Whittlin'

By Dolph Moten

As a rule, The Blade doesn't have advertising, as such, on page one. However, this week an exception has been made.

The following sale bill came to this department courtesy of Jack Woltmon.

I hope the Republican readers of this column, if any are left, will appreciate the "sale bill" as much as I know Democrats will.

PUBLIC SALE

As we are leaving the White House in the near future, will sell the following at auction:

1—Eisenhower Manure Spreader (used 4 years)

1—Nixon Fertilizer Attachment (good)

1—Benson Drouth Aid (used very little)

1—pair tax cutters (large size, good as new)

About 400 lbs. campaign promises (never used)

Several Sets Price Supports (slightly used)

Lots of golf clubs, fishing tackle and many articles too numerous to mention.

Mr. Nixon will sell one used phonograph and some used records such as: "It's All Over Now," "I Can't Believe We Are Through," and "California, Here I Come."

IKE & MAMIE, Owners

Col. Wallstreet, Auctioneer

Time and date of the sale was not on the bill. However, if further information is desired concerning the auction, I'm sure it can be obtained.

My wife isn't going to think that's funny.

R. A. Hartsell, minister of the local Church of Christ, has a son who is beginning, with this season, a career as a football coach. Son's name is Gene. He is coaching at Braman (Okla.) High School.

In his first game Friday night, Braman downed Jefferson High School by a 52-6 count. Brother Hartsell was present at the game to see his son make his successful debut as a coach.

Young Hartsell is a graduate of Central College at Edmond, Okla.

I'm sure the trip was a pleasant one for the elder Hartsell.

Our neighboring town to the east, Friona, has just completed a successful celebration of its 50th anniversary. The celebration was staged Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of last week. It was complete with parade, free barbecue, and a Pony Express horse race as well as a multitude of other things.

The horse race, as could be expected, attracted more than its share of the attention. Five teams entered the contest. The race began from eight miles out of Friona in five directions. In other words, each of the teams rode into town on a different road. Four horses ran two miles each for each team.

The winning team made the eight mile stretch in, believe it or not, 21 minutes and 43 seconds.

What I'm getting around to saying is that I have celebration fever. If we, here in Bovina, can figure some reason or "excuse" for having a two or three day party, I'm for it.

Haven't been able to find out how old Bovina is, but I understand that she's a few years older than Friona.

If I'm not mistaken, Bovina was incorporated as a city in 1947. If our town will be 10 years old next year. That is as good reason as I know to have a celebration.

Besides being a lot of fun, it gives the town much publicity. That's good. Think about it.

The time is now to start being nice to Bovina merchants. They're going to let their customers in on a give-away promotion in the next couple of weeks.

Idea behind the drawing is to promote business in general and especially on Saturdays. The plan is being sponsored by the Bovina Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Besides the drawing, the free show for kids will still be offered and various other things will be going on to attract people to Bovina's streets on Saturdays.

Saturdays in Bovina are going to start being a lot of fun. Don't let 'em!

Jaycees are still promoting their give-away of a TV set, automatic washer or automatic dryer. The winner's name will be drawn at the half of the Bovina-Happy football game Friday, October 12.

Almost any family could use one of those three things in their home.

Mustang Juniors Down Friona, 7-6

Kenneth Havner led the Bovina Junior High Mustangs to a 7-6 win over Friona's junior high team last night at Friona.

Bovina shoved across its tying and winning counters with less than two minutes to play in the game. Friona went ahead when they scored their only touchdown in the second quarter.

Late in the fourth quarter, Havner broke lose from 20 yards out to tie the game. He then romped over with the extra point to provide the Mustangs' winning margin.

Bovina had a touchdown called back in the second quarter because of an offensive holding penalty.

This was the first win in two starts by Coach Bob Willis' juniors. They lost to Sudan, 20-0 in their first game.

Little Mustangs Lose To Sudan

Bovina's junior high football team, composed of seventh and eighth graders, took it on the nose in their opening game of the season last week at Sudan. The Sudan juniors downed the locals 20-0.

Two Mustang passes were intercepted and returned for touchdowns.

Both Bovina quarterbacks, Don Caldwell and Don Cumpton, were guilty of throwing a "touchdown" pass.

James Clayton and Kenneth Havner were defensive standouts for the locals.

The team is coached by Bob Willis and 31 boys are out to make the squad.

Speaks At Brotherhood Meeting Tuesday

Alvin Glascock was guest speaker at Whitharal Baptist Brotherhood meeting a week ago Tuesday evening. Rev. M. D. Durham, pastor of the Whitharal Baptist Church, is a former pastor of the Bovina First Baptist Church.

Also at the Saturday meeting the club voted to have its charter dance and banquet Saturday, October 6. Jaycee organizations from other towns in the area will be invited to the program as will the Bovina Lions Club.

The script will be redeemable in merchandise from any of the sponsoring merchants. b. Free matinee movie at Mustang Theatre each Saturday prior to the give-away. The show will be for children under 12 and will be offered as an added inducement to people to remain in Bovina and make their purchases on Saturday. c. Mustangs Resume Play Here Friday

Bovina Mustang fans will have a chance to see their favorite team in action on the home field for the first time this season this week. In an attempt to get in the win column, the Ponies square off against Turkey Friday night, at 8:00 p. m., on Mustang Field.

Liners of their first two games—Springlake, 7-27, and Farwell, 0-13—the locals enjoyed an open date last Friday night. The week off gave injured Mustangs a chance to nurse their wounds and Neil Smith, star fullback, who was out with an injury during the Farwell game, will be back in the lineup. Smith's return should greatly add to the Mustangs' chances of downing Turkey.

Billy Burnam, back, who was injured in the Farwell battle, has not been working out in pads this week and is a doubtful starter Friday night.

Donnie Spring, regular right end, was sick last week and has been replaced by Ramey Brandon at the end position. However, Spring will be ready for action come Friday night.

Turkey's record stands at one win and two losses. They downed Happy in their only win for the season and lost to Kress and Claude. The Claude game was scouted by Mustang Coach Bob Willis.

"We've got a lot of spirit for a team that has been defeated in its first two ball games," Willis says, "and we're going to be ready to go Friday night. If we can pick up a win, I believe it will really put us in a good frame of mind."

The locals will be slightly outweighed in the game. Willis estimates that the visiting team will have a 15 pound weight advantage per man on defense and five pounds on offense.

Bacs will be Mike Barraza, 175, and James Lawlis, 145, at the halves; Smith, 142, at full and Dick Horn, 140, at quarter.

A good crowd of Bovina fans is expected to be on hand to see the Mustangs in action in the home opener.

Hartsfield moved from here about five years ago.

Location for the business will be on the southeast corner of the intersection of Second Street and Highway 60. It is the former location of Paul Jones Service Station. The building occupied by Jones has been moved.

