Tea at Reeves Home

One of the most beautifully arranged events of the season was a tea given at the home of Mrs. Leon Reeves Monday, Dec. 1, at 6:00 for members of the W.S.C.S. and their guests. The approaching holiday motif was used in all decorative effects. Christmas bells in bright colors hung at the door; cedar and holly formed the attractive wreaths on mantle and piano; and the tea table beautifully carried out the same idea. A Christmas tree made of blue and green glass ornaments stood within a wreath set upon a mirrored tray. Reindeer peeped from the foliage and bright colored leaves.

In the receiving line were Mesdames Reeves, Chesshir, Coston and Davenport. Guests were met by Mrs. C. L. Johnson, who presented each with a corsage in holiday colors. Tea with cake and other condiments were served by Mesdames Kendall, Masterson, and Moreman.

The concluding study on India at the Threshold by Lucy Winifred Bryce was given by Mrs. Elvia Davenport, who briefly reviewed preceding chapters, touched upon the subject of India's literature and age old culture, and gave as a conclusion the work of the church in the India of the present. Mrs. C. O. Hill gave a piano solo, "Song of India." Mrs. Cherry presented for inspection curios brought from India by her soldier son who visited there. The climax of the program was reached when Mrs. E. L. Chesshir, president of the W.S.C.S., presented in the name of the society, life membership certificates to two outstanding members, Mrs. Frank Kendall and Mrs. J. B. Masterson. In lieu of a speech these two ladies asked that all might stand with linked hands and sing Bless Be the Tie That Binds.

The program was concluded with singing Christmas carols. Twenty-one members and guests were present.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS
Labor Eyes Outcome of Miners' Walkout as New Wage Guide; Japs Staging Slow Recovery

Released by Western Newspaper Union
(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

LABOR:
New Crisis

Once again it was John L. against the government!

This time, Washington appeared determined to force a showdown with the burly United Mine Workers chieftain, but it had its job cut out for it as 400,000 UMW members stood steadfastly by their leader and both the AFL and CIO threw in their support.

As in previous UMW walkouts, Lewis held a hand full of aces. Punish him as it might try, there were the 400,000 skilled and irreplaceable miners who refused to go down into the pits before clarification of the status of their contract; there were approximately 12,000,000 members of organized labor who looked with disfavor upon government use of the injunction to break a strike, and the courts were still to decide the legality of terminating the UMW-government pact.

But, encouraged by the country's overwhelming swing to the right in the recent elections and the possibility that the courts might decide in his favor in interpreting the legal

Coal Mining Red Style

From Russia, where the Communist commissariat has its own method of settling labor problems, comes word of the working of a gigantic new coal field in northern Siberia by slave laborers from Lithuania, Estonia, Latvia, Ukraine and Crimea. Consisting mostly of political dissidents, the laborers are housed in wooden barracks and subsist on porridge and 600 grams of bread daily. About 35 mines have been developed in the 5,000 square mile field.

aspects of the case, President Truman was set to push John L. to the limit in his efforts to wring wage and hour concessions from the government.

Under the UMW-government contract, the miners received $75.25 weekly for a 54-hour week, in contrast to $23.88 weekly for a shorter week in 1939. Lewis' latest demands were said to call for a 40-hour week with earnings approximating those for 54 hours.

Arrival of the latest soft coal contract saw the government prepared for emergency distribution of bituminous stocks. Only householders, hospitals, utilities and other essential public services were to receive deliveries. Railroads were scheduled to haul only food, clothing, medicine, fuel and other necessities and to reduce locomotive passenger service by 25 per cent.

Humming again after the crippling strikes of last winter, industry faced another slow-down to conserve fuel supplies and spread them over the period of the walkout.

CIO Goal

Like the AFL, the CIO watched the coal strike with interest, not only because of the injunction proceedings generally condemned by labor but also because Lewis' acquisition of new wage concessions promised to blaze the way for boosts all along the line.

States Push Aid for Vet Housing

Five states have made multi-million dollar appropriations for emergency housing this year, with New Jersey the most recent addition to the list, according to the National Association of Housing Officials.

New York, California, Connecticut and Ohio have supported housing this year through large legislative appropriations. New York earmarked $5 million dollars last spring for statewide housing projects, and more recently authorized low-rent slum clearance projects.

A 41 million dollar veterans' housing program was initiated in New Jersey when the recent special session of the state legislature passed measures appropriating 6 million dollars for immediate housing operations and providing for a 35 million dollar bond issue.

CAPITOL HILL: Lobbyists Register

Lobbyists have long become a part of the nation's capital, but until passage of the registration act recently the public has enjoyed little knowledge of their identity or worth to the interests they represent.

Although lobbyists as a whole have attained a certain notoriety, they exercise the perfectly legitimate function of protecting the interests of their clients by seeking passage of favorable legislation or fighting bills considered inimicable. While recognizing this function, congress also realized the necessity for placing the business above board and apprising the public of the interests at work in Washington.

As the lobbyists registered under penalty of losing their lobbying rights or incurring fine and imprisonment if they failed, Purcell L. Smith, representing the power interests, emerged as the highest paid, drawing $65,000 a year plus unspecified expenses.

