Lions Club Meeting

The local School Auditorium was the scene of the Charter Night Program for the local Lion's Club which was held here May 28th.

Arrangements for this occasion were under the direction of Mr. Ted Dudley, first vice president of the organization. The auditorium was beautified with flowers. One bouquet to which attention was called was the one presented by the Mulkey Estate. It was indeed beautiful. Mr. Dudley made miniature lions for table decorations.

The Ladies Culture club served a delicious meal to a large delegation. Among the clubs represented were Clarendon, which sponsored this Club, and turned out in large numbers for the Charter night.

Charles Rains was master of ceremonies for the evening. Ray Mereman gave the Welcome address to which McHenry Lane, of Clarendon gave the response. Mrs. Robert Watkins gave two piano solos. Robert Watkins was the song leader for evening. Lee Bell of Clarendon presented the local club with an American flag. The address was given by E. C. Pender, who is District Governor. He brought along with him the organization man Thatcher, who also made a short talk. Mr. Pender talked on the subject, "The Meaning of the L that We Wear in our Lapels. This was a very interesting and inspiring talk. He stressed such points as leadership, loyalty, law and love. At the close of the address he presented the Charter to Ray Mereman. After Mr. Mereman's acceptance for the local club we stood and sang America. This brought to a close the Charter night program which was enjoyed by all who attended.

The local club was invited to be present at Memphis for their Charter night, June 18. It is expected a good group from here will attend.

The Lion's Club is a service club and you will be hearing from them regarding civic interests. G. E. LeMond, club reporter.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Terrific Air Offensive Against Nazis Is Opened With Epic Raid on Cologne; Violent Fighting in Battle of Kharkov Drains German Reserves in Ukraine

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

The above map shows why Hitler drove his armies toward Kerch. Beyond Rostov and the Crimea lies the fabulously rich land called the Caucasus. Larger than the state of Texas, it is wealthy in oil and metals. However, Russian warriors at Kharkov may well shatter the Nazi dream to bits.

HITLER'S EUROPE: Gets a Taste

From London came the first word of the new United Nations offensive against Hitler on his home grounds—occupied Europe. This first word was described as part propaganda and part actual heavy aerial warfare. The propaganda effect was to strike a definite element of fear into the hearts of the German people by announcing that high U. S. officials had arrived in London to plan an all-out attack upon the Nazis.

There was loud talk of non-stop bombing attacks on the Reich. Said some reports, these attacks would be the heaviest and most fearful the world had ever seen. For the first time American bombing crews were taking their places in the non-stop bombing raids being dealt to industrial centers of the Rhineland.

The London radio let the German people know that Britain was being visited by U. S. Services of Supply Commander Somervell, Air Borne Command (Ground Forces) Commander Lee, SOS Chief of Operations Lutes, and SOS Transportation Services Chief Gross. Army Air Forces Commander Arnold and Chief of Naval Operations (Air) Towers had arrived previously and were already in conference with British military and government leaders, said an official report from Allied headquarters in London.

SOS Commander Somervell told a London press conference that U. S. and British officials were conferring on a program to standardize military equipment, including tanks and planes.

From Washington came a report quoting Army Chief of Staff Marshall as saying that American troops are "landing in England and they will land in France."

Cologne

But the Nazis had something to listen to that was stronger than propaganda. It was the whir of 1,200 British bombers and the thud of 6,000,000 pounds of high explosive bombs as the RAF unleashed the "most devastating aerial raid in history" to level and burn three-fourths of the industrial city of Cologne in a single night.

Called the first of the "four-figure" bombing raids on German industrial centers, this raid on Cologne saw a British bomber swoop over its objective once every six seconds. Equipped with both British and American-made planes the raiders were reported by London sources to have made the vicious Nazi annihilations on Britain last year look feeble by comparison.

