TRAGIC DEATH AT THE MCKNIGHT GIN

The whole community was inexpressibly shocked and grieved
just after noon last Saturday
when word came that Ed Earth-man had been instantly killed at the McKnight Gin, of which he was manager. He was caught in the gin machinery while placing a belt.

William Edward Earthman was born in Grayson county, Texas,
May 6 1895; died Jan 4, 1930.
Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church, conducted by Rev Geo C Hutto, and attended by a host of sorrowing loved ones and friends. Burial in Rowe cemetery.

Mr. Earthman had lived in this community only a few months,
but for some years had visited here at the home of his brother, Sam Earthman, and every one who met him became his warm friend. His gentlemanly bearing and genial disposition endeared him in the hearts of our people, and his sweet singing, an accomplishment possessed by all the Earthmans here, was a source of joy and gladness to all who heard him. He was a consistent Christian, having been converted and joined the Baptist church at the age of fourteen.

Mr. Earthman is survived by his widow, Mrs. Beattie Earth-man; a son, Floyd, age 8; three sisters, Mrs. R. E. Phillips, Celina, Mrs. Nolan Day, Gunter, and Mrs. Joe Bell, Lubbock; and four brothers, L. H. Earthman of this city, M. L. Earthman, Sherman, Floyd Earthman, formerly of Amarillo, and Hall Earthman, Henryetta, Okla. To them is extended the sincere sympathy of all their friends.

MISS LORENE CALDWELL

Tuesday night, following a long continued illness, Miss Lorene Caldwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Caldwell, departed this life, to take up her abode in the "Home Over There."

Funeral services at the First Church and the burial service at Rowe cemetery were conducted by Rev. Geo. C. Hutto, a large concourse of friends and loved ones attending.

A more extended article will be published next week.

SERIOUS AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT WEDNESDAY

A serious and near fatal auto accident occurred Wednesday near the S. C. Bell home, two miles west of town, when cars driven by Ralph Moreman of this city and L. C. White of Amarillo met in a head-on crash. Just what the cause was we do not know. Both cars were demolished.

It was at first reported that both men were probably fatally hurt, but a message Thursday morning from Adair Hospital is to the effect that they are doing nicely and will recover.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

GEO. C. HUTTO, Pastor

Last Sunday was a good day with the congregation of the First Baptist Church. Rev. Jewel Sibley preached at the morning hour.
The evening services were well attended. Our B. Y. P. U. work is getting started off splendidly.
We expect to have a big B. Y. P.
U. training school the last week
in January.

Attention is called to the fact that all Sunday evening services have changed time of meeting.
Beginning next Sunday evening
the B. Y. P. U.'s will begin at 6:15 and be given more time for their work. Preaching services will begin at 7:30 instead of 7:00 o'clock.

There were 154 in attendance at Sunday school last Sunday morning. We shall expect a larger number next Sunday. Be on time and bring at least one with you.

Barquet Postponed.

Due to bad weather conditions
the men's banquet, which was to have been held at First Baptist Church Friday night, has been postponed a few days.

Montie C. Hancock, First Sgt.
Co. I 30th Inf., stationed at San Francisco, Calif., visited Mrs. E.
T. Watkins and family one day the past week. He paid this office a pleasant call and renewed his subscription. He is looking "fit and fine," and his many friends were very glad to see him.

Rev. Fisher and wife of Clarenden attended church services
in Hedley Sunday night.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Senate Approves Tax Reduction and French War Debt Settlement.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

WITH the tax cut bill passed by both house and senate and the Mellon-Berenger agreement for the funding of the French debt ratified by the upper house, congress quit work on Saturday and went home to celebrate Christmas and New Year's.

Fourteen senators, most of them classed as radicals, voted against the tax reduction measure but 63 were recorded in its favor, and it was promptly signed by President Hoover. The act, whose terms are already quite generally known, remains in effect only one year, but it is presumed that congress a year hence will provide for another reduction if tax revenues continue at the present high level.

