County Rationing Board

The Donley County Rationing Board, G. E. Kinslow, chairman, J. R. Bull and O. E. Lindsey, meets every Monday afternoon at the courthouse in Clarendon. They announce that February quotas will be 8 passenger car tires and 7 tubes, and 14 truck and bus tires and 25 tubes. They as yet have no tractor tire quotas.

Please see your local inspector before making application for a tire. Inspectors for the Hedley district are Ross Adamson and Bill Johnson.

See Mark McGee, State Rationing Administrator, has asked all the people of Texas to cooperate in conserving rubber for the duration of the war, and the county board will appreciate the cooperation of all Donley County citizens in saving rubber for National Defense.

Remember, we are conserving rubber.

3588 Bales Ginned Here

The three Hedley gins have ginned a total of 3588 bales of cotton this year, up to Tuesday noon.

Old Papers

Anyone who has old papers to contribute to National Defense is asked to please tie a string around them and leave them at the Legion hall. A truck will pick them up when enough papers are collected.

Cotton Report

Census report shows that 10806 bales of cotton were ginned in Donley county from the crop of 1941 prior to Jan 16 1942 as compared with 8747 bales for the crop of 1940.

Anyone wanting a garden patch broken please see Ed Todd or J. M. Cooper.

Mr and Mrs. O. M. Johnson spent Sunday in Amarillo.

Don't forget to pay your poll tax before Feb 1st.

Woman's Culture Club

The Woman's Culture Club met January 21 with Mrs. Leo Ray as hostess. Each of the members responded to the roll call, "Why I am a club member." Some of the most interesting statements made were: that they, the members enjoyed the programs and the social hour; and that being on the program helped to give them more poise than they formerly had. Mrs. Dudley gave an interesting discussion on the social life of an American family.

The following officers were elected for next year:

President, Mrs. Charles Reine
Vice President, Mrs. B. H. Hal
Recording Sec., Mrs. K. E. Watkins
Corresponding Sec., Mrs. Lewis Simmonds

Treasurer, Mrs. F. M. Murray
Parliamentarian, Mrs. Ray Mereman

Reporter, Miss Dorothy Land

The remainder of the program was spent in hemming up towels for the Boy's Ranch of Amarillo. The social hour was spent in exchanging bits of gossip and news of the day over steaming cups of coffee and other delicious refreshments.

Notice to Farmers

The Donley County AAA office is in a position to help farmers by estimating the equity held in cotton placed in the 1941 Commodity Credit Corporation Loan. To help in the estimation of the value of these equities, the AAA office was sent tickets by the Commodity Credit Corp., showing, when interest and insurance began, and how to figure it, when warehouse charges began, original amount of the loan, and grade and staple of the cotton in the loan. Also three times per week the spot market reports are sent, showing the ten spot markets to help in computing the present value of the cotton.

If you intend to sell your equities in this cotton, and do not know what it is worth, the county office would be glad to help you in any way possible.

Donley County farmers should know that, before equities may be transferred to a purchaser, the section on the copy of the 1941 CCC Form A, "Cotton Loan Purse," must be completely filled out, and signed by a witness approved by the Donley County AAA Committee. These witnesses are placed at strategic points all over the county.

Hedley witnesses are J. W. Noel, O. L. Johnson, W. W. Wiggin, Harvey Shaw, John Alexander and Roy Jewell.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward C. Wayne

Submarine Activity Highlights Action
Of United States and Enemy Navies;
Russian Troops Use Nazi Technique
In Important Victory Over Germans

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Reprinted by Western Newspaper Union.)

U. S. NAVY:
A Hint or Two

Nothing in the form of detailed communications about naval activities was coming out of the Pacific, but occasionally there was a hint or two which showed that Uncle Sam's Union Jack was not waving aimlessly about in those waters.

One of these was a dispatch from a correspondent aboard one of the battlewagons, who wrote to the press that the navy was active, was sinking Jap submarines, was on the lookout for unwary Jap ships and dropping them to the bottom of the sea, but was not allowing itself to be trapped.

He also stated categorically that among the objectives of the navy was to prevent a repetition of Jap attacks on Midway and Johnson's islands, or on Pearl Harbor.

A further hint that showed the Japanese might have cause for the jitters concerning the ocean situation came from an official communication that three Japanese vessels had been sent to the bottom of the Bay of Tokyo, uncomfortably close to vulnerable Japanese cities as the two American vessels torpedoed off Long Island, not by the Japanese, but presumably by U-boats.

