Mrs. W. M. Mace Dies

Hedley friends were sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. W. M. Mace of Lella Lake, who passed away Sunday after a lengthy illness.

Funeral services were conducted Monday from the Methodist church at Lella Lake by Rev. Quastlebaum of Clarendon. Interment was made in the Clarendon cemetery under direction of Banta Funeral Home.

Mrs. Mace was 56 years of age and had lived in this section many years. At an early age she united with the Methodist church, and lived a devoted Christian life, doing all the good that she could for humanity. She was always ready to help the sick and afflicted, and was faithful to her church as long as her health permitted.

Besides her husband, she survived by one son, Alvin, of Lella Lake, three daughters, Mrs. Heta McBryant of Mebave, Calif., Mrs. Effie K-nedy of Lella Lake and Mrs. Minnie Jones of Farwell, one grandson, Raymond McBryant, and one sister, Mrs. J. T. Mace of Hedley.

The Informer extends sincere sympathy to the bereaved.

Baptist Church Notes

April 6 is the date set for the beginning of a spring revival at the local church. A committee will report Sunday concerning help for this meeting. Watch this paper and listen for more details. A better plan: attend each of the services before the above date and hear for yourself the announcements. Plan to attend the revival!

The attendance in Sunday School was really good last Sunday, but several of our "regulars" were absent. We are expecting to have an average attendance of 150 before too long. Plan to be there Sunday!

The Sun Beam Band had an attendance last Wednesday afternoon of 27. What a fine bunch of boys and girls! They are having a good time and are getting some fine training. All boys and girls from three to nine are wanted. Boys and girls, plan to attend! Fathers and mothers, see that your children get there: the church basement, at 2-45.

Girls of the G. A. age, watch this column next week for an important announcement. Listen to the announcement Sunday morning. This is something special.

"New mission plants would mean fewer mission plants."

"The poor widow gave all she had to the One who gave all He had."

The Women's Missionary Society met Monday with Mrs. A. S. Martin with ten present. The pastor is teaching the book of Ephesians. Women, remember these meetings are for all the women.

The Teachers and Officers are again asked to remember the Sunday school meeting at Memphis, Sunday 2:30 p. m. Plan now to be present.

"God's Plan" will be the theme of the pastor's message again Sunday morning. Pray for the Revival!

You will find a warm welcome to worship with us.

Tate-Hammit

The following was taken from Tuesday's Amarillo News:

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Alta Mae Hammit of Quail and Orval Tate of McKnight at Memphis.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hammit of Quail. She is a graduate of West Texas State College. She has taught for several years in this country is at present teaching at McKnight.

Mr. Tate is son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tate.

The couple will live at McKnight where Mr. Tate is engaged in farming.

Oscar W. Reimer

Oscar W. Reimer was found dead at his home in the Skillet Creek community last Sunday morning. He was taken to the Womack Funeral Home at McLean, where an inquest was held on Sunday evening by Peace Justice Frank Kendall, who was accompanied by Sheriff Guy Wright and County Attorney John Knorpp. After examining a number of witnesses, a verdict was rendered that death came from a gun shot wound, self-inflicted.

Mr. Reimer was 62 years old, was born in Germany and came to this country with his parents when a small boy. He had lived in Donley county most of his life, was married and is survived by his wife and seven children. He was a respected man in the community. Ill health for the past two years and financial worries were thought to be the main contributory causes for his death.

It's Time for Your New Spring Print

RIGHT now's the time to get into a gay new print, or a suave black frock in flat crepe or thin wool, or a bright-colored spun rayon. Something slick and young and decidedly new-looking, that will be as smart this spring, for coatless days, as it is right now under your coat. Here's a perfect love of an afternoon frock—not too dressy for general wear—that will accent the curves and belittle the waistline of practically any figure. This design (8867) is one of those gracefully simple basics that you'll want to make up in more than one version. The deep V of the neckline is a perfect background for jewels or a cluster of flowers, so that you can vary endlessly with different accessories. Detailed sew chart included.

Pattern No. 8867 is designed for size 14, 16, 18, 20, 22 and 24. Size 18 requires 4 yards of 36-inch material without nap. Mail your order today to:

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward C. Wayne

Bulgarians Are Rebuked by Russia For 'Allowing' Nazi Troops to Enter; Turkey Closes Strategic Dardanelles As Crisis Looms in Mediterranean

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

ENGLAND: At Crossroads

The sending of Anthony Eden into Turkey was no empty gesture on the part of England, but a vital move in the war as the nation approached what appeared to be its most dangerous parting of the ways.

