Four Candidates In Queen Race

Football game with Hart on Mustang field, Friday at 8 p. m. has been designated as annual homecoming for Bovina High. Exes are invited to attend and it is hoped that a large number will turn out for the event, High School Principal Roy Whisler says.

The night has also been set aside to observe Parents' Night. Parents of football players will be given numbers to wear that will correspond with the number of their sons.

Halftime activities will highlight the crowning of the football queen for 1959-60. Her identity will be kept a closely-guarded secret until that time.

Candidates are selected by the football squad two weeks in advance and ballots are cast at halftime of the game.

This year's candidates are Joy Redden, senior; Marilyn Brandon, sophomore; Sue Estes, senior; and Judy Roach, junior. Last year's queen was Joan Kay Ezell.

The queen will be crowned by the captains of the team, Jerry Barron and Roger Ezell.

WHITTLIN'

BY DOLPH MOTEN

When asked about the outcome of Bovina's Friday night football game, a wiseguy pointed out that Mustangs got "second place" and left the impression that was pretty good--just one team ahead of them.

We heard of worse deals.

Vernon Estes, as usual, got a big discussion--that's a nice word for argument--started over coffee this week about whether or not a fair catch was permissible in high school football.

We were in another discussion at the time and only got to hear a part of the conversation which were all going at at once.

Vernon was of the opinion that there is no such thing as a fair catch in high school football. We could have called an authority on the subject, but that would have taken all the fun out of it. So, we still don't know, but it's our opinion that a fair catch can be made in high school football.

For folks who aren't familiar with the term, a fair catch may be signalled--by a wave of the hand--by a receiver of a kickoff or a punt. Said receiver makes the signal when he figures he has no chance for a run back, anyway. So, the defenders call a halt to their work; in other words, don't tackle the receiver, and in return the receiver makes no attempt to run with the ball. He simply downs it on the spot where he caught it.

It's a good rule and has saved many a safety man from being torn in two by a pair of big, tackle-hungry ends.

If you know the rule is in effect in high school football, tell Vernon Estes; we couldn't convince him.

Bovina's street markers are in a sad state of upkeep. They've been run over, run into, shot at, pulled up, chunked at and various other things. They don't, as a whole, look good. And, with that disadvantage, have little chance to serve their intended purpose.

Bovina Woman's Study Club, you'll remember, raised money to buy the street markers some four or five years ago. They prevailed on Lions Clubbers to install the markers and everything was fine . . . for a while. No one was appointed to maintain the markers . . . and consequently, no one has.

From here on we think the

Harding Seeks Re-Election As Attorney

Hurshel Harding of Farwell has announced his candidacy for the office of county attorney, a position he now holds. His announcement is made subject to the Democratic Primary May 7.

He will be seeking his first full term of office, as he was elected two years ago to fill the unexpired term of Bill Sheehan of Friona, who resigned to become district attorney.

In making his announcement, he commented: "I want to thank the citizens of Parmer County for their cooperation. I promise them that I will continue to carry out the duties of the county attorney to the best of my ability if I am elected."

BY CHURCH OF CHRIST--

Parsonage Now Being Built

Construction began last week on a new parsonage for Bovina Church of Christ.

The house is being built north of the present parsonage and is part of a long range building program planned by Church of Christ members.

Arnold Hromas is contractor for the three-bedroom home which will also have a den, two baths and a one-car garage. It will be brick.

Completion date is about January 1. Cost is in the neighborhood of $13,000.

The present parsonage will be for sale (to be moved) when the new home is completed. It occupies space which will be used by a new church building, also a part of long range planning.

Altman Gets Year

Elmer Altman, 37-year-old Lubbock man, was sentenced to a year in the state penitentiary by Judge E. A. Bills Monday in district court. He was charged with non-support of his children.

The man received a five-year suspended sentence a year or so ago on a morals charge.

HEARING NECESSARY--

Baptists Snagged By Zoning Law

City Commissioners decided Thursday that First Baptist Church will have to meet in a zoning hearing before constructing parking lots across the street from the church building.

The church bought the property recently in a tax sale. It is located in an "A" zone which restricts construction to homes and playgrounds.

A definite date for the hearing was not set.

In other business, the commission instructed City Secretary Henry Minter to consult the city engineer in a controversy involving paving adjacent to Triplett Feed Lots on North Street.

