By Bill Ellis

ONCE AGAIN, politics has reared its ugly head, and as a result, the Olympic Games will be affected in 1984.

It is unfortunate that the Games, which were revived in 1896 as a means of bringing nations together for friendly competition, have to serve as a "whipping boy" for the powerful nations.

Of course, it is obvious that the Russian pullout of the 1984 games is nothing short of retaliation for America's similar action at the Moscow games of 1980. That, plus a chance to threaten a black-eye to President Reagan, whom the Russians fear and would like to negatively affect his re-election campaign.

It is regrettable that politics have to affect the Olympic Games, but they do, and they have practically ever since the modern Olympics were conceived, so there appears nothing to do but go ahead with the games and not worry about the Russians.

One writer points out that the Russians were not a threat to win any gold medals in the track and field (men's division) anyway, and with the absence of the big, manly Soviet-bloc women, the rest of the world's entrants, many of whom you might even recognize as women, will make for a "better-looking group" of contestants.

One national news magazine's feature headline in its current edition asks "Are the Games Dead?" We would hastily answer that question "Of course not." The Olympic Games have survived more threats than the current U.S.-Soviet cold war tactics, and they no doubt will be strong enough to outlast this brush fire.

Former Olympics have been completely cancelled during wartime--in 1916 during World War I, and then twice, in 1940 and 1944 during World War II.

Both times, the Games were resumed whenever peaceful conditions once again prevailed.

America's boycott of the 1980 summer Olympics, and the Soviets' pullout of the 1984 games are not the first such occurrence.

In 1976, the entire African continent stayed away from the Olympics because they felt blacks might be discriminated against. There are other lesser incidents involving the Olympics.

Each time in the past, the Olympics have continued, and the athletes who have trained and waited for this once in a lifetime opportunity--are the big losers, when they are banned from competition.

It would be nice if the International Olympic Committee could go about its work without the intervention of national governments. But as long as there are nations with differing views, this problem is probably going to exist.

But the Olympic tradition and ideal is worth preserving, even if every so often it has to be tarnished by the actions of governments. It behooves governments to back off from the Olympic Games, and let the competition continue, unmolested.

It's not fair to the athletes to plunge the Olympics into international disagreements. And the boycotts such as those of 1980 and 1984 probably fail to achieve their intent. Americans were split on the boycott issue in 1980, and many felt our team should have competed. This probably hurts the cause of nationalism more than it helps, and our leaders need to take this into consideration. This, plus the fact of ruining the chance for those who had waited and trained for their big chance to win a medal.

UNCLE AUSTIN ELLIS, from Jackson, Tennessee, says "You can only be young once, but you can be foolish indefinitely."

Kory Mitchell Attends State Gymnastics Meet

Kory Mitchell, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Mitchell of Bovina, recently flew to San Antonio to compete in the 1984 U.S.G.F. Texas State Gymnastics Championships (United States Gymnastics Federation). Kory belongs to the Gymnastics Elite Tumbling branch in Bovina and travels to Farwell three days a week to work on the gymnastics equipment.

Clay Burch, coach of Gymnastics Elite stated, "This was an outstanding performance by this young man. He only had two other meets to mentally prepare himself for the state championships. A gymnast readies himself physically in the gym during the workouts but he needs that mental pressure that can only come from competition. A good coach comes up with all kinds of exercises to try to get the youngster 'ready' but nothing can replace the pressure of the real thing, especially in getting a competitor ready for something as big as the state championships."

Burch stated that this year's state meet was a tough one. "There were some routines done that were only one or two tenths away from a perfect score. They were so close this year for someone with Kory's inexperience. He has only worked on the equipment for about five months and he competed against youngsters who had done these same routines for years," he said.

He listed the six events, in which Mitchell barely missed placing: floor exercise by eight-tenths of a point; pommel horse, 1.2 points; rings, 1.8; vaulting, 2.6 point; parallel bars by 1.0 points and the high bar by only 1.3 points.

There were over thirty youngsters in his category and Kory ranked in the top half of the state. He missed placing in the all-around by 3.1 points.

The coach stated that he was very proud of Kory and expects to have a state champion from his performance next year.

The summer baseball program will begin June 5 and will run through the month of June.

Pee-Wee and Little League teams will be playing on Tuesday and Thursday nights each week at 6 p.m.

There will be a meeting Saturday, May 26 to select players for each team.