The Nazi move in the Balkans, plus the infiltration into Italy, plus the move into Spain, plus the appearance of German troops in Africa, plus the removal of French citizens from the invasion coast, all pointed in different directions and tended to place English war directors on the horns of a dilemma.

It appeared that the British must decide (1) whether to extend and continue their successful drive in Africa; (2) whether to concentrate on defense of the channel and fighting the submarine menace; (3) whether to lighten the African force by sending troops to strengthen the defense of Greece and to the aid of Turkey.

Most British leaders did not believe that all of these varied objectives could be accomplished at the same time. They viewed with dread the possibility that one or another of these German spearheads might just be a feinting move with the very purpose of causing the British to put their chief attraction at the wrong spot.

There was little chance that the British would do anything that would jeopardize their defense of the Island Kingdom itself. Robert G. Nixon, returning correspondent, described in detail the defense of the entire English coastal territory, north, south, east and west, giving a picture of a nation rather anxiously hoping for invasion than fearing it.

But Britain's Mediterranean and Middle East situation was causing tremendous concern, with the two vulnerable points at each end of the inland sea, Gibraltar and Suez, and with Greece to be aided, Turkey to be strengthened, and African gains to be held and consolidated.

The crucial move in this whole dilemma was the sending of Eden, the prime "fixer" to Turkey. The conference with Turkish leaders lasted only 2 1/2 hours, and ended in a complete accord, it was reported.

First definite action resulting from Turkey's concern over the situation became known when it was announced that the Dardanelles had been closed. Those strategic straits, which separate the Mediterranean from the Black sea, are of vital concern to the axis powers for they form the outlet of German occupied territory to the Mediterranean.

BALKANS: Lose a Piece

Bulgaria lost its autonomy to all practical purposes when Bogdan Philoff and Von Ribbentrop signed a dramatic treaty through which the Bulgars officially joined the Rome-Berlin Axis "for the duration."

This was widely viewed as an unwilling surrender, but a move which could hardly be criticized by fair-minded persons, as it was a surrender to a pistol held firmly to a nation's heart.

Russia, however, felt otherwise. Shortly after the pact was signed and the Nazi troops had entered Bulgaria, that nation was handed a message from the Soviet foreign commissariat which in effect expressed displeasure with the Bulgar's attitude. According to the Russians,

MISCELLANY:

Washington.—The CAA, examining into a plane crash at Fort Morgan, Colo., found that the pilot, Charles G. Pierce, deliberately flew his plane head-on into the hangar. The report quoted Pierce, who was badly hurt, as saying: "I intended to wreck ship, hangar and myself. I'm sorry I didn't do a better job."

they disapproved of the Bulgarian action because it "does not lead to consolidation of peace."

Whether this meant Russia would take any action to prevent Nazi troops from penetrating too close to Soviet borders was not immediately learned. London at first did not believe that Russia had any action in mind but looked upon the statement merely as "a mere verbal protest." One thing was sure: The signing of the Axis-Bulgar pact was to have far-reaching effect in the progress of war in the Balkans.

The signing had been prefaced by the infiltration of uncounted thousands of Nazi troops in civilian clothing, and two days before it all happened, Nazi generals, also in plain-clothes, practically took over the leading hotel in Sofia as their headquarters.

The day before the signatures were placed on the historic document Britain issued a warning that she would withdraw her embassy if the treaty were signed.

The next step was the cutting off of all telephonic communication between Bulgaria and the outside world. In all this, the blotting out of another autonomous country was carried out in the true Nazi method, the blueprint being followed in every detail with mathematical precision.

The following day the city of Sofia was in German hands, completely under German control, the British ambassador had asked for and demanded his passports, and Bulgaria's home rule was ended.

MARTIN DIES: Steps Out Again

The Dies committee, quiescent for several weeks, stepped back onto Page One when Representative Dies charged that American Peace Mobilization, Inc., which in Washington is largely made up of government employees active in opposition to the lease-lend bill, receives its chief support from Communist "front" organizations.

Public meetings against the lease-lend bill were being run by the "Keep America Out of War Committee," but the sponsors of the meetings, when asked what other groups were involved, would only answer "and other peace and labor groups."

Mr. Dies said chief among these was the Mobilization body, and he cited that one of its vice presidents is Vito Marcantonio of New York, the only American Labor party member in congress who has been voting against national defense and appropriations measures ever since the congress convened.

