VOL X, NO. 21

WHITTLIN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

If this isn't Football Week in Bovina, it will do until the sport becomes more prominent some other time.

Fans of the rock'em-sock'em game should be at the peak of happiness with the college season just ending, last week and this, and the Mustangs' earning the right to represent their league in bi-district action tomorrow (Thursday) at Sundown.

The Mustangs and their coaches deserve a great deal of congratulations -- a full page of which appears in this issue of The Blade -- for their tremendous game Friday night at Vega. They won from a fine ball club when they "had to" if they were going to earn for themselves any part of the district title. Their win, coupled with the win of Happy over Nazareth, put the Ponies in the playoff spot. We're proud of the Mustangs. They put out a lot of effort at Vega and made it pay off in the form of a win.

That's one of the reasons for playing sports -- to win. It is, it seems from here, particularly fitting that the Mustangs earned the right to represent the district in playoff action since this is their final year as members of District 1-B. They move up next year, into considerably faster company, District 3-A. Bovina is the only member of the present 1-B line-up to be advanced this next year and making the playoffs in the final Class B year is just appropriate, that's all.

Everything has its drawbacks, sadly enough. Being a fan of a successful high school football team, for instance, even has at least one disadvantage. That is that you miss your Thanksgiving dinner some years while you attend a playoff game.

Understand that doesn't bother us much because we have, for years and years, turned almost all our attention to football on Turkey Day. Traditionally, that is the time of the game between the Fightin' Texas Aggies and the Texas University Teasippers.

So to us, with ample interest in that tilt, the side benefits of the fourth Thursday in November mean football as well as a turkey meal. And if we had to choose between the two, we guess we'd just take the football and a cold hotdog and let the turkey stay in the deep-freeze.

(Personal note to the cook at our house: We're just writing a column now and hope that this is not interpreted to mean that we're against having any fancy dinners during this festive season.)

Also adding to the footballness of this week is the closing of the annual (Sixth) Bovina Business Football Contest. There is a tie for first place going into this final week and two others are just one point off, certainly in a good position to win the grand prize.

This year's has been as close a race as any and moreso than most. This aids, we think, in creating interest in the contest. The overall leaders have done only a little of the winning of weekly prize money and their has been only a few repeat winners of weekly money. The contest "glory" has been about as spread out among as many people as possible.

Usually, interest in the contest has a tendency to slip a little during the last couple of weeks of the competition -- when several steady contestants decide they no longer have a chance at the grand prize and fall to turn in an entry blank. Such wasn't the case last week, however, as the usual 100 or so stayed in their battling during the next to last week as hard as they were the first week.

That's the way it should be, of course, as that weekly prize money is up for grabs every seven days and one entry blank has just as good a chance as the next one to be worth five dollars in American money. Without doing any arithmetic checking, we'd say the 1965 contest has been the best ever from the standpoint of total number of entries submitted.

In Sundown at 2 p.m. --

Mustangs Battle Roughnecks In Bi-District Game Thursday

Schedule Rallies, Bonfire

Community enthusiasm is running high for the Bovina Mustangs bi-district game with Sundown there Thursday afternoon.

A bonfire and pep rally has been scheduled for today (Wednesday) at 6 p.m. It will be in the outfield of the baseball field on Eighth Street with cheerleaders in charge.

Thursday morning at 8:15, a send-off rally for the team is scheduled at the field house. The team is expected to leave at that time for the 2 p.m. game.

The Bovina Mustang Band and Pep Club will accompany the team to the game. They will leave from the school at 11 a.m. Thursday, according to High School Principal Alan Staley.

Clash Rematch Of '64 Playoff

The Bovina Mustangs, District 1-B co-champions with Vega, meet the Sundown Roughnecks in a bi-district tilt there Thanksgiving afternoon at 2.

This will be the second consecutive year for the same two teams to meet in the first round of the playoffs. The Roughnecks won last year, 36-20.

Sundown will be favored in the tilt with its gaudy 9-1 season record and 4-0 district mark. The Mustangs are 6-4 for the season and came out of the district with a tarnished 5-1 slate. They earned the playoff berth by downing Vega, 8-6, last week. (See story elsewhere in this issue of The Blade.)

The Roughnecks' lone loss was by 37-12 count to Class A Plains midway of the season.

Officials of the two schools met in Littlefield Saturday morning to work out details of the game. The site of the game was automatically Sundown's choice because Bovina had its choice last year and designated Farwell as its home field.