Even Berlin admitted that terrific damage had been done. The Royal Air force used so many planes in the mass raid that anti-aircraft defenses were of little use. This method was described as "super-saturating" the Nazi target field so that his aim was constantly diverted. One after another the planes dove low to blast their objectives. One Canadian flier was quoted as saying that when his turn came so much of the city was in flames that he felt like leaving the scene and seeking another target. It didn't seem possible, he said, to do any additional damage.

AUSTRALIAN FRONT:

Exchanges

After a lull of over a week, aerial fighting on the Australian front began again. This time it took the shape of a series of exchange blows by first the Allied forces and then the Japanese.

Heaviest Allied attacks were by American and Australian planes striking at enemy invasion bases at Rabaul and Lae. There was also a heavy raid on the Jap seaplane base at Tulagi in the Solomon islands.

RUSSIA:

Kharkov Claims

While local encounters were being reported on the Kharkov front in the Ukraine, the operation was considered as having resulted in two vital factors:

The Kharkov battle drained German reserves and diverted a minimum of 36 German divisions which had been massed for an all-out offensive against Rostov.

A Russian communique stated that while "attempting to improve their positions, the Germans threw in large reserves for three days in continued counterattacks. All counterattacks were repulsed with great losses to the enemy."

Claiming a brilliant success in the 19-day Kharkov campaign, the Russians admitted the loss of 75,000 troops—5,000 killed and 70,000 missing. However, a Red army communique claimed the capture or killing of 90,000 Germans.

The same communique pointed out that Soviet offensive operations in the Kharkov region were started only in order to forestall the anticipated blow of the Nazis. The Russian plans did not include the capture of Kharkov. The communique concluded: "Now that these battles are nearing their end, it can be said that the main task put forward by the Soviet command—to forestall the German blow—has been completed."

MEXICO:

Power for Camacho

With Mexico's proclamation of hostilities, 11 of the 21 American republics became aligned in the war against the Axis. In addition to the United States, war has been declared by Costa Rica, Cuba, Guatemala, Panama, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, Nicaragua, El Salvador and Honduras. Eight other Western hemisphere nations have broken off diplomatic relations.

In paving the way for war on the Axis, the Mexican senate approved a bill to suspend 14 constitutional guarantees, including freedom of the press and the right of habeas corpus. The vote was 53 to 0.

Gen. Salvador Sanchez, chief of Mexican general staff, announced that a supreme national defense council with Camacho at its head was being established to mobilize resources and manpower. The high command has ordered strong army units into positions on the gulf and Pacific coast.

GASOLINE:

Rationing

After WPB Automotive Division Chief Kanzler had stated that gasoline rationing on a nationwide scale would help in relieving potential rubber and automotive replacement parts shortages, Board Chairman Nelson said that administrative difficulties will make it impossible to start a rationing system before July 1.

The Office of Price Administration meanwhile was reporting that the June ration quota of new passenger automobiles will be 40,000, plus carryover of unused quotas from March, April and May.

MISCELLANY:

Wheat: Department of agriculture experts estimated probable winter wheat production in the nine important producing states at 436,305,000 bushels. Also announced was a deferred payment plan for the new three-year crop insurance contract offered wheat growers the first time this year will permit payment of the premium in annual installments (about harvest time).

LIBYA:

Allies Meet Rommel's Drive

From Cairo came the first reports of the opening of a new offensive by the Nazis across the sands of Libya in a drive for Egypt, then Iraq and the rear gate to the Caucasus.

It was Field Marshal Erwin Rommel who was leading the German tank forces against the British in this hot desert campaign. But Rommel's rush met not only the British. It met the full power of American-made tanks.

And with these tanks, Lieut. Gen. Neil M. Ritchie's British troops turned the first spearhead of the Nazis and the terrific engagement of armored forces began once more.

The fury of the battle was described as so fierce that a decision in the Tobruk area would not be long in coming, for one side or the other would be forced soon to yield.

GULF:

Frontier Command

As the submarine menace continued to mount in the Gulf of Mexico, the U. S. navy created a gulf sea frontier command and the army at the same time placed the coastal region along the gulf in a military area. This would mean that the district along the gulf coast from Florida to the Rio Grande would be subject to dimouts and blackouts.