The Dies committee, during previous investigations, pronounced to be a Communist front organization the American League for Peace and Democracy. Mr. Dies said that from what he had learned so far, the Mobilization chapter in Washington appeared to be the successor of the League for Peace, which became defunct after getting the Red label from the Dies body.

Executive secretary of the Washington chapter of Mobilization, Inc., was Mrs. Sarah A. Montgomery, wife of the consumers' counsel for the AAA. Dies served a subpoena on Mrs. Montgomery to bring her records before the committee.

Subpoenas were served for several weeks on the chapter, Dies said, without avail in getting the records before him. He continued to demand them, and would continue to do so, he said.

COTTON: For Shelters

Members of congress from the southern states were jubilant when a New York engineer, E. C. Wallace, declared that cotton was better than reinforced concrete as roofing material for air-raid shelters.

Wallace said that a seven-foot thickness of cotton would resist the penetration of a 6,000-pound bomb falling from 30,000 feet.

He said the cotton could easily be fireproofed, so that incendiary bombs would have little effect.

A KING: Takes a Trip

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND—This radiophoto shows King George of Britain (right) as he greeted John G. Winant, new U. S. ambassador to the court of St. James, upon the latter's arrival in Britain.

When Ambassador Lord Halifax arrived at Annapolis, President Roosevelt journeyed to Annapolis to greet him. Not to be outdone, King George went halfway across England to welcome American Ambassador John G. Winant with a hearty handshake at a railway station between London and Bristol.

Winant, ex-governor of New Hampshire, had made the trip to Lisbon by plane, and from Lisbon to Bristol by another plane. He was accompanied by President Conant of Harvard and by Benjamin Cohen, who is Winant's personal assistant.

London newspapers said they considered the King's gesture in breaking all precedent to go to a railway station to greet an ambassador was caused by the Roosevelt action in going to the shores of the Chesapeake to meet Lord Halifax.

King George kept up the parallel by taking Winant and his companions in his own automobile to tea with Queen Elizabeth. The place of the meeting was carefully guarded by the censors.

Winant was nervous at all this attention. He said, simply, biting his lip and shifting from foot to foot:

"I'm glad to be here. There's no place I'd rather be than in England."

ITALY: Taken Over

There is little doubt that Italy actually has been taken over by Germany. This is a significant step which several observers have reported bit by bit from time to time, but it has scarcely received the attention it deserves.

This movement started with the sending of diverse commissions into Italy from the Reich, then it was followed by the sending of units of the Gestapo and the storm-troopers; more lately by large forces of armed and uniformed troops, planes, tanks and the like. These moves have been "covered up" in press dispatches from time to time, and the latest step, the sending of huge numbers of troops, was diagnosed by such subterfuges as these:

(a) The Germans announced that Italy had given valuable aid in the bombing of England, and therefore Germany would send help to Italy in Africa and Greece.

(b) The Germans said that they would start operations in the Mediterranean to harass British bases there, and that they would have the consent of Italy to do this.

The actual case, according to competent observers, is that Italy, badly whipped in Greece and Africa, was bogging down in the sending of supplies to Germany, supplies that had come willingly enough before Italy entered the war, but which, since Italy's series of defeats, had been falling off appreciably.

Italy was in sad need of raw materials for her factories, particularly those producing munitions and materials for war.

Also, severe rioting against the war and the government was going on in several vital industrial areas of Italy, and Germany realized that she was in danger of losing an ally—not one that was helping much, but one which, if she lost, would make Germany "lose face" at home.

LEASE-LEND: Filibuster

Senators opposing the lease-lend bill, H.R. 1776, refused to call it a filibuster, but the length and virulence of opposition speeches sounded very like one, and charges that filibuster methods were being used came freely from desks on the administration side.

Leaders in the fight against the bill were Senators Wheeler, Hiram Johnson and Gerald P. Nye, with considerable unexpected help from various others, including Senator Reynolds of North Carolina.

Many of these senators were taking radio time to carry their fight to the people, and there were indications that the bill was getting much more bitter opposition on the senate floor than had been expected.

Much of this battling took place on a very high plane, with little personal mud throwing and calling of names. Both opponents and proponents of the measure were setting themselves up as patriots, the opponents vigorously denying that they were pro-German, and all of them were very much anti-Hitler and anti-oppression.