Both coaches agreed on the day and time of the game and no coin flip was necessary.

Game officials -- four of them -- will be from the Lubbock association.

Admission prices will be $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Coach Roy Stone's Mustangs will be seeking revenge for last year's game, but will probably have to play their best game of the year, even better than they did in upsetting Vega last week to earn the playoff spot, to get it.

Sundown bases its offense on speed and quickness. Four of the Roughneck backs are among the leading scorers in the area.

While the District 2-B champions have a lot of speed, they aren't especially big. Bovina will have a weight advantage of a few pounds per man.

"They are real sound in the fundamentals of football and are tough," Coach Stone says. "In addition, they'll have the home field advantage. By playing the game on Thursday, we don't have as much time as usual to get ready."

The two teams have had two common opponents, Amherst, which is in Sundown's district, and Lazbuddie. The 'Necks plastered Amherst easily in their opening district game, 44-14. Bovina lost to Amherst 8-12 in the third game of the season. Scores of the Lazbuddie games indicate that the teams are more evenly matched than the Amherst tilts would indicate. Bovina won from the Longhorns in a district tilt, 32-6, while Sundown downed Lazbuddie in the fourth game of the season, 30-2.

Other non-district wins for Sundown were Ropesville, 22-6; Wilson, 22-12; Sudan, 22-0; and Matador, 24-0. Other district verdicts were over New Deal, 42-8; Whiteface, 38-0; and Anton, 30-0.

In compiling its 6-4 record, the Mustangs lost to Farwell, 0-6; Springlake, 0-25; Amherst and Nazareth, 8-13. Wins were over Meadow, Texline, Happy, Hart, Lazbuddie and Vega.

Winner of the Bovina-Sundown clash will play the winner of the Meadow-Grand Falls game. Meadow is heavily favored to down its bi-district opponent and advance to regional, which is as far as Class B teams go.

The Mustangs came out of the Vega game last week in good physical condition and the same starting lineup, which has seen bulk of the action during the past several games, is expected to be used: Kenneth Webb and Lynn Murphy at ends; Roman Ramirez and Edd Corn, tackles; Donnie McKinney and Steve Pterson as guards; Billy Marshall at center; Dean Stanberry and Scotty Rundell at halfbacks; Carl Harris at fullback and Jerry Roach at quarterback.

The team will leave for the game at 8:30 Thursday morning. A large following of Bovina fans is expected to follow the squad to the South Plains community for the tilt which will be Bovina's third bi-district game in the past five years.

Smart Shop Now Open

Bovina's newest business is The Smart Shop, a ladies wearing apparel store. It is located in the former Mary Marr building on Third Street.

The business is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Isaac, who also own and operate Bovina Dry Goods downtown.

Mrs. Isaac announced this week that the store is now open even though the stock is not complete. New merchandise is arriving on a regular schedule, however, she says.

The Isaacs purchased the store building from Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harris.

The building previously housed Spears Family Fashions. That business was recently combined with S and S Department Store.

Pheasant Tail Contest Slated

Parmer County Game Management Association, in cooperation with local business sponsors, is planning a pheasant tailfeather contest, December 1 thru 7. Winners of contest prizes will be by persons bringing in the longest pheasant tail feathers.

The five awards will be merchandise prizes donated by businesses in each town. The approximate value of the awards in each contest are 1st place, $25; 2nd place, $20; 3rd place, $15; 4th place, $10; 5th place, $5. In addition to these prizes, the overall winner or the person with the longest pheasant tail feather in Parmer County will receive a plaque courtesy of the Game Management Association.

In Bovina first prize will be $25 in trade or 200 pounds of milo seed from A. L. Hartzog Seed Farms; second prize is a new hat or hunting boots from Bovina Dry Goods; third prize is a wash and grease job and oil change at Boyd Gilreath's Northside '66'; fourth prize is $10 cash from Gateway Produce; and fifth place is a two-year subscription to the Bovina Blade.

Chairmen of the contest are Bud Crump in Bovina, Gilbert Kaltwasser in Farwell and Gary Brown in Friona. These men helped set up the contest in each town and obtained a business house to be contest headquarters.

The pheasant season for Parmer County is December 1 through December 7. Bag limit is two cocks per day, possession limit is four. Cocks are colorful pheasants with red heads and long tail feathers. Hens, not legal game, are less colorful.

