Football Contest.
DON'T MISS IT!!

1999 Football Contest Begins This Week

The last Bovina Blade Football Contest of the century starts in this week's paper.

The annual football contest has been a popular feature of the Bovina Blade. This year marks the contest's 40th year in the Blade.

Once again the Blade is offering top prizes for the weekly and Grand Prize winners.

A suggestion to our contestants: Start now and submit an entry every week during the 13 week contest. The grand prize of $150 is awarded to the contestant who has the most points at the end of the contest period.

With 13 weeks and 14 games a week, there is a potential for 182 points, so play every week.

In addition to the grand prize of $150, weekly cash prizes are $20 for 1st place, $10 for 2nd, and $5 for 3rd.

The prize money and the fun that goes with it is made possible by the sponsors of the Football Contest page.

Scores are tabulated each week. The weekly winners and point total leaders are published in each week's Blade and posted on the board in the hall at the Blade office.

A "tie-breaker score" game is used each week to break weekly ties and to determine a grand prize winner in case of a tie. Last Year's Grand Prize winner was Dorothy Harris of Bovina.

The games are chosen by Blade editors and include high school, college, and pro games. Each game is numbered and can be found in the separate ads of each contest sponsor.

Only one entry blank per person per week is allowed. Members of the Blade staff will grade and judge the entries each week. Contestants must be at least ten years old.

All entries must be received by 5 p.m. on Fridays. Entries mailed must be postmarked by 5 p.m.

Friday. There is a mail drop box at the Blade office to deposit entries. The door is locked at 5 p.m. Fridays.

A special thanks to the sponsors that make the contest possible: Sherley Grain, W.T. Services, Caprock Industries, Charles Oil & Gas, Excel Corporation, Rhodes Crop Care, Western Chevrolet, First Bank of Bovina, Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, Lowe's Pay-n-Save Supermarket, West Texas Rural Telephone, Charles Pump Co., and Fast Stop Conoco.

You can acknowledge the participation of these sponsors by giving them your business and your thanks.

Good luck and good pickin'!

Mustangs Open Season At Anton Next Friday

The season opener for the Mustangs is next Friday, September 3, when they take on Anton. Bovina will be looking to avenge a 20-7 loss to Anton last year.

Local fans are reminded that the "Meet The Mustangs" evening will be held at the football field on Thursday, September 2, at 7 p.m. Enjoy hamburgers and watermelon and show your support to the team.

Coach Scroggins reports that the Mustangs looked sharp and crisp on offense in last week's scrimmage against Ropes and Vega.

Senior running back Lucas Ramos gained 60 yards on his first offensive carry. Backfield mate Josh Quintana also had about a 60-yard burst according to Scroggins.

Junior quarterback Tyson Kerby was 1-3 in passing before sustaining a neck injury and left the scrimmage. He is recovered and back in practice this week.

"Tyson needs some experience at quarterback", said Scroggins. "He is going to come along and we expect him to improve into a good leader."

Of the overall scrimmage, Scroggins observed, "Everything we did wrong in the scrimmage is fixable. We are trying to get 11 kids on the field in the right positions."

He said the offensive and defensive lines looked good and the returning seniors had a good scrimmage.

Josh Quintana, who played in the secondary last year, has been moved to defensive end. Cameron

Charles, Levi Steelman, and John Solorio will likely be in the secondary. Running back Lucas Ramon will also play linebacker.

The offensive line should be a strong part of the Mustangs success this year. The starting group and their weights are Yancy Graves-225; Joe Olvera-230; center Alvaro Martinez-247; Mickey Ramon-250; and Miguel Hernandez-245.

Reserve linemen Christain Zatarain and Jeremy Ortiz each weigh in around 250.

Coach Scroggins and staff say that they are pleased with the boys performances so far in practice. He says they have six seniors that are proving to be good leaders.

