Red Cross Notes

The Hedley Volunteer Workers of the Red Cross since our work began under your present Red Cross Chairman May 1 1942 has finished the following:

Knitted garments—2 wool afghan with 98 knitted squares to each afghan, 5 sleeveless sweaters, 5 mufflers, 4 sweaters with sleeves. We have done very little knitting due to not having a chairman for our knitting.

Sewing—12 pairs mens pajamas, 50 children pajamas, 50 ladies blouses, 28 baby gowns, 9 baby quilts, 8 childrens aprons, 6 bed quilts.

The above articles have been turned into the Donley Co Red Cross Chapter. Work not turned in yet is as follows:

50 women's slips, 50 women's blouses, 50 men's pajamas, 10 quilts, 1 wool knitted afghan, 1 wool afghan from used wool clothing.

We wish to thank Mrs. Minnie Snowden and Mrs. John Mace for quilt piecing; Mrs. Mattie Killian for work on afghan; Mrs. Jim Everett and Mrs. W. I. Rains and Mrs. M. L. Sims for donations on a quilt today; Womens Culture Club and TEL Sunday School Class for sewing; Mrs. Frank Finch for cash and buttons; John Baird for cotton for quilts; Mrs. J. D. Maaten and Mrs. Letha Youngblood for 2 quilt tops; and for all who cut quilt pieces last Saturday.

We will work at Red Cross Room again next Saturday at 2 o'clock. Anyone who does not have time to work can help by sending a cash donation. Plenty of work for everyone is now ready.

Red Cross Chairman

Miss Melesworth, Red Cross Chairman, says: "The Hedley Community is still in the lead in the sewing. We issued Mrs. Clyde Bridges 50 pairs of pajamas and a large box of scraps for quilts."

T. E. L. Class

The T. E. L. class met with Mrs. W. I. Rains Friday, Jan 22 for class meeting. All enjoyed the following program:

Scripture reading, Mrs. Bramlett

Prayer, Mrs. Jenkins

The Need at Home, Mrs. Alewine

Sharing God with our Children Mrs. Jenkins

Poem, These Things, Mrs. Jewell

Closing prayer, Mrs. Simmons

During the social hour we cut quilt scraps for the Red Cross. Refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Jenkins, Jewell, Simmons, Alewine, Bramlett, Helman, Hamelstrand, Gigg, Bridges, Land, hostess, Mrs. Rains and our guest Mrs. Beach.

Bank In Good Condition

According to their report at the annual stockholders meeting the Security State Bank enjoyed a successful year. They paid an 8% dividend, added $2500 to their surplus account, and reduced their banking house, furniture and fixtures and other real estate. Their statement January 1 showed capital of $35,000, surplus $18,000, profits and reserves of $1765.01 and deposits $278,545.67 an increase of $100,000 over last year.

The directors elected for the year were J. B. Masterson, J. W. Noel, M. C. Allen, Tom McDougald and Tommie M. Potts. The officers elected were J. W. Noel, President, J. B. Masterson, Vice President, C. L. Johnson, Cashier and Willie Mae Greer, Asst. Cashier. Peggy Nell Everett is the bookkeeper of the bank.

Mr. Noel says the bank plans to do everything they can to aid the war effort. The bank will sell War Savings Bonds without compensation, will buy bonds for itself with its surplus funds, finance farmers and others producing for victory and provide every financial service for depositors, borrowers and the community.

W. S. G. S.

After having missed one meeting due to cold weather, the W. S. G. S. met in a very interesting meeting Monday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. B. Masterson. The minutes were read by Mrs. Ruth Kumpson and approved by the members present. Old business was completed; plans for social meeting once per quarter, agreeing upon the president, completing plans for redelegating in certain rooms of parsonage with silence board, report on finances derived from Lions club, completing records of finances derived from subscriptions to Hollands Magazine.

New business discussed and undertaken; a motion to buy pad for the new rug Bro. LeMond is putting in the living room of the parsonage, the quilting of a quilt for Red Cross, the serving of the Lions Thursday night, the advisability of buying some chairs so sadly needed when entertaining Lions or other gatherings. It was agreed that these things be undertaken Mesdames C. R. LeMond, O. O. Hill and W. E. Hill are the serving committee this time.