The fairly good supply of pheasants in Parmer County is largely the result of 2260 pheasants that were bought and released in 1962 and 1963 by Game Association members. Almost everyone questioned recently reports they have seen more pheasants this year than ever before. There seems to have been a good hatch this year with lots of young pheasants raised, according to County Agent Joe VanZandt.

Some people question the benefit of a pheasant season when attempts are being made to increase the pheasant population. Jack Patterson, president of the Game Association, reports that approximately 55 to 70 per cent of an average pheasant hatch is cocks. Only one cock is needed for about eight hens. These facts point out that (Continued on Page 3)

Rummage Sale Business Good

Rummage sale business in Bovina dropped off somewhat in Bovina last week, but is still pretty good, according to Mrs. Bob Estes, a leader in the project which is designed to provide money for constructing a community clinic in Bovina.

A total of $96 was netted from operation of the sale Saturday.

It will be open again this Saturday, Mrs. Estes says. More items are needed to be offered for sale. Also, volunteers to run the sale are needed. The sale will continue as long as there is sufficient interest to justify it.

Last Saturday, wives of members of the American Legion and Jaycees and Bovina Woman's Study Club members operated it. Members of the Eastern Star have indicated they will operate the sale one week in the near future, Mrs. Estes announces.

The sale is held in the former fire station building on Main Street, next door to the city hall.

Blade Early This Week

This week's issue of The Blade is being mailed early so that it may be received on the routes prior to Thanksgiving.

Most rural subscribers are scheduled to get their paper on Thursday. Since there will be no mail delivery Thursday of this week because of the Thanksgiving holiday, the papers are being sent out Wednesday morning instead of Thursday morning.

Pheasant Contest--

 about seven out of every eight cocks can be harvested and still leave plenty to reproduce. Actually pheasants are better off when there is the proper ratio of cocks to hens. When there are too many cocks, they fight and injure or kill each other, Patterson points out.

Pheasant hunting is big business in some areas and Parmer County has the potential of becoming prime pheasant hunting country. The long tail feather contest is aimed to create new interest among farm operators.

The key to increased pheasant production in Parmer County is adequate cover during the winter. It is hoped that farmers will leave a little sorghum stubble standing on next year's lay-out ground. This is a good natural cover. The Game Association, at each contest headquarters, is also taking orders from persons who will plant some free shrubs to help provide wildlife cover. The Association will distribute 5,000 free shrubs next April to those who sign up. The main shrub that will be distributed will be Multiflora Rose.

The Association is also requesting the assistance of all pheasant hunters to report how many birds are killed in the season. This information will help the Association make future plans for pheasants in the county. A list for this purpose will be kept at each contest headquarters.

Ho Hum, No Freeze Yet

At press time for this week's issue of The Blade, there still was no official first freeze of the Fall and The Blade's First Freeze Contest was just as wide open as it was in mid-September.

Weatherman Willie Williams, who is serving as contest judge, says that a new record for a late freeze has been set this year. Some people thought the freeze might have occurred Monday morning, Williams said, however, that temperature here dropped to only about 35 degrees.

Entries are still coming in for the contest which has a $5 first prize.

Those wishing to enter are asked to write the date of their guess on a postcard, sign it and mail it to The Blade. In case of a tie, the earliest postmark will be declared the winner.

Still seems like Christmas is pretty far away to start getting in any rush, but it isn't as far away as we might think. It's time now to start baking for Christmas. I personally can't tell whether a cake is fresh out of the freezer or the oven. If it were only Christmas, it wouldn't be so bad, but it's the general fall rush.

Johnny's in school, and there's all those things to do; civic clubs are still looking for more women to do the work; it's time to check the anti-freeze in the car, and make sure everyone in the family has a good pair of overshoes.

Of course, Daddy wants to go hunting; Grandma wants us to come home for Thanksgiving, and the other grandmother wants us to come for Christmas, or you can fix Christmas dinner and have the whole clan for the whole weekend.

It's past time to have decided how to decorate the house for the holidays, so three or four solid days won't have to come out in one chunk about the middle of December to fix lights, hunt for all of last year's left-over decorations, patch outside lights, etc., etc.

Start now, and undertake one project a day, or at least two per week. Plan now what size tree to have, where to put your outside lights, and have the hooks prepared for them under the eaves.

It's easier to do it now than when it's zero outside. If you are going to make something for a centerpiece or something to go outside, you could have it made before the day to put it up.

Of course, if I would take my own advice, I could save myself the mess I usually find myself in the week before Christmas.

