

Whittlin'

By Dolph Moten

Needless to say, Thursday's moisture brought an "I-told-you-so-smile" to Willie Williams' face and he confidently predicted there was more to come.

Willie insists this year marks the end of the drought and he could be right.

The only time I've ever been really disappointed in Willie's predictions was in 1955 when he allowed as to how we'd have a white Christmas.

That was, of course, a swing and a miss. But we're all entitled to one of those every once in a while.

Better known columnist than myself often tell their readers about unusual signs they've seen or heard about.

O. W. Rhinehart, local real estate man, had one on his office door Thursday. Written in long hand, it explained that he was "at the farm" and gave directions to the farm. Then, at the bottom what was apparently an afterthought, was, "working like a dog."

The note didn't, of course, say so, but I'm sure the last sentence was of the "believe it or not" type.

In last week's column, I told about an individual from the school who called me to find out who is Texas' temporary senator.

Talked to the individual this week. Gratitude was expressed because no names were mentioned. However, it was revealed that two prominent local men were in the same dark, unknowing condition. They were asked the question, which should have and probably did prove embarrassing, before I was.

Wonder if they know yet who the man is.

That business brings up as good a time as any to put in a plug for advertising. The temporary senator didn't, to get the position, have to do any advertising as most office holders do.

All the publicity he had was the news of his appointment plus a few statements about his actions in the Senate. However, if he had, after a good, hot campaign, been elected to the post, a much larger percentage of citizens would have certainly known his name.

Think about the above two paragraphs a minute and you'll figure out how it pays to advertise.

Split-Ticket Hubert Ellison says the reason I mentioned the subject in last week's column was so I would have an excuse to put in a plug for Ralph W. Yarborough.

Bound for ST to come up with an idea like that.

From what I've heard and read in this newspaper, Bovina is blessed, at least to some extent, with "42" players. I'd like some information from these individuals.

How is "42" score kept by numbers—the actual amount of points you make? The most popular way to keep "42" score, I understand, is by marks. I understand this method and don't feel it is the better way.

Maybe no one knows about the other way?

Local basketball fans were disappointed because of their very nature, after the Mustangs' one point loss to Adrian in the district tournament finals Friday night. But it was the proudest disappointment I've ever witnessed.

The fact that the team reached the finals in the first place was enough to make any Bovina fan proud. The Mustangs hadn't won a district game in regular season play. But in the tournament, they squeaked by Lazbuddie, a team they hadn't beaten before, and then ran over Vega easily. Vega had also won over the locals in previous encounters.

For whatever it's worth, I'd like to offer this department's congratulations to the team and its coach, Bob Wills.

Not because of its won-lost record, but because of its team play and never-say-die attitude, it captured the hearts of the fans.

Personally, I would have considered it a tremendously successful season if no feathers had been added to the team's cap after the Friona tournament. You'll remember, the Mustangs won it with a story-book finish early in the season.

And though I might be wrong, I think local players and fans have no hard feelings toward Adrian. As far as I know, good sportsmanship prevailed between the two teams throughout the year. That's good.

Jones, Tabor Announce For Re-election

Election Set For Tuesday, April 2

Paul Jones and Emmett Tabor, members of Bovina city commission for the past two years, announced at a called meeting of the commission Monday night in the city hall that they will be candidates for re-election. Their present terms expire in April.

Both men stated they will be candidates because of "numerous requests from citizens."

Election day will be Tuesday, April 2. The last day for candidates to file for the commission posts is March 2.

The election may possibly be held jointly with the state election which will also be on that day. However, city officials have not discussed the idea with county officials.

The commission passed a motion that instead of circulating petitions, as has been done in the past, for candidates that each qualified city voter who wishes to be a candidate must file his name with City Secretary Henry Minter. A filing fee of $5 will be charged.

To be a qualified voter, an individual must have lived in the state one year, in the city six months, and have a poll tax receipt.

Also at the Monday night meeting, the commission discussed property tax assessment for 1957. At a recent meeting, the commissioners agreed to ask Pioneer Natural Gas Company to pay a fee of $100 per month for the collecting service the city performs for the company. At present, the fee is $60.

However, J. E. Sherrill Jr., mayor, said he had discussed the idea with a Pioneer official and that possibly $75 would be a better fee to ask for. The commissioners agreed with Sherrill and Minter was asked to send a letter to Pioneer asking for a $15 raise.

Parmer Included In Proposed New Judicial District

The crowded 64th Judicial District, whose dockets now hold cases which are years old, would be split to form two districts under a bill introduced in the Texas house by representatives Jesse Osborn of Muleshoe and Leroy Sauls of Kress, and in the Senate by Senator Andy Rogers of Childress.

The legislators stated today that the crowded condition of the dockets in the six-county district creates an emergency which results in citizens not receiving speedy trials and justice as guaranteed by both the U.S. and the Texas constitution.

Now composed of Hale, Swisher, Parmer, Lamb, Castro and Bailey counties, the 64th Judicial District would be divided on the basis of population by making a new 154th Judicial District of four of the counties: Parmer, Lamb, Castro and Bailey. Hale and Swisher Counties would continue to be designated as the 64th Judicial District and would serve the 42,000 inhabitants of these counties. An estimated 47,000 residents of the new four-county district would be served by the proposed 154th district court.

As the situation now exists, the lawmakers say, criminal cases cannot be brought to trial with a time-limit that is just and right, either to the state or to the accused; also numerous citizens of the present district are being inconvenienced and caused unnecessary and often heavy expense because of the backlog of civil cases now docketed.

The measure provides that Judge E. A. Bills of Littlefield would continue as judge of the new 154th District for the remainder of his elected term, and that the 64th district attorney, Joe Cox of Plainview, would serve out his elected term in his present office. Thus, these officers would continue to serve the districts in which their homes are located.

The bill states that "The governor shall appoint a qualified attorney to serve as district judge of the 64th Judicial District," and "shall appoint a qualified attorney to serve as district attorney of the 154th Judicial District hereby created."

These appointed officers of the courts would then serve until the next general election when a 64th district judge and a 154th district attorney would be elected at the polls.

