BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Ellen Hunsucker entertained in honor of her little daughter, Mary Alice, on her 4th birthday Thursday, July 15, on the lawn at her home.

The little guests assembled at 4 o'clock. After an hour or so of playing enjoyable games and contests, little gifts were presented to the winners of the various contests. These winners were: Carolyn Reeves, Wanda Joyce Hall, Laura Ann Thompson, Jean Ray Moreman, Sarah Ann Rains, Anita Bain, Gene Wilson Caldwell. Then several group pictures were taken of the little guests, after which pop and sandwiches were served.

The birthday cake, lighted by 4 mint green candles and decorated with pink rosebuds, formed the center piece of the refreshment table. Candy with small American flags was given as favors. Assisting the hostess were Letha and Vera Bain and Dorothy Jean Riebersen.

Many lovely gifts were presented to the honoree. The guests were: Blanche Sue Dudley, Gene Wilson Caldwell, Bobbie Lee Hall, Joy Blankenship, Mary Sue Seales, Charlene Barnett, Laura Ann and Betty Thompson, Jean Ray Moreman, Sarah Ann Rains, Carolyn Reeves, Wanda Joyce Hall, Hilda Ruth Burden, Jackie Quisenberry, Anita Bain, Jean Beach, Ochanita Heath, Dolores Pyle, Letha and Vera Bain, Dorothy Jean Riebersen, Wayne and Elmer Lee Ford, Kenneth Swinney, Aubrey Lee Cherry, Corky and Mary Alice Hunsucker, Mesdames Charles Barnett, T. Nazarene Revival

We are glad to announce through the columns of our local paper that our summer revival will start Aug. 1st and will be conducted by the pastor, with Miss Agatha Lovelace as song evangelist and Miss Audrey Brandon of Berger as pianist.

We will have an open air meeting just back of the Nazarene Church and everyone is invited to attend and help us in the salvation of the lost. We give a special invitation to all singers to come and help us with the music.

Mrs. E. R. Hooker and daughter, Betty, visited in Clovis, N. Mex. last week. A niece, Louise Porter, returned home with them for a visit. Mrs. Hooker broadcasted over Station RICA in Clovis and K & N C in Amarillo.

Armstrong-Blankenship

Wendall Armstrong of Berger and Miss Nettie Blankenship of Memphis were united in marriage Saturday, July 24, in Ft. Worth, with Rev. T. E. Durham, Baptist minister, officiating. After the ceremony the couple left on a short wedding trip to Dallas and other points. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Joyce Armstrong and daughter, Joyce Dee, of Los Angeles, Calif.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Armstrong of Berger, former Hedley residents. He attended the local schools, graduating from Hedley high school in 1934. He is employed by Phillips 66 Oil Co. at Berger, where the couple plan to make their home.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blankenship of Hedley. She also attended the Hedley schools, graduating in the class of 1935. She is also a graduate beautician and has for some time been employed in the Greenhaw Beauty Shop at Memphis.

Both bride and groom grew to young womanhood and manhood in Hedley, and have a host of friends here who will join the Informer in extending congratulations and best wishes for a happy future.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. R. W. Seales entertained Monday afternoon, July 26, with a party at her home honoring her daughter, Mary Sue, on her seventh birthday. She was assisted in entertaining by Misses Theresa Bain and Pauline Boliver. Numerous games were played on the lawn, and pictures of the group were made during the afternoon. Fans and whistles were given to the little guests as favors.

After the many nice gifts of the honoree had been displayed, the lovely white and green birthday cake was cut and served, together with ice cream to the following: Corky and Mary Alice Hunsucker, Sarah Ann Rains, June and Mary Lou Rutherford, Ochanita Heath, Letha, Vera, and Anita Bain, Hilda Ruth Burden, Billy Jack Land, Lynn Cherry, Bobbie Kidd, Joe Wall, Jackie and Patricia Ruth Land, Kenneth Swinney, Joel Plunk, Jackie Quisenberry, Lotella and Theresa Mae Long, Geraldine Land, Jostie Plunk, Theresa Bain, Pauline Boliver, Mesdames Jack Land, Quisenberry and Hunsucker, Mr. and Mrs. Seales and the honoree. What Is The Constitution?
By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