As we entered the bakery we saw six long pans about 8 by 2 by 8 ft that they mix the bread in. When the dough is ready, it is put in a machine that weighs out pound loaves. The pound is divided and each half is made into a long roll. A man twists these together almost quicker than we can watch. Another man puts it into a pan. Three pans are made together. The pans of dough are put into a large box where the bread rises. The temperature in the oven is kept at 430 degrees. It takes about ten minutes to bake a loaf. When the pans come out a man takes them and dumps them on a table where another man takes the loaves and puts them on tall trays. The trays are taken to the wrapping room. A machine wraps and slices each loaf. On Monday the Amari lo Baking Co. wrapped 14,000 loaves without tearing one wrapper.

Agriculture Class

The Agriculture class went to Clarendon to the Fat Stock Show Feb 27. There were many animals to be judged there. First we watched a man judge the sheep then we went to the hog pens. There were many different breeds present, also many mixed breeds. We are studying hogs now and our chief interest is in them. All of us enjoyed the trip very much. We are planning to go to the Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth, March 14. We are looking forward to this trip.

Owls at District Meet

Taken from The Pampa News:
The closest and most thrilling game in the tournament was fought to the last whistle by Hedley and Berger Friday afternoon. The final score in this game was Berger 82 Hedley 83. Alexander, guard, Biggs, guard, Dixon, center and Hansard, forward, starred for Hedley; while Trotter and Briggs were outstanding for Berger. The game was won by free shots, Berger making 4 for Hedley.
Hedley came from behind to tie the score with Berger near the end of the game. The Owls had the best team they have had at the district meet since they won the title eight years ago.

Grade School Gets Slide

We haven't had adequate opportunity to thank the habitually generous P. T. A. for their gift of the slide. If even once they have viewed the enthusiasm with which these grade school youngsters indulge in this new pleasure they would already be recompensed for their action. But the joyment isn't exactly restricted to the elementary grades. Daily the high school boys and girls are seen wistfully eyeing the prize, and the minute it is acted by the younger ones, the group swarms forth to partake.

Way Back When—

LINEN "dusters" were considered "the thing" and were worn by nearly everyone. People called the phonograph (a little box with a large horn mounted on it) a "talking machine."

The auto gas tank was under the front seat cushion.

A census of toothbrushes in the average town of 5,000 people would not have required numbers going beyond the unit column.

All of us wore wristlets (knitted by grandma) in the winter.

Hitching posts were essential features of every "parking lot." Churches had a tuning fork to set the pitch for hymns.

ADVENTURES IN COOKING

"I get just as much 'lift' out of a new recipe as I do out of buying a new hat"—so stated a homemaker recently and her statement set me thinking. After all, why shouldn't we women enjoy a new recipe?

Given a brand new, unusual and different recipe to prepare the making up of that recipe becomes a challenge, almost a game. Can we make it up correctly? Does the recipe suggest a new cookery process, one which perhaps we have never tried before?

How is the new dish going to taste? Are we going to be really proud of it when we take it to the table? Is the family going to like it? Adventure in cooking—that's just what it is, and that's why I like new recipes; that's why I like to suggest new recipes to you.

Today's assortment (given below) is centered around a number of new ways to prepare various kinds of sausage. Far too often, I fear, we think of sausage as something to serve for breakfasts or light suppers; we fry it, serve it and that's the beginning and the end of all the thinking we do about it.

So let's be venturesome and try these recipes. The list contains a number of my personal favorites. I am sure both you and the family will enjoy them.

Sausage Stuffed Cinnamon Apples. (Serves 6)

2 cups sugar
1 cup water
1/2 cup red cinnamon candy
6 apples
18 small link sausages
Cook sugar and water and cinnamon candy to a thick syrup consistency (236 degrees). Core apples and remove peeling from top half of each apple. Place peeled side in hot syrup and cook for 5 minutes. Remove from syrup and place three uncooked link sausages in center of each apple. Then place apples, peeled side up, in baking pan. Pour remaining syrup over them and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) approximately 40 minutes.

Thuringer Sausage With Apple Rings. (Makes 4 servings)

8 Thuringer sausages.
1 No. 2 can whole kernel corn (2 1/2 cups)
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
1 tablespoon pimiento (finely cut)
2 tart cooking apples
3 tablespoons butter

Place Thuringer sausages in skillet with sufficient water to cover bottom of pan. Cook for about 20 minutes, turning occasionally, until water has evaporated and sausages are tender and brown. Drain corn and place liquor in saucepan. Heat until it has evaporated to about one-half.

Add corn and heat, then mix lightly with butter, salt, pepper and pimiento. Meanwhile, wash apples and cut into 1/4-inch slices. Pan-fry in butter over medium heat. Turn when brown on one side and brown on the other. To arrange plates, place two sausages, two apple slices and a serving of corn on each plate.