The measure has the backing of the bar associations of all counties in the present 64th Judicial District. Osborn stated that the study was started in 1955 due to the excessive load now being carried by Judge Bills with this proposed measure coming out as a result of that study.

Atoms For Peace Exhibit Will Be In Bovina June 3

The Texas Jaycee-sponsored "Atoms For Peace" mobile exhibit will be in Bovina Monday, June 3, Scooter Queen, local Jaycee president, announced at a regular weekly meeting of the organization Saturday noon in Bovina Restaurant.

The exhibit will be here during the afternoon of the scheduled day. Also, the Jaycees had an extensive discussion of the proposed ballpark which they are planning to build. The group decided that the grounds committee should begin work as soon as possible. Other work is scheduled to follow as quickly as it is feasible.

FFA Team Places In Olton Contest

A Bovina High School FFA livestock judging team placed tenth in a field of 20 at a judging contest held jointly with the annual Junior Livestock Show at Olton Saturday.

The team, composed of James Stevens, Dickie Steelman, and Duane Rea, scored 722 points out of a possible 900.

Roy M. Crawford is the local chapter advisor. Mike Barraza, team alternate, did not attend the contest.

Crawford says the local chapter plans to enter three teams in contests to be held at Texas Tech in April.

Seven Arrested Over Weekend

Seven arrests were made in Parmer County over the past weekend reports County Sheriff Chas. Lovelace. Those picked up were found guilty on various charges and paid fines in county and justice of peace courts Monday morning.

Merced Rojax, a Texico man, was arrested in Bovina Sunday night and charged with possession of intoxicating liquor. He was tried in county court by Judge A. D. Smith and was fined $100 and court costs.

Clarence Griffin and Ronny Hall, Clovis, were picked up between Farwell and Bovina Sunday night. Griffin was tried in county court on a DWI and paid a fine of $75 plus court costs and had his driver's license suspended for six months. Hall was fined $20.50 in (Continued on Last Page)

Morgan of Farwell; Louis H. Herrod, theft against L. W. Rounton of Farwell; William Zambo and Tom Blackburn, burglary of McKillip Motor Company in Farwell; Lynn Horn, two counts of forgery at Friona, one at White Auto Store and one at Plains Hardware; Charlie Gilmore,

In District Tourney—

Mustangs Finish A Close Second

Adrian And Happy Are Final Winners

The Adrian Matadors and the Happy Cowgirls were winners of their respective brackets of the annual District 3-B Basketball Tournament held last week in Williford Gym.

Adrian's margin of victory was close—a one point win over Bovina's Mustangs in the final game. Happy edged tournament co-favorite Lazbuddie in the final girls game, 65-55.

A "standing room only" crowd was on hand for the Friday night finals. The stage was set for the finals by play on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and nights.

Adrian earned the right to play in the finals by downing Happy and Nazareth. The Mustangs slipped past Lazbuddie and Vega to get to their final berth.

The Cowgirls beat Bovina and Adrian and Lazbuddie outscored Nazareth and Vega.

Bovina 43-Adrian 44 (finals)

Coach Bob Wills Mustangs, who didn't win a game in regular season play, surprised everyone but themselves by reaching the tournament finals. And after they got there, they led the scoring during more than half the contest before the taller, more experienced Matadors could eek out a one point win.

The Mustangs drew first blood, but trailed at the end of the first period 14-19. At the half, they had a one point, 27-26 lead and they still had the lead at the third quarter's close, 36-35.

Adrian went ahead to stay with less than a minute left to play.

Smith Makes Dream Team

Neil Smith, star Mustang guard and leading scorer, was one of two unanimous choices for the District 3-B All-Tournament team. The other unanimous choice was Edward Pinnell of Adrian.

Smith is a senior and Pinnell a senior.

Other members of the team were Glen Watkins, Lazbuddie; Joe Pohlmeier, Nazareth; and Allen Tolbert, Vega.

Members of the All-Tournament girls team were Joy Smith, Lazbuddie; Wilma Sluder, Happy; Carolyn McDowell, Happy; Judy Pinnell, Adrian; Linda McCombs, Vega; and Regina Gerber, Nazareth.

The selections were made by district coaches during the tournament.

Slip, Slush, and Slide

Moisture that has fallen this week should bring three expressions, at alternate times, to our faces.

First, a smile, because of the obvious benefits that will be a result of the rain.

Second, a frown, as we slip, slush and slide while we attempt to drive on Bovina's far-behind-times streets.

Third, a look of determination to do something about the condition of the streets. In other words, get some paving and curbs and gutters to prevent the slipping, slushing, and sliding, not to mention the added comforts of riding on paved streets in any kind of weather and the saving of wear and tear on automobiles and tires.

The first two expressions will come to the faces of most citizens. The third will, sadly enough, be experienced by only a part.

As a matter of fact, we'll probably have some individuals who'll think that though paving would be nice, it would cost too much money and "I'm going to do everything I can to keep from spending money to help the town."

This type of unprogressive is in the minority, however, and as a town seeking growth, we are fortunate from that standpoint.

And since the out and out "againers" are in the minority, the people who want to see a bigger and better Bovina have a chance to overcome the handicaps established by the "do-nothings."

That is, we have a chance if we work together for a bigger and better place to live.

And we sincerely feel that the first and most important thing we could do to make Bovina a bigger and better place to live is to get a paving program started.

Let's stop slipping, slushing, and sliding.

Wesleyan Service Guild Begins New Study Tuesday

Members of Wesleyan Service Guild met Tuesday evening of last week in the home of Mrs. W. E. Williams for their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Bedford Caldwell was in charge of the program for the evening, which was the beginning of the study, "The Church in Southeast Asia."

The scripture for the evening dealt with the reason for missions and Mrs. Elsie Block read the prepared script on the devotional.

Mrs. W. E. Williams, vice-president, turned the program to Mrs. Caldwell, who introduced the new study and gave some pointers and expectations on the subject. She assigned the members present into different groups. They took up the study of Southeast Asia and told of the religion, education and beliefs of the people.

