A THANKSGIVING VISIT

Quite an enjoyable time was spent by the Doress Glass on Thanksgiving Day when they went out to the home of Mrs. U. E. Kelley and spent the day.

Each member took one dish and a most appetizing lunch was spread.

The afternoon was spent in pleasant conversation and fancy work.

GINNING NOTICE

After this week, we will gin only three days each week—on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Rev. B. M. Bridges Gives Facts in His Case

It is doubtful if there has ever been a medicine endorsed by so many ministers of the Gospel as has Tanlac. Indeed, there is scarcely a faith, creed or denomination in all the land in which one, or more, of the clergymen has not publicly expressed their indebtedness to the Premier Preparation for the benefits they have derived from its use.

One of the latest to speak out in this connection is Rev. B. M. Bridges, a widely known and beloved Baptist preacher, residing at Mooresboro, N. C., whose statement follows:

"Tanlac has given me a good appetite, toned up my system and renewed my strength in such a gratifying way that I am glad to recommend it to anyone who is in a run-down condition. For ten years past I have had such a severe case of indigestion that I could not find anything to eat that agreed with me. Finally I became very nervous and could get but very little sleep or rest.

"It seems that I took nearly everything trying to get myself right, but nothing helped me until I ran across Tanlac. My nerves are so much better now that my sleep is sound and refreshing. I enjoy my meals and have also gained weight. I can say from experience that Tanlac is a splendid medicine and tonic, for it has built me up wonderfully."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Advertisement.

By JOHN BLAKE

REAL COURAGE

"To be feared of a thing and yet do it, is what makes the proudest kind of a man."—Robert Louis Stevenson.

IF YOU have read "Kidnaped" you remember the quotation. It was spoken by Alan Breck, after the boy, David, had stood for a minute terrified, on the brink of a roaring torrent, and then, still sick with the fear of it, leaped across.

To Alan Breck, the leap meant little. It required no courage for him to make it, for he knew very little fear. But for the boy, who did the thing he feared as he feared death, it was a real act of heroism.

The only real courage consists in doing the thing we are afraid to do. The hulking prize-fighter of the John Sullivan type, who has as much imagination as a grizzly bear, is not brave. He is sure he is going to win. It takes no courage to go into a winning fight. The bully is never brave. In fact he is always a coward. Feeling sure that his superior size will carry him through, he picks quarrels as a pleasant method of passing his time.

Put this same bully into the ring with a large hungry tiger, face him with a man who looks as if he enjoys shooting bullies as much as the bully enjoys thrashing his physical inferiors, and all the courage oozes out of the bully.

You will never know whether you are brave or not till you find yourself in a position where you are afraid to do something that ought to be done.

If you do it, you have courage. If you quit you have not.

Never mistake a physical willingness to take a chance, to attempt some dangerous thing, for the kind of courage that counts.

It is not a brave but very foolish man who walks a tight rope over Niagara falls. It is a brave man, who not wanting to die, and knowing that an operation may send him out of the world, cheerfully goes to the table to take the one chance that may mean his continued support of his wife or his dependents.

Often the timid school boy, who fears to quarrel, and tries his best to keep his peace with his fellows, gets the name of coward. But when this same boy has to fight for what he thinks is his honor, or to save a little boy from a bully, he becomes a very dangerous fighter.

Real courage is not daunted by pain. The boy or the man who fights when he is afraid to, stops being afraid of anything, pain or a black eye, or punishment. He fights because he has courage, and he usually wins.

There is more real courage in this world than you fancy. It is behind all great achievement. If you have it, you are fortunate. But don't be sure, either that you have or that you haven't it till you have done or refused to do something you were afraid to do. (Copyright by John Blake.)

SCHOOL DAYS

You put forth your hand and nations obeyed. You lifted up your voice and thousands cheered.

You girded on your armor and armies followed your fearless leadership without questioning your authority or doubting your ability.

Every youth has had such dreams. Every boy has felt himself a king and every girl has been his queen!

The dream of honor, glory and fame is the dream of every human being possessed of high spirit and lofty aim.

KIDDIES SIX

By Will M. Maupin

HELLO, POP!

HIS photograph! Our joy and pride— The picture of our boy who died! I seem to hear, 'midst tears that drip

Upon its face, his loving call Come ringing down the darkened hall, To give me greeting: "Hello, Pop!"

It seems but yesterday he died— But yesterday we stood beside His bed and watched his eyelids droop

To sleep and wake in endless day— But yesterday I heard him say With dying accents: "Good-by, Pop!"

Last night I dreamed he stood again With face pressed to the window pane And watched to see my motor stop; That when he heard me at the door He quickly toddled 'cross the floor, And met me, shouting: "Hello, Pop!"

Sometimes, when daylight fades to gloom And ghostly shadows fill the room I feel again the swelling joy; For, from the shadows around about, I hear once more his joyful shout In boyish tones: "I'm papa's boy!"

When, after death's cold, chilly hands Have loosed the last of earthly bands And caused life's weary load to drop, I'll feel it is supremest joy To meet, at heaven's gate, my boy And hear his welcome: "Hello, Pop!" (Copyright by Will M. Maupin.)

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

THE ROAD TO FAME

HOW often in your dreams have you passed over this hard-worn, densely packed road, reached the goal and stood there in pride listening to the enthusiastic cheer of the admiring throngs around you!

In your youthful days, when new visions, like beautiful flowers, were born over night; when hope had not yet become familiar with dejection; when to picture an achievement was to realize its full accomplishment, you soared to the hilltops on the sure, swift wings of an eagle, commanding the world to kneel at your exalted presence and do your bidding.

Mother's Cook Book

There is an old refrain which runs: "Ask me no questions, I'll tell you no lies." I am inclined to think that it is full of social philosophy. Most of us, probably, have put up our hardest fights for veracity on occasions when questions have been asked us, that never should have been asked.—Katherine Fullerton Gerould.

WHAT TO EAT

WITH leftover chicken there are any number of good dishes that may be prepared with little work.

Deviled Chicken.

Make a sauce of salt, pepper, dry mustard, grated lemon peel, a dash of cayenne, a teaspoonful of Worcester-shire sauce and a few drops of tabasco. Add a lump of butter the size of an egg when the sauce begins to boil. When very hot add cubes of cold cooked chicken. Veal, pork or beef may be used in the same way.

Fried Chicken.

Cut up the chicken and pound each piece flat with a potato masher or mallet. Season, dredge with flour and fry in butter or drippings.

Chicken a la Maryland.

Cut up a tender chicken, season with salt and pepper, dip in egg and crumbs and arrange the pieces close together in a buttered baking dish. Dot each piece with butter, cover with a dripping pan and bake in a hot oven until brown. Make a cream sauce and put all the crumbs and bits of chicken from the pan into the sauce. Pour the sauce over the chicken.

Escalloped Chicken.

Use any kind of cold cooked chicken, freed from skin, fat and bone. Make a cream sauce. Put a layer of the sauce in a baking dish, then a layer of chicken, cut fine, then a layer of crumbs, then sauce, and repeat until the dish is full, leaving a layer of buttered crumbs on the top. Bake in a moderate oven until well browned, adding a little milk and water occasionally if it seems too dry.

Chicken Goulash.

Cut into dice two medium-sized raw potatoes. Into a hot frying pan pour two tablespoonfuls of olive oil and add the diced potatoes. Stir to keep from burning and cook five minutes. Add a dash of paprika, a cupful of boiling water, a crushed bean of garlic, a cupful of cold cooked chicken, chopped, salt and a handful of mushrooms. Cover and cook until the potatoes are done.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Donley County—Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to summon C. M. Blanton, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Donley County, to be holden at the court house thereof in Clarendon, Texas, on the 2nd Monday in January, A. D. 1923, the same being the 8th day of January, A. D. 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1922, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1258, wherein Clarendon College, a corporation, is plaintiff and C. M. Blanton is defendant, said petition alleging, That, on or about the 7th day of July, A. D. 1920, the defendant C. M. Blanton made, executed and delivered to W. T. Hayter, treasurer of the plaintiff corporation, his one certain promissory Vendor's Lien note for a valuable consideration and for the sum of $1250.00 as part payment for the following described property, to wit: the dwelling house, barn and other out houses, known as the Ferguson property, then located on the northwest one fourth of block number 159, as shown by the official map of the City of Clarendon, Texas; said note to become due May 12th, A. D. 1922, and to bear interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum from date until paid; the said note expressly retained a vendor's lien upon said property for the purchase price thereof; that said note is past due and the annual maturing interest is unpaid; that demand for payment has been made of the defendant, but that he has heretofore failed and refused to pay same, and still fails and refuses to pay same; that the said note has been placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, and that the full contract price as stated in said note has been contracted to be paid such attorney for such collection, and that the same is reasonable.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that defendant be cited to appear and answer herein and on final hearing it have judgment against defendant C. M. Blanton for costs herein, attorneys fees, for the foreclosure of the vendors lien, for the sale of said property, under such foreclosure of lien, order of sale, writ of possession and all such other and further relief, legal and equitable, special and general, as it may be justly entitled to, etc.

