Rockwall County v/s Relay rolls on despite rain threats

by Mary Thacker

Tuesday night's planned parade on the grounds of the Rockwall County Relay For Life on April 30 at the Center Middle School track.

Rockwall High School sophomore Olivia Britton, daughter of Mark and Venus Britton, was crowned 2010 Miss Teen Dallas for her work at the Rockwall County Relay For Life. Britton, who lost her battle with brain cancer last year, was selected for the title by a panel of judges on April 25 at the Richardson Civic Center. Married couple, who have been active in the community since her battle, were also named Outstanding Father and Mother of the Year. Britton has been involved in Relay For Life since she was a child and is a member of the National Honor Society at Rowlett High School.

The Relay for Life is a 24-hour event where teams come together to raise money for cancer research and support local cancer fighters. The event begins with a survivor lap, followed by a dinner and dance. Members of the local community come together to support those affected by cancer.

On Friday evening, the skies cleared as the activities became more light-hearted and joyful. The Hope Ceremony took place at 9 p.m. when the stadium was filled with laughter and excitement. The Relay for Life also featured live entertainment, including a special presentation to the family of Cynthia Cates, who lost her battle with breast cancer last year. Cates' friends and family showed their love by sending donations to make her final days of life comfortable.

The skies turned blue as the Relay for Life concluded with a special presentation to the family of Cynthia Cates, who lost her battle with breast cancer last year. Cates' friends and family showed their love by sending donations to make her final days of life comfortable.

April is National Volunteer Month, a celebration of countless men and women doing extraordinary things to improve communities across the country. The act of volunteering is one of those tasks that often goes unnoticed and unappreciated.

A family in Rowlett — Timmy and Amber Lehmann — found a unique way to answer our nation’s call to serve. The Lehmanns have opened their heart and home to help those in need through non-profit EF Foundation to share America with Emma Blackwell of New Zealand. Timmy and Amber’s generosity of spirit not only gives their own children a global view, but hosting Emma for an American high school year also enhances global awareness and cultural understanding in their community and in their local schools and creates a positive view of the United States that crosses oceans and leaves a lifetime.

There are few things that can broaden a child’s world view or give them the opportunity to get to know someone from another country. Hosting a high school foreign exchange student goes beyond shared meals and forgetting a lifelong bond between your children and students from abroad. The opportunities for exploration are almost endless, and it’s a chance not only for our own country, but to share the best of America with someone from another country.

Amber Lehmann of Rowlett was first introduced to foreign exchange and EF Foundation as a high school student, spending her junior year in high school in Australia. Amber always knew that she would have a foreign exchange student when she had her own family. “Hosting a foreign exchange student has opened our family’s view to the world. We wanted to share our home with a student so that they could learn about our culture and have a wonderful American experience. But at the same time, we are finding that we are learning much about the world and Emma’s country. My husband, three daughters and I are building a bond with Emma and her family that I am sure will last a lifetime,” said Amber. “EF Foundation did a great job matching our family to an amazing student. We often joke that we could be family so much common interests. We often joke that we could be family so many common interests.”

“From now on I believe I’m really here, living in America, I’m so lucky to be having so many new experiences. My host family is amazing,” she said.

“They say you see all of the good new friends. It’s true! I’ve made so many new friends that I can’t wait to see them all again. I would recommend being an exchange student to anyone that wants to be able to express how how much we appreciate them.”

EF Foundation is proud to announce that another high school foreign exchange student for Rockwall’s school Family is hosting Emma for an American high school year and a student can visit www.EF.org to apply. McCollabranda EF Foundation is excited to announce. According to a source, the Council on Senior Living and the Translational Research Society (T3051) from the second in the number of students by the number of exchange students (2009-2010 school year in hosting 2 million for high school students). There are few things that can open the mind’s world view or give them the opportunity to get to know someone from another country. Hosting a high school foreign exchange student goes beyond shared meals and for American high school year also enhances global awareness and cultural understanding in their community and in their local schools and creates a positive view of the United States that crosses oceans and leaves a lifelong.

In Acts 1.5: 13-14, Christ gave some important information to his disciples. In his last words recorded in the book of Matthew, he told his disciples that they were to be his witnesses in Jerusalem, in all Judea, and in Samaria, and to the end of the earth. Christ did not say, "I will be there," but rather, "You be there." And it is true that we are to witness and share the Good News of Jesus Christ everywhere. This is the reason we are called the Body of Christ, and it is the reason we are called to be witnesses to the world. Christ gave some important information to his disciples. The high school band representing Patrician Christian High placed second overall at the TCU State Band Festival in San Antonio. The band, whichconsists of more than 200 musicians and music students, won the top award in the large school category.

The band's performance included a variety of pieces ranging from traditional favorites to contemporary compositions. The students were judged on their technical skills, musicianship, and overall presentation. The band received high praise from the judges for their exceptional performance.

The band's success is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the students and their instructors. The band's success also reflects the strong support and encouragement of the Patrician Christian High School community.

Congratulations to the Patrician Christian High band on this outstanding achievement! Their hard work and dedication have paid off, and their success is an inspiration to all.
Hello Hands offers plan to assist with health care

The Hello Hands at Helping Hands has teamed up with a plan designed to help individuals, small and large groups, obtain basic health care while keeping costs down.

The center’s new Health Maintenance Card program costs $250, but provides approximately $1,300 worth of health care to card holders on an insurance plan.

