Swing of SOUTH WEST FARM MARKETS

Many southwest farm markets developed easy spots last week, although the general trend of most commodities continued steady to strong, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Cotton climbed to twenty year record levels of around 39 cents per pound or more last mid-week, but dropped back by Friday for net losses of $3.00 to $10.00 per bale. Spot activity increased, as new crop harvest progressed well in South Texas.

Winter wheat harvest made rapid progress in the Great Plains area last week. Inadequate transportation and storage forced millions of bushels to be piled on the ground in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. Heavy buying for export held losses to 6 cents. Friday's price stood near $2.37 per bushel for No. 1 hard at Fort Worth and Galveston. Corn eased under favorable weather reports; and sorghums dropped 15 cents.

Cattle prices receded late last week from mid-week highs, but closing sales held mostly from about even with a week earlier to as much as $1 or higher. However some spots netted losses up to a dollar for the week. Bulk of common and medium grass steers at San Antonio sold at $20 to $22.75, and average to top medium lots set a new all time high of $24.50. Houston paid $14 to $20 for common to medium steers and yearlings, while Fort Worth took medium kinds at $19 to $23.50.

Hogs advanced generally around 50 cents to $1 or more in last week's trade. Good and choice butcher hogs reached $26.25 at San Antonio, $26.50 at Ft. Worth, $26.75 at Oklahoma City, $27.35 at Wichita, and $27.25 at Denver.

Chicken Barbecue At Lelia Lake Aug. 1

Mr. Holly Wood, president of the Donley county farm bureau federation announced this week that a county wide chicken barbecue would be held at the Lelia Lake school house on Friday the first of August. This barbecue is for everyone regardless of whether they are members of the association or not. The barbecue will be served at five o'clock in the afternoon. All persons wishing to attend the barbecue will bring one half chicken per person. All chickens must be in by Thursday the 31st of July and will be left at the Coop frozen locker of Clarendon, the Odell Holland grocery of Lelia Lake and Moreman grocery of Hedley. These businesses will receive the chickens at any time now that you wish to bring them and will be put on ice until time for the barbecue. Mr. Wood is urging that everyone attend this barbecue and have a big county wide celebration.

Joe Hatton, district representative of the Farm bureau federation will be one of the speakers of the evening and it is hoped that Uncle Jay of Amarillo can attend the barbecue. A complete program will be arranged after the barbecue and it is planned to end the program by 7:30 in the evening. Remember the date of the barbecue and place to leave your chickens and take them at once because we want the chickens on time so the barbecue will not be belayed. When dressing the chickens be sure to leave them in halves so that they can be barbecued.

Mrs. L. P. Trimble left Monday for a marketing trip to Dallas.

Mrs. W. E. Reeves has returned from a visit to Hereford.

Rodeo at Memphis Opens Thursday

Memphis, July 21—Memphis became a cow town this week as the entire populace dressed out in ten-gallon hats and dude shirts and business houses were decked in colorful bunting in preparation for the three-day rodeo starting Thursday morning with a parade at 10 o'clock, with the first performance of the RCA-approved event to be at 8:30 that evening.

Saturday afternoon pilots from all over West Texas will gather at the local airport for dedication ceremonies, then to be guests at the afternoon performance of the rodeo. The rodeo will be held Thursday night, Friday night, Saturday afternoon and Saturday night, when outstanding cowboy artists from a wide area will compare final points for shares in $1,500 in prize money, plus entrance fees, to be awarded in calf roping, bulldogging, steer riding and bronc riding.

Hall County old settlers will have a reunion during the first day of the rodeo.

Revival Meeting

Frank Smith of Houston will begin a series of services at the Church of Christ the first Sunday in August through the second Sunday. So come out one and all and hear the Gospel. You are welcome.

To The People of The City of Hedley

We, the City Council, have many request to call another election for paving and street improvement. From the other experience of the bond election there must be a raise in the valuation before the bonds would be approved. We have checked and find that there must be almost a 25% increase in the valuations which would cost, for an example, for a $1000 home, the increase would be about $3.25 a year. The city needs some street work done very badly, it needs some drainage work and three new concrete bridges. These bridges we speak of are getting in a dangerous condition and the City does not have the money to do this needed work.

If it is the will of you people we the City Council will another bond election for improvement.