The vote on the ratification of the French debt settlement was 52 to 21. Senator Howell of Nebraska, Republican, led the opposition on behalf of the radical group, which consistently fights about everything the administration seeks to accomplish. Howell contended that the effect of the settlement was to cancel the entire principal of the debt. His theory was that the payments over a period of 62 years represent merely interest at a rate of 2.17 per cent.

The French indebtedness, which was funded at a total of $4,925,000,000, not only was one of the largest of any of the debts but is the last to be disposed of except those of Russia and Armenia, which are at present listed in the hopeless class. The principal and accrued interest at the time of the funding of the debts totaled approximately $11,500,000,000.

Unless the entire debt question is reopened at some future time the controversy is now officially closed. There is an impression that if the American public debt continues to be retired at its present rate and is entirely wiped out within the next 17 or 18 years an agitation will immediately develop for a cancellation of all foreign debts which remain outstanding at that time.

PROSPECTS for the naval limitation conference in London in January are no quite so rosy as they were. In the first place the Japanese delegates, who have been entertained in Washington on their way to England, revealed that their program differs sharply from that of the United States in the matters of cruisers and submarines. The Japanese are still asking a 10-7 ratio for all auxiliary craft, including the big gun cruisers, though it is hoped they will modify their demands slightly in order to gain their point concerning submarines. They wish to retain 75,000 tons of underwater craft now in their fleet or under construction. As the United States is anxious to sharply reduce her submarine tonnage and there are some indications the cruiser demands by Japan may be modified, the Japanese submarine proposal now furnishes the chief obstacle to an accord between the two powers.

American naval officials, especially, are opposed to permitting Japan such a large submarine force. One big reason for the navy's opposition lies in the fact that possession of a big submarine navy, together with numerous naval bases, would give Japan control of the Asiatic trade routes over which the United States must transport its supplies of tin and rubber, raw materials not produced in sufficient quantities in this country, but absolutely essential to the prosecution of a successful war.

Over in Paris the chamber of deputies' commission on foreign affairs and naval matters, sitting jointly, approved the government's viewpoint that all results of the London conference must be considered tentative and must be submitted to the League of Nations disarmament commission for consideration of their possible incorporation into a general disarmament program. Foreign Minister Briand explained to the commissions that France had accepted the theory of limitation on the basis of global tonnage instead of categories; that she demanded the right to devote as high a percentage of her global allotment as she wishes to submarines, and that she insists that each power tell the others just what types of vessels it is using in its tonnage. Premier Tardieu and his delegation, it is believed, will demand a full 800,000 tons for the French fleet, which figure is thought too high by both Great Britain and Italy. There is reason to believe, however, that France and Italy have made progress in reconciling their viewpoints.

A correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph says the American delegates have prepared a series of charts, graphs and data that actually demonstrate that the British navy not only is not superior in strength to the American, but is really greatly inferior. The correspondent understands that these revelations have "deeply impressed the members of President Hoover's cabinet and other American statesmen who previously had accepted the view, carefully fostered by propaganda, that the American navy is below the treaty strength and badly outclassed by the British navy. It is an ironical circumstance that this disclosure should have emerged from the work of American naval officers who were, of course, anxious to make out the case for a larger ship building program."

JAPAN is deeply concerned over the new situation in Manchuria, and statesmen the world over see in it the possibilities of another big war in the Far East. Mongols in the Barga district have seized control and declared Barga independent of China, and the young Mongol party in Hailar is reported to have organized an independent government, installing as officials emissaries from Urga, the capital of outer Mongolia. These movements are believed to be inspired and supported actively by the Soviet Russian government, and if they are successful they will bring the Soviet zone several miles inside the present Chinese-Russian frontier. Dispatches from Harbin said Japan had lodged a verbal protest against the Soviet activities with the Russian ambassador to Tokyo.

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S request for authority to send a commission to investigate affairs in Haiti was approved by the house of representatives. The debate provided an opportunity for Oscar De Priest, colored representative from Chicago, to make his maiden speech, in support of the proposition. He took occasion to give the Southern Democrats some shrewd digs that made the Republicans laugh. One opponent of the proposition was Representative Huddleston of Alabama, who recently declined to serve on a house committee because De Priest had been appointed one of its members.

