COL. HARVEY INSPECTS CENTRAL ROUTE

Col. W. H. Harvey accompanied by several other officers of the Ozark Trail Association and several other cars from Wellington, came into Hedley Monday noon and were met here by a live bunch from Clarendon. Hedley people were not informed of their coming in time to pull off any kind of demonstration; but believe the roads around Hedley were demonstrative enough to please Col. Harvey, who is making inspection of the different routes to decide and announce later which shall be the Ozark Trail. This route will win or make any other route hustle.

LADIES ORGANIZED A CIVIC LEAGUE

The called meeting of the ladies of the community at the church last Saturday afternoon was well attended. After explanation of the Red Cross work and some reasons given why the ladies of the community should have a civic organization and through that organization could do their Red Cross work they went into the organization of a civic league. Mrs. J. H. Hicks was elected chairman; Mrs. J. C. Wells vice-chairman; Mrs. B. W. Moreman secretary; Miss Bertha Bond treasurer. A committee was appointed to draft constitution and by-laws, and the next meeting is to be held Monday June 11th 3:30 p.m. at the Methodist church. Every woman interested in the welfare of the community and who would like to aid the Red Cross at the same time should attend and take part in the league.

YOU ARE ON TRIAL--BUY A LIBERTY BOND

You yourself, your community, your town, your state, are on trial.

You are not subscribing to the Liberty Loan as you should. What are you going to do about it? Perhaps yours is a farming community where wealth is in the ground but ready money is scarce. The government knows your troubles and is doing everything possible to help you, and to see that you get good prices for your crops. Means must be found to raise money for the Liberty Loan. We say this for two reasons, the first is, because you are patriotic, and the second, is that if you do not subscribe to the loan the tax collector will force you to raise the money.

You say "we need the money in our business." Nobody questions that. The point is, that you have to find the money anyway, and you had better find it now and lend it to the government than have to give it up later and never see one cent of it back.

The Government is fighting to keep the Germans from this country, to keep the seas open so that your products can be sent across the seas and bring you good prices.

We are in the war, and in to stay. Let us see it through.

Farmers of the Southwest, the country calls to you. It wants you to help, not the other fellow but you. Will you respond, and buy a Liberty Bond--Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

John D. Rockefeller has invested $10,000,000 of his hard earned money in Liberty Loan Bonds, but he has $2,000,000,000 worth of property to protect. He has given $25,000,000 to one of his pet projects for the prevention of disease. John D. is doing something for humanity. In addition to this, his magnificent lawns at Tarrytown have been disfigured by the plowman in order that the cellars of the Rockefeller mansion may be crowded with potatoes the coming fall and winter. On with the battle for Liberty Bond buying and food production and conservation--Record

Scrap Iron Wanted

At Hedley, Giles and Lelia Lake, and will pay $5.00 per ton for all you have, delivered at either of the three places. Also will pay good prices for rubber, brass, copper, bones, and anything in the junk line. Will be in Hedley about three weeks.

J. A. Neely.

Positively no irrigation on my water lines. If found guilty I will cut out the water.

FIRST SATURDAY TRADE DAY IS A WINNER

Last Saturday was First Saturday Trade Day and is to be a permanent institution for Hedley. Having only a short time to advertise it and being the first one too, it exceeded all expectations. One of the largest crowds that Hedley has had in months congregated on the streets. The entire block was lined with autos and other streets were lined with teams and vehicles. Quite a difference between last Saturday and trade day some six years ago. Then if one saw a single automobile it was watched with interest--all were teams and buggies or wagons. The business houses nearly all report good trade Saturday. The people who came to town seemed to enjoy the day. It is to be a regular affair every First Saturday. Those who have not been attending the Welfare League meetings should take notice that the Trade Day was the first thing the League has undertaken to do for the good of the town and community. Other important things will follow as fast as they can be worked out.

Buy a Liberty Bond and help your country.

TEACHERS SELECTED FOR NEXT TERM

The Hedley school board has elected the following teachers for the ensuing year:

W. A. Lewis, Superintendent. Miss Sarah Helms, Principal and primary.

Miss Iva Patching, primary.

Miss Eva Patching, primary.

Miss Mildred Horton, intermediate.

Miss Kathlyn French, high school.