Of particular spiritual uplift was the devotional conducted by Mrs. O. O. Hill, who also acted as pianist, Mrs. G. L. Johnson and Mrs. J. B. Masterson gave articles carrying out the theme, A New Earth Wherein Dwelleth Righteousness. Mrs. Hill gave a reading, Holy Ground, followed with prayer and song. She then read John's vision of a new creation after which the members sang, Gloria Patri, followed by contemporary commandments for Christian character and service. The closing song was Jesus Shall Reign Where e'er the Sun. The closing thought was Call to citizenship in the Kingdom of God.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

The first known rubber hose was manufactured in England in 1827.

Collapsible rubber hose equipped with pe-dies, bullet-hole plugs, sea-sucker, water, etc., are being produced for fighting U. S. armies. Inflated in 10 seconds, this hose forms part of the pilot's seat and stays with him when he hits the water.

An Omaha, Neb., fire salesman hurried into court before returning for parking his car near a hydrant that had fallen himself out of the 52 fire, then sold two new tires to the judge, two to the cop who arrested him and two to the court attendant.

Production of War tires is definitely tied to the production of reclaimed rubber. It is estimated that the country has refining capacity to process 360,000 tons of reclaimed a year.

Rubber authorities estimate that 900 million tires have been scrapped since World War I.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Ickes Cites Small Business Peril; Congressional Pay-as-You-Go Tax Program Gets Treasury's Approval; Fifth Russ Offensive Batters Nazis

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Somewhere in China this soldier of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's armies stands guard before a line of American P40 planes at an inland air base. The shift is 24 hours at a stretch in guarding these precious craft that hold off Jap advances in China.

PAY-AS-YOU-GO: Tax Gets Go-Ahead

It had been clear that official Washington would be inaugurated March 15, the taxpayer would file his income tax return on that date and pay his quarterly 1943 taxes on the basis of his 1942 income. The withholding tax would then be effective on weekly or monthly paychecks, as well as on income from interest and dividends.

Persons on payrolls such as farmers, independent business men, professional people and others could pay their taxes on a monthly or quarterly basis.

FOOD PRICES: Index Up 3 Per Cent

Skyrocketing retail prices of fresh fruits and vegetables, whose cost is not controlled by the OPA, were largely responsible for an increase of 43 per cent in the food cost index since August, 1939, the month before World War II began, according to a summary released by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins.

Even since the price control law began to operate last spring, Mrs. Perkins said, retail food prices have gone up because of the increases in the cost of items still uncontrolled. The index in December was 9 per cent above that of May and 17 per cent above December, 1941, the month the United States entered the war.

NORTH AFRICA: War vs. Politics

As French forces broke the lull in North Africa's stalemated war by capturing a number of passes on the road to the Tunisian seaport of Sousse, so, too, it appeared that the French had moved effectively to end the political strife that had hampered all-out action against the Axis.

The importance of the French drive toward Sousse was that it threatened the Axis land supply routes for operations in central and southern Tunisia.

On the political front Harold Macmillan, British minister for North Africa, presented an agreement between Gen. Henri Giraud and Gen. Charles de Gaulle, leader of the Fighting French, would remove most of the objectionable features in the present administration of North Africa.

A three-way conflict of interests had raged since the American invasion. One side stood the Liberals and Republicans, who had welcomed the Americans. On the other stood the Vichyites and Fascists. In between were the Royalists, attempting to capitalize on the battle.

SMALL BUSINESS: Total War Casualty?

Economists had long been aware of the war's menacing impact on American small business, but their statistical discourses attracted little public notice. It remained for vocal Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes to dramatize the little business man's plight when he declared that the country now faces "the brutal fact that the war can be the final, crushing blow to small business."

Pointing out that "the major portion of war production contracts are going to a few large corporations," Mr. Ickes told the senate small business committee that "should the small business man go, we all will go."

Mr. Ickes warned that "we must guard against the loss of our traditional freedom of enterprise, a loss that would result in creating a dictatorship by a few corporations and cartels over our jobs."

