PART OF RUSS ARMY ALMOST SURROUNDED

CZAR'S TROOPS MUST FIGHT WAY OUT EASTWARD OR RETIRE TOWARD SOUTHEAST.

VILNA TAKEN BY GERMANS

Situation in Balkans is Still Shrouded in Mystery, With Bulgaria's Plans Undetermined.

London.—The Germans have occupied Vilna and by a wide sweeping movement to the north of that city have succeeded in almost if not entirely surrounding a portion of the Russian army, which is fighting in the railway triangle between Vilna, Lida and Vileika.

At any rate the Russian forces in this district either must fight their way out eastward or retire in a south-easterly direction, for the only railway left entire in their hands is that which runs from Vilna to Lida and thence to Baranovitch.

The army of Field Marshal von Hindenburg, which took Vilna and has reached Vileika to the east of Vilna, is working in close co-operation with that of Archduke Leopold of Bavaria in an effort to catch a part of the Russian army, an operation which has been so often tried without success since the Austro-Germans commenced their drive in western Galicia in early May.

Vilna, a city of some 170,000 inhabitants, on the Warsaw-Petrograd railway line, has been the object of a German offensive for weeks past in the course of the widespread operations of Field Marshal von Hindenburg on the northern end of the extended battle line in the east.

Russians are Confident.—The Russians express confidence in the outcome of the battle, which must be decided before complete success falls to one side or the other.

At the southern end of the line General Ivanoff is still keeping Field Marshal von Mackensen at arm's length from the fortress of Rovno, the key to the route to Kiev, and in counter attacks has retaken a number of villages both in Volhynia and Galicia.

Both the Germans and the French claim minor victories on the western front, but neither there, in the Italian theater, nor in the Dardanelles have any events of great moment been reported.

Mystery Shrouds Balkans.

The political situation in the Balkans is still shrouded with considerable mystery. The Bulgarians, having obtained what they wanted from Turkey in the cessation of a railway line, appear to be well satisfied for the present. But there is now talk in Berlin of the Bulgarians taking by force, if the cannot get it otherwise, the portions of Macedonia taken from them by the Serbians and Greeks in the last Balkan war.

With Bulgaria surrounded by Serbia, Greece and Rumania and her coasts open to attack by Anglo-French, Italian and Russian fleets, however, it is believed that Bulgaria will hesitate before throwing in her lot with the central powers and Turkey.

NO TRACE YET OF DR. SAMPSON.

Wife and Son Reconcile Themselves to Fate of Missing Clergyman.

Denver, Colo.—Mrs. Thornton R. Sampson, wife of the missing Texas clergyman who was lost two weeks ago in the Estes park region is resigned to her husband's fate.

She has steeled herself to accept what she says is God's will and says when Mr. Sampson stood on the lone mountain and that snow came with cold and wind that her husband was not alone, but that God stood at his side. "I am reconciled as near as possible to my husband's death," she said.

F. W. Sampson, a son of the missing minister, too, has about given up hope of seeing his father alive.

Despite the elements which have baffled the searchers after D. Sampson's body, the hunt has begun anew. Every trail in the Estes park region is now covered by government forest rangers and residents of Estes park.

Mexicans Fire Into House, Two Hurt.

Brownsville, Texas.—Six Mexicans in an automobile Sunday night fired into a house and shot and wounded two Mexican girls, Marie Gonzales and Julia Zapata, three miles from town. The girls were standing talking, the single bullet fired passing through the calf of the leg of each.

Syndicate Will Underwrite War Loan.

New York.—The proposed mammoth credit loan to Great Britain and France, it was reported to be underwritten by a large syndicate of American financiers and bankers, who are to receive a commission for their services. The securities offered, it is said, will be British and French 5 per cent government bonds, and the price to the investor is to be par. The amount of the loan, it was reported, is as yet undetermined, but will be between $500,000,000 and $800,000,000.

EXPLORER STEFANSSON FINALLY HEARD FROM

DISCOVERS NEW LAND IN ARCTIC REGION—MAY STILL GO DEEPER.

FIRST WORD IN 18 MONTHS

Expedition Accomplishes Practically Every Purpose in View at Beginning—Party in Fine Health.

