P. T. A Sponsors Ball Game

Three good basketball games were enjoyed last Friday night in the high school auditorium. The Hedley farmers lost to the Mc Knight farmers, and the Hedley merchants defeated the fireboys, both games being very close. The high school girls and P. T. A. women played a tie game, 6 to 6. Proceeds amounted to about $18, and will go to the Parent Teacher Ass'n, which sponsored the games.

NOTICE

Join the fun with the Juniors in their two one act plays, Friday March 7, at 7:45 p. m. in the High School Auditorium. Never before such enjoyment on any one program.

Baptist Church Notes

The attendance and interest were much better the past Sunday. The presence of several visitors was appreciated. It is a joy to have company at church but, sometimes company blinds those who would go to church by Sunday visiting. If you were absent last Sunday, we missed you and you missed much.

What About You

If all the others came like you, would there seldom be a vacant pew?
Or would the opposite be true?
If all the others gave like you? Then how much giving would your church do?
Would the bills be paid as they fall due?
If all the others gave like you?
If all the others worked like you, then how much service would your church do?
Would the Master's plan be carried through?
If all the others worked like you?

Next Sunday the church will observe the Supper of Our Lord. The pastor will bring a brief message concerning "God's Plan in the Lord's Supper".

Several women met at the church Tuesday for an all day service of study and prayer for Home Missions. They report a good day.

Last Sunday afternoon two car loads of our people went to Estelene for an associational Training Union meeting. The next meeting will be with the local church in June.

Twenty children were present for the Sun Beam meeting last Wednesday, Feb 28. These children are working—so watch them grow.

"I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord." Ps 122:1 You are welcome to worship with us.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

Shrubby should be pruned in the late winter rather than the spring. Old stems should be pruned out as near the bottom as possible rather than new shoots snipped off.

To prevent the inside of the cover of a catsup bottle discoloring, coat it with paraffin.

Keep small objects such as buttons, marbles and pins off the floor and away from small children.

To keep a floor in good condition requires more than watchfulness. Besides a regular monthly waxing for the whole room, those areas which are walked over the most should be waxed more often.

Gas ovens will not rust if the oven door is left open a few minutes after gas has been turned off.

Prunes should be stewed in the water in which they have been soaked.

In setting table for guests allow 24 to 30 inches for each person if you want them to be comfortable.

A good way to keep the kitchen table clean while cooking and baking is to keep a shallow pan or utility tray on your table to hold spoons, measuring cups, knives, etc.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels, and Comfort Stomach, too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, stomach upset, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with Syrup Pepsin to save your touchy stomach from further distress. For years, many doctors have used pepsin compounds as vehicles, or carriers to make other medicines agreeable to your stomach. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative-Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring welcome relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin makes this laxative so comfortable and easy on your stomach. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna and your druggist today. Try one laxative that comforts your stomach, too.

Our Vanity Hurt

That which makes the vanity of others unbearable to us is that which wounds our own, — La Rochefoucauld.

MORE PEOPLE DIE IN MARCH THAN IN ANY OTHER MONTH

This is because your resistance is generally lower after a long, hard winter. Your blood may have thinned out due to winter and instead of a rich, red blood you may have thin, weak blood. In such cases B-L Tonic will help nature restore your thin, weak blood to a healthy, rich, red blood. You need good healthy blood to have pep and vitality. B-L Tonic is a Tonic, Appetizer and Stomachic. Good for young and old. Insist on B-L Tonic at your druggist.

Blush of Men

Men blush less for their crimes than for their weaknesses and vanity. — La Bruyere.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward C. Wayne

Nazi Troop Detachments Enter Spain; Hitler Threatens New Sub Warfare; U. S. Invokes Priorities on Aluminum And Tools, as New Defense Measure

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

ONE OF WAR: Pepped Upward

Generally speaking, the advent of March saw the war news on all fronts stepped upward to new peaks of activity, rumor and expectation—a far more bitter and decisive war than 1940.

There were more than minimal hints that Hitler was preparing to launch vital moves on at least two fronts, with possibility that he might launch a third theater of war to his east and might include Japan to the west over a fourth.

Most war observers returning to the country and able to speak freely expected the invasion attempt to be headed somewhere between March 15 and May 1.

Resumption of test daylight raids over England were viewed as a certain sign that the day was not far off.

The move in the Balkans was apparently being made, with Bulgaria scheduled as the avenue through which Nazi hordes would be given open road to the Greek northern frontier.

Signs were less definite that this might be accompanied by a move toward Italy in Africa, or that Hitler would make a general Mediterranean offensive part of his spring plan.

