minute rush before printing, I placed an old file, which was from 1993... I thought about telling the callers, "we're just testing you to see if you're reading this stuff," but thought better of it and just accepted the fact that human error is going to overtake us from time to time.

Kembra Kemp becomes bride of Kirk Jones Sept. 16, 1995 in Post

Kembra Lea Kemp and Kirk Wade Jones exchanged double-ring wedding vows at the First Baptist Church of Post before a stage that was focused on a large cross on the baptistry wall covered with greenery and outlined in white lights. Just below the cross was a heart-shaped candleabra that stood just above the bride and groom's head. On both sides of the heart, flowed dove wing shaped candelabras with a votive candle tower at the bottom of each one. There were two big bouquets of blush and white roses below the dove wings. Big white satin bows with white tulle draped between them and flowed down the aisle markers.

The double-ring ceremony was officiated by Glenn Smith of the Rodeo Cowboy Ministries of Post.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Johnny Kemp of Post and the granddaughter of Mr and Mrs Boy Hart and Mr and Mrs Keith Kemp, all of Post.

The groom is the son of Mr and Mrs Gary Jones of Lamesa and the grandson of Mr Cecil Jones of Lamesa and Mildred Reid of San Antonio and the late J.P., McCasland of Lamesa and Dorothy McCasland of Lamesa.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Johnny Kemp, wore an elegant gown of white satin and schiffli lace designed by Alfred Angelo. The bodice was beaded with sequins and pearls that featured a heartshape neckline, long rennaissance sleeves and a basque waist. The full ball gown skirt was highlighted at the back waist with a satin bow and a heartshaped opening adorned with draping pearl strands, then the gown flowed to a cathedral length train adorned with beaded lace appliques. To complete her attire the bride wore a pearl forehead band highlighted with a double pouf, lily of the valley and a two-tiered fingertip veiling. The bride also wore her grandmother's diamond and emerald ring for something old. Her veil and earrings were borrowed from her sister-in-law, Shelly Moore. Her garter was blue and she had a penny in her shoe. Her dress from her parents, a bible shoe got for graduation and a handkerchief given to her by the groom's grandmother was new.

She carried a traditional cascading bouquet of white jack frost roses, Rubbum lilies and gypsophila that topped a Bible given to her for graduation. Inside the Bible was a handkerchief given to her by Dorothy McCasland, grandmother of the groom.

Serving as maid of honor was Bree Perrin of Austin, cousin of the bride. Bridesmaids were Krista Kemp of Austin, sister of the bride, Katie Kemp of Post, sister of the bride, and Jill Voss of Snyder, friend of the bride.

They wore ankle-length morie emerald taffeta dresses. They had blush pleated taffeta shoulder straps that were accented with iridescent sequin appliques with matching earrings. A plunging back was accented with blush taffeta bows. They wore matching emerald green shoes. They carried arm bouquets of blush and white cabbage roses and stargazers accented with a big bow and long streamers of white tulle.

Flower girl was Courtney Phifer of Amarillo, cousin of the bride. She carried a small wicker basket lined with greenery and baby's breath accented with white tulle and filled with iridescent hearts.

She was attired in ankle length, full bodied emerald taffeta dress accented with blush ruffles over the shoulders. They had cut-out backs accented with three small blush bows down the middle. She wore matching emerald satin shoes.

Ring bearer was Tyler Wade Moore of Welch, nephew of the groom. He was attired in the same white tuxedo matching the groom's.

The groom was attired in a White Padova full dress traditional tuxedo styling, satin faced peal lapels, self-topped collar with a high center vent with a matching white stripe formal trousers and a white pleated wing tip collar shirt. The groom wore a shamrock iridescent cummerbund with matching tie and white lace formal shoes. His boutonniere was of white

Jack Frost rose, white stats and gypsophila with white satin.

Serving as best man was Guy Will Zant of Vealmoore, best friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Monte Moore of Welch, brother-in-law of the groom, George Horny of Lubbock, friend of the groom, and Jory Rector of San Angelo, friend of the groom.

The groomsmen were all attired in black tuxedos that featured boutonnières made of blush roses.

Candlelighters were Megan Moore of Welch, niece of the groom, and Ryan Wulfjen of Colorado City, friend of the bride. Megan was dressed the same as the flower girl.

