School Fair

Do you ever visit our school, know the teacher who trains your children? Or do you sit at home and offer criticisms and suggestions on how you would run it?

If you were among the large number who attended the School Fair Thursday, March 11, you are assured that we have a splendid school and an industrious faculty. From the simplest works of art of the first grade, to the Notebooks on English Four, every room was filled with exhibits of splendid work. Space does not permit a detailed description of the many interesting things displayed, but in every way the Fair was a success.

The Hedley Parent Teacher Association met at four o'clock for a business session. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Mrs. Ray Mereman, pres.
Mrs. P. L. Dishman, v. pres.
Miss Mary Lou Hawkins, rec. sec.

Mrs. A. S. Martin, cor. sec.
Mrs. W. J. Payne, treas.

The second grade won the dollar and the right to keep the flag another month in the attendance contest.

The next meeting will be April 11 at 8 o'clock with a "Back to school Days" program. Watch this paper for further announcements, and plan to attend.

Baptist Church Notes

Because of a conflict with school activities, the date for our Revival services has been changed from April 6th to April 26th. Remember this date and keep your calendar clear for this week. The church has asked Bro. V. M. Lollar to be in charge of the music, and the pastor to do the preaching. But if we have a revival, all of us must do much praying. Only God can give a revival.

The pastor used for his subject Sunday morning "God's Plan For Church Finance—The Tithe" Mat 23:12; 1 Cor 16:1-2.

The subject for the Sunday evening message was "A Lepor Cleaned"—Mk 1:40-45.

The subject next Sunday morning will be "God's Plan For His Church." Other messages on the general subject, "God's Plan" will follow.

The Sunbeam Band meets each Wednesday at 2:45 p. m. Mrs. Tess is the leader. They had 84 present Wednesday, March 12. They are really enjoying these meetings. Other boys and girls, ages 2 to 9, are wanted and welcomed. So come.

The G. A.'s will have a social at the pastor's home, Saturday Mar 22, from 8 to 5 p. m. All girls of this age are invited and urged to be present. Even if you have never attended one of these meetings, they want you to come for this social.

The Woman's Missionary Society met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Aelwina Fearnton women were present for the Missionary program. Mrs. Aelwina was leader.

The Associational Sunday School meeting at Memphis Sunday afternoon was really worth while. It is regretted that only a few from Hedley attended.

"Lord, lay some soul upon my heart,
And love that soul through me;
And may I nobly do my part
To win that soul for Thee!"

You are welcome to worship with us.

Leggitt-Boliver

Miss Pauline Boliver and Lloyd Leggitt were united in marriage Monday afternoon, March 17, at the Baptist parsonage here. Rev. A. L. Tass read the ceremony. The bride wore a blue velvet dress with British tan accessories. They were attended by the bride's mother.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ed C. Boliver and has lived in Hedley almost all her life. She is a graduate of Hedley high school and attended Hardin Junior College at Wichita Falls. She has been on the Informer staff for several years.

The groom is the son of Mrs. G. B. Leggitt and has lived here several years. He is a graduate of Lakeview high school and attended Hardin Simmons at Abilene. He is employed at the Farmers Gin.

After the ceremony the wedding cake was cut at the Boliver home and served with punch to Mrs. G. B. Leggitt, Mrs. E. C. Boliver, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Boliver and the bride and groom.

We Can All Be EXPERT BUYERS

● In bringing us buying information, as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year. ● It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy it. It gives us the most priceless feeling in the world: the feeling of being adequately prepared. ● When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer, filled with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the unhappiness in the world can be traced to a lack of this feeling. This advertising shows another of its manifold facets—shows itself as an aid toward making all our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward C. Wayne

U. S. Maps New Ways to Aid British As Senate Passes Lease-Lend Bill; Nazi Spring Offensive Gains Speed With Balkans as Center of Activity

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Following Senate passage of the Lease-Lend bill, providing a method of offensive aid to Britain, these senators get together for a united hand-clasp. They are (left to right) Senator Barkley of Kentucky, majority leader; Senator Wheeler of Montana, opposition leader and bitter foe of the bill, and Senator George of Georgia, foreign affairs committee chairman. The vote was 60 to 31.

(See Below: Lease-Lend, Finally.)

