Shanghai, Sept. 11.-The Yang-tse-Kiang River is forty-five miles wide at places. The great floods stretch over a territory of 700 miles.

Seventy thousand survivors surround Nanking, where 300 are dying Similar distressing details are being received from many cities. It is feared the waters will not subside before the middle of October. The floods this year were unusually early and caught the crops before they had matured. It is estimated that from five to eight millions of China's population have perished during the last decade

Gainesville, Sept. 7.—United States than the last season's crop. Senator Joseph W. Bailey confirms the announcement that he would not be a candidate for re-election to the United States senate. His term will expire March 3, 1913. Very few persons here knew of the senator's determination until Wednesday and only a portion of the larger morning newspapers of Texas published the announcement.

Many times Senator Bailey refused to amplify his brief statement, announcing that he would not be a candidate. He repeated this statement and said that it was "emphatic" and that it was "irrevocable."

The senator's decision not to become a candidate again was announced first Tuesday afternoon to intimates who gathered at his hotel room here soon after his arrival from Washington Protests which these friends raised im mediately are said to have had no apparent effect upon the senator's at

Seed Brought Another $1,000,000

New Orleans, Sept. 6 .- "No American cotton crop ever grown has sold for as much as the one just marketed, the total value, including the seed, having been $1,030,000,000."

This remarkable statement is contained in the detailed statistics of last season's cotton crop, issued by Col. Henry G. Hester, secretary of the New 700,000 bales less than contained in the bumper crop of 1908-09, the crop just marketed netted the South $254, 000,000 more. The 13,511,000-bale crop of 1906-1907 brought $22,000,000 less

Another significant feature of the report is the statement that even with the increase on the more than 1.500. 000 bales over last season's crop, the supply was deficient "and notwithstanding the resultant high values, all of the year's growth found its way to the mills."

As a whole, the crop averaged with in a shade of strict middling and the farmer was paid an average of 14.600 per pound, or $75.69 per bale

Senator Bailey to Retire

Sentor Bailey will step down and out when his present term of office expires: Mr. Bailey, without doubt is the ablest senator Texas ever sent to Washington. In the prime and vigor of his manhood he stands without a peer in the senate. His giant intellect and powers of reason has enabled him to cope with the mighest of the land and his name will be written in the book of fame along with that of Calhoun, Clay and Webster.

No man ever had more bitter enemies, or truer friends. For almost a decade a relentless and vindictive warfare has been waged against him by the most powerful combination that was ever formulated on the soil of Texas, yet at each onslaught, he has met them and they have gone down before him and his legions have marched over them. The great Hearst newspaper trust plastered the land over with acres of printed slander and while the foul stain of its libel took color for a season, yet, when the battle came and the struggle was on, Joe Bailey came forth more than victor.

Honored by the nation as a whole loved by his friends in his beloved Texas, hated by those who envy his greatness and power, badgered and continually hararssed by the mongers of calumny, it is no wonder that his great soul is weary of the continual turmoil and seeks peace and rest in the bosom of his Texas

Joe Bailey had his faults and made mistakes, so every man does, but with all his faults and all his mistakes, no man ever surmounted the difficulties that beset him and rose higher and commanded more respect in the councils of

IV. GENIUS.

MICHAEL Angelo made the canvass glow with life and Phidins made marble speak and throughout ages civilization has felt the elevating influence of the painter and the sculptor. Their success was due to the fact that they had the ability to put the Stuff in their work and what is true in art, is also true in government. We need in our Legislature men who can put the stuff on our starute books that will make industry glow with life and the soil speak with a glorious harvest.

To meet the issues of civilization now confronting us, we must place in position of power men who can chisel out empires and draw the tendrils of civilization Texasward. We must have statesmen who can pour wisdom into the fountain head of prosperity and who can wave the magic wand of genius over a land as full of opportunities as the morning of creation. Texas needs great men.

When Tick is Finally Exterminated out of a possible $10,000 is being used. No Section of Country Will Be Better Suited to Industry-Aid in Keeping Up Soil.