The move which sent detachments of Nazi troops into Spain was explained by German sources as the sending of aid to Santander, badly wrecked

With the lease-lend bill close to a final vote stage, the curtain was about to rise on an increased tempo in the war, and opposition members of congress in both house and senate were loud in their claims that 30 days would see this country added to those actively in the war.

INDUSTRY: Priorities

First real force of the current U. S. defense economy was felt by the aluminum and machine tool producers as mandatory priorities for these materials were announced. E. R. Stettinius Jr., priorities director of the Office of Production Management of the Defense Commission issued the orders requiring that producers fill all defense orders in preference to nondefense when necessary to meet defense order delivery dates.

In his statement Stettinius said that OPM had tried to keep allocation of aluminum and machine tools on a voluntary basis but it had become "necessary and desirable" to enforce priorities so that defense industries could get the supplies they need.

FAR EAST: Crisis for U. S.

Most vital to this nation was the crisis on the Far Eastern front, perhaps part of the major Hitler plan to weaken England by embroiling the United States and Britain in a war with Japan.

In this great diplomatic poker game the stakes were the maximum. Steps in the struggle, much of which was being carried on behind closed doors and in diplomatic chambers, became gradually news items.

The British announced that the waters off the Malay states were being mined. The Chinese reported 150,000 Japanese troops were ready to move in the general direction of Singapore.

The Dutch East Indies called all ships into neutral ports. These were outward manifestations that Japan, under Axis pressure, was staging a show in the South Pacific, a show that had repercussions from the White House when the President gently chided newsmen and members of congress for letting General Marshall's statement of the seriousness of the situation become public property.

In this game Germany was seen as a kibitzer, but one who had Japan handling her chips on a fifty-fifty basis.

In the midst of it all came the announcement from Japan that Nippon stood ready to act as mediator to conduct negotiations for peace by all nations anywhere who were involved in war.

This move received a cold reception in Washington, Sumner Welles saying that with conditions at their present pass, this nation was looking to deeds, not words, and that Japan,

MUN, SPAIN. — German sentries are shown here "goose-stepping" on their posts at the point where Spanish territory meets that of "occupied" France. Detachments of Nazi troops have been reported to have entered Spain.

AMBASSADOR NOMURA "Talked peace, discounted war."

instead of being a peacemaker, was stirring up trouble by her actions and troop and naval moves.

That Japan was either divided in her reactions in the game of diplomatic and military bluff was evident from what was made public. Ambassador Nomura talked peace, discounted war. Japanese papers, some of them, said Nomura's task (of preserving peace) was hopeless.

Two things appeared certain in the Far East. Hitler was moving warily and under cover, and Japan was moving under pressure from her Axis partners, apparently unwillingly.

U. S. DEFENSE . . . in the news

OPM Associate Director Hillman said 2,000,000 persons are now employed in non-agricultural industry—an increase of 2,200,000 since last May—and the greatest increase in any similar period. Secretary of Labor Perkins said a survey of 11 key defense industries revealed "at least one-third of the plants covered were operating at least six days per week."

FWA Administrator Carmody announced that the army and navy will select tenants and set rentals for defense homes occupied by their enlisted or civilian personnel and the other defense homes will be only for the use of families whose principal wage earners hold essential defense jobs. The defense worker's rental will be set according to his income and not the size of the home.

'Pie-Face'

CHICAGO, ILL. — America's most delicious cherry pie of the year was made by Elsie Benson (above), 17-year-old Geneva, New York, miss and her masterpiece won for her first place in the annual National Cherry Pie Baking contest. The pie earned for her a $100 prize and a trip to Washington, D. C.

LEASE-LEND: Fight Bitter

The closing days of the lease-lend bill fight were bitter, but the outcome was portended when final polls showed 52 senators ready to vote for it, and 20 opposed.

This was somewhat less than the majority which administration forces had predicted would pass the bill and put it into effect, but still a comfortable margin.

But the fighting in the last hours was bitter, and many senators went far out on verbal limbs in predicting what would happen when the bill becomes law.

Senator Nye boldly declared "war by April 1." Senator Reynolds provided the most startling flop away from Rooseveltian ranks and made a three-hour speech against the bill which used up 15 columns of reading space in those anti-administration papers which printed its full text.

The poll during the last days showed 46 Democrats, 5 Republicans and 1 Independent for the bill, with 8 Democrats, 11 Republicans and 1 Progressive against it.

