WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward C. Wayne

Jap Successes in Java Sea Battle Credited to Numerical Superiority;
Coastwise Shipping Losses Offset
By Stepped-Up Shipyard Production

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Seagoing home for President Roosevelt was the 10,000-ton cruiser Houston, sunk in the battle of Java. During the last eight years the Chief Executive traveled almost 25,000 miles aboard the Houston, which was commissioned in 1930. The Houston was one of two ships lost by the U. S. in what was termed the "fiercest and bloodiest ever known."

DISASTER:
Battle of Java
The world had known that there had been a naval battle off Java just before the Japanese moved in with their full might at three points on land, but until the announcement was made that the Allied fleet had been "overwhelmed by superior numbers" it had not been known what the losses had been.

This, at long last, had been given to the press in a more or less detailed summary which showed that the United Nations lost 13 ships, not, apparently counting any submarines that might be missing.

The United States lost two, the 10,000-ton sleek cruiser Houston, favorite of President Roosevelt himself, who had gone to Hawaii in her in 1934, and frequently had been aboard her; and the World war type "four-stacker" destroyer Pope, 1,190 tons, both presumably lost with all hands, though there was some hope that some survivors may have reached shore somewhere.

The British were the heaviest losers, having six vessels listed as lost including the famous cruiser Exeter, small but valorous, 3,390 tons, which had taken part in the victorious attack on the German Graf Spee off Uruguay.

The other five lost by the British were all destroyers. The Dutch lost their flagship and chief cruiser, the DeRuyter, presumably lost with all hands, for she was hit by a torpedo and sank in a few minutes at night on the first day, at the height of the battle. They also lost a destroyer.

The Australians lost two vessels, the cruiser Perth and the Yorda, a sloop, both missing and presumably lost.

The Japanese, according to the same report, lost eight vessels, but all details as to any actual sinkings were unobtainable, probably due to the unfavorable outcome of the battle.

Included among the eight were two cruisers, one of the 10,000-ton class.

A study of the British and American naval communiques seemed to show that the most telling blows were struck, not so much by the gunnery of the Japs, as by their submarines and speedy destroyers. The Exeter had one of her boilers blown up by a shell, which cut her speed 50 per cent, but she still escaped from the battle and was apparently sunk seeking to escape from Java to Australia. The same was the fate of the Houston and the Pope.

SLOWDOWN:
On Car Speed
In a country stressing speed, speed, speed in war production, President Roosevelt had gone to the governors of the 48 states with a request for a slowdown in one thing—the speed limits of the nation's highways.

He had recommended 40 miles per hour as a top, as a means of conservation of the present supply of tires for the motoring public.

The President had said: "I would greatly appreciate your co-operation in an effort to achieve this objective throughout the country." Most governors rushed to comply, and many issued immediate orders to their state police officers to see that speed limits were cut down.

HIGHLIGHTS... in the week's news

- London: Hitler had been reported as offering his Jap allies a world empire if the war is won by the Axis. All of India, part of the Middle East and part of East Africa was believed to have been offered. What Italy was to get was not clear.
Washington: The WPB board has ordered cessation of the making of washing machines and ironers May 15.
Detroit: The Michigan department of the American Legion had before it for consideration resolutions asking President Roosevelt to oust from his cabinet Secretaries Hull, Stimson, Knox and Perkins.
London: The duchess of Kent, wife of the younger brother of King George, was expecting a third child. She is the former Princess Marina of Greece.

OFFENSIVE:
British Bomb
Vital Nazi Centers

Britain, more or less held back from bombings over Europe during the winter season of bad weather and worse visibility, had started an all-out and continuous bombing of German towns and industrial centers, also of vital ports in northwest Germany.

From various sources close to London came word that this was a definite part of the British "spring offensive," and that the attacks would become more powerful and continuous as the weather improved.

Extremely large forces of British bombers were being used, it had been reported, especially the Halifaxes, Stirlings and Lancasters, the latter a new and highly regarded bomber.