Ottawa, Canada.—First definite tidings that the world has received from Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the Arctic explorer, for a year and a half were received Thursday by the naval department, which sent him and his companions on their perilous trip to the frozen north. The advice from the explorer were meager, but sufficient to show that he and his companions are safe.

Nome—Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the Canadian explorer who was believed lost in the Arctic, not only is alive and well, but has discovered a new land in the north and accomplished practically every purpose for which his hazardous journey was undertaken, according to word brought here by the power schooner Ruby which arrived Sept. 16 from Herschel island. Stefansson, with two companions, Stoker Storkerson and Ole Anderson, set out from Martin Point, Alaska, March 22, 1914, over the frozen Polar ocean to search for supposed new lands in the Beaufort sea.

Captain S. F. Cottle, master of the Ruby, says that Stefansson is now on Banks land, east of the Mackenzie, outfitting for a continuation of the explorations to the westward to ascertain the full extent of the new land he has discovered southwest of St. Patrick's land.

Finds New Land.

Stefansson told Captain Cottle that after leaving the supporting party on the ice north of Martin Point he and his hardy companions set their faces to the north, but after continuing their journey 90 days they decided to return to land. They turned back and landed on the mainland at point near which the power boat Mary Sachs, of the Stefansson expedition, was wintering. Here the three men outfitting for another three months' trip. They again went upon the ice, going north and west and discovering the continental shelf.

Stefansson spent some time exploring his new find, but at length, owing to scarcity of provisions, was compelled to set out on the return journey to land. The men had been on the ice for nearly seven months. The return to shore was accomplished with great difficulty. The men subsisted on the most meager rations, but kept moving day after day. The dogs were almost famished. Finally the party arrived at Banks land thoroughly worn out.

Charters Power Schooner.

Stefansson and his companions made their way from Banks land, which is uninhabited, to Bailey island, which is visited by whalers. Captain Louis Lane, cruising on his power schooner Polar Bear, found Stefansson and his companions making their way along the south-western coast of Bailey island. They were in excellent health and spirits, and eager to reach the southern wing of the expedition, that they might obtain supplies and continue their explorations. Stefansson immediately chartered the schooner, and, with Captain Lane, proceeded northward at once in the hope of making further discoveries while the sea was open and free of ice. The season was too far advanced, however, and the explorers reluctantly steered for Herschel island. The Polar Bear was there for two years to reach Herschel island, arrived there from Port Clarence with supplies.

Will Continue Explorations.

Immediately upon arriving at Herschel island, Stefansson, with tremendous energy began preparations for continuation of his explorations. He purchased the Polar Bear for $20,000 from Captain Lane and bought also the power boat Glacier, a small vessel, engaged in trading along the coast. After fully equipping these vessels Stefansson sailed with them for Banks land, where he probably is now.

It is the intention of Stefansson to establish a base on Banks land and continue his explorations from that point. Stefansson told Captain Cottle that, except during a few days before reaching Banks land, he and his two companions suffered no particular hardships and did not miss a meal during the whole journey, though they lived seven months on food designed to last three months.

Captain Cottle reports that the southern party, of which Dr. Rudolph Anderson of Iowa is commander, were all well at last accounts. The only misfortune experienced by the Anderson party was the death of Engineer Danley Blue of the powerboat Alaska.

United States Recognizes Haiti.

Washington.—Formal recognition has been accorded by the United States to the new government of Haiti, headed by President d'Artigauve.

BREAK LIKELY UNLESS GERMANY DISAVOWS

DECISION IN ARABIC CASE DEFERRED UNTIL EVIDENCE IS SENT TO BERLIN.

Washington.—Prospects for a favorable adjustment of the controversy between the United States and Germany depend entirely on the attitude which the Berlin foreign office will take toward the recommendations made by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, following his conference Monday with Secretary Lansing.

Details of the conference throwing light on the critical point that had been reached in the relations between the two countries. The Washington government was almost ready to sever diplomatic relations, but decided to delay taking any step until Germany could be furnished the evidence in its possession on the Arabic case.