The ushers were Clint Kemper of Big Spring, friend of the groom, Travis Jones of Sherman, cousin of the groom, Casey Hart of Post, cousin of the bride, and Justin Terry of Post, friend of the bride.

The ushers, candlelighter, grandfathers, fathers and pastor wore a Lord West Crown tuxedo with a subtle stripe-one button, single breasted styling, satin notchlapels, satin top collar with matching black stripe formal trousers with white pleated wing collar shirt. The ushers and candlelighter wore shamrock iridescent cummerbunds and ties. The preacher, fathers and grandfathers wore black cummerbunds and ties.

Wedding music was provided by Marimargaret Noman of Post, organist, and Paul Baskin of Kansas City, Kansas on the piano. Musical selections were "In This Very Room" by Amy Smith and Larry Moore, "Parent's Prayer" by Paul Baskin, "Surely The Presence" by Amy Smith, "I See Jesus In Your Face" by Paul Baskin, "I'll Always Be The Man In Love With You" by Guy Will Zant, "Battle Hymn of Love" by parents of the groom's parents and "Wedding Prayer" by Amy Smith.

Upon entering the church the bride presented her mother with her great-grandmother's handkerchief with special wording embroidered on it. Upon leaving the ceremony she presented her mother-in-law, Judy Jones, with a special handkerchief.

As a surprise to Kirk the bride recorded her own special vows and played the tape to special background music as they were lighting the unity candle.

Bo Jackson of Post spoke a special blessing over the couple during the ceremony.

Guests were registered by Maggie Flanigan of Post, friend of the bride, and Charity Williams of Austin, friend of the bride.

The reception was held at the Post Community Center. The bride and groom arrived at the reception in a horse-drawn carriage provided by Bill and Donna Aten of Post.

The bride's table was a long white serpentine table with a high centerpiece of white and blush roses. The cake was a five-tiered Janke Italian cream cake, adorned with cascading blush roses and surrounded in greenery topped with a Precious Moments cake topper. The bride used her mother's knife she had used in her wedding to cut the cake. Also featured was a beverage table with two-fountains serving iced tea and punch. The caterer, Rita's from Snyder, had a long food table decorated with assorted sandwich meats, homemade bread, assorted crackers, vegetables, fruits and dips to choose from.

The groom's table was decorated with a one-tiered round white cake with chocolate icing. Cascading down were clumps of chocolate covered strawberries. The cake topper was a cowboy and his bride with cotton stalks behind them. The table was also decorated in cotton.

The couple was surprised by their mother's at the reception with a memorabilia table of them growing up and special letters written to them from their moms.

Servers at the reception were Jana Cook of Lubbock and Kerry Hart of Dallas, cousins of the bride, Nicole Lawrence of Borden County, friend of the bride and Kati and Ky Merrit, friends of the groom, both of Lamesa.

Upon leaving the reception a white-stretch limo, a gift from the sister and brother-in-law of the groom, Monte and Shelly Moore, took them away. The couple honeymooned in Cancun, Mexico.

The couple will make their home in Lamesa.

The bride is a 1995 graduate of Borden County high school.

The groom is a 1993 graduate of Borden County high school and attended Howard County College in Big Spring. He is self-employed as a farmer in Lamesa.

Bales for Buckner to raise funds for Buckner Children's Home

Buckner Children's Home will be in high cotton with the anticipated success of its second annual Bales for Buckner fundraising campaign.

"Bales for Buckner is a way for area gins and cotton producers to help us financially support our children," said Melissa Opheim, administrator.

Opheim estimates the donation of one bale of cotton, valued at $250-300 per bale, will provide medical and dental care for one child for one year while five bales of cotton will provide meals for one child for one year.

"West Texas is blessed with a valuable resource - cotton. In return Buckner has been blessed through the generosity of area cotton producers and gins," said Opheim. Once again Buckner is requesting your help in providing for children who are in need of things we often take for granted.

Last year Buckner raised $36,800 towards operational expenses. "The money raised through Bales for Buckner was used to provide shelter, clothing and food for our children as well as medical and dental care," said Opheim. Buckner has set a goal of $60,000 for this year.

Area cotton producers and gins wishing to contribute a bale of cotton to Buckner Children's Home or wanting more information can contact Opheim at (806) 795-7151. Pledge cards are also available at area gins.