Am proud to see members of our community helping others. Anyone who has ever seen a vegetable field after freeze couldn't help but think, "What a waste." Several truck loads of these vegetables were sent to various institutions which care for children. They might as well have them, as for them to go to waste in the field, only to be plowed under.

After having heard much about the smell of the new lettuce cigarettes, I finally had the opportunity to smell one the other day. Have finally decided what they smell like. Have you ever driven past an alfalfa dehydrating plant with the car window rolled down, or with it rolled up, for that matter? If you have, you'll know what I'm talking about.

I believe that most smokers expect them to taste and smell different from the regular tobacco cigarettes. If one didn't know what he was smoking, I don't think that he couldn't tell anymore difference between the lettuce and some different brands of tobacco.

"Every one to whom much is given, of him will much be required."

The Response Of A Thankful Heart

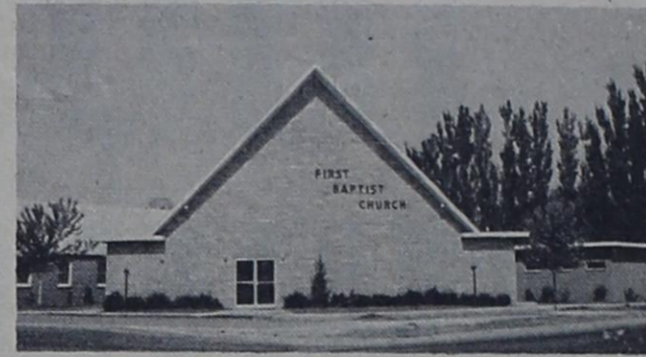

Do you recall the story of Jesus and the ten lepers? (See Luke 17:12-19.) All were healed. Only one remembered to bring the response of a thankful heart and express gratitude to the Master for his healing ministry. The others were apparently so busy enjoying their new health that they had no time to express their gratitude.

The response of thanksgiving is an inner reality, an expression of the soul, an attitude toward all of life. This suggests that expressing appreciation is something more than simply good manners. The child is taught to say the magic words "Please" and "Thank you" and to do so is regarded as good manners. But there must be more to thanksgiving than merely social courtesy. The clerk in the store whose perfunctory thanks in tone and spirit is so obviously routine and meaningless; the mumbled thanks at the family table when one is passed the salt; the nod in the direction of God on the Sabbath Day when opportunity for prayer is given in the worship service -- are not these largely synthetic when it comes to the real art of appreciation?

Thanksgiving which has the inner reality and outward attitude of a truly thankful heart does not depend on outward circumstances alone. In other words, here is no fair-weather thanksgiving. The attitude of thankful, heartfelt gratitude continues through all of life and is the response of a grateful heart to a loving and good God. All we have has come from God, and if we believe God is good and his purpose is love, we can believe we are never outside his care. For His goodness toward us we must always be thankful.

For Share of District Title --

Determined Mustangs Upset Vega, 8-6

Putting out their best overall effort of the season when the chips were down, the Bovina Mustangs earned a tie for the District 1-B title and the right to advance into the Class B playoffs with a come-from-behind 8-6 over Vega there Friday night.

The Mustangs' win over Vega, which was previously undefeated in district play, plus Happy's 15-13 decision over Nazareth, made Bovina and the Longhorns co-champions. Bovina is the district playoff representative because of its win over the team it tied with, Vega. Had Nazareth won from Happy, the Swifts would also have had just one loss and there would have been a three-way tie for the championship. Bovina lost to Nazareth while Nazareth was beaten by Vega and Happy. Vega was heavily favored to win over the Mustangs. The Longhorns had an 8-1 record going into the tilt, having lost only to powerful Groom by a one-touchdown margin in an early season game. Bovina's record is now 6-4.

The host team scored the first time it had possession of the ball, midway through the first quarter, and it appeared at that point that the dopsters who made Vega the favorite might be right.

The upset-minded Mustangs, however, had different ideas and weren't long in letting them be known. They scored on a 63-yard drive immediately following the Vega touchdown.

Halfback Scotty Rundell climaxed the drive by tallying the tying six points on a five-yard jaunt. Quarterback Jerry Roach then passed to Rundell, who was all alone in the end zone for the two extra points which proved to be the winning margin.

Bovina received the opening kickoff. Rundell returned it from the 20 to the 41 and then raked on six more yards on the first play from scrimmage. Eight more plays got the ball on the 30 yard line in Vega territory before the drive bogged down and the Mustangs lost possession on downs.