Friendliness and candor are understood to have characterized the conversation between Mr. Lansing and the ambassador. The latter now has been given an opportunity to communicate freely with his government. He has indicated that he is clearly understood in Berlin why officials here are convinced that the torpedoing of the Arabic could not have been a mistake, justified or unjustified.

Disavowal Wanted.

In view of the evidence the United States wants a disavowal of the act and this was made clear to Count von Bernstorff. Arbitration cannot be an issue for consideration until the attitude of the German government toward the act itself is placed on record. Later the American government may take into consideration a proposal to arbitrate, not the principle, but what indemnity should be paid for lives lost.

Ambassador Bernstorff is understood to have scrutinized this evidence carefully and to have made certain suggestions to his foreign office. It probably will be ten days before a reply can be received. If a disavowal of the submarine commander's act is made, officials here feel that questions of indemnity then can be left to arbitral tribunals.

Should Germany fail to satisfy the American demand for disavowal, indications now are that the Washington government would follow its original proposal to sever diplomatic relations.

ONE KILLED, THREE WOUNDED.

Thirty Mexicans Attack Guard of Ten Americans at Los Indios.

Brownsville, Texas.—An attempt by Mexicans to exterminate a guard of ten American soldiers on duty at Los Indios, 30 miles above here, at daylight Monday, resulted in the death of one American soldier, Private Anthony Craft of Detroit, Mich., the probable fatal wounding of Trumper Harold B. Forney of Water town, N. Y., and the wounding of Sergeant J. J. Walsh of Dublin, Ireland.

Twenty-five to 30 Mexicans who participated in the fight made their escape, carrying with them two of their number who were seen during the firing to throw their rifles high in the air and plunge to the ground. The attack was a complete surprise, coming just as one of the guard was preparing a fire for breakfast.

Lake Steamer Sinks With Wheat.

Duluth, Minn.—The steamer Onoko, belonging to the Steinbrenner interests of Cleveland, Ohio, loaded with 110,000 bushels of wheat, consigned to Buffalo, sunk off Knife Island, about 14 miles out of Duluth, almost without a moment's warning. None of the crew was lost. When it was seen that the steamer was sinking Capt. W. R. Dunn ordered the boats out and the crew left the ship. They were picked up shortly after by the steamer Renown and brought back to Duluth.

Dumba Asks to be Recalled for Report.

Lenox, Mass.—The Austro-Hungarian ambassador, Dr. Constantine T. Dumba, has announced that he has requested his foreign office to recall him on leave of absence, in order that he might make a personal report on the situation in the United States, which resulted in a request by the United States government for his recall. In authorizing the announcement Dr. Dumba expressed indignation that the text of his message largely had become public without his consent.

German Submarine Sunk.

Paris.—A German submarine has been torpedoed and sunk by a French torpedo boat patrol between Mytilene and Tenedos, says an Athens dispatch.

Shreveport Rate Order Suspended.

Dallas, Texas.—The Texas railroad commission's classification and commodity tariffs will remain unaltered until Jan. 13, 1916. In other words the supplemental order in the Shreveport rate case made recently by the interstate commerce commission is suspended and will not be effective until Jan. 13, 1916, if ever. Between now and that time the shippers within the defined territory, will have an opportunity to be heard by the commission as to why the order should not become effective.

GOOD FOOD WASTED

Great Need for Improvement in Methods.

Writer Points Out Evil in Practice of "Limiting Supply"—Tons of Fish Left to Rot Because Dealers Wouldn't Take It.

As we approached the city on the river boat my companion pointed to the lowlands on either side of the river and said: "Here is where most of our sparagus is raised." Then he added with a faint smile: "And here is where they had the great confagration of asparagus." "Confagration of asparagus?" I repeated. "What do you mean?" "Oh, the prices weren't high enough to suit the controllers of the market. So they burned up a few dollars' worth of asparagus to limit the supply."

Lately I have been seeing a man who spent the summer fishing with nets, not for pleasure merely, but for a living, writes John D. Barry in the New York Telegram. I asked him what kind of living is provided. He shrugged his shoulders. "There's nothing in it for the fishermen," he said. "They're at the mercy of the big dealers. One day, for example, we had a big haul of shad. We left it on the beach to rot, tons of it. There was no use in our sending it to market. The dealers didn't want it. There wasn't enough profit in it for them to bother with it."