"Many people today face enormous health care because they can’t afford insurance premiums or because their deductibles are too high to allow routine tests and doctors’ visits," said Crystal Rowland, owner-manager.

"It’s a plan using one of the nation’s largest managers of preventive health care, the Health Guaranty Corporation, to develop a plan for the Health Maintenance Card program," Rowland said.

A card holder is entitled to the following health care offerings each year:

- Four office visits
- One follow-up visit
- Annual PAP smear (women)
- One flu shot
- One dental exam
- One dental cleaning
- One prescription
- "We allow several visits for health care and you can use the plan at the Health Guaranty Corporation’s office to keep their employees healthy at a convenient location in downtown Rockwall," Rowland said. By doing so, the plan also helps "provide peace of mind to people who face financial pressures on their health care," she said.

"This is open to all employees, and the group can be comprised of individuals, families, companies or local businesses. Wherever the business is located, employees can use the plan to keep their employees healthy without the plan being tied to their current health care," Rowland said.

For the third year, the Rockwall High School National Honor Society raised money for the American Cancer Society. This year the group raised more than $2,700 to win the State Award. Pictured from the left are group members Tim Schweitz, Avis Miller, Hillary Forrest, Darrell Hiss, Justin Carter, Cindy Chen, Chance Clark, Kim Menchaca (one of the group’s co-sponsors), Haan Bell and Juan Pantoja.

"We want to help your health care needs be on plan," Rowland said.

Helping Hands is located in front of the Texas Health Care Center at 432 S. Todd Road.

Moving Forward and Solving Traffic Woes
Rockwall’s traffic problems have begun to be addressed in a positive way. I am uniquely qualified to be a guiding force in strategic planning, bringing a strong leadership background together with an understanding of development economics affecting the issues.

Restoring the Historic Square and Old Town Rockwall
I strongly support the Main Street Program in Old Town Rockwall. This area is the heart of the community and must be appropriately preserved, developed, and in some cases, redeveloped.

Fiscal Situation of the City
I am versed in making hard financial and budgetary decisions in order to maintain a strong, viable business. I will be equally dedicated to creating and maintaining sustainable budgets for the City of Rockwall without sacrificing basic services.

Parks and Greenspace
I will work to require park dedication and private park development and will also support and assist the City Park Department in ongoing park needs, adding amenities to the parks, and creating new public areas for recreation as current funding allows.

Bella’s House
Sandy Johnson and Lori Lawing have been friends for over 20 years. Sandy has been involved in retail sales for over 25 years as a manager, store owner and vendor rep. Lori has been working alongside Sandy since they met in the 90’s with the exception of time while Lori had a business of her own on the Square.

Bella’s House is named after The Johnsons’ dog “Bella.” Sandy decided on the name after Greg, Sandy’s husband, suggested it while she and Lori were moving into the store. Bella’s House has home decor, custom florals, artwork, accent furniture, and lighting. We have several local vendors & artists. We try to support regional businesses by offering their products and services.

One of our favorite areas of the store is our “Gift” area, with fun and funky wine glasses, napkins, “Bling” jewelry, and great candles. Bella’s House also provides home accessorizing and holiday decorating. “We are so happy to be a part of the thriving Downtown business district. The decision to locate on the Square has everything to do with the charm, friendly atmosphere and hometown feel of the area,” said Sandy.

Eagles easily advance to Regional softball

Rockwall County News - Friday, May 7, 2010 Page 13

Not only did they advance, but they did so in a style that will make them a force to be reckoned with in the Regional. After a 4-1 win over Lovejoy, DSISD was able to make the Regional for the first time in school history.

The team ranked 25th in a statewide 4A poll was seeded higher and fafaze the Rockwall-Heath softball game against Dallas Hillcrest (20-0) victory Saturday against McKinney.

"I don't think the girls can do it. We played number one by USA Today - mean the playoffs. For much of Saturday's contest at the Lionettes loaded the bases with one out in the top of the second inning to a 1-1 victory.

"I don't think they have a standing and defense team than power hit­ters. They have a real good pitcher, except during a three-batter spurt in the third inning when Ashley Deimling also scored when catcher Deimling said, "Emily is in her fifth run and the final 6-2 margin.

Bohrstedt begins state play Monday

Rockwall-Heath's Brady Bohrstedt will meet Kase Rodriguez of Magnolia West in the 4A boy's state quarterfinals Monday at Humble Memorial World of Texas center outside Houston. It Bohrstedt wins, he would advance to a semifinal match on the same court at 2:30 p.m. Monday against the winner of a quarterfinal between Dripping Springs North Westside and Lake Travis.'

News City Lady Bulldogs advance to Area round playoffs

Yesterday, the Lady Bulldogs were propelled by strong team effort, making their way to the Area round of the playoffs.

Jackets hitters have to shine vs. McKinney pitchers

In Lady Bugs

This year, Rockwall’s softball players have been high-powered hitters, but not good pitchers. They have a chance to duplicate the performance they gave when they faced McKinney last year in the playoffs.

Lady Jackets down North, face Adamson next

The Lady Jackets were looking for their third game to defeat McKinney and advance to the regional tournament. They did just that with a 13-0 win in five innings.

Field hockey season

The PHS field hockey team is gearing up for a successful season with a solid roster and strong coaching.

Sports Notes

PCU is in Saturday event

The PCU is in a field hockey tournament this weekend. The team will face several opponents in the tournament. They are looking forward to the challenge.

An education is priceless.