Buckner Children's Home is home to 65 children from Lubbock and surrounding communities through its residential group homes and its residential treatment center. Buckner also offers parenting classes, client assistance and short-term foster care to Lubbock and surrounding communities through its Family Based Services.

Buckner Children's Home is part of the statewide services for Buckner Children and Family Services, Inc., a Christian, not-for-profit ministry serving the needs of children and families since 1897.

Roughnecks humble Antelopes 34-7

by Brent Ross
The Post Antelopes entered the game against Sundown riding the high of a two-game winning streak. That ride ended as the 'Lopes lost 34-7 to the Roughnecks Friday at Antelope Stadium.

The game started off sloppy for both teams. Post's first drive ended when B. J. Hart's pass was intercepted. On the next play, the 'Lopes Sam Zubia returned the favor picking off Jason Holdman's pass.

The Roughnecks first drive was a long, time-consuming drive for a touchdown that was also aided by several questionable calls by the referees.

Midway through the second half and down 21-0, the Post coaches decided to make a change at quarterback. Jamie Hernandez replaced Hart and promptly led the 'Lopes to a touchdown.

The Bold Gold started with great field position at the Roughnecks 33 yard line. Hernandez took the snap from center and winged it to Roland Basquez for a pick up of 29 yards. After a false start on the offense, Hernandez found Basquez again for the touchdown. Saul Martinez added the extra point to make the score 21-7 Sundown.

From that point on, it was all Sundown as they headed home with a 34-7 victory over the 'Lopes.

The defensive line played a solid game despite giving up some big runs. The offensive line of Chad Williams, Jeremy Josey, Zubia, David Norman and Corey Cruse struggled with pass protection, but never gave up and played hard until the final buzzer.

That could be said of the entire Post team. Even though they were down by almost four touchdowns, no one was hanging their heads or pouting. They stayed in the game and did the best they could against a superior team.

The Bold Gold travel to Crosbyton this week for Friday's 7:30 game.

The Post seventh grade football team dropped a 18-12 contest with visiting Sundown last Thursday. "Except for two long runs by Tyron Jefferson," coach Chili Black reports, "our offense was ineffective. We have to get better at blocking."

Jefferson scored on a 34 yard run to tie the score at 6-6. It was a 55 yard drive.

In the second quarter Sundown scored on a 27 yard run to set the halftime score at 12-6.

Jefferson scored again in the third quarter on a 22 yard run to tie the score at 12-12. Sundown came back in the fourth to score from 15 yards out to win the game.

8th grader rout Sundown 32-0

by Brent Ross
The Post eighth grade football team totally dominated Sundown in a 32-0 rout Thursday at Antelope Stadium.

The defense got the action started in the first quarter when Luis Leds intercepted a pass and returned it to the 10 yard line. Raymond Jefferson ran it in for a touchdown and Billy Crawford added the two-point conversion.

The next time the 'Lopes touched the ball, it took only four plays for Crawford to score. The conversion was no good and the score stood at 14-0.

The Bold Gold scored again in the second quarter on a one-play drive in which Jefferson took the handoff and scampered 35 yards into the end zone. Braden Conner threw to Leds for the two-point conversion.

In the third quarter, Jefferson scored again on a one-play drive. The 54-yard touchdown run was his third of the night. Fullback Johnny Jefferson added the two-point conversion to make the score 30-0.

Crawford closed out the scoring with a fourth quarter safety giving Post a 32-0 victory.

Post coach Darrell Radle said the entire defense played well. They allowed Sundown only 14 yards of total offense and no first downs.

Radle also said the offensive line did a good job of handling the different defensive alignments that Sundown showed during the game.

The Antelopes take to the road for tonight's 6:30 game against Crosbyton.

Next in importance to freedom and justice is popular education, without which neither freedom nor justice can be permanently maintained.

Big plays highlight J.V. loss

by Brent Ross
The Post junior varsity lost a heartbreaker to Sundown 22-20 Thursday in Sundown.

The coaches said the team played well enough offensively to win, but the players must learn to play both sides of the ball.

The coaches pointed out that mental breakdowns will cost a team the close games.

In the rushing department, the Antelopes gained 94 yards on 31 carries. Anthony Gomez led the charge with 18 carries for 74 yards. He was followed by Sam Woods who carried the ball 10 times for 15 yards and a touchdown.

The 'Lopes quarterbacks did not throw for a high percentage, but they piled up the yardage going 11 of 29 for 190 yards and two touchdowns.