Herein fail not, but have you before said Court on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness W. E. Bray, Clerk of the District Court of Donley County.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, in the City of Clarendon, this the 28th day of November, A. D. 1922.

W. E. Bray, Clerk of the District Court of Donley County, Texas.

IN LOVING REMEMBRANCE OF MRS. FANNY COOK

Sister Cook departed this busy life to take her place with those who have gone before her. She was an honest and zealous member, always ready and willing to do. Her devotion to her Master's work, her lovable manner and her quiet disposition held for her the love and respect of all who knew her.

God, in His infinite mercy, thought best to deplete our class by relentless death. May we bow our hearts in humble submission and say: "Thy will be done."

"We love you, but angels love you more, And as they have called you to yonder shining shore,

The golden gates were open,
A gentle voice said "Come,"
And with farewell unspoken
You calmly entered home.
O, how sadly do we miss you,
No earthly tongue can tell,
But in heaven we hope to meet you,
For God doeth all things well.

Resolved: First, That we, as a committee, extend to the sorrowing relatives and friends the sincerest condolence and sympathy of the T. E. L. class.

Second, That a copy of these resolutions be spread on our minutes, also a copy be furnished The Informer, and a copy be sent to Brother H. Cook.

Miss Lulu Bett

By ZONA GALE

Copyright by D. Appleton & Company

"SEÑORA, ALLOW ME!"

SYNOPSIS—General factotum in the house of her sister Ina, wife of Herbert Deacon, in the small town of Warbleton, Lulu Bett leads a dull, cramped existence, with which she is constantly at amity, though apparently satisfied with her lot. To Mr. Deacon comes Bobby Larkin, recently graduated high-school youth, secretly enamored of Deacon's elder daughter, Diana, an applicant for a "job" around the Deacon house. He is engaged. The family is excited over the news of an approaching visit from Deacon's brother Ninian, whom he had not seen for many years. Deacon jokes with Lulu, with subtle meaning, concerning the coming meeting. Lulu is interested and speculative, meanwhile watching with something like envy the boy-and-girl love-making of Bobby and Diana. Unexpectedly, Ninian arrives. Thus he becomes acquainted with Lulu first and in a measure understands her position in the house. To Lulu, Ninian is a much-traveled man of the world, and even the slight interest which he takes in her is appreciated, because it is something new in her life. And Ninian appears to like Lulu.

II—Continued.

The words give no conception of their effect, spoken thus. For there in Warbleton these words are not commonplace. In Warbleton, Europe is never so casually spoken of. "Take a trip abroad" is the phrase, or "Go to Europe" at the very least, and both with empressment. Dwight had somewhere noted and deliberately picked up that "other side" effect, and his Ina knew this, and was proud. Her covert glance about pensively covered her soft triumph.

Mrs. Bett, her arm still circling the child Monona, now made her first observation. "Pity not to have went while the going was good," she said, and said no more.

Nobody knew quite what she meant, and everybody hoped for the best. But Ina frowned. Mamma did these things occasionally when there was company, and she dared. She never sauced Dwight in private. And it wasn't fair. It wasn't fair—

The dishes were washed. Lulu had washed them at breakneck speed—she could not, or would not, have told why. But no sooner were they finished and set away than Lulu had been attacked by an unconquerable inhibition. And instead of going to the parlor, she sat down by the kitchen window. She was in her chally gown, with her cameo pin and her string of coral.

Laughter from the parlor mingled with the laughter of Di and Jenny upstairs. Lulu was now rather shy of Di. A night or two before, coming home with "extra" cream, she had gone round to the side door and had come full upon Di and Bobby, seated on the steps. And Di was saying:

"Well, if I marry you, you've simply got to be a great man. I could never marry just anybody. I'd smother."

Lulu had heard, stricken. She passed them by, responding only faintly to their greeting. Di was far less taken aback than Lulu.

Later Di had said to Lulu: "I s'pose you heard what we were saying."

Lulu, much shaken, had withdrawn from the whole matter by a flat "no."

And instead of going to the Parlor She Sat Down by the Kitchen Window.

"Because," she said to herself, "I couldn't have heard right." But since then she had looked at Di as if Di were some one else. Had not Lulu taught her to make buttonholes and to hand—oh, no! Lulu could not have heard properly. "Everybody's got somebody to be lice to them," she thought now, sitting by the kitchen window, adult yet Cinderella.

She thought that some one would come for her—her mother or even Ina. Perhaps they would send Monona. She waited at first hopefully, then resentfully. The gray rain wrapped the air.

"Nobody cares what becomes of me after they're fed," she thought, and derived an obscure satisfaction from her phrasing, and thought it again.

Ninian Deacon came into the kitchen.

Her first impression was that he had come to see whether the dog had been fed.

"I fed him," she said, and wished that she had been busy when Ninian entered.

"Who, me?" he asked. "You did that all right. Say, why in time don't you come in the other room?"

"Oh, I don't know."

"Well, neither do I. I've kept thinking, 'Why don't she come along.' Then I remembered the dishes." He glanced about. "I come to help wipe dishes."

"Oh!" she laughed so delicately, so delightfully, one wondered where she got it. "They're washed—" she caught herself at "long ago."

"Well then, what are you doing here?"

"Resting."

"Rest in there. He bowed, crooked his arm. "Senora," he said—his Spanish matched his other assimilations of travel—"Senora, allow me."

Lulu rose. On his arm she entered the parlor. Dwight was narrating and did not observe that entrance. To the Plovers it was sufficiently normal. But Ina looked up and said:

"Well!"—in two notes, descending, curving.

Lulu did not look at her. Lulu sat in a low rocker. Her starched white skirt, throwing her chally in ugly lines, revealed a peeping rim of white underclothing. Her lace front wrinkled when she sat, and perpetually she adjusted it. She curled her feet side-wise beneath her chair, her long wrists and veined hands lay along her lap in no relation to her. She was tense. She rocked.

When Dwight had finished his narration, there was a pause, broken at last by Mrs. Bett:

"You tell that better than you used to when you started in telling it," she observed. "You got in some things I guess you used to clean forget about. Monona, get off my rocker."

Monona made a little whimpering sound, in pretense to tears. Ina said, "Darling—quiet!"—chin a little lifted, lower lip revealing lower teeth for the word's completion; and she held it.

The Plovers were asking something about Mexico. Dwight was wondering if it would let up raining at all. Di and Jenny came whispering into the room. But all these distractions Ninian Deacon swept aside.

"Miss Lulu," he said, "I wanted you to hear about my trip up the Amazon, because I knew how interested you are in travels."

He talked, according to his lights, about the Amazon. But the person who most enjoyed the recital could not afterward have told two words that he said. Lulu kept the position which she had taken at first, and she dare not change. She saw the blood in the veins of her hands and wanted to hide them. She wondered if she might fold her arms, or have one hand to support her chin, gave it all up and sat motionless, save for the rocking.

Then she forgot everything. For the first time in years some one was talking and looking not only at Ina and Dwight and their guests, but at her.

III.

June.

On a June morning Dwight Herbert Deacon looked at the sky, and said with his manner of originating it:

"How about a picnic this afternoon?"

Ina, with her blank, upward look, exclaimed: "Today?"

"First class day, it looks like to me."

Come to think of it, Ina didn't know that there was anything to prevent, but mercy, Herbert was so sudden. Lulu began to recite the resources of the house for a lunch. Meanwhile, since the first mention of picnic, the child Monona had been dancing stiffly about the room, knees stiff, elbows stiff, shoulders immovable, her straight hair flapping about her face. The sad dance of the child who cannot dance because she never has danced. Di gave a conservative assent—she was at that age—and then took advantage of the family softness incident to a guest and demanded that Bobby go too. Ina hesitated, partly because she always hesitated, partly because she was tribal in the extreme. "Just our little family and Uncle Ninian would have been so nice," she sighed, with her consent.

When, at six o'clock, Ina and Dwight and Ninian assembled on the porch and Lulu came out with the basket, it was seen that she was in a blue cotton house gown.

"Look here," said Ninian, "aren't you going?"

"Me?" said Lulu. "Oh, no."

"Why not?"

"Oh, I haven't been to a picnic since I can remember."

"But why not?"

"Oh, I never think of such a thing."

Ninian waited for the family to speak. They did speak. Dwight said: "Lulu's a regular home body."

And Ina advanced kindly with: "Come with us, Lulu, if you like."

"No," said Lulu, and flushed.

"Thank you," she added, formally.

Mrs. Bett's voice shrilled from within the house, startlingly close—just beyond the window blind, in fact:

"Go on, Lulu. It'll do you good. You mind me and go on."

"Well," said Ninian, "that's what I say. You hustle for your hat and you come along."

For the first time this course presented itself to Lulu as a possibility. She stared up at Ninian.