Seven Haitian political organizations have asked the United States to supervise the island's presidential election in April, 1930. Their petition is considered the climax of a campaign of the anti-Borno factions which hope to effect the withdrawal of American marines before the expiration of the treaty in 1936, under which the United States took over the safeguarding of the republic.

UNDER the terms of a decree recommended to the Supreme Court of the United States by Charles Evans Hughes, special master, the Chicago sanitary district would be required to complete a $176,000,000 sewage treatment program within the next nine years. Meanwhile there would be successive reductions in the diversion of water from Lake Michigan at Chicago from 8,500 cubic feet per second to 6,500, 5,000 and finally, on completion of the sewage treatment works, to 1,500 feet per second, which Mr. Hughes holds is all that is required for navigation purposes in the Chicago river. The figures given are exclusive of pumpage for domestic purposes. The proposed decree is of interest to the entire Great Lakes region, and the Mississippi valley.

In the light of the adverse decision of the Supreme court of last January, which held that there is no legal basis for diversion of water beyond the comparatively small amount necessary for navigation in the Chicago river, the Hughes report was regarded as being about as favorable to Chicago as could have been expected.

Mr. Hughes made it clear that it is within the power of congress to provide for a greater diversion for navigation purposes. It appeared evident that if congress approves the Illinois state waterway as a federal project the way will be opened for a sufficient diversion of water to maintain navigation in a nine foot channel from Chicago to the Mississippi.

TWO members of the British royal air force, Squadron Commander Jones-Williams and Flight Lieutenant Jenkins, started on a 6,000 mile non-stop flight from England to Cape town, but crashed and were killed on a mountainside 30 miles southeast of Tunis. They had run into a severe storm and supposedly lost their way.

More fortunate were Maj. Tadeo Larre-Borges of Uruguay and Lieut. Leon Challe of France, though they, too, failed in accomplishing what they set out to do. They took off from Beville, Spain, hoping to fly without stop to Montevideo, but, having crossed the ocean safely, they lost their bearings in the dark and made a forced landing in a Brazilian forest. Their plane was smashed and both men were injured slightly.

ONE of the worst mine disasters of the year occurred at McAlester, Okla. An explosion in the Old Town coal mine trapped 59 men, and not one of them escaped death. Seven others who were on upper levels got out alive. Rescue teams penetrated with great effort to the lower levels, which were filled with gas, and there found the bodies of the victims, many of them charred by the blast. The majority had died swiftly of gas suffocation.

CONSIDERABLE relief was assured disabled veterans of the World war when the senate unanimously passed the veterans' hospitalization bill which had previously been put through the house. The measure carries a total appropriation of $15,850,000.

World war veterans and dependants of deceased veterans who have not filed applications for federal compensation are warned by officials of the veterans' bureau that they must do so not later than January 2.

PRESIDENT HOOVER appointed Joseph B. Eastman of Boston, a Democrat, and Robert M. Jones of Knoxville, Tenn., a Republican, members of the Interstate Commerce commission for terms of seven years beginning January 1. Eastman has been a member of the commission for more than ten years representing the New England section. Jones, who is chancellor of the Eleventh judicial district in Tennessee, will succeed Richard V. Taylor of Mobile, Ala., appointed three years ago by President Coolidge to fill out an unexpired term.

DWIGHT W. MORROW, ambassador to Mexico and delegate to the naval conference, has formally announced his acceptance of the appointment as senator from New Jersey upon the resignation of Senator Baird. He will assume his new duties as soon as his work in connection with the London parley is completed. Baird was given the place when Edge resigned to be ambassador to France, with the understanding that he would step aside for Morrow.

S. P. McNAUGHT, who has been engaged in prohibition work in Iowa, was elected superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league to succeed the late E. S. Shumaker. He was the choice of F. Scott McBride, the national superintendent of the league, so other candidates retired from competition.

In the process of drying up the National Capital George L. Cassidy, known as "the man with the green hat" and reputed to be the bootlegger to United States senators, has been indicted under the Jones act.