Two more to elect All the above taught here last year except Miss French of Memphis.

Hedley school has junior standing for all State and Normal colleges. Tom McDougal, who graduated this year, will get full entrance at A & M, and Miss Velma Sibley and Mrs. Roxey Lewis get junior entrance at Canyon.

A Liberty Loan Bond is a mortgage on the United States.

CHAUTAUQUA MAKING GOOD IN HEDLEY

The Chautauqua superintendent and tent man arrived first of the week and put up their large tent south of the Informer office.

Through a misunderstanding the Hedley Chautauqua came about two months earlier than the committee wanted it, and for that reason were put out to such an extent that we were all afraid it would be a failure as it is the busiest time of the year, crops having just been damaged or destroyed by the hailstorm, and weather conditions seeming unfavorable. But, with each performance the attendance is growing. Last night the tent was crowded, the people have become interested more and more and are boosting to have another next year. The season ticket sale fell short but the single admissions are growing. However the last doesn't help the committee who guarantee the Chautauqua a certain amount.

The first number of the program was opened Wednesday afternoon by the Metropolitan Trio--a jolly trio of young men who gave the chautauqua a splendid start, and Wednesday night a large crowd was out to hear the prelude by the Metropolitan Trio. The boys are artists and will make their mark as entertainers.

The prelude was followed by Dr. D. Lee Fitzpatrick on "Community Nuts to Crack." Say, he has evidently lived in just such a town as Hedley, for he touched on every phase of life like it is here. He cracked many a community "nut" that should prove beneficial to all who are "dead and don't know it". His lecture alone will prove of more benefit than the entire amount of money taken out of the community by the Chautauqua. His lecture lasted for more than an hour and seemed but a few minutes. Those who do not attend Chautauqua lectures because they think the lectures are dry and uninteresting would change their minds if they would only hear one like Dr. Fitzpatrick.

Thursday afternoon the Wright-Hall Marquette Co. gave a thirty minutes prelude and were followed by Mrs. Lilla G. English who lectured on "The Life Beautiful." It was a treat to all who heard this woman who has labored for years among the prisons and other walks of life in trying to bring sunshine into the hearts of despairing people. People can not help but be inspired to lead better and more useful lives after hearing such a lecture.

That night the Wright-Hall Marquette Co. entertained with high-class drama and clean comedy. This company of players are certainly artists on the stage.

Today will wind up the program. This afternoon the Del Mar Ladies Quartet will render a splendid program and tonight Dr. John Voris will deliver his famous lecture on "Pay As You Enter." And we feel sure that all who attend these performances will get the worth of their season tickets at each performance.

The platform manager Rev. Carman has been making many friends while here. He preached a splendid sermon last Sunday night at the Methodist church. He has been ably assisted by tent manager Mr. Brown.

With but few exceptions it has been a pleasant affair; most all are highly pleased; the only ones to knock were persons who do not realize what a Chautauqua is. Every dollar paid out for a Chautauqua in a community is well spent, as such an attraction enriches the minds, hearts, and lives of our people; gives a new zest and spice to life; inspires us to live better lives; creates a taste and desire for uplifting and beneficial entertainment. The Chautauqua is a community proposition. Each number touches one or more phases of community life.

When in need of drugs, toilet articles, cigars, tobacco, candy, stationery, cold drinks, call at Hedley Drug Store.

DAIRY EXPERTS LECTURED TUESDAY NIGHT

The stereopticon dairy lecture delivered at the Chautauqua tent last Tuesday night was fairly well attended by farmers and business men. It was very interesting. The party delivering the lectures made a trip out to Frank Clark's farm and were highly impressed with his fine Holstein cows. The men who are delivering the lectures all over the Panhandle are dairy experts and are doing much toward creating interest in dairying.

All kinds of Dr. Hess' stock powder and tonics, worm powders, poultry powders and panaceas, stock dip.

90 REGISTERED AT HEDLEY 634 IN COUNTY

Tuesday was Registration Day and Hedley turned out a surprising number of those within the age-90 was the number, and most everyone thought about 60 would be all there would be to register. It was a quiet day in town and those having to register walked up boldly and in a good humor, performing their part like men. 634 registered in the county.

DR. JOHN RALPH VORIS.

