Methodist Church

We have come now to the time of our summer revival. We spend only about one week per year in this sort of an effort for Christ and the church. Therefore let every Christian and especially every Methodist give concerted and diligent effort toward a victory in this effort now. Our sons are fighting on the battle fronts of the world, let us give just as earnest and untiring effort toward victory on the home front. This sort of victory, as it envelops the world, will put an end to the destruction and slaughter of war. A part of the responsibility for this victory lies in each individual's hands.

Our opening service of the revival will be at 8:00 o'clock Friday evening. We will have no weekday day services this week, but the time for such services next week will be announced. Make your plans now to be in the opening service and in each one that shall follow. Let's really give God a chance now.

Our visiting evangelist, Rev. C. R. Gates, will not be with us until Saturday evening. Bro. Gates comes to us highly recommended as a humble and diligent servant of God and the church. Worship with us under his leadership through the services of our revival.

With Marine Pfc. Max R. McKissack, of Phoenix, Phoenix, Ariz. Harrison went over to pick up the rifle. It was in heavily wooded country. About 10 feet from the rifle, they spotted a Jap resting in a fox hole.

Harrison had his first Jap rifle with him. In it was one round of ammunition. He sent McKissack who was unarmed, back to get his M-1 rifle, while he stood watch over the Jap. On returning McKissack yelled for Harrison so that he could find him in the thick of the brush.

"When McKissack hollered," Harrison said, "the Jap looked up, I let him have it with my Jap rifle."

Going up to the foxhole, the two Marines found the Jap dead. Now Harrison has two Jap rifles."

Germany Admits 'Grave Situation' As Allies Continue to Advance; Study World Oil Marketing

France—Surprised by sniper while on patrol, U. S. Doughboys make for ditch and prepare to return enemy's fire.

SECOND FRONT: Hedgerow Battle

Beautiful in peace, treacherous in war, the hedgerowed fields checker-boarding Normandy's picturesque countryside were the scene of some of the bitterest fighting of World War II, with desperate Nazis using them to conceal their rifles, machine guns and artillery to impede the relentless advance of the American doughboys.

Farther to the east, Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery's British and Canadian forces girded for a large-scale assault against strong concentrations of German armor in the plains below Caen, while enemy units continued to jab into their flanks to unsettle their positions.

Shortly after he had told his son, Capt. Quentin Roosevelt, that "the old machine is pretty well worn out," 55-year-old Brig. Gen. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., son of the immortal "Teddy," quietly succumbed to a heart attack in an army tent on the Normandy battlefield, where he had been assistant commanding general of the 4th infantry division.

As the Allies edged forward in northern France and received a continuing stream of reinforcements, some allegedly direct from the U. S., American and British aviators were swooping down on German communications lines in efforts to disrupt the flow of enemy reserves and supplies to the flaming front.

German Soil

No longer able to maneuver freely on the vast spaces of Russia, and with its back to its own homeland, the German army on the northern sector of the eastern front found itself confronted with the problem of being forced to stand up and fight or allow the Reds to carry the war into their own country.

As the Russian army became the first Allied force to approach the threshold of Germany, bitter fighting continued to rage before the enemy's "Gothic line" in northern Italy, where the Nazis again took advantage of the high mountain country to slow up the Fifth and Eighth armies advance to the rich agricultural and industrial regions beyond.

As the Germans fell back toward their East Prussian border in the north, German propagandists made no bones about the critical situation, declaring that the time had come for the complete industrial and military mobilization of every man in the Reich capable of working or bearing arms.

PACIFIC: Spotlight Shifts

The spotlight in the ever widening Pacific warfare shifted back to northern New Guinea, where 45,000 desperate Japanese sandwiched between U. S. beachheads all along the coast, repeatedly attempted to break through the iron ring being forged around them.

In the islands farther to the north, U. S. warships and planes continued to pepper the important stepping stones to the Japanese mainland, with Guam being captured and Saipan the major target.