"You can slip on my linen duster, over," Ina said graciously.

"Your new one?" Dwight incredulously wished to know.

"Oh, no!" Ina laughed at the idea. "The old one."

They were having to wait for Di in any case—they always had to wait for Di—and at last, hardly believing in her own motions, Lulu was running to make ready. Mrs. Bett's hurried to help her, but she took down the wrong things and they were both irritated. Lulu reappeared in the linen duster and a wide hat. There had been no time to "tighten up" her hair; she was flushed at the adventure; she had never looked so well.

They started. Lulu, falling in with Monona, heard for the first time in her life, the step of the pursuing male, choosing to walk beside her and the little girl. Oh, would Ina like that? And what did Lulu care what Ina liked? Monona, making a silly, semi-articulate observation, was enchanted to have Lulu burst into laughter and squeeze her hand.

Di contributed her bright presence, and Bobby Larkin appeared from nowhere, running, with a gigantic bag of fruit.

"Bully!uh!" he shouted, and Lulu could have shouted with him.

She sought for some utterance. She wanted to talk with Ninian.

"I do hope we've brought sandwiches enough," was all that she could get to say.

They chose a spot, that is to say, Dwight Herbert chose a spot, across the river and up the shore where there was at that season a strip of warm beach. Dwight Herbert declared himself the builder of incomparable fires, and made a bad smudge. Ninian, who was a camper neither by birth nor by adoption, kept offering brightly to help, could think of nothing to do, and presently, bethinking himself of skipping stones, went and tried to skip them on the flowing river. Ina cut her hand opening the condensed milk and was obliged to sit under a tree and nurse the wound. Monona spilled all the salt and sought diligently to recover it. So Lulu did all the work. As for Di and Bobby, they had taken the pain and gone for water, discouraging her to the point of tears. But the two were gone for so long that, on their return, Dwight was hungry and cross and majestic.

"While I'm here, I'm going to take you and Ina and Dwight up to the city."

Palestine's Promising Future

PALESTINE FROM THE WEST
Photo International

SIR HERBERT SAMUEL

PALESTINE'S promising future! Certainly Palestine is at the beginning of a new era. And although there are many difficulties in plain sight, this new era is promising.

"The view of Jerusalem as one leaves the Garden of Gethsemane draws the heart with sympathy," writes William D. McCracken in Asia. "The walls rise severely above bare slopes where nothing grows, for it is outside the city proper that biblical prophecies of the desolation of Jerusalem seem to be fulfilled.

"Today the city stands midway between the horrors of the Turkish regime and the promised good of the British mandatory rule. Nothing has been done as yet in a public way to beautify the city. North and west the houses straggle outside the walls; on the south forbidding slopes border the road to Bethlehem; and on the east lies the terrible valley of Jehoshaphat—a valley of dry bones.

"Seventeen times destroyed—bitterly hated— anxiously sought—how desperate a history since Nebuchadnezzar captured it more than twenty-five centuries ago.

"Redeemed today, but in her nakedness, Jerusalem waits to be clothed. She has as yet no grace, no covering for her ugly wounds. Some day her sides will glisten with the brightness of a heavenly radiance; she will be washed and anointed like a bride waiting for the bridegroom."

The prophetic part of this is written, of course, in Oriental imagery. Sir Herbert Samuel, the British high commissioner, puts the situation in plain English and says, in his report to parliament: "Underdeveloped and underpopulated, Palestine has possibilities of far more prosperity than the standard attained before the war."

And Palestine's future is the concern of half the world. Christian, Jew and Moslem see in Palestine a holy land. It is a most interesting situation that is being worked out under our very eyes. It is an obvious chance for the punster; Palestine is indeed the "Promised Land." To whom is it promised? That is what Jew, Arab and Christian in Palestine are asking of the British government. The British government replies that under the mandate there will be complete freedom and equality for all religions and equal justice for all, regardless of religion, race or position.

Sir Herbert's report to parliament makes interesting reading, some of which must be done between the lines. Concerning the policy followed under the mandate he says:

"The policy of His Majesty's British government contemplates the satisfaction of the legitimate aspirations of the Jewish race throughout the world in relation to Palestine, combined with a full protection of the rights of the existing population.

"For my own part I am convinced that the means can be found to effect this combination. The Zionism that is practicable is the Zionism that fulfills this essential condition.

"It is the clear duty of the mandatory power to promote the well-being of the Arab population, in the same way as a British administration would regard it as its duty to promote the welfare of the local population in any part of our empire. The measures to foster the well-being of the Arabs should be precisely those which we should adopt in Palestine if there were no Zionist question, and if there had been no Balfour declaration. There is in this policy nothing incompatible with reasonable Zionist aspirations.

"On the contrary, if the growth of Jewish influence were accompanied by Arab degradation, or even by a neglect to promote Arab advancement, it would fall in one of its essential purposes.

"The grievance of the Arab would be a discredit to the Jew, and in the result the moral influence of Zionism would be gravely impaired.

"Simultaneously there must be satisfaction of that sentiment regarding Palestine—a worthy and ennobling sentiment—which, in increasing degree, animates the Jewries of the world.

"The aspirations of these 14,000,000 of people also have a right to be considered. They ask for the opportunity to establish a 'home' in the land which was the political and has always been the religious center of their race. They ask that this home should possess national characteristics—in language and customs, in intellectual interests, in religious and political institutions.

"This is not to say that Jewish immigration is to involve Arab emigration, that the greater prosperity of the country, through the development of Jewish enterprises, is to be at the expense, and not to the benefit of the Arabs, that the use of Hebrew is to imply the disappearance of Arabic, that the establishment of elected councils in the Jewish community for the control of its affairs is to be followed by the subjection of the Arabs to the rule of those councils.

"In a word, the degree to which Jewish national aspirations can be fulfilled in Palestine is conditioned by the rights of present inhabitants. There have been the principles which have guided the policy of my administration.

"It is the policy of the administration to continue, wherever possible, to apply the Turkish laws, to which the people are accustomed. Changes are made only when they are indispensable. Efficiency is essential to good government, but there is a point where efficiency may become harassing. The danger of passing that point is foreseen.

"The many faiths and sects which find in the Holy Land their origin or their inspiration are free to maintain their teachers and pastors, and to practice their cults, without let or hindrance. In the controversies that occasionally arise between them the policy of the administration has been strictly to maintain the status quo."

Nevertheless, native Christians and Moslems are appealing to the British government not to put into effect the Balfour declaration, because, they say, the Zionists wish "to evict and dispossess the Arab population of Palestine." The Balfour declaration, issued in November, 1917, approves "the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people," and states that the British government will use their best endeavors to facilitate this object, while at the same time reserving to all non-Jewish communities their full civil and religious rights.

The Zionists assure the native peoples that their fears are groundless. "Our policy in regard to the Arabs, as in regard to all our problems, is clear and straightforward," said Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president, in his address to the Twelfth Zionist congress, recently held at Carisbad. He declares, furthermore:

"We intend to abate no jot of the rights guaranteed us by the Balfour declaration, and recognition of that fact by the Arabs is an essential preliminary to the establishment of satisfactory relations between Jew and Arab. Their temporary refusal to recognize that fact compels us to give thought to the means by which we can best safeguard our Yishub against aggression. Self-protection is an elemental duty. But we proclaim most solemnly and unequivocally that we have in our own hearts no thought of aggression, no intention of trespassing on the legitimate rights of our neighbors. We look forward to a future in which Jew and Arab will live side by side in Palestine, and work conjointly for the prosperity of the country. Nothing will stand in the way of such a future, when once our neighbors realize that our rights are as serious a matter to us as their rights are to them."

That there are troubles of many kinds is evident from the report. Some of these are referred to thus:

"The methods of agriculture are, for the most part, primitive; the area of land now cultivated could yield a far greater product. There are in addition large cultivable areas that are left uncultivated. The summits and slopes of the hills are admirably suited to the growth of the trees, but there are no forests. Some industries have been killed by Turkish laws; none has been encouraged; the markets of Palestine and of the neighboring countries are supplied almost wholly from Europe.

"The seaborne commerce, such as it is, is loaded and discharged in the open roadsteads of Jaffa and Haifa; there are no harbors.

"The country is underpopulated because of this lack of development. There are now in the whole of Palestine hardly 700,000 people, a population much less than that of the Province of Galicia alone in the time of Christ.

"The long delay in the formal settlement of the international status of Palestine has tended to disturb the minds of the people. Even more serious has been the consequence that it has not been possible to issue a government loan. Without a loan, many public works that would be directly or indirectly remunerative, cannot be executed.

"The financial conditions of eastern and central Europe and internal difficulties within the Zionist organization in the United States have prevented the Zionist movement from providing as yet any large sums for enterprises of development or colonization—although, indeed, several land purchases have been completed and many preparations made for the future. As a consequence, while there has been much pressure to admit Jewish immigrants there has been comparatively little expansion in opportunities for employment.