Gulf Oil Corporation purchased the lots from Giles Williams.

Tommy Bonds, local Gulf distributor, says the new building will be modern throughout.

The exact date that construction will begin is unknown. Completion date will be 30-60 days from the time construction begins.

Jones, who operated a Texaco station at the location for 11 years, moved last month to a new station across the highway and a block west.

Action Taken Monday Night

In an attempt to get Bovina's much-too-high fire insurance key rate lowered, Bovina city commissioners passed two ordinances at a called meeting Monday.

J. E. Sherrill, Jr., mayor, and Roy Fuller, city employee, made a trip to Austin last week to discuss the local key rate with state fire insurance officials. According to the report the men brought back, the key rate would be lowered by six cents as soon as state insurance officials were notified that the ordinances were passed.

Ordinances passed were a fire marshal ordinance which gives the city three cents off the key rate and an arson reward ordinance which takes two cents off the rate. City officials will be notified when the new rate goes into effect.

Another three cents is scheduled to come off because the town has over 40 per cent but less than 75 per cent shingle roofs on its houses. Three cents is already deducted from the maximum $1 rate because fire prevention is taught in the local school. If the already-mentioned eight percent is taken off the rate will be 89 cents.

In four months the rate is scheduled to get another reduction. The fire marshal must make reports to state officials for four months before the rate may be reduced further.

Also at the Monday night meeting, the commission voted to take out workmen's compensation insurance for city employees. The insurance is scheduled to go into effect immediately.

Elsewhere in this issue the ordinances passed at the meeting are published in full.

This Or That

No one can tell just now, but there's a good possibility that the City of Bovina will have an election some time in the not-too-distant future to decide whether costly improvements will be made.

Probably the thing voted on will be putting sewer and water lines in a recent addition of the city. That, in itself is a good thing, and we think it should be done.

However, since that time we've learned that if improvements are made by voting bonds for that section of town, there will be little or no chance of Bovina getting its streets paved anytime in the near future.

Reason is that the town has about gone its limit with its present tax setup. Bovina can't vote bonds for addition improvements and vote bonds to pay the city's part of a paving project, too.

The city would be required to pay at least 10 percent of the cost of a paving project. The money would pay for engineer's fees and the paving, curbing, and guttering in front of intersections and alleys.

Of course, we could raise taxes OR evaluations and "have our cake and eat it, too," but such an idea appears to be out of the question. We have too many citizens who want the conveniences of the city but don't want to pay for them.

We've probably jumped the gun and brought this question up a little too soon. However, it is something we need to think about. Decision-making time is coming. If you don't want taxes raised, you need to decide if you want the town's newest addition improved or Bovina's streets paved.

Maybe you're contrary and want neither.

HERE'S HOW ...

MAKE A GIRAFFE CLOTHES STAND

A giraffe clothes stand is an attractive and useful addition to the child's room. Cut head and body from a 1 by 8-inch board, using a 1-inch grid as a guide in making the outlines. Make the ears from a piece of lath or leather. Cut neck and legs from 2 by 2-inch lumber. Notch both ends of neck and top of front leg, as shown.

Bore holes 3/4-inch deep at 45-degree angles in head, neck, and tail for 3/8-inch dowel. Stagger holes in head to miss each other. From a piece of 3/4-inch dowel cut two pieces 2 1/2 inches, four pieces 4 inches, and one piece 6 inches long for head, neck, and tail, respectively. Buy or carve six 1-inch wood balls for dowels on the head and neck and one 1 1/2-inch wood ball for the tail. Bore them for dowels. Glue and insert dowels. Bore 1/4-inch holes for 1/4-inch stove bolts 1 1/2 inches long in neck and front leg, first counterboring 3/8-inch in diameter and 3/16-inch deep to recess nuts and bolt heads. Bore matching holes in head and body, being sure notches fit tightly. Assemble these parts. Cut a 3-inch bevel, as shown, at tops of rear legs and bore holes for 3/4-inch stove bolts 2 1/2 and 3 1/2 inches long at right angles to the bevel. Assemble parts. Cut bottoms of legs at angle to fit flat on floor. Glue and insert knobbed dowels, as shown. Glue and attach ears with short round-head screws. Paint entire giraffe yellow and add brown markings.

THE PARING KNIFE

BY JEANIE MOTEN

Was listening to the radio the other night and had become interested in a program predicting whether or not certain new records would be a "Hit" or a "Miss." First the record was played, then a panel, composed of such notable personalities as Elvis Presley, discussed the record and tried to predict its success. Then a vote by means of hand clapping was taken by the audience. After all that process, a verdict was made.

Anyway, the song "Come on Snake, Let's Crawl" was played. Was sitting on needles and pins, awaiting the verdict. About that time, members of the Sophomore Class came to the door on a scavenger hunt. During the pandemonium, the verdict on "Come on Snake, Let's Crawl," was given and I didn't hear it!

Will it be a hit or miss? If anybody else heard the program, please let me know how "Come on Snake, Let's Crawl" came out.

The phrase "needles and pins" used in the above description of my anxiety reminded me of a childhood ritual observed by my playmates.

Whenever two people said the same word or words simultaneously, we'd always hook our little fingers and solemnly chant:

First one: "Needles" The Other: "Pins" First One: "Roosters" The Other: "Hens" First One: "When a man marries"

The Other: "His trouble begins" Really can't fathom how such a silly saying ever originated! Guess two people saying the same thing simultaneously denotes how much alike people grow after years of marriage; and if you don't go through the above ritual, you're liable to have bad luck and get married.

Excuse me. The above was just a slip of the tongue. I should have said, "Get married and have bad luck."

Widows' Club Hears Talk On England

Bovina Widows' Club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Ola Free, with 10 regular members and three visitors and new members present.

Block, who was an American soldier during World War I. The couple was married in the "Little Church Around the Corner" in New York City and traveled by train to their home in Monroe, Wisconsin. Mrs. Block's outstanding impression of that three day journey was "What a Waste of Land!"

Those present for the day were Miss Ellen Reminsider, Miss Loula Smith, Miss Rita Caldwell, Mrs. Maidee Brown, Mrs. J. Sam Gaines and Mrs. J. R. Glover; Also, Mrs. Lee Osborne, Mrs.

Ara Marsh, Mrs. Bessie Caldwell, Mrs. Margaret Caldwell, Mrs. Block, Mrs. Tom Hastings and the hostess, Mrs. Free.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. J. Sam Gaines on Thursday, October 18.

"Share The Road—Arrive Alive!"

In those words E. C. McFadden of Dallas, Vice President of Employers Casualty Company and president of the Texas Safety Association, urged all motorists to support the Share the Road program of the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council. This program is being conducted in cooperation with the Slow Down and Live program of the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators.