CHINA: Going Backwards

While Japan marched back up the road of recovery, neighboring China remained beset by the political differences and economic evils that have retarded her progress during this century.

As both Nationalist and Communist forces prepared for a bloody civil war for supremacy, Chinese currency took a terrific nosedive, with the U. S. dollar commanding as high as 5,000 Chinese dollars on the black market. Coal jumped from 350,000 to 450,000 dollars a ton. Housewives scrambled frantically for commodities.

Throughout the Communist stronghold of northern China and Manchuria, Red battalions threw up fortifications and girded for battle as Gen. Peng Teh-huai predicted stirring victory over the Nationalist invading forces. These forces were reported pressing into Shantung province along the Tientsin-Pukow railway.

RUSSIA: Struggle for Power

From behind the iron curtain came whispers of a mighty tug-of-war between top Russian officials for the driver's seat when Josef Stalin passes from the picture.

While Stalin first favored Andrei Zhdanov, 50, chairman of the Soviet parliament, for the mantle of succession, Georgi M. Malenkov, 45, has slowly come to the fore, recently being promoted to the all-powerful politburo shaping Russian policy.

Also in the struggle for power are Malenkov and Zhdanov, head of the dread secret police, and Gen. Nikolai A. Bulganin, vice minister of armed forces. Despite his prominence in foreign affairs, V. M. Molotov lacks party support for the No. 1 spot.

Writing in the French paper, L'Ordre, Claude Vivieres declared that Russian officials are anxious to avoid war during the unsettled state of party affairs to prevent rival nations' use of bickerings to upset the Communist regime.

BUSINESS: Making Money

Payments of extra dividends indicated the general prosperity of American business.

$$$—Goodrich brought payments for 1946 to $4.50 per share by declaring a dividend of $1 and a special payment of the same amount.

$$$—By authorizing an extra dividend of $1.25 a share in addition to the quarterly payment of 25 cents, Briggs & Stratton boosted disbursements to $2.25 this year.

$$$—Elgin National Watch company declared an extra dividend of 50 cents a share besides making a quarterly payment of 25 cents.

$$$—Keystone Steel and Wire company increased its quarterly dividend from 30 to 50 cents and authorized a special payment of 25 cents.

$$$—In declaring a 40 cent dividend, Homestake Mining company brought payments up to $1.40 for this year after making no disbursements last year.

Meanwhile, the treasury department ordered all corporations to report on their 1946 tax forms if they paid out at least 70 per cent of their earnings in dividends and reasons if they did not. In this way, the government hopes to prevent withholding of dividends to scale down stockholders' income taxes.

FARM PRICES:

Prices for farm products in October, 1946, were 154 per cent above the average level in 1935-39, were 16 per cent higher than the previous peak reached in 1920, and were the highest ever recorded up to October.

Many observers of price trends predict a break in price levels in the latter part of 1947, with the break coming earlier if various groups ignore present danger signals and continue to push for higher prices and incomes.

The chart shows where Texas' farm-ranch dollar comes from. In Texas livestock—including meat animals, dairy products, poultry and poultry products, horses and mules, and wool and mohair—made up 44 cents of the gross income dollar. This compared with 34 cents for the southern states and 53 cents for the United States as a whole. Cotton is still the leading cultivated crop on the gross income basis. Figures in the chart are based on USDA reports for the 1944-45 crop year; government payments were apportioned to the various crops. Chart from Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.

Packaged Meat
The quality of frozen food suffers if poor packaging materials are used and if packaging is done carelessly. In experiments to determine the best packaging materials for frozen foods, uniform quality pork chops and ground beef were wrapped in locker paper or in cellophane. For six months the packages were weighed at intervals to determine the loss of moisture, and cellophane excelled in this respect, but it is about twice as expensive as is butcher paper. Several thicknesses of locker paper were more protective than was one layer.

The Sugar act requires, among other conditions of payment to growers, that all persons employed on a farm in the production, cultivation or harvesting of sugarcane be paid in full by growers at rates not less than those determined to be fair and reasonable by the secretary of agriculture, after public hearing and investigation. The determination also provides that the producer must furnish to the laborer without charge the accessories customarily supplied by him, such as a habitable house, garden plot with facilities for cultivation, pasturage for livestock and medical attention. The wage rates in the determination are given in the release.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How to Stop Worrying

I guess folks in our town do about as much worrying as in yours—over housing and prices, and crops, and jobs—and the little domestic problems that are always coming up.

Dad Hoskins, who's lived to the happy age of eighty, has a simple formula for stopping worry. About every problem, he asks himself: Is there anything I can do about it? If there is, he never postpones making a decision, or taking necessary action.

If there isn't anything he can do about it he sets aside a "worrying hour" at dinner, and gets his worrying over in one concentrated period. When that's over, he relaxes over a friendly glass of beer with Ma Hoskins—and they talk about pleasant things together, until bedtime.

From where I sit, that's a workable formula as you could find... right down to the mellow glass of beer that seems to wink away your worries.