Uncommitted were 11 Democrats and 12 Republicans, 23 votes and it would take all of them to have upset the majority of those who were willing to commit themselves.

The comments of most of those who said they would help pass the bill seemed to be along the line that they were voting for the bill with "some reluctance," but felt that it was the "only thing" to do.

But those opposed were vitriolic in their condemnation, ranging all the way from Nye, who called it "the most outrageous grab of power in American history" to Reynolds, who attempted to make his opposition sound more restrained.

SOCIAL: Revolution

The old British caste system showed signs of crumbling under the pressure of the national emergency.

The social "upper crust" were taking their hats off to the East End type of Londoner who was proving himself a hero in the war.

Smashed beyond recognition in the September air raids, and with its population suffering the heaviest casualties of the war, the East Enders showed their mettle as Britishers, and refused to be driven from that part of the old town.

They were reported still living there, in corrugated iron shelters amongst the rubble of their former tenements, braving the air raids by day and night, and going about their usual tasks calmly.

This sort of thing is not getting them invited into the homes of Mayfair, but it was seen as bringing about a social revolution that may shatter the old caste system and bring a different way of life to the average "man-in-the-street" type of Briton.

Not only in that way, but in matters of economics a big change was seen for England. Instead of being the financial and economic power of the world, the England of the future was visioned as a sort of "half-farm, half-factory country" shipping manufactured goods and emigrants to the Western hemisphere, and leaving the dominions increasing amount of autonomy.

Even those who feel certain that Britain will emerge the victor in the war, and as such the arbiter of the new rearrangement of world power believe that the British empire will be much decentralized.

Leading in this movement, with the apparent approval of Prime Minister Churchill was Ernest Bevin, labor minister, who recently gave out his immediate objectives as:

Nationalization of all transport, road, rail, and water; state control of the Bank of England; public ownership of all coal, gas, electric and oil resources of the country.

On top of Bevin's promises of better things for the working man and woman, Churchill has promised better educational advantages for the masses.

Star Dust STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

IF RALPH MURPHY, Paramount director, needed to make a little extra money he could write a book entitled "Ten Lessons on How to Catch a Man" and the shekels would roll in.

Here's what he has to say about it. (He's a graduate of Syracuse university, has been a stage and motion picture actor, producer and director for years, so he's qualified to talk.)

"I have three girls in 'Las Vegas Nights.' Each would use a different technique. Each technique would require eight reels to shoot. So—I let Constance Moore get her man with the direct-approach technique. I give Virginia Dale a man before the picture starts, and I leave Lillian Cornell out on a limb with nary a male in sight.

"The allure technique is used by a woman conscious of the fact that she has an enormous amount of feminine appeal for men—a screen example would be Hedy Lamarr. Flattery is used by women ranging from the baby-talk girls to the mothering type. There's the girl who gives the impression that she's helpless; men want to stand between her and the world—Bonnie Baker's an example.

"There's the girl who uses the direct approach; spots the man she wants and makes no bones about it; she's a good sport, a playmate, and picks a man with the same characteristics. Barbara Stanwyck's a screen example. And the coquette, whose eyes say 'if you chase me I'll run—but not too far.' Like Virginia Dale on the screen.

"Then there's the one who is not brilliant and not dull, not beautiful and not homely; every girl asks 'What's she got?' The answer is 'She's got the man that a lot of other girls wanted.'

Some other girl may have Errol Flynn for a husband now; Olivia de Havilland's married him five times —on the screen—and when she finished "Santa Fe Trail" she fled to the equally ardent arms of James Cagney, in "Strawberry Blonde." She was a little dubious about it; after all, Cagney's had a bad movie reputation where women were concerned since he squashed that grapefruit in a lady's face. But Olivia is safe in this one—he's cast as a belligerent dentist who gets into plenty of fights, but all with men.

Twenty-four of the show girls in "Ziegfeld Girl" voted for their favorite movie actress the other day. Vivian Leigh got eight votes, and Bette Davis and Greta Garbo each got five. But—Judy Garland, Lana Turner and Hedy Lamarr couldn't be voted for. They're in the picture.

Billy the Kid has finally joined the side of law and order. It happened recently near Tucson, Ariz., where Robert Taylor was made a deputy sheriff of Pima county. Taylor plays the fast-shooting desperado of the 1870s in Metro's picture, "Billy the Kid," which was on location in the Southwest at the time Taylor took over his duties.

They were shooting scenes on the Double U ranch in Pima county when Sheriff Ed Echols paid the troupe a visit and pinned a shiny new badge on the star's shirt.

