TRUST PROBLEM

Message to Congress Devoted to This One Matter.

DECISIONS ARE

Dissolution Plans of Standard Oil and Tobacco Explained-Federal Incorporation and Commission Recommended.

Washington.—President Taft's annual message, which was read in both houses of congress Tuesday, deals exclusively with the anti-trust statute. The message in part is as follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives: This mesage is the first of sev-eral which I shall send to congress during the interval between the opening of its regular session and its adjournment for the Christmas holidays. The amount of information to be communicated as to the operations of the government, the number of important subjects calling for comment by the executive and the transcomment by the executive, and the transmission to congress of exhaustive re-ports by special commissions, make it im-possible to include in one message of a reasonable length a discussion of the top-ics that ought to be brought to the at-tention of the national legislature at its Decisions of Supreme Court.

In May last the Supreme court handed down decisions in the suits in equity brought by the United States to enjoin the further maintenance of the Standard Oil trust and of the American Tobacco trust, and to secure their dissolution. The decisions are epoch-making and serve to advise the business world authoritatively of the scope and operation of the anti-trust law of 1890. The decisions do not depart in any substantial way from the previous decisions of the court in construing and applying this important statute, but they clarify those important decisions by further defining the already admitted exceptions to the literal construction of the act. By the decrees, they furnish a useful precedent as to the proper method of dealing with the capital and property emasculated it. This is obviously untrue. By its judgment every contract and combination in restraint of interstate trade made with the purpose, or necessary effect of controlling prices by stifling competition, or of establishing in whole or in petition, or of establishing in whole or in part a monopoly of such trade, is con-cemned by the statute. The most ex-treme critics cannot instance a case that ought to be condemned under the statute which is not brought within its terms as

The sugestion is also made that the Supreme court by its decisions in the last two cases has committed to the court the undefined and unlimited discretion to determine whether a case of restraint of trade is within the terms of the statute. This is wholly untrue. A reasonable restraint of trade at common law is well understood and is clearly defined. It does not rest in the discretion of the court. It must be limited to acomplish the purpose of a lawful main contract to which, in order that it shall be enforceable at all, it must be incidental. If it exceeds the needs of that contract it is void.

Methods of Dissolution.

Methods of Dissolution. Methods of Dissolution.

In the Standard Oil case the Supreme and circuit courts found the combination to be a monopoly of the interstate business of refining, transporting, and marketing petroleum and its products, effected and maintained through thirty-seven different corporations, the stock of which was held by a New Jersey company. It in effect commanded the dissolution of this combination, directed the transfer and pro-rata distribution by the New Jersey company of the stock held by it in the thirty-seven corporations to and among its stockholders, and the corporations and individual defendants were enjoined from conspiring or combining to among its stockholders, and the corporations and individual defendants were enjoined from conspiring or combining to restore such monopoly; and all agreements betwen the subsidiary corporations tending to produce or bring about further violations of the act were enjoined.

Ir the Tobacco case, the court found that the individual defendants, twentynine in number, had been engaged in a successful effort to acquire complete dominion over the manufacture, sale, and distribution of tobacco in this country and abroad, and that this had been done by combinations made with a nurpose and effect to stifle competition, control prices, and establish a monopoly, not only in the manufacture of tobacco, but also of tin-foil and licorice, used in its manufacture and of its products of cigars, cigarettes and snuffs. The tobacco seit prese end a far more complicated and difficult case than the Standard Oil suit for a decree which would effectuate the will of the court and end the violation of the statute. There was here no single holding company as in the case of the Standard Oil trust. The main company was the American Tobacco company, a manufacturing, selling and holding company. The plan adopted to destroy the combination and restore competition involved the redivision of the capial and plants of the whole trust between some of the companies constituting the trust and new companies organized for some of the companies constituting the trust and new companies organized for the purposes of the decree and made parties to it, and numbering, new and old, fourteen. Purpose Not Confiscation.

It is not the purpose of the statute to confiscate the property and capital of the offending trusts. Methods of punishment by fine or imprisonment of the individual offenders, by fine of the corporation, or by forfeiture of its goods in transportation, are provided, but the proceeding in equity is a specific remedy to stop the operation of the trust by injunction and prevent the future use of the plant and capital in violation of the statute.

I venture to say that not in the history

Inquiries were made, and eventually Murphy was seen about 7:30 lighting a lamp near Middleton, having lit all the lamps on the Rochdale road for about four miles.—Ideas which the sporting-looking gentleman trust.

It has been assumed that the present pro-rata and common ownership in all these companies by former stockholders of the trust would insure a continuance of the same old single control of all the companies into which the trust has by decree been disintegrated. This is erroneous and is based upon the assumed inefficacy and innocuousness of judicial injunctions. The companies are enjoined from co-operation or combination; they have different managers, directors, purchasing and sales agents. If all or any of the numerous stockholders, reaching into the thousands, attempt to secure concerted action of the companies with a view to the control of the market, their number is so large that such an attempt number is so large that such an attempt could not well be concealed and its prime movers and all its participants would be at once subject to contempt proceedings and imprisonment of a summary charac-ter. The immediate result of the present situation will necessarily be activity by all the companies under different managers and then competition must follow, or there will be activity by one company and stagnation by another.