Rear Admiral James Laurence Kauffman was chosen by the navy to command gulf sea frontier and Lieut. Gen. Walter Krueger, head of the southern defense command for the army, was in charge of the land fighting forces in the district. No evacuation of citizens was ordered and the army emphasized that civilians within the military area would not be restricted except as to lighting.

Headquarters for the navy forces fighting the submarines in the area will be at Miami.

POISON GAS:

Halts Chinese

"Poison gas" was the cry from China as the Japs were reported to have resorted to this method of fighting to stem a sustained drive by the Chinese to capture fallen Kinwa and Lanchi in the Chekiang province.

This was not the first time that the Chinese had accused the Japs of using poison gas. Last fall at Ichang, a Yangtze river port, it was officially charged that gas had been used. Also in recent fighting in Burma, the Japs had used gas when hard pressed, the Chinese had reported.

This time, an army communique from Chungking said, the Japs had used this method of fighting only after stubborn resistance by the Chinese had threatened to turn the Chekiang offensive into a Jap defeat.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE:

West Coast

The equipping of West coast police and firemen with gas masks gave evidence that the Pacific seaboard is bracing itself for an enemy attack.

James M. Landis, left, director of the Office of Civilian Defense, talks with Stanley W. Donogh, assistant regional director OCD director in Seattle. Speaking at Portland, Ore., Landis said: "This is a priority region, tops in our strategic thinking. I've directed (civilian defense) equipment here to the anger of other regions."

tack which Secretary of War Stimson considers likely.

Gas mask pouches made their appearance in coast cities from Seattle to San Diego. Mass distribution of masks to civilian defense workers was begun at the same time.

The defense activity followed Stimson's warning that a reprisal raid by Japan for the Tokyo bombing is a distinct possibility.

New shipping precautions were taken along the Gulf of Mexico when night shore lighting from New Orleans to Brownsville was ordered blotted out by the army.

SMALL BUSINESS:

Two Moves

The house of representatives has passed and returned to the senate legislation setting up a Small Business corporation to make loans which would enable small firms to obtain war contracts.

Meanwhile the commerce department was issuing suggested procedures for establishing Business Wartime clinics to aid local business men in working out current problems of dislocation and changes in their businesses.

THINGS TO MAKE

LET'S take pattern Z9396 to the workshop. There, from scraps of plywood and with the aid of jig or keyhole saw, we can make these clever flower holders. Outlines for a dachshund, two bluebirds, a muffin-cheeked cat and his quizzical companion, for the sad-eyed hound, a wise owl, and a cute deer are traced to wood, sawed out, assembled and painted.

These are fascinating to make, and you've practical as well as decorative items when you've finished. Directions come with the pattern, which is 15 cents. Send your order to:

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, itching at night, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

Violent boiling destroys most vitamins. Control heat carefully while boiling food.

To help preserve the color of beets and red cabbage when cooking, use a tablespoon of vinegar to each quart of water.

Syrup from canned fruits can be used on cereals and for saucers.

Pineapple and peach juices mixed in ginger ale make a delicious punch. Add the ginger ale at the last moment and serve in glasses or a pitcher half-filled with crushed ice. The ice is needed to dilute as well as to chill the beverage.

When cotton sheets begin to wear out in the center, rather than sew the outside hems together, make two pillow slips of the two good ends.

The Stuff Out of Which Conversation Is Made

A tourist stopped at a farmhouse for a drink of water. "Fine corn," he said, waving to a hillside.

"Best in these parts," replied the farmer. "But how do you plow that hill? It's pretty steep?" "Don't plow it. The spring thaws bring down stones that tear it up so we can plant the corn." "How do you plant it?" "Shoot the seed in with a shotgun." "Is that the truth!" exclaimed the tourist. "Of course not," replied the farmer, "but it's conversation."