LEASE-LEND: Finally

The passage of the lease-lead bill, called many names by its opponents, including the lend-lead bill and the lend-give bill, suddenly was passed by the U. S. senate by 60-31. The action seemed sudden after the long and vituperative debate which found Democrats leading the opposition and many Republicans firmly in the favoring fold.

The vote neared on the final day almost exactly two months to a day from the time when it was joyfully introduced in both houses, leading opponent Wheeler (Mont.) departed angrily: "I have been told by New Dealers who get their information direct from the feed-trough that the United States will be at war by April 1."

Within the hour, however, the bill had passed, and the same Senator Wheeler grinningly was posing for pictures amicably patting the joined hands of Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky and George of Georgia, the bill's leading proponents.

Many amendments were added in the senate, but those which were passed did not arouse as much comment as those which went down to defeat.

Chief among these were three, the Elender amendment which would have kept the President's hands tied on the movement of U. S. troops, the anti-convoys measure, and the T. substitute for the entire bill, which would have made two billions available immediately for Britain, a bill which would have nullified most of the general intent of the British aid measure as originally framed.

The seven amendments added in the house, which limit the size of the aid to $1,300,000,000 without further authorization by congress, and which limit the life of contractual obligations, and which make it mandatory for the President to advise congress of steps taken, and which make it possible for congress to terminate the arrangement under certain circumstances, seemed generally acceptable to the senate, at least to the majority of senators, and materially shortened the fight against it in the upper house.

The solid Democratic South was strongly in favor of the bill and chief opposition generally was more marked from the Middle and Far West. The eastern senators were generally in favor, and of the 10 Republicans who voted "Aye," six were from New England and New Jersey, while only Aiken of Vermont, Danaher of Connecticut and Taylor of New Hampshire made the case out of seventeen Republicans who voted "Nay." Of the thirteen Democrats who voted against the bill, only one, Reynolds (N. C.) was from the South, and only one, Walsh (Mass.) was from the East.

The issue was clear-cut, the opposition saying in effect two things: (1) the measure was frankly a war measure; (2) it would give the President dictatorial powers.

The proponents took two positions: (1) the bill was our best protection against active entry into the war because it would aid Britain in holding the Nazi menace away from our shores;

QUOTES...

MEXICO CITY—Foreign Minister Illia: "Let us go forward proudly in our defense, convinced that we are defending a great cause."

WASHINGTON—Miss Harriet Elms (National Defense Council): "It seems unlikely that American women will be able to have a field day sacrificing their aluminum pots and pans to the nation's defense as the women of England."

(b) amendments adopted in both houses provided sufficient safeguards against dictatorial powers, and strong single and central power in the President's hands was needed in order to make the aid swift, certain and considerable.

What Next?

Aside from Senator Wheeler's daring prediction of "War by April 1," Washington observers began to ask themselves what would be the natural aftermath of the passage of the bill.

The bill frankly created one huge arsenal out of this country, and it was anticipated that the first act of our government would be to begin the transfer of huge stocks of war material already on hand across the Atlantic to England.

Much of it, too, could be expected to be transferred to Mediterranean ports, where many of the American-built airplanes are now in service.

Another step certain to be taken, it was said, would be the awarding of certain proportions of American defense contracts now being executed to Britain, and making arrangements for delivery. Some more American freighters, it was felt, would be given to Britain, and probably some more destroyers, of which Wilkie stressed the British need.

SPRING: Offensive

The Nazi spring offensive was gaining momentum, and the chief early activity was in the Balkans where, on the face of reports, it was felt, could be believed, Germany was making a determined bid to pull Italy's Albanian chestnuts out of the Greek fire.

The reports of activity were volatile and confusing, as might be expected from activities that were at least 50 per cent diplomatic and the other 50 per cent actual motion of troops and materials.

First step was the German infiltration into Rumania, with its terrific and chaotic aftermath; then came the "multi-invasion" of Bulgaria, closely followed by an actual taking over of that country and the massing of troops and munitions in force on the Greek-Bulgarian frontier.

The number of these troops was variously estimated, the highest figure being about 600,000.

The throwing of 600,000 men of German blitz caliber against Greece, most military men agreed, would be fatal to the Hellenes if they had at the same time to continue to defend against a counter-attack of Italians bolstered by Nazi officers in Albania.

That is, it would be fatal unless Greece had substantial help. This, on the other hand, if reports again could be believed, England was about to send. On the face of things, Britain had already given Greece considerable and substantial aid in the Albanian battle, had vigorously engaged and whipped the Italians in Africa, and was strong in her promises to aid Greece on the northern front when, as and if the German attack materialized.