Following this discussion, Mrs. Caldwell assigned the members to be delegates from different countries under study. They were instructed to, with the use of a survey chart and all material available, work out a complete study of each country.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Williams and Miss Lillian Fisher. They served refreshments of tea, coffee, cake and assorted nuts to Mrs. Fleta Terry, Mrs. W. E. Williams, Mrs. W. R. Beard, Mrs. Margaret Caldwell, Mrs. Alvin Farrell, Mrs. Mark Charles, Mrs. Wayne Stevens, Miss Rita Caldwell, Mrs. H. J. Charles, Mrs. Elsie Block, Mrs. Bedford Caldwell and the two hostesses.

Mrs. Lloyd C. Battey, president, called the house to order and Mrs. Troy Fuller led the group in the reading of the Club Collect. Mrs. Mary Ruth Martin, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting.

Appreciation was expressed by the secretary for the gift of silverware and coupons by the members and friends in the community.

Mrs. Battey announced that a convention of the District Federated Woman's Clubs will meet in Amarillo March 14 and 15. The program for the two days was read and discussed. Delegates from the local club will be Mrs. Buck Ellison, president-elect, and Mrs. Reagan Looney, vice-president-elect.

The group, under the direction of the president, discussed the use of funds from the sale of cigarettes in Texas to the upkeep of the state schools. It was reported that in recent years, approximately five million dollars, annually, had been raised by this one per cent tax on cigarettes. This plan has been dropped and the club sent a resolution to Jess Osborn, state representative, to re-instate this law. The schools concerned are for retarded, mental and TB patients, as well as other state provided schools.

The program for the day was on "Religion" and Mrs. Rouel Barron gave a paper on "The Golden Rule" and spoke on the seven great religions. Her talk was taken from the Sermon on the Mount.

In the absence of Mrs. Earl Stevenson, Mrs. E. H. Moody read a paper, prepared by Mrs. Stevenson, on "Tolerance" which brought out many forms of tolerance and intolerance in the world today. The paper was entitled "Who Are We

To Say Who Are Gods Chosen People.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Billie Sudderth and Mrs. Moody. They served refreshments of cake and hot spiced punch from a table overlaid with a white linen drawn work cloth. Also attending were Mrs. Sudderth, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Battey, Mrs. Moody, Mrs. Barron and Mrs. O. W. Rhinehart.

The next meeting will be Thursday, February 28, in the club house. It was also announced that the meeting following that will be held on Monday, March 11, due to the conflict of dates with the Amarillo Convention of the Federated Woman's Study Clubs.

HD Club Studies Work Simplification

Members of Bovina Good Neighbor Home Demonstration Club met Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. D. C. Looney for a program on "Work Simplification" with Mrs. Looney in charge.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. Looney, gave six rules for the simplifying and easing of ordinary work around the house. She used the rules in regard to doing a family wash. At the close of the meeting, each member chose a job in their own home which they were to apply the rules to for better and speedier work.

The six rules are: (1) Leave out any part of the job possible, such as draining dishes instead of drying them. (2) Use the best equipment available for the job. (3) Work in a comfortable position, stressing ironing, kitchen work and many others which can be done while sitting down. (4) Combine jobs or part of jobs whenever possible, such as folding clothes as they are taken from the line, and stacking them in groups on a laundry cart. (5) Keep everything within convenient reach, such as keeping all laundry equipment and supplies within a small area close to the laundry room or area. (6) Make both hands work. This is stressed in dusting and ironing, the ability to iron with both hands with equal efficiency saves time, back strain, and room.

Those present for the meeting were Mrs. Wilfred Sikes, Mrs. John Sikes, Mrs. Howard Looney, Mrs. Mabel Newberry, Mrs. J. A. Taylor, Mrs. J. D. Stevens and the hostess.

The next meeting will be March 1 in the home of Mrs. J. A. Taylor. The program for the day will be a demonstration of the freezing of foods. Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Stevens will be in charge of the meeting.

Janice Richards Crowned at Sweetheart Banquet

Janice Richards was crowned queen and Danny Morton was chosen king Wednesday evening at the annual Valentine Sweetheart banquet of the Methodist Youth Fellowship in the Methodist Church. The banquet, featuring ham, potato salad, green beans was served in the fellowship hall of the church following the coronation services in the sanctuary of the church.

Members of the MYF and their dates gathered in the sanctuary and Dean Hastings, MYF counselor, introduced the candidates for the coronation contest. The king and queen were decided upon by votes by those present. After the voting, the king and queen were introduced, crowned and given a small token of friendship from the leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Hastings and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Ware.

The honorees were selected through not only a popularity test, but also by the merit system.

The Valentine theme was carried out in the banquet hall with flowing streamers of red and white crepe paper and huge red hearts over each window. The individual tables, seating four each, were overlaid with white and were decorated also with red hearts. The centerpiece for the head table was a white styrofoam heart with a cluster of pink rosettes, flanked by two tall gold flocked red candles. Another centerpiece graced the top of the piano. It was a pale pink tulle covered heart with gathered tulle around the base, with white satin ribbons and miniature red hearts as well as long red roses.

The invocation was given by Danny Morton and was followed by Verna Marie Estes playing selections on the piano. Lexie Stevenson gave a short address of appreciation to the members of the Marzie Lynn Circle and the parents and friends of the MYF members for their help and cooperation in the planning of the banquet. Danny Morton expressed the appreciation of the MYF to Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Ware for their assistance in the past. Mr. and Mrs. Ware will leave in about five weeks for Fort Benning, Georgia.

Methodist Building Program Underway

By Sally Whitesides

The realization of a dream is going toward completion for members of Bovina Methodist Church. For several years, they have felt the present facilities of their church have been inadequate for the growing congregation.

A covered dish supper and family night at the church Monday evening triggered a campaign to build an educational building in back of the present church. It will contain six class rooms, a kitchen and two rest rooms and will be brick veneered to match the church building.

The first Methodist Church in Parmer County was organized in the later months of 1905, here in Bovina. At that time, Rev. V. H. Trammel, missionary preacher from Dimmitt District, was the pastor. Services were held about once a month in the then one-room school house, which is now St. Anne's Catholic Church.

During the other Sundays of the month, Rev. Trammel preached in the outlying areas, too far from Bovina for the horse and buggy congregation to attend services. With families so few and transportation always a problem, members of the church didn't have many socials or gatherings. In fact, the old timers can remember very few "all day singing and dinner on the ground."