The engineer will decide whether the street's location is such that Triplett or City of Bovina will be responsible for paving.

Minter was also authorized to write the company that paved Bovina streets and ask them to repair some of the paving. A portion of Eighth Street needs repairing in addition to other streets the commission said.

The commission voted to allow Bovina Methodist Church to discontinue interest payments on a paving lien.

The commission tentatively set Tuesday as the date for cleaning streets if help is available.

Minter said bracers might be used in this work but there is a possibility it will not be done on schedule because of scarcity of workers.

Minter's vacation was approved from November 1-8 by the commission.

To Band Or Not To Band

The Mustang band that performed at Bovina-Cooper football game last week was one of the best, if not the best, band that has performed at any game involving Bovina this year.

The halftime show was certainly far less than perfect. It was simple. The lines weren't too straight and the members played no marches as they moved through their formations. But nevertheless, it was the best halftime show put on at any Bovina football game at home or away this season.

The band performance in the stands sounded good, especially considering this important thing—all members were junior high school students.

Yes, strange as it seems, when Bovina students reach high school their careers in band are finished. This year, for the first time, there is no high school band.

An organization that calls itself Band Parents is doing what it can to correct this situation.

A lack of interest on the part of high school students has been mentioned as the excuse for not having a band for high school students. This may be a valid reason currently, but what about next year when the majority of this year's 50 or 60 band members get into high school.

Their training and instruments will be wasted. Their chances of going to college on band scholarships will be completely nullified, and the band will lose people who could make it better because they are graduated from junior high.

Another excuse given for not having a high school band is that necessary funds aren't available.

The present uniforms are worn, but are still useable. Band Director Earl Hise has shown from his work with junior high students that he can train a group if given the chance.

So what, then, keeps Bovina from having a good high school band . . . this is what the Band Parents plan to find out.

Drop Third Straight—

Mustangs Stumble In Second Half; Lose 14-0

Bovina's lackluster Mustangs failed to muster a serious scoring threat while the Cooper Pirates were slashing them to pieces with off-tackle plays and carving out a 14-0 win Friday night.

The Pirates came back after halftime intermission fresh and anxious. They drove 68 yards on eight plays, to break the scoreless deadlock, the first time they got the ball.

Bill Bednarz, 160 pound Pirate back, darted through the midst of Mustang defenders and galloped 19 yards for the score.

Try for extra points failed. Jerry Barron covered a Cooper fumble near mid-field to temporarily bog down a second scoring drive after Don Caldwell had punted to Cooper's 24 and the Pirates had promptly moved for two first downs.

The Mustangs were unable to make a first down and gave up the ball on Cooper's 46 where the Pirates launched their second scoring drive.

In 10 plays, the powerful Cooper offense ate up the 54 yards, with quarterback Jimmie Jenkins getting the score on a 10-yard keeper.

Eddie Perkins ran for two extra points giving the Pirates a 14-0 lead.

On Cooper's first play from scrimmage, Perkins hit the line broke into the open and outran everyone down the sideline for 76 yards. A holding penalty nullified the play however and when Roger Ezell recovered a Pirate fumble, it seemed the Mustangs might be able to take advantage of two breaks and get an early touchdown.

Hope faded however as the Pirates bottled up Mustang runners and quarterback Caldwell could find no receiver open on two pass attempts.

Caldwell punted and after the Pirates had unreeled but one play, Ezell, who was a defensive standout, intercepted a Jenkins pass and carried it back to the Pirate 30.

Both teams cranked up their passing machines as halftime neared. A Caldwell-Ezell shot gave the Mustangs a first down on the Cooper 30 but they failed to move from there and lost a fourth down gamble.

Taking over on their own 27, the Pirates, with Jenkins throwing from a short punt formation, struck quickly for a first down with Bednarz hauling in a pass for 13 yards.

John Lorenz, whose line-backing was one of the few bright spots in Mustang play, intercepted a pass on the 50 and carried it to the Cooper 30. But two plays later, Jenkins intercepted a Caldwell pass.

The Pirates were moving swiftly through the air but half-time caught them short of the goal.

The Pirates outplayed the Mustangs more than the score indicates. Cooper rolled for 17 first downs compared to only four for the Ponies. Ten of those first downs came in the second half when, for the second time in as many weeks, the Mustangs could never get started after the intermission.