Not so much mention was being made of the use of American "fortress bombers," and apparently England had her own plane production in better shape now, or perhaps since our entry into the war was not getting so many flying fortresses.

At all events the British airmen were getting in tremendous licks by day as well as by night, and the Germans, beginning to feel the pinch of heavy bombings with little or no return on their part, had begun to send fighter squadrons over the channel to attempt to break it all up.

The first day these had appeared the British said eight Messerschmitts had been shot down. "None of our planes were lost." The Germans broadcast "Eight British fighters were shot down over the channel—no German planes lost."

It was considered odd, however, that the German radio which turned fighter losses upside down rarely claimed as many bombers shot down as the British were willing to admit having lost.

Some believed the Nazis were trying to minimize the number of bombers Britain was using in the raids by this means.

BYRD:
A 'Field Day'
Senator Byrd of Virginia was having a "field day" at the expense of the Office of Civilian Defense, or the OCD in the Washington alphabet.

Almost daily the senator was uncovering things which he was passing on to the public through news releases.

Among the latest had been his expose of unpaid physical fitness activities of OCD, with particular emphasis on the "bowl your way to physical condition" campaign started by Bowling Co-ordinator Willem.

This leader, said Senator Byrd, turned out to be an executive of an advertising firm handling the account of a nationally known concern which, the senator added, "has a virtual monopoly on the making of bowling alleys and equipment therefore."

SENATOR HARRY F. BYRD
Focused attention on co-ordinators.

Of a piece with this, he said, was the naming of Bernarr Macfadden, the publisher of Physical Culture magazine, as "walking and hiking co-ordinator."

Jack B. Kelly, physical fitness director of the OCD, termed Byrd's attack on the co-ordinators, who serve without pay, a "classic example of boondoggling in congress instead of focusing attention on what's happening in the South Pacific and in Europe."

ROUND-UP:
Official weather springtime starts in late March, but wartime spring was to start, according to a roundup of AP correspondents in leading war centers "when the ground dries up in Russia" or in mid-April or early May.

What that time would bring was a puzzle to most military-minded correspondents, but they agreed it would be "offensive time" and would bring battles on such a scale as to make the present wartime reports seem like child's play.

Most unanimity centered about one probability, that the Japs and Germans would try a concentrated offensive in harmony with each other. Some were inclined to think that the Japs, after gaining control of northeastern Australia and establishing a "front" there would turn their main attack through lightly defended India and attempt to join the Germans at the Persian Gulf. Others thought this plan too ambitious and saw the Japs stopping with Bengal and China cut off from Allied aid, and then turning into Siberia.

Exhibit Day

On visiting day in school, all the grades had some interesting and attractive exhibits on display.

The first grade had a phabel work book showing pictures of objects that begin with letters of the alphabet. They also had exhibits to show for their reading, health and writing units of work.

This grade had some very good drawings they had done.

Grade two had a set of work books on Friends and Pets. A rainbow scene was displayed with water colors and crayons.

The collection of rocks was very interesting with rocks from volcanoes and other places. Who Uncle Sam's Helpers Are was another attraction this grade had.
In this project they had pictures of all the people who help Uncle Sam in the war.

Grade three had nice work books on geography, arithmetic, drawing, spelling and language.
In another set of workbooks they had a good collection of poems, Leaves and other nature objects were shown scattered on paper for exhibits.

Grades four and five had their exhibits together. A collection of workbooks on Remember Your English and Good Good English were shown. There was an interesting collection of Spanish scrap books, which showed pictures of things, like a dog and cat, and what they stood for in Spanish.

When you walked into the sixth grade room the first thing that caught your eye was the attractive covers of the Spanish work-books. There was also work books on color problems and vitamin charts. In front of the room was a painting of George Washington by Leo Doherty, which just goes to show you what these sixth graders can do with paint.

Now for the seventh and eighth grades. Their exhibit was in the same room. Some of the units of work shown were Spanish, letter writing and workbooks on the United States constitution.
Among the exhibits was a poem, Are You the Best?, which was very cleverly done by Dorothy Dishman.