Gives Inspirational Lecture--Great Orator and Lecturer, With a Magnetic Personality--Grand Climax to the Chautauqua.

John Ralph Voris, who speaks at chautauqua, is a man of balance, who knows how and when to hit and when to quit. As an orator his eloquence is the index of his thought. He knows that a great truth, like a great statue, requires no drapery. Voris is earnest, intense, dramatic, but naturally so. Voris is one of the big men of the chautauqua movement. His sane, invigorating discussions of the great questions agitating the public mind are illuminating and inspiring. He recognizes the apparent darkness in some matters, but no one can hear him without experiencing renewed hope. He leaves the impression that it is folly to remain in a darkened room when by pressing a button it would be flooded with light. He illustrates his points with brilliantly apt figures and colors them with an indescribable humor. Evening of the last day.

Some of our visiting friends had to pay fines Tuesday for violating the turning ordinance. Of course, it is to be regretted that it became necessary to do this, for such things always leaves the offender with ruffled feelings, which sometimes find expression through utterances akin to threats. There is little, if any, ground for excuse on the plea of ignorance. Crowell has had the turning posts for several weeks and the people have had ample time in which to become familiar with these regulations, and even if they had not, the posts themselves with the red flags, can easily be seen by anyone whose sights are low enough, and if they do not know what these posts mean they might play safe by asking. Every automobile driver certainly ought to know that automobiles are becoming so numerous that every town must have turning regulations. If the knowledge can be conveyed in no other way except by paying the price, it has the advantage of being easily less forgotten. —Foard County News.

LIBERTY LOAN BONDS

One aspect of the $5,000,000 loan, the Liberty Loan of 1917, that the farmers of America may well consider is that a very great portion of the money raised by the bond issue will come directly into the pockets of the farmers of the Nation.

All of our money advanced to our allies will be expended in the United States and as they are making all of their own munitions practically all of the money advanced them will be spent for products of the farms—for cotton for clothing and high explosives, wool for clothing and leather for shoes; but by far the greater part of the money loaned our allies will be expended here for food products.

In a few months the United States will have under arms 1,200,000 men and 500,000 reserves in training; so including the navy there will be 2,000,000 men that our Government will feed and clothe. This will make the United States Government by far the largest single customer the farmers of America have.

The Secretary of the Treasury is employing such methods in handling the loan that no community will be denied of money by reason of Liberty Loan Bond purchases. The money will be left in local banks and as the government purchases food and supplies the money raised by the bond issue will pass back into the pockets of the people.

The farmers of the country should subscribe liberally to the Liberty Loan Bonds. They get the safest investment in the world and their money supplies their best customer the funds to purchase their products. This is political economy in the wisdom of which is plain to everyone.

I have the agency for the Chevrolet cars and will be glad to figure with any who wish to buy a good auto.

WORSE THAN FACING GUNFIRE

Gallant Seaman Found Himself in Dilemma From Which He Was Extricated in Nick of Time.

A Jack tar from H. M. S.—entered a southwestern London post office to change a money order.

As it was a government pay order he was asked, according to regulations, to show his certificate of identity. But the sailor had lost the certificate.

All the girls in the post office became anxious to help.

"Haven't you your name marked anywhere?" urged one. Jack thought hard, suddenly kindled with inspiration, opened his mouth to speak, and then stood silent. A flush deepened his tanned complexion.

"Well?" urged the young postal lady. The sailor wanted that money badly. He faced the girls. "Yes," he blurted, "my name's marked on my shirt."

Post office girls have no training in the technical lingo on his majesty's navy. Whatever sort of document, docket or disk this "shirt" might be, it was her duty not to pay the money until she had seen it. "Then let me see your 'shirt,'" she demanded amiably but firmly.

Small veins knotted on Jack's temples, a moisture stood on his brow. But desperate finance needs desperate measures. "Have you got a screen here?" he asked in a hollow voice.

"A screen!" echoed the post office girl in bewilderment. "Aye, a screen!" repeated Jack on a rising note of agony.

It was then that a colleague saved one of his majesty's A. M.'s from apoplexy by a hurried and whispered explanation to his inquisition.

"Perhaps because the gods love laughter the sailor's identity was then accepted without further evidence." —London Daily Mail.