Burgess Meredith rarely wears a hat, but he's exceptionally well provided with places to hang one. At present he has four homes. (1) His 200-year-old farmhouse in Rockland county, N. Y. (2) Jimmy Stewart's bachelor establishment in Brentwood, where he has stayed on his previous Hollywood sojourns. (3) The house in West Los Angeles which belongs to Wayne Morris, which he and Franchot Tone rent; it's known as Annex No. 1 to Stewart's abode. (4) A small beach house which he rented at Santa Monica, called Annex No. 2—he took it with the idea of week-ending there, but so far has been so busy that he's hardly seen it. But he has hopes, now that he's completing his work in "United Artists" "That Uncertain Feeling."

ODDS AND ENDS—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hart in Honolulu listened to radio's "Hilop House" last year, and liked the story and its star, Bess Johnson, so much that they named their home for the serial. Recently Mrs. Johnson learned that all her Hawaiian Islands' mail is being delivered to the Harls. . . For the betterment of Latin-American relations, Parks Johnson and Wally Butterworth are making a ten-thousand-mile junket to Mexico City, Puerto Rico and Havana, for three "Vox Pop" broadcasts. . . "The Uniform" ends Clark Gable's two-months' vacation and brings Rosalind Russell back to the Metro lots after an absence of more than a year

If You Read in Bed You'll Want This Bag

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

THIS bag was planned as a hospital gift for someone who was finding days in bed difficult enough without having books, magazines, writing materials and spectacle case scattered about and forever getting lost. If you like to take an assortment of reading matter to bed, sick or well, you will enjoy a bag like this. Its hanger hook may be sewed to box springs and there you are with everything at hand.

The bag shown here was made of a remnant of heavy cotton upholstery material in tones of green with a touch of red in the pattern. The red was repeated in the saten lining. The sketch gives all the dimensions and shows how the lining and the outside part were made. A coat hanger was cut down to measure 12 inches from end to end and was placed between the lining and the outside; these being stitched together around the top, as illustrated.

NOTE: As a service to our readers Mrs. Spears has prepared a series of six booklets of her original ideas. Each booklet contains 22 home-making projects with illustrated directions. Booklets are numbered from 1 to 6, numbers 3 and 4 containing directions for other types of bags and door pockets that will make house-keeping easier. Booklets are 10c each and may be ordered direct from:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS, Bedford Hills, New York. Enclose 10 cents for each book ordered. Name, Address.

Because of the length of this article, it will be printed in installments. There will be an installment each week until the article is finished.

We went to Elwood Park to eat our lunch. After we ate we had a lot of fun playing. We played on the swings and merry-go-round. The slide was the most fun. Even Mrs. Hall, Miss Clark, Mr. Bowlin, J. G. Guill, and Marvin Baker tried the slide with us. We hated to leave the park. We hope we can go back sometime soon.

Travis Alexander
Paul Marsland

Our first stop after lunch was at the Santa Fe depot. Our guide took us to the Santa Fe yards. We took several pictures here. We saw an electric saw that worked iron. The guide took us to another machine that cut iron with a large blade. It was run by electricity, also. We went through another door into the fire room where we saw a large oven that is used to heat iron. The man started a large electric hammer that is used to pound iron into shape. Outside we saw the Santa Fe oil and water tanks. Next the guide showed us the building where the electricity and steam is made for the depot and the yards. The last building was the round house where they were they were cleaning and repairing the locomotives. We went through the cab of a locomotive, and saw the instrument board. The break and lever was by the engineer's seat. There was a string to blow the whistle. The fire box was between the engineer's and fireman's seat.

Our guide told us that they do not work on passenger locomotives in Amarillo. They can travel on out to Los Angeles before being sent to the round house.

Threat of German Invasion of Britain And Congressional Lease-Lend Debate Present Grim Picture of War Situation; Italians Continue to Fall Back in Africa

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

CRISIS:

For Lease-Lend

The real crisis in the lease-lend legislation found a well-defined public response to the antagonistic efforts of the isolationists and the non-interventionists.

Perhaps the Allis-Chalmers strike was the most serious, affecting as it did not only that single industry, but as Allis-Chalmers was making parts, it meant a serious hold-up all along the line, particularly in planes and tanks.

But the most striking labor development of the week was the statement issued by Henry Ford through one of his industrial lieutenants. Ford authorized this man to say in

LABOR:

Raises Its Head

The domestic labor situation became steadily worse during the weeks that the lease-lend bill was "on the tapis" in Washington.