There were a few, though, and most often they occurred during a quarterly conference or other meeting. Revival services were few and far between, too. There was a definite scarcity of preachers and a preacher, unattached to a church, was soon subject to the pleadings of a congregation anywhere in the Southwest to come and make his home.

Among the nine charter members of the local Methodist Church were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Merrill, Miss Ruth Coons, Miss Rowene Coons and Mrs. G. D. McLean.

Old Methodist Church Building

Although not charter members, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hastings, still active members of the church, have had their membership here the longest. They joined the church in about 1915 and have been members since.

In 1910, during the ministry of Rev. J. A. Sweeny, the first church building was erected on a site across the street from the present church. Seating about 75 people comfortably, this little church is estimated to have cost approximately $2000, the labor was done by the members. It's cost was raised through contributions of members and non-members in the community.

One such instance was when Mrs. Townsend, then a boarding house keeper and a friend of everyone in the territory, sent out letters to the cowboys on the surrounding ranches, telling them what the plans were and asking them to help. The story goes that not one letter went unheeded by the men.

This little church served the congregation for about 37 years before the increase in membership almost pushed out its walls. In that time the membership had swelled to 211 people.

Members of this church have many fond memories of it as the simple little church where they worshipped a few times a month. One time the church was "turned round." During the ministry of Rev. M. R. Pike, times were hard for all members as well as the pastor and he felt that he wasn't getting the attendance he should so he set out to change things.

One Sunday morning, the first arrivals at the church were greeted with the front door boarded up and a sign telling them to go around to the side door—which had not been there the Sunday before. Inside the church, the pulpit, seats, everything was changed around to face the north instead of the south. Rev. Pike had done the job himself, alone, without the knowledge of any of the members. It helped, too, so they say. The members no longer had to sit and face the sun streaming through a battery of windows, but faced the north. Mrs. Robert E. Wilson, then Aletha Hastings, remembers this incident fondly. It was one of the first changes that were to be made in the local church.

The parsonage was rebuilt in the year 1937, during the ministry of Rev. I. E. Biggs. While the construction was going on, the pastor and his family lived in a Sunday School room in the church and helped with the building of the parsonage. Before this, an old house, on the same spot as the present one, had been the parsonage from the very beginning.

Another milestone of the church was passed during the ministry of Rev. Roscoe Trostle. He was the first full time minister for the Bovina Methodist Church. Prior to this, (1943-46) the ministers also preached at Oklahoma Lane and other outlying places. In 1944, by the expressed desire of the members and the enthusiasm of Rev. Trostle, a financial drive for a new church building was started. This was delayed due to war conditions and scarcity of building materials.

In 1947, under the leadership of Rev. George D. York, the new building was erected and the first worship service was conducted in it October 5, 1947. The building was brick veneered in 1948, while Rev. J. B. Baker was pastor. Dedication services were held September 18, 1949. In the previous 45 years, the congregation had grown from 9 to 211 members and the new, debt free building was valued at about $40,000.

Shortly after the completion of the building, it was realized by the members that the new church was inadequate for the looked-for growth in membership. Although there is plenty of seating capacity in the sanctuary, there is a definite lack of space for Church School activities and a meeting place for all the church for socials, etc.

The present enrollment in the church is 262 with an average attendance of 150 in the church services. There are 255 people enrolled in the Church School and an average attendance 120 each Sunday.

Too few rooms has been the concern of the church officers for several years now. Plans were begun in 1954, under the pastorate of Rev. Walter G. White, for a new educational building. Money raising campaigns were held, with the "Lord's Acre Program" and the "Mile of Dollars" bringing in about $6500 of the needed amount. But dreams do not die, they just lie dormant for awhile in groups of dedicated people such as belong to this church. This past year, further plans have been made by them until, this week, they began a campaign mapped out by the ped with two sets of folding doors which will enable the room to be cut into three good-sized class rooms. This fellowship hall will also alleviate the desperate need of the congregation for a place for the whole church membership can congregate for suppers, socials and business meetings. The present fellowship hall will hold only about 50 people comfortably—the new one will seat the whole congregation.

The outside will be brick veneered to match the church and the inside will have concrete floors, covered with asphalt tile. Most of the rooms will be textured and painted and the building will be heated and cooled with a central unit, placed in a small room to itself.

All the rooms are planned so as to give the utmost in convenience, as well as comfort to those attending classes, and will be furnished to make the most of all modern teaching methods. There will be separate rooms for each Church School Class; at the present time, three adult classes are meeting in the sanctuary of the church and the nursery is crowded with the crib class and three year olds. Plans are made for the separation of the two nursery classes and class rooms to separate the other three classes.

There are 10 Church School classes at the present—and seven classrooms. The teachers for these classes are Mrs. H. T. Hastings, teacher of the older women's class; Aubra Ellison, for the older men's class; Gene Ezell teaches the Hammonds Class; and Mrs. W. R.

Beard teaches the Friendship Class.

J. T. Hammonds is in charge of the senior young people and Mrs. Paul L. Lloyd teaches the intermediate young people. Mrs. J. T. Hammonds and Mrs. Robert E. Wilson are in charge of the juniors and Mrs. Amos Shockley and Mrs. Gene Rea, the primary. Mrs. Billy Sudderth and Mrs. Fern Bell teach the kindergarten and Mrs. Jimmy Charles is in charge of the nursery.

And so it is, with the changes of time and population, again the growth of Bovina and the surrounding territory has forced expansion and improvements in churches.

Churches, like schools, are asked about first by prospective new comers. Better churches and schools encourage more people to settle here and consequently, encouragement should be given to the officials for their plans for improvement.

BEST YOUNG FARMERS—Johnny Mabry and Tommy Tatum, above, are the county's best young growers of cotton and grain sorghum, respectively. The boys competed in a 4-H contest for the honors.

Tatum, Mabry Boys Win Crop Contests

If the county-wide 4-H contests mean anything, Tommy Tatum and Johnny Mabry are the county's junior-age best grain sorghum and cotton farmers, respectively.

Tommy, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Tatum of Black in the northeast part of Parmer County, produced a prodigious 7,168 pounds of Plainsman grain on each of the two acres he entered in the contest.