Weather Forecasts
Three billion dollars a year in profits and savings have been estimated to result from protection of property, reduction in losses or increased production brought about by scientific weather forecasts earnings and reports

Warp and Weft Defined
Warp threads are those which run lengthwise of the fabric. Weft threads run transversely.

Companion Trees
Since apple trees depend upon "companion" or pollinator varieties for good pollination, the trees of any one variety should not be planted in large solid blocks. Where such blocks are established, grafting and the use of bouquets from suitable trees at blossoming time, are suggested as temporary remedial measures

Come on up!

Come on down!

THIS is the story of a blighted romance. These Swiss sweethearts have come to the parting of the ways. He keeps on climbing UP. She keeps on coming DOWN. Only a while ago they started out together, head-in-hand.

This is also the story of your cost of living. It has been climbing steadily. Department of Labor statistics show that it has gone up 31% since 1939.

But wait a minute! National average figures show that the cost of electricity has actually been coming downward. Since 1939—through years of war and shortages, rising prices and higher taxes—the cost of electricity has decreased 14%!

Actually, the average American family is now getting twice as much electricity for its money as it did 20 years ago. Never has electricity done so much for so little.

Your friends and neighbors in this company—under sound business management—made this possible.

Simple Dinners
While talking to a young bride recently, she expressed a desire to learn how to entertain nicely...

Well, that's a problem of all of us might give some thought to, every now and then. It's a good idea to have some menus all filed away that we can rely on as being successful both from the standpoint of being good to eat and looking attractive.

In case you're in a sort of a rut about entertaining because of the past several year's food difficulties, take yourself in hand and look over our suggestions today...

Before company comes, and even before you start getting the dinner itself, have the house, linens, tableware and cooking equipment in order.

Make out a schedule of when things should go in the oven or when they should be put on the range. Be sure this is worked out in advance so you won't be worried that things will not all be ready at the same time.

I'm going to give simple but festive recipes today because they will be easy for the novice to prepare, but just wait until you see how they look on the table. UMMMMMMM!

Start off with a minted fruit juice, as this is refreshing and will not take cooking. Chill citrus fruit juice before serving—pineapple and orange juice is a good combination—and pour into dainty glasses. Add a few crushed mint leaves to each glass. Serve.

Everyone is bound to like lamb chops and here's a grand way to prepare those chops so they look like a roast:

Mock Crown Roast of Lamb. (Serves 6)
6 frenched lamb chops
Melted butter or substitute
Salt and pepper

Have the butcher french the lamb chops. Place them under moderate broiler heat and broil 8 to 10 minutes on each side until they are well browned.

Just before serving, pile a mound of fluffy mashed potatoes in the center of a platter. Stand the lamb chops around the mound of potatoes, as illustrated, patting them well into the potatoes so they don't fall down.

LYNN SAYS:
Suggestions for Hors D'Oeuvres:
When you're entertaining, make up a plate of simple appetizers to serve with chilled fruit or vegetable juice, and let your company get into a chatty, informal mood for dinner.

Anchovy-Bacon Rolls: Lay flat strips of anchovy along a slice of bacon. Roll tightly, jelly-roll fashion, and fasten with toothpick. Broil until bacon is crisp. Remove the toothpick and insert a fresh one, and serve hot.

Apple Wedges: Cut firm, red apple wedges into 3/4-inch-thick slices, but do not pare. Cut each slice into three wedges and dip in pineapple or orange juice. Spread with softened cream or Roquefort cheese and garnish with cheese forced through a tube. Serve with toothpicks.

Letting the lamb chops before serving, arrange three spears of canned, chilled asparagus on lettuce leaves. Lay sliced cucumbers on each side and pour french or thousand island dressing across the center of the asparagus.

If you want to serve attractive and dainty biscuits with the dinner, here's an idea. Use a recipe for baking powder biscuit dough or get one of the good packaged mixes. Roll the dough out to 1/4-inch thick. Spread with melted butter, sprinkle with cinnamon and nutmeg. Roll as for jelly roll. Cut off one-inch pieces and place them, cut side down, in a baking pan. Bake for 15 to 20 minutes in a hot (400 degree) oven. Serve with jelly or jam, if you wish, or with just plain butter.

A cake is really a simple dessert to have with this type of dinner because it eliminates last minute fluster. Prepare the cake the day before and frost before beginning to cook dinner.

Orange Flower Cake.
1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
1/2 cup orange juice

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Add orange rind to shortening and cream together thoroughly. Add sugar to shortening and cream until fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Pour into greased cake pans and bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for 30 minutes. This recipe will make two 8-inch layers.

This cake may be frosted with a fluffy boiled icing and sprinkled with orange rind or garnished with orange segments. Whipped cream, if available, may also be used. Or, if you prefer, an orange-flavored butter cream icing may be used with orange segments arranged on top.

Orange Frosting.
1 scant cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
Pinch of cream of tartar
1 egg white
3 tablespoons orange and lemon juice, mixed

Beat all ingredients together in top of double boiler until it stands in peaks. Use on top and in between layers of cake.