This aid was going to come, it seemed obvious that it would have to involve Turkey, which would have to get in the war on the side of England and Greece.

Visits by Eden and General Sir John Dill were followed by their moving over to Athens; the landing of British troops at Salonika, reputedly a full motorized division, and the formal request, a few days later, by the Greek authorities, for a formal assurance by Turkey that her treaty commitments would be met.

The stand of Russia at the moment was dubious enough, but most observers believed she would act in the same manner she did in the case of the invasion of Poland, namely, hold off until German success was sure.

At Home

CAMP UPTON, LONG ISLAND, N. Y.—This striking war-like scene brings battle picture close to home as a corporal of the 198th Coast Artillery waits his turn to insert a shell into a 3-inch anti-aircraft gun during artillery drill.

TIT FOR TAT: Italy-U. S.

Washington was mildly inflamed, if such a term can be used, when Mussolini, without any diplomatic interchange, ordered U. S. consulates at Naples and Palermo closed.

Also all of the American embassy and consular officials in Italy were ordered practically to be "confined to quarters"—that is, their diplomatic rights to move about the country were denied, and they were given categorical orders to stay within the areas to which they were assigned.

Cordell Hull acted promptly in reprisal. The Italian consulates at Detroit and Newark were ordered closed and Mr. Hull added to these actions the same type of restrictive order regarding the movements of Italian diplomatic officers and members of the consular service here.

Mostly Americans were amused by this interchange, particularly in the comparison of Detroit and Newark with Naples and Palermo.

However, Mr. Hull's orders carried with them one additional item which carried a somewhat sinister note, and that was that he especially restricted the Italian military and naval attaches.

NIGHT CLUB: And Death

There were many who believed that Hitler was merely putting on a sideshow in the Balkans, attempting to lure England away from Africa and the Suez, thus permitting two things—a drastic attack on the canal and Gibraltar at the same time; and, second, a strong invasion attempt on the British isles with England's head turned the other way.

That this might be so was seen in the fact that the Nazi Luftwaffe launched almost its bitterest air night attack on London that the war has seen.

Many civilians walking along a road were killed and wounded; a direct hit was scored on a night club with many casualties; and two bombs hit streets on each side of a cafe, collapsing the building and burying many who were dining there after dark.

Cables carried pathetic stories of the night-club bombing, telling how the bomb landed in the midst of the band-stand, killing the band-leader and many of his musicians; scattering death and desperate injury among a gay group of dancing men and women, the latter expensively gowned.

Though with customary British censorship the location or name of the club was not cabled, it must from the description have been an exclusive recreation spot for the well-to-do, showing that the East-Enders have not been the only sufferers from the air blitz.

ODDITIES

... in the news

BARCELONA.—A hitch-hiking farmer got a ride from a truck which was carrying an empty coffin. He got inside. Two other farmers were picked up and rode sitting alongside the coffin, unaware a third passenger was within. Suddenly the lid was raised and the farmer said: "Why, it's stopped raining." The two other passengers leaped in terror. One was instantly killed.

WASHINGTON.—New Federal regulations have been issued that hot-dog sausages must have listed on their outside what is inside, in the order of pre-eminence.

FRANKFORT, KY.—The Employment commission in Kentucky has ruled as to the status of two important members of the working classes. A pin-boy in a bowling alley is an employee. But a caddy is his own boss—he being listed as a contractor, and hence exempt from the wage and hour law minimums.

NEW IDEAS

For Home-makers BY RUTH WYETH SPEARS

"DEAR MRS. SPEARS: I have made a pair of spool shelves like those you give directions for in your Sewing Book No. 3. They are painted watermelon pink to match the flowers in my bedroom curtains, and they are very pretty hung at each side of the windows. I would like to make some end tables of spools for the living room, but I can't think of a way to make them rigid. Have you any suggestions as to how this may be done? B. P."

Curtain rods are used through the spools to make the legs. Better take along a spool to try when you shop for the rods; and get the type that has one piece fitting inside the other. If the spools are a little loose on the rod, it won't make any difference for they must be glued between each spool, and also between the spools and the table shelves. I have shown in the sketch everything else you need to know to make this table. Good luck to you!