Mayor and City of Hedley

This unlighted trailer, moving slowly along the darkened highway, was completely invisible to an overtaking motorist as he came suddenly upon it from around a corner. He crashed into it and was fatally injured. Just one more of the many bitter ironies of highway deaths, where a lawbreaker who was indifferent to his own safety and the safety of others escaped injury, while an innocent victim paid for that indifference with his life.

Prevent Red Uprising in Greece; Hartley Lashes Mine Contract; Oil Exports to Russia Defended

At a meeting in Washington of 200 American Federation of Labor leaders, William Green, AFL president, pledged the organization to a fight against the Taft-Hartley labor act. FOILED:

Nip Red Plot

Striking with lightning rapidity, Athens security police arrested more than 2,000 persons in and around the city in a series of raids designed to forestall a threatened Communist uprising in Greece.

Action followed swiftly after police had intercepted a message from Gen. Markos Vafiades, commander of guerrilla forces in northern Greece, to Communist leaders in Athens directing them to put into effect immediately "Plan F."

"Plan F" is reported to have been a campaign of violence in Athens, including general sabotage, seizure of important ministries and "the murder of political leaders." Government officials said the up-

ANY CONNECTION?

On the day preceding the mass arrests in Athens, Russia leveled a bitter attack in the United Nations Balkan hearings against the United States and Great Britain, charging that their intervention in Greek affairs was the cause of friction in the Balkans. The Soviets asked withdrawal of foreign troops from Greece and United Nations supervision of the 300 million dollar U. S. loan to that country.

rising was intended to influence world public opinion on the Grecian situation during United Nations security council hearings on the Balkan situation.

Among those taken into custody were Demetrius Partillides, Communist secretary-general of the E.A.M. (National Liberation Front) and Mrs. Rosa Timvriote, chief of the educational division of the Communist party. All Communist party leaders in the Athens-Piraeus district were reported to have been arrested.

The Greek government began immediate hearings for all of the suspects, and those found to have been implicated in the uprising plot were sent into exile.

ROMANCE:

Royal Road

Princess Elizabeth, 21-year-old heiress presumptive to the throne of England, and Lt. Philip Mountbatten, 26, former Prince Philip of Greece, are formally engaged to be married this autumn, probably in October.

King George VI and Queen Elizabeth cleared the road to royal romance by giving unqualified approval to the match and announcing the engagement in a traditional court circular.

Lt. Mountbatten is a second cousin to the king and a great grandson of Queen Victoria. As the husband of Princess Elizabeth, he will be Britain's first prince consort since Queen Victoria's husband, Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg. He cannot become king, but probably will be given a dukedom shortly before the wedding.

King George is expected to ask parliament to increase Princess Elizabeth's income and perhaps give her husband a special allowance.

In the meantime, even the royal family is troubled by the housing shortage, and the princess and her husband probably will start their married life in a way familiar to everyone—by moving in with her parents in Buckingham palace.

FARMERS PROSPER

Both farm assets and farm income have expanded tremendously since the outbreak of World War II, according to a late report released by the National Industrial Conference board.

Total assets increased about 90 per cent from $3.7 billion dollars at the beginning of 1940 to $11.5 billion six years later. Gross income grew up 124 per

BETRAYED:

Mine Pact

Rep. Fred A. Hartley (Rep., N. J.), co-author of the Taft-Hartley labor act, has charged big business and big labor with betraying the public in negotiating the latest John L. Lewis coal mining contract.

Hartley's attack followed shortly after southern coal operators followed northern and midwestern operators in signing soft coal contracts with the 400,000-member United Mine Workers.

He told the house that "at least one clear violation of the law" was contained in the contracts, referring to the section providing for a "checkoff" from the miners' wages.

The Taft-Hartley law, he said, permits a checkoff only for union dues, but the contract calls for a checkoff of initiation fees and union assessments. Hartley added that other sections of the contract "violate the spirit and intent of the law."

Noting that the contract afforded a "prime case history of the evils of industry-wide bargaining," he said that there was evidence of "collusion between the mine operators and the UMW with the intention of violating the law."

OIL EXPORTS:

Supply Russia

A special export license for the shipment of petroleum products to Russia was granted by the department of commerce hours after Representative Weichel (Rep., O.), chairman of the house merchant marine committee, demanded the license be refused.

Weichel previously had telephoned William C. Foster, under-secretary of commerce, urging him to halt the movement of 248,000 barrels of petroleum being loaded aboard three tankers on the West coast.