It has become the fashion in recent weeks for certain public officials to say that the Constitution is fading from the current political picture. They are wrong. No attempt to minimize its importance can alter the fact that the Constitution will remain a dominant issue so long as the American people are determined to resist all efforts to curtail their individual rights and privileges. But the Constitution is far more than a political issue. It is more than a written code of fundamental law. It is the permanent expression of the American spirit—the American Way of Life. There are today—and there will continue to be—men, in public office and out, who don't approve of the American Way of Life. Charmed by modern European experiments, they would like to change our basic system of government by the people, to a form which places all political power in the hands of one or more officials. The tragic evidences of lost liberties, threatened war and religious intolerance which spring from such dictatorships do not deter them. But the Constitution does. Therefore they would like us to forget about it—and its safeguards—for a while. But we shouldn't forget. So long as the Constitution lives, our liberties are secure. If it falls, those liberties—and the American Way of Life—fall with it. Eternal vigilance is still the price of liberty.

● No man can really live by bread alone. Yes, we admit he'll EXIST, but there will be heavy lines of care running down his face, he'll forget how to smile.

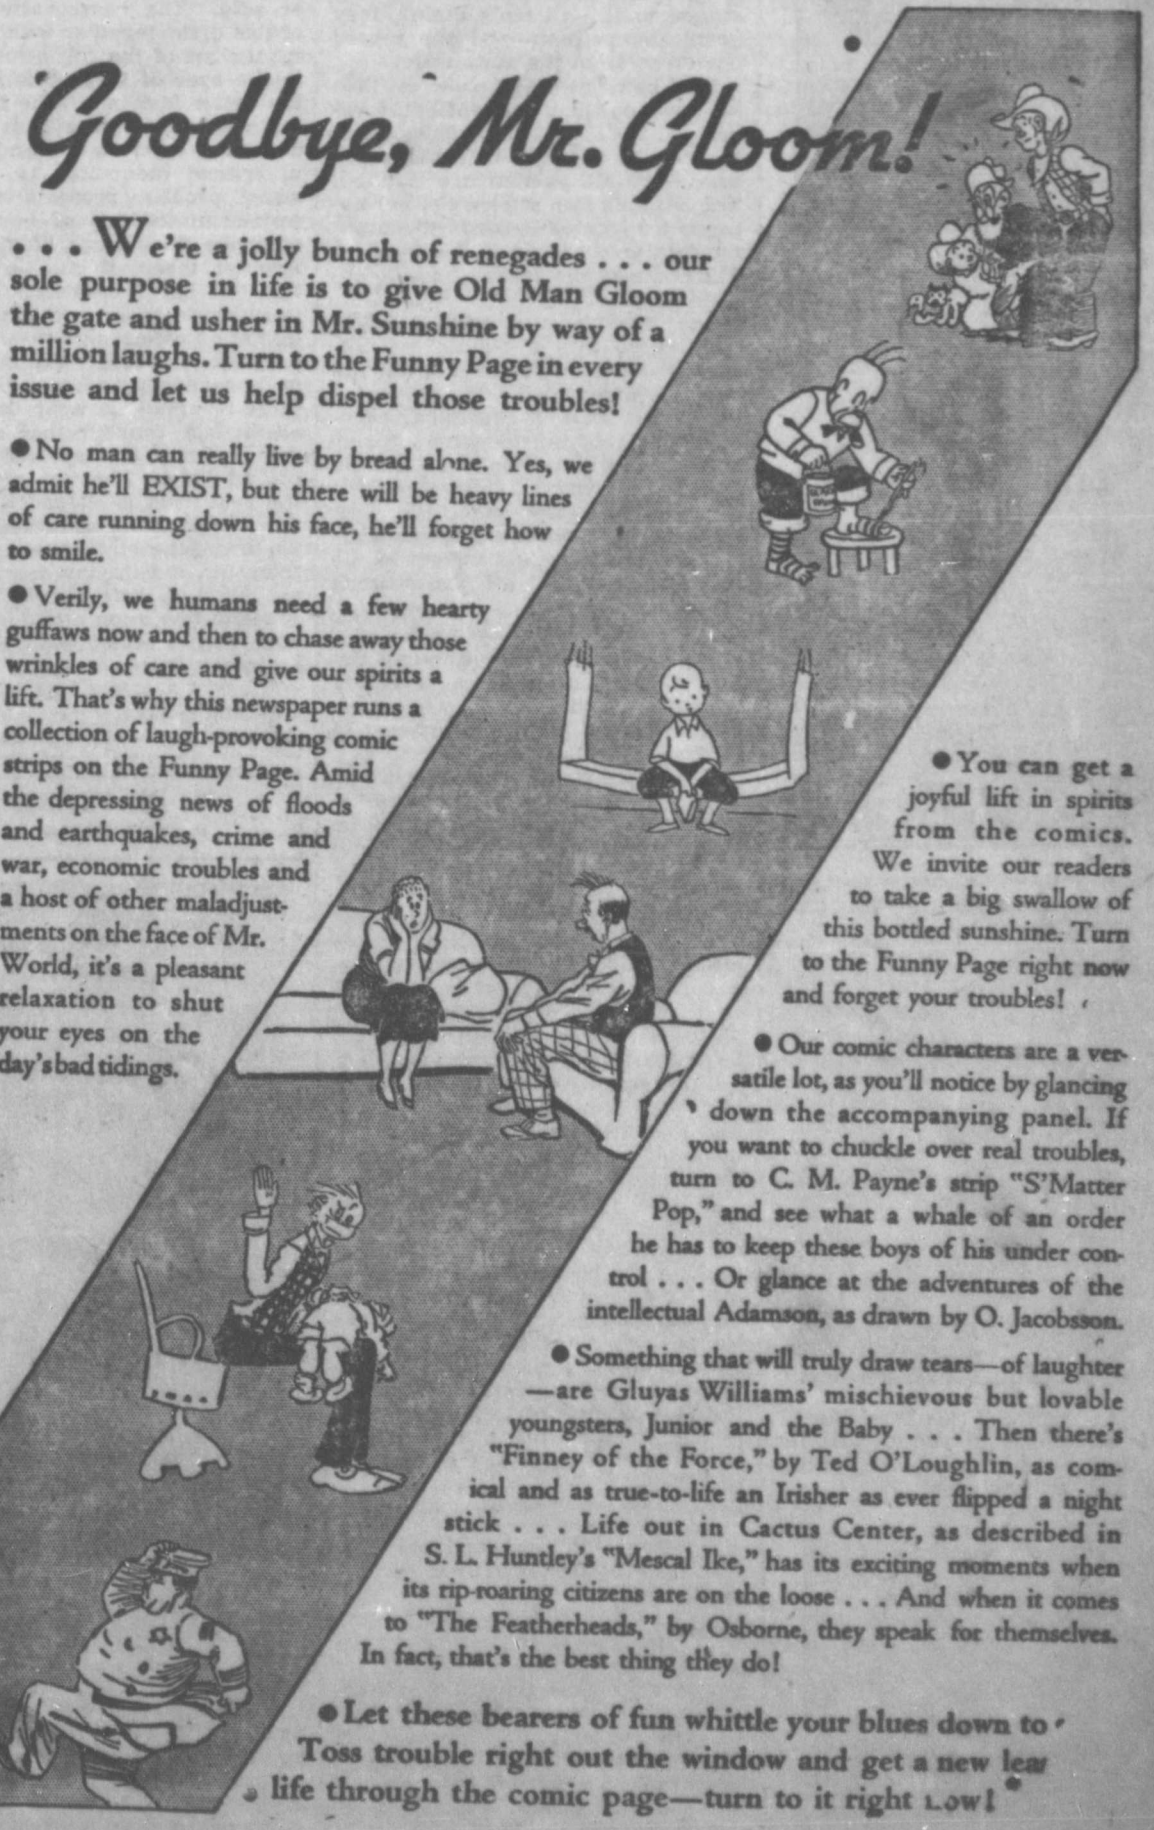

● Verily, we humans need a few hearty guffaws now and then to chase away those wrinkles of care and give our spirits a lift. That's why this newspaper runs a collection of laugh-provoking comic strips on the Funny Page. Amid the depressing news of floods and earthquakes, crime and war, economic troubles and a host of other maladjustments on the face of Mr. World, it's a pleasant relaxation to shut your eyes on the day's bad tidings.