Sausage Waffles. (Serves 6)

2 cups pastry flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup melted butter
1/2 cup bulk pork sausage
Mix and sift all dry ingredients. Beat egg yolks thoroughly and add milk to them. Stir milk mixture into the dry ingredients. Add melted butter and sausage and fold in the well beaten egg whites. Bake as waffles in a hot waffle iron until crisp and brown. Serve with maple syrup.

Sweet Potato and Puritan Sausage Cakes. (Serves 6)

Parboil 5 sweet potatoes. Peel and cut in half lengthwise. Place 1/2 of the slices in a buttered baking pan.

Adventures in Cooking

Everyone likes to adventure in cooking and that's just the opportunity that comes to each homemaker when she tries out a new recipe. The best part of the adventure, however, comes about when the recipe makes the man of the family look up and with both pride and appreciation in his voice pronounces the whole meal a tremendous success.

The 10c recipe book, "Feeding Father," contains a large number of brand new recipes, each so different that making them up is an adventure—so good that eating them entirely merits and begets the gratification of the man of the family. Send today—this offer may be eliminated at any time. To get your copy, send 10 cents in coin to Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Ask for the cook book, "Feeding Father."

Make 1/2 pound of pork sausage up into flat sausage cakes. Place one sausage cake on each sweet potato slice and top with a second sweet potato slice. Fasten with a toothpick. Brush with melted butter and salt lightly. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for approximately 1/2 hour.

Poreupine Sausage Balls. (Serves 6)

2 tablespoons butter
1 small onion, chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
2 1/2 cups canned tomatoes
1 tablespoon sugar
1 pound bulk pork sausage
1/2 cup uncooked rice

Melt butter in frying pan and brown onion in it. Add chopped green pepper, tomatoes, sugar, and salt. Cook until green pepper is tender. Make the sausage into small balls and roll in the uncooked rice. Place in greased baking casserole and pour the tomato mixture over the sausage balls. Cover baking dish and bake 1 1/2 hours in a moderate oven (350 degrees).

Sausages in Pastry Blankets. (6 sausage rolls)

1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup shortening
3 tablespoons cold water (approximately)
5 pork link sausages

Sift together the flour, salt, and baking powder. Blend in the shortening. Then add just enough water to form a dough, mixing lightly. Roll out and cut into 8 oblong pieces, each sufficiently large to wrap around one link sausage. Place individual sausages (well pricked) on individual pieces of pastry; fold ends over and roll up. Place, folded side down, on a baking sheet. Prick crust with a fork. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) for about 30 minutes. Serve very hot.

Sausage Stuffed Tomatoes. (Serves 8)

8 large firm tomatoes (uncooked)
1 pound country style pork sausage
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs (buttered)
Remove stem end of tomatoes. Scoop out the center and sprinkle lightly with salt. Form sausage into eight balls and place one ball in each tomato. Top with buttered bread crumbs. Place tomatoes in a shallow baking pan, bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 45 minutes (approximately).

Ham Stuffed Baked Apples. (Serves 6)

6 large tart apples
1 1/2 cups baked ham (cut in small pieces)
1 teaspoon whole cloves
2 tablespoons butter

Cut a 1/4 inch slice from stem end of each apple and remove core carefully. Scoop out, reserve apple pulp, and leave apple shell about 1/4 inch thick. Combine ham and apple pulp (cut fine) and fill the apple shells. Top each shell with 1 clove and dot with butter. Place in a baking pan, add 1/4 inch water and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about one hour. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Star Dust STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

"TOBACCO ROAD," that painfully realistic drama of life among the poor whites that has been running for years and years on Broadway, has reached the screen at last. There's been considerable speculation about what would be left of it when it became a picture, since practically all of it was highly censorable. Well, just about nothing got by.

The original version was omitted of course. The characters have been changed. The result is a rather innocuous movie with a few beautiful camera shots.

Dennis Morgan says that the only time he was ever broke, hungry and desperate was the day he became a full-fledged movie star. Morgan, who is co-starring with Merle Oberon in Warner Bros.' "Affectingly Yours," was discovered by Mary Garden when he sang "Don Juan" to her "Carman." She called the attention of movie scouts to the handsome and popular young singer.

"I signed at a good salary and thought I was sitting on top of the world," he said. "Instead, I found myself, broke and hungry, sitting in the desert in a broken-down jalopy." He didn't understand that a yearly movie contract provides for a 12-week layoff without pay. He bought an ancient auto and headed West. But his layoff period came first.