Explaining his action to the angry Weichel, Foster said that the department did not believe that exports of petroleum and petroleum products "should be prohibited or drastically curtailed. To do so would upset the world system of distribution and make petroleum a source of international friction."

He implied that the exporting of oil has little or no effect on this nation's domestic supply because, under any circumstances, the U. S. must import oil to supplement its domestic production.

NAVY RESIGNATIONS GROW

Higher pay and a more satisfactory home life are the two main lures which have drawn the most bright and capable young career officers from the navy and army into civilian jobs at what is called "an alarming rate" during the past year.

In the last 10 months more than 1,700 naval officers have resigned commissions won at Annapolis to take higher-paying civilian jobs. During the same period, the army lost only 259 West Point officers via the resignation route, but they are men whom the service can ill afford to spare.

The bug has even extended to the Federal Bureau of Investigation whose agents, numbering 5,000 at the end of the war, dropped off to 3,200 by the beginning of 1947. The total now is back only to about 3,400.

One of the main reasons cited for the wide difference between army and navy resignations is worry among the younger naval officers over drastically reduced appropriations for the department and the unification bill now before congress. Some navy men believe unification will hinder their careers.

VETO ATTACKED:

Evidence is growing that there is under way in the senate a quietly organized bipartisan movement to reduce or eliminate the veto power through which Russia has blocked virtually every important United Nations program.

Still in its early stages, the movement is interpreted as a reflection of strong apprehension in congress that the United Nations cannot continue to function under existing

Altitude 2,000

President Truman's recently appointed air safety board has come up with two specific recommendations directed at reducing the number of aircraft accident fatalities in the United States.

The board, established in June after a series of crashes had taken 146 lives, proposed that:

1. All aircraft operating at night under instrument conditions be required to fly at least 2,000 feet above mountainous terrain and 1,000 feet above characteristically level territory.

2. All scheduled air transports be required to install electronic terrain proximity indicators, operating on the radar principle, in addition to the aneroid altimeters now required in all planes.

The proximity indicators recommended by the board are basically similar to the detection equipment which Howard Hughes, millionaire plane builder, had proposed be installed as standard equipment in commercial planes. The radar detectors, announced by Hughes three months ago, were tested in Washington 10 days before the air safety board incorporated them in its report to the President.

Further impetus was given the air safety campaign when Norman McCoy of Blue Mound, Ill., president of the Flying Farmers of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin, added his organization's endorsement to the nation-wide movement.

R.S.V.P.:

Paris Parley

Pro-Communist Hungary turned down its invitation to attend the Paris conference on European reconstruction as 17 other nations lined up to participate in the talks, first step in carrying out the Marshall plan for aiding prostrate Europe.

The conference, previously boycotted by Russia on the grounds that the Marshall plan will be a foothold for American intervention in the internal affairs of Europe, will attempt to set up a scheme whereby Europe, with the aid of American dollar credits and supplies, will be able to lift itself from its economic morass by its bootstraps.

In addition to Hungary, four other Communist-inspired governments—those of Poland, Yugoslavia, Romania and Bulgaria—also refused the invitations sent out by Great Britain and France. As the deadline for replies approached, Finland and Albania had not yet been heard from.

He Saw a Saw

The Rev. Father Joseph Brasky, pastor of St. Joseph's church, Grafton, Wis., holds "mysterious" disk which he said struck lightning rod on his church and fell to the ground with a roar. Disk turned out to be circular saw blade.

U. S. TANKS:

Not Scrapped

Writing from London, Frederick Kuh, Chicago Sun correspondent, charged in a story that "European munitions merchants are feathering their nests with dealings in United States surplus military supplies."

He reported a transaction in which the U. S. army purportedly sold 2,000 tanks to Belgian financier Frederic Bracht, a resident of Argentina, with the understanding that they were to be scrapped. Bracht, instead, is said to have sold the tanks to Argentina for re-equipment of Argentine armored units, reaping a great profit from the resale.

Although some of the tanks are in worn condition, intentions of Juan Peron's Argentine government is reported to be to disassemble two or three tanks to reconstruct one new one. In that way, Argentina would acquire about 700 U. S. tanks—more than the nation's entire army had during the war.

IT COULD BE WORSE

Shortages of petroleum products in the Middle West, although accentuated by the action of a major oil company in rationing gasoline to dealers, probably will not develop into a serious crisis, according to an article in the July issue of "Business Comment," published by Northern Trust company of Chicago. Supplies are not expected to fall below 10 per cent of the current demand.