Perhaps the Allis-Chalmers strike was the most serious, affecting as it did not only that single industry, but as Allis-Chalmers was making parts, it meant a serious hold-up all along the line, particularly in planes and tanks.

But the most striking labor development of the week was the statement issued by Henry Ford through one of his industrial lieutenants. Ford authorized this man to say in

SIDNEY HILLMAN

Mr. Ford refused to 'sit down' with him. His name that the Ford enterprises would never yield to the government demand that defense products be manufactured under union labor conditions.

Ford's rejoinder was that he would never knuckle down to labor's demands, that instead he would lease his industries to the government at one dollar a year, and let the government run them.

Ford agreed in principle with the necessity of America arming in its own defense, and with the principle that in defense work patriotism was the primary urge, and profits had no part.

He therefore offered to give up his industries, and let the government operate them under a non-profit arrangement, producing whatever vital materials were wished for.

The only government answer to this was to refuse Ford a contract on which his organization had been low bidder.

Basis of the dispute had been Ford's refusal to sit down with Sidney Hillman, labor chief of the national defense, and to find some plan by which the Ford interests could operate in the defense scheme—settling the labor difficulty once and for all.

Labor, as personified by the C.I.O., had set as its major objective for 1941 the organization of the Ford plants.

This objective seemed to mean only one thing—abandonment of the Ford plants—of their complete divestment from national defense contracts.

ITALY:

In Africa

The African campaign of the British forces against the troops of Mussolini continued to be a victorious one, despite the fact that it was reported that the Nazi air force had given considerable aid to the Fascist legions.

In succession one port on the Mediterranean after another had fallen to General Wavell's men—Salum, Bardia, Tobruk and Derna. In Libya, none but Bengasi remained to be conquered.

All the cities previously captured, some of them cities only by courtesy, for they were only a few huddled together and a small group of embryo wharfs, had been on flat land. In passing Derna the British were moving on the capital of Cyrenaica, and were stepping into a more mountainous territory, the so-called Green Mountains of Libya, where a force of 50,000 Italians were determined to hold out to the last.

The same combination of land attack, backed up by air force and navy shelling from naval craft at sea, was being used by General Wavell in the final phase of the Libyan campaign. There was every belief that with the capture of Bengasi the campaign would end.

WEYGAND:

Finally Unmasks

GEN. MAXIME WEYGAND
He'll 'track-along.'

Gen. Maxime Weygand went to Africa an enigma.

Much of this enigmatic quality was dispelled when he issued a statement in which he definitely refused to "throw in" his hand with DeGaulle, but said he would "track along" with the Petain regime in Vichy.

Yet it was not quite so clear as all that, although it was extremely important that Weygand should have finally unmasked himself.

For the Vichy situation was still, in its way, considerable of a mystery.

The Nazis were reportedly much disgusted with Vichy's failure to back up the Laval ideology, particularly in regard to the use of Tunisia for Nazi bases of operations in Africa.

So the stand, announced by Weygand, that he would continue to support the Vichy regime, could or could not be taken to mean that Weygand had fallen in with the Nazi party line.

Yet Great Britain had hoped that Weygand, in going to Africa, was "escaping" from Vichy, and would turn in the direction of DeGaulle.

That hope, at least, was completely dispelled by Weygand's statement, which unhesitatingly lined him up with the Vichy government. What that government would turn out to be, remained undecided.

G. O. P.:

On Two Sides

Oddest picture of the lease-lend bill fight in America was the sudden junket of Wendell L. Willkie, late G. O. P. standard-bearer, to England to take "his personal look" at the state of Britain.

Willkie's departure was speeded by a paternal pat on the head from his erstwhile opponent, President Roosevelt, and a note written by hand to Winston Churchill.

Willkie flew to Europe. He was greeted practically with presidential honor in the Azores, where the natives could not be convinced they were not greeting the President himself.

He landed at Lisbon, was ferried hastily to England, dined with Churchill, lunched with royalty, and hobnobbed with the plain and fancy in London.

He underwent air-raids, habitually roamed about the streets without helmet or gas-mask, (on three occasions he had to be handed both with a gentle reprimand from some higher-up), and generally inspected the state of Britain as he, Willkie, had intended to.

America was treated to the strange spectacle of the Democratic administration "needing" the testimony of the ex-Republican standard-bearer to help it over the hill on the lease-lend bill.

The whole situation was something of a shock to Republican leaders of the fight against the measure, especially when Hull let it be known that Willkie's sudden return had been demanded by Senator George, head of foreign relations in the senate, who wanted the Indian to testify before the committee hearings on the bill.