Despite the ferocity of their attacks in New Guinea, the position of the Japanese forces was hopeless, with Yanks occupying large patches all along the 600 miles of coastline to their west, and other Allied forces firmly entrenched to their east.

FOURTH TERM: F.D.R. Willing

One week before the Democratic national convention met in Chicago, Franklin D. Roosevelt, looking cool in his seersucker pants and white shirt, but wriggling nervously, told a gathering of 200 quiet newspapermen that if the people of the U. S. decreed, he would be willing to serve a fourth term as president.

With the country's objective being a speedy end to the war, a durable peace and the creation of a prosperous economy, F. D. R. said that he would have to accept a fourth term as a "good soldier" if the people again called upon him to remain at the helm of state.

F. D. R.'s announcement was front page news the world over, with both British and Russian papers playing it up without comment. The German radio 'disclaimed interest, saying: "... One is convinced here (in Berlin) that military and political issues which are now at stake are not to be influenced by this or that President of the United States."

DIPLOMACY: Good Neighbors

Provision of American transportation facilities for movement of goods to Mexico, and close economic cooperation between the two countries in peace as well as war, dominated the formal discussions of U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Mexican Foreign Minister Ezequiel Padilla.

Not only did the U. S. promise to help hold up the Mexican economy by maintaining the shipment of goods to the good neighbor, but it also agreed to furnish technicians and equipment for bolstering the country's own sagging railway system.

Basing their discussions on a program drawn up by a U. S.-Mexican commission created as an outgrowth of President Roosevelt's visit with President Camacho in 1943, Hull and Padilla announced that the two governments agreed to "discourage trade barriers which may unduly interfere with the economic development of Mexico and trade between the two countries."

Oil Parley

Organization of an international administrative agency to provide orderly marketing and development of world oil resources will be the principal topic of discussion of a formal oil conference between the U. S. and Britain.

The conference promises to be of particular interest in the U. S. with depletion of American reserves as a result of record war time production for the supply of the major bulk of Allied needs, and with the projected construction of a private pipe-line across Arabia to the Mediterranean with U. S. government funds.

The conference will follow technical discussions between petroleum experts of the two countries, with Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Lord Beaverbrook being in charge of the U. S. and British delegations.

AGRICULTURE: Bumper Crops

Overcoming machinery and manpower difficulties, U. S. farmers are expected to turn in bumper crops in 1944, the department of agriculture reported, with the wheat harvest anticipated at an all-time high of 1,128,000,000 bushels, 119,000,000 over the former top of 1915.

Prospects were reported good for all grains, with the corn crop expected to approximate 2,980,000,000, the fifth largest in U. S. history. Although near record harvests were predicted for hay, fruits, vegetables and soybeans, and a 20 per cent increase in truck produce for the fresh market is anticipated, the department looks for smaller dry beans and peas, peanuts and potato crops.

Harvested acreage was set at 355,000,000 acres for the 52 principal crops, largest since 1932, and 2 per cent over last year.

Unloading Trouble

Latest problem to arise as a result of the manpower complications resulting from the war, is the unloading of grain cars at wheat markets, with permits needed for shipments from 11 points in the southwest.

With no less than 22,000,000 bushels of wheat standing in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas because of the unloading situation, it was predicted that about six months would be required to move the crops from these states and Colorado instead of the usual 60 to 90 days.

Large crops and insufficient rail cars were said to be contributing factors to the terminal crisis, but, except for bad weather, there is no threat of grain spoiling in the fields.

Rare Twins

In one of the rarest cases in medical annals, Mrs. Frederick D. Smith of East Port Chester, Conn., (in picture) gave birth to twins 11 days apart, with a 4 pound, 12 ounce girl following a 4 pound, 7 1/2 ounce boy.