● You can get a joyful lift in spirits from the comics. We invite our readers to take a big swallow of this bottled sunshine. Turn to the Funny Page right now and forget your troubles!

● Our comic characters are a versatile lot, as you'll notice by glancing down the accompanying panel. If you want to chuckle over real troubles, turn to C. M. Payne's strip "S'Matter Pop," and see what a whale of an order he has to keep these boys of his under control... Or glance at the adventures of the intellectual Adamson, as drawn by O. Jacobsson.

● Something that will truly draw tears—of laughter—are Guyton Williams' mischievous but lovable youngsters, Junior and the Baby... Then there's "Finney of the Force," by Ted O'Loughlin, as comical and as true-to-life an Irishman as ever flipped a night stick... Life out in Cactus Center, as described in S. L. Huntley's "Mescal Ike," has its exciting moments when its rip-roaring citizens are on the loose... And when it comes to "The Featherheads," by Osborne, they speak for themselves. In fact, that's the best thing they do!

● Let these bearers of fun whittle your blues down to Toss trouble right out the window and get a new lease of life through the comic page—turn to it right now!

Alone at Party, You Can Still Enjoy It!

DEAR Mrs. Post: Doesn't my husband, who is to be an usher at a wedding, have to spend any time with me—a stranger—at the reception? I am invited to everything but none of the husbands and wives of the attendants have been asked to sit with the wedding party at breakfast, and I feel a little appalled at the thought of being entirely alone at the reception.

Answer: How busy your husband will be kept at the reception depends upon whether the reception is a formal one at which the women guests stand in line, each on the arm of an usher, who presents her to the bride and groom, or whether the guests go up to the bridal couple by themselves. But in any event your husband would certainly join you (if he does not go with you) when you arrive at the reception and introduce you to everyone in the receiving line. And unless he too is a stranger he would introduce other friends of his to you before leaving you to usher other guests. Or perhaps he will be free to stay with you until the bridal party takes its place at table.

During the breakfast he would be obliged to leave you, but since, according to your account, there will be other unattached husbands and wives there, it seems to me that you would naturally form a group together. If for any reason this is not practical, then the only thing to do is to consider the happenings around you as you would were you an onlooker at a spectacle. It is not at all embarrassing and not even unamusing if you can assume an impersonal point of view.

Probably you think I am talking nonsense. As a matter of fact, I remember an occasion many years ago when a young woman found herself alone at a party among complete strangers—and she did just that! She watched what was going on with such evident enjoyment of the picture surrounding her, that as it happened she was not long alone. But even if she had been, I am sure she would not have minded at all. To sit alone and neglected among people one knows would be another matter.

When Do You Start Calling a Boy "Mr."?

DEAR Mrs. Post: (1) At exactly what age should young people be introduced as "Miss" and "Mr." to their elders, and (2) Does your same answer to No. 1 also apply to introductions between contemporaries?

Answer: Girls are not introduced as "Miss" nor boys as "Mr." until they seem grown—this "seems" determined according to appearance and mental qualifications. But usually a girl would be introduced as "Miss" at about seventeen and a boy at nineteen or twenty. (2) No, they are given a title at a much younger age when introduced by persons whom they know slightly. On the other hand, when introduced by one of their intimate friends to another who is also an intimate friend of the one introducing them, they are called by their whole name without any titles. "Sally Green—Bill Neighbor."

Taste Governs Mourning.

DEAR Mrs. Post: I am just twenty-one and have lost my mother. What will others expect of me in the matter of mourning, both as to behavior and dress? I feel my loss deeply and I don't want others to think I don't, and yet I don't want to carry my grief so plainly that others will be depressed, nor do I want to make things worse for myself. May I go to a local athletic club to which my family belongs to use the gymnasium and to swim and play games?