"To stay safe in traffic, the driver must be keenly aware that he's not the only one on the road," McFadden said. "He's just one of many drivers, so he must keep in step with the others and share the road with them."

He said this involves, first of all, a willingness to share, and then the skill and judgment to do the right thing at the right time.

He gave the following rules as a guide to drivers to help them fit their driving to the pattern of traffic around them.

1. Keep alert. Develop defensive driving. Study the road ahead for accident situations. The higher the speed, the farther ahead your attention must be fixed.

2. Think ahead. Plan emergency measures. Know your own and your car's capabilities. If the car ahead should suddenly block your lane, could you stop? Could you swerve to avoid an accident?

3. Be adaptable. Get the "feel" of the changing traffic, road and weather conditions. Adjust your speed immediately.

4. Pace yourself by the traffic around you. This includes noting traffic behind through constant use of your rear-view mirrors. Don't race. Don't lag. Don't ride the bumper of the car ahead.

5. Take only your share of the road—in the proper place. Keep in the proper lane. Pass only when you see you have ample time and space to avoid cutting out and in too sharply. Signal all turns and lane changes.

6. Obey to the letter all traffic laws, signs, signals and the dictates of common sense and courtesy. If you make a mistake, don't lose your head. Don't jeopardize yourself and others by hasty, foolishly sudden moves.

McFadden had a special word to say about safety on superhighways, pointing out that the higher speed permissible on such roads make the above rules doubly important and vital. In addition, he said, this rule should be added: Watch signs carefully for rules governing the particular road you're traveling—such things as directions for entering or leaving the highway.

LEGAL

The following ordinances were passed by the Bovina City Commission Monday, September 24, in a called meeting in Bovina City Hall.

ADVISORY FIRE MARSHAL ORDINANCE
Recommended by Fire Insurance Division
Austin, Texas

AN ORDINANCE creating the office of Fire Marshal, Prescribing the duties thereof, Providing for its maintenance, and Prescribing penalties for violations. Be it ordained by the City Commission or Council of the City of Bovina, Texas.

SECTION 1. The office of Fire Marshal is hereby created. Such office shall be independent of other city departments, the Fire Marshal reporting directly to the Mayor and City Commission or Council. Such office shall be filled by appointment by the Mayor, by and with the consent of the City Commission or Council, within 5 days after this ordinance shall take effect. The said Fire Marshal shall be removed only for cause. He shall receive an annual salary of 12,000 dollars, payable in monthly installments, as full compensation for his services.

SECTION 2. The Fire Marshal shall investigate the cause, origin and circumstances of every fire occurring within this city by which property has been destroyed or damaged, and shall especially make investigation as to whether such fire was the result of carelessness or design. Such investigation shall be begun within twenty-four hours, not including Sunday, of the occurrence of such fire. The Fire Marshal shall keep in his office a record of all fires, together with all facts, statistics and circumstances, including the origin of the fires and the amount of the loss, which may be determined by the investigation required by this ordinance.

SECTION 3. The Fire Marshal, when in his opinion further investigation is necessary, shall take or cause to be taken the testimony, on oath, of all persons supposed to be cognizant of any facts or to have means of knowledge in relation to the matter under investigation, and shall cause the same to be reduced to writing; and if he shall be of the opinion that there is evidence sufficient to charge any person with the crime of arson, or with the attempt to commit the crime of arson, or of conspiracy to defraud, or criminal conduct in connection with such fire, he shall cause such person to be lawfully arrested and charged with such offense or either of them, and shall furnish to the proper prosecuting attorney all such evidence, together with the names of witnesses and all of the information obtained by him, including a copy of all pertinent and material testimony taken in the case.

SECTION 4. The Fire Marshal shall have the power to summon witnesses before him to testify in relation to any matter which is by the provisions of this ordinance a subject of inquiry and investigation, and may require the production of any book, paper or document deemed pertinent thereto. The said Fire Marshal is hereby authorized and empowered to administer oaths and affirmations to any persons appearing as witnesses before him.

SECTION 5. Any witness who refuses to be sworn, or who refuses to appear or testify, or who disobeys any lawful order of said Fire Marshal, or who fails or refuses to produce any book, paper or document touching any matter under examination, or who is guilty of any contemptuous conduct during any of the proceedings of the Fire Marshal in the matter of said investigation or inquiry, after being summoned to give testimony in relation to any matter under investigation as aforesaid, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; and it shall be the duty of the Fire Marshal to cause all such offenders to be prosecuted. Any person being convicted of any such misdemeanor shall be fined in a sum not exceeding twenty-five dollars ($25.00). Provided, however, that any person so convicted shall have the right of appeal.

SECTION 6. All investigations held by or under the direction of the Fire Marshal may, in his discretion, be private, and persons other than those required to be present may be excluded from the place where such investigation is held, and witnesses may be kept separate and apart from each other and not allowed to communicate with each other until they have been examined.

SECTION 7. The Fire Marshal shall have the authority at all time of day or night, when necessary, in the performance of the duties imposed upon him by the provisions of this ordinance, to enter upon and examine any building or premises where any fire has occurred, and other buildings and premises adjoining or near the same, which authority shall be exercised only with reason and good discretion.

SECTION 8. The Fire Marshal, upon complaint of any person having an interest in any building or property adjacent and without any complaint, shall have a right at all reasonable hours, for the purpose of examination, to enter into and upon all buildings and premises within the city, and it shall be his duty, monthly or more often, to enter upon and make or cause to be entered and made, a thorough examination of all mercantile, manufacturing and public buildings, together with the premises belonging thereto. Whenever he shall find any building or other structure which, for want of repair, or by reason of age or dilapidated condition, or for any cause, is especially liable to fire, and which is so situated as to endanger other buildings or property, or so occupied that fire would endanger persons or property therein, and whenever he shall find an improper or dangerous arrangement of stoves, ranges, furnaces or other heating appliances of any kind whatsoever, including chimneys, flues, and pipes with which the same may be connected, or a dangerous arrangement of lighting devices or systems, or a dangerous or unlawful storage of explosives, compounds, petroleum, gasolene, kerosene, dangerous chemicals, vegetable products, ashes, combustible, inflammable and refuse materials, or other conditions which may be dangerous in character or liable to cause or promote fire or create conditions dangerous to the firemen or occupants, he shall order the same to be removed or remedied, and such order shall be forthwith complied with by the owner or occupant of said building or premises. Provided, however, that if said owner or occupant deems himself aggrieved by such order, he may, within five (5) days, appeal to the Mayor, who shall investigate the cause of the complaint and unless by his authority the order is revoked, such order shall remain in force and be forthwith complied with by said owner or occupant. At the end of each month the Fire Marshal shall report to the State Fire Marshal all existing hazardous conditions, together with separate report on each fire in the city during the month.