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Nazi Divisions Battle on Two Fronts As Campaign in Russia Intensifies; OEM Seeks Nationwide Auto Pooling; Germany Reported Critical of Laval

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Robert A. Lovett, left, U. S. assistant secretary of war, as he was welcomed to Ottawa, Can., by Air Marshal G. O. Johnson of the Royal Canadian Air force. In center background is Artemus Gates, U. S. assistant secretary of the navy. Lovett and Gates attended the United Nations air training conference in which representatives of 12 countries participated.

RUSSIAN FRONT: Two Offensives

As the Nazis began massing new panzer divisions for the first 1942 thrust at Moscow from the west, further to the south their forces scored a strategic victory as they forced withdrawal of Russian troops from the Kerch peninsula. Their goal in that section of the front was of course the vital oil fields of the Caucasus.

Around Kharkov, to the north of the Kerch area, Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's armies of the Ukraine held the offensive after more than two weeks of steady intensive fighting. Success by the Russians at Kharkov would expose rear lines of main German units attacking the Caucasus.

Just across the narrow strait from the Kerch peninsula the Russians were reported to have heavily reinforced their defenses on the Caucasus shore and the Soviet Black sea fleet was said to be massed near the strait and loomed as Hitler's biggest obstacle in any jump toward the oil treasure.

United Nations strategists hope for a successful stand by the Russians in the Caucasus region. For if Hitler can be kept from this oil his timetable will be once more upset. Some experts expressed the suggestion that the threatened Moscow offensive was a feint to lure heavy Russian defenses away from the oil fields. While the moral effect of Moscow's fall might be bad, the loss of rich supplies of oil in the Caucasus would be far more damaging to the Allied cause.

Both the Nazis and the Russians were claiming that the other had suffered huge losses in tanks and other armored material all along the front. In three days of fighting on the Izium-Barvenkova front, the Russians reported the destruction of 75 German tanks.

REGISTRATION: Of 18, 19-Year-Olds

Young men between the ages of 18 and 19 will register for selective service on June 30. The registration will include youths whose 20th birthdays fell between December 31, 1941, and June 30, 1942. Under present law, the first age group is not subject to military service but the latter group can be called.

Informed sources report the possibilities of a proposal to lower the minimum age for compulsory service to 19 years—and possibly 18. An estimated 1,200,000 persons are in each age group.

When the selective service act was revised by congress after Pearl Harbor, the war department recommended making 19-year-olds subject to the draft. The senate acted favorably but the house voted to place the minimum age at 21. A compromise resulted, permitting 20-year-olds to be drafted.

Rep. Andrew J. May of Kentucky, chairman of the house military affairs committee, expressed the belief that the house would be willing to lower the age minimum. However, Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama, Democratic whip, said he expected no immediate action. New draft classification measures are expected to be acted upon in the near future.

HIGHLIGHTS... in the week's news

Ottawa, Ont.: United States tourists entering Canada will be given ration books entitling them to only 20 gallons of gasoline on a yearly basis, not for each entry.

Washington: A five-pointed white star within a blue circle has been adopted as a new insignia for all U. S. combat aircraft to remove the possibility of confusion with enemy planes.

LAVAL ON SPOT? Nazis Impatient

The removal of fuel from French warships at Martinique was announced by Secretary of State Hull, who stated that further demobilization work is in progress and proceeding satisfactorily.

Meanwhile rumors were revived that Pierre Laval might step out as chief of government in Vichy. Laval had conferred in Paris with German military and political leaders who are said to have become increasingly impatient with his slowness in bringing France into full collaboration. Nazi party leaders were extremely critical regarding Laval's handling of the Martinique affair.

Jacques Doriot, former Communist, has been suggested as Laval's successor. Rumors from Vichy stated that he might enter the government or form his own collaborationist regime in Paris. In a May 16 speech, Doriot evinced his own readiness to take over if Laval was unable to carry out a satisfactory program.

However, informed persons in Vichy believe that Laval is comparatively secure for the immediate future.