Answer: How you behave indicates much more the depth of your mourning than what you wear or where you go. This does not mean to let yourself cry, or sit wrapped in your own sadness, but merely that you should behave with quiet inconspicuousness. No one expects you not to go to the houses of your friends, either when they are alone or when they are having a very few others who are also your friends. Naturally you would not go to dances or to big parties. You can, however, go to the movies with a member of your family or a friend alone. And of course you need not give up sports that can be considered exercise and are therefore necessary to your health.

Reception Rhythm.

DEAR Mrs. Post: When there is to be no dancing at the reception, what type of music does the orchestra play? I wish we could have dance music but I suppose this would be unsuitable under the circumstances.

Answer: They play popular music of the day. This can perfectly well include dance music even though no one dances.

The SUPREME COURT AND HOW IT WORKS

How to Get a Hearing
By ROBERT MERRILL

BETWEEN the Supreme court in Washington and a citizen on the Pacific coast an entire continent intervenes. But when it comes to the protection of his Constitutional rights, distance means nothing. His case in a local state or federal court may reach the Supreme court of the United States by steps easily and quickly taken.

How can he get his problem before our National Empire for a decision? Here, step by step, is the method:

Suppose, for example, a state should pass a law making a homeowner liable for the cost of repaving the street from curb to curb in front of his house.

The home-owner claims that this is a municipal expense, which the city should pay out of its general fund.

Appeals From State Court.
The city ignores his objection, files a lien against his property and threatens to sell him out for non-payment.

In the local state court the citizen's attorney moves to strike off the lien. The court, relying on the state statute, refuses. The home-owner appeals to the Supreme court of the state, which dismisses his appeal and declares that either the citizen must pay or have his house sold over his head.

"Am I through?" asks the home-owner.

"Certainly not," replies his attorney. "We'll find out what the Supreme court of the United States thinks about this."

So the home-owner's attorney sends to Washington a short printed petition, stating the facts, giving the decision of the state court and asking the United States Supreme court to order the state court to send its record for review.

State Court Supplies Record.
When this petition reaches Washington every one of the Supreme court justices separately examines it and also the printed answer of the lawyer for the state. At the justices' conference on the following Saturday morning, if all or a majority of them think there is substance in the citizen's claim, they grant the petition—and the record comes up from the state court.

The home-owner's case is then set down on the argument list. Lawyers on both sides file briefs. When the case is about to be reached for argument all parties are notified. The citizen's own attorney either appears for him or entrusts the argument to an attorney in Washington. The home-owner doesn't have to appear at all.

The case is now argued. The justices go into a huddle over it. After thorough consideration the decision is announced. The first paving of the road, it may find, peculiarly benefits the citizen's property, and therefore the cost can be assessed against it. But subsequent repavings of the space between curbs are a community responsibility, and must be paid for out of the tax money which all the citizens contribute.

State Court Reversed.
The judgment of the state Supreme court is therefore reversed, and the record is sent back across the continent with instructions to strike off the lien.

If, in such a case, the citizen has been a non-resident of the state in which this property was situated he might have sought relief in the local United States district court instead of in the state court.

If he had lost his case both there and in the local United States circuit court of appeals, his subsequent approach to the Supreme court of the United States would have been the same as in the appeal from the state court just described. The great help to the citizen in any such typical case lies in the fact that the final decision is in the hands of an umpire, concerned with constitutional rights.

In this imaginary paving case, the mayor and city council could see only community advantage in making the householder go on paying for successive repavings. Fortunately the Supreme court exists to see both sides of a picture and so to insure the citizen against loss of his property otherwise than by the due process of law guaranteed to him by the Fifth and the Fourteenth amendments to the Constitution.

Mineral in Feed for Cows
Mineral matter is very important in the feed of a dairy cow. Calcium and phosphorus make up the major portion of the mineral matter of the skeleton. These, together with other minerals, are essential in regulating the vital processes of the body. Milk production requires many minerals, the most important of which are calcium and phosphorus. Alfalfa and other legumes supply the cow with relatively large quantities of calcium, while the protein concentrates, such as cottonseed meal and wheat bran, are sources of phosphorus. A shortage of iodine will cause the calves to be born with goiters.