DRAFT: Depends on War

Future induction of the over 30 group depends entirely upon the course of the war, Selective Service Director Lewis Hershey declared, in discussing present draft policies calling for the induction of all possible able-bodied men under 26, and all men between 26 and 29 not necessary to an essential industry.

In revealing that there were 4,217,000 4-Fs, selective service officials told a congressional subcommittee that one-third of the U. S. population was physically or mentally unfit, and recommended a program of public clinics tied in with private doctors, to improve civilian health.

In commenting on draft policies, Hershey said that unless the military situation should take unforeseen turns, maintenance of the size of the present army would continue to determine induction calls.

POPULATION: Big Shifts

As a result of military and civilian migrations in the U. S. between 1940 and 1943, the south and west gained more than 4,000,000 inhabitants while the north-central and north-eastern states lost approximately 2,000,000.

Twenty per cent increases were noted for Arizona, Florida, Nevada and California, with the latter state alone, with its great shipbuilding and aircraft industries, showing a boost of 1,559,135.

Montana, North Dakota and South Dakota lost more than 10 per cent of their populations, but New York showed the greatest numerical decrease, with 820,939.

TURKEYS

So that servicemen will be assured of plenty of turkeys for Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Years, the War Food administration has ordered that all birds produced and marketed within 24 states and parts of three others, shall be reserved for army and navy purchasing agents until the necessary quantity is obtained. Last year supply services bought 35,000,000 and it is expected that this year they will want even more to satisfy festive doughboy appetites.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—the risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

"Good Soldier"

The proudest title in the Army

IT CONSISTS of two simple words.
Yet every soldier who's worth his salt covets it.
This title is simply:
"Good Soldier."

It isn't just happenstance that so many women in the WAC have earned this title—the proudest in the Army.

For wherever Wacs are working, both here and overseas, there you find a job well done. And done with a spirit so gallant and fine that high Army officers everywhere say of the WAC...

"They're soldiers. Good soldiers!"

The cornerstone was laid for this first state house of Iowa, Iowa City, in 1846 when Iowa was still a Territory. It has since become the administration building of the University of Iowa.

MOOS OF THE MOMENT

BY UNCLE BOB

of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

This is National Farm Safety Week, and I'm reminded that a fellow who leaves a chunk of his right hand in a sickle bar or a corn husker is bound to have trouble keeping up with his rapid-milking program, among other things.

Of course there is no single season of the year when a farmer should give more thought to being careful and avoiding accidents—that's an every day job, like milking. National Farm Safety Week, sponsored by the National Safety Council, just seeks to focus attention on the need for care in your daily work.

Most accidents are avoidable. If you'd like to have a check list of good, sensible safety rules, you'll find 23 items tabulated in the latest issue of the Producers' Edition of the Kraftman.

supposed to be pinned to dress uniforms, she says.

I don't know anything more discouraging than to see a lot of work go up in smoke. Maybe you've watched the results of spontaneous combustion in your haymow, with loss of hay and barn. Purdue has a suggestion of how to forestall such loss, simply by taking the hay's temperature.

Use a half inch pipe, with a pointed plug in one end. Drill a series of 3/8 inch holes in the side of the pipe, above the plug. Push the pipe into the hay and lower a thermometer into the pipe, leaving it in long enough to record actual temperature.

Purdue says at 150 degrees, the hay is entering the danger zone. At 160 degrees, inspect every four hours. At 175, stop all ventilation and call fire department for standby service. At 185, remove hot hay and have a fire department pumper ready to quench flames which probably will develop when air comes in contact with the hay.

Hay is almost sure to ignite at 210 degrees. I suggest you write the Extension Service at Lafayette, Indiana, for Leaflet 229 which gives a complete discussion of spontaneous combustion.

Speaking of the Kraftman, among the interesting items in the latest issue is a step-by-step plan for building a practical low-cost milk house. You'll want a copy and I'll be glad to mail one. Drop a note to Uncle Bob at 500 Peshtigo Court, Chicago. Or ask your Kraft fieldman for a copy.