Woods was 9 of 26 for 125 yards and a touchdown while Shawn Henderson was 2 of 3 for 65 yards and a touchdown.

The passes were distributed fairly well throughout the receiving corps Roland Basquez had 3 receptions for 37 yards, Joseph De La Rosa had 3 catches for 23 yards and Slade Bevers hauled in 3 passes for 22 yards.

Derrick Guthrie and Woods had only one reception each, but they were big ones. Guthrie's one catch was for 56 yards and a touchdown and Woods' catch was for 52 yards and a touchdown.

Defensively, The Bold Gold surrendered 294 yards of total offense to Sundown. The Roughnecks were 4 of 10 for 113 yards and two touchdowns through the air. On the ground, Sundown carried the ball 31 times for 181 yards.

The 'Lopes host Crosbyton tonight at 6:30 at Antelope Stadium.

Unhappy businessmen, I am convinced, would increase their happiness more by walking six miles every day than by any conceivable change of philosophy.

Prizes will be awarded to those who participate.

Each day of Red Ribbon week the singing S.T.A.R.S. will perform over the P.A. system. There is a group from each grade and they will be singing and chanting drug-free messages.

"Born to be free", the faculty of Post Middle School will display baby pictures for the students to figure out. They will match the teachers names with their baby pictures. The one who matches the most correctly will win a prize.

It's homeroom time, Red Ribbon week will be spent on various drug and alcohol free messages. The S.T.A.R.S. will show Middle School students making the right choices when it comes to drinking. S.T.A.R.S. will conduct a discussion afterwards and pass out various activities that go along with the video.

October 26-27 a speaker, Kim Eggleston from project S.A.V.E. (specialized-alcohol-violation-education) will discuss to the homerooms about underage drinking. S.T.A.R.S. will also be working all year with the Elementary students to help them make the right choices. S.T.A.R.S. players will put on skits and have coloring activities for the kids. S.T.A.R.S. will also be selling star shaped lollipops to help fund activities, with a cost of 50¢.

The S.T.A.R.S. will be decorating downtown all day Saturday in Red Ribbons to get the town involved with our activities.

We hope you will support S.T.A.R.S. and join in with us for Red Ribbon week.

Back by popular demand! Windows computer training offered again

Back by popular demand, the Continuing Education Division at Western Texas College will once again be offering computer training in "Windows" beginning Tuesday, November 7th. The class entitled "Windows: An Introduction" will run the four Tuesday evenings in November from 7 - 9:30 p.m. at Post High School.

The course will provide the beginning as well as the advanced computer students with enough information about Microsoft Windows to run a vast array of software applications and execute basic computer skills. No knowledge of Windows or computers is required. However, individuals with computer experience will find the class very challenging as operating Windows will open exciting and creative arenas for their use of the computer. Individuals participating in the course will receive certificates of completion and will be awarded continuing education credit.

Melvina Moore, computer and business instructor for Post High School, will instruct the course. Cost for the course is $35 plus approximately $14 for the textbook.

Individuals wishing to pre-register for the course should contact the WTC Continuing Education Division at (915) 573-8511, ext. 390 before noon on November 6th. The class will be filled on a "first-call, first-served" basis; class space is limited and pre-registration is required.

Fall fruit tree spraying important

It seems that every year, when the last pieces of fruit are picked, most folks have a tendency to breathe a sigh of relief and forget fruit trees until the next spring. However, this can be one mistake that is robbing you of fruit the following production season.

Early fall is an ideal time to apply one last spray to help promote tree health and increased production next season. Peach Leaf Curl, Bacterial Leaf Spot and Bacterial Canker are diseases that can be controlled only by fall application of fungicides.

If you saw signs of puckered and distorted peach tree leaves that were either bright red or light green, then chances are that you experienced a bit of Peach Leaf Curl. The only really effective fungicide to help fight this problem are those containing copper and the only time to effectively control Leaf Curl is in the early fall. Application of copper containing fungicides can cause early leaf shed and ineffective chemical action. For best results, spray for Leaf Curl when about 70 percent of the leaves have fallen off the tree.

Fungicides containing chlorothalonil can also be used for the control of peach leaf curl. Bacterial Leaf Spot and Bacterial Canker can be partially controlled by fall applications of copper fungicide. It is noteworthy that chlorothalonil will not have any effect on leaf spot or canker.