RUSSIANS:

Cut Off Nazis

Using the favorite Nazi technique of parachutists behind the lines, the Russians had struck a vital blow in the Moshaisk sector and believed they had trapped a force of about 100,000 Germans who had no recourse but to surrender or face annihilation.

Clouds of parachutists were dropped behind a fairly stable German position, one which the Russians had been hammering with artillery fire for more than a week.

This is a recent photo of Field Marshal Walther von Reichenau, who, according to Berlin reports, died after an attack of apoplexy. He was given a large share of credit for the sweeping Nazi victories in the West and was regarded as the general closest to Hitler.

These forces consolidated, allegedly destroyed seven Nazi battalions of infantry and burned a railroad train containing 23 cars of war material. The Germans, their supply lines cut, were trapped.

It was believed by Red headquarters that the surrender would follow as a matter of course, without serious further resistance.

Field Marshal Von Reichenau, famous leader of the Germans' Ukrainian army, responsible for the successful southern drive against the Russians last summer, dropped dead of apoplexy, and a state funeral was decreed for him.

Thus Hitler had lost by death another famed commander, after relieving Von Brauchitsch of command not long before.

MAC ARTHUR:
Spirited

Although MacArthur's men on the island of Luzon had continued to put up a spirited resistance to overwhelming numbers of Japanese invaders, there were certain aspects of late communications which had pointed to the fact that the battle must be entering its decisive stages.

And Washington was holding out to the American public no hope that there could be any outcome but final defeat, though temporary, in that theater of the war.

The Japs had evidently turned MacArthur's right flank somewhat, if not completely, and reports of a landing on the Bataan peninsula were highly disquieting.

The brave little army was putting up a terrific defensive fight, but Washington observers pointed out that much of its success depended on maintaining communications with Corregidor, and it was up to the right flank to maintain this connection.

Tokyo communicates had shown that MacArthur's army was fighting bitterly to maintain this.

MALAYA:
Resistance

For some time it had been evident that a supreme battle for air mastery over Malaya had been in progress, perhaps spreading to the whole southwest Pacific area; now it had become plain that British resistance was steadily growing, and that the final and desperate battle to save Singapore was in the offing.

It seemed likely that this would take place at a point about 50 miles from Singapore, perhaps closer, somewhere on a line south of the Maur river.

It was with considerable surprise and no little concern that the British announced the Japs had crossed the Maur and had established a bridgehead on the southeast bank.

Previous gains which had shoved the Japanese 350 miles down the Malayan peninsula had caused no such battle as did the attempt to wipe out the Maur river bridgehead.

Final picture of the Malaya front would be a line about 100 miles wide running generally from east to west, with some inevitable salients caused by irregularities of the terrain.

Against this wall, said Major General Bennett, the Japs were expected to hurl their full force of artillery, tanks and planes.

The counter picture, however, was more encouraging to the Allies. Australian transports loaded with men and machines were arriving at Singapore at long last, and plane reinforcement, particularly fast Buffalo (American made) fighter planes were appearing on the front and were doing terrific execution.

This had been the sort of thing the Australian government had been crying out for during several weeks. The "singing Aussies" were going into combat, were reported to have hurled at least one section of attacking Japs back into confusion.

There was no disposition on the part of the Malaya defenders to become cocky, indeed Major General Bennett was rather on the pessimistic side, and said it was likely that the Japs before long would be knocking at the doors of Singapore.

But in general things were a little more on the upturn side, and many believed the tide of the Singapore battle might be turning.

Certain it was that it had been a heterogeneous army which had faced the Japs up to this point. From now on it looked as though the Aussies were taking over, planes and men, and that the Japs might have found, as they did in the Chinese battlefields, foemen more than worthy of their steel.

TRAGEDIES:
Sabotage?

Either saboteurs were responsible or the nation was beset by another of those unexplained series of airplane tragedies, one of them killing a darling of the movies, Carole

Lombard is shown accepting defense bond applications and stuffing them into the case of the first shell fired in World War I. This photo was made in Indianapolis, where she assisted in launching a bond sale drive. It was while returning to Hollywood from this mission that she lost her life.

Lombard, her mother, 15 air pilots, presumably those engaged in ferrying planes from factories to airfields, and five others.

There had been no immediate data on sabotage, but the average observer was wondering when there were more than 50 lives lost in 48 hours in six crashes, five of them army planes (three bombers and two fighters) and one on a huge transport plane with 15 pilots among the passengers.

The transport plane crashed into the side of an 8,500-foot mountain at night, thirty-five miles out of Las Vegas, shortly after the pilot had reported good weather.