MEXICO: 'National Pride'

As Mexico moved toward war, government officials explained the necessity for such a step. Mexican national pride demanded that the deaths of 21 sailors killed by Axis torpedoes be avenged.

A solemn demonstration in memory of the dead sailors drew thousands of people to Mexico City's huge central plaza. President Manuel Avila Camacho, members of the cabinet and congress appeared at the demonstration. The memorial program was followed by a pageant at which the Nazi banner was burned amid cheers for Roosevelt and other Allied leaders and boos for Hitler, Mussolini and Emperor Hirohito.

Many German, Japanese and Italian business houses were painted with slogans "Down With the Axis!" and "Down With Hitler!"

TRANSPORTATION: Lonely Highways

By June, 1943, the Office of Emergency Management reports that 20,000,000 passenger cars will go off the roads—leaving about 8,000,000—unless car pooling can be made effective on a nationwide scale.

According to OEM statistics, the average passenger load per mile last year was less than 2 persons, although the average car capacity is 4.2 persons. The War Production board reported some labor-management committees have enabled workers to form their own car pools by indicating on conspicuously posted maps the home location of every man driving a car to work and of every man without a car.

Meanwhile the Office of Defense Transportation banned operation of all sight-seeing bus services and restricted use of chartered buses to such essential operations as transporting members of the armed forces, war workers and school children.

SHIPBUILDING: Vital Front

With the launching of 27 cargo vessels the nation marked its observation of National Maritime day.

War Shipping Board Administrator Land said that by that date 138 ships had been delivered into service since the beginning of the year, "approximately 35 per cent more than were delivered in all of last year." Two ships a day are now being delivered under Shipping Board's program and by fall there will be three a day. This means ships "put into active war service."

Maritime Commission Vice Chairman Vickery estimated that by the end of 1943 American shipyards will be able to turn out 2,800,000 tons of shipping or "in two years will do more than twice as much as the World War yards did in five years."

President Roosevelt on Maritime day said, "I can assure you that we will perform this near-miracle of ship production. The nation's shipbuilding capacity has been increased more than 500 per cent. That of itself is an outstanding achievement." Despite this progress, he stated, the country still is confronted with a serious ship shortage, partly because of the heavy toll taken by enemy U-boats.

But the submarine menace, like other problems, "is being solved," said the President.

MANPOWER: Mobilization

In a program to promote fullest utilization of manpower a program was announced in Washington which directed the U. S. employment service to prepare and maintain lists of skilled occupations essential to war production in which a national shortage exists. Preferential referrals of workers would then be made to employers engaged in war production in order of their priority before making referrals to other employers.

Further the employment service was directed to analyze and classify occupational questionnaires distributed by the selective service system and to interview persons skilled in critical war occupations and refer them to war job openings, and increase its activities and facilities necessary to provide additional agricultural workers.

In addition assistance to the farmer in helping him meet serious labor situation was seen in an order to the Farm Security administration to increase mobile labor camps to make agricultural workers available. The Office of Defense Transportation is to assure adequate transportation facilities for such workers.

In discussing these labor mobilization programs, War Manpower Chairman McNutt stated that if it is possible to insure full and effective utilization of manpower through voluntary co-operation, "it will be unnecessary to put into effect legal controls" to limit freedom of action of workers and employers. Skilled labor shortages have forced 384 out of 700 war contractors to reduce production, he said, and estimated that by the end of 1942 war labor forces will be boosted by approximately 18,000,000.

DOOLITTLE: To Do More

More raids on Japan were promised by Brig. Gen. James H. Doolittle, commander of the U. S. air fleet which bombed Tokyo in mid-April. In a nation-wide radio broadcast he praised workers and manufacturers of American airplanes and called these U. S.-made machines the best in the world.

Japanese pursuit planes which rose to challenge the American forces during the daring raid "never had a chance," he said. Doolittle later told of the great disappointment of two-thirds of the volunteer fliers who were secretly trained for the job attacking Japan. They were "heartbroken," he explained, because the limit of the number of planes to be used on the raid forced them to remain behind at the last minute.