"Does that kind of thing happen very often?" I asked. "It happens all the time. There's enough fish thrown away every week to provide food for thousands of families." Then he became excited. "The big dealers here have everything their own way. The fish industry is one of the biggest monopolies. It's a disgraceful tyranny. The big dealers pay the fishermen whatever they like. The small fish, such as perch, they hate to have anything to do with. They consider the profit not worth their while. So there's an immense waste in small fish eating and could be supplied cheaply to the people."

In Paris there is a great market, called Les Halles. There the French producers from many miles around send their produce. As early as eleven o'clock at night, in the country districts, the rumble of the carts begins, on the way with their foodstuffs to feed the big city. In the early morning the activity in Les Halles makes a great spectacle. Visitors go in swarms to see it. Large quantities of fresh supplies are sold at auction to the hotel and restaurant keepers. And all over the vast place there are booths for sale of produce to the smaller buyers. These include the tradesmen with small shops in different parts of Paris. The market stocked in the early morning, is cleaned out by night. From the producers it exacts a percentage for the sales. In this way the producers and the consumers are easily and conveniently brought together to the advantage of both.

In London, at Covent Garden, a similar system exists, and in many of the continental cities. A few American cities are developing large free markets. A great public market ought to exist in every city and it ought to be under the control of the city for the benefit, not of the few, but of all the people. It would protect both those who supply the food and those who consume the food. It would eliminate a vast amount of waste, including Libel on the Bagpipe.

All English battalions were recently warned to keep a careful watch for any contrivances which the Germans might use with the object of producing poisonous gases. Shortly afterwards a certain regiment on taking over some trenches found an old bagpipe left in the lines. At once the colonel, who possessed a rare sense of humor, sent the following message to brigade headquarters: "A weird instrument has just been discovered in my trenches; it is believed to be used for producing asphyxiating noises."

Easily Settled.
"What's the trouble about the program?"
"This prima donna insists that her name be in larger letters than that of the trained chimpanzee."

FASHION FIXES THE PRICE

Ignorance of Real Value of Fabric Plays Buyer Into Hand of Merchant.

That fashion and not intrinsic value skyrockets the price of fancy weaves was recently acknowledged by a cotton manufacturer, Beatrice Denison writes in Good Housekeeping. He was speaking of "gaberdine," the season's favorite.

"Why, do you know," he said, "it's the same old imitation cotton serge that we've been making and selling to retailers in small towns in the South and West for years? It never would 'go' in the large cities, but now that it's been given this new French name of gaberdine, the woolen goods so popular this spring, we can't make enough of it. Naturally, when the supply gets short, the price goes up. It's our chance—and the retailer's—and we both take it." This is an excellent illustration of the way in which ignorance of the real value of a fabric plays the buyer into the hand of the merchant.

Subscribers failing to get their paper on time, will confer a favor by reporting same to us.

We are glad to learn that Tom Green County has begun tick eradication campaign. Those people couldn't be hired to go back to ticks again after they have been clean for a year. The profits derived from the clean-up will more than offset the expense.

As long as the merchants fail to advertise their goods and wares, they have no complaint at the mail order houses. These mail order fellows don't sell any better or cheaper goods than the home man, but they advertise, and keep on advertising, and, of course they get the trade.

The Chalk Creek mudhole is still there. Stone, sand and gravel, in plenty, are within a half mile of the place. The County Judge and three Commissioners declare that the order to fix it was made at the May term of the court and the money set aside to pay for it. Why the delay? Damfino.

We have had some fine rains here for the past several days. For three days the sun was not seen but once, and then only for a few minutes. The rain has been slow and all of it went into the ground. Vegetation is springing up and everything looks good—except Chalk Creek mudhole.

Now if Coke County will get busy and eradicate her ticks, those people will greatly profit by it. Of course, a few traders living west of the Coke County line are making money out of Coke County cattle by buying and cleaning them and driving them over into Sterling County and selling them. Those people over there ought to wake up.