Cooky Drawer

Having hit upon such an excellent place for keeping drop cooking (or any others) I thought perhaps someone else might welcome the idea. It is a shallow box, three inches deep, three feet long, and as wide as the pantry shelf. I made it from a smooth wooden grocery box and painted it inside and out with white enamel paint. The cookies can be laid flat on sheets of waxed paper in the bottom. As the drawer is entirely concealed by the shelf paper it would be a good idea where it is thought necessary to conceal cookies from the small members of the household.—Aunt Jo.

Gen. Sir Sam Hughes said at a dinner in New York:

"The wife of a Canadian soldier and the wife of a South African soldier met in a London boarding house.

"It's very hard on us poor married women in South Africa," the latter said. "I live with my husband on an ostrich farm, and it's nothing at all for him to be away two whole days at a time on an ostrich."

"Humph. What of that?" said the Canadian woman. "My husband is often away two whole weeks on a lark."

Peculiar Stimulation

An English farmer, who testified in a license hearing, said that he "was in the habit of giving a quart of beer to the cows after calving, and that he also gave them a pint of whisky occasionally." If deprived of these beverages the stock would suffer, he said. Beer for calving is comprehensible, if a revelation of British dairy methods. But a pint of whisky for a cow is not easily seen through. Perhaps it was a cow so stimulated that jumped over the moon.

Disillusioned

Her Father—Harold seems to have an exemplary character. I don't see why you say your marriage to him was a hideous mistake.
Mrs. Junotside—It's just that, I married him to reform him, and now I find that he never needed reforming.

THOUGHT HIM DOWN AND OUT

Old Friends Meant Well, But Real "Henry Brown" Was in No Need of Assistance.

A wealthy and middle-aged business man who requests that his name be not used in connection with this story, likes to do his own automobile repairing. His garage is some distance from his house, temporarily; that is, he is renting a garage about a block away from home. And one Sunday morning he put on his working clothes and went over to do some tinkering on his machine.

When he had finished pattering about, he was pretty dirty. His clothes were a mess, but that didn't make any difference, for they were regular working clothes. His hands were black, and he was sadly in need of a wash. So he hurried home to clean up. And on the sidewalk, a few doors from his home, he met a man whom he hadn't seen for 20 years.

"Why, isn't this Henry Brown?" asked the other man.

"Yes, it is," answered our friend. "And I guess you're Jim Jones. Glad to see you. What are you doing in Cleveland?"

"Just staying with friends for a few days," answered the old friend, looking our hero over with a puzzled expression. "Do you live in Cleveland—but, of course, you do."

"Yes, I've lived here for 20 years," answered Mr. Brown, who was totally unconscious of his appearance, and wondered at the pitying and puzzled expression on the other's face. "I suppose I'm settled here for life—don't see any chance to get out of the everlasting grid I'm up against."

"Oh, cheer up," said Jones, clapping him on the shoulder. "Things are never too late to mend. I think I know an opening for a man who is sober and industrious—it would be better than the work you seem to be doing now. Here's my card—I'll be at the hotel for three days. You come around tomorrow at your noon hour and I'll see what I can do for old time's sake."

Brown stood staring at him as he hurried away. Then he grinned and entered his house.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Strength of a Flower.

A rock split asunder by a growing tree that has found lodgment in what was at first only a small crack is a familiar sight to most people. The force that a tree exerts in accomplishing this feat is tremendous, but relatively it is not equal to that exerted by the flower that John Burroughs describes in a recent book, "The Breath of Life."

One of the most remarkable exhibitions of plant force I ever saw was in a western city, where I observed a wild sunflower forcing its way up through the asphalt pavement; the folded and compressed leaves of the plant, like a man's fist, had pushed against the hard but flexible concrete until it bulged up and split, and let the irrepressible plant through. The force exerted must have been many pounds. I think it doubtful if the strongest man could have pushed his fist through such a resisting medium.

Life activities are a kind of explosion, and the slow, continued explosions of this growing plant rent the pavement as surely as powder would have done. It is doubtful if any cultivated plant could have overcome such odds. It required the force of the untamed, hairy plant of the plains to accomplish the feat.

We do first-class work and our charges are very reasonable.

Our purpose is to clean, press and repair your clothes in such a way that you may regard our work as better than usual.