Stray Dogs Are Targets Of City

An amendment to city ordinance number 78-15 states that any resident who is issued a citation for letting his dog run loose will be charged $10 for the first time. The second time the animal is picked up by the city pound it will cost $20 plus $3 for every day it is kept at the pound. The third time the dog is picked up, it will be put to sleep.

A new ordinance number 84-5-1 says: Those hauling trash or garbage in from the country to put in the city dump will be charged $25 for a bob-tailed truck or $50 for a tandem truck load.

The city has recently spent about $5,000 for improvements on the new pit and digging. City residents are charged every month for their trash being picked up, so the people in the country will be charged as they haul it in.

This ordinance will repeal any or all other ordinances pertaining to the land fill.

Meeting Discusses Ways To Aid Community

A fair turnout of Bovina's business leaders attended a meeting at First State Bank last Tuesday evening, held to discuss ways and means of revitalizing the community.

Among the items discussed were a vegetable processing plant which would provide more income for farmers, a monthly "flea market," the possibility of building a state or area-wide penal institution in the area and construction of a kraut factory.

Steve Sherrill, who served as moderator for the meeting, pointed out to the group that he is a member of the Parmer County Development Corporation, which serves as a local vehicle to issue tax-exempt bonds which can be used for industrial purposes.

Sherrill said that the new Millard plant, which is under construction in Friona, would be financed through the use of such bonds, which provide a nice tax benefit to the company.

The possibility of growing and processing vegetables was a main item discussed by the group, touching on the old Griffin & Brand plant which has not been used to any great extent in the last few years.

"There are a number of other crops which will grow in abundance in our area...just about anything will grow here...but you have to have a market," was a comment by one of those at the meeting.

The fact that the Hereford area will be growing a large amount of grapes for the proposed winery to be built in Deaf Smith County was discussed, and it was even brought up that perhaps a "wet-dry" election should be called for for the precinct.

Named to a committee to look into the possibility of holding a large monthly flea market were Billy Whitecotton, Don Spring and Keith Knight. The group discussed the success of long-running flea markets in such areas as Canton and Bowie. "People will come for hundreds of miles to attend these events, if they know there's going to be a crowd," Whitecotton said.

Marie Venable brought up the possibility of establishing a kraut factory, in light of the fact that the area can produce cabbage in large quantities. She was asked to secure information on such a plant which is in operation in Minnesota.

Sherrill said he would check further into the workings of the Parmer County Development Corporation, and the use of tax-free bonds.

A second meeting was called for Tuesday, June 12, at 8 p.m. at First State Bank. All of those present were encouraged to attend the next meeting, and to bring at least one person with them.

Those attending the meeting were: Don and Gladys Spring, Nancy

Knight, James Roach, Gaylon Rhodes, Laurance Kriegel, Carrie Melear, Billy Whitecotton, Bill Ellis, Keith Knight, Bob Owen, Durward Bell, Elton and Marie Venable, E.B. Caldwell, Tammie Willard, Karen Kirkpatrick and Steve Sherrill.

Summer VB League Sought

Those who would be interested in playing women's volleyball this summer are asked to contact Coach Hill at 238-1338.

Several have expressed interest in the adult women's volleyball and if you wish to play, contact Hill by June 1.

Memorial Day

ATTEND MEETING..Among those attending the civic revitalization meeting here last Tuesday were (from the left) Steve Sherrill, Keith Knight, Don Spring and Sonny Roach. In the background are Marie and Elton Venable.

ASCS To Aid Livestock Producers

The Texas State ASCS Office is asking all 234 county offices to seek out farmers that have hay available for sale.

A list of available hay in Texas will be compiled and distributed to all county ASCS offices on May 21.

The continuing drought is causing critical hardships upon the state's livestock producers. Having exhausted their local source of supply, many producers have called the county ASCS offices to help locate producers who have an excess of hay or other roughage to sell.

From information supplied by the county offices, the State ASCS Office will compile a master listing of hay and roughage suppliers that will describe the feed, amounts available, and price. Master listings will be printed and distributed to the county offices monthly, and supplemental listings will be furnished weekly.

Any producer who has an excess of hay or roughage they wish to sell may contact the Parmer County ASCS Office, at telephone number 247-2220 and relate the particulars to be included on the listing. This service begins May 21 and will continue through October.

Scooter's Scoops

By Scooter Russell

Bovina residents enjoyed good rains last week. About one and a half inches to two inches fell in town and up to three inches were reported in the Rhea community and at Pleasant Hill. Anyway, it put everyone in a good mood! Seniors will be graduating this week and we congratulate them and wish them much happiness in the future.