Here's What to Wear on Summer Day

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

AS TO what to wear on a summer day, simple flattering little gay print frocks, the more unsophisticated the smarter, are literally "running away with the show." To emphasize the summery look comes into the style picture hats that are very wide of brim. These hats are of straw, or felt, or that which is very, very new, they may be of stitched fabric, pique linen or layer upon layer of stiffened silk chiffon.

In the illustration we are showing to the right a most wearable shirt-waist-type spectator sports dress in a silk crepe with a neat Paisley patterning on a blue ground. The panel front in the skirt has pleats on either side. The conservative styling of this dress together with the quality texture of the silk gives "class" in the eyes of those who recognize the better fashions. The fabric being a sterling pure silk dye can be depended upon as a standby when in critical moments the "what-to-wear" problem presents itself. The wide-brimmed hat of burnt straw adds the final touch of distinction.

Another token of chic is the fact that this hat is crownless, and hats in fashion's realm are going crownless at an astonishing rate.

Speaking of smart millinery, there is a tendency, whether hats are large or small, to wear them in an off-the-face manner that reveals a smooth brow framed with smartly coiffed hair. The hat pictured in the oval inset is a Jean King creation in glistening white toya, a cool papier-mache straw that is just the thing for midsummer wear. A velvet band in soft blue finishes its graceful line in an artful bow at the nape of the neck. With your most summery frocks a hat of this type will carry a convincing message of chic and charm.

Designers have entered into the spirit of cottons wholeheartedly this season. It is truly a revelation to see what wonders they are doing with both sturdy and dainty sheer weaves, tuning their fashioning to formal as well as informal wear. Printed cottons especially were never more beautiful. A special feature is being made of printed cotton voiles, some of which are simply entrancing both as to their patterning and their exquisite sheerness. These voiles are so inexpensive too, women who do their own sewing can have the prettiest sort of frocks at trifling cost.

The attractive summer girls standing to the left and center in the illustration are wearing charming cotton dresses as fresh and sweet as an old-fashioned garden. The cottons that fashion them won't shrink because they have already been scientifically shrunk. The dress to the left has wee little pleatings on the skirt and is a pretty style to copy if you are making your own.

The dress centered offsets its gay print with a dainty lace-and-embroidered lingerie collar. There never was a time in fashion history when accessories counted for as much as they do this season. Not only is the most feminine looking neckwear a necessary luxury but in more ways than can here be enumerated the emphasis is placed on the value of choosing smart tuned-to-the-costume accessories. An intriguing use of bright cotton prints is made in the clever halters which are selling at the neckwear counters so briskly. These halter-vestees with their long tie-sashes are making a gesture in economy that enables the woman with a most limited budget to look well dressed at all times.

VIVID FLORALS
By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Simple daytime frocks neatly tailored of sturdy wash fabrics patterned with vibrant florals are the call of the hour. One should include several frocks of the type pictured in the summer wardrobe, especially since they are so easily made, and alluring materials guaranteed not to shrink are so easily available. This well-tailored frock is strewn all over with exotic flowers. It is a dress that will tub any number of times and never shrink a mite.

SHORT DANCE DRESS IS NEWEST FASHION

Why not wear the new short dance dresses before anyone else does? Schiaparelli introduced them, Paris immediately began wearing them, and New York is looking them over with great interest. They may be the beginning of the end for long evening gowns, as some stylists say, but the end is a long way off.

These short frocks for long evenings are very spirited and gay and young. Their swirling hemlines are more than five yards around. College girls will take them back to school this fall. The length may be anything that suits you, from six to twelve inches from the dance floor.

Tyrolean Influence Is Spreading to Accessories

Gay colors cross the border of the Tyrol—that little mountainous district in western Austria—to fashion circles in all parts of the world. From the shaving brush feather in madame's sport hat to the embroidery on the hem of her skirt, the Tyrol influences her wardrobe.