"The agricultural development of the country, and, indeed, its urban development also, are greatly hampered by the condition of confusion into which the titles of ownership of land were allowed to fall during the Turkish regime. There is here a tangle which will need years of patient effort to unravel."

Of the total population of 700,000 the Jewish element numbers 76,000, almost all of whom have entered Palestine during the last forty years. The success of the Jewish agricultural colonies attracted the eager interest of the masses of the Jewish people scattered throughout the world.

In many countries they were living under the pressure of laws or customs which cramped their capacities and thwarted their energies; they saw in Palestine the prospect of a home in which they might live at ease.

Profoundly discontented, as numbers of them were, with a life of petty trade in crowded cities, they listened with ready ears to the call of a healthier and finer life as producers on the land. Some among them, agriculturists already, saw in Palestine the prospect of a soil not less fertile, and an environment far more free, than those to which they were accustomed.

Emigration of Jews to Palestine is increasing rapidly in central and eastern Europe, and the new Palestine immigration regulations would allow of a controlled immigration of about 17,000 Zionists of the pioneer class during the coming year, said S. Landmann, secretary of the Zionist organization, in an interview.

Mr. Landmann, who is now in Vienna on a special mission in connection with Jewish emigrants to Palestine, said the selection of the emigrants is being made by the Zionist organization, which has established Palestine offices in the important Jewish centers. Preference is given to young people, strong in body and determined in spirit, who have had actual experience in agriculture or other manual work, and who know Hebrew.

Several thousands of such pioneers—known by the Hebrew name of Chaltzim—have already left, and others are waiting in the large centers until proper arrangements for their transport can be made and until new openings for employment in Palestine are reported.

One of the features of the pioneer movement is that it includes a fair proportion of girls of well-to-do families, who have decided to devote their lives to the new Palestine. They act as land girls and take care of the domestic arrangements in the Jewish colonies.

Reviewing the whole field in "Zionism and World Politics," Dr. Horace Meyer Kallen concludes that at least the cornerstone of the future Zionist edifice has been laid. And Dr. Kallen believes that this is an event of profound and hopeful significance for the Jewish race. He feels that the Jew has too long been compelled to choose between the unwelcome alternatives of sinking his rich cultural and spiritual heritage in thoroughgoing assimilation with the life of the country in which he lives and of leading the starved, unhappy existence of a suspected outcast, a man with a definite racial consciousness but without a country.

THE ECONOMY BAKING POWDER

CALUMET

Calumet possesses the farthest-reaching baking powder economy. It is the most economical leavening agent. It saves in more ways—and makes more important savings than most other baking powders.

You save when you buy it. The price is moderate—it leaves you money over the cost of high-priced brands for purchase of other articles. Costs but little more than cheap powders—far more valuable in quality.

You save when you use it. Possesses more than the ordinary raising force—you use only half as much as is ordinarily required.

You save materials it is used with. Calumet never fails with any kind of recipe or with any kind of flour—always produces perfectly raised, delicious bakings.

You'll notice a great difference when you use Calumet. Calumet produces light, sweet, wholesome, flaky bakings. You will notice with some of the cheaper brands the bakings are soggy, heavy, dark in color, and sometimes have a bitter taste.

Used by leading chefs and domestic scientists, and by more housewives than any other brand. Made in the world's largest and finest baking powder plants.

Best by test. A trial proves it.

The Law Says 16 oz. to a Pound
A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Mrs. Williams Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health

Overpeck, O.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me both before and after my baby was born. I suffered with backache, headache, was generally run down and weak. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and decided to try it. Now I feel fine, take care of my two boys and do my own work. I recommend your medicine to anyone who is ailing. You may publish my testimonial if you think it will help others. Mrs. CARRIE WILLIAMS, Overpeck, Ohio.

For more than forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been restoring women to health who suffered from irregularities, displacements, backaches, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness or "the blues." Today there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman does not reside who has been made well by it. That is why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for such ailments.

WHAT SHALL WE HAVE TO EAT?

Those who have once tried tuna fish will always be a friend of it. It lacks the fishy taste of the ordinary canned fish, making it most acceptable for salads and various dishes.

Tuna Fish Salad.—Take one cupful of shredded tuna, three-fourths of a cupful of water, one-half cupful of chopped celery, one green pepper chopped, one-half teaspoonful of salt and one-fourth teaspoonful of paprika. Soak the gelatine in the cold water, then add it, with all the other ingredients, to the hot salad dressing. Turn into individual molds that have been dipped in cold water. When molded turn out on crisp lettuce leaves.

Sponge Pudding.—Take one and one-half cupfuls of milk, four tablespoonfuls of flour, a pinch of salt and cook together until thick. Add two tablespoonfuls of sugar and when cooled a little the yolks of three eggs well beaten. Fold in the beaten whites and bake in a buttered baking dish until well puffed. Serve with the hard sauce above.

Baltimore Pudding.—Take one-half cupful each of molasses, milk and beef suet finely minced, a cupful of flour and a cupful of raisins. The juice and rind of a lemon, one-half teaspoonful of soda, a teaspoonful of salt, a pinch of cloves, mace and cinnamon. Steam five hours and serve with an egg or hard sauce. Prepare the hard sauce with two tablespoonfuls of butter creamed, one cupful of powdered sugar added gradually and two or three tablespoonfuls of whipped cream. Flavor with vanilla.

Hermits.—One might well be willing to be a hermit if fed on such cakes. Take one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, one cupful of shortening, using butter if possible; three well-beaten eggs, one teaspoonful of soda, one cupful of finely chopped raisins and flour enough to roll. Roll and cut as for your cookies. Bake in a quick oven.

A simple lettuce salad with French dressing will be good, with an apple pie for dessert. Other good things for the rest of the week will be found in the following:

"The things that haven't been done before, Are the tasks worth while today. Are you one of the flock that follow, or Are you one that shall lead the way? Are you one of the timid souls that quail At the jeers of a doubting crew, Or dare you, whether you win or fail Strike out for a goal that's new?"

NOVEL WAYS WITH FRUITS.

When oranges, grapefruit, kumquats and lemons are plentiful in the market, we like to use them in other ways, even if we enjoy them best as fresh fruit.

Florida Orange Sticks.—Cream one-quarter of a cupful of butter; add three-quarters of a cupful of sugar and beat until smooth. Then add two egg yolks, one-quarter of a cupful of orange juice and the grated rind of one-half an orange. Mix and sift three-quarters of a cupful of flour, one-quarter of a cupful of cornstarch and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Add to the first mixture, and when well blended fold in the well-beaten whites of two eggs. Grease a shallow pan, sprinkle with powdered sugar and one cupful of finely-chopped walnut meats. Pour in the cake batter and bake in a moderate oven 25 minutes. Remove from the pan, cut in half crosswise and put together with orange filling; cover with orange icing and cut in narrow strips for serving.

Orange Filling.—Cream together one tablespoonful of butter and three tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar. Mix two tablespoonfuls of flour, one-third of a cupful of sugar, one egg yolk until smooth. Add one-quarter of a cupful of orange juice, one teaspoonful of grated orange peel, one teaspoonful of lemon juice. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens. Add the butter mixture and cool before spreading.

Orange Icing.—Mix the grated rind of one orange with one teaspoonful of lemon juice, one tablespoonful of orange juice and one egg yolk. Beat in confectioner's sugar until the mixture is stiff enough to spread. This will take about one and one-half cupfuls of sugar.

Molded Rice With Oranges.—Cook enough rice to serve the family, mold in a small bowl. Unmold and garnish with sections of orange with all the membrane removed. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve with cream, well whipped.

POULTRY

Proper Care is of Big Importance in Arranging and Handling Exhibition Coops.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Not infrequently improperly built and unsuitable coops have resulted in accidents and damage to the fowl in transit, or have presented the birds in such objectionable surroundings that they have been neither pleasing to the general spectator nor to the judge.

Where fowls are shipped by express, in order to have them reach their destination in the best possible condition, they should be transported in special shipping coops, which should be substantially built and able to withstand rough handling. Such a coop may be made from waste lumber salvaged from dry-goods boxes or second-hand half-inch material. Boards more than one-half inch thick should not be used, as they make the coop too heavy and the express charges excessive. The coop should be nailed together with the supports of the slats or cover on the top, which should be put on with screws or hinges and hooks, so that it may be easily opened. This is important, as the top or cover must be opened each time the coop is used, and if put on with nails it is soon broken and the coop spoiled.

There are standard sizes of coops which commonly are used for shipping poultry, the dimensions of these containers varying according to the number of fowl to be transported. The following dimensions should be used in constructing the coop: For one hen or cock, 12 inches wide, 18 inches long, and 24 inches high; for two hens or one hen and cock, 12 inches wide, 24 inches long, and 24 inches high. In preparing for shipment, a small quantity of hay, straw, or dry shavings should be placed in the bottom of the coop to absorb moisture, and two cups or cans should be provided—one for feed and one for water. The cups should be fastened securely to the side walls in opposite corners.