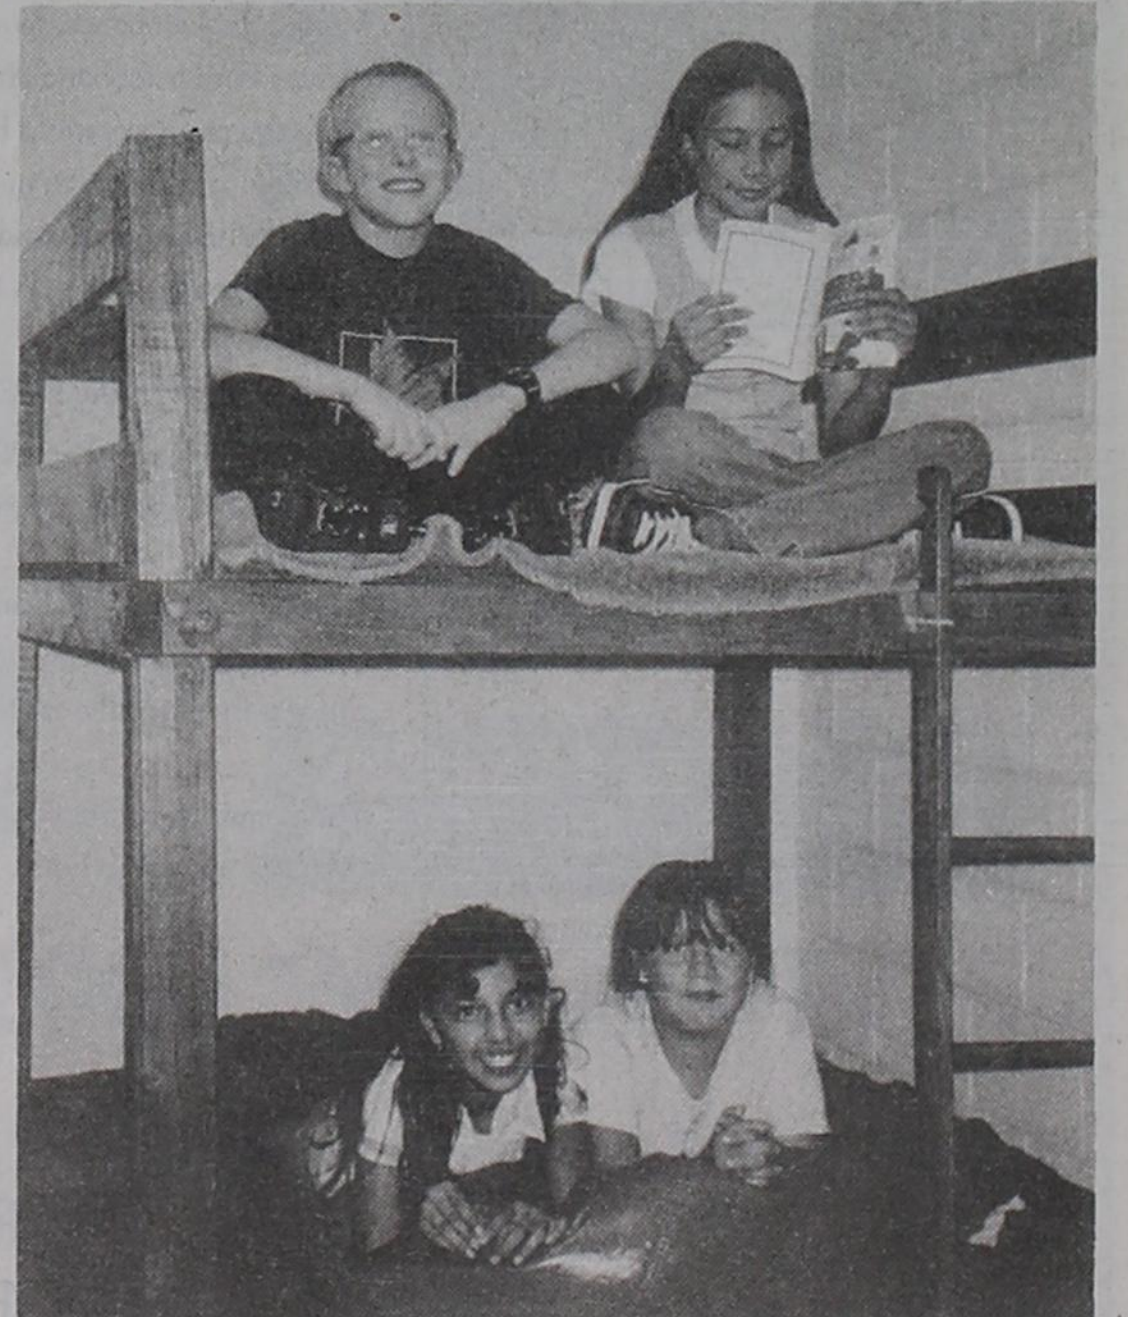

The Amarillo Globe-News' pre-season prediction has Bovina slated to finish fifth in the six team district. Bovina rival Farwell is picked to finish first in the District 4-2A race while Sundown is picked as number two.