In fact, the shock was so drastic in some quarters that Republican groups in various centers held meetings to "decide Willkie's status" in the party, with the evident intimation that if he should prove too good a friend to the administration, he might be "read out of the party."

JAPAN:

The 'Peacemaker'

With dramatic suddenness, peace came in the Indo-China war with the Siamese.

Japan, it developed, had been "invited" by the belligerents, when a strong Nipponese fleet had appeared in the offing, to sit down and settle the hostilities.

This settlement, as might have been expected, was that Thailand should keep what it had taken from Indo-China, together with some additional cessions of territory.

Keenest observers of the far-eastern scene foresaw in the Japanese intervention only one outcome.

They believed that Japan would become so dominant in southeastern Asia that Thailand and Indo-China would soon be mere puppet states similar to Manchukuo.

The state department in Washington viewed these events with a serious eye, seeing in them assured proof that sooner or later there would have to be a showdown of power in the Pacific between the United States and Japan.

Star Dust
STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO
By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

CAROLYN LEE is only six years, but already she has made more money in the movies than most people are able to save in a lifetime.

By spring, when her latest picture, "Virginia," will have been seen by many people, she should be established as a child star. In "Virginia" she has an important role and speaks almost as much dialogue as the stars, Madeleine Carroll and Fred MacMurray. Yet she can't read. Her mother reads Carolyn's lines to the child two or three times, and little Miss Lee commits them to memory.

The infant seems to have been shot with luck two years ago; she was in a hotel in Wheeling, W. Va., just a few miles from her home town of Martin's Ferry, Ohio. She toddled up to a man, a stranger—and he just happened to be a movie executive. He let her lead him to her mother—and a screen test and a bit in "Honeymoon in Bali" resulted.

Fibber McGee and Molly have been signed by RKO to co-star in a picture with Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy; the picture, a feature film, will be produced by David Hempstead, who produced Ginger Rogers' "Kitty Foyle."

Maureen O'Hara, RKO-Radio's star from Ireland who is now at work in the leading feminine role of "They Met in Argentina," recently bade farewell to her mother with the injunction to "bring back a bit of the old sod" and a shamrock. Mrs. Fitzsimmons sailed for Lisbon, but expects to return soon with another gifted daughter.

She and Maureen came to this country two years ago, when Maureen made her Hollywood debut in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame." "The Bill of Divorcement" and "Dance, Girl, Dance" followed, and Mrs. Fitzsimmons, who used to be an actress herself, is perfectly satisfied with her talented daughter's achievements.

How'd you like to act as a target for tomatoes and like it—and even ask for more? That's what George Michelson spent his time at the other day, and after the fourth shot he was the happiest man in Hollywood.

Michelson is assistant property man on James Roosevelt's "Pot o' Gold," and he had to make the tomato that James Stewart throws at Charles Winninger. He did it first by filling the thin outside skin with a mess of catsup, chocolate sauce and other little items, and then had somebody throw it at him while a camera turned.

After the first three smacks Michelson shook his head. "Nope," he said. "This won't do. I'll have to put some whipped cream in it."

So the whipped cream was added, and once more he took a tomato right between the eyes. This time he could grin—he'd made a photographic tomato, one that photographed so well that when it meets up with Winninger on the screen all of us will think it was just the ordinary garden variety.

Fran Allison, singing comedienne on the "Uncle Ezra" air show, can scratch her forehead and tickle a rib with the same motion, at the same time—and thinks probably she's the only person who can. About a year ago she had a plastic surgeon repair some injuries she'd suffered in an automobile accident, and he fixed up her forehead by building it up with one of her ribs.

ODDS AND ENDS—Fred Allen reads nine newspapers every day and clips everything that seems to contain a suggestion for his radio show; then he selects the best items and points up the humor.

The thousands of Brian Donlevy fans who have begged Paramount to give him a romantic role are going to have their wish granted—he'll play the part of a romantic two-gun gambler in "Pioneer Woman," with Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea. . . . This year's concert tour takes Nelson Eddy to twenty cities—he'll return to the coast by April 7th, to start on Metro's "The Chocolate Soldier," with Riss Stevens.

HOW TO SEW
by Ruth Wyeth Spears

MAKE one rag rug and you will find yourself a member of an enthusiastic clan that gloats over any soft piece of old woolen goods and who count the days until they fall heir to a dress of a particular color that they want. These enthusiasts bleach materials to tone them down; they brighten others with dye; they antique some with tea and they have a wonderful time.