WITHHOLDING TAX: Employers Responsible

In a far-reaching, all-inclusive proposal, the treasury department recommended to congress that 10 per cent of an individual's estimated taxable income be withheld at the source.

The withholding tax, according to the treasury department, would lighten the taxpayer's burden, speed the government's program to combat inflation and aid in collecting taxes from small wage earners.

PREPAREDNESS AMERICAN RED CROSS

TO THOUSANDS of Americans seeking news of their families and friends in war-torn countries, 25 words on an official Red Cross form have meant all the difference between hope and despair.

Ever since the outbreak of the war, the American Red Cross has been for many people the only medium through which they could get news of their relatives in Poland, Holland, Belgium and the other occupied nations. Even when the news has been bad, even when it has been the worst possible, it has at least meant merciful release from torturing anxiety and uncertainty.

For a while it was possible in a few cases to maintain contact by letter over long roundabout routes. Since America's entry into the war, all remaining avenues of communication have been closed. Today, under the rules of the United States Office of Censorship, personal messages to residents of enemy or enemy occupied territory may be forwarded ONLY through the Red Cross inquiry service here and the International Red Cross committee in Geneva, Switzerland.

Regulations governing the sending of one of these messages from the United States are that the communication, which should be filled in at a local Red Cross chapter, must not be more than 25 words, and should be in English. If it is written in a foreign language, an English translation must be attached.

The United States Office of Censorship rules that no mention may be made of politics or military subjects, defense materials, shipping or weather conditions, business matters or geographic names.

But even the strict regulations cannot rob the brief message on the International Red Cross form of its human warmth and drama. The original message, made out in some local Red Cross chapter here, goes on its long and slow journey across ocean and continents. Space is provided on it for a reply message, to be returned to the original sender.

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

THE nation's largest radio stock company is behind the weekly production of the WPB's new program, "Three Thirds of a Nation," heard Wednesday evenings on the Blue network. Produced in co-operation with the Hollywood Victory committee, clearing house for war-time appearances of the Associated Actors and Artists of America, the program has at its disposal the resident membership of all Southern California. Castings weekly draw from a reservoir of more than 10,000 screen, stage and radio actors, all volunteers.

The Tone family, Franchot and Jean, will soon be working at the same studio. Franchot has signed a term agreement with Paramount; it calls for four pictures during the next two years. Jean Wallace Tone, a "Louisiana Purchase" beauty, is already there.

Ann Harding is returning to the screen in Metro's "Odor of Violets," a mystery drama soon to go into production. Edward Arnold has the principal male role. Donna Reed, one of Metro's abundant crop of starlets, is also in the cast.

You may not recognize Chester Conklin at once in "I Married a Witch"; playing a bartender at a country club who's in much of the opening action, he appears without that famous walrus mustache.

An evening gown that Priscilla Lane wears in "Silver Queen" is going to be melted down and given to the Ambulance corps when she's through with it. It's a 17-pound silver dress, and will eventually become wiring and dental plates for soldiers.

The diamonds that Marlene Dietrich wore in "The Lady Is Willing" are facing the camera again, this time in "Ellery Queen Across the Atlantic." The picture teams Margaret Lindsay and William Garagan. The story requires a collection of jewels, that are stolen, so James Hogan, the director, got busy and rented them. Miss Dietrich got a break—she just borrowed the gems.

Those children's giggles you will hear in Walt Disney's "Bambi" are the sounds of youngsters, filled up with ice cream, enjoying some old Mickey Mouse shorts. Disney wanted spontaneous laughter, and that's how he got it.

In all the movie studios Adolphe Menjou is known as the script girl's pet. He keeps track for himself of all the tricky little details which the girls have to watch. For example, in RKO's "Synecopation" Menjou and George Bancroft do a lot of smoking, which means that lengths of cigars and ash must be matched in scenes which may be filmed weeks apart. Menjou carries a pocket rule, measures cigar and ash at the beginning of each scene, and calls his results to the script girl.