The Pirates gained 224 yards rushing compared to only 38 for the Mustangs. Mustang backs Jon Lin Riddle, Ezell and Barron shook loose for a few good gainers but too many times, Pirates crashed through the Mustang forward wall to nail the ball carrier for four to seven yard losses.

Quarterback Caldwell found poor protection when he dropped back to throw and was often dropped far behind the line of scrimmage. He finally resorted to tossing from deep-punt formation.

The game was reminiscent of the clash with Boys' Ranch the week before when Bovina held an 8-0 lead at halftime but lost 14-8.

The loss gives the Ponies a 1-4 non-district for the season. Bovina opens district play next week with Hart.

Cooper's win gives the Pirates a 2-3 record.

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

Grain Sorghum Good ... As Was Expected

Typical of hundreds of farmers throughout the High Plains area and of many farmers here in Parmer County, Amos Steelman was combining his maize crop last week.

Steelman's farm is located seven miles southwest of Friona and includes one-half section of Texas 620 variety of irrigated maize.

"I planted my crop on June 10," Steelman says. He says the planting rate was 9 pounds an acre and for fertilizer he used 130 pounds of anhydrous ammonia an acre. Steelman said he had maize on the same land last year. "My yield is around 6000 pounds an acre," he says. Steelman had already cut much of his crop before being rained out the first three days of this month. He is putting his crop in the loan.

Dick Steelman, his son, and R. J. Renner, a neighbor, were cutting the crop last week using Steelman's combine and one of Renner's.

"This crop is as good as any I have had," Steelman said.

MAIZE COMBINING was in full swing on the Amos Steelman farm southwest of Friona as it was on most other farms throughout Parmer County last weekend. Rain temporarily interrupted the harvest the first days of October.

Yarborough To Speak Tuesday

T. O. Lesly New Head Farm Union

T. O. Lesly, Lazbuddie farmer, was elected president of Parmer County Farmers Union Tuesday night. Clyde Weatherly was named vice-president and O. D. Spidler is secretary. Richard Alexander, state secretary, attended the county-wide meeting and was the principal speaker, although other visitors were on the floor also. Alexander summarized some of the problems facing farmers in general and Farmers Union in particular. He attacked farmer apathy toward many problems.

A good bit of his talk was devoted to politics. "Farm prices are made in Washington," he told his audience of about 45 persons. "Don't let

T. O. LESLY anybody kid you "at they're not. "It's time we farmers matured a little politically speaking," he said, suggesting that farmers "vote their pocketbook." The Farmers Union leader had hard words for the Republican Party and pointed out that the Democratic Party is the only one that has shown cooperation with Union-sponsored ideas. He urged his listeners to participate in precinct and county politics next year and to keep "Democrats for Nixon" out of influential party positions.

RALPH YARBOROUGH

U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough, who defeated Bill Blakeley for that post in 1958 and thereby established himself as leader of the "liberal-loyalists" in Texas, will speak in Friona Tuesday night.

The Austin attorney, often a critic of administration-sponsored farm policies, will appear at a Farmers Union-sponsored meeting at the school cafeteria, which will start at 8.

Yarborough has endorsed, before and after his election to office, several phases of the government farm program, and has favored increased price supports for farm commodities.

He bills himself as "a poor man's candidate" and wants protection of income for the "family-size farm."

British Feed Grain Experts Visit In Parmer County

Grain sorghum may be piled deeper in the feed troughs of British livestock and poultry in the next several months as the result of increased promotion on the part of High Plains sorghum growers. Six feedgrain industry representatives from the United Kingdom will spend the month of October in Texas and surrounding areas.

They will study the harvesting, transportation, merchandising and processing of grain sorghum and consider increased imports of it and other United States feedgrains as they expand livestock and poultry production.

The group, headed by British Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, R. E. Moore, will travel throughout the area as guests of Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

The group is scheduled to visit elevators at Bovina this week, to see the large storage and handling facilities there. The visitors arrived in Houston October 2 and toured the port grain export facilities. The following week has been spent at Texas A & M where they visited with agricultural staff members and attended the Texas Nutrition Conference, which attracted grain and feed representatives from several states.