NOTE: If you have an iron bed or a rocking chair you would like to modernize, be sure to send for my Book No. 3. It contains 33 fascinating ideas of things to make for your home. Send your order to:

There's the Rub—Pete Had Lived Within That Distance

A traveler was wandering across the Rockies in search of a man to whom he had been given a letter of introduction.

After a long and tedious journey he hailed a wild-looking fellow who was smoking outside a shack.

"Does Hard Pete live near here?" asked the traveler.

"No," said the man.

"Then can you tell me where I can find his friend and neighbor, Rough-House Joe?"

"I'm Rough-House Joe!"

"Well, they told me Hard Pete lived within gunshot of you."

"He did."

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

Plants breathe through their leaves. It is, therefore, necessary to keep house plants free from dust.

To make curly curls, cut inner stalks into three or four inch lengths. With a sharp knife cut each piece down into thin strips, stopping when within an inch of the end. Drop into ice water. Strips will curl up as they become chilled.

When ironing dresses, blouses or jackets, have coat hangers in the kitchen and slip the garment on as it is ironed. This prevents any unnecessary folds or wrinkles and after airing they are ready for the closet with no further handling.

Never trust to memory in giving doses of medicine. Read the label at least three times and if you are not sure the dose is correctly measured, throw it away, rinse the glass with cold water and measure over again. You may save a life by being careful when measuring medicines.

Use shallow boxes (cigar boxes are excellent) for flats in which to plant seeds. Firm soil well and make surface level. If there are depressions in soil, water will gather in them.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels, with Ease for Stomach, too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, stomach upset, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with Syrup Pepsin for perfect ease to your stomach in taking. For years, many Doctors have given pepsin preparations in their prescriptions to make medicine more agreeable to a touchy stomach. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative-Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring welcome relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin makes the laxative so comfortable and easy on your stomach. Even snick children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna at your druggist today. Try one laxative combined with Syrup Pepsin for ease to your stomach, too.

Ag. Boys to Stock Show

The Agriculture boys and their sponsor, Mr. Bullard, accompanied by Mr. Greig and Mr. J. Hunt left here Friday morning for Ft. Worth to attend the Fat Stock Show over the week end. The group arrived at Fort Worth Friday afternoon and the remainder of the evening visited Armorer's Packing Plant and the Mechem Air Port.

The first division was the Packing Plant that we visited was the packing of the vegetable fat. We saw the cartons in the process of making; then the filling of the cartons. The fat had to be cooled to the extent that it would be easily molded into cartons. The next division was the slaughter room. They had just finished killing the animals for the day. We watched the cutting process. Each fellow had a certain part to do. The animal was on a hoist and it was moving all the time. The carcass was cut in half and left in the cooler for forty eight hours before it was shipped out.

Then we went through the curing room where we saw the hams bacon and vealier sausage in the curing process. This was very pleasing to the sense of smell. The last division was the churning of the bacon; the sides were put into a press and made into uniform size. The trip was very interesting to each one of us.

We left there and went to the airport where we spent several hours watching the boys take the planes up for their daily flight. We saw several passenger planes come in and leave. We also saw one of the large four motor bomb planes that the United States have built for England. This plane was very interesting to look at. It was a very powerful machine.

Saturday our group went to the Show grounds. We visited the swine farm where we saw the following breeds of hogs: Duroc Jersey, Poland China, Berkshire and Hampshire. There were other breeds there, but they were sending them over to the slaughter house so we missed part of them. We visited the chicken division and saw many breeds.

We went to the Sheep farm where we saw the following breeds: Delain, Shropshire, Roman and Hampshire. These were interesting although we had not reached the sheep enterprise for our study.

We went to the cattle farm where we saw beef and dairy animals. This was very interesting. There were so many fat animals that we could hardly tell which row we had visited. The breeds were Hereford, Aberdeen Angus, and Durham, Shorthorn, Holstein, Jerseys, and San Augustines. We then visited the horse farm where there were many pretty horses. Most of the horses were of the Palomine breed.

The group as a whole enjoyed the trip very much and have lots of things to talk about.

... a FIRST requirement in Defense Production

SPEED is a FIRST requirement in this nation's defense production.

Today the Gulf South is meeting its obligations for stepped-up industrial production. Many plants have been expanded and converted to manufacture of defense materials. The vast natural resources of the area are being utilized.

Natural Gas . . . the PERFECT INDUSTRIAL FUEL . . . is playing a major role in stepped-up industrial production. This Company and associated Companies provide industry with an adequate, dependable supply of this modern, flexible fuel, adaptable to the high-speed, highly specialized production methods of our present-day industrial system.