Demonstrating their ballyhooed power, the hosts promptly set sail down field to paydirt. They covered the 70 yards in nine plays with Quarterback Johnny Halliburton going the last 25 yards for the score.

An attempted running play around right end for the extra points was halted by the Mustang defenders and the score was Bovina 0-Vega 6.

The Pontes didn't like the prospects of being behind in the scoring and quickly did something about it.

Roach returned the kickoff from the 20 to the 37, Rundell made two to the 39, Harris got one and Rundell six to bring up a fourth and one situation. Vega was penalized five yards to give Bovina a first down on the 49 in the Longhorns' end of the field. After a three-yard loss, Roach passed to Rundell for 16 yards and a first down on the 36.

Halfback Dean Stanberry made eight and then Rundell two more for a first down on the 26. Stanberry made five more to the 21. Roach threw a stray aerial to set the stage for an 11-yard gallop by Fullback Carl Harris and a first down on the 10. Harris then made five more to the five and from there Rundell sailed over for the tying points.

The extra points pass put the frosting on the cake and while the spectators didn't realize it at the time, provided the victory margin.

The Longhorns roared back downfield following the kickoff, however, and made it to Bovina's nine-yard line before losing the ball on downs. On a fourth down play from the nine a Halliburton pass was dropped in the end zone.

The game changed its tune from offense to defense at this point. The teams exchanged punts following short drives by each prior to the end of the first half.

Vega threatened again late in the third period, driving to the 10 yard line, before loosing the ball on downs.

The Pontes surged to Vega's 22 yard line early in the fourth stanza, but a fumble turned the ball back to Vega. The Longhorns launched a long drive from there which with a field goal which was blocked by Bo-vina's Kenneth Webb from the 22 yard line.

The determined Mustang defense held Vega in check during the last two quarters and proved to be the difference in the ballgame. The Mustangs, with their backs to the wall especially in the last quarter, were consistently able to come up with the big defensive plays to halt the Longhorns short of the goal line.

Roman Ramirez paced the defenders, who all had a lot to be proud of in the all-important win.

Rundell was the leading ball carrier with 106 net yards in 20 tries. Harris carried 14 yards for 70 and Stanberry made 52 yards in 11 trips.

Roach completed two passes, other than for the extra points, for a total of 21 yards.

They will split the total $9 for first, second and third places, three ways for $3 each.

Community Clinic --

Christmas Card Project Now Has Definite Goal

Bovina's Christmas Card Project has a goal this year for the first time in its three-year history.

Funds raised through the project will be added to those available for constructing a community clinic in Bovina.

For the past two years, the Christmas Card Project has been operating without a definite purpose. Approximately, $1200 has been earned during those two years.

Sponsored by Bovina Woman's Study Club, the project operates like this: People deposit the amount of money they would ordinarily spend for Christmas cards mailed locally into the Christmas Card Fund at First State Bank of Bovina. Names of donors to the fund are published in a large Christmas card-type ad in the Christmas issue of The Blade.

All civic organizations in the community recently voted to have the Christmas Card funds applied to the clinic project. "We feel that this will greatly increase interest in the project now that we have a definite goal," a Study Club spokesman said.

Deadline for people making a deposit to the fund and having their names included in the Community Christmas Card will be Monday, December 20.

Donors are asked to sign their despot slips as they want their names to appear in the paper.

Mustang Band To Lubbock

Bovina Mustang Band attended University Interscholastic League (UIL) marching contests for the southern region of the Texas Panhandle yesterday (Tuesday) in Jones Stadium in Lubbock.

Of the band which numbers 62 and includes eighth through 12th grades, 53 members marched. They were in competition with other class B schools from the area such as Whiteface, Shallowater, Wilson and Anton.

This is Bovina's first time to attend the marching contest with the southern region. In previous years they have gone to Canyon with the northern region. In 1964 the band came home with a III rating and in 1963 with a II.

Band Director Joe Wayne Harper reports that band members went to Lubbock with high hopes of bringing home a I rating for 1965.

In the rules of the UIL, each band marches from five to eight minutes and perform certain drills to music. Both marching and playing are judged.

Last week before the band went to Lubbock, Bill Woods, band director at Levelland High School, and Harper's former band director, came to Bovina to clinic the band. He gave constructive criticism to band members on their playing and marching.