FIFTH OFFENSIVE: Launched by Reds

To the four Russian offensives that had jarred the Nazis loose from thousands of square miles of dearly won territory was added a fifth that appeared to be the supreme Red winter effort. Voronezh—strong point on the 1,000-mile Soviet line from Moscow to the Black Sea—was the springboard of this drive and it was the German high command itself which made the first announcement to the world.

Significance of the Voronezh offensive was that it faced the already hardpressed Nazis with a double threat. Red forces from Voronezh could turn due south to join the other offensives aimed at Rostov, or could drive westward toward Kursk and Kharkov in the Upper Ukraine and menace the Nazi hold on this world-famous granary.

Significant, too, was the fact that the Russians held the initiative. It was the Germans who were on the defensive, who must conjecture where the Reds would strike next and had costly alternatives thrust on them.

In all other theaters the Russians were pressing their newly gained advantages, reoccupying areas in the Caucasus, whittling down German resistance near Stalingrad and engaging vast Nazi forces in the lower Don river reaches.

AIR TEMPO: Allied Power Rises

Prophetic of what was yet to come, Allied airplanes continued to ride the skies and shower destruction on Axis-held European and Mediterranean areas.

Hitler's army in the Ruhr valley was the target of repeated bombings. Lille, locomotive manufacturing center of northern France, experienced gutting raids. On the route, also were Abbeville and St. Omar near the British channel coast of France.

In the Mediterranean, Allied bombers were active both on the island bases serving Axis troops and on the African mainland itself. Mediterranean attacks were made on Crete, Sicily and Lampedusa. African raids were made on Homs, near Tripoli and between Sousse and Sfax.

SULLIVAN BROTHERS: A Tale of Heroism

The five Sullivan brothers of World War II promised to become as celebrated in American annals as the five Bixby brothers of the Civil war, immortalized by Abraham Lincoln's letter to their mother.

Not yet was it known whether the Sullivan boys were dead or alive, but a navy communication to their parents in Waterloo, Iowa, ominously reported them "missing in action." The brothers joined the navy to avenge a friend slain at Pearl Harbor. They were shipmates at their own request and were believed casualties of the cruiser Juneau sunk in the November battle for the Solomons.

ROAD TO TOKYO: Mired by Rains

The road to Tokyo was bogged down by tropical rains that turned fighting Allied sectors in New Guinea into swampy mires, but in the air American and Australian commanders broadened their air offensive against the Japanese with raids on four main bases.

On the Allied air calling list were Madang and Finschaven on the northern New Guinea coast. Flying Fortresses supported by medium bombers and fighter planes struck likewise at Lae and Salamau. In the Lae area 160 miles up the eastern New Guinea coast from Allied-held Buna, large fires were started among barges, stores and harbor installations.

In the Solomons, the plight of the Jap garrisons had grown more serious as efforts to land extensive supplies had been balked by American air power. The navy department reported that a three-day offensive on Guadalcanal island had progressed satisfactorily, with several Jap positions isolated and awaiting destruction. Air raids were continued against Munda island.

NAZI HOME MORALE: Signs of Strain

Volumes had been written by Allied commentators about the state of the German home front since the Russian offensives, but two brief statements by high Nazi officials revealed the enormously heartening fact that Reich morale had at least begun to creak.

The Nazi officials were Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, propaganda minister, and Gen. Kurt Dietmar, a leading German military critic.

Writing in the magazine Das Reich, Goebbels denounced civilian "sluggards" for impeding Nazi war activities, called for more belt-tightening and announced that "burdens on the home front can and will be increased."

PAUL JOSEPH GOEBBELS

General Dietmar said that whether they like it or not, Germans would have to put up with new restrictions to provide more troops. He admitted that the Russians had broken through German lines on the southern front, and that the situation was becoming serious. "The need has come for still greater hardships at home," he said, "to increase the flow of recruits to the front."

NAVY MAIL: To Be Speeded

Because the problem of mail deliveries to men in the navy, marine corps and coast guard has been complicated by the vast increase in personnel, the navy department announced that two rules would be placed in effect immediately to insure prompt service:

Parcel post packages must weigh not more than five pounds and measure not more than 15 inches in length and 36 inches in length and girth combined. Inappropriate second and third class matter such as advertising circulars would not be forwarded to men overseas.