The week of October 12 will be spent in the High Plains grain sorghum production and feeding area. Opportunity will be provided for a visit to a ranch near Dumas, feed lots near Lubbock as well as smaller "on the farm" feeding operations within the area. Several conferences have been scheduled with agricultural and grain industry leaders to discuss the value of grain sorghum in balanced feeding programs.

Facts About Teenage Drivers

How big a role does the teenage driver play in the overall auto accident picture? The National Safety Council, in its newly published statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts," points out these facts: Of the 82 million licensed drivers in America, about six million—or 7 per cent of them—are under 20 years old. However, this 7 per cent is responsible for more than 12 per cent of the nation's auto accidents.

Herman Gerles New FB Prexy

Herman Gerles, a director from the Farwell area, was elected president of the Parmer County Farm Bureau Thursday night at the annual convention.

Elected to serve with him as new directors were J. T. Jones, Bovina; Vernon Symcox, Farwell; Joe Jesko, Lazbuddie; H. P. Hamilton, south Friona; and Franklin Bauer, Rhea.

The convention, lightly attended, adopted resolutions slamming the practices of the Department of Labor. Kenneth Precure of Lazbuddie offered heavy criticism of the government agency, commenting, "It makes me mad for a government agent up there to tell me how much to pay my help." His resolution calling for a abolition of the department was adopted.

Another resolution was to require car and truck owners to prove financial responsibility before they are issued vehicle tags. At the present time the state law on driver responsibility seldom deters an irresponsible person until after a wreck, it was pointed out.

Farm Bureau members called for special permission to pay road tax on butane delivered to a farm tank, without requiring bond and detailed records.

Under Public Law 480 governing exported commodities, the convention asked for repeal of "cargo preference" legislation.

And, on grain support prices, they endorsed a resolution, "To cause the USDA to reconsider and base feed grain support prices on the same premise as corn with proper consideration for differences in feed value, but without so-called 'other factors.'"

Average realized net income per farm in Texas amounted to $3,430 in 1958, compared with $1,774 in 1957. Texas farm operators ranked 17th among the states in realized net income per farm.

MAKE THE MOST OF PEARS...

Bartlett pears are plentiful this year... Use them to add variety and interest to meals or serve them for between-meal snacks.

Try your hand at a variety of salads and desserts using pears, or make preserves and preserves to enjoy later. Louise Mason, extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A&M College, says pears are low in calories; a medium sized pear contains only about 100.

Bartletts are large, bell shaped pears with a smooth skin of bright yellow, often with a reddish-blush on one side. They have a creamy white flesh, a fine texture and good flavor. When you shop, look for well shaped, firm fruit free of blemishes.

Home grown pears are improved in flavor by ripening indoors. They should be gathered when fully developed in size and shape and when they have begun to color.

To ripen pears for eating, canning or preserving, wrap individually and store in a cool dry place until they are mellow.

FRESH PORK IS A GOOD BUY...

Fresh pork, which is rich in nutritional value, is an especially good buy this fall, according to Marie Tribble, extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A&M College.

Pork ranks high in thiamine and is a good source of other B vitamins (riboflavin and niacin). Like other meats it rates for protein and iron.

Fresh pork has a relatively short storage life compared to other meats. This means a few days in the refrigerator and from 3 to 6 months in the freezer. To refrigerate pork, wrap loosely and place in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Before freezing, trim excess fat from the meat, and package in moisture and vapor-resistant wrappings. You may want to separate cuts into meal-sized portions before packaging for the freezer. Wrap carefully so packages will be airtight to prevent meat from drying out. Then quick freeze at zero F. or lower. Cooked pork can be frozen satisfactorily, but is not as desirable as pork frozen uncooked.

Fresh pork sausage, like most ground meats, is highly perishable and loses quality when kept in the refrigerator for longer than a day or two. However, it will keep in a freezer at zero for a few weeks.

Uncooked cured pork cannot be frozen as successfully as fresh pork but can be kept somewhat longer in a refrigerator. Half hams have the best eating quality if used within 5 days and whole hams are best when eaten within 2 weeks.

BRIEFS FOR FOOD SHOPPERS

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Specialist in Consumer Marketing Information Extension Service, A&M College

Fresh or cured pork—rich in food value—is an especially good buy now. Hams, picnics, bacon and sausage are wearing attractive price tags... Lots of chicken hens on the market means prices are low.