HEDLEY RURAL DEMONSTRATION CLUB HAS LUNCHEON

A lovely three course luncheon was given Tuesday, Dec 31st, in the home of Mrs. Clyde Bridges to members of the Hedley Rural Demonstration Club by the outgoing officers.

The club color scheme of green and white was carried out in the decorations, also in the courses served. The tables were beautifully decorated with carnations and Boston ferns and lovely little white and green place cards.

The following members were seated at the tables: Meses Dollie Rains, W I Rains, Mann, Adamson, Bob Adamson, Jewell, Covey, Dickson, Blanks, Howard, Pyatt, Everett, Sherman, Acord, Milner, Bridges, Grimsley, Masterson.

The first course consisted of green perfection salad on lettuce leaves. The second was turkey dressing and gravy, potato balls, creamed peas topped with carrots pickles hot rolls and butter. The third course consisted of pineapple whip topped off with green whipped cream, cake and coffee. All through the luncheon hour speeches and new resolutions were made by all present. Mrs Bridges gave a history of the club, and the officers bequeathed their offices to their successors.

The remainder of the evening was spent in a social hour, everyone having a happy and joyous time, and wishing this would be repeated by the outgoing officers of this new year, 1930.

The club will begin its new year's work Tuesday, Jan 14 in the home of Mrs. Bill Wiggins, and each member is very anxious that this will be the best year in the history of the club. We are striving to make our work more profitable in a material way, and also that we may love each other better, and that our meetings will be spiritual and uplifting to our souls as well as to our material life. We mean to carry out our club motto, which is "Make the Best Better." Our aim is to scatter flowers and sunshine thru the paths of others.

METHODIST CHURCH

Think it over!

If all the married men and women belonging to the Methodist Church should come to Sunday school next Sunday, with no young people or children present, there would be a larger attendance than we had last Sunday. There are two hundred Methodists who should be at Sunday school next Sunday.

The pastor will preach at the morning and evening services, continuing to use texts at the evening services suggested by members of the congregation.

The Bible Reading Campaign is beginning splendidly. Many are doing honest Bible study.

Bill Haskin and family of Loveland and Guy Morgan and family of Wichita Falls were Christmas visitors in the home of Mrs. Haskin's and Mr. Morgan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Morgan, in Windy Valley. Of course they all had a good time, including the biggest kind of a big dinner.

We failed until now to learn of the marriage of Miss Chloe Hart and Mr. Walden Downing, which occurred during Christmas. At this late date we join the many friends of these worthy young folks in wishing them happiness and success. They are at home in the Naylor community.

Quite a number of the Naylor young folks gave Mrs. Chloe Downing (formerly Miss Chloe Hart) a "shower" at the home of her parents Wednesday night.

IT HAS CERTAINLY BEEN A BLESSING

Orgatone Has Made a New Man of Me and Relieved Me of My Trouble, Says Lubbock Citizen.

"Since Orgatone relieved me of my troubles I just can't help praising it to everybody," says J. T. South, of 1613 16th Street, Lubbock, Texas. Mr. South is a well known ginmer in this part of the state and owns the J. T. South Gin Company.

"For several years," he continued, "I suffered from stomach disorder and a general rundown condition. I had very little appetite, and three or four hours after eating, gas would form and cramp my stomach so that nothing would relieve me of the agony. I was in a very rundown, weak condition and was tired and worn out and didn't feel like doing my work. I had a severe case of constipation and also had severe headaches.

"My first dose of Orgatone seemed to hit the spot and I have been getting better ever since. I can eat with a relish and eat anything and everything I want. I don't have any trouble with gas, my stomach is toned up and I feel better in every way than I have in a long time. Orgatone has saved me a lot of suffering and money and has made a new man of me. I want my many friends to know about it and I am glad to recommend it to them."

Genuine Orgatone may be had in Hedley at Wilson Drug Co.

He is a young man of splendid character and ability—a self made man who has made good thru his own efforts and on his own merits. He believes in law and order, and has always ordered his own life in accordance with that belief. He is now serving his second term as Commissioner of Precinct No. 4, and has looked after the interests of the people in a most excellent manner.