SECTION 9. Any owner or occupant of a building or other structure or premises, who shall keep or maintain the same when, for want of repair, or by reason of age or dilapidated condition, or for any cause, it is especially liable to fire, and which is so situated as to endanger buildings or property of others, or is especially liable to fire and which is so occupied that fire would endanger other persons or their property therein, shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than fifty dollars ($50.00).

SECTION 10. Any owner or occupant of any building or other structure, or premises, who shall keep or maintain the same with an improper arrangement of a stove, range, furnace, or other heating appliance of any kind whatever, including chimneys, flues, and pipes with which the same may be connected, so as to be dangerous in the matter of fire, or health, or safety of persons or property of others; or who shall keep or maintain any building, other structure or premises with an improper arrangement of a lighting device or system, or with a storage of explosives, petroleum, gasolene, kerosene, chemicals, vegetable products, ashes, combustibles, inflammable materials, refuse, or with any other condition which shall be dangerous in character to the persons, health or property of others; or which shall be dangerous in the matter of promoting, augmenting or causing fires; or which shall create conditions dangerous to firemen, or occupants of such building, structure or premises other than the maintainer thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than fifty dollars ($50.00).

SECTION 11. No prosecution shall be brought under Sections 9 and 10 of this ordinance until the order provided for in Section 8 be given, and the party notified shall fail or refuse to comply with the same.

SECTION 12. The penalties provided for herein shall be recovered by the city in the same manner as provided by law for the enforcement of fines, forfeitures, and punishments for offenses against the city.

SECTION 13. Every day's maintenance of any of the conditions prohibited in any of the foregoing sections shall be a distinct and separate offense.

SECTION 14. All misdemeanors herein provided for shall be prosecuted, and all fines and forfeitures herein provided for shall be recovered and enforced, in the same manner as provided by law for the enforcement of fines, forfeitures, penalties and punishments for offenses generally against the city.

SECTION 15. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 16. Whereas, public safety demands the immediate passage of this ordinance, creating the office of Fire Marshal and empowering the said officer to discharge the duties herein set out, therefore an emergency exists demanding a suspension of the rules requiring ordinances to be read on three several days, said rule is hereby suspended, and this ordinance is placed on its first reading and final passage, and shall be effective and in full force from and after its passage and approval.

Approved this 24th day of September, 1956

NEWS FROM LAZBUDDIE

BY MRS. BERT GORDON

Lazbuddie Wins Over New Home, 8-0

Lazbuddie Longhorns won their second game of the season at New Home Friday night. After a first half deadlock, the Longhorns backed the New Home team into the end zone for a safety to take a 2 to 0 lead mid-way in the third quarter.

The Longhorns really came to life after scoring the safety. New Home kicked from the twenty yard line and Roy Vanlandingham took it on the 35 and raced to the 50 before the Leopards could bring him down. On the first play from scrimmage, Vanlandingham rolled off 15 yards for a first down on the 35. On the next play, it was Glen Watkins with a nine yard gain to the 26 with Vanlandingham making another 10 yard run on the next play for the first down on the 16 yard line as the third quarter ended.

As the fourth quarter began, Roy Van took the ball over the goal line for six points to send the Longhorns out in front 8 to 0.

The Longhorns picked up 174 yards running. Coach Washington's three mainstays were alternating in the ball carrying department, Johnnie Gammon made 35 yards Watkins with 59, and Vanlandingham with 58. Other backs seeing service were Beavers with 4 yards, Briggs with 6, and Weaver with 12.

Not to be overlooked is the fine play of the boys on the front line as they opened up the hole for the backs to gain their yardage. Leading the fine defensive play were Captain Andy Fuqua along with Gilmore, Daniel, and Capt. D. Teague.

The Longhorns have several sophomores and freshmen in the starting line up, and if they continue to improve, they should give several other teams a lot of trouble in their first year of eleven man football.

Coach Washington and Coach Williams commented that the boys looked good, but would need some brushing up before the first conference game next Friday night on the home field with Whitharral.

Come out and back the Longhorns Friday night against Whitharral in their first conference game.

The P.T.A. will serve barbecue sandwiches, hot dogs and coffee.

Weldon Crim Marries Muleshoe Resident

Miss Alma Hawkins became the bride of J. Weldon Crim Thursday evening, Sept. 20, at 8 o'clock in a double-ring ceremony read by Rev. R. V. Luna in the Assembly of God Church in Muleshoe.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hawkins of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crim of Lazbuddie.

The ceremony was read before an altar decorated with candelabra holding white tapers, and baskets of white gladioli.

Mrs. Buck Crim, sister-in-law of the groom played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Chuck Stallings who sang "I Love You Truly," and "Whither Thou Goest."

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Ollie Hawkins, of Muleshoe, wore a gown of white nylon lace over taffeta. Her fingertip veil fell from a tiny lace cap. On a white Bible, the bride carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Naomi Watson was maid of honor and wore a light blue taffeta dress designed with a long torso. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Sharon Johnson, niece of the groom, of Dallas, was flower girl, carrying a basket of rose petals. Ringbearer was Doyle Crim, nephew of the bridegroom, who carried the rings on a blue lace over white satin pillow.

Candlelighters were Leroy Hawkins, brother of the bride, from Muleshoe, and John N. Crim, brother of the bridegroom. Max Crim of Amarillo served his brother as best man.

After the wedding, a reception was held in the C. A. hall of the church, and the couple was assisted in receiving by their parents. The table was laid with a white lace cloth over blue with crystal candlesticks and centered with a crystal punch bowl on a mirror. Gladioli and white pompons were used to decorate the hall. The wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and decorated with blue flowers and wedding bells. The crystal punch bowl was filled with sky blue punch.

For traveling, the bride wore a navy blue dress with white accessories. After a short wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico, the couple returned to Muleshoe.

Miss Hawkins attended school in Muleshoe and Mr. Crim is a 1955 graduate of Lazbuddie. At the present time, he is serving in the armed forces and is stationed at Fort Ord, California.

Out of town guests for the wedding were the groom's aunts, Mrs. Lena Kelso and her son, N. D., and Mrs. Anna Wiley and daughter, Lameda, of Lubbock.

Farm Bureau Votes Flexible Price Props

By Dolph Moten

Parmer County Farm Bureau voted on 15 resolutions at its 1956 convention Monday night at Bovina School Auditorium. In addition to the resolutions vote, the organization elected directors for another year, awarded leadership pins to outstanding county 4-H, FFA, and FHA youngsters, named delegates to the state FB convention, and heard a brief concert by Bovina Mustang Band under the direction of W. Wayne Stevens.

Gilbert Kaltwasser, who has been president of the county group for the past two years, was re-elected. Directors elected were M. T. Glasscock, Farwell area; Roy Grace, Black area; B. T. Ford, Lazbuddie area; Donald Christian, Bovina area; and Ralph Miller, North Friona area.