Cheerleaders Attend Camp

The Bovina Mustang Cheerleaders attended the National Cheerleaders Association camp held this summer on the campus of Eastern New Mexico University in Portales.

The ladies spent four days learning new cheers, chants, and dances for the upcoming football season. They earned seven superior ribbons and a trophy for being the most spirited squad.

They were also finalists for the Top Team award.

LOFTY READERS...Fifth grade teacher Bob Martin built this 'reading loft' in his classroom during the summer to assist his young readers. Top are Henry Hiebert and Crystal Amaran. Below, Priscilla Lara and Amber Bandy.

Aldermen Discuss Budget, Propose Tax Increase

The Board of Aldermen met in regular session August 23, 1999 at 7 p.m.

Present were City Manager Ed Barrett, Mayor Galen Hromas, Aldermen Jessie Stone, Kevin Hughes, Linda Marshall, Charles Wilkins, and Kenneth Waters. Also present were Fire Chief Lance Teague and EMS Director Larry Mitchell.

The meeting was called to order at 7:10 p.m. Mayor Hromas opened the meeting with a prayer.

The council reviewed and discussed the 1999/2000 budget.

Hughes made a motion to leave the tax rate at .5475. Marshall seconded. Hughes and Marshall were in favor. Opposed were Stone, Waters, and Wilkins. The motion failed 2-3.

Wilkins moved to set the tax rate at .5909. Waters seconded. Motion passed with Wilkins, Waters, and Stone voting for. Hughes and Marshall were opposed.

Stone made a motion to adjourn. Marshall seconded. Meeting was adjourned at 11:15 p.m.

THE DOGGIE BAG...do you wonder who came up with the concept of bringing bits of food home from a restaurant on the premise that you are going to feed it to your dog? Doggie, schmoggie! Everybody knows you're going to slap a couple of pieces of bread around that stuff and have it for tomorrow's lunch.

I'm surprised that my parents didn't invent the doggie bag. They were so tight they could pinch a penny until it squeaked. Jack Benney was their hero. (You have to be around 60 to understand that last remark.)

The first time I took a doggie bag home with me was back in the 1950s. The friend I was dining with said "That's a big chunk of steak you're leaving there. Why don't you get a doggie bag and take it home to Mitsy-poo?" They actually brought me a small brown paper bag. I was embarrassed for anyone to see me leaving the restaurant with a brown bag, so I tucked it under my arm. I never mind that a spot of grease had soaked through the sack. And yes, that last bit of steak did end up in Mitsy-poo's dog dish.

After you evolve into a parent, carrying small amounts of food around with you doesn't seem quite so strange anymore. Teething biscuits, crackers, Cheerios, and cookies make nice piles of crumbs in the bottom of mommies' purses. Little plastic bags of raisins, carrot sticks, apple slices, orange slices, etc. make mommies smell like a walking grocery store. Then when they get big enough to order their own food, mommy ends up taking most of the stuff home that they ordered and then wouldn't eat.

Once when my last munchkin was a teenager, I was sitting in a dermatologist's lobby waiting room because the kid thought he was too old to have his Mommie go into the doctor's office with him. I sniffed the air and decided the fellow sitting next to me in the lobby had forgotten to spray on his deodorant that morning. Then the nurse called his name and he left, but he left his odor behind. Or so I thought. I sniffed all around me and discovered the odor was coming from my purse which I had put on the floor beside me. After digging all the way to the bottom...you guessed it...I located a small plastic bag with some slices of chicken that were left over from a restaurant meal of several days previous. I was taking them home to feed to LBK (Little Black Kitty, who wasn't very little anymore). Well, LBK didn't get his chicken slices and I have no idea why the stuff picked that particular moment to start stinking.