This grain went on land the first year after alfalfa, which accounts in part for the high yield. The land was pre-watered once, and the crop irrigated three times after emergence.

Johnny teamed up with his dad to win the cotton growing contest.

Johnny's cotton, Paymaster variety, was planted April 27. It was on land that had been in grain sorghum last year, and was pre-watered with six inches of water March 24.

The cotton was planted in 40-inch rows and was fertilized with 45 pounds of phosphorus. The two acres were irrigated three times, and yielded 1487 pounds of lint cotton per acre.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mabry of the Hub. Both boys, who received $50 and plaques, are students at Friona Schools.

The grain sorghum contest was sponsored by the Parmer County Grain Sorghum Growers Association and the cotton contest was sponsored by the Parmer County Cotton Improvement Association.

The past year, 1956, was the first that the contests have been conducted. Judging the entries were J. K. Adams, county agent of Bailey County; Jim Ward, assistant agent of the neighboring county; and A. L. Hartzog, president of both sponsoring organizations.

The rules for the contest were worked out by a committee which included James Mabry, W. L.

Edelmon, John Renner, and W. H. Long, all of Friona; and Robert Morton and Joe W. Jones, of Farwell. The records kept by the contestants counted 40 percent in the contests and production counted 60 percent.

For that reason, some of the boys who had a high production, placed low because of failure to keep records, Joe Jones, Parmer County Agent, says.

Others who entered the contest and placed were:

Grain Sorghum Contest
Ronny Castleberry, second, 6395-pound yield; Randy Price, third, 6,154 pounds; Johnny Mabry, fourth, 5,886 pounds; Richard Chitwood, fifth, 5,726 pounds; Joe Bob Johnson, sixth, 5,078 pounds; Johnny Miller, seventh, 5,916, no records; Joe Hughes, eighth, 3,921 pounds; Jerald Gober, ninth, 4,399 pounds, no records; Robert Tomlinson, tenth, 2,830 pounds; Johnny McCuan, eleventh, 2,064 pounds, no records; and Jerry McCuan, twelfth, 2,042 pounds, no records.

Cotton Contest
Richard Chitwood, second, 1,459 pounds; James Brown, third, 1,340 pounds; Gary Mac Brown, fourth, 1,323 pounds; Joe Hughes, fifth, 902 pounds; Joe Bob Johnson, sixth, 628 pounds; and Johnny Miller, seventh, 934 pounds, no records.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

We think Farwell Chamber of Commerce displayed proper judgment in securing a speaker for their banquet who is a farm and ranch man at heart, and who gives splendid, continuous publicity to subjects of interest to farmers. We have never heard Cotton John make an address, and fully intended to attend the meeting last Saturday night in Farwell, but it didn't work out so we could. There is probably no publicity man who devotes as much to the plains agricultural people as this good will radio and newspaper man from KGNC.

President Gilbert Kaltwasser and vice-president Jack Patterson attended a membership kick-off meeting in Fort Worth Tuesday of last week with the writer along as an extra. They heard Gene Leach, Texas Farm Bureau Legislative representative in Austin report on activities of interest to farm people. He stated that TFB is the only general farm organization that has a representative present throughout the session, and that legislators are dependent upon him and his assistant to help them make decisions on support or opposition to proposed bills. Commodity groups also look to Farm Bureau for guidance in their actions, he said.

About 450 Farm Bureau leaders of Texas attended the Fort Worth meeting. At the banquet T. C. (Pete) Peterson of American Farm Bureau Federation was principal speaker. One of the most interesting points of his talk was with reference to the superiority of capitalistic, individual initiative government systems like the American, over socialistic, labor or dictatorial type governments. Six per cent of the world's population, he said, lives in the United States; yet those six per cent of the world's population own 85 per cent of all automobiles, 92 per cent of the world's bath tubs, 48 per cent of the world's TV and radio sets, and eat 34 per cent of the world's consumption of meat. American capitalism, he said, serves the individual better than any other tested kind of world government and economy.

Jack Patterson and your directors again urge that if you intend renewing your membership, that you do so as soon as you are billed. That will save your Farm Bureau money, and your neighbor the time and money necessary to come and see you. The net result: better service to each member all year. CONSIDER THIS: Labor not to be rich: cease from thine own wisdom. Proverbs 23:4.

Farmers Asked To Sign Form For History Preservation
All farmers who have not yet signed the form, MQ-31, which preserves their 1957 cotton and wheat history, have been asked to do so by the Parmer County ASC office. During the last session of congress, the preservation program was passed. By signing this form, a farm will receive credit for planting the full allotment regardless of the acreage planted. "Since the county's allotment is set up on the basis of a percent of the planted acreage in previous years, we recommend that every farmer come by the office and sign the MQ-31," says Prentice Mills, ASC manager.

SCD Report Shows Continued Growth

Conservation practices by Parmer County farmers continued to increase during the past year, according to the annual report made by the Parmer County Soil Conservation District's board of supervisors.

Practices put into effect during 1956 and the number of acres for each are as follows:

Crop rotation, 4,662; contour farming, 480; cover cropping, 725; crop residue utilization, 7,015; hay and pasture rotation, 493; fertilizing, 4,197; windbreak planting, 8; border irrigation, 340; furrow irrigation, 195; improved water application, 4,852; irrigation water management, 226; land leveling, 220; laterals, 36 miles; and waterway development, 27.

Twenty-four district cooperators put into effect practices on 11,091 acres. Basic conservation plans listed 34 agreements on 13,530 acres. There was one revision of the basic plan on 320 acres.

The report shows that there are 1,050 landowners in the district and farm land acreage totals 528,432. Of this figure, 429,839 acres are crop land and 98,593 are grass land. There are 384 participating in the district's practices and there are 195,596 acres under agreements.

In promoting various practices during the past year the district purchased the following equipment:

One seven-foot land plane, five nine-foot land planes, three weed poison spreaders, two Hancock grass seeders, three Hancock legume seeders, and one Engler hydraulic scraper.

