NFLA Pays Dividend

The Donley County National Farm Loan Association this week mailed checks, representing a 10% dividend on their capital stock, to all members on record as of November 30, 1948; according to a statement by Mr. Rayburn L. Smith, Secretary-Treasurer of the organization.

Since March 1944, the total dividends received by Donley County farmers and ranchers as members of this cooperative entity amount to $14,911.50. Mr. Smith explained that the interest rate on a Federal Land Bank Loan is 4%, but this distribution of earnings brought the average cost to only 3 1/2% on all loans in Donley County in 1948.

The desirability of obtaining funds to purchase farms, or improvements and many other agricultural purposes through this home owned and operated association is attested to by many farmers and ranchers who have acquired debt free homes the Federal Loan way.

For details of this loan service, Mr. Smith solicits into views at the N. F. L. A. office which is open six days each week in the Wiley Theatre building in Clarendon.

For custom made belts, buckles, covered buttons and machine button holes see Mrs. H. G. Bobbitt, Box 372, Clarendon, Texas. Mail Orders given prompt attention. 144p

Lions Club News

Awards will be made at this week's Lions Club meeting to the Lions who won them in this year's Melvin Jones birthday contest. Slated to receive them are Lions Sam Owens, Otis Owens, W. P. Doherty, C. L. Johnson, Jerald Sims, Johnnie Ray Everett, Chas. Rains and Ed Boliver.

The club still has about 30 members who are maintaining perfect attendance. These as well as all other members are urged to keep up their good attendance, since some very important decisions will be made by the club in the near future, and these matters should be decided by the entire membership.

The club enjoyed an unusually excellent steak supper last Thursday night when the losers in the birthday contest entertained the winners. The losers were led by Alva Simmons and W. P. Doherty and the winners were captained by Lion Sam Owens.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Shanks of Odessa, on Saturday, Feb. 19, a fine little daughter, weight 8 1/2 lbs., who has been named Betty Ann. This is the first grandchild of Rev. and Mrs. Frank Story, and Mrs. Story is visiting the little lady.

Miss June Lisenbee, who is attending Decatur College, spent last week end with home folks.

Mrs. Sidney R. Beach of Amarillo spent last Wednesday and Thursday here. The H. L. Whitefield family returned home with her for a visit.

Mrs. Carroll Deahl is reported doing nicely after an operation Tuesday morning in a Memphis hospital.

The Wise Old Owl

Douglas, seems like old times are here again. Mary Opal, did you change your mind?

Frances, it was quite a shock to me when you started wearing that 1949 class ring. Just how did that happen?

Anita, I heard you didn't have a very good time at the party Friday night. Why was it you didn't want to join in with the rest of them?

It seems that the Freshman girls had quite a time at the party last week. Could some Junior and Senior boys have been involved?

Martha, what were you so happy about Monday? I always heard Monday was Blue Monday, but it didn't seem to be for you.

Corky, I haven't heard of you asking Theresa for a date lately. Did you finally give up?

Joan Ray, just why weren't you at the party Friday night? Since when have ball games become more interesting?

Basketball News

The Hedley Lions have been getting in shape this past week by playing three games. The first game was Tuesday night against Wellington R. E. A. Final score was 51-33. Thursday night Wheeler played a return game. The Lions "B" team won out by a score of 41-24. In the second game the first team really got going. In a great offensive display Hedley scored 66 points while holding Wheeler to 31. It was the same story against the Clarendon Independents Friday night. Playing without two starters, they scored 78 points, while the tight defense held Clarendon to 25.

The team should win their first game in the Lakeview tournament Thursday night over the Clarendon Independents. If so, they will play the winners of the Amarillo-Modern Market game Friday night. Next week, beginning on Wednesday they will play in the Wheeler tournament.

Valentine Party

The Eighth Grade class was entertained with a Valentine party Saturday evening, Feb. 12, at the home of Mrs. Ray Moreman. As the guests arrived they "mailed" their valentines in a gaily decorated box. The valentine motif was further used in the heart tree and the mantle decoration where Cupid stood on a reflector surrounded by favor baskets of heart shaped candies; a large red heart formed the background.

Games of heart hurdle race, questions and answers from the heart, pink shampoo and contests furnished an evening of merriment. After the mail was distributed, refreshments of heart shaped cookies and ice cream were served. The class agreed it was one of the most enjoyable parties they had ever attended.

T. J. Cherry was brought home Tuesday from a Memphis hospital, and is reported much improved.

In February we observe the birthdays of two very famous Americans, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. Practical men, they understood the value of thrift, the necessity for a well-ordered method of saving. You specify the sum to be allotted each payday, where you work. Ancient Toys were Ingenious

The dolls of ancient Egypt were realistic, featuring movable arms and legs, and wigs of woven air interwoven with tiny balls of clay in imitation of the typical mass of the Arabian maidens. The girls played with dolls completely furnished with gowns and dresses, chests with drawers, and a baker at work. This favorite toy of both boys and girls was a movable figure mounted on a board which "kneaded the dough" by moving a lump of clay back and forth as the youngster pulled the string.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Church Raps Mindszenty Verdict; Dewey Dons Attire of Liberalism; People Checked Inflation Threat

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

MINDSZENTY: Gets Life Term

The trial of Cardinal Mindszenty, primate of Hungary, was over and the verdict came as no surprise. The Cardinal was sentenced to life imprisonment on charges of treason and black marketing. If there were an unexpected element in the outcome it was that he was spared.