Cry for Repeal of Law. But now that the anti-trust act is seen to be effective for the accomplishment of the purpose of its enactment, we are met by a cry from many different quarters for its repeal. It is said to be obstructive of business progress, to be an attempt to restore old-fashioned methods of destructive competition between small units, and to make impossible those useful com-binations of capital and the reduction of the cost of production that are essential to continued prosperity and normal growth.

In the recent decisions the Supreme court makes clear that there is nothing in the statute which condemns combina-tions of capital or mere bigness of plant organized to secure economy in produc-tion and a reduction of its cost. It is only when the purpose or necessary effect of the organization and maintenance of the combination or the aggregation of im-mense size are the stiffing of competition, actual and potential, and the enhancing of prices and establishing a monopoly, that the statute is violated.

For Federal Incorporation. In a special message to congress on January 7, 1910, I ventured to point out the disturbance to business that would probably attend the dissolution of these offending trusts. I said: "But such an investigation and pos-sible prosecution of corporations whose prosperity or destruction affects the comfort not only of stockholders but of millions of wage earners, employes, and associated tradesmen must necessarily tend to disturb the confidence of the business community, to dry up the the act. By the decrees, they furnish a useful precedent as to the proper method of dealing with the capital and property of illegal trusts. These decisions suggest the need and wisdom of additional or supplemental legislation to make it easier for the entire business community to square with the rule of action and legality thus finally established and to preserve the benefit, freedom and spur of reasonable competition without loss of real efficiency or progress.

It has been said that the court, by introducing into the construction of the statute common law distinctions, has acter, organization and extent of their business into one within the lines of the law under federal control and supervision, securing compliance with th anti-trust statute.

business is the sale of goods in many states and in foreign markets; in other words, the interstate and foreign busi-ness far exceeds the business done in any one state. This fact will justify the federal government in granting a federal charter to such a combination to make and sell in interstate and for-eign commerce the products of useful to make and sell in interstate and for-eign commerce the products of useful manufacture under such limitations as will secure a compliance with the anti-trust law. It is possible so to frame a statute that while it offers protec-tion to a federal company against harmful, vexatious and unnecessary invasion by the states, it shall subject it to reasonable tayation and control it to reasonable taxation and control by the states with respect to its pure-ly local business.

"Corporations organized under this act should be prohibited from acquir-ing and holding stock in other corpora-tions (except for special reasons, upon ing and holding stock in other corporations (except for special reasons, upon approval by the proper federal authority), thus avoiding the creation under national auspices of the holding company with subordinate corporations in different states, which has been such an effective agency in the creation of the great trusts and monopolies.
"If the prohibition of the anti-trust act against combinations in restraint national corporations to carry on a legitimate business throughout the United States. The conflicting laws of the different states of the Union with respect to foreign corporations makes it diacult, if not impossible, for one corporation to comply with their requirements so as to carry on business in a number of different states."

Federal Commission Proposed. I do not set forth in detail the terms and sections of a statute which might supply the constructive legislation permitting and aiding the formation of combinations of capital into federal corporations. They should be subject to rigid rules as to their organization and procedure, including effective publicity, and to the closest supervision as to the issue of closest supervision as to the issue of stock and bonds by an executive bureau or commission in the department of commerce and labor, to which in times of. or commission in the department of commerce and labor, to which in times of doubt they might well submit their proposed plans for future business. It must be distinctly understood that incorporation under a federal law could not exempt the company thus formed and its incorporators and managers from prosecution under the anti-trust law for subsequent ilegal conduct, but the publicity of its procedure and the opportunity for frequent consultation as to the legitimate purpose of its transactions would offer it as great security against successful prosecutions for violations of the law as would be practical or wise.

I recommend that the federal charters thus to be granted shall be voluntary, at least until experience justifies mandatory provisions. The benefit to be derived from the operation of great businesses under the protection of such a charter would attract all who are anxious to keep within the lines of the law. Other large combinations that fail to take advantage of the federal incorporation will not have a right to complain if their failure is ascribed to unwillingness to submit their transactions to the careful scrutiny, competent supervision and publicity attendant upon the enjoyment of such a charter.

"Then I am glad you have better news from home." "But, general, I have had no bad news." In the same vein was his remark to a student who had been late for pray-"Mr. Page, will you kindly give my compliments to Miss- and ask her if she will please have breakfast a little earlier for you?" To a negligent student he said: "How is your mother? I am sure you must be devoted to her: you are so careful of the health of her son."

Sterling City News-Record "Murder Will Out"

The pleas of guilty entered last Friday, in the District Court, of Los Angeles, Cal., by the two McNamara brothers, came to the public like a thunder clap from a clear sky.