The supervisors sited several problems and needs of the district. They are:

A. The attitude of the people to the district and the district program is fine. But, there is a problem of low farm income which makes the application of many of the irrigation projects, such as land leveling, border irrigation and furrow irrigation, very slow. In dry land areas farmers have not made a crop of economic value in seven years. This has greatly lowered activity in diversion and terrace construction. This condition is due to the severe drought in the district.

B. More technical assistance is needed in the district from the Soil Conservation Service, particularly in farm plowing. Also, in application work and the contacting of district cooperators. The district has been greatly hampered in 1956, having only three soil conservation service personnel the first half of the year and two in the second half. In view of the fact that there are over 280,000 acres irrigated in the district the lack of technical help has hurt the district program.

Progress in the district included the developing and the maintaining of contact between supervisors and cooperators. Two district newsletters were issued, one on legumes and cover crops and one on wind erosion and cover management.

A field day was held in the southwest portion of the district. It was attended by 60 farmers and businessmen and points of emphasis were the use of soil improving crops in rotation, use of commercial fertilizers, and conservation of water by use of conservation irrigation systems.

The district sponsored three 4-H club boys as a soil and water conservation team. The team won third place in a contest at Texas A&M College.

Also, there was the developing of outside help. Soil stewardship bulletins were mailed to each church in the district and fair participation was noted. A meeting was conducted with a woman's club on water conservation and its importance to city as well as rural citizens.

The board acknowledged the assistance given them by businessmen and civic groups:

1. The newspapers of the county have been very cooperative in supporting the district by getting information to the public.

2. The Friona Chamber of Commerce furnished office space for the Soil Conservation Service.

3. The Friona State Bank has paid the National Association of Soil District dues for a number of years.

The Parmer County board of supervisors include A. L. Black, president; Joe Blair, secretary-treasurer; Lloyd Prewett, vice-president; Matt Jesko, member; and Carl Schlenker, member.

"The Place Where Most People Trade"

Friona, Texas—Wednesday, February 20, 1957

The Trebleaires presented the program for Friona Lions Club Thursday night. When Charles Allen was introduced as the Trebleaires' sweetheart, he was soundly kissed by the twelve girls and we couldn't decide which was redder, Charles' face or the lipstick smears.

Why not put a fertilizer attachment on your lister and do two jobs at once. We have 'em, you need 'em. Come by and let us show you how it works.

An early New Orleans newspaper recorded the following story of a Texas-bound traveler who came upon a small boy leaning against the wheel of a covered wagon and crying as if his heart would break. "What's the matter, son?" he asked. "What ain't the matter?" sobbed the boy. "Paw is drunk and Maw is so sick she can't get out of the wagon. There ain't no coffee and the sow belly is ate up. The skillet handle is busted and worms is in the meal. My big brother lost the last money we had in a crap game, the rear axle's bent and it's a mile back to the creek to water. You know, mister, sometimes I wonder if it's worth all this to get to Texas."

Mrs. Anne Nazworth is a new employee at the Friona State Bank. Anne was formerly employed at the hospital.

Mrs. David Binkley and son from Memphis, Texas, drove up to be with Rev. Binkley who has been directing the singing for the Methodist Church during the revival. The Binkleys are former Friona folks. They were dinner guests of the Wesley Fosters.

Have you seen one of the new six row listers at work? We can prove that they are practical for your kind of farming, and cheaper, too.

This is the time of year to get your planter in shape for the work ahead and our parts men can be more help to you if you get your parts now and avoid the spring rush.

Two Methodist men are wearing the wrong hats. One of them is our daddy. He forgot his hat at the church one Sunday and when he went back to get it the next week he couldn't find it.

About a month later he discovered another grey hat had been left at the church. So that is the one he's wearing. It fits just fine but it isn't his hat.

Company at our Grandad's house last week was M. L. McFarland from Pierre, South Dakota, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee Jones from Lovington, New Mexico, and Miss Lora Mae McFarland from Clovis.

Mrs. J. W. Easterling from Clarendon has been visiting here with her daughter, Mrs. V. R. Jordan. Mrs. Easterling has nine children, twenty-six grandchildren, and twenty great grandchildren. At Christmas time she personally buys and wraps a gift for every child, grandchild and great grandchild—and for all the in-laws in her family—and that's a room full of presents. Mrs. Easterling lives alone and is a very active worker in her church and we might add she is a lovely looking lady with snow white hair.

Ben Woody says just call and make a date for overhauling that irrigation motor. Beat the rush and get it ready now. The number is 2091 or 2201.

As you can see by what is happening Monday, winter isn't over and we still have anti-freeze. Better check your motors to see if it is strong enough to go through a cold spell.

Think a six-row lister won't work? Talk to Ralph Shelton. If it is new in the farm machinery line, International Harvester is making it and it's for sale at the Parmer County Implement Company.

Glynn Don Hughes has purchased a few acres just east of town. He plans to put in a nursery there soon. Glynn Don tries to farm but is kept so busy by Friona folks who want him to do some landscaping that he may have to give up farming.

If you need a good used car you better look these over. 1954 Buick. This car has been well cared for, has low mileage, looks and drives like new. 1954 Chevrolet—power steering, power brakes and air conditioning. You have to see this to know just what a buy it is. A number of other late model cars too. Come by, let's trade.

Several people were real happy when Guy and Lucille Latta moved into their new home on the Loop—the Lattas to have a new home, the Leon Awtreys to have a rent house, and seven year old Miss Sharon because she has a new play house—the cellar at the Lattas' old house.

It will pay you to take a demonstration ride in the 1957 Oldsmobile, the dream car of your life. You can afford an Oldsmobile.

Burton Hillis says he's convinced that the most depressing thing any man can face is that age when the girls consider him harmless.

New residents in Friona are Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Smith and two children from Hale Center. Mr. Smith has rented our Dad's farm north of town.

Peeler To Speak To Sorghum Men

R. G. Peeler, president of the High Plains Grain Sorghum Producers Association and a leader of the area in promotion of that commodity, will be the featured speaker at a meeting Monday evening, February 25, at the Friona school cafeteria.

At the same meeting, awards will be made by the Parmer County chapter of the Association to 4-H and FFA boys who were named winners in production contests sponsored by the organization last year.

The meeting, to begin at 7:30, will feature Peeler's talk and problems with which grain sorghum producers are now facing will be aired. Reduction in support prices for this year indicate that prices may be approximately equivalent to the 1955 levels.