Army secrecy shrouded the military plane crashes, but the sudden wave sent uncomfortable tinglings along the public spine, wondering whether the ships had been tampered with.

In the case of the crash in which Miss Lombard lost her life, she was returning from having personally sold more than $2,000,000 in defense bonds in Indiana, her birthplace.

More Propaganda

Rep. Martin Dies of Texas, chairman of the famous investigating committee that bears his name, is shown examining a big collection of propaganda material, allegedly anti-Jewish and intended for distribution in this country by agencies under Nazi control.

LABOR:
A Peace Offer

John L. Lewis, who admittedly threw a personal monkey wrench into the machinery of labor unions which sought to make peace between C.I.O. and A.F.L. prior to the war declaration, now had extended the olive branch of peace "as a war move."

The bushy-eyebrowed leader of the United Mine Workers, originator of the breakaway from the A.F.L. in the first place, back in 1936, wrote to Philip Murray, head of C.I.O., suggesting that a peace negotiation be started. He also wrote in the same vein to William Green, president of A.F.L.

President Roosevelt repeatedly had sought to bring about just such an outcome.

Each effort had failed. It had been more than a year since the last try was made.

Lewis, in his letters, said: "It is my opinion that under conditions existing at present there is a justification for the belief that a further effort could achieve success. 'It is obvious that if accomplishment could be achieved, with unified and competent leadership, the results would be advantageous and in the public interest. Heretofore this has not been possible. 'Conditions are now changed. America needs unity in every phase of its national economy.'"

SUBMARINES:
German Losses Heavy

The war in the Atlantic, particularly since the United States started patrolling, has resulted in heavy submarine losses for Germany. A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, declared.

He said that thousands of the Reich's best submarine personnel had been drowned or captured, including many of Hitler's top-flight commanders.

He said: "A heavy toll is being taken, and it seems clear that one of the great problems of the enemy is to man his new submarines with sufficiently trained crews."

"Meantime the strength of the royal navy is growing despite heavy and repeated casualties."

It was one of his first statements since the loss of the Repulse in Singapore waters.

He was unable to deliver it in person because he was busy with Prime Minister Churchill, who had just flown in from Bermuda, thus terminating his stay in the United States.

Churchill was greeted like a returning conqueror, and was cheered to the echo wherever he appeared. 'HELLFIRE':

Important Surrender
Poles, British and Free French were in the British force which stormed and forced surrender of Halfaya pass, the "hellfire" stronghold which twice before in this war had changed hands on the Libyan front.

The pass is a break in the escarpment near the Libyan-Egyptian frontier, and forms a supply route which saves the British or Germans, as the case may be, a 100-mile detour by a southern route.

Fifty-five hundred Germans and Italians surrendered at Halfaya pass, raising the total of Axis prisoners taken in the British victory to 31,000.

The taking of Solum, another "resistance pocket" back of the British lines had cut off Halfaya's defenders from aid from the Mediterranean, and they were surrounded by land. Any supplies they got fell from Axis planes, and the British had mastery of the air.

So Halfaya fell, and the victory was hailed by the British as of far more import than immediately appeared.

MISCELLANY:

Washington: More than 100 German, Japanese and Italian business concerns have been padlocked and 98 others were operating under federal supervision.
Cleveland: Dr. Abba Hillel Silver, Zionist leader, said Britain or America should arm defenseless Palestine in order that the Jews may defend their homeland and assure their independence.

Chocolate and Cocoa

Chocolate is richer and more nutritious as a beverage than cocoa, although both originate from the seeds of the tropical Theobroma cacao tree. In chocolate the cocoa beans have been ground and caked together, with all the fat content retained. In cocoa, the beans have had much of the fat pressed out of them before they are ground and powdered.

Killing Time

Even a casual visitor to our school today would ask, "What is wrong with this place? It is so still and lonely for any school." Of course, old term final examinations would be the answer.

Since I belong to that group of students who never study, not even for a day, I am just killing time until 10:30 when I have my first examination for the day. Well, I believe that I will look in on the student hall group only 3 busy girls and the teacher. By the way, the teacher is preparing a set of test questions and is supposed to be never noticed.

This room is too dull to suit my taste and these halls are as quiet as they always should be and never are. I am just sitting in the laboratory door. I find 3 boys sitting on the floor, all wearing expressions of frantic terror. One and a boy is literally beating his head upon another's dish out of the science to the group. Next I open the auditorium door and 2 senior girls who are hovering over the radiators start getting up and look up. They can't feel me; they are not studying.