Bacterial leaf spot affects both the fruit and the foliage. Infection causes the fruit to crack and leaves develop angular spots which fall out in time. Bacterial canker can slowly kill trees. Infected trees will have gum or wax forming in the main trunk and main limbs.

Fall spray in the panhandle and northern Texas is generally applied from late October until mid-November. Application time will vary with the season so if you are in doubt about application timing, refer back to the 70 percent leaf shed rule.

Fall spraying is important to the health and production of fruit trees because there is no other time to effectively control leaf curl and canker, take a close look at your trees and recall any of the symptoms that you may have experienced. As always, if you have questions call our office at your earliest convenience.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

There are no uninteresting things, there are only uninterested people.

Archer Daniels Midland nation's biggest welfare recipient

At a time when Congress is rightfully removing millions of able-bodied citizens from social welfare rolls, there is no excuse for allowing America's biggest welfare recipient—Archer Daniels Midland (ADM)—a continuing place at the trough, according to James Bovard, author of "Archer Daniels Midland: A Case Study in Corporate Welfare" (Policy Analysis no. 241). Bovard, author of "Shakedown: How the Government Screws You from a Z (Viking, 1995), concludes that:

At least 43 percent of ADM's annual profits are from markets that would be virtually nonexistent without government subsidies or protection; Every $1 of profits earned by ADM's sale of ethanol costs taxpayers $30; Every $1 of profits earned by ADM's corn sweetener operation costs consumers $10;

The grain export subsidies that line ADM's pockets in the name of fighting poverty in the Third World have actually devastated the economies of the recipient nations and further impoverished the poor while ADM and its political friends "look the other way," and

The full array of ethanol subsidies, sugar protection policies, grain export subsidies, and domestic agricultural assistance programs championed by ADM in the halls of Congress and in television commercials every Sunday morning has cost the U.S. economy at least $40 billion over the last 15 years.

As Congress reconsiders all of the programs that artificially sustain ADM, Republicans have a wonderful opportunity to demonstrate that business welfare programs are no more sacrosanct than social welfare.

James Bovard also examines the political dynamics of ADM's campaign to be the taxpayer-funded "supermarket to the world" and details the incredible breadth and history of ADM's vote-buying operations in both political parties. Neither Senate Minority Leader Tom Daschle nor Senate Majority Leader Robert Dole, for example, have escaped ADM's political net.

Nazarene church hosts Brashears singing performance

Janice and Jerrel Brashear from Russellville, Arkansas will be singing at The Church of the Nazarene in Post, Texas, on October 25th at 7 p.m. The Brashears are not strangers by any means to making personal appearances. Singing since 1972, they sing over 300 dates a year all across the United States and Canada.

They are regulars on TV programs, such as "Sing Out America," "Evangelistic Outreach," "That Good Old Gospel Music" and others.

They can also be heard on such radio programs as "Gospel Crossroads" and "Gospel Greats", along with others across the country.

Janice writes many of the songs they sing and have recorded. Some of Janice's songs have been recorded by such notables as "The Happy Goodman Family", "The Hoppers", Canada's "Chrystalaires" and many others.

In their concerts Janice plays the 88 key electric piano, while Jerrel sings with CD sound tracks, with the rest of their family doing the backup vocals on the CD. Even though there are only two people, you still hear the full group, full band sound.

Jerrel writes for a nationally distributed magazine, "The Gospel Voice" from Nashville, Tennessee. He has a great heritage in the gospel music field, as part of his family were Stamps, from the original Stamps-Baxter Music Company.

Rev. Jim Graham extends to all of you a special invitation to the concert at The Church of the Nazarene featuring Southern/Christian country gospel music. Please ask all of your friends to come. Everyone is welcome!

A free will offering will be taken for the Brashears during the concert. Their tapes will also be on sale at the concert.

National Adult immunization awareness week October 22-28

Anyone who's ever stood along the sidelines of a football field subscribes to the wisdom, "The best offense is a good defense." That's good advice for those sitting in the stands, too.

"We're actually aware of the schedule for child immunizations, but not too many adults know they also need regular inoculations," says Fran Slater, a nurse who is assistant manager of the Infection Control Department of The Methodist Hospital in Houston.