Claudette Colbert has signed a three-year contract calling for one picture a year with RKO. Her first assignment will be the leading role in the screen version of Pearl Buck's "China Sky"—she'll play an American doctor.

Stepping into the title role of the "Bulldog Drummond" series, back on the air after an absence of several months, Santos Ortega follows in illustrious footsteps. George Courlouris, the last incumbent, is on tour with that very successful play, "Watch on the Rhine." E. E. Mathews was the first actor to assume the role, and John Barrymore, Ronald Colman and John Howard did it on the screen.

ODDS AND ENDS—Robert Preston learned to be a proficient machine gunner while on location with "Wake Island" . . . Victor McLaglen of RKO's "Powder Town" has intended a 40 foot tank and submitted it to the war department; he's a veteran of the Boer and the last World war . . . A new adventure strip about a war correspondent will be based on the real life adventures of William L. Shirer during his days as a Berlin radio operator . . . Joan Edwards of "Your Hit Parade" has won the pool three weeks running in guessing the ten hit numbers . . . Other stars may go in for unusual pets, but Mary Martin keeps good laying hens.

PREPAREDNESS

by the AMERICAN RED CROSS

MATERIAL assistance to service men's dependents by the 3,700 chapters of the American Red Cross has increased more than six-fold in the past few months, officials announced today.

Families or dependents of men in the armed forces are urged to keep in close touch with their Red Cross chapters so that existing problems may be handled promptly and others arising from war conditions may be prevented.

When war was declared wholesale cancellation of applications for discharges from the army on the grounds of dependency upset families' plans for the immediate future. Likewise, the transfer of troops from one station to another, and orders for departure from the country, left many unsettled problems. These sudden shifts created an unprecedented increase of work for the chapters.

However, with its resources generously contributed by the American people, the Red Cross is enabled to relieve immediate hardships of the service men's families and to help them plan adjustments to wartime conditions.

Officials stress the fact that this service to dependents is a legal and moral obligation of the Red Cross derived from its congressional charter.

Young wives and children left stranded far from home; parents who are hard-pushed to make ends meet; younger brothers and sisters in need of food or clothing—these are just a few of the thousands of situations which are being taken care of by local Red Cross home service workers.

If a service man is reported killed, wounded or missing the Red Cross will obtain information through its communication facilities. The men of the armed forces are likewise served by the thousand or more field workers on duty at all major military and naval stations at home and abroad. The minds of men on duty are relieved by the knowledge that the Red Cross will help clear up the unsettled problems they left behind.

Household Hints

If your fountain pen is found to be dry, and there is no ink available, draw up a dozen drops of water into the barrel and shake well. It will tide you over.

Inspect the refrigerator every morning before planning the day's menu. That is one of the best ways of checking on the cooked food supply and of utilizing every leftover.

A fine spread for lunch sandwiches: Cover a pound of dried apricots with water and cook until tender. Then add an equal quantity of apples (in bulk) and cook all together. When it is cooked, sweeten to suit the taste.

To provide the most adequate serving of omelet allow three eggs for every two servings.

"Save Paper," says Uncle Sam. O. K. If an impersonal letter comes to you with but one side written upon, use the other side for your correspondence. You might add a footnote: "I'm saving paper for Uncle Sam by using the unused side of this letter."

Facts About Flies

A STOOL often looks better in front of a desk or telephone stand than a chair with a high back. A substantial wooden box may make the foundation, and if well padded and smartly covered will be as attractive as anything that you could buy.

Before shopping for materials check over things on hand. Moss, horse hair and even feathers from discarded upholstered pieces may be sewn in a cheese cloth bag and washed before using again. Worn draperies and bedspreads usually have unfaded good pieces in them

One pair of flies can multiply to 335,923,200,000,000 flies in 10 weeks, if all their offspring live, according to Alan Devoe in Reader's Digest. In writing about "Our Enemy the Fly," Devoe says that a fly egg hatches in 24 hours, the larva becomes an adult fly in less than 10 days. Thereafter at 10-day intervals, for 8 to 10 weeks, the female fly lays 100 eggs. The total for nine generations of a single pair thus amounts to trillions of offspring.