In the two last issues, the Ozona Stockman has been making some powerful brags about the beauty of the girls of Ozona. "Kuzin Bill's" better half is away from home visiting her mother, and of course Bill's mind naturally runs to girls. Most any old girl would look good to Bill now, but those smooth "yearling" around Ozona are running Bill all crazy. When "Kuzin" Clem returns home the old man is going to stop all that talk about those beautiful "yearlings." However, if "Kuzin" Bill's mind still runs to girls, and if he will come to Sterling we will show him the smoothest bunch of thoroughbreds he ever saw. There is not an off-color or scrub in the bunch. We will not deny that Ozona has some fine girls, but for real peaches Sterling is there with the goods.

TICKS IS TICKS

Now and then, some of our exchanges take the walleye because some fellow discovers ticks in rabbits ears and argues that they are cattle ticks, and that until the rabbits are caught and dipped, it is useless to try eradication.

It is very true, a species of tick does infest rabbits ears. He not only makes his home in the aural appendage of the rabbit, but he will pre-empt a section in a cow's, dog's, or even a man's ear, but he never runs an attachment on any other part of the body. He is a par tick, and while he is a grievous pest, he does not infect cattle with splenic fever. It is the cattle tick that kills cattle and no one ever saw him inside the ear of a cow.

Ticks, like snakes and mosquitoes are of different kinds. There are ticks whose injury to cattle is only the blood they suck; but the fever tick, like the rattlesnake, is deadly poison. When one of these ticks attack a cow that is not immune to his poison, she has fever. When a mosquito known as the "stigmoma" bites a man, yellow fever follows the attack; and when another mosquito known as the "anophele" bites a man, he has malaria; yet, there are hundreds of different kinds of mosquitoes whose bite does no other harm than make a man scratch. Who ever heard of anyone suffering from the bite of a chicken snake, bull snake, coach whip, and a dozen other such? But anybody will tell you not to monkey with a moccasin, copperhead, spread adder or rattlesnake. Doctors will tell you that house mosquitoes, gallinippers and a score of other mosquitoes are not dangerous, but lookout for the stigmoma and anophele. Then why is it that men will readily dodge when they hear a rattlesnake sing, take every precaution against the stigmoma and anophele, and then say "ticks is ticks" when men who have devoted a lifetime to study and experiment point out the criminal and say, "kill him!"

THE SOUTH

A Dirty Slander by Dirtier Sheet

The Chicago Tribune says: "The South is backward. It shames the United States by illiteracy and incompetence. Its hillmen and poor whites, its masses of fearful and bullied blacks, its ignorant and violent politicians, its rotten industrial conditions and its rotten social ideas exist in circumstances which disgrace the United States in the thoughts of Americans and in the opinion of foreigners."

"The South is half educated. It is a region of illiteracy, blatant self-righteousness, cruelty and violence. Until it is improved by the invasion of better blood and better ideas it will remain a reproach and a danger to the American Republic."

The Chicago Tribune, a yellow journal, edited by a yaller nigger, spews its foul sentiment into the fair and refined face of the South. Read it and learn why the City of Chicago is so far behind the other cities in civilization and great men.

The man who promulgated the above slanderous statement is not what he would be called in a cow camp, except by practice. It would be unjust to the canine race to attribute to it such traits, for no cur ever roamed the streets of Chicago and gnawed sustenance from the offal of the Southern cattle which made Chicago what it is, was ever guilty of such dirty and infamous slander.

If we were called on to guess at the pedigree of the Tribune's chief liar, our first guess would be that he is a cross between a run-away nigger and a New England abolitionist blister of the vintage of the early 60's whose chief occupation was raising hell in Illinois and Kansas, and were at the same time was bringing into the world litters of yaller niggers to pester truth and justice even unto this generation. Chicago is indeed, unfortunate to afford a harboring place for the dissemination of such foul poisons as the Tribune. The good people of that city should take the Tribune and its outfit and sink them in the deepest part of Lake Michigan where not one bubble would ever rise to tell that such a foul and spiteful thing ever had an existence within its limits.