A discussion period will be held in which farmers who attend will be urged to ask questions or offer suggestions concerning their problems.

Coffee and donuts will be served. Arlin Hartzog, president of the Parmer County group, announced the meeting, and also reminded that a meeting of the Parmer County Cotton Improvement Association will be announced in the near future. At that meeting, awards will be given the boys who participated in the cotton growing contest.

THE PARMER FARMER

It had been a long time since we had seen or talked with Ronald Davis, and we were glad to see him when he walked into the office Tuesday afternoon.

Davis, you may remember, was the Lazbuddie man who last year promoted interest in large-scale vegetable production on the irrigated Plains.

The last we remember of his efforts, a meeting of agricultural leaders was held in Plainview and the West Texas Vegetable Council was formed. After that, we heard stories that extensive survey work was underway, but we don't know what happened to this action.

Ronald told us this week that he, too, is wondering what happened to the survey (being taken by Texas A & M). He expects to find out shortly and has promised us he will let us know what's-what.

Meanwhile, we became quite interested in his story about his own experiences in the vegetable business last year. Davis not only grew his vegetables; he followed through to the actual sale of the produce to the housewife.

The Davis family leased their place at Lazbuddie and moved to Amarillo, where he leased a small fruit and vegetable stand on Highway 66. He named it Davis Fruit Market.

Ronald was bent on, so he told us, getting some educational experience in the field of wholesaling and retailing vegetables. He figured he could best do this by brushing elbows with the tradesmen in actual operation.

"My education turned out to be worth a whole lot more than the money we made from the sale of the vegetables themselves," he told us with a grin.

The Davises had long supply lines. They grew corn, okra, tomatoes, green beans, peas, watermelon, cantaloupes, potatoes, and pinto beans on 12 acres at their Lazbuddie farm, and made frequent shipments from the field to the Amarillo retail outlet.

We asked him if he used advertising to implement his business, and he said yes. Davis advertised on three Amarillo radio stations, which is something we suppose we shouldn't print here, but we will because it illustrates that advertising does move merchandise. He says he got good results from his campaigns.

(He promised to try newspapers next year.)

Apparently, the former Lazbuddie resident is going to stick with his unique production line-to-consumer schedule, because he tells us he has moved in a 12 x 18 cold storage unit at the farm which will be used to store vegetables in bulk.

Davis didn't divulge any exact figures on how business was during the past year, but in speaking of profits, he did make particular mention of the tremendous success that his Christmas tree selling project made a couple of months ago.

He and the fellow he leased the business from went "halves" into the Christmas tree business as a sideline and made almost $1,000 apiece from the short-lived promotion, Davis confided.

We asked him if he was ever worried about getting caught with considerable surplus on December 25, and he said they had no trouble in that respect the past year. In fact, he said, they sold completely out.

For a man used to raising vegetables, even selling Christmas trees doesn't seem too risky an enterprise, apparently.

Mr. Businessman: Make your ads say, "And we do mean you."

THE H. D. AGENT'S CORNER

Jimmie Lou Waincott

Eggs and beef are headlines on the USDA's plentiful foods list for March. There'll be lots of rice and continued supplies of baking potatoes at thrifty prices. Canned sweet corn will continue to be plentiful, as will milk and other dairy products.

You get extra dividends from foods when the label says "enriched". Extension foods and nutrition specialists say the added minerals and vitamins mean greater food value, often at no extra cost.

Quality grades can help the shopper in buying meat. But, extension foods and nutrition specialists say, it is also important to select the right cut for your needs.

Make every trip to the meat counter a wise one by following these guides: Plan meat dishes ahead—select the right grade and cut for the particular dish planned, and use the correct cooking method.

Cuts of meat are tender or tough—depending on where they are located on the beef carcass, the grade of the meat, the amount of aging it has had, and the age of the beef animal when it was slaughtered. Some of the cooking methods are best for the tender cuts; others are especially suited for the less tender cut. Tender cuts are best when they are cooked by the dry heat methods... such as roasting, broiling, pan-broiling and frying. The less tender cuts are made more tender by cooking with moist heat using such ways as braising, stewing and simmering. Generally, moist heat cooking methods are needed for practically all cuts of the lower grades of beef... and for less tender cuts of higher grade beef.

Winter is pruning time for most plants, reminds Sadie Hatfield, extension home improvement specialist. It is recommended for practically everything except plants that bloom early in the spring, such as red buds, peaches, other fruits, spirea and flowering quince. Prune those just after blooming. Remember, you prune shrubs for the same reason you landscape—to improve comfort, convenience and beauty. Cut off limbs that obstruct drive-ways or walks. Cut the oldest stems of nandina. Cut back pitzer juniper branches to make the plant more compact and easier to live with.

Crape myrtles can be cut back to the ground to make them form a bush rather than awkward shrubs. Now is a good time to move crowded crape myrtles to a better area. The full sun helps keep off mildew and will cause them to bloom more than shaded plants. Summer flowering shrubs, such as althea, butterfly bush, crape myrtle and vetex, should be pruned now.

Pests, such as aphids, red spiders and pill bugs, begin working early on fruit trees, ornamentals and young flowers. Use an all-purpose insecticide, suggests Sadie Hatfield, extension home improvement specialist; or identify the insect and follow L-199 Control of Insects on Ornamental Plants in Texas.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

A bit of verse came out in one of the publications we regularly read a few days ago. It was quite amusing and a good laugh is helpful to all homemakers, so here it is:

One In A Million
There goes the greatest optimist
I've met in all my life—
He keeps the motor running while
He's waiting for his wife!

One of our favorite recipes for a colorful cake is being printed below. Besides being pretty, it is very light and has a nice texture.

Rainbow Cake
Measure into bowl: 2 cups sifted flour, 2 cups sugar, 3/4 cups shortening, few grains of salt and 1 cup milk. Mix thoroughly by hand or mixer (medium speed) for two minutes. Stir in five teaspoons baking powder. Add four egg whites, (save yolks for icing) and 1/2 cup milk. Mix thoroughly by hand or mixer (medium speed) for two minutes. Divide batter into three equal parts.