American adults, particularly those over age 65, are dying at an alarming rate from diseases that could have been prevented by common vaccines. Infections and complications caused by pneumonia and influenza claim about 80,000 lives each year. Many otherwise healthy young adults are hospitalized or die from hepatitis B, measles, tetanus and other preventable infectious diseases.

"The influenza vaccine contains only inactivated, or non-infected, viruses. They can take up to two weeks to develop the antibodies most adults need to protect them from the flu." Adults should also receive a tetanus/diphtheria (Td) booster every 10 years. Tetanus, a disease caused by bacterial infection, usually enters the body through puncture wounds.

Finally, for certain persons an immunization against hepatitis B is a good idea. A debilitating and sometimes lethal liver infection, hepatitis B is transmitted by any behavior in which a person's mucous membranes or broken skin are exposed to blood, semen, vaginal secretions or saliva from someone who is infected. The disease is usually more infectious than HIV, because household partners or infected people can become infected as well as sexual partners.

That's why Slater and others at Methodist are mobilizing for National Adult Immunization Awareness Week, October 22-28. Activities at the hospital will share information with employees, patients and visitors about immunizations that adults can receive to help keep them healthy.

Fall also kicks off the beginning of the traditional flu season, so check out these stats:

- influenza vaccination has been shown to reduce hospitalization for flu and pneumonia by 48 to 57 percent;
- flu shots also account for a 27 to 39 percent reduction in hospitalizations for all acute and chronic respiratory conditions; and
- some managed care companies report annual direct savings of up to $117 for every person vaccinated against the flu.

High-risk groups for the hepatitis B virus are workers and students in the health care profession; heterosexual and homosexual sexually active persons; IV drug users; natives of Alaska, the Pacific Islands, Asia or Africa; and people who are sexual or household partners of identified carriers.

Slater says a family physician or public health facility can provide immunizations for influenza, tetanus/diphtheria and hepatitis B. In Houston, call the city's Health and Human Services Department at 794-9181 to find out what clinics are giving immunizations.

When combined with a routine of regular medical checkups and tests, immunizations are indeed the best defense, and can keep you in the game for a long time.

Generally, flu shots are recommended for those who are most likely to contract the flu, including everyone over age 65; adults and children with long-term heart or lung problems; people who live or work in health care facilities or nursing homes; and those who have serious medical conditions (kidney disease, cystic fibrosis, diabetes, etc.) for which they are under close medical supervision.

But it doesn't hurt to get a flu shot before the season starts, no matter how old or sick you are. Some people believe that an immunization will actually give them the flu - that's not true.

"If you become ill after a flu shot, that means you may already had a virus in your system," says Slater.

Meteorite man in area offering cash reward!

Hundreds of meteorites have been found on various farms all across the Great Plains, and still there are thousands that have yet to be located or recognized. According to Steve Arnold, Director of the American Meteorite Institute, these often overlooked rocks can be worth up to $10,000 each!

Arnold was in Garza County Tuesday, talking with area farmers informing them on how to identify potential meteorites. "With a little luck, something new might turn up," Arnold said. "In Hale County, Texas, there have been 15 different meteorites found and there is no reason why Garza County should have any less."

Farmers as well as anyone else that may come in contact with rocks are encouraged to keep a look out for any stones that fit the following descriptions:

Very heavy; smooth exterior (never porous like lava); rounded corners; black, brown or rusty in color; magnets will usually attract to them; surface may have indentations resembling "thumbprints"; filing a corner with an emery wheel will reveal small metal specks.

If someone suspects that they may indeed have a meteorite, they are encouraged to send a small walnut sized piece for verification to the American Meteorite Institute, 8177 S. Harvard #610, Tulsa, OK 74137.

If the rock proves to be an authentic meteorite, an offer of purchase will be made. According to Arnold, meteorites that weigh less than 200 lbs. are worth $50 per pound to the lucky finder. The AMI, upon receiving a new meteorite, preps individual slices and then makes them available to scientists and researchers worldwide for study.

PHS Band earns Division I Rating

Drum Major and Pit Percussion (the xylophones, etc.), play a bigger role than at region. The Color Guard could make a big difference at Area. At the end of the competition, the bands will be ranked according to their score, and the top 2 will go on to State Competition".

A special thanks goes out to David Lewis director, Erin Pedersen assistant director, Ruth Lewis color guard coordinator, and Jan Buchanan choir director.

Best wishes and good luck with future performances with a wish for luck at Area Marching Contest.