Special exhibition coops should be used by poultry-club members in exhibiting fowls at county and school fairs or other exhibitions, or by adult showmen in displaying their champion poultry. Such coops should not be used for shipping poultry, but may be employed to take the birds to the show, if carried by wagon or motor car. The floor should be solid and the framework of wooden strips, 2 inches wide and 1 1/2 inches thick. The top back and sides may be covered with lath, wire netting, or any kind of thin strong cloth. The front should be of 2-inch wire netting. If it is impossible to obtain netting, however, laths may be used, but the strips should be placed about 2 1/2 inches apart, to afford as much opportunity as possible to see the birds. The coop should be made in the form of a 2-foot cube, and will accommodate one mature bird or a pair of chickens. If more than this are to be exhibited together the coop should be made larger in proportion to the number of fowls it is to accommodate.

Every poultry-club member or other fowl fancier, who intends to exhibit birds, should construct one or more exhibition coops of this type, according to the number of specimens he intends to exhibit. Birds can be trained and conditioned in these coops before the exhibition, and after becoming accustomed to them they will appear to better advantage when being judged.

Furthermore, when birds are shown in coops of this kind that are uniform in size and type, not only is the appearance of the showroom improved, but the individual exhibit is more attractive. Training and exhibiting some of the best specimens of both old and young birds every fall is an interesting and important part of boys' poultry-club work.

GRIT IS MOST ESSENTIAL

Many poultry raisers gradually begin to slight the importance of grit. Lack of grit means poor digestion and impaired health. Regular poultry grit should be kept before the fowls in boxes or hoppers at all times. In addition, a load of gravel near the chickens' home would improve the health and increase the egg yield on many a farm.

FAIRME STOCK

BEST LOCATION OF HOG LOT

Simple Precaution May Be Means of Preventing Spread of Cholera—Isolate New Stock.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

When hog cholera sweeps through a neighborhood, causing the death of hundreds of animals, a simple precaution, as the proper location of the hog lot, may be the means of preventing infection. Where not to have the hog lot is pointed out and other suggestions on the control and eradication of this disease are given in a leaflet published by the United States Department of Agriculture. Hog lots should be located away from streams and highways. Free range, streams, irrigation canals, etc., help in the spread of cholera outbreaks. Don't visit neighbors' hog lots or allow neighbors to visit yours if they have sick hogs. Infection may be carried by teams and wagons from highways; don't drive into hog lots. Isolate for at least two weeks all new stock hogs and those just returned from exhibitions and sales. Don't borrow or lend hogs for breeding purposes if cholera is in the community.

Burn to ashes or bury four feet deep all animals that die on the farm and the unused internal organs of slaughtered animals, since they attract dogs, which may carry infection. If cholera appears in the neighborhood, confine your dog and encourage others to do likewise. Immunize herds located dangerously near infected centers. Careful attention to the feeding and handling of the herd after immunization is an important matter. Mange, lice and worms lower the vitality of hogs and render them more susceptible to disease.

If cholera appears in the herd, post warning notices so your neighbors will know about it, suggests the department. Have all susceptible hogs immunized at once by some one with special training and experience, preferably to a competent veterinarian. Insist that the temperature of all hogs be taken at time of treatment and an increased dose of serum given to those showing a temperature of 104 degrees F. or over. Confine all treated hogs to limited, clean quarters; keep on light restricted diet for at least two weeks.

A Healthy Pork Family in the Alfalfa Field.

and give plenty of pure drinking water. Anti-hog-cholera serum is not a cure, but when used as soon as cholera appears in a herd it seems to have a favorable effect on some animals in the very early stage of the disease. Don't rely on serum to cure sick hogs; it is primarily a preventive.

If the disease comes to your farm and runs its course, disinfect thoroughly afterwards all places where sick hogs have been. First, remove all infected manure and spread on fields inaccessible to hogs. Burn all litter rubbish and old troughs from infected pens and lots. Turn over portable hog houses, exposing the interior to sunlight. Thoroughly clean pens and buildings in which sick hogs have been kept, and disinfect by spraying with compound cresol solution, one part to 36 parts of soft water. In summer, pastures and lots are usually made safe within three weeks by the action of sunlight. Fill, drain, or fence off mud wallows. Disinfect and board off all runs underneath buildings. Destroy hogs that don't fully recover; they may carry cholera infection.

SHOULD NOT MATE TOO SOON

For Best Results, Angora Goats Must Be Allowed to First Attain Full Maturity.

Angora goats of both sexes will sometimes mate when five months old and often at six months, but from the fact that they are at this age but a month or two from weaning time, and are not nearly full grown, it is obvious that they should not be permitted to mate. They reach maturity when about 10 or 18 months old, and they ought not to mate before that time. If mated earlier the kids will not be so strong or so well developed. They are in their prime when two or six years old, but with proper feeding in winter they have been known to breed regularly until 15 years old. The average life of a goat is about 12 years. There should be no tendency to keep does until they are very old, unless they bring extra good kids.

MAKES MERRY WITH PUBLIC

In His Book, "Windmills," Gilbert Canaan Pokes Fun at Many Venerable European Institutions.

Gilbert Canaan admits a misunderstanding of his pacifist attitude toward the war in his preface to the American edition of "Windmills," but avows firmly that "the attempt to remove militarism and military conceptions from among human preoccupations is a good cause and I will serve with the only weapon I know how to use—the pen—which they say is mightier than the sword or even the howitzer. Having applied myself to this service before the outbreak of the great war, which for me began in 1911, I was not to be diverted from it by the panic confusion of those who were overtaken by the calamity rather than prepared for it."

With a solemnity which is grotesque, he recounts in "Sannays Island" the wars between the Fattish empire and Fatterland. The reader will recognize many European institutions and events at which Mr. Canaan is poking fun. A second reading reveals more of his sly allusions, remarks the Springfield Republican.

May Repair Liberty Bell.

Announcement was made in Tivoli, Dutchess county, that George Waelde has just repaired a bell that has not rung for 140 years, and that, inspired by this success, he is planning to go to Philadelphia and try to repair the cracked Liberty bell that announced the Declaration of Independence.

The old church bell just repaired was sounded for the first time in 140 years on Armistice day. The bell is to be replaced in the steeple of the Old Red Church in Tivoli. It was installed there when the church was erected 162 years ago. It was cracked by a sexton, who used a hammer to sound it when the bell rope broke. Waelde, who is a welder, tinkered with the bell until he finally closed the crack and restored its sound.—Philadelphia Ledger.

At the Top of the Stairs.

During my service in the army I was one day corporal in charge of quarters. One of my duties was to escort the officer of the day on his tour of inspection, preceding him into the men's quarters and loudly calling them to attention.

This particular day I preceded him up the stairs to the upper floor of our barracks, and when about half way up loudly shouted, "Attention." Upon reaching the top of the stairs I discovered the colonel and a dozen other officers of the regiment rigidly standing at attention. They had picked the place out as a quiet one to get some gas mask drill, and burst out with a wild shout of laughter when they saw me and the second loopy in the rear.—Chicago Journal.

Real Rest Depends Largely Upon the Depth of Your Sleep

A warning to "light" or "poor" sleepers

The deeper and sounder you sleep the better you feel. Five hours sound refreshing sleep does you more actual good than ten hours restless, disturbed sleep.

This is because the final conversion of food into vital tissue and nerve cells goes on more rapidly when the physical and mental forces are at rest.

You can't get sound, refreshing sleep if your nerves are agitated with tea or coffee. Both these drinks contain caffeine, which is sometimes very irritating to the brain and nervous system.

If you want to know the joy, vigor and stamina that comes to the person who gets sound, healthful sleep, why not stop taking tea or coffee for a while, and drink delicious, invigorating Postum instead.

Thousands of people everywhere have found that this was the only thing they needed in order to bring about these very happy results.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this delightful cereal beverage of coffee-like flavor, for a week. Perhaps, like thousands of others, you'll never be willing to go back to tea or coffee.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Donley County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon C. M. Blanton, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Donley County, to be holden at the court house thereof in Clarendon, Texas, on the 2nd Monday in January, A. D. 1923, the same being the 8th day of January, A. D. 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1922, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 1256, wherein Geo. S. Slover, J. W. Gordon and O. A. Barrett are plaintiffs and C. M. Blanton is defendant, said petition alleging, That on or about the 1st day of September, A. D. 1920, defendant C. M. Blanton, for a valuable consideration, made, executed and delivered to Geo. S. Slover, J. W. Gordon and O. A. Barrett his one certain Vendor's Lien note for $1250.00 payable on or before two years after date, at Clarendon, Texas, at 8 per cent interest per annum; said note carrying the usual ten per cent attorney's fee clause; and retaining a vendors lien upon the following described property, to wit: All of blocks seventeen (17) and eighteen (18) in the Wasson Subdivision of McLean Addition to the town of Clarendon, Texas, as shown by the recorded map of said Addition and Subdivision; that said note was given as part payment for the above described lots or parcel of land; that said note is past due and the annual maturing interest is unpaid; that demand for payment has been made of the defendant, but that he has heretofore failed and refused to pay same; and still fails and refuses to pay same; that the said note has been placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, and that the full contract price as stated in said note has been contracted to be paid such attorney for such collection, and that the same is reasonable.