Then trying to get rid of that smelly little plastic bag was kind of interesting. I couldn't leave it in the trash can to stink up the doctor's office. There's no way I was going to pitch it out in the parking lot, since we were teaching our kids that littering is a big no-no. So we drove all around Amarillo until we spotted a convenience store with an outside trash can where we finally disposed of the offending object.

I don't put food in plastic bags in my purse anymore because the "doggie bag" has now evolved into a styrofoam take-out box and you can't get one of those things down inside of a purse anyway.

The last time we met here, I was complaining about school starting practically in the middle of the summer. The "Portrait of America" website takes polls of how folks really feel about various timely topics and 59% said school should not start until after Labor Day.

This is an interesting website at www.portraitofamerica.com for those of you who like to compare your opinions with the other folks who share our airspace.

Six Area Teens Tour Washington D.C.

Six area teens were delegates during the 1999 Government-in-Action Youth Tour to Washington, D.C., June 17-29.

They were James Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Miller of Hereford; Jamille Hand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Hand of Friona; Erin Louder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Louder of Hereford; Kyla Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stone of Slaton; Landon Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Martin of Friona; and Clint Corn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Corn of Farwell.

James, Jamille, and Erin were sponsored by Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative.

Clint was sponsored by his parents. Kyla and Landon were sponsored by their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Martin of Friona.

Traveling with the 89 member Texas delegation sponsored by Texas electric cooperatives were 25 students from New Mexico electric cooperatives.

Accompanied by 10 chaperones, the group traveled on three buses from Texas to Washington, D.C. This was the largest combined group from Texas and New Mexico to participate since the Youth Tour began in 1957.

President Lyndon Johnson promoted and encouraged the idea of the youth tour during the 1950s when as a Senator he selected outstanding young people and offered them an opportunity to observe their national government at work.

In Washington, the Youth Tour delegates visited their congressmen and observed the legislative process in action. Other highlights of the trip were visiting many famous monuments, memorials, and other attractions of Washington, D.C.

Among those attractions were the White House, Arlington Cemetery, the Smithsonian Institution, Ford's Theater, Washington National Cathedral, Mount Vernon, the National Archives, the Supreme Court, and the Vietnam Memorial.

Special activities included Rural Youth Day, participating in the wreath-laying ceremonies at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldiers and touring Mount Vernon. The group also attended a Ford's Theater stage play.

A special honor was awarded Erin Louder. She was chosen as the Texas Youth Tour representative for the National Rural Electric Cooperative Associations' (NRECA) Youth Leadership Council. Erin attended the Youth Leadership Conference held in Lincoln, Nebraska in July. She will also attend the year 2000 NRECA annual meeting in Orlando, Florida.

Notice of Public Hearing on Tax Increase

The City of Bovina will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll by 7.92 percent. Your individual taxes may increase or decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property and the tax rate that is adopted.

The public hearing will be held on SEPTEMBER 9, 1999 at 6:45 p.m. at BOVINA CITY HALL.

FOR the proposal:	KENNETH WATERS	JESSIE STONE
	CHARLES WILKINS
AGAINST the proposal:	KEVIN HUGHES	LINDA MARSHALL
PRESENT and not voting:	MAYOR GALEN HROMAS	MGR. ED BARRETT
ABSENT:	NONE

The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average residence homestead value	$22,875	$21,513
General exemptions available (amount available on the averagehome stead, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	$0	$0
Average taxable value	$22,875	$21,513
Tax rate (per $100)	0.5483	0.5909
Tax	$125.42	$127.12

Under this proposal, taxes on the average homestead would increase by $1.70 or 1/36 percent compared with last year's taxes. Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would increase by $0.0426 per $100 of taxable value or 7.77 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

"Pork, Poi, Pineapples, and Money!"

I am writing about Hawaiian luau this week because Kay Venable told me not to.

Kay lives in Bovina. She works for Bovina schools. We were having lunch Tuesday in the Bovina school cafeteria when Kay asked me what I was going to write about in my column this week.

When I said Hawaiian luau, she turned up her nose and said, "Well I've never been to Hawaii. What are you goin' to write about luau for?"

I thought about that later and decided maybe I shouldn't write about luau because I don't like to disappoint friends like Kay.