I am sitting in the corner of Room 8 but there is not sound save that of the worn-out fountain pens scratching away. My first class in Room 1 is attacking that examination in earnest. The door is open and I am in full view but no one notices me. I clear my throat and cough but still I am ignored.

Continuing my search for a few leaver, I pass out of the building and notice a group of sophomore girls huddled in the hallway against the east side of the grade school. "I hope she asks about good grooming," one girl says and I know then they are cramming for home economics. Oh, well, maybe I can chat a while with this group in the Model A Bus, no, they merely glance up to see who I am and then go right to work.

Just a Lovel

Shoope, I should have gone on to Buffalo in the first place. There I shall find company for that is the local name of all leafers.

Magazines Please

On behalf of the high school student body I wish to thank you patrons who contributed so generously of magazines at the first of the school year. Our reading table was well stocked with magazines and they have been thoroughly enjoyed. In fact they are quite worn out. Now we high school students are hoping that you have some more magazines on hand and will help stock our reading table for the second semester.

The magazines most enjoyed seem to be: Life, Look, Good Housekeeping, American, Saturday Evening Post, and Reader's Digest, but we shall appreciate any that you wish to contribute. Again I assure you that these magazines are appreciated and enjoyed.

The Chatter Box

We Wonder:

If you have noticed that enthusiastic foursome that gathers together in our halls: Ted, Travis, Myrtle, and Gwyneth.

If O. L. feels any different now that he has that diploma.

Why Peggy Nell just hates to see Adell coming.

If Jane Ruth and Camilla are still interested in the same topic of conversation.

If Miss Hawkins did sit up front that whole study period just to be near the senior picnic.

How our basket ball team will ever get along without Mrs. Stallings.

Why is Payne always wearing...

If Lewis could possibly have been as happy as he looked while riding with those girls.

Why Travis takes it so seriously that Myrtle has to have his bits out for breakfast.

Why Earl enjoys his shorthand classes so much.

Why everyone is so glad that last week has come and gone.

Why Wayne decided that he did not need to earn that dime that Paul and Albert offered him.

Why Albert thinks that he is making so much lower grades this year than last.

Basketball

The Leila Lake boys and girls came to Hedley Tuesday, Jan. 20 and the local teams were both victorious. The girls game was tight from start to finish and the final score was 18 to 16 in Hedley's favor. Neila Rae S. S. Hoge was high with 14 points. The boys did their best and beat the Leila Lake boys 21 to 15. Joel Plank was high with 12 points. The Owls have been undefeated in their conference games so far.

POWER in a hurry!

UNCLE SAM'S fast-moving ski troops put military power in the right place at the right time.

America's electric companies have done the same job with industrial power. They were ready when the crisis came!

They powered new plane plants, tank factories and shipyards almost overnight—and rushed reserve electric power to key points over carefully interconnected systems.

As the demand grew greater, they speeded new construction. Last year, alone, they installed over 2 1/2 million more horsepower—enough to light one-quarter of all the homes in America!

Good business management made this possible. The same companies, the same management, will go on increasing the production of power for protection—until skiing is a sport again, instead of a war maneuver!

Few More Years Would Have Toughened Uncle

The oldest inhabitant had celebrated his hundredth birthday and the reporter of a local paper called on him for an interview. "To what do you attribute your longevity?" the reporter inquired. The centenarian paused a moment and then, holding up his hand and ticking off the items on his fingers, began: "I never drank alcoholic liquors, or over-ate, and I always rise at six in the morning." "But," protested the reporter, "I had an uncle who acted in that way, yet he only lived to be eighty. How do you account for that?" "He didn't keep it up long enough," was the calm reply.

Luscious to Look At and Eat, Too... Orange Sponge Cake (See Recipes Below)

Snacks, II

"What shall I serve to guests who drop in for an evening of bridge or for a chat?" This is a question I've heard many hostesses ask, especially often during colder weather when visiting time really comes into favor again. The answer is simple, for a delectable cake with steaming coffee or hot drink turns the trick.

Your guests will have finished their supper only a short time before, and since snacks do not come late in the evening, it is best to serve something not too heavy. Light cakes, preferably those with a touch of piquancy and tartness, fill the bill perfectly. These cakes may be baked in one of your not-so-busy moments to have on hand for just such an occasion.

Hot drinks are favorites in the chilling weather. If you like coffee, be sure to have quantities of the steaming beverage on hand. If you're on the lookout for new ideas, there are the hot fruit juice combinations which hit the spot. Either type of drink goes well with these dessert-like cakes.

Here's the first cake on our list. It's like spun gold in color with just the right tartness. You'll find that the navel oranges which peel and separate easily into sections will be perfect for decorating the cake as pictured above:

*Orange Sponge Cake.