Possibly the most important resolution the Bureau voted "for" at the convention had to do with "flexible acreage controls and flexible price supports." The resolution: "Be it resolved that PCFB favors flexible Federal Price Supports, based on supply and demand factors of basic crops, if increased acreages can be allowed due to increased domestic marketing and export marketing."

Other resolutions that carried were:

1. Be it resolved that if a water development program is instituted in Texas, PCFB favors a Water User's Tax to finance the program.

2. Be it resolved that PCFB favors election by the people of a board of directors for any proposed water development program, and that districts for such election be geographically established to assure proper representation for all concerned with such proposed water development program.

3. Be it resolved that PCFB opposes any efforts that may be made to repeal Texas' Right to Work Law. We believe this law insures the freedom of Texas workers to choose whether or not, or with which union they wish to affiliate themselves.

4. In view of numerous reports of other states denying license of Texas feed grains for use in those states, be it resolved that PCFB favors adoption by local grain dealers and Commodity Credit Corporation of a marketing regulation that will reflect the superior value of feed grains free of noxious seeds.

5. The Soil Bank Agricultural Program was intended to bring supply and demand for farm commodities into balance by reducing production and compensating the farmer in part with cash or like commodities. Therefore, be it resolved that PCFB urges the Department of Agriculture to institute drouth or other disaster insurance program as an agency separated from the Soil Bank, in order that the cost of such insurance program not be included in the cost of administering the Soil Bank Plan.

6. Be it resolved that PCFB favors a MINIMUM parity support price on non-basic commodities of 75 per cent, with no acreage restrictions.

7. Be it resolved that PCFB urges repeal of the Texas law requiring licensing of farm utility trailers for domestic use.

8. Be it resolved that PCFB urges retaining present Legislative Districts to prevent any attempts that may be made to shift elective strength from rural areas to cities.

9. Be it resolved the PCFB favors construction and maintenance of separate but equal schools for white and colored children in Texas, and that segregation be left to the peoples of each school district.

10. Be it resolved that PCFB favors enactment of a Retail Sales Tax Law in Texas with revenue from such tax to be used for schools only. This tax to replace our present school tax system.

11. Be it resolved the PCFB opposes compulsory consolidation of schools of less than 300 high school enrollment to make one of at least 1000 enrollment.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

Those of us who saw the kitchen of fifty years ago in the American Legion hall last weekend should appreciate the modern appliances we have more than ever. It was very interesting to look at, and we would not have missed seeing it, but are very glad it isn't typical of kitchens today.

As you looked at it, did you think of the work a homemaker of 50 years ago had to do. The water bucket had to be kept full, used water had to be carried out and the fuel for cooking wasn't easy to gather. Of course, other members of the family helped out but there was still a lot of chores for the woman of the house to do that we do not have to do today.

One of the things which we would like to have was the homemade lye soap. There are several homemakers in our community who still make that type soap. We have wondered what could be used to take the place of bar soaps for removing stamping from embroidered articles. The last time we did any embroidery work, it was impossible for us to buy any kind of laundry soap in a bar and the detergent which we used did not remove all the unwanted stamping.

A cake recipe which we have used for several years and like very much is for Sour Cream Chocolate Cake. It is as simple to make as any of the mixes which are so popular today and has a very distinctive flavor. The ingredients are 1 1/4 cups sugar, 1 1/2 cups sour cream, 1 1/4 cups sifted flour, 4 heaping tablespoons cocoa, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 well beaten eggs and 2 teaspoons soda dissolved in 1/2 cup boiling water. Sift together sugar, cocoa and flour. Add remainder of ingredients and mix well. Bake in layers or loaf.

Another of our favorite recipes for fall is for eggless pumpkin pie. It is a very good way to use pumpkin, which is plentiful at this season of the year, in a different way.

Mix 2 cups cooked pumpkin, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1 cup sweet cream, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon lemon extract and 1 teaspoon cinnamon. Bake in two single pie shells and top with whipped cream, if desired.

Nutritionists are of the opinion that if apples are peeled for salads some of the vitamins are lost. The peeling also adds color to any salad in which apples are used.

Another thing about the kitchen of 50 years ago which we noticed was the ingenuity of the homemaker. It was necessary for homemakers of that day to use the things which she had. The wooden handles of the curling irons had been burned off by the heat of the lamp, so they were replaced by spoons.

In spite of all the work which there was to be done, the homemaker was still interested in her appearance and no home was completely furnished without the curling irons. Some men were very adept at using them, too.

If you are making fall ensembles for your daughters that have reversible bibs, suspenders, boleros or any other part that requires buttoning, try placing a thin button under the one you plan to use. This leaves room for the two thicknesses of material to fit neatly under the button.

A lot of people never get interested in a thing until they find out that it's none of their business.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

This past week Friona celebrated its 50th birthday. I expect most of us were impressed with the differences that have occurred in the past 50 years, especially in farming.

Fifty years ago this country was in grass and cattle. Today it is in irrigation and farming. The prosperity of our communities has improved along with these changes.

The question we need to face now is, will the next fifty years find us in better shape than 1956—or worse? We as farmers in this area will answer this question with the type of farming we are now practicing and practice in the future.

It seems some of us are living just for today. We do not think of the future in terms of, "What will I leave my children to farm on?" Will I conserve water so that they too can irrigate, improve the land to take care of the ever increasing population of mouths to feed, and in general make life worth living for them?

Or, on the other hand, am I running tail water or running water too far and being guilty of types of water waste, mining the soil today for myself and making no effort to keep the land productive many years to come, and in general only thinking of MYSELF? How can we as stewards of the land answer this question?

The conservation of our natural resources cannot be over-emphasized. There will at least twice as many people in the United States 50 years from now as there are now.

When people mine a country of its natural resources as arid as ours, they leave a desert when the resources are all gone.

We live in a country of freedom, and none of us would change this. The initiative of conservation must come from within each of us and not by law of force.

Let's get behind conservation and leave our children a way of life.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Texas Farm Bureau again stepped in and successfully led a fight against discriminatory production price increases for farmers. Soon after the refund of federal tax became law, some major oil companies raised the price of farm-used fuels 1/2 cent per gallon.

J. Walter Hammond and other Farm Bureau leaders appealed for an investigation of possible collusion among these companies to make the increase as a result of the tax refund act. They felt that if this increase was accepted without protest, the increase might finally take all of the three cent refund farmers were finally able to get. W. R. Poage, representative of Waco, acted as chairman of the investigating committee holding the hearings. Other companies preparing to make the increase, announced that they would probably refrain from raising their price.

We are well aware of the small financial gain made in this move, but farmers are also well aware that the cost price squeeze that confronts them in their operations has come bit by bit, and that such increases in cost of production could finally make farming completely profitless.