Canned Berries Need Little or No Sugar

Many of the berry family will go into jars without sugar at all and keep perfectly for later use. If you want to be famous for delicious blueberry or huckleberry muffins, canning without sugar is preferred. To can blueberries or huckleberries for use in muffins, place two or three quarts of cleaned berries in a square of cheesecloth. Gather up the corners of the cloth and allow the berries to dip into boiling water until spots appear on the cloth. Then dip quickly in and out of cold water. Pack into hot Ball jars. Add neither sugar nor liquid. Process 20 minutes in hot water bath.

Other berries, except strawberries and red raspberries should be heated slowly until the juice runs free before being placed in jars for processing. If sugar is short in your household, can any berries by processing 10 minutes in hot water bath after cleaning, crushing, and stewing them in their own juice. If you have sugar, jams will, of course, use less of your supply than preserves. When you are using corn sirup as part of the sugar required, remember to cook the jam a little longer, in small batches, and stir often.

Automatic, regular bond buying is an all-American prescription for freedom from worry which any wage earner or professional man or woman—even the doctor himself—can rely on confidently. For professional people and the self-employed, the Bond-a-Month Plan which is now available with the help of America's bankers, is a simple easy way to security. By buying a Series E Bond once a month at issue price of $37.50 you can accumulate $4,988.00 in 10 years' time.

Be An "Engineer in Good Eating"—Do Home Canning!

Simple Instructions Based on Science

You may not have a degree as an engineer, Mrs. Housewife, but when you're home canning you're using scientific principles just as surely as a mining, chemical, electrical or other engineer. That is, if you follow glass jar manufacturer's instructions, for they are based upon scientific discoveries made over a period of a century and a half.

Back in Napoleon's time, a Paris confectioner, Nicolas Appert, set out to find a method of food preservation and win a 12,000-franc prize offered in 1795 by the French government. Napoleon, like Frederick the Great, believed an army travels on its stomach, and the folks at home got hungry and discontented too!

Nicolas won the prize, after 18 years' work, but his methods and equipment have been greatly improved upon. He labored under many handicaps, not knowing a temperature beyond boiling is required for processing some foods and having to design his own glass jars. Not until 1850 did Louis Pasteur establish the fact that microorganisms are responsible for food spoilage. Fourteen years later, an American, A. K. Shriver of Baltimore, invented the "retort" or "pressure" cooker.

In 1858 John Mason patented the Mason jar with neck designed for receiving a screw type cap. The Mason jar with porcelain-lined zinc cap is an old reliable. Mason would probably be astounded by the 1947 cap for sealing the Mason jar. This new style cap is a two-piece metal affair, with a Dome lid which has sealing compound on the under side and is tested for seal by pressing on the center of the lid with the finger. Sealing with the Dome lid is made doubly sure by the new type metal band which bears down on the lid at three pressure points.

Also reliable in seal is the lightning type jar with rubber ring, glass lid and wire bail.

Many scientific experiments and jar improvements have perfected processes for today's home canning and it is upon them that instructor's you will find in reliable home canning literature such as the Ball Blue Book are based. Follow these instructions and you become an "Engineer in Good Eating"—much to the benefit of your family's health and increased pleasure at the table provided by delicious home canned foods.

"Not Respons' For Wife's Debts"

A young man came rushing into the Clarion office the other day and wanted me to print an advertisement "right quick"—saying he won't be responsible for his wife's debts from now on, as he's leaving her for good immediately.

I allowed as how the forms were all closed up, and it was too late to take his ad. He says: "All right, Monday then"—and we signed on Monday.

Of course, the forms weren't closed. But I had kind of an inkling of what might happen. The Sunday he phones me, and sheepishly: "You can find my ad. Me and the missus have things all patched up. And I'm drinking a friendly glass of beer now."

From where I sit, it takes folks time enough to take over, those hasty qu come so often from missing will give way to toler common sense.

Yes, modern vitamins well deserve the term of "magic manna," so astonishing is the part they play in restoring vigor and sparkle to listless individuals. If you are not "up to par" physically; if you seem to lack appetite and energy, then it may well be that a vitamin deficiency is robbing you. Better go and have a talk with your Physician. He will be able to diagnose your condition, determine the particular vitamins you require, and prescribe them as indicated.

And may we suggest that you bring his prescription here to be carefully compounded. Our stocks are fresh and potent.

WHERE THOUSANDS DIE!