No wonder the people of the United States came to the South for its President and most of his cabinet. No wonder the North and East are coming to the South and West in search of great men—and are finding them, too—when the North and East allow such poison factories as the Tribune to thrive on the ignorance and credulity of the vicious minded.

No wonder that so many good people are leaving Illinois and coming southward to live in a land where culture and refinement thrive and where human sentiment is allowed to ascend higher than the glue factories and gut tins of Chicago, and until that city rids itself of such flannel mouthed liars who incubate and circulate such outrageous and unconscionable statements as we have quoted from the Tribune, Chicago will always be looked upon as the gossiping harlot among the cities of America.

The Tribune's statement is a lie upon its face. History and common knowledge contradict it. The North and South have both produced great men, but if corporatism is challenged, our country's history tells us that the nation's best and greatest men first saw the light on the south side of Mason Dixon's line.

On Bankers Helping the Farmers

It is a great thing to make two bales of cotton grow where one grew before, but a much greater achievement to make a bale of cotton worth twice what it was before. It is a great thing for a banker to lend money on property he never loaned on before, but a still greater achievement to lend a dollar at one-half the rate of interest and make a greater net profit than he did before. The Texas Bankers, in co-operation with the Farmers' Union, are bringing about these happy results.

When the State of Texas established a warehouse commission it gave the marketing side of agriculture when it based success of the law upon co-operation of the farmers, the intelligence and patriotism of the farmers, bankers and business interests.

Joe Hirsch, president of the Texas Bankers' Association, when asked the position of the Texas Bankers on cotton warehousing and the result of the vigorous cotton warehouse campaign now being undertaken by the Texas Bankers' Association, backed up by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, will endeavor to market the Texas cotton crop gradually and at a reasonable price above the cost of production.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas is urging the bankers to assist in the Texas cotton crop and is offering to refund, for its members secured by cotton warehouse receipts, giving preference to cotton in bonded warehouses. With this powerful backing for the first time in the financial history of the state, Texas bankers are prepared to store their cotton crop, but the success or failure of this movement depends upon the construction of adequate warehouse facilities, upon the cooperation of farmers to store their cotton and upon the cooperation of merchants and bankers agreeing to extend credit facilities upon cotton warehouse receipts.

The warehouse can be constructed at a cost of not exceeding $1.00 per bale capacity. Plans for warehouses, prepared for the Texas Bankers' Warehouse Committee, Dallas. It is suggested that community warehouses in units of 1000 bales each, situated not less than 100 feet from each other. This takes a low fire rate. Call a meeting of your merchants and bankers. Prepare a guarantee of enough money to build warehouses. Apply for your charter and start work immediately. The Texas Bankers' Association is composed of seven units, or groups, of the work in his own district. A group chairman is actively engaged in every county who reports direct to the group chairman. The plan has been considered favorably and applications for charters are being filed with the State Warehouse Department daily and it is hoped that the result of the campaign now being waged, the warehouse capacity of the state will be largely increased.

SUN AS THE LAMPLIGHTER

Novel System of Illumination That Is to Be Employed on the Panama Canal.

The Panama canal, which is now nearing completion, is to have a novel system of illumination for its lighthouses. The gas used for the flame is acetylene, but the sun is to be the lamplighter! These lamps will be lit by a lamplighter nearly a hundred million miles away! The lamps will be fitted with copper cylinders exposed to the air. When the sun rises in the morning its rays will cause the cylinders to expand, and so close valves which admit gas to the burners. As the sun goes down and the air cools the copper cylinders will contract, so opening the valves and admitting gas to the burners, where it will be lighted by small pilot-jets resembling the ordinary by-pass.

Tobacco and Poison-Gas. Writing to a friend, a corporal of the Canadian artillery says: "What hurt us most was the gas that turned loose. It made the air green and yellow, and it just choked and poisoned a man where he stands. Tobacco saved many a boy's life in that battle. We began to feel pretty choky at the guns, and wondered if tobacco would help us. We thought we would try it, and put a big chew in our mouths, and it made us spit the gas up. Now, when we notice the gas in the air, we put tobacco in our mouths, and it helps us a lot."
