The horses are practically all of point of six revolvers to give up the mares left on the range about twelve bags containing the money. The ban years ago by a certain roundup. While inbreeding had left its mark, the animals were splendid specimens of their type. Every summer attempts have been made to round them up by ambitious horse hunters, the long chases keep them hardy and in running trim. When finally captured the horses proved to be smaller than supposed flesh, and in the chase none of the cow ponies could match them in speed

The capture was effected by running the band off its feet, this being done by relays of cow ponies. After the run had been arranged and the point of approach determined upon. the band attempted to evade capture may be gathered from the fact that a distance of 50 miles was traversed in exactly three hours. Although the band has been running over ten years, few if any of the animals were over seven years of age, the explanation being that the older ones were killed in the hunts of previous years. One taken bore two big scars

The chase was brought to a close at a corrall, into which all of the horses were driven and roped. Ten seasoned riders were employed in the hunt. Several of the cow ponies were made practically worthless from overexertion in

Immediately after the corralling had been accomplished the task of breaking the wild horses was begun. While a few proved too vicious to be conquered entirely, the majority will make serviceable riding stock.

Keep Your Record Clean

(By Berton Braley) So live, my son, that when you start A fight of any kind Your enemies can never find A crooked action on your part. So live that they may freely roam Into your past, and snoop about, And comb it with a fine tooth comb, And never dig a blame thing out That's mean or fraudulent or vile. Though every man is sure to make Many an error and mistake, If you have lived upon the square You can still make your fight and smile And never worry, fret or care How much your foes may try to cast The calcium glare upon your past. But if you haven't played the same Your foes will find your hidden shame And you will get the bitter blame, And get it good; And though your fight be just and right -Good night! And so it's simple business sense, Although the pressure be immense, Although temptation may be keen-

The Little Rifles-Big in Quality

OU are going to buy a .22 calibre rifle, single shot or repeater-you'll find that many well known crack shots started with a Remington-UMC .22. Their advice now would be "By all means, get a Remington-UMC" because they know that there is a tendency in some quarters to look upon these models as only "a small boy's rifle" and to cheapen them so that they can be sold at a price.

You have just as much right to expect full shooting value in your .22 calibre arm as in your $75 big game rifle.

You want the Remington-UMC single shot at from $3 to $6, .22, 25-10 or .32 calibre, made by the same people who make the famous Remington-UMC Autoloading Rifles.

emington-UMC Autoloading Rifles.

Or, if you prefer the repeating rifle, the Remington-UMC slide action .22 repeater with its easy take-down and special safety features, shooting .22 short, .22 long or .22 long rifle cartridges, at $10 and up, is your arm. Sold by live dealers of this community—the most popular small calibre rifles in America.

OFFICIAL JAPANESE PILOT.

Capt. Arthur Fisher, for twenty years at the head of the Japanes pilots, is a Nantucket man, who has followed the sea from the age of fire years, having that early in life be gun voyaging with his father, a successful commander of half a century ago. Captain Fisher has many times circled the globe, and has sailed many vessels. His present position is a paying one, though with many cares and heavy responsibilities. During his career as a pilot he has taken hundreds of ships in safety through the treacherous Japanes waters. His home is at Kobe.

Wanted It Complete.

Several days ago a housefurnishin shop on Chestnut street, west of Broad, had a display of bathroom sup plies in their window. In one cor ner was a bathtub. Over this was hung a portable shower with a sign attached which read, "Complete $10." A man came into the stert and said to the salesman. "I'll take the shower." The latter was rather surprised that such a seedy-looking individual would make such a pur chase and said, "We do not send these 'C. O. D.'" "That's all right," he replied, and took a ten-dollar no't from a roll of bills. In the court of the day the shower was delivered to a certain address. The next day a little girl came into the shop, and giving the address of the purchase of the day before said, "We got the shower all right, but my father wants to know where the bathtub is." firm sent for the chower and turned the $10 bill without comment -Philadelphia Ledger.

Milwaukee Vender of Apples, Peachee About His Goods.

In these days of strenuous compe tition it pays to advertise.

If one is doubtful on this point, ask Anton, fruit vender, of Milwaukee. who furnishes West Water street men with luscious bunches of Georgia peaches and Washington apples. Anton has utilized the means at his command to let the public know about his wares. BEST WAY TO GET PROSPECTS

Hugh Chalmers Points Out Advantages of Advertising Columns to Insurance Agents.

The qualities of a good salesman and the important part played by the human equation in selling goods were impressed upon the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company's agents at the convention at Milwaukee in an address by Hugh Chalmers, president of the Chalmers-Detroit Motor Car company.

"One way of getting hold of prospects which most insurance companies overlook and which I think is the best, is advertising. The advertisement reaches 1,000 people where the salesman can see but one or two.

"Advertising conducts a public school, while salesmanship gives private lessons. The object of both is to teach belief in your goods, and when you get down to the bedrock of the thing, teaching is what we do when we sell goods or advertise."

A Striking Story.

F. Irving Fletcher, at a Sphinx club dinner in New York, told a thrilling advertising story. "I once made a bet with a dry goods dealer," said Mr. Fletcher, 'that he couldn't spend in a year on advertising all he made in that year. The man took me up and sailed in "But he lost his bet. Though his advertising bills grew bigger and bigger, he lost. For the more he advertised, the more he sold, and in the end, after starting eight branch stores, he gave in and paid me my money.

ECZEMA ON HEAD AND FACE

Reedy, W. Va-"My baby boy when three weeks old took the eczema on the head and face. It broke out in pimples and first they looked like blisters and a yellow water would run from them. His head was perfectly raw and his hair was all gone. Everybody said he would never have any more hair. As the sores spread his hair came out. The breaking out itched so badly that we had to keep gloves on his hands to keep him from scratching his head and face. It caused disfigurement. He couldn't rest at night it burned and itched so badly.

An observant Atchison woman says she can tell from the way a woman rocks on her front porch what condition the house behind her is in. If she sways back and forth with a floppy, comfortable motion, plumping both feet down in a relaxed sort of way, then everything about the house is absolutely clean and neat.