Therefore plaintiffs pray that defendant be cited to appear and answer herein and on final hearing they have judgment against defendant C. M. Blanton, for costs herein, attorneys fees, for the foreclosure of their vendors lien, for the sale of said land, under such foreclosure of lien, order of sale, writ of possession and all such other and further relief, legal and equitable, special and general, as they may be justly entitled to, etc

Herein fail not, but have you before said court on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Last Friday, Dec 1st, from 3 to 5 p. m., little Miss Lois Wood entertained a number of friends at a birthday party, it being her ninth birthday.

After many games were played, refreshments were served to Minnie Lee Armstrong, Mary Lee Cooper, Snookie Clarke, Aline Bridges, Helen Kinslow, Jack Bell, Mary Lorence, Virginia Kendall, Opal Heath, Rosie Lee Crawford, Roxie Whiteside, Connie Moore, Clay Cooper, Opal and Omer Wood.

GARD OF THANKS

We, the family and relatives of the departed Mrs. Cook, wish to take this means of expressing our deepest appreciation and sincere thanks for the many tokens of love and friendship shown us during the illness and death of our departed loved one, and for the many kind letters of love and friendship, and for the many beautiful flowers. We pray that God in His own way will reward each one. We are so thankful our hearts overflow with gratitude as we think of each one who gave so freely; we find that each effort to express our feeling is only to fail.

May God in His goodness and mercy help us to live a life that will show our appreciation for the kindness shown us.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas. In the District Court, January Term, A. D. 1923

To the Sheriff or Any Constable of Donley County—Greeting: You are hereby commanded, that by making publication of this citation in some newspaper published in the county of Donley, if there be a newspaper published in said county, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, for four weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon C. B. Hedrick, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the District Court, to be holden in and for the county of Donley, at the court house thereof in Clarendon, on the 2nd Monday in January, 1923, the same being the 8th day of January, 1923, File Number being 1248, then and there to answer the petition of Oscar J. Burkhardt filed in said court on the 23rd day of November, A. D. 1922, against the said C. B. Hedrick and The Southwestern National Bank of Dallas, C. H. Arnold and R. L. Arnold, and alleging in substance as follows, to wit:

Suit upon the last seven of ten promissory vendor's lien notes dated the 19th of November, 1917, signed by C. B. Hedrick, payable to O. J. Burkhardt, the first nine being for $500.00 each and the last being for $3000.00, the last seven notes being due and payable, each retaining a vendors lien against the West 1/4 of School Section No. 26 in Block 2, Donley county, Texas, bearing 6 per cent interest and providing for 10 per cent attorneys fees, all of said notes being due and payable by virtue of the failure to pay notes 4 and 5 of said series and the annual interest thereon. Plaintiff alleges that defendant C. B. Hedrick purchased the land above described and gave said notes in payment thereof. Plaintiff further alleges that defendant Hedrick later sold the land to one E. H. Grimes who assumed the payment of said notes, and Grimes sold to C. H. Arnold and R. L. Arnold, who assumed the payment of the same, and alleges that said Grimes reserved certain second vendor's lien notes which are the property of the Southwestern National Bank of Dallas. Plaintiff further alleges that in order to protect the title of said land he has been forced to pay taxes and interest due the state thereon in the sum of about $230.00. Plaintiff sues for the amount due on said notes and interest paid by him, and for a foreclosure of his vendors lien against the above described land.

Herein fail not, but have you then and there before said court this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness: W. E. Bray, Clerk District Court, Donley County.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, in Clarendon, this 5th day of December, A. D. 1922.

Pulitzer Race Makes New Air History

Here is a portrait of Lieut. Roswell L. Maughan of the army air service, who won the Pulitzer trophy at Detroit in a race which shattered three world records and made aerial history.

The greatest speed ship ever built was none too good for the winner. Numb, unconscious part of the time, even his self-confidence shaken, Maughan held the plane to her maximum effort.

It was needed to win. Lieut. Lester J. Maitland in a twin Curtiss army racer was on his heels with an average speed of 203 miles an hour.

Maitland was the only one of the eleven pilots completing the required five laps of the 31,068-mile circuit who really challenged Maughan seriously. Both of them beat the 100 kilometer record established last September by Sadi Le Cointe, the Frenchman, who averaged 202 miles an hour.

Premier Poincare of France is apparently quite a man. Anyway, Myron Herrick, United States ambassador to France, has a high opinion of the ability of Premier Poincare and of his fitness to handle the present national and international problems of his country.

NUMBER OF SALAD COMBINATIONS IS ENDLESS—DIFFERENT RECIPES

A Salad of Mixed Vegetables With Cottage Cheese Makes Good Lunch Dish.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Sometimes a housekeeper finds she has everything necessary for a salad except the lettuce. In such a case the United States Department of Agriculture suggests that finely shredded cabbage, either red or white, will answer for the "bed" for the salad.

There are three basic salad dressings of which most other dressings are adaptations. The following recipes are tested and recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

French Dressing. 1 tablespoonful oil, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 1/2 teaspoonful vinegar, 1/2 teaspoonful paprika, 1/2 teaspoonful cayenne.

Blend the oil with the seasonings and add the vinegar slowly. French dressing may be made in quantities, kept in a cold place and stirred or shaken in a bottle vigorously when needed.

Vinaigrette sauce is made by adding to French dressing a teaspoonful each of chopped capers, olives, parsley and small cucumber pickles.

Mayonnaise Dressing. 1 egg, 1/2 teaspoonful mustard, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 2 tablespoonfuls vinegar, 2 cupfuls oil, 1/2 teaspoonful cayenne.

Place the egg, mustard, salt, cayenne and vinegar in a bowl. Beat well with a Dover egg beater till thoroughly blended, then add one tablespoonful of the oil and beat again.

COOK CUTS OF BEEF IN APPETIZING WAY

Less Gas Needed for Stews Than for Broiling.

Some Dishes Are Not in Favor Because of Haphazard Manner in Which They Are Prepared—Much Meat is Wasted.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

With a properly regulated flame, less gas is needed to prepare a stew or a tongue or to "boil" (simmer) a piece of corned beef, or other cheaper cuts of beef that is required to broil a thick steak properly.

Meat stews are not in great favor. This may be because they are so often prepared in a haphazard way. Try selecting lean beef from the neck, brisket, the shoulder clod, or the heel of the round and making a brown stew.

Cut the beef into inch cubes. Season each piece, dredge thoroughly with flour, and brown on all sides in a frying pan using suet or drippings. Avoid having too much fat. Then add just enough hot water to cover the pieces and when this has boiled up once pour all into a double boiler and cook for three hours.

Strictly speaking, no meat is ever cooked satisfactorily by being actually boiled in water. To prepare so-called "boiled" beef, plunge the meat into boiling water to harden the surface a little and prevent too rapid an escape of the juices.

Too often corned beef is served underdone and a great deal of good meat is wasted because of this.

People who are troubled with moths should shake the clothing which is in the closets once a week, as the moths lay eggs in the creases.

Save your bread scraps in a bag suspended near the stove. The heat will dry them out and you will find them easily crushed when in need of bread dust for frying fish.

Teethina Ends Babies' Colds In a Twinkling

Mothers all over the South are fast learning that Teethina, the wonderful prescription of a famous physician, is the best remedy on earth for breaking up a baby's cold almost overnight.

Thousands are testifying that Teethina stopped their children's colds while they slept and scores of others say whenever their baby starts sneezing or the nose begins running, they just give them Teethina and that's the end of the cold.

Too much stress cannot be laid upon the necessity of breaking up a child's cold before it gets a hold and thereby preventing serious troubles, such as bronchitis, tonsillitis, the terrible mastoiditis and many other dangerous troubles of children.

Your druggist sells it or the Moffett Laboratories, Columbus, Ga., will send you a regular size package and a valuable booklet on the care of the Baby, if you will send them 30c.—Advertisement.

CALOMEL GOOD BUT TREACHEROUS

Next Dose May Salivate, Shock Liver or Attack Your Bones.

You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous; it crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can't salivate.—Advertisement.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas.