Economically priced vegetables include sweet and white potatoes, carrots, eggplant, cabbage, and dry onions... More cauliflower, brussel sprouts and rutabagas are now available in many grocery stores.

Large displays of apples are seen on produce counters. Varieties for cooking and for eating out of hand are plentiful. Bartlett pears, prunes and grapes are good fruit choices.

Research is important in food marketing. At present, sixty cents out of every dollar spent for food goes for marketing services—the other forty cents pays production—Some benefits we get from government research are: (1) less waste in motion and resources, thus lower costs (2) new and improved food products, and (3) better quality food.

Sizzling sausage, crisp bacon, ham or fried pork chops add extra appeal at breakfast time. There's happy news for both the food budgets and for fall appetites, because pork is plentiful and will be all during the fall months. Be sure to check the meat counter this weekend for good pork buys.

More apples are coming to market each week at reasonable prices. Bartlett pears offer a good quality fruit treat. Bananas, lemons and grapes are plentiful and pleasing in price. Keep fruit on hand for between meal snacks, and for easy enjoyable desserts.

Potatoes and dry onions are good buys. Sweet potato prices are seasonally low. Eggplant, cabbage, carrots, green peppers and peas are some of the other fresh vegetables offered by most markets.

Mrs. Mabel Jones, of Friona is the winner of the lady's wrist watch in our little contest about the United Nation's Organization. She won with a perfect paper of definitions and other information asked for. There were no male entries from Parmer County, except our brother-in-law, Ralph Bigelow, of Rochester, New York, who happened to be here during the contest period. We may send the other wrist watch to him if he reads this and requests it, since there were no bonafide male entries with permanent Parmer County addresses. His paper was perfect also. We may consider a repeat of the contest on a high school student basis if we can get an appreciable number of requests for it.

ing last Thursday night in Bovina. Another was one again urging repeal of the "cargo preference" portion of public law 480 export program. The other national resolution was to cause the USDA to reconsider and base the support price of grain sorghum in direct ratio with the feed value of corn with the exclusion of the detrimental term, "and other factors."

On the state level, the membership asked that liability insurance be required at time of licensing of any vehicle, and that a penalty be provided to prevent cancellation during the period of license. Also, in response to the recent change in handling of butane and propane, a resolution was prepared and passed that would allow a farmer to keep a separate tank for taxed butane for use in licensed vehicles, without requiring bond and detailed records.

Herman Gerles was elected Farm Bureau President for the next year. Herman has been an active director for sometime and holds promise of making a good leader for the organization. He farms northwest of Bovina. New directors are Franklin Bauer, replacing Jack Patterson of Rhea; Joe Jesko, replacing Les Bruins of Lazbuddie; J. T. Jones, Bovina, and Vernon Symcox, Farwell, were re-elected.

DEAN McCULLOM treats one of his 1700 or 1800 lambs which he is feeding to gain profits because of the low market price of grain sorghums and other crops.

SHEEP CROWD HAY feeding trough on the Dean McCullom farm northwest of Bovina. McCullom feeds maize, wheat and alfalfa as well as hay.

Sheep Help McCullom Use His Grain Sorghum

Like many other Parmer County farmers, Dean McCullom has turned to sheep feeding to gain profits with grain sorghums and other crops at low market prices. "It looks like an awfully good year for sheep because of the market prices," McCullom says.

McCullom says he is buying lambs at $16.10 cwt. and selling for around $20.00. "I have been feeding sheep about three years now," he says. McCullom says he has about 1700 to 1800 head of sheep and that his father is in partnership with him.

"I have roughly 400 on alfalfa," he says, explaining that he is feeding hay, alfalfa and wheat as well as maize.

"We intend to go to about 2,000 head," McCullom says. "It takes about a week to get sheep on full feed," he says, describing the gradual method of getting the animals accustomed to feed without too many animals dying.

"Some feeders lose as much as 10 per cent. I am hoping I won't have 3 per cent die." He says that far less than 3 per cent had died to date.

After getting the sheep on full feed in the feeding pens, McCullom puts the smaller ones on wheat, but keeps the heavier lambs in the pen to fatten them up for sale a month later. "I build a frame on the smaller ones before fattening them up," he says.