In the typewriting room in the grade school building there was an exhibit for typing, shorthand and bookkeeping. Shorthand had out-display some pictures such as cars, animals and a house, which were drawn with shorthand characters. For spelling there were charts showing how many words each student could type a minute.

There was an attractive bookkeeping note book on display.

The Home Economics, for big school, had on display dresses made in class garments made as home projects, scrapbooks from the units studied. There was an interesting collection of suggestions recipes.

In the English Department there were projects relating to Chaucer, lyric poetry, and the Anglo Saxon period, term notes, books, examination papers and other various units of work were on display.

Everyone enjoyed the parents visiting the rooms and wish they would come more often.

IT TAKES CO-OPERATION...

Fifty years ago nobody thought of trying to stimulate the industrial growth of a whole region. The American pioneer spirit took care of everything.

Today, with our country largely settled, it is not enough to leave our industrial future to nature.
Realizing this, our Company is telling the nation about the splendid opportunities for war and peacetime production that are available here in the Gulf South.

The program is designed to co-operate with all other groups interested in building a greater Gulf South —to work with you, and your local organizations—and to help build your community and the rest of the Gulf South area.

But the job is big—it takes co-operative pulling power—the co-operation of everyone working shoulder to shoulder in the interest of the whole country's defense and its peacetime progress after war. All of us in the Gulf South know that only through close co-operation and unified action can victory be assured. We deeply appreciate our responsibilities in this great crisis.

Pull the Trigger on Constipation, with Ease for Stomach, too

When constipation brings on discomfort after meals, stomach upset, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with Syrup Pepsin for perfect ease to your stomach in taking. For years, many Doctors have given pepsin preparations in their prescriptions to make medicine more agreeable to a touchy stomach. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative-Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring welcome relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin makes this laxative so comfortable and easy on your stomach. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be passing backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your druggist. DOANS PILLS

Star Dust STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO By VIRGINIA VALE (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

ONE of the most important films ever made in this country will be released shortly to motion picture houses throughout the nation. It is "Hidden Hunger," starring Walter Brennan, presented by the Federal Security Agency as part of the National Nutrition Program. A simple story of better eating for sound health, it's not just a picture with a message; it has a lively and amusing plot, it's highly entertaining, an excellent, two-reel production made by experienced producers, directors and actors.

Joan Bennett has revived the old-fashioned "quilting bee" on the set of her current Columbia film, "Highly Irregular"; she's organized 65 elderly ladies into a group to knit and sew for men in the service. The gossip's modern, Hollywood variety!

William Lundigan thinks his lucky breaks began when he left Syracuse university in his second year there to take a job in a radio station. An RKO executive whom he interviewed on the air told him he ought to be in pictures; when a New

WILLIAM LUNDIGAN

York friend fixed up a test for Universal, he just had to stand and talk as he did for radio. He made pictures for Universal and Warner Bros., then was signed by Metro—and had the luck to land in the star-making "Andy Hardy" series, as the new boy friend of Andy's sister in "The Courtship of Andy Hardy."

Jean Arthur was in a scene with Ronald Colman and Cary Grant for "Three's a Crowd"; three soldiers who'd been watching rehearsals had just left. Suddenly an overhead "spider"—a multiple electric switch box—blew out, showering them with sparks. Jean promptly scuttled away. "Where you going?" shouted Director George Stevens. "After those soldiers," she replied, "to put out the bomb!"

Luella Norman, blonde and 19, went east to go west. She left Steele City, Neb., to win a place as radio singer over a Cincinnati station while trying out there for the Metropolitan Opera auditions she was spotted by a movie talent scout and now she's in Hollywood.

Johnny Johnston, young singing guitarist of radio fame, was picked by Paramount for a co-starring role with Ellen Drew in "Priorities of 1942"; it's a musical film with the activities of aircraft plant workers for its story background.

Recently before "Henry Aldrich" went on the air a petition was circulated asking the right to smoke backstage. Just before the broadcast it was slipped into 'Mr. Aldrich's' script for safekeeping, and he very nearly read it over the mike.