To the Sheriff or Any Constable of Donley County - Greeting

You are hereby commanded to summon W. H. Greer by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Donley county, to be holden at the court house thereof, in Clarendon, on the 2nd Monday in January, A. D. 1923, the same being the 8th day of January, A. D. 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 17th day of July, A. D. 1922 in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1211, wherein J. T. Warren is plaintiff, and C. W. Meador, W. H. Greer and P. M. Woodring are defendants, and said petition alleging:

That on January 17th, 1918, W. A. Rice and his wife, Charity Rice, conveyed to the defendant, C. W. Meador, by warranty deed of that date which is recorded in Vol. 37, page 377, deed records of Donley county, Texas, the land hereinafter described, and as part consideration for said land said defendant Meador assumed the payment of five notes, executed by the said W. A. Rice. Said notes being for amounts as follows: Note No. 2 for $300.00, No. 3 for $350.00, No. 4 for $400.00, No. 5 for $450.00, and No. 6 for $500.00, and becoming due January 1st, 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923 respectively, all payable to J. Marlon Williams and W. F. White, and as a further consideration for said land the defendant Meador executed five vendor's lien notes for $210.00 each, described in above mentioned deed and of even date therewith, due January 1st, 1920, 1921, 1922, 1923 and 1924 respectively, and in consideration of money advanced by plaintiff to defendant Meador in part payment for said land said notes were made payable to plaintiff or his order; that said last mentioned notes bear interest from their date to maturity at 8 per cent per annum, and 10 per cent per annum after maturity on principle and accrued interest and further provide that if said notes are not paid when due or any installment of interest when due, shall at the election of the owner of said notes mature all of them, and they further provide that in case of default of payment as aforesaid ten per cent additional shall be added to principal and interest then due as attorneys fees. That the vendor's lien is retained in said notes and in said deed to secure their payment.

Plaintiff further alleges that on or about the 26th day of August, 1918, the defendant, C. W. Meador, joined by his wife, conveyed said land to defendant W. H. Greer by deed of that date which deed is recorded in Vol. 37 page 407, Donley county, Texas, deed records and as part consideration for said land the defendant Greer executed four vendor's lien notes for $612.50 each payable to defendant Meador or, or order, and due January 1st, 1925, 1926, 1927 and 1928 respectively, with interest at 8 per cent per annum, and assumed and agreed to pay plaintiff's said five notes for $310.00 each, above described, with interest and attorneys fees as therein provided; that said five notes payable to J. Marlon Williams and W. F. White retain a first and superior lien securing their payment to plaintiff's five notes for $310.00 each, and that said four notes for $612.50 each, payable to defendant Meador, retain a second and inferior lien securing their payment to plaintiff's said notes; that by the execution of said notes for $310.00 each by the defendant Meador and the assumption of the payment of the same by the defendant Greer they and each of said defendants became liable and promised to pay plaintiff the sum of money in said notes specified, together with interest and attorneys fees therein provided.

Plaintiff further alleges that the defendant C. W. Meador for a consideration to him paid endorsed and delivered to the defendant P. M. Woodring Note No. 1 of said series of four notes for $612.50 each and that said Woodring is claiming some interest in said land by his ownership of said note. Plaintiff further alleges that at the January term of this Court, 1922, a judgment was rendered against the defendant C. W. Meador, foreclosing the vendor's lien on said land, but said judgment was defective by reason of the failure of plaintiff to make said Woodring a party to said suit and the failure to properly dispose of the interest of the defendant W. H. Greer by the judgment rendered in said suit.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that the aforesaid judgment be reformed and amended that the rights of all said defendants may be properly adjudicated in conformity with law and the facts herein set forth.

Though often requested, the defendants Meador and Greer have failed and refused to pay plaintiff said matured notes and interest on all of said notes, or any part thereof, except the interest thereon to January 1st, 1920, and by reason of such failure plaintiff has elected to declare and does declare all of said notes for $310.00 each due and payable with interest and attorneys fees thereon; that said notes for $310.00 each were executed by the defendant Meador in part payment for the following described land situated in Donley county, Texas, to wit: The S E 1 4 of Section 103 in Block C6, Certificate 188 issued to Hooper and Wade, Patented to L. H. Carhart assignee, containing 160 acres.

Wherefore plaintiff prays the Court that defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition, that he have judgment against each of said defendants C. W. Meador and W. H. Greer for his debt, principal, interest and attorneys fees and costs of suit and the foreclosure of his lien on above described land, that the same be decreed to be sold according to law, that order of sale issue for the sale of said land, to the Sheriff or any Constable of Donley county, Texas, that said land be sold subject to the lien securing the payment of said notes payable to J. Marlon Williams and W. F. White, that the proceeds of such sale be applied to the payment of plaintiff's said debt, principal, interest, attorneys fees and costs of suit, and should there be any excess after the payment of said amounts the same to be paid to the defendant C. W. Meador under further orders and directions of this Court and that the equity of redemption of the defendant P. M. Woodring in said note held by him be forever barred. That the Sheriff or other officer executing said order of sale place the purchaser of said property in possession thereof within 30 days after the day of sale subject to the lien securing said notes payable to Williams and White.

Plaintiff prays for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity, that he may be justly entitled to.

All of plaintiff's allegations, demands and prayer are set forth in his original petition on file in the office of the District Clerk of Donley county, and is hereby referred to and made part hereof.

Herein fail not, and have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Clarendon, Texas, this 22nd day of November, A. D. 1922

DAUGHTER HAD TO HELP MOTHER

Now Can Do All Her Housework Alone Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Jasper, Minn. — "I saw in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took it because I was having such pains in my stomach and through my back that I could not do my work. I had tried other medicines, but none did me the good that your Vegetable Compound did. Now I am able to do all my work alone while before I had my daughter staying at home to do it. I have told a number of friends what it has done for me and give you permission to use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. JESSE PETERSEN, Route 1, Jasper, Minn.

There is no better reason for your trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound than this—it has helped other women. So if you suffer from displacements, irregularities, backache, nervousness or are passing through the Change of Life remember this splendid medicine. What it did for Mrs. Petersen it may do for you.

The Vegetable Compound stands upon a foundation of nearly fifty years of service.

CHILDREN'S TRIMMED HATS; FAVOR MANNISH SWEATERS

HATS for children—"much could be said on this subject"—much more than was required a few seasons ago. A sizeable group in those days might have contained all the styles in trimmed hats considered necessary for the equipment of little girls, but times have changed, and now pages could be filled with the variety of designs displayed for the benefit of little ones. Designers appear to be experimenting along a new path—they are have to concede that they do know how to choose sweaters.

In fact, in our eagerness for the genuine article, we are going so far as to patronize men's clothing houses. According to their report, their sales of sport sweaters to girls and women have been almost as large as to their male customers. However, it is not necessary to do this, for these substantial sweaters so purposefully designed for wear in the great outdoors taking styles for grown-ups and giving them delightful and amusing translations—making them talk baby talk.

Pokes and cloches appear to be the shapes best suited to little girls. It is more difficult to adapt off-the-face hats to them, but it is done successfully. In materials duvetine appears to be the favorite, but velvets and silks are well represented. Among the simpler hats, felt, velours, duvetine and plush make up the bulk of the displays, and the hats "to match," made of the same fabrics as coats, are a noteworthy feature of this season's styles.

The hats pictured may be developed in any of the fabrics mentioned. Nearly all of them have soft crowns, and their story is quite completely told by the photographs. An amusing are faithfully reproduced and conspicuously featured throughout women's knitted apparel sections.

It seems that white in these athletic sweaters appeals most to the high school and university girls who expect to revel in outdoor sports during the coming months. However, a large and interesting color range in these knitted garments includes excellent fall shades.

Since heavy knit sweaters are of such truly smart style, be sure that every detail of mannish perfection be uncompromisingly reproduced in the garment you buy. In the first place, to be a top-notch mode, your knitted coat or slip-on must be manufactured of the very highest grade, 100-per-cent worsted yarn. Thus is real comfort and enduring wear guaranteed. Next, be assured by your salesperson that the shoulders are the kind that do not stretch and that the elbows are reinforced. Another item: This type of sweater being originally a man's model, some designers keep the buttons on the right side in true masculine style. There must be a perfect fitting collar which, at will, buttons up snug and warm. The garments are portrayed are eminently correct in every detail. Each is hand finished with scrupulous care and they represent the highest type of man-fashioned knitted garments. The one is a sport coat full fashioned with fancy rack stitch front border, the other is a girl's slip-on.

Fathers and brothers are setting the fashion for us in knitted coats. Of course we are not willing to admit the "superiority of man," but we will

Rare Find in English Church.
After three centuries of concealment behind plaster and rubbish, the remains of a Fourteenth century stained-glass window have been discovered at Chelsea (England) Old church. The old glass, which is of immense value, was found between layers of soft plaster behind a mass of old bricks. In one window only a fragment of a border was found, but in the other a panel two feet by two was brought to light. The panel is nearly complete, the head of the figure—apparently that of St. Lawrence or St. Stephen—is missing. The glass seems to be of a date not later than the middle of the Fourteenth century. With the exception of Westminster abbey, there is no London church with its own glass of so early a date.

'PEP' IN SCHOOL PLAYGROUND Authority Makes Plea for Games That Are Characterized by Energy and Vim.