Representatives Poage, Albert, and Bass are also on the committee hearing Farm Bureau complaints on the inconsistency of the Smith-Doxey cotton classing offices in Dallas. Hoyt Gaston, of Waxachie, state board engineer for Texas Farm Bureau, is presenting North Texas County Farm Bureau evidence in the cotton classing investigation. Success in this investigation could mean increased income for Parmer County cotton farmers of $200,000 on cotton placed in the loan.

If you haven't already, remember to file for your federal tax refund on farm fuels before October 1.

Early Harvesting Continues in Fields Of Cotton, Grain

What may prove to be the earliest harvest in history continued to gain momentum this week as cotton and grain sorghum from thousands of irrigated acres in and around Parmer County rose from a tiny trickle to a steady stream into the area's waiting gins and elevators.

The only cotton harvesting underway is hand-pulled. The advent of mechanical boll pulling is still several weeks (farmers hope) away, and the exact date will be decided by the first severe freeze.

If a late freeze comes, there may be increased defoliation this year, due to the advancement of the maturity of the cotton. However, predictions on this are hard to make right now.

Extremely warm and dry weather for late September has "cooked" maturing heads of grain in field after field, and made early combining a reality because of the unusually dry heads.

Yields from grain sorghum which have been reported are too scattered to determine the trend this fall, but experienced observers say that they think the irrigated milo crop will average between 3,000 and 3,500 pounds.

This would put some yields well over 5,000 pounds to keep up that kind of an average, they point out. No reports are out yet on the yields of the hybrids, which are being grown on a large scale this year for the first time.

Moseley and Terrell Organize in Farwell For Foundation

Hugh Moseley and Jim Terrell have been appointed by Gilbert Kaltwasser, county chairman, to assist in organizing a campaign in the Farwell area for the Texas Research Foundation.

The Foundation, with headquarters at Renner, is seeking establishment of a High Plains field station and is depending upon subscriptions from farmers, ranchers and businessmen for its support.

It is not a state or federally financed agency, but one which is supported entirely by private interests.

Moseley and Terrell say that the area they will cover will include Oklahoma Lane and Lariat communities, and that no cash or pledge goal has been established for the area as yet.

The workers say they will need all the assistance they can get from persons who are interested in supporting the move.

THE PARMER FARMER

Prediction: Before 1956 is ended, the subject of proration of ground water for irrigation purposes on the High Plains will be more than just "something our children may have to worry about some day."

Unrestrained use of well water for industrial and other non-agriculture purposes may force Plains landowners to consider severe pumping restrictions. This could set a precedent for all pumping—not just that for non-irrigation purposes.

Farming and politics are an unpleasant mixture, but they seem to be inseparable these days. To demonstrate how opposite the farm picture can appear, depending on your vantage point, we introduce two interesting clippings.

The first is pulled from the October issue of "Straight from the Shoulder," a publication which claims to be "A journal of political fact."

It follows: The sharp decline in farm income which began under the Truman Administration in 1951 has been checked. Indications are that net agricultural income in 1956 will top the 1955 figure.

Since 1947, net realized farm income has declined in every year but one—the lone exception being the Korean War year of 1951. In four of the last five years the Democrats were in office farm income dropped.

Now it appears that 1956 will see a reversal of that long-time downward trend. Primarily responsible for the improved income outlook are higher prices for such major agricultural products as cattle, hogs, milk and wheat. It was livestock producers who bore the brunt of last year's price declines and it is this industry that has experienced the sharpest recovery in 1956.

Fed cattle recently have been bringing the highest prices in several years. Hog prices have moved upward by some $6 per hundredweight since early 1956.

The "Demand and Price Situation Report," issued by the Department of Agriculture, had this to say on the farm income outlook for 1956:

"Crop output this year, according to current indications, will be smaller than in 1955 and a further expansion is in prospect for both domestic demand and foreign takings."

"As this year's crops move to market, grower prices in general are expected to continue well above last year, even though some decline may well occur as marketings reach their peak this fall," the report said.

"Later this year livestock product prices are expected to average above a year earlier, due mainly to a smaller volume of hog marketings this fall than last, and higher price supports for dairy products."

The department said the higher prices being paid for farm commodities will give the farmer a total dollar income above a year ago even though he may have less farm produce to sell.

"In addition, close to $300 million is being distributed to farmers for participation in the soil bank for 1956 and as incentive payments for the 1955 wool clip," the department said.

And now, consider if you will a different outlook on farm problems, as viewed by the Washington Newsletter of the National Farmers Union:

Sen. Estes Kefauver hit hard at the Eisenhower Administration's record on farm issues in the first lap of a two-week campaign swing through 15 midwest and western agricultural states this week.

He pinned full responsibility for "the farm depression" upon President Eisenhower, charging that he "betrayed" his 1952 campaign promises of "100% of parity" within a few weeks after the election was over.

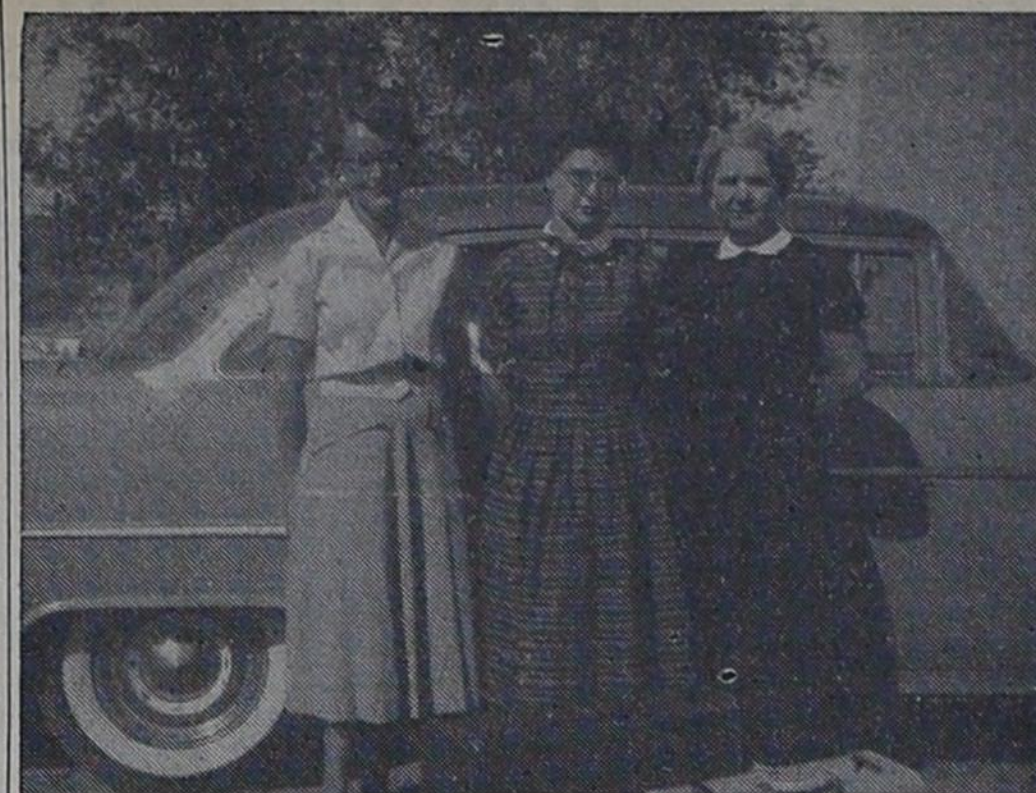

Eisenhower's designation of Ezra Taft Benson to be Sec'y of Agriculture signaled a direct repudiation of the promises Eisenhower made to farmers in his 1952 campaign, Kefauver charged.