The latest and most novel Tyrolean accessory—prong initials for the handbag—were just brought out for Palm Beach wear. They are made up in many colors which madame mixes with gay abandon. Tangerine yellow, followed by red and hunter green is a garish combination inspired by the peasant girls' costumes.

The largest of the new Tyrolean initials is reminiscent of the bold lettering on children's blocks. Cut out in metal, this initial is covered over with shiny patent leather, or, a calf grain. Strung across the flap of a white pastel bag, these initials speak a dashing personality.

AROUND the HOUSE Items of Interest to the Housewife

Sealing Fish — Dipping fish in boiling water will aid in scaling them.

Brighter Pudding — Two teaspoonsful of marmalade stirred into a ground rice pudding just before it is cooked will give it the delightful flavour of fresh orange, without the bother of grating peel. The kiddies will love it.

A Curtain Tip — Casement curtains will hang in even folds if small bags of silver sand are sewn to the corners of the lower-edge hems. The sand adds just enough weight to the curtains to prevent them rolling at the edges and these "weights" can be washed with the curtains.

Cleaning Silverware — When your silverware becomes tarnished, place it in an aluminum saucepan and cover with hot water in which potatoes have been boiled. Leave for an hour, then rinse and it will look like new, without the usual cleaning.

Washing Flannels — Next time you are washing flannels or woollens put about a teaspoonful of olive oil in the water. It will keep them beautifully soft.

To Keep Icing on Cake — Sift a little flour over the top of the cake before icing it and the icing will not run off.

A Warm Meal—Instead of putting food into the oven to keep hot for late-comers, cover it closely with a tin or basin, and set it over a saucepan of hot water. It will keep hot without drying.

Pineapple Sherbet — Two and one-half cups crushed pineapple, one and one-third cups sweetened condensed milk, one cup water, four tablespoons lemon juice, orange juice. Combine the lemon juice, water and crushed pineapple. Blend with the condensed milk and place in freezer. Let stand to ripen packed in the ice and salt for an hour after it is frozen and the dasher removed. Makes a quart and a half. Orange flavor always brings out pineapple, and half a cup of orange juice and only half a cup of water will prove delicious.

Uncle Phil Says:

Without the Thrills

Sooner we learn that the world isn't full of ecstasies, the sooner we can settle down to small pleasures.

Remorse is not as piercing as it is when coupled with apprehension.

"A man with a sunny disposition seldom has a hot temper."

Why say it? Nine times out of ten it is probably not worth saying. That's what the people who have to listen to it think.

What a Test It Is

It is told of a sage that one day after the fashion of his school, he was questioned, "Master, what is the test of good manners?" "It's being able to put up pleasantly with bad ones," was the quick reply.

Polished brass will pass upon more people than rough gold.

In order to control your children you have got to understand them. Do you?

Cultivate Foresight

"Our eyes are placed in front because it is more important to look ahead than look back."—An old saying.

Going somewhere at fifty miles an hour is employed by some as a substitute for drinking.

The good old days: There was only one Napoleon in Europe then.

An apple pie just out of the oven creates its own demand.

Pressure Cooker School to be at Thompson Bros.

A Ball Pressure Cooker School will be conducted in cooperation with Thompson Bros. Co July 30 and 31 at 2:00 P. M. by Sylvia
Gray, Home Economist

The classes will be conducted to educate homemakers in the selection and preparation of the proper foods in cooking and canning

Homemakers includes both those who prepare their own meals and those having servants who prepare the meals for them.

The latter class will find it to their interest from an economical as well as from a health standpoint to know what this help is doing in the preparation of food that goes on the table, also helpful in case of an emergency.

The Ball Pressure Cooker has proven very helpful for those who have only a limited time for meal preparation as complete meals may be cooked in less than one fourth the usual cooking time and with the use of only one burner.

Those who are familiar with Pressure Cookers will learn the latest ideas and improvements.
There is no branch of foods work that undergoes so continuous and regular advancement and improvement as the use of the Pressure Cooker for cooking and canning

Complete meals will be prepared, fruits, meats and vegetables will be canned during the school.

The Homemakers of Hedley are invited to attend the school at Thompson Bros. at 2 o'clock
July 30 and 31.