Levi and Ethyl Johnson are back home from spending several weeks at Sulphur Springs. Ethel said it was always good to be home and they were happy to be here for the good rain. She said it had been dry in our area but couldn't compare to the drought the people were having at Sulphur Springs. The river was low and fishing wasn't good.

While at Sulphur Springs, Levi drove back and forth to Scott and White Clinic at Temple. She said they had foughd out what caused Levi's illness and began correcting the problem. He is getting along much better now.

We want to congratulate Rocky and Renee Bartlett on the birth of a son, Dustin Ryan, who was born May 16 and weighed ten pounds, 4 1/2 ounces. We also congratulate Jeb, who is Dustin's big brother. Congratulations also to grandparents, Houston and Laura Bartlett of Bovina and Jack and Kay Moore of El Paso.

Leslie and Rose McCain have spent most of the week in Lubbock with family members in the hospital. Les' mother, Leona McCain is a patient in the ICU at Methodist Hospital. Roses' sister-in-law, Janelle Sanders, underwent surgery three times last week at St. Mary's Hospital, two times on her heart and once to correct problems with a collapsed lung. Also Les' aunt, Irene, underwent surgery and is a patient at South Park Hospital in Lubbock.

Lois McCutchan and her sister-in-law, Buelah Pumroy recently made a trip to Tahihina, Oklahoma and visited with Lois' son Wayne and her grandsons, Ronny, Freddie and Gary. Lois said there had been four tornadoes in the area just ahead of them and while travelling they saw much destruction. Trees were pulled out of the ground, a truck overturned and lots of debris was scattered by the tornadoes. During the eight days they were there it rained every day and hailed some.

While there, they attended a funeral service for Myrtle Rauh. She was Archie's aunt and lived in Bovina many years ago. On their return trip they spent a night in Oklahoma City with Lois's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J.V. Mann.

Louise Christian underwent surgery at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock last Wednesday and again on Friday. She is in room 462 and is able to have company.

The Senior Citizens will be meeting at the Center May 30 for their regular luncheon at 11:30 and the center will be open by 10 a.m. Everyone is invited to come and bring a friend and enjoy the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Hylton Moore's daughter, Mardell, has undergone surgery in the Lubbock Hospital. We understand she had a cyst removed from her brain but it was not malignant and there was no damage caused from it. Last report was that she was getting along great.

Prentes and Carolyn Pruitt attended graduation ceremonies of their son Steven, who graduated May 11 from South Plains College and received an associate in applied science degree in computer information systems.

Grady and Dorothy Sorley have recently led the singing at a revival at the Bykota Baptist Church in Amarillo. The pastor of the church is Rev. Darrell Lewis, a former Bovina resident. We were told the Bykota title came from "Be Ye Kind One To Another." Thought that was interesting.

Gaylon and Shelby Rhodes recently attended graduation ceremonies for their son Jim and daughter Pam from Texas Tech in Lubbock. Also attending the ceremonies were their daughter Mendy. We'll have more information about their degrees, etc. later on.

Freda and Buck Lloyd enjoyed a good visit over the weekend with their grandson, Ricky O'Hair who was visiting from Lubbock. Ricky is the 24-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. O'Hair of Odessa and works for Pollard Ford in Lubbock.

Recent visitors in the home of J.T. and Tessie Jones were their daughter Dorothy, her husband Lucky Luttrell and their son Kale. Also visitors were Joe and his family of Bovina. The family enjoyed a good time together and attended church together on Sunday.

Bill and Irma Bradshaw are home after spending several weeks in Kopperl, Texas. They said it was terribly dry in that part of the country and fishing at Lake Whitney was not what it usually is.

They enjoyed spending time at their daughter's home in Houston, Ella and Gerald Bishop. They also were able to visit their grandson Donnie of Houston and their granddaughter Leigh Ann, who was home from Huntsville College, where she is a student. They saw many sights in the Houston area and enjoyed visiting Marina Land and Lake Livingston. They had a good time away from home but they said it was always good to come back home to Bovina and see friends and neighbors.

Joe and Nettie Lee Wilson and daughter Nancy Knight spent Mother's Day weekend in Dalhart with the Knights' daughter Tana and her husband Mark Brown. We understand Tana is a good cook and prepared meals for them while they were there. The Wilsons had company during the past weekend.