I asked myself, "Should I write about something to keep Kay happy?" I worried and stewed and couldn't sleep because I was really worried that I might disappoint her.

So I decided to do the right thing. I'm writing about Hawaiian luau. Sorry, Kay. Maybe Radford will take you to Hawaii. (Better yet, maybe he will help you with enough money and you can go without him.)

Actually this isn't about luau. A luau is the subject but it could have just as easily been prayer in schools, Indians, or challenged people.

The point is that in today's world, in our U. S. society, there are fewer and fewer things you can say or opinions you can offer without offending or being threatened with a law suit.

Discrimination, racism, bad jokes, ethnic slurs, and offensive comments are taboo. You are not allowed to hurt anyone's feelings by referring to any character flaw or natural defect they may have.

Most bad taste incidents that are reported have to do with discrimination against minorities. I don't remember reading about a minority getting in trouble for making jokes about a majority person. Guess that never happens.

So what does this have to do with a Hawaiian luau? Even the popular pig feast has come under fire for it's disrespectful characteristics.

A small story in the Amarillo paper this week said that a Hawaiian luau at Dartmouth College was canceled after students complained it was culturally insensitive.

We are talking about an Ivy League bastion of education, Dartmouth College in Hanover, New Hampshire, that normal people like you and me can't afford to attend.

We are talking about a foo-foo school where hoity-toity families send their hoity-toity kids and the Dartmouth football team is so smart they only have to practice once a week.

The luau party was being sponsored by a fraternity and sorority and was supposed to be held last weekend.

It was canceled when one student sent an e-mail message to everyone on campus describing the luau as an act of "bigotry."

Another student, Hawaii native Aaron Akamu criticized the luau in a student newspaper.

Here is what Aaron Akamu said: "That people feel a right to capitalize on some stereotype of where I am from and the people I feel a cultural responsibility to in the name of fun, anger and hurts me."

HELLO!! Your people in the Islands, in their Aloha spirit, have been capitalizing on Mainland tourists for a century.

When you lived in Hawaii, did you ever go around Honolulu and the Waikiki Beach area and see those sun-burned white people wearing matching Aloha shirts.

Did you ever take the Pearl Harbor tour where you were mingled with a boatload of Japanese tourists, peering over the side at the battleship Arizona, which they sank years ago before Hawaii was a state.

The U. S. lost thousands of soldiers and sailors protecting and rebuilding Honolulu during and after the Pearl Harbor bombings.

When jet air service came to the Islands of Aloha in June, 1959, the visitor total was 243,000 that year.

In 1967 the number of visitors had passed 1 million. Today, young Mr. Akamu, tourism is an $11 billion industry that employs more than 180,000 islanders. This year, 6.7 million tourists will bring money and visit the islands. Several million of them will fork over cash or credit card to buy a "sacred" luau ticket.

I went to Hawaii for the first time in 1969. In the 1970s I went to Hawaii often. I visited there more than 50 times.

In any hotel on Oahu, Maui, Kauai, Hawaii, Molokai, or Lanai, you were enticed to buy luau tickets. I went to many hotel-sponsored luau that cost $29.95 per person, plus tax and tip. They no doubt cost more than that today.

They would provide authentic Hawaiian music, torch lighting ceremonies, lovely hula dancers, and at least one large Hawaiian man blowing on a seashell to summon the spirits.

The ideal time for this "sacred" ceremony was at sunset so we could ooh and aah, while the seashell player's plaintive melody drifted across the ocean and we could get pictures of it all with a beautiful sunset in the background.

And surprise, surprise, the hotel could give you one-day service developing your film.

All this took place while the tourists in matching Hawaiian shirts and skirts, purchased at the Woolworth's on Kalakaua Avenue, sat at tables under the hotel palm trees.

At most native luau, the locals sit on the ground around the pit where the pig is roasted. They have been known to have some local beer and mai-tai drinks to wash down the pork.

The hotel luau-makers figured out that if they let tourists sit on tables and chairs and eat their pork, poi, and pineapple off a tray, they would sell more tickets.

And make no mistake, the citizens of the Hawaiian Islands urge, encourage, and strongly suggest you leave at least half of your inheritance with them before you float or fly back to the Mainland.