White layer — Add 1/2 teaspoon vanilla to prepared batter.

Yellow layer — Add 3 or 4 drops yellow coloring and 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract.

Dark layer — Add 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/8 teaspoon cloves, and 2 tablespoons cocoa dissolved in 2 tablespoons water.

Bake three layers in medium oven.

Icing — combine 4 egg yolks, 3 cups sifted powdered sugar, 1/3 cup shortening, few grains of salt and 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla. Beat until creamy then ice cake. Decorate as desired.

Here is a recipe for Chicken Salad that is easy to make, keeps well, and makes good after school or late evening snacks. Combine 3 cups cubed cooked chicken, 1 1/2 cups diced celery, 1 tsp. salt, 3 hard cooked eggs, 3 sweet pickles chopped, and mayonnaise to moisten.

If you desire to serve it as a salad, serve on a lettuce leaf and garnish with pimento and sliced hard cooked eggs.

An article in one of the new farm magazines states that anyone can have the kind of lawn he wants. It seems very simple. All you need do is to decide what kind of lawn you want, how much time, work, water, and thought you want to devote to it. The writer didn't state that the doing of all the tasks were much harder than the decision was to make, but anyone who has ever tried to grow and keep a lawn knows that this is true.

If you are one of those persons who never throws away any glass container that is an unusual shape and has a good screw top lid, there is something new on the market which will make a lot of those pretty but unused containers into practical objects. Gold and black decals which will transform plain glass or metal containers into decorative kitchen canisters are easily applied. Titles available include flour, coffee, tea, sugar, salt, pepper, cookies, candy, rice, nutmeg, allspice, cinnamon, and others.

Aphids Troublesome In Alfalfa, Wheat

The pesky aphid is troubling High Plains farmers again. He's in both alfalfa and wheat in considerable numbers, reports County Agent Joe Jones this week.

Commonly referred to as the "greenbug," the aphids in wheat are being reported by what Jones says are "a lot" of area farmers. The spotted aphid, on the other hand, is hitting alfalfa growers too.

Farmers who may be considering control measures are offered advice by the agent. He emphasizes that proper methods and timing are the answer to the question of whether control attempts will or will not be effective.

"There are cases where good results have been obtained using several insecticides," says Jones. Of these, parathion, methyl parathion, systox and metasytox seem to be the most popular.

"However," he cautioned, "the benefits from spraying is limited to a great degree by just how the job is done."

Among things to watch, he points out that the temperature must be above 50 degrees (and preferably above 60) in order to get a good kill. That's because only in warmer weather will greenbugs crawl up the plants for a meal. And they have to be exposed before the chemical can knock them out.

Also, a factor to watch, especially in this part of the country, is the wind velocity. Spraying must be done when conditions are still enough to do an effective job, he emphasizes.

"A good way to put it is to not plan on any specific date to spray," believes the agent. "Instead, just be ready to go and when conditions are right, hop to it."

It's also helpful to have conditions as humid as possible. Spraying after showers or after irrigations seems to be more effective. In the case of insecticide applied by air, Jones says that the farmer should see that at least two gallons of carrier per acre go into the spray formula, to insure adequate "wetting down."

He also added a note of caution: Phosphorous compounds, such as these sprays, are toxic. Precautions should be taken to protect both livestock, and persons who may be around.

In the case of aphids in alfalfa, Jones emphasizes that control is especially difficult here. He pointed out that the expected price of hay should be a consideration in determining whether it is economically feasible to spray for the bugs in this crop.

"Some alfalfa growing areas spray at least one time between each cutting of hay," he says.

Car Inspection Slow, Only 17% Inspected

L. W. (Dub) Wilhite, inspector from the Texas Department of Public Safety, motor vehicle inspection division, reports this week that car inspection for 1957 is slow, with only 17 per cent of the cars in Parmer County having been inspected.

Wilhite says there are 5,927 cars registered in the county and that only 1,010 have been inspected thus far. That leaves 83 per cent of the Parmer County vehicles to be inspected before April 15.

Wilhite urges citizens to please have their cars and other vehicles inspected soon in order to avoid the last minute rush.

59 Stockmen Have Received Relief

Fifty-nine stockmen have received assistance through the emergency feed program in Parmer County, since participation began in September, 1956, reports Prentice Mills, manager of the Parmer County ASC office.

The total number pounds of feed bought has been 1,064,600 and the cash assistance paid has been $8,745.50.

Malathion, Parathion Stop Aphids In Vetch

Malathion and parathion offer a fast, effective control of the pea aphid on vetch, giving better one-day results than DDT and toxaphene-DDT sprays, according to Neal M. Randolph, assistant professor of entomology at Texas A & M College.

Practically no difference in the percentage of control between these two insecticides was noted at the end of a four-day period. The application of a toxaphene-parathion mixture applied at two pounds and .25 pounds respectively per acre resulted in a 99.6 percent kill four days after treatment. Malathion treatment resulted in 98.9 percent and parathion gave 98.2 percent kill. Toxaphene-DDT applied in a 2-1 ratio produced a 95.7 percent reduction in aphid population and 94.1 percent kill was obtained with DDT.

Reserve Deadline Nearing

Through March 15, farmers have an opportunity to sign contracts to put part of their cropland in the long-range Conservation Reserve program. This reminder comes from Joe W. Magness, chairman of the Parmer County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Contracts run for five and 10 years and for participating in the program the farmer may earn an initial payment representing up to 80 percent of the cost of the practice and an annual payment for the period of the contract, which in Parmer County is $10 per year.

Essential points in the program, which farmers should have in mind are: Land put in the conservation reserve must be land which otherwise would be in crops. The same acres may not be put in both the acreage reserve and the conservation reserve programs.

The total acreage in crops on the farm must be reduced by the number of acres put in the conservation reserve, and a farmer is eligible to participate in the conservation reserve only if he does not exceed any acreage allotment established for his farm.

Magness also reminds farmers that to participate in the conservation reserve the farmer must sign a contract to keep the designated acreage in an approved conservation practice for the required period of years. Approved practices include protective vegetative cover, or other soil-water-wildlife or forest-conserving use.

No crop may be harvested from land put in the conservation reserve.