As suppliers of this ideal fuel, our organization, with more than 3,000 men and women, is now taking an important part, and is prepared to take even a greater part, in our National Defense program. We are ready, eager, and fully prepared to meet the increased fuel demands of industry.

Wit and Humor

APT

There was a bit of sniggering in the office of the interior decorator, after a phone call came in from a woman.

She said she wanted some advice about how to do over her living room.

"Well, madam," said the decorator, "I guess we'll first have to find out what kind of furniture you have."

"It's Period," said she.

"Er, what period?"

"Why," triumphantly, "It's Italian Resonance."—Detroit News.

Testing Him

A hard-driving taxi-man ignored a red light, threatened the traffic policeman's knees, missed the street island by an inch, and grazed a bus, all in one dash.

The policeman hailed him, then strolled over to the taxi, pulling a big handkerchief from his pocket en route.

"Listen, cowboy!" he growled. "On your way, back I'll drop this and see if you can pick it up with your teeth."—Stray Stories Magazine.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

First Neighbor—Do you keep servants?
Second Neighbor—Not very long.

Mother Was Worried

A mother sent this somewhat satirical note to the teacher of her small son:

"Pardon me for calling your attention to the fact that you have pulled Johnny's right ear until it is getting longer than the other. Please pull his left ear for a while and oblige his mother."—Tit-Bits Magazine.

On the Job

Mother—Jimmy, did you get that loaf of bread I sent you?
Jimmy—No, mother, the store was closed.
Mother—What? Closed at this hour of the day?
Jimmy—Sure, there was a sign on the door that said "Home Baking!"

The Store's Fault

Mrs. Newwed (at dinner table)—I was going to have some sponge cake as a surprise for you, dear, but I confess it was a failure.
Mr. Newwed—What was the matter?
Mrs. Newwed—I don't know for sure, but I think the store sent me the wrong kind of sponges.

CHEAT

A firm of match manufacturers sent a man with authority to hand a pound note to any person who introduced to him a box of their matches.

When he reached Aberdeen, says London Tit-Bits Magazine, he entered the smoke-room of a restaurant, and, approaching a stranger, said: "Could you oblige me with a match?"

"Certainly," said the Scot, as he handed the traveler a box of the firm's matches.

"Thank you," said the traveler. "I see you use our matches. My firm authorizes me to hand a pound note to every man I meet who produces one of their boxes—so here's your pound."

"As the traveler turned to leave, the Aberdeen man shouted after him: 'Hey! Stop! You're awa' wi' my matches!'"

NO DANGER AT ALL

Wife—Our fat never beats up, even on the mildest day!
Hubby—This building is said to be entirely fireproof, my dear.

Extra Mongoose

The question of the correct plural of the word "mongoose" was solved by a gentleman who wanted a pair of these interesting and affectionate creatures.

He wrote a dealer: "Sir, please send me two mongesees."
He did not like the looks of this, tore up the paper, and began again: "Sir, please send me two mongoseses."

This version did not satisfy him any better than the first, so he wrote: "Sir, please send me a mongoose, and, by the way, send me another."—Punch Bowl.

Shrewd

"Is this your advertisement in the paper for the recovery of a black-and-tan terrier?" a gentleman asked his friend.

"Yes," was the reply.

"But you never had a dog to lose!"

"I know," said the advertiser; "but I want one now, and I think I can make a good choice from the animals that will be brought to me!"

SMACKS AND SMACKS

Bill—The last time I kissed you, you gave me a smack on the jaw.
Belle—Well, here's your chance to get even. Give me a smack on the cheek.

Star Dust

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO
By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

PARAMOUNT'S "The Lady Eve" is certainly one of the best pictures that has come out of Hollywood in years and years; it's the third excellent picture in a row for Preston Sturges, who wrote and directed it. Henry Fonda acquires new laurels as a comedian, Barbara Stanwyck is completely delightful, the rest of the cast (which includes Charles Coburn, Eric Blore and William Demarest) couldn't be improved on.