(By D. T. GRAY and W. F. WARD). The work of eradicating the "Texasfever" tick is progressing satisfactorily in the south; every year new areas are freed from the tick and with the progress of the work there comes an added interest in all kinds of cattle production. When the ticks in one section of the country are exterminated, renewed interest begins to be immediately manifested in the beef cattle business, as the southern farmers now realize that the "Texasfever" tick has been practically the only drawback to the cattle business in the past. When the tick is finally exterminated no section of the United States will be better suited to beef fit into the farming operations of the production than the south, because of south. Then again beef cattle should be more generally introduced because of the good they do in building up and maintaining soils. Under the present system of cotton farming the soils are becoming poorer and poorer. With the introduction of cattle the soil will begin to be built up.

A third reason why beef should be more generally produced in the south, is that there is a demand for it, and the demand should be met in order that the money be kept at home. At the present time the south produces but a small proportion of the meat that her people consume. Packing houses are now being built throughout the south, and good markets are assured for the beef animals which the farmer produces.

Beef cattle are peculiarly suited to cause of the lack of sufficient labor. There are many reasons why the At present there is no better way to farm, cannot be made to use all of the

DEATH BEFORE 100 YEARS IS SUICIDE

Prof. Munyon Says Ignorance of Laws of Health Explains Early End of Life.

NOTED SCIENTIST HAS ENCOURAGING WORD FOR DESPONDENT MEN AND WOMEN

"Death before 100 years of age has been reached is nothing more or less than slow suicide. A man (or woman) who dies at an earlier age is simply ignorant of the laws of health."

Such was the original and rather startling statement made by Professor James M. Munyon, the famous Philadelphia health authority, who is establishing health headquarters in all the large cities of the world for the purpose of getting in direct touch with his thousands of converts.

Professor Munyon is a living embodiphila health authority, who is establishing health headquarters in all the large cities of the world for the purpose of getting in direct touch with his thousands of converts.

Professor Munyon is a living embodiment of the cheerful creed he preaches. Virile, well poised, active and energetic, he looks as though he would easily attain the century age limit which he declares is the normal one. He said:

"I want the people of the world to know my opinions on the subject of health, which are the fruit of a life-time devoted to healing the sick, people of America. There isn't a building in this city big enough to house the people in this State alone who have found health through my methods. Before I get through there won't be a building big enough to house my cured patients in this city alone.

"I want, most of all, to talk to the sick people—the invalids, the discouraged ones, the victims of nerve-wearing, body-racking diseases and aliments—for these are the ones to whom the message of hope which I bear will bring the greatest blessing.

"I want to talk to the rheumatics, the sufferers from stomach trouble, the ones afflicted with that noxious disease, catarrh. I want to tell my story to the women who have become chronic invalids as a result of nervous troubles. I want to talk to the men who are 'all run down,' whose health has been broken by overwork, improper diet, late hours and other causes, and who feel the creeping clutch of serious, chronic illness.

"To these people I bring a story of hope. I can give them a promise of better things. I want to astonish them by showing the record of cures performed through my new system of treatment. "I have taken the best of the ideas from all schools and embodied them in a new system of treatments individually adapted to each particular case. I have no 'cure alls,' but my present method of attacking disease is the very best thought of modern science. The success which I have had with these treatments in this city and all over America proves its efficacy. Oid methods must

"Peter Brown was a Conshohocken grocer. He was delivering some gro ceries in his wagon one morning when he ran down and badly injured an old lady. The old lady sued him and got big damages. A few months later Brown was on his rounds again when he ran down and crippled an old man. The man also sued, and so large were the damages awarded him by a generous jury that poor Brown found himself actually on the verge

"One morning about this time Brown's young son rushed into the shop in great excitement. 'Father!' he cried. 'Father! mother's been run over by old Gobsa Gold's 90-horsepower touring car.'

"The grocer's eyes filled with tears, and in a voice tremulous with feeling he exclaimed: 'Thank heaven, the luck's changed at last!"

of Mrs. Browning, it is not generally known that the event occasioned one of the tenderest things her husband ever wrote. He tended her alone the night before she died, and wrote of her passing in a letter of infinite pathos addressed to their mutual friend, Mrs. Blagdon: "Then came what my heart will keep till I see her again, and longer-the most perfect expression of her love to me within my knowledge of her. Always smiling and with a face like a girl's; and in a few minutes she died in my arms, her head on my cheek. . . . There was no lingering or acute pain, nor consciousnes of separation. God took her to himself as you would lift a sleeping child from a dark, uneasy bed into your arms and the light."