91 killed—3,150 injured! If that were the report of an explosion, wreck or other disaster, it would be front page news. People would be horrified! But worse—it's just one day's automobile casualty list in the United States. It happens every day, week in, week out. Four deaths, 131 injured—every hour. At year's end 33,500 lives snuffed out, over a million injured or maimed for life. That's what happened last year. This year's record threatens to be even higher.

Speed—reckless, wanton speed—drunken driving—defiance of safety rules and regulations—and careless, jaywalking pedestrians, top the list of causes for this grim toll.

What can you do about it? Will the speeding wheels of your car add one death to this mass murder of the highways? Not if you, the driver—and you, the pedestrian—take your individual responsibilities seriously. Drive carefully at all times, under all conditions, and be alert when walking.

Don't be one of the thousands to kill, or be killed. Drive safely—and live!

Kidneys Must Work Well—

For You To Feel Well 24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stop, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the kidneys should be kept in good condition. Burning, scanty or too frequent urination, sometimes with something in the urine, may mean that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulates the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

Canning Queries

Pressure cookers and other canning equipment will be working overtime to take care of garden produce this year, and those of you who have canned foods undoubtedly know that it's a big task, but not a thankless one when it comes to next winter's eating.

There's no other food task so gratifying as canning, for once you are finished, you have loaded shelves to look at. In order to avoid canning mistakes and failures, check over these points.

First, garden-fresh, sound ripe vegetables are the only kind worth canning. Unsound produce does not improve during the canning process, and it's a waste of time, money and food to put stale vegetables into jars.

Select all vegetables as carefully for canning as you would for your most finicky guest, and you'll be a long way toward success. Tender peas, small beets, plump, shiny corn, crisp and meaty beans, etc. all will give satisfactory results because they are prime produce to begin with.

Every vegetable should be washed thoroughly before the skin is cut or broken. Why? Because some of them have dirt and fuzz that is difficult to remove once it becomes mixed with the juicy content.

Pre-cooking and hot packing gives best results, as this method shrinks the vegetables and gives a better looking pack as well as less shrinkage in the jar.

Use Pressure Cooker

Some women can, can consistently and successfully by processing vegetables in a hot water bath. Either they are very careful workers or just plain lucky. However, fool-proof results are best obtained by using a steam pressure cooker. It is possible to bring food to a higher temperature in this way and kill harmful bacteria, thus avoiding spoilage.

Canning also may be done in much less time with a pressure cooker, and there is less opportunity to lose food values in this way. Fortunately, the equipment is now available, or in many communities it is obtainable on a communal basis at a canning center or such.

Boil Before Serving

One of the basic rules for home-canned vegetables is to boil the canned vegetable 10 to 15 minutes before tasting or using. Never taste a vegetable which you may suspect is spoiled. If you are certain of spoilage, discard it; if not sure, cook it first and then taste.

This boiling is best done in an open saucepan. The rule applies to all vegetables except tomatoes and red pimientos, which are acid vegetables and hence in a somewhat

LYNN SAYS: Glamorize Foods Before Serving

For both fruit and vegetable salads you may use the prongs of the fork for futing such things as cucumbers and bananas.

Use vegetables prepared in molds to make vegetable platters more attractive. Carrots, peas and spinach are nice to look at when served in a ring mold. Use a contrasting vegetable in the center of different class from non-acid vegetables such as peas, beans, corn, etc.

Some questions always come up concerning particular vegetables during canning time. Typical queries are these, and here are the answers:

What causes cloudiness in canned peas? This may be caused by insufficient cooking or some mineral in the water used for canning. Proper pre-cooking or soft, distilled water eliminates the cloudiness.

How high shall I pack vegetables? Pack them to within 1/2 inch of the top of the jar, except peas, lima beans and corn, which are packed to within one inch of the top to allow for extra expansion.

What causes corn to turn brown in the can? Most often this is due to a high temperature used during canning, which caramelizes the corn. Sometimes a high deposit of mineral such as iron in water used for canning will cause it.

Why do beets turn white? This may be due to certain varieties or to too old beets. Use the very dark red kind, and see that they are young and freshly gathered.

Why do vegetables fall apart when home canned? This is due to overprocessing or overcooking in pressure cooker or water bath. Watch the time and check with timetables to avoid this error.

Shall I overprocess or underprocess? Neither is good, but under-processing probably will result in spoilage while overcooking will give you wilted looking goods that do not hold their shape.