The days of the glorified bathtub are back. In "Ziegfeld Girl" Lana Turner, as one of the glorified show-girls, steps into a marble tub wearing her jewelry, including earrings and a tiara, and apparently nothing else.

Though the much-publicized episode of the Anna Held milk bath will not be used, the scene with Lana is based on an actual occurrence, when a slightly tipsy Follies Girl stepped out of her bathrobe and into the tub wearing her hat and jewels. But when Miss Turner slips out of the bathrobe there's a flesh colored bathing suit on her, as well as the jewels.

What kind of noise does a planet make when it explodes? That's what a group of serious-minded men in Miami, Fla., want to know. They're bringing "Superman" to the screen at the Fleischer Studios, and in one of the opening scenes a planet explodes—only "Superman" in a rocket ship, escapes. Max Fleischer thinks it ought to be very, very loud; Dave Fleischer thinks it ought to be a combination of heavy gunfire, earthquake—and an apple breaking in two, much multiplied. Unless somebody thinks up something more satisfactory, the apple wins.

Lurene Tuttle has played, to date, 2,000 different radio roles; she's so much in demand that she dashes from one rehearsal directly to another. Here's her formula for success—Master your own art; keep your mind open to suggestions—never think you're too good to learn from others. That may be responsible for the fact that she's gone on and on, when so many radio stars rise to the top quickly, and then sink out of sight even faster than they rose. Lurene puts over a role with her voice alone; doesn't rely on gestures, make-up or costumes.

Paul Schubert is naval expert for the Mutual chain because he plays the accordion. Mrs. Schubert has a nice voice, and when she auditioned for the chain some time ago he went along and played the accordion for her as an accompaniment. That interested him in radio. A couple of months later he phoned the man who'd handled the audition. "Do you remember me—the man who played the accordion?" he asked and made an appointment for an interview. The appointment revealed his extensive study and writing experience in connection with naval affairs—and presto! he was signed up immediately.

ODDS AND ENDS—Richard Arlen and Roger Pryor flew their own planes the other day for Paramount's "Power Dive"; Arlen operates his own 14-plane flying school, and Pryor recently became the first Hollywood leading man to get a commercial rating... Marie Blake, Jeanette MacDonald's sister, has a supporting role in "Caught in the Draft," which stars Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour... Jean Gabin, the famous French screen star, has signed a contract with 20th Century-Fox... "Ready for Romance" is being speeded up so that it will be completed before the star, Deanna Durbin, marries Vaughn Paul in June.

HOW TO SEW by Ruth Wyeth Spears

THESE moody young ladies with their sun-tanned faces, gay bandannas and sparkling button eyes will stand out among pot holders with less personality. Also, you can have fun making them. You won't need a stamping pattern. Just follow the directions in the sketch to change the faces from gloom to joy by easy stages. Baste the tan piece for the face to a cotton flannel interlining with a line of basting exactly through the center up and down and another crosswise through the center. The two pieces for the bandanna lap one inch below the top of the up-and-down line. Their lower ends come one-half inch below the ends of the crosswise line. Stitch these in place. The one-inch buttons for the eyes are spaced two inches apart and the tops are one-fourth inch above the crosswise line of basting. The top of each mouth is 1 1/2 inches below this crosswise line.

TIPS to Gardeners

GARDENING AS HOBBY

GARDENING as a hobby can be made to pay excellent dividends. As an example, a Missouri woman reports she made a net profit of $300 from her two-thirds-acre garden in a single season. Figured at market prices, food used fresh was $230; food canned, $90; and food stored, $71. Seed and sets cost her only $20. There are two major requisites to obtaining garden profits of this kind. They are, willingness to work and the use of quality seed. It is important also to devote considerable space to multiple purpose crops like beets, onions, and tomatoes—crops that can be used in a variety of ways.

Here, briefly, are the uses of principal multi-purpose crops; Onions—green, as relish; mature bulbs fried, stewed, or as seasoning; bulbs for pickle, and relish making; tops for seasoning bulbs for storage. Tomatoes—fresh fruits for slicing or stewing, for immediate table use; for canning, or for making tomato juice; for frying, or in pie filling (like mince meat); yellow fruits for preserves, juice, or immediate table use. Cabbage—fresh in slaw, or salad; cooked for table use; canned as kraut, or stored. Beans—tops for greens; roots cooked fresh, canned, pickled, or stored.