The sketch gives all the directions you will need to copy this fascinating braided rag rug with a flower medallion in the center. Or you may make two of the medallions, sew them together and add a braided handle for a knitting bag. Braid the fabric strips tightly and keep the work flat while you sew the circles for the roses and the loops for leaves; then sew them together. Use carpet thread double for this and for sewing the braided rows around the edge of the rug.

NOTE: There are two other fascinating braided rug designs in Mrs. Spears' Book 3 and the new Book 6 contains directions for a hooked, a braided and a crocheted rag rug. "The Rug That Grew Up With the Family" is in Book 3. Each book has 32 pages of pictures and directions. Send order to:

INVASION:

Threat Near

As the lease-lend argument reached its zenith, predictions that England was nearing the critical period in the Battle For Britain were legion. Lindbergh had set the most gloomy picture, figuring that Britain could never withstand the onslaught.

One could figure which side of the lease-lend battle the prediction was on by the darkness of the picture he painted. Knox and Stimson predicted a crisis, but gave few details and little soothsaying as to what would be the outcome.

But those opposed to the lease-lend proposal varied widely in what they saw in the future's crystal ball. Most gloomy of all was Von Wiegand, who in a dispatch declined Shanghai, purported to report what German and Japanese authorities believed was about to occur.

Six weeks would tell the tale, said Von Wiegand. He envisioned divisions of trained men, 15,000 paratroopers, a score of tank divisions, descending on England, and newspaper printed an "artist's conception" of the "Blitz on Britain," which would tear London into shreds long before American aid could swing the balance.

Every authority who discussed blitzkrieg on London talked of poison gas—new forms, lethal gas for which "no gas mask" has yet been provided.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

Rome—The practice of killing horses for meat was attacked by the newspaper La Tribuna, which said: "The horse is more useful when alive than when put in the form of beefsteaks and sausages."

Baltimore—A "sample" blizzard started a near-panic in a movie house. Tanks and motortrucks vibrated the pavement, setting off the automatic fire alarm.

London—The RAF claims that 370 German and Italian planes were downed in January, as compared with only 33 British warcraft. The total for the war shows 3,069 German planes downed over Britain.

Lansing, Mich.—Wild deer, formerly forced to swim across the Au Sable river, this winter have a rustic footbridge. It was built for them by the conservation department.

THIS PUDDING FAIRLY SHOUTS 'TRY ME!' (See Recipes Below)

ADD ONE CUP OF IMAGINATION

Once upon a time a friend told me that to her the addition of "one cup of imagination" was the most important ingredient that could be used in any recipe. So whole heartedly do I agree with her that today I want to give you a number of recipes to which that ingredient, imagination, has been added. In fact, so successfully has this been done that each of these recipes is different, yet each is delicious—each fairly shouts "Try me!"

These recipes, moreover, have been chosen as luncheon favorites because, of all of the meals of the day, the family luncheon some way seems to be most neglected.

Take the baked apricot and tapioca pudding for example; have you ever before thought of serving a coffee sauce with such a pudding? Yet the blend of flavors which results from combining this particular pudding with this particular sauce is really delicious—long to be remembered.

Sausage Stand-Up

(Serves 4 to 6)

- 1 8-ounce package spaghetti (broken small)
- 1 pound breakfast sausages
- 1/4 cup minced onion
- 1 clove garlic (minced)
- 4 tablespoons parsley (finely chopped)
- 1 can tomato paste (6-ounce)
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 1/4 cup grated cheese

Cook broken spaghetti in boiling water (6 cups) (1 teaspoon salt per quart water) until tender, about 20 minutes, then drain. Place sausages in skillet, add 1/4 cup of water and cook until nicely browned, about 15 minutes. Sauté onion, garlic, and parsley in sausage fat for 5 minutes, until onions are yellow and transparent. Remove from fat and combine with tomato paste and seasonings. Combine spaghetti with tomato sauce and turn into buttered casserole. Tuck sausages into spaghetti in upright position, so that just the end of each sausage shows. Sprinkle grated cheese over top and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for 20 minutes.

Baked Apricot and Tapioca Pudding
 (Serves 6 to 8)

- 1/2 cup pearl tapioca
- 1/2 cup evaporated apricots or 2 cups canned apricots
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 3 cups warm water
- 1 tablespoon butter

Soak pearl tapioca in cold water, to cover, for one hour. Wash apricots and place in a well-greased 1 1/2-quart heat-resistant glass casserole. Add sugar, salt, lemon juice and warm water. Drain tapioca; stir it into the fruit mixture in casserole and dot with bits of butter. Cover the dish and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for 1 hour or until the tapioca parts are translucent. Cool, top with whipped cream, if desired, and serve with coffee sauce.