The President has never failed to back Benson to the hilt, Kefauver emphasized. The Democratic Vice Presidential nominee pointed out that on occasion Eisenhower has reversed several other members of the Cabinet, but Benson has always had his own way.

FULL 100% PARITY is pledged to farmers by the Democratic party in its 1956 platform, Kefauver told cheering crowds at one stop after another.

He interpreted the platform pledge as a promise to use the most suitable combination of methods and programs for achieving farm prices at 100% of parity.

This does not necessarily mean that price supports at 100% of parity will be enacted across the board, Kefauver explained. He said that a food stamp plan, increased school lunch and school milk programs, more food to welfare agencies, and a world food bank would help to firm up farm prices and to make good use of the nation's abundant food.

In addition to firm price supports for basics at 90% of parity, Kefauver said that the party platform and its nominees favor using direct payments to producers, commodity loans, purchases, marketing agreements and orders, production adjustments, and other suitable methods to bolster farm prices and farmers' incomes.

So he took off his clothes and walked into a room where about fifty other men were sitting with their clothes off. He said to a fellow next to him, "Isn't this ridiculous? Something's wrong with my eyes and they told me to take my clothes off."

The fellow answered him: "What are you complaining about? I came here to deliver a telegram."

Quality Will Vary But Top Varieties Still Prove Best

By W. H. GRAHAM JR.

Fluctuation in milling quality reports on samples of wheat sent from Parmer County to be checked indicate that most all varieties have their ups and downs, depending on the weather and other factors, but that recommended varieties still are the only ones that can produce grain that is today acceptable to flour mills.

Bruce Parr, Black farmer and member of the Parmer County Farm Bureau weed committee, took the trouble to send in 13 samples of wheat produced on county farms this year, to check the milling quality of the local product.

The tests were made in the baking laboratories of Producers Grain Corporation in Amarillo, and H. L. Ward of the laboratory department corresponded with Parr about statistics obtained from the tests.

Results were at the same time surprising and disappointing. Of the 13 samples sent in, only one received a "good" rating from the laboratory, scoring 75 out of a possible 100 points by milling quality standards.

Four other samples were rated "fair" by the technicians, and one was rated "very poor." The rest were "poor."

Varieties included in the samples were comanche, early blackhull, westar, standard blackhull, concho, wichita, and kiowa. The varieties "blacklisted" by USDA include blackhull, red chief, blue jacket, kanking, new chief, yogo, and red jacket.

They are discounted 20 cents per bushel on the support price because they are considered undesirable from a milling quality standpoint. Varieties recommended include westar, tenmarq, turkey red, concho, wichita, triumph, and comanche.

The thing that makes the analysis difficult to understand is that several samples supposedly having higher baking quality brought extremely low results in the Amarillo lab.

First, farmers should understand that this is often the case in laboratory or research work. Averages taken over a long period of time are the only answer to true findings, and that is the reason that new developments from the laboratories sometimes seem too long in the process of development. It takes time.

The PGS technician has made some interesting comments: "In view of the rather erratic and contradictory results on these samples, it is a very difficult job to try to explain what has happened to the milling quality on some of the other varieties. "Some varieties will turn out good quality in one specific year from one certain location, and the same seed planted another year or in another location will be of poor quality."

"Climate, soil types, and growing conditions seem to control quality in wheat. In most cases, we have found that irrigated wheat is of lower protein and quality than the same variety planted on dry land."

But, the analyst pointed out, only quality seed can produce quality wheat: "In no case have we found a good baking sample of the poor varieties. They have been poor and very poor in every case, regardless of growing conditions or where they were planted. It is a fact that the mills will not buy those wheats, even at a discount, for milling purposes."

Ward sent Parr two samples that came from the tests. They were slices of bread baked from the actual samples, and were encased in sealed, plastic containers.

Even to the untrained eye, the difference in volume, grain, color and texture of the two samples was apparent. One sample, comanche wheat from the Jack Bruns farm, rose about three-quarters an inch higher than the other, which was early blackhull.

The blackhull sample had a very coarse texture and was filled with cavities near the top of the crust. It did not have the full, rich appearance of the comanche wheat.

Trade journals and agricultural commentators report that the stock of good seed wheat is low this year after a below-average production from much of the country's wheatlands.

Some day—it is warned—the drought will end, and with renewed planting activity in the non-irrigated portions of the Southwest, a critical need for quality planting seed may develop.

High Plains irrigated farmers who produce wheat in dry years and wet are reminded to be aware of this need.

16 Make Application For Emergency Feed

Sixteen applications for emergency grain and hay were reviewed by the Parmer County FHA committee in Farwell Thursday, in the first step of the reactivated drought disaster feed program.

The committee, composed of A. W. Anthony, Friona; Wilbur Charles, Bovina; and Gilbert Kaltwasser, Farwell; rejected one application, and retained "two or three" for purposes of review, according to John Zahan of the FHA office.

Participation in the emergency program is "considerably lighter" than FHA officials had expected, Zahan says.

On Saturday, the government abruptly cut off its hay program, pending a "reappraisal" of that part of the project. Details of this action appear in another story in the farm and home section.

This move, however did not interfere with the more than 10 Parmer County farmer-stockmen who had been approved for participation.

No More Roughage Pending Review Of Texas Program

The volume of approved applications for assistance under the Texas emergency roughage program has exceeded the estimates of demand when this program was negotiated, so it is necessary to reappraise the actual cash requirements.

The agreement between Secretary Ezra Taft Benson and Governor Allan Shivers provided for an allocation of one million dollars of federal funds for the roughage program. Funds available to the U. S. Department of Agriculture to finance roughage program must be allocated among all disaster designated states where such a program is needed.

Walter T. McKay, Texas State Director of Farmers Home Administration, has been instructed by K. L. Scott, Director of Credit Services, U. S. Department of Agriculture, to immediately instruct all FHA County Offices in the designated areas to withhold further approvals of roughage purchase certificates.