WAR PRODUCTION: No 'Self-Congratulation'

War production and manpower management have alternately been subjects for national praise and blame. The latter was the theme of a report laid before congress by the Tolson committee, which charged "general maladministration," "haphazard handling" and failure to use small industry in the war effort. The committee had been at work for a number of months studying war output.

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

CBS' Stage Door Canteen will be the vehicle through which Bert Lytell, once a movie idol, will return to films. The movie version, produced for United Artists by Sol Lesser, will bring us a host of celebrities, including Katharine Cornell, who's shunned the films so far, and Lunt and Fontaine, Tallulah Bankhead, and scores of others. Lytell has been so busy with stage and radio engagements of recent years that he's had no time for pictures.

Orson Welles isn't trying to set a new fad with that shock of long hair that he's wearing at "Ceiling Unlimited" rehearsals. He's letting his hair grow at the request of 20th Century-Fox for his role of "Rochester" in their version of "Jane Eyre."

George Montgomery will do one more picture before he goes into the service; it's in "Bomber's Moon," opposite Annabella—the story of an American pilot who's shot down in Germany. Do you wonder that Hollywood's wondering what to use for leading men?

Maybe Bob Hope's a prophet; he hopes so. His "The Road to Morocco" was filmed six months before the Allied invasion of that territory, and released right on the dot. Recently he interrupted his tour of the army camps for 48 hours to do a scene for "They Got Me Covered" which depicts a deflated Mussolini escaping from the nation he led into its present predicament—it's being filmed with the blessing of the Office of War Information. Bob's got his fingers crossed, hoping that this scene, too, will come true.

Alan Ladd's date with Uncle Sam upset the apple cart so far as Paramount's "Incendiary Blonde" was concerned. He was to have starred in this screen version of Texas Guinan's life with Betty Hutton, but his prospective induction into the army wrecked that plan. At present the film has been shelved; Miss Hutton gets the feminine lead in "Let's Face It," and Betty Rhodes gets a supporting role.

They could hardly believe it at Metro when they got two new lads at once. Tommy Dix and Gil Stratton were brought from the New York stage for "Best Foot Forward"—and at once Stratton was assigned to "Girl Crazy" and Dix will win Lucille Ball in "Best Foot Forward."

If the actors on your favorite radio program sound pretty exhilarated, it's practically certain to be due to just one thing—the return of a former member of the group in uniform. "Pepper Young's Family" was almost disrupted when Larry Woodleaf appeared recently. Larry's a handsome lad who joined up before Pearl Harbor, after doing publicity for the program; he's spent eight months in the Far East.

Eddie Cantor's explanation for substituting for Phil Baker on "Take It or Leave It"—"Last April, Phil Baker took my place when I was in the hospital. So I took his place when he was in the hospital. Next time we'll both be on the program—the audience will go to the hospital!"

William L. Shirer, the news commentator, is planning a series of talks at service camps throughout the country in the near future. He has already given numerous talks at camps in the eastern area. Ed Murrow, the London newscaster, reports that he's expecting to solve the no-gas problem soon; he has his eye on an elderly horse, but is still dicker over the price.

ODDS AND ENDS—Radio's Tim and Irene are among the featured players in Columbia's picture, "Reveries With Beverly" . . . Joe Schilling, Edward G. Robinson's stand-in in "Destroyer," wears a naval lieutenant's uniform—the best his boss can do is a chief boatswain's mate outfit . . . Thomas Mitchell's been added to the cast of Metro's "Batman Patrol" . . . Nelson Eddy, who hasn't made a picture since "I Married an Angel," will return to the screen in Universal's remake of "The Phantom of the Opera"; Deanna Durbin, originally scheduled for the picture when it was planned for years ago, probably won't appear in it.

PATTERNS SEWING CIRCLE

For All Occasions.

NO DESIGN is more successful for an all-occasion dress than the classic shirtwaist! In this button-front version you also have a dress which can be slipped on in a twinkling and a dress which may be effectively decorated with a row of handsome buttons and a stunning belt.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1648-B is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34.

Thoughtful of Him

"My dear, a great doctor says women require more sleep than men."
"Indeed?"
"Yes, dear, so—er—perhaps you'd better not wait up for me tonight."