The company launched the picture in New York with something different in the way of a cocktail party. A night club was turned—more or less—into a Garden of Eden, and five pretty girls were engaged to act as Eves. Since there's a snake that plays a prominent part in the picture, one was provided. Dr. Raymond L. Dittmars, curator of reptiles at the Bronx zoo, was present; he felt that the party would do much to dissipate the popular phobia against snakes. A consultant psychologist theorized on perfect women in general and the five Eves in particular. Then Emma, the snake, departed for the zoo, and the women guests breathed easier.

Whether you're an "Andy Hardy" fan or not you mustn't miss "Andy Hardy's Private Secretary," if you want to see the debut of one of film-dom's best bets. She's Kathryn

Kathryn Grayson Mickey Rooney in "Andy Hardy's Private Secretary."

Grayson, who's not quite eighteen, and is being hailed as a real discovery.

Eighteen months ago, when she sang at a Los Angeles musical, she attracted the attention of Metro executives. Before the afternoon was over she had an appointment with Louis B. Mayer—the next day she had a contract. After that she checked in at the studio school—took a regular high school course, had lessons in music, diction, makeup, dramatic training.

She has a magnificent coloratura voice, can sing C above high C, and it is predicted that she may become one of the greatest coloraturas the world has ever known. She's delighted over being in pictures—but in another two years she's going to tackle the Metropolitan opera.

Hortense Monst, who recently appeared as soloist with the NBC Symphony orchestra, has made a name for herself as a concert pianist in both Europe and America, playing with many of the most famous orchestras.

She really has a second career; she browses in the musical literature of the ages and brings forth each year a series of programs for the New Friends of Music, one of New York's more important musical organizations. She thinks there's too much sameness about most musical programs and she also disapproves of intermissions, encores, stage seats and prima donna-dom.

There's no telling how many of our future radio stars will succeed because Fritz Blocki, producer of "Your Dream Has Come True," gave them a start. Auditioning for the program is no ordinary affair. The entire week preceding a broadcast is spent in listening to the many people who want to appear on the program; when it's difficult to make a choice between actors, a recording of the voice in question is made and the radio department makes a decision.

As big name actors and actresses have no meaning on this program, the unknowns have a wonderful opportunity—and under Blocki's skillful tutelage they are sure of getting excellent training.

ODDS AND ENDS—Frank Capra paid $4,000 for an opinion during production of "Meet John Doe"—hired 350 extras to secure their reactions to two versions of a speech by Gary Cooper. . . . When radio's "Henry Aldrich" reached the screen Jackie Cooper played "Henry" in the first two episodes; now that he's outgrown the role, Jimmy Lydon takes over. . . . Meanwhile Vera Stone goes right on being "Henry" on the air. . . . "This is England," the short brought over by Harry Hopkins, is being released by Columbia Pictures. . . . Lons Turner tried eight different coiffures before she found the right one for her role in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

TIPS to Gardeners

QUICK FLOWER GARDENS

MANY people want quick results in the flower garden, and for them the lists of annual flowers offer effective aid.

A highly satisfactory, and economical hedge, for instance, can be grown in six or eight weeks from seed. Kochia is the plant. A single packet of Kochia seed will provide a full, bushy hedge along the front or side of the yard. For a flowering hedge, Four o'Clock will produce attractively within two months after seed is planted.

Glowing borders of flowers that beautify the yard, and at the same time provide ample cut flowers for the housewife, may be enjoyed the first summer. The fastest-growing and most dependable annuals for cutting include the Zinnias, Marigolds, Bachelor Buttons and Petunias. There are tall, medium, and dwarf varieties of each.

Most widely used of fast-growing annual vines is Heavenly Blue Morning Glory, whose giant, soft-blue flowers are in a class by themselves. It is well to scratch the coat of Heavenly Blue seeds before planting them to speed their otherwise slow germination.

Stagnation Is Corruption Better that we should err in action than wholly refuse to perform. The storm is so much better than the calm, as it declares the presence of a living principle. Stagnation is something worse than death. It is corruption also.—Simms.

THE ADVENTURES OF REDDY KILOWATT

Foiled by a Light Globe

Dear Friends:
I didn't know what to do, the day those toughies laid their plans to steal Mr. Brown's car. But the idea came to me..

I went to the tool box and got wires and insulators and a hammer and some screws. It doesn't take much to run a line to the garage..

Then I got one of the outdoor flood lamps and hooked it up. I smiled as I finished the job because..

That night those 'thugs' were foiled!
I thought, "Why doesn't everyone depend on good light to protect their home and property?" It's the cheapest insurance you can buy.
Yours for better light—softer living.