"Jellyfish gymnastics, or stupid, silly games, played half-heartedly, have little place in the proper physical development of the growing child," declares Dr. E. Blanche Sterling, acting assistant surgeon, United States public health service, in commenting on the health of school children. In planning exercise with a view to the promotion of good posture, she suggests they should be simple and vigorous and full of energy and vim.

The posture of school children cannot, however, be said to depend chiefly on any one condition, she holds. Defective vision, adenoids and bad tonsils tend to have a bad effect on the child's posture. Where hygienic conditions in a school are not the best there is an increase of poor posture. Good nutrition is a contributing factor to good posture, but by no means an indispensable condition. Condition of the teeth, she claims, has no effect. Doctor Sterling's findings are based on a study of three elementary schools at Bedford, Ind.

PROBABLY DIDN'T GET LOAN
The story is told of a banker who suffered the loss of one eye and had a glass substitute made. The glass eye was wonderfully fashioned, so much so that the wearer was satisfied no one could tell it from a real organ. A day or so after he began wearing it a customer of the bank sought a loan, but the banker was not quite satisfied with the collateral. After much persuasion from the would-be borrower, the banker said: "I will make you a sporting proposition. If you can tell which of my eyes is glass, I will make you the loan."
"That's easy," replied the other. "It's your left eye."
"How do you know?" asked the banker.
"It is the more sympathetic of the two," responded the borrower.—Wall Street Journal.

In the District Court, January Term, A. D. 1923.

To the Sheriff or Any Constable of Donley County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded that by making publication of this citation in some newspaper published in the county of Donley, if there be a newspaper published in said county, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, for four weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon Wade H. Rucker, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the District Court, to be holden in and for the county of Donley, at the court house thereof in Clarendon on the 2nd Monday in January, A. D. 1923, being the 8th day of January, A. D. 1923. File number being 1269, then and there to answer the petition of Mrs. M. E. Holland, filed in said court on the 5th day of December, A. D. 1922, against the said W. B. Webb, Wade H. Rucker and E. A. Alexander and alleging in substance as follows, to wit:

Plaintiff Mrs. M. E. Holland sues to foreclose six $100.00 vendors lien notes executed by W. B. Webb and payable to the plaintiff Mrs. M. E. Holland, each retaining a lien against the North one half of Section No. 128 Block C. G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co. Survey, Abstract No. 1131, certificate 1160, Donley county, Texas. Plaintiff alleges that said notes are second only to the balance, if any there may be, due on the $4000.00 deed of trust note given against the land above described by plaintiff to the Western and Hawaiian Investment Company, and also one $8000.00 deed of trust note given to the company last named by W. B. Webb. Plaintiff alleges that Webb purchased said land and gave six $500.00 notes as part of the purchase price, and later sold the same to the defendant Rucker, and that defendant Alexander is a tenant on said land claiming some kind of an interest therein. Plaintiff asks judgment for the amount of the notes and for a foreclosure of her lien, subject to said deed of trust notes.

Herein fail not, but have you then and there before said court this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness: W. E. Bray, Clerk of the District Court of Donley County.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Donley County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon C. M. Blanton, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Donley County, to be holden at the court house thereof in Clarendon, Texas, on the 2nd Monday in January, A. D. 1923, the same being the 8th day of January, A. D. 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1922, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 1257, wherein Geo. S. Slover, J. W. Gordon and O. A. Barrett are plaintiffs and C. M. Blanton is defendant, said petition alleging that on or about July 3rd, A. D. 1920, defendant C. M. Blanton, for a valuable consideration, made, executed and delivered his one certain promissory vendor's lien note, to plaintiffs, for the sum of $1000.00, to be due in one year after date, to draw interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum from date till paid said note carried the usual ten per cent attorneys fee clause, the exceleration clause, and a vendors lien was reserved on the following described land, to-wit: Being all of lots number 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and the south half of lot number 11, in Block number 21, of the Wasson Subdivision of the McLean Addition to the town of Clarendon, Texas; that certain portions of said land has been deeded back to plaintiffs by defendant and wife, the same being of record Vol. 45, page 550, deed records of Donley county, Texas; that said note is past due, the interest unpaid, and that to enforce the payment of same it has been placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, that the usual ten per cent attorneys fees has been contracted to be paid, and that the same is reasonable; that defendant has heretofore refused to pay principal or interest, and still refuses to pay either principal or interest, though often asked to do so by plaintiffs.

Wherefore plaintiff prays the defendant be cited to appear and answer herein and on final hearing they have judgment against defendant C. M. Blanton for costs herein, attorneys fees, for the foreclosure of their vendors lien on so much of Block number 21, Wasson Subdivision McLean Addition, town of Clarendon, Texas, as was deeded to defendant by plaintiffs, and which has not been deeded back to plaintiffs by defendant, as shown by the deed of record in Volume 45 page 55, deed records of Donley county, Texas, for the sale of said land, under such foreclosure, of lien, order of sale, writ of possession and a such other and further relief, legal and equitable, special and general, as they may be justly entitled to, etc.

Herein fail not, but have you before said Court on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness: W. E. Bray, Clerk of the District Court of Donley County.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, in Clarendon, this 5th day of December, A. D. 1922.

THANKSGIVING CELEBRATION AT GILES

The Ladies of the Giles Woman's Demonstration Club entertained their families with Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ranson.

The guests began to arrive about 6:30 p. m., and at 7 o'clock the house was called to order and the Club gave a short program which was very much enjoyed. After which the crowd was invited into the dining room to partake of the bountiful feast which had been prepared.

The table was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, and with its shining silver and snowy linen and heaps of good things to eat, was as satisfying to the eye as to the palate.

It is impossible for us to mention all the things there, but suffice it to say there was everything anyone could wish, and prepared in such a way as would be a credit to any Club, which shows us all what splendid work the Home Demonstration Clubs are doing.

After thanks for the food was reverently spoken, they all "fell to" with a right good will, and how they did enjoy it! Indeed it was feared there would have to be several doctors called in before morning, and there was serious talk of having to take off one side of the house in order to remove some of the men from the table after they had eaten all they possibly could.

But all good things must come to an end, and at a late hour the guests departed, thanking the Club for its hospitality, declaring it the best thing they ever attended, and hoping for more like it in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Mize, and daughter, Miss Evelyn, of Kirkland, visited at the C. E. Johnson home Thanksgiving Day. I. J. Spurlin's sister accompanied them to Hedley and visited her brother's family.

L. B. Muncie attended to business Wednesday at Turkey, Clarendon, Pampa and intermediate points.

I. Z. Andrews and family left Tuesday for Plainview, where they will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Adamson and Mrs. S. L. Adamson were in Clarendon Tuesday.

Mrs. L. T. Hullum and son, Alva, left last night for Terrell, Okla., in response to a message that Mrs. Hullum's mother is very ill.

J. S. Grooms and O. R. Culwell attended the poultry show at Memphis Monday, and report some exhibits as fine as those seen at the Dallas Fair.

THE 1919 STUDY CLUB ENTERTAINS

One of the most delightful social events of the season was on Wednesday, Nov. 22nd, when the home of Mrs. R. H. Adams was opened to the 1919 Club members and about fifty guests to meet Mrs. Carlton M. Goodman, of Abernathy, president of the Seventh District of Federated Clubs. Those in the receiving line were Mrs. R. B. Adams, hostess, Mrs. Goodman, honor guest, Mrs. J. R. Adamson, president of the 1919 Study Club, Mrs. P. T. Boston, Mrs. Chas. W. Kinslow and Miss Ruby Watt, Social Committee.

After being greeted by the receiving line, the guests were escorted to the dining room and served to punch, Mrs. U. J. Boston presiding at the punch bowl.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Adamson and during the hour that followed the attention of the audience was closely held by the splendid talk made by Mrs. Goodman on "Applied Education." A part of the time was given over to a report from the State meeting of Federated Clubs recently held in Houston, at which time the Seventh District received several prizes, one of which was for having organized more new clubs. We were pleased to learn that the name of Mrs. Rhosie K. Warner of Claude, Texas, had been placed on the Founders Roll. It was made known also that through the efforts of the National Federation of Clubs the reproduction of Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, famous movie comedian, were barred from the screen. The slogan, "Elimination of Illiteracy from the United States by 1925," was adopted by the National Federation, and the little Club of your home town is doing its bit to help in this wonderful cause by placing a nice set of books in Hedley Public School Library this year. They are also supplying magazines once each month to a prison for boys and men from 18 to 25 years of age, located at Weldon, Texas.

Many other interesting and helpful remarks were made, telling of the good the Clubs are doing all over the land, providing better school equipment, establishing social centers, etc.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Goodman's remarks, she was presented with a beautiful box of linen handkerchiefs. It is not the custom of the President to visit the clubs of her district, and each club that is favored by a visit from her deems it quite an honor.

During the social hour Miss Sims of Clarendon gave two readings that were greatly appreciated.

The Club served lovely refreshments consisting of a salad course followed by an ice course. The favors were the Club flower, white carnation.

A Guest.