Note for baseball fans: The Brooklyn Dodgers didn't want that picture about them to be called "Them Lovely Bums," so remember that it will be offered to the public as "It Happened in Flatbush" unless somebody thinks up a better title.

Just before the war department forbade the use of rubber latex Paramount got under the wire, so you'll see a three-foot latex balloon as a prop for Martha O'Driscoll's bubble dancer scene in "My Heart Belongs to Daddy."

Al Pearce of the air waves is interested in adding Marie Blake to his radio gang. She's Jeannette MacDonald's sister, and you probably saw her somewhere in the "Dr. Kildare" series of pictures—she played the telephone operator.

ODDS AND ENDS—Bill Stern, radio sports announcer, will be seen in the Lou Gehrig film, "The Pride of the Yankees" . . . A fruit dealer who knows and admires Edward G. Robinson spells the "Big Town" star's name out in fruit on his stand . . . A Royal Air Force officer lent Franchot Tone the uniform Tone wears in Columbia's "Highly Irregular" . . . Rosalind Russell, who'll star in "My Sister Eileen," is singing for the boys on her tour of army camps in the Southwest, and they love it . . . Jack Benny has signed a new two-year contract, which will carry him into his tenth year with the same sponsor, and his twelfth as a broadcaster.

Longfellow and Emerson were friends for 40 years. When Longfellow died, Emerson went to his friend's funeral. Passing the casket, Emerson paused a moment—and in a pathetic manner exclaimed: "I have forgotten the man's name who lies there, but he was a great soul."

Harry C. Brumley Announces For County Judge

The Hedley Informer is authorized at this time to announce the candidate of Harry C. Brumley for the office of county judge.
Mr. Brumley a resident of Dunley county since 1898 in announcing his decision to make the race said: "If I'm elected, I shall use plain old horse sense in conducting the affairs of the office."

Aside from being a successful business man, Mr. Brumley has filled a number of public offices, possibly more than any other man in the county. He has served Clarendon as city commis-ioner and as alderman at various times. He served as county commissioner two terms, and as sheriff-assessor-collector two terms, never having asked for a third term in any event.

"In addition to my experience as a farmer, rancher, contractor and business experience and knowledge of courthouse affairs, I feel that I am well qualified for the office of county judge," Mr.
Brumley stated.

... after 10 years of perpetual e-motion

WASHINGTON officialdom complains that the public does not realize that the nation is engaged in war. A critical war. An all out war.
Washington chides the citizenry for its lethargy, its complacency.
"Where does the blame, if any,
lie?"

Thus read the opening lines of an editorial in the official magazine of the United States Chamber of Commerce surmising that the average citizen feels that the bureaucrats in Washington "are not taking the war seriously."

The average man, it is said, "has become impervious to emergency.
He has been exposed for ten years to behind emotion. It is natural that he ask his leaders for something more than words. He needs examples, actions, in high places."

But, it continues, "As far as the citizen can see, not one of the 150-odd peace-time bureaucrats, commissars and authorities has made any sacrifice. Not one. Rather, not a one but has found the war an excuse for expanding its personal and 'serv'ice."

The average man knows that wars are not won with words, piddling policies, or boondoggling. Wars are won with deeds, with production, and with the full cooperation of government, labor, industry, and of ALL the people.

He knows that to win the war there must be an end to behind policies while the battle rages. He knows that his country "is in need of bonus reformers, hampering and revelling industry at a time when our greatest need is planes, tanks, ships —not ideologies."

The practical business men who built up and manage America's electric companies today are providing electric power where it's needed, when it's needed!

Despite the millions on millions of dollars spent for political power projects, business-operated companies are furnishing over 90 per cent of the nation's electric supply in the present emergency. Last year, they installed over 2 1/2 million more horsepower! We now have in the U. S. more electric power than all the enemy nations together.

Careful, efficient and economical production of electric power will continue, lighting air fields, arm camps, industries, your home and business. The war will be won, not with words of abuse but by whole-hearted cooperation!