"We must fight continuously against adult flies that get into our houses, wielding old-fashioned swatter, spraying, using fly-paper," says Devoe.

Casualty—1,000 miles from the enemy

ALMOST as fatal as a bullet or a shell is the breakdown in the spirit of a sailor or a soldier.

Our men have the finest spirit in the world. But it must be maintained in the American way.

They must not be made to feel that they are mere automatons, fighting machines, as the armed forces of the dictators have been made to feel.

Life in our navy and army is hard. Discipline is tough. It must be. But there also must be moments when the sailor or soldier is treated as Mr. Somebody-or-other.

That's where the USO comes in. For the USO is the banding together of six great agencies to serve one great purpose—to see that our boys in the camps and naval stations have a place to go, to turn to, a "home away from home."

The duties of the USO have more than doubled during the year. Its field of operations has enlarged to include almost the entire face of the globe.

To carry on its all-important work, it needs funds. It needs your contribution. No matter how small you make that contribution, it needs it. Now.

You are beset by requests for help on all sides. By all means, try to meet those requests. But among them, don't neglect the USO.

Send your contribution to your local USO committee, or to USO, National Headquarters, Empire State Building, New York.

LESTER BOONE

Pledging himself to "an all-out war effort," Lester Boone, Fort Worth Representative, has formally announced his candidacy for the Texas Railroad Commission, and called attention to the fact that it was one of Texas' most vital factors in the war effort. He further pledged in his announcement to attend all commission meetings.
Boone, who is now serving in the Texas Legislature from Fort Worth, sponsored the Omnibus Tax Bill which made possible the payment of old age pensions, teachers retirement pay, aid to the blind, and aid to crippled and dependent children. As a member of the House Military Affairs Committee, he aided in the passage of the Texas Defense Guard Bill, which became a law, thereby giving Texas greater security in the present crisis.
"I pledge an administration of harmony and will cooperate with other members of the commission," Boone said in his announcement. "I pledge myself to an all-out war effort in this vital department of State Government and will attend all commission meetings."

Vincent Messler Davison

Mrs. E. G. Boliver and Mrs. Lloyd Leggett returned Tuesday from Newcastle, where they had been at the bedside of the former's stepfather, V M Davison, who passed away Sunday. Funeral services were held Monday from the Newcastle Methodist church by the pastor, Rev. Morrison, assisted by Rev. I W Lawrence.

Vincent Messler Davison was born Oct. 28, 1861, in Hoboken, New Jersey. He was converted in early manhood and joined the Methodist Church. He was a long time resident of Newcastle, where his exemplary life and high moral character made him universally respected. He was a kind and loving husband, father and stepfather, and will be sadly missed by all his loved ones and friends.
He is survived by his wife, two sons, Ewell of Pasadena, Calif., and Doyle of the U S Navy, six stepchildren, three grandchildren, one great grandchild, and a large number of step grandchildren.

First Baptist Church Notes

It was the pastor's happy privilege last week to attend the Preachers' Evangelistic Conference (a revival for preachers) at Seminary Hill, Ft Worth, Texas. Last Sunday morning gleanings from this inspiring meeting were brought at the morning hour. Two key scriptures were used to sum up the highlights; Ezekiel 33:7, "I have set thee a watch man—therefore warn them for me"; and II John 8: "Look to yourselves, that we lose not these which we have wrought." These things were summed up by the pastor under three heads: 1 Personal Purity, 2 Prevailing Prayer and 3 Powerful Preaching.

The Church is making plans to sponsor a Vacation Bible School the last of June. Especially those who attended last year are looking forward to this week of fellowship and learning, and others who were not in last year's school we feel sure, are planning to attend this time. We think now we will have a state worker to lead us this year, and that means it should even be better.

A welcome awaits all at our services