How much and what to feed dry cows probably is something you are studying at this time. The extension service at the University of Missouri says the amount of milk a cow will produce in her lactation period depends greatly on her condition at freshening time.

Feeding during the time a cow is dry is just as important as is proper feeding while the cow is producing milk. She should have good pasture or be fed hay and silage at approximately the same rate as a cow being milked, Missouri Circular 405 says.

Nebraska covers the same subject in Circular 627, pointing out that any additional fat that a cow adds to her body while dry is a reserve upon which she will draw after freshening. Nebraska says just before calving a cow should weigh 100 to 200 pounds more than during lactation.

I think you'll find both of these bulletins interesting. Write the extension services at the University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo., and the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebraska.

A lady correspondent of ours says the reason they haven't hung any medals on the dairy farmer is because no dairy farmer has time to put on his Sunday best, these days. Medals are Probably we have not handed enough bouquets to the women for their part in the farmer's war job. We believe, like the Maine farmer, in giving credit where due. Someone told him that Andrew Carnegie came to America with 25¢ in his pocket but died leaving an estate of $250,000,000. "Must have married a mighty saving woman," the Downeaster commented.

You may be working on preparation of seedbeds now for small grains and for pastures. Wisconsin circular 338 has some helpful ideas on this subject.

This bulletin says land which has been used for peas, soybeans, or cultivated crops need not be plowed but worked with a disc, spring tooth or field cultivator. A reasonably smooth seedbed, loosened to a depth of two or three inches, should be made for planting small grains.

Sods or areas badly infested with quackgrass need plowing now and should be worked immediately. The bulletin can be obtained from the University of Wisconsin Extension Service, Madison, Wisconsin.

*NOTE: There usually is a 5c charge for pamphlets mailed to non-residents of a state, but possibly your own state has a free pamphlet on the same subject. Ask your county agent.

16,000 Hospital Beds for Vets

Sixteen thousand additional veterans' hospital beds in buildings to be constructed in 20 states have been recommended by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs. Under this largest building program ever requested by the Veterans' Administration, the new beds would be located in hospitals in New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Delaware, Virginia, Florida, Michigan, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi or Alabama, Kansas or Missouri, Montana or North Dakota, Colorado, California, Texas, Washington, New York, Georgia, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Illinois. Addition of these beds would bring the total of 121,000 available to veterans.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Mary and I were just saying, Judge, how lucky we are here in America that we have so many natural resources to help win the war."
"That's right, Jim. When war broke out we had oil, we had steel, we had food, lumber, aluminum...practically everything we needed. There's one thing we didn't have...rubber. The enemy had that."
"But that didn't bother us for long. Soon American brains and industry had synthetic rubber by the tons rolling out of plants. That filled a critical need...you can't win a war without rubber."

"I was very much interested the other day in reading a statement made by a high government official on synthetic rubber. In it he said 'It is fair to regard the rubber manufactured to date as being almost solely the product of the beverage distilling industry.'"
"He also said that, in his estimation, the tremendous contribution of distillers' industrial alcohol to the synthetic rubber program had not received the recognition which it deserves."
"We certainly learned something today, didn't we Mary?"

Alanreed, July 15—Miss Edith Earthman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Earthman of Alanreed, and Carroll Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holmes of McLean, were married in a single ring ceremony Sunday afternoon, July 9, in the home of the bride's parents by Rev. S. T. Greenwood, pastor of the Baptist Church.

Miss Doro Jo Covington of Littlefield was bridesmaid, and Pfc. William N. Holmes, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

The bride wore a black crepe dress with white accessories and carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses.

Mrs. Holmes attended West Texas State College and the University of Colorado at Boulder, Colo. For the past year she has taught in the Alanreed Public Schools. The bridegroom is a graduate of McLean High School. He is now in the U. S. Army, stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla.