Man, they say, is made of dust. But some women think it is gold dust.

Next, Please

The oldest barber gag in history was found on the walls of an ancient Egyptian tomb. It concerned a barber and a customer. The barber asked the customer: "How do you want your hair cut?" And the reply was: "In silence."

Handicapped

A company of recruits, having been issued with new boots, went for a route march to "run them in." At the end of the march, one man was missing. When eventually rounded up and asked where he had been he replied: "My boots were tied together, sergeant, so I couldn't get along as fast as the other chaps."

Double Up

The chorus girl was telling the other girls in the dressing-room all about her birthday party.
"You should have seen the cake," she told her companions. "It was marvelous. There were seventeen candles on it—one for each year."
There was a disbelieving silence for a moment or two, then her best friend smiled.
"Seventeen candles, eh?" she purred. "What did you do—burn them at both ends?"

26, 28, 40 and 42. Size 18 (34) short sleeves, requires 4 yards 39-inch material; 2 1/2 yards 54-inch.

Superb Blouse Styles.

THE newly popular round neckline is featured in our No. 1 style . . . won't it be pretty in soft voile or flower sprigged challis? The No. 2 style is the classic shirtwaist, with long or short sleeves—make it in broadcloth, flannel, pique or rayon crepe.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1705-B is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Corresponding bust measurements 28, 30, 32, 34, 36 and 38. Size 12 (30) No. 1 style requires 1 1/2 yards 35 or 39-inch material. No. 2 style, long sleeves, 2 1/2 yards.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Kerosene will soften shoes and boots that have been hardened by water, and will render them pliable.

Grease accumulations can be removed from clogging drain pipes by putting baking soda down the drain and then pouring in a little vinegar.

Core and slice apples, put into a baking dish and cover with cream. Add sugar and spices, if desired. Bake for 20 minutes, or until apples are soft.

Enamel is a glasslike product and is subject to cracking with sudden changes of temperature. Wash the enamel on your stoves with a mild soap, allowing enough time for the stove to cool before washing.

Cook rice quickly in a quantity of salted boiling water and pour it into a colander. The grains will be tender and whole. But be sure to save the water, to starch any delicate-texture wash goods.

The National Bureau of Standards does not recommend the use of oil paints on concrete, but says that if the concrete is thoroughly dry and remains dry, house paints can be used.

In lieu of anything better, cigarette ashes make a good silver polish.

Here's a tip for business girls! When a stocking breaks into a little ladder and you haven't the time or the materials to mend it, just put a tiny dab of ordinary office paste at each end of the "run" and it will stop it from running any farther. Nail varnish, too, if you happen to have some in your bag, will do as well.

Mice have a great dislike of peppermint. A little oil of peppermint placed round their haunts will soon drive the pests away.

Don't put furniture near hot radiators; don't put it near open windows; and don't let your house get too dry.

ON THE HOME FRONT

with RUTH WYETH SPEARS

IN THE good old days when dress-makers were paid according to the number of spools of thread they used, the empty spools were saved until enough had been accumulated to make a corner what-not or hanging shelves. Now, with machines whirring for defense sewing, it is again easy to save enough spools for one of these quaint sets of shelves. You will need 60 spools; 12 1/2 feet of wire just stiff enough to bend easily; and three boards of the size desired for the shelves. Either a stain or a paint finish may be used.

NOTE: These spool shelves are from Book 3 of the series of eight booklets which Mrs. Spears has prepared for our readers. There are directions for an end table of spools in Book 5 and a corner what-not in Book 7. Each of these booklets contains more than 20 other fascinating things to make for the home. Copies are 15 cents each postpaid, and should be ordered direct from

Suffice to Say, It Was Some Sort of Catastrophe

"Fire! Fire!"
As the shrill cry rang out, a woman dashed out of a house waving her hands. One passer-by ran to the fire-alarm, and another entered the house.
"Where is it?" he asked, after a brief investigation. "I can't smell any smoke."
"Oh, I didn't mean fire. I meant murder!"
"Murder?" A policeman who had heard the commotion came running and entered the discussion. "Who's been murdered?"
"Oh, I didn't really mean murder, either!" gasped the woman. "But the biggest rat I ever saw just ran across the kitchen floor."