The old saying that "murder will ISSUED EVERY FRIDAY AT STERLING out," has been strengthened by the result of the prosecution of the Mc-Namara brothers for the murder of a score of persons. From October 1909 to October 1, 1910, there had been 36 destructive explosions at various points in the United States. This belief was strengthened by the fact that the 35 explosions, previous to its destruction, were on property whose owners had had trouble with the unions.

The Only Writing Machine in the World That Successfully TYPEWRITES PRINT

17 Cents A Day

The Printype Oliver Typewriter, which has crowded ten years of typewriter progrese into the space of months, is now offered to the public for 17 conts a day! -Offered at the same price as an ordinary typewriter - payable in pennics!

The commanding importance of Printtype is everywhere couceded.

For who does not see what it means to make the world's vast volume of typewritten matter as readable as books and mag azines! The Printype Oliver Typewriter is equipped with beautiful Book Type, such as is used on the world's printing presses.

Printype is distinguished by marvelous clearness and beauty. It does away with all strain on eyesight which the old style outline type imposes. Printype puts life and style and character into typewritten correspondence. It makes every letter. every numeral, every character "as plain as print."

The complete story of Printype has never before been told. Here it is. THE REAL STORY OF PRINTYPE

The idea from which "Printype" sprung resulted from the success of our type expertain equipping a typewriter used in our offices to write "The Oliver Typewriter" in our famons trade-mark type just as the name appears on the outside of the machine and in all Oliver publicity.

The beautiful appearance and the marvelous clearness of the reproduction of our "ebony" trade-mark type, disclosed the possibilities of equipping The Oliver Typewriter to write the entire English lauguage in shaded letters!

We worked for years on the plan and finally succeeded in producing, for exclasive use on The Oliver Typewriter, the wonderful shaded letters and numerals know to the world as "Printype,"

THE PUBLIC'S VERDICT That the public is overwhelming in favor of Printype is impressively shown by this fact: Already over 75 per cent of our entire output of Oliver Typewriters are "Printypes."

The public is demanding Printype in prefere to the old-style type. Within a year at the present rate, 90 per aent of our total sales will be "Printypes" Thus The Oliver Typewriter, which first successfully introduced visible writing, is again to the fore with another revolutionary improvement-Printype, the type that prints print!

TO CORPORATIONS:

The Oliver Typewriter is used extensively by that large class of typewriter buyers wao want the same typewriter that serves the great corporations, but prefer the easy system of purchase.

The masses want The Oliver Typewriter because it stands the test of the largest corporations Meet "Printype"-You'll Like Its Looks. Ask for Specimen Letter and "17-cents-a-Large business organizations have come to stay. We cannot go back to old conditions. We must meet world competition. Large concerns can produce goods at lower cost than small ones. Germany favors large corporations. The method of the present national administration is to dissolve the great organizations and make them smaller, which is a backward step. There should be no limit to a corporation doing a large and legitimate business, such as would be pos sible under the licensing plan which I favor, writes W. L. Douglas, former governor of Massachusetts, in the Boston Herald.

Prejudices against corporations merely because they are big. perhaps, must be done away with. They give labor better returns. They cheapen product and thus benefit the consumer. They give opportunities to small investors who get returns otherwise unattainable. They employ able young men who have no capital at all, but who receive handsome salaries for their ability and service.

In place of the Sherman law it is my opinion there should be a department at Washington to grant licenses to all manufacturers and corporations in this country who do an interstate

The law should be made so clear, plain and definite that it could not be misunderstood. It should require all capital to be paid in full. Semi-yearly statements should be given to the public and certified by a public accountaint. There should be a board of examiners in each state to look after these corporations just as our national banks are watched by the national government. They should have the right to enter the offices and examine the records of all the directorates of these companies.

WHO WANTS "SISSY" MAN

Since Bishop Hendrix Would Drive Him From the Church Whither Will He Flee?

Bishop E. R. Hendrix, in a church council at Kansas City, asked why the church was not reaching more men. "Is it because we are adapting our work more to the women?" he demanded Another prominent clergyman, Rev.

S. M. Neel, M. D., opined that was somewhere near the reason. "We want no more sissy men in the pulpit," he declared. A "sissy" man, in this definition, is one who adapts his preaching and his teaching and his general conduct of parish affairs more to the women-bless them-than to the men. Dr. Neel is heartily applauded by large number of his pulpit brethren and the spirit of the times in the church, as mentioned in such enterprises as the "Men and Religion Forward Movement," seems to emphasize what he says-the call and need for the strong, virile man in the pulpit who appeals to the man in the pew and in the street, for making the gospel a man's appeal, not, of course. depreciating the indispensable value of the women. That is all very well, but where may we ask, is the typically "sissy" man wanted? What calling or business needs him? Business and other professions besides the ministry can use him no better than can the church.-Omaha Bee.

"Cuticura Soap is the best soap I ever saw. I have used all kinds of soap for washing my face, and always it would leave my face smarting. I had to keep a lotion to stop the smart no matter how expensive a soap I used. I find at last in Cuticura Soap a soap that will clean my face and leave no smarting, and I do not have to use any lotion or anything else to ease it. I believe Cuticura Soap is the best soap made."