- 5 egg yolks
- 1 1/4 cups sugar
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/2 cup water
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon grated orange peel
- 5 egg whites

Beat egg yolks, sugar and orange juice until light. Add water and beat 2 minutes. Add flour sifted with baking powder and salt. Beat 1 minute or until thoroughly blended into egg mixture, fold in grated orange peel and egg whites beaten stiff but not dry. Bake in 9-inch ungreased tube pan in a moderate (350-degree) oven 70 minutes. Invert pan until cake is cold. Remove. Cut in three cross-wise layers.

Geld Topping.

- 1/4 cup cold water
- 1 tablespoon gelatin
- 4 egg yolks
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 cup orange juice
- 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
- 4 egg whites
- 1/4 cup sugar
- Orange sections

Soften gelatin in water. Cook egg yolks, sugar and orange juice in top of double boiler until thick. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add grated peel and cool mixture. Beat egg whites stiff, adding 1/4 cup sugar and fold into cooked orange mixture. Spread between layers and on

Lynn Says:

Hot mulled fruit juices lend tang to winter evening snacks. You can have hot mulled cider by heating the cider and adding 1 teaspoon whole cloves and 1 stick of cinnamon (tied in a bag) while the cider is heating.

Here's another mulled fruit juice served piping hot: Tie in a bag, 12 whole cloves, 1 3-inch stick of cinnamon, and 1 whole nutmeg. Empty a large can of apple juice and a 12-ounce can of cherry juice in the saucepan and add spices. Heat, remove spices and serve. This recipe takes care of eight people.

Hot spiced lemon tea has lots of pick-up. Make it by pouring 5 cups boiling water over 6 teaspoons of black tea. Steep 5 minutes, then strain. Dissolve 1/4 cup sugar in 1/4 cup boiling water. Combine 8 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel, 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon and 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves, and add to hot tea. Serve at once, garnished with lemon slices. Serves 6.

top of cake. Chill in refrigerator. Decorate with fresh orange sections just before serving.

Gleaned from an excellent chef, this Lemon Cake-Pie is a good combination of a cream pie and cake. Because of the delicate lemon flavor it will prove interesting to serve for those evenings when friends just drop in for a bit. Made just according to directions, it's guaranteed to bring plenty of encomers!

*Lemon Cake-Pie.

- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup milk
- 1 lemon

Blend the sugar and butter, add beaten egg yolks, milk, flour and the juice and rind of the lemon. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and pour into an unbaked pie-crust. Bake in a slow (325-degree) oven 35 to 40 minutes. The top will be like a sponge cake and underneath there's a soft, firm custard.

Pumpkin pie will never wear out its welcome if you serve it this way. It has extra zest because of the addition of orange juice:

*Pumpkin Pie.

- 3 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/4 teaspoon ginger
- 1/4 teaspoon cloves
- 2 cups cooked canned pumpkin
- 1 cup cream, rich milk or undiluted evaporated milk
- 1 cup orange juice

Mix sugar, spices, salt. Add slightly beaten eggs, pumpkin, cream or milk, and orange juice. Pour into an unbaked 10-inch pie shell. Bake at (450 degree) for 10 minutes, and then in a moderate (350-degree) oven for about 50 minutes or until knife comes out clean when inserted in filling. Serve with whipped cream garnished with grated orange peel.

Gingerbread is a favorite for after-dinner bridge type of entertaining. Gingerbread made with boiling water gives the cake a special kind of leathery texture which is certain to charm. Most of the time you like to serve gingerbread with whipped cream, but you can vary this if you add crushed peppermints to the cream before serving.

*Old-Fashioned Gingerbread.

- 1/2 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 1 beaten egg
- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 teaspoon ginger
- 1/2 teaspoon allspice
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

Pour water over the shortening and add sugar, molasses and egg. Add sifted dry ingredients and beat until smooth. Bake in a waxed-paper lined square pan in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 35 minutes. Cool before turning out from pan. For variation, 1 package of semi-sweet chocolate pieces may be added with the dry ingredients if a chocolate-flecked cake is desired. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Measured for R. R. Tickets

When traveling by train in China one often sees the strange and amusing spectacle of child passengers being carefully measured with a ruler by the conductor. The reason for this is that in China the fares for children traveling on trains runs not in proportion to their age, but in proportion to their height. Children under two feet six inches are allowed to travel free; those up to four feet four inches are charged half fare. Children taller than that have to pay the full fare.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels, with Ease for Stomach, too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, stomach upset, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move.