The county offices in the designated areas are to withhold further approvals of roughage purchase certificates, but they are authorized to continue to accept and hold on file applications for assistance under this roughage program, but are instructed to take no action on these applications and to make daily reports on the tonnage requirements covered by such applications to McKay's office.

McKay has been asked to solicit the assistance of the Texas USDA Drought Committee and the office of the governor in making a careful reappraisal of the demand for assistance under this emergency roughage program including financial requirements.

Scott stated that in keeping with the policies and the desires of Secretary Benson, the Department will continue to work closely with Governor Shivers and leaders in the state and give all assistance possible within the authority and funds available to the department in providing assistance to drought stricken farmers and ranchers in Texas.

USDA Studies Bread Costs

Rising costs of operations in the flour mill and in the bakery are credited with the responsibility for increased bread prices in a publication recently released by the Agricultural Marketing Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The publication "Marketing Margins for White Bread" points out that bread prices have advanced 70 per cent in the past ten years. The cost of wheat in the loaf of bread has gained from 2.1c to 2.7c, but the farmer's share of the consumer bread dollar has declined from 25 per cent in 1946 to 18 per cent in 1955.

The wholesale price of bread, (the price received by the baker) was listed at 14.8c. Of this total, the baker retains eight-tenths of a cent as profit before taxes.

A separate study by the Marketing Service showed net profits of six leading bakers, after taxes, declining from 5.3 per cent in 1946 to 2.3 per cent in 1954.

The report noted that average hourly earnings of grain mill workers advanced 85 per cent in the ten year period, that hourly

When The Rains Came, T'was A Picnic

The rains may come but the indoor picnic can be a new adventure.

Are the family plans sometimes drowned out by a sudden down-pour? No need to cancel plans, just switch the picnic location to the living room where the weather report on conditions is always, "clear and warm."

This situation did happen to the suburban family pictured here who delighted their small fry by spreading the picnic cloth on the carpet and substituting pillows for a campfire log. Half the fun of any picnic is eating in different surroundings, so, by no means admit victory to the elements, and set a table.

For a menu that travels well or may be adapted to the pillow picnic:

- Hamburger Sandwiches
- Tomato-Spaghetti Casserole
- Relishes
- Ice Cream
- Lemonade
- Cup Cakes
- Coffee

Hamburgers are oven baked for the indoor picnic or broiled over the coals when weather permits. For easy out-of-hand eating and it will please the youngsters, serve the hamburgers in buns purchased from food shop.

- Baked Hamburger Sandwiches
- 1 pound (2 cups) ground beef
- 2 eggs
- 1/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 8 buttered, sliced sandwich buns

Combine beef, eggs, dry bread crumbs, salt and pepper. Shape into 8 patties and place in a slightly greased, shallow baking pan. Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) for 20 to 25 minutes. Wrap rolls in aluminum foil and heat in oven for the final 10 minutes hamburgers are baking. Serve between sliced buns.

Yield: 8 baked Hamburger Sandwiches.

Not How Many But How Good

How many hens are needed to provide a living income for the producer? The answer to this frequently asked question involves not only hen numbers but more important, says Ben Wormeli, extension poultry husbandman, is the number of eggs required each week to earn the expected living income.

It is generally considered, says the specialist, that about 50,000 dozens of eggs are required to earn a living for a poultryman. Production on a weekly basis would need average about 1,000 dozens.

If average earnings were five cents a dozen, this production would return to the producer $50 each week. Since feed and flock depreciation represent about 90 percent of the cost of producing eggs, the successful producer should concentrate on these two items of management.

To produce 52,000 dozens of eggs in a year with hens that average 17 dozens of eggs each, about 56 percent production, the poultryman would need a flock of slightly more than 3,000 laying hens in production the year-round. Since mortality and culling will take out about 20 percent of the hens during the laying year, the poultryman will have the equivalent of a 12 months production from 90 percent of the pullets housed, points out Wormeli.

By upping the rate of lay per hen, the total number required to produce the 1,000 dozens of eggs each week can be cut. Too, says the specialist, it is just good business for the poultryman to carefully estimate his average costs and earnings and thus set a reasonable potential profit per dozen.

Too, Wormeli urges egg producers to seek a dependable graded egg market where he can get full pay for producing eggs of top quality. By starting replacement chicks several times each year, the producer can maintain both uniform marketing or egg volume and income from his egg business. Thus making his living income more stable.

Lamp Lights Columbus' Tomb

Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic—This beautifully molded silver lamp, embedded with precious stones, gives perpetual light before the tomb of Christopher Columbus in the Cathedral of Santo Domingo in this city. The lamp, a gift of the city of Genoa, Italy, the great Discoverer's birthplace, is in the shape of a crescent moon and reminds one of the lamp used by Aladdin. Ten panels surmount the lamp depicting other explorers, who with Columbus, brought European civilization to America. The white marble tomb itself visible behind the lamp at the main entrance to the oldest cathedral in America shelters the bronze casket which is opened to reveal Columbus' remains on October 12 each year in this lush semitropical tourist haven.

Columbus made four voyages to America.

There were 56 names signed to the Declaration of Independence.

Water Softeners Have Changed

Yes, water softeners have changed radically in the past 35 years. They are much smaller and more efficient. To the left is a water softener that was replaced after 35 years of highly satisfactory service. This old, 1400 pound "monster" presents a striking contrast to the new 1956 Permutit fully automatic model, weighing only 94 pounds. Both units will soften the same amount of water. The difference in size was made possible by radical improvements in the zeolites or water-softening agents. Furthermore, the 1920 model is still in good operating condition and will still soften water.

Choose a plain background for picturing baby so that he'll stand out with all the importance to which his kingly position in your household entitles him.

It Has to Be Today! Tomorrow Won't Do

One of the better known copy-right maxims says something about never putting off until tomorrow what you can do today.

Well, when it comes to picturing your baby as he is today—that's one thing that just can't be done tomorrow. Cameras perform amazing feats, but they can't look into the past, anymore than they can picture the future. Of course, the pictures you take with them today may be a pretty good indication of what the future has in store.

Babies grow so fast that planned and regular picture taking is a must if you want a picture record that doesn't have a lot of empty places in it.

Since babies mostly live indoors, you'll need a source of artificial light. Flash on camera is the simplest way to do it—enabling you to shoot any time, any place, and on the spur of the moment when he's being especially appealing.

Flash has never been known to injure a baby's eyes, so you need have no fears on that score. However, once in a long time, a bulb will shatter when it flashes. Always put a flash guard over your reflector, just to be sure.

By keeping your camera ready, you will catch the all-of-a-sudden things when they happen. But, in addition to these unplanned shots, it is smart to plan on certain pictures. Pick one day of each week or month on which you will regularly take at least a few pictures. Two weeks is about the right time between pictures for babies up to about six months. After that, once a month will provide a good record of baby's progress.