How much shall I can at one time? Unless you have help for preparing the vegetables, it is best to do it in several small batches so vegetables do not spoil. If you can get the produce from garden to kettle—or jar—within two hours you are working according to the best rule. Much depends upon your own speed and ability.

How much salt should be used? Season according to taste or not at all. Most people are satisfied if one teaspoon of salt to each quart of vegetable is added as a last measure to the jar before it is closed.

Should jar tops be wiped before cover is placed on jar? Yes, this is essential to remove any bits of vegetable, water or salt which might prevent a perfect seal.

What kind of covers should I use? There are a number of good varieties available, and each should be used according to the manufacturer's directions.

Ring black or green olives around the sides of a meat salad bowl to make it look attractive.

Never overcook food if you want it to look nice on the platter. Have it crisp looking even if cooked.

If vegetables lack appeal for the children, invest in a set of fancy vegetable cutters and use these for a change to add interest.

Use your gayest mats or linens when serving out on the porch or lawn. Pottery and heavy goblets are ideal for service here.

By INEZ GERHARD

MAYBE some day, when a movie producer announces that he will search for an unknown girl who's perfect for the leading role in a big picture, and star her in it, he'll be greeted with the derision that he deserves. Of course nobody who's at all familiar with the workings of the industry believes him; but a lot of "unknown" girls do. They have high hopes of being chosen — then the producer announces that some experienced actresses has been given the part. The latest offender is Jesse Lasky; after all the hoop-to-do about the role of "Olga" in "The Miracle of the Bells" he gave it to Valli, the Italian actress who recently made "The Paradine Case."

When John Larkin was in Hollywood he tried to get a bit part in the "Perry Mason" pictures, but didn't succeed. Disheartened, he headed for New York, took a radio audition—and now he's the "Perry Mason" you hear on the air!

Dick Jones, the 1943-44-45 "Henry Aldrich," has an important role in the Gene Autrey picture, "The Strawberry Roan," featuring Gloria Henry and Jack Holt. Pictures are nothing new to Dick; he broke in when he was six. He was the voice of "Pinocchio," played the teen-age Sam Clemens in "The Adventures of Mark Twain," and recently completed a featured role in "The Chase."

After five strenuous years in the army, Dan Dailey returned to Hollywood and dropped 20 pounds in his first stint before the cameras in 20th Century-Fox's "Mother Wore Tights." Lost the weight during the long dance rehearsals. In the Betty Grable picture he has two solo dance numbers, four elaborate production routines, and plays a strong dramatic role.

After 16 years of performing dangerous film stunts without a single serious injury, Don Turner had his nose broken three times in one year after he retired to his farm near Hollywood. He's back in pictures now, in "Silver River."

Probably the briefest romantic role in movie history is Paul Bradley's in "The Unfaithful." After appearing for exactly two minutes as Ann Sheridan's lover he meets death at the hands of an assassin, and becomes "the photograph of a corpse."

Dennis Morgan and Jack Carson used up 10 pounds of crepe beards in comedy sequences for the Warner Bros. Technicolor musical "Two Guys From Texas." Figure it up—a shoe box full of crepe weighs only two ounces.

Many of the tunes you hear in Western movies are written by Red Foley, the singing guitarist of "Grand Ole Opry." In all he's written 91 of them, one of the best being "Old Shep," written when his favorite dog died.

Ralph Edwards entertained professional visitors recently when "March of Time" cameramen visited his "Truth or Consequences" program. They were gathering material for a short on radio shows. So Edwards' zany show will soon be visible to thousands of movie-goers as it is actually broadcast, instead of in the exaggerated versions you've seen in full-length feature films.

Conrad Nagel, narrator on "Silver Theatre," seldom, if ever, fluffs a line on the air, but he does it just often enough during dress rehearsals to scare the cast. "And now, 'Silver Theater,'" said he recently, and they shuddered.

ODDS AND ENDS—Bette Davis has given her big stamp collection to the veterans at Birmingham hospital. . . Ray Milland began his Hollywood career as a talent agent. . . RKO's "It's a Wonderful Life" was adjudged by the General Federation of Women's Clubs "the best picture of 1946-47 that portrays the highest ideals of American life." . . . Jack Oakie returns to films as the comedy lead in "Stampede," which will be filmed at the Duke of Windsor's ranch in Alberta, Canada. . . Paul Whiteman's been holding reunions with the Hollywood celebrities once again.