Hawaii is all about money. They sold their traditions long ago to travel industry interests.

Shame on you Dartmouth for not pointing that out.

Aloha, Kay. See you at the Bovina cafeteria luau next week.

477 Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

This is a dramatized version of facts taken from the Book of Judges, intending to show some of the customs of these ancient and traditional times

JEPHTHAH
RACING DOWN FROM A STEEP HILL-SIDE JEPHTHAH'S FORCES HAVE ATTACKED THE AMMONITE ARMIES, HITTING THEM WITH SLEDGE HAMMER FORCE, NOW...

THE AMMONITES FIGHT WITH A FIERCE ANIMAL COURAGE BUT THE SPIRIT OF THE LORD IS UPON THE ISRAELITES...

OUR SWORDS CANNOT PREVAIL AGAINST THESE ISRAELITES!

...AS A CHAIN IS ONLY AS STRONG AS ITS WEAKEST LINK, SO IT IS WITH THE AMMONITE ARMY - ONE SOLDIER RECOLLS IN HORROR AS HE SEES HIS COMRADES STRUCK DOWN AT HIS SIDE...

BY BAAL'S BEARD! I'LL BE NEXT!

HE TURNS AND RUNS, AS OTHERS OF HIS COMRADES WATCH HIM...

ONE BY ONE - THEY FOLLOW SUIT, UNTIL IN A SHORT WHILE THE AMMONITES ARE IN FULL, DISASTROUS ROUT FROM THE FURY OF THE ISRAELITE SWORDS.

Letter To The Editor

Ron Carr, Editor
Friona Star & Bovina Blade

Dear Editor:

As Labor Day approaches, I'd like to remind the people of Amarillo that the holiday weekend will be much more than a final vacation opportunity before the summer draws to a close and youngsters go back to school. It will be the weekend when, for the 34th consecutive year, some 75 million Americans will tune in to support the Jerry Lewis MDA Telethon.

Tens of thousands more will participate in special Labor Day weekend events in Amarillo and around the country—all to help "my kids." I encourage readers of the Friona Star and Bovina Blade to participate in local MDA events orchestrated by dedicated volunteers, and to watch the Telethon on KFDD-TV, Channel 10, on September 5-6.

This year's show will be the biggest and best yet, with Telethon anchor Ed McMahon and I introducing an incredible lineup of stars. Those stars performing, making appeals or cameo appearances include Jason Alexander, Brandy, Mariah Carey, Carrot Top, Cher, Norm Crosby, Sheryl Crow, David James Elliott and Whitney Houston.

Also, Judge Judy, Larry King, Cyndi Lauper, Lucy Lawless, Bill Maher, Maureen McGovern, Tom Petty, LeAnn Rimes, General H. Norman Schwarzkopf, Diane Schuur, Martin Short, Kevin Sorbo, Martha Stewart, Pam Tillis, Alex Trebek, Tina Turner, Shania Twain and Christopher Walken.

With your support, MDA can continue to provide unparalleled help—clinics, wheelchairs and braces, support groups and summer camps for kids with neuromuscular diseases. MDA will also be able to accelerate its research seeking treatments and cures for 40 neuromuscular disorders, including the world's first human gene therapy trials for a muscle-wasting disease.

The help of the great people of Amarillo makes this progress possible. Thanks and God bless you.

Sincerely, Jerry Lewis
Chairman
Muscular Dystrophy
Association

Missing Woman Surfaces

Last week's Star reported that Sonia Mejia of Friona had been reported missing for almost two weeks after an argument with her husband, Joe Mejia, while the couple was in Amarillo.

At press time this week, Friona Police Chief Randy Geris confirmed that Mrs. Mejia had contacted her relatives and an attorney in Amarillo verified that she was safe.

Chief Geris said that while he had not actually met with Mrs. Mejia, he was satisfied that she was "missing" voluntarily and is now accounted for.

LIVELY ACTION describes the events at the Feedyard Rodeo last Saturday. In top photo, a calf dressing team tries to get the underwear on an uncooperative calf. Below, the feedbunk race required two cowboys to dispense 500 pounds of feed into a bunker then shovel it out onto the flatted trailer. The Rodeo results are elsewhere in the paper. ron carr photos