"It takes about 250 pounds of grain to fatten a lamb. After the end of the feeding period of 60 to 90 days, we usually have a one-half pound a day gain.

"We sell to the packers right here on the farm," he said. By buying the lambs at 60 pounds at $16.10 a hundred and selling them at 100 pounds at around $20.00 and considering his feeding cost, McCullom figures he has been making about $6.00 on each lamb.

"Nearly all we have sold have been around 20 cents a pound on fats."

McCullom drenches the new lambs he buys to kill stomach worms, pinworms and other

Marketing Seed Sure No Snap

When marketing seed you should follow the same steps as when marketing any other agricultural commodity, says Dr. Lee C. Coffey, extension agronomist.

The three major objectives in the sale of seed include finding a ready market, obtaining a satisfactory price and establishing a satisfied customer. The agronomist gives the following suggestions as aids to profitable seed marketing.

Your seed must first of all be good. Even though most inferior varieties today have been replaced by new and improved ones, the seed must be of high quality. Good seed must be genetically pure, free of disease, high in germination and free of insect damage. Also the variety should be recommended for the area where it is to be sold, Coffey states.

Good quality seed must be properly processed, he points out, as no farmer wants seed that are contaminated with weed or other crop seed and dirt matter.

After you have accomplished these steps, make sure it is packaged attractively and properly.

The most valuable crop coming from the farms and ranches of Texas is their young folks, reminds the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. These youngsters will soon be moving to and from school and the Council urges all motorists to observe all traffic laws and especially those relating to the loading and unloading of school children. Play it safe so the children can be safe, urges the Council.

A comparison of typical 1908 and 1958 rations for fattening beef cattle shows that when modern technology is put to work in the feedlot, beef profits climb. U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman, sheds this light on the comparison. The use of present day rations has increased weight gain by nearly 30 percent, improved feed efficiency about 35 percent and cut feed costs more than 25 percent.

Lorenz, Barron Earn Honors

A hard-hitting, 160-pound line-backer who was one of the few bright spots in the Mustangs' loss to Cooper and a shifty fullback were named outstanding players after Friday night's game.

John Lorenz, who played his best game of the season against the Pirates, was chosen outstanding lineman, Jerry Barron was named outstanding back. Coach Bob Wills in a post-game play his best game of the year against the Pirates.

Lorenz, who backs the right side of the line, was in on nearly every tackle made in his zone. He also intercepted a pass and returned it some 20 yards. Barron was chosen over Jon Lin Riddle, who was also praised. It is the second time this season the senior captain has been named in post-game balloting.

The Mustang fullback rambled for 21 yards on the third play of the game to give Bovina a first down on the Pirate 49. He also scampered 14 yards on the Pirates' first play from scrimmage after the first Cooper touchdown. He also recovered a fumble.

Barron also played a good defensive game, once stopping the ball carrier when he was the last man with a tackle chance.

Barron gained 43 yards on five carries for an 8.6 average to lead Mustang rushers.

HERE FRIDAY--

Hart Tests Mustangs In First 2-B Contest

Coach Bob Wills had a simple explanation for his Mustangs' 14-0 loss to the Copper Pirates Friday night. "They just beat us... in every way." Game statistics bear out the coach. The Pirates held a distinct advantage in every department except punting. "I've never seen a team get as many breaks in the first half as we did and lose," Wills said.

He was referring to the first half fumbles and pass interceptions that stopped the Pirates and gave Bovina scoring opportunities. Also a holding penalty that called back a Pirate touchdown play in the first quarter gave the Mustangs an advantage.

Wills had a scouting report on the Hart Longhorns who hit town Friday night to test the Mustangs in the first District 2-B clash for both teams.

From the report, Wills decided he will have a bigger team and has a larger squad, number-wise, than does Hart. But he wouldn't make any predictions about the outcome of the game because of the disappointing showing of his charges in the last three contests.

"We looked real good in those first two games, but haven't done much since then," the coach said.

"They (Hart) have a real good fullback, Wills said quoting from the scouting report. The Longhorns will bring a 2-4 record into the Friday night fray. Two of their line backs have been to Boys' Ranch (22-19) and Whitharral (14-8). The Mustangs (1-4) were also topped by the Ranchers (14-8) but smothered Whitharral by 28-0 margin.

The Longhorns run from the conventional split T formation and do not pass often.