Coffee Sauce.

- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup hot coffee, regular strength
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, if desired

Blend sugar, cornstarch and salt in the upper part of a 1-quart heat-resistant glass double boiler. Add coffee and cook until it thickens, stirring constantly. Blend in butter and nutmeg. Cool and serve with apricot and tapioca pudding.

Hot Dogs in Blankets.

When baking fresh yeast rolls, wrap strips of the dough around wieners, allowing the ends to stick out of their dough blanket. Give the dough time to double in bulk and bake as usual. These hot dogs in blankets should be served piping hot.

My Style Spaghetti.

(Serves 5 to 6)

- 1/2 cup olive oil
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 1 green pepper, seeded and chopped
- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 cup tomato puree
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 cup grated cheese
- 1 cup canned corn
- 1/2 package spaghetti, cooked

Heat olive oil in frying pan and add onion, green pepper and ground beef. Fry until brown and then add the salt, tomato puree, and Worcestershire sauce. Stir in the grated cheese together with the corn and cooked spaghetti. Place in buttered baking casserole and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for approximately 40 minutes.

Honey All-Bran Spice Cookies.

(Makes 2 1/2 dozen cookies)

- 1/4 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup honey
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 cup All-Bran
- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 cup seedless raisins

Blend shortening, sugar and honey thoroughly. Add egg and beat until creamy. Add flour, sifted once before measuring. Add salt, baking powder, soda, cloves and cinnamon. Combine with raisins. Add to first mixture and beat well. Drop dough by teaspoons on lightly greased baking sheet about 2 1/2 inches apart. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) about 12 to 15 minutes.

Cheese Soup With Rice

(Serves 5)

- 1 cup cooked carrot (very finely diced)
- 4 cups milk
- 1 tablespoon chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup grated cheese
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
- 2 egg yolks
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon white pepper
- 1/2 cup rice (cooked)

Add carrot and onion to milk and scald. Melt butter in saucepan, add flour and blend to a smooth paste. Add milk gradually to flour mixture, stirring all the time. Add cheese, salt and pepper, stirring until cheese is melted. Pour over well-beaten egg yolks, stirring constantly. Serve at once with spoonful of hot cooked rice.

Mexican Spaghetti.

(Serves 8 to 10)

- 1/2 pound spaghetti
- 1 can peas (No. 2)
- 1/2 pound raw ham (ground)
- 1/2 pound American cheese (grated)
- 1 can tomatoes (No. 2)
- 1/2 cup green pepper (cut fine)
- 1 tablespoon pimiento (cut fine)
- 2 tablespoons butter (melted)
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- Bacon strips

Cook the spaghetti in boiling, salted water. Drain. In a baking dish arrange layers of spaghetti, peas, ground ham and cheese and combine tomatoes, green pepper, pimiento, butter, and seasonings. Pour over the spaghetti. Cover with grated cheese and top with bacon strips. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for one hour.

Refrigerator Hamburgers.

(Serves 5)

- 1 pound hamburger
 - 2 tablespoons finely minced onion
 - 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
 - 1 tablespoon horseradish
- Mix all ingredients together, and shape into a roll 2 1/2 inches in diameter. Let stand in the refrigerator several hours or over night. When ready to use, cut in slices 3/4 inches thick and fry or broil as for regular hamburgers.

Beginner Didn't Want Possibility to Be Wasted

The instructor was teaching the awkward fellow to drive a car. "Put out your left hand to signal. Then with your left foot step in the clutch. With your right hand put the gearshift into first. Gradually ease up on the clutch, accelerating with your right foot. "When the car has gathered speed, again step in the clutch, shifting with the right hand to second. Then with the left foot slowly let out the clutch, accelerating with the right foot. Then repeat to shift to high speed. Keep your eyes on the road ahead all of the time."

There was a long pause; the pupil appeared to be thinking. "Well, what are you waiting for?" asked the instructor finally. "There's nothing useful I could do with my nose, is there?" inquired the beginner.

NAGGING BACKACHE
 May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!
 Modern life with its hurried pace, irregular habits, overeating and drinking, exposure to colds, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after-effects are disturbing to the kidneys and often times people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.
 After colds, fever and similar ailments, there is an increase of body heat, the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.
 Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance sometimes are burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
 In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

"Laurelot Meets the Family" is the name of the popular comic play. It happens to every man once. The first meeting with his fiancée's family.