CARDINAL MINDSZENTY For a principle, life

But at trial's end even that hung in the balance. Cardinal Mindszenty still could lose his life. Under Hungarian law, while his sentence of life could be appealed, the supreme peoples tribunal, last court of appeal, could increase the severity of the sentence which, in this case, could mean only death.

GOP'S DEWEY: New Liberalism

For a man who was strangely reticent about plans while seeking the presidency of the United States, New York's Thomas E. Dewey turned vocal and voluble in his Lincoln Day address in Washington.

It was generally believed that it was only reluctance to make a martyr out of the Cardinal that averted the death penalty. Hungary lost no time in assailing American representatives who actually, or purportedly, sided with the cardinal. Among targets of these attacks were Cardinal Spellman, of New York, who delivered a scathing sermon against prosecution of Mindszenty, and Selden Chapin, U. S. envoy to Hungary.

For a man who was strangely reticent about plans while seeking the presidency of the United States, New York's Thomas E. Dewey turned vocal and voluble in his Lincoln Day address in Washington.

Among other things, Cardinal Mindszenty was accused of gathering information for Chapin in a scheme to overthrow the Hungarian government. Chapin immediately branded this charge as "pure fantasy."

That there was a noticeable paradox in his position apparently disturbed him not at all. While crying for those who oppose "liberal progressive" policies to get out of the party, he struck out also at New Dealish elements inside the organization.

General opinion was that in the prosecution of the Cardinal Russian communism had made its first great blunder. For in the move was discerned the fact that religion and religious concepts—whether Catholic or Protestant—would not be permitted to stand in the way of Soviet aims.

Urging his party to stop bemoaning the past, he recommended that it dedicate itself anew to forward-looking programs of social progress but without "trying to outbid the Democrats with the public money."

The Russians had resurrected a policy, which once before had so alarmed them that they had forsworn it. But now they were publicly and dramatically recommitted to it—a policy of the Kremlin versus Christ, and this time the Soviet Union was up against an adversary for whom there can be no defeat.

It was Dewey's first public address since his defeat last November, and in it he reminded his listeners that the last GOP platform expressed wholehearted belief in unemployment insurance, increased old-age assistance, broader social security generally, slum clearance and public housing, public development of water power, and farm price supports.

INFLATION: People Curbed It

The people, themselves, can claim major credit for the recent check to national inflation. That is the conclusion of the family economics bureau of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company which conducted a study of the subject.

These words must have left some of his hearers stunned. Surely, they must have asked themselves, why weren't some of these things mentioned during the multiple appearances of their presidential candidate last year?

THE STUDY developed that a slowdown, halt, or reverse of six main factors in the 76 per cent rise from pre-war price levels had been brought about.

But, Dewey, ever the realist in facing a situation, however he may react to it, conceded that the party was split wide open in a fight between two extremes of thought. And then he uttered a remark which must have brought some sly smiles. He said: "What we ought to do . . . is to make it everlastingly clear to the country where we stand and why."

It found that as late as last September, the public still was bidding frantically against each other for more goods than were being produced in many lines. But in the final two months of 1948, consumers suddenly quit trying to outbid each other.

These words must have left some of his hearers stunned. Surely, they must have asked themselves, why weren't some of these things mentioned during the multiple appearances of their presidential candidate last year?

With industrial production in high gear and comparatively free from interruptions, output and available supplies of most consumer goods were gaining steadily.

These words must have left some of his hearers stunned. Surely, they must have asked themselves, why weren't some of these things mentioned during the multiple appearances of their presidential candidate last year?

Government bidding for grain in Europe, which ran grain prices up to record heights last year, slowed down as world grain production recovered.

These words must have left some of his hearers stunned. Surely, they must have asked themselves, why weren't some of these things mentioned during the multiple appearances of their presidential candidate last year?

THE LONG RISE in wage-costs-per-unit of goods was slowing down, the study said.

These words must have left some of his hearers stunned. Surely, they must have asked themselves, why weren't some of these things mentioned during the multiple appearances of their presidential candidate last year?

Continuing its listing of the six factors, the study reported that rapid expansion in money supply, both cash and credit, due to vast government borrowing, had also slowed down.

70,000 Horses POWER UNITED GAS COMPRESSORS

It takes a lot of horsepower to move natural gas through the 6,000 miles of pipe lines that form the United Gas transmission system. Sometimes the gas is under sufficient pressure when it leaves the wells to carry it to its destination 50 or 100 miles away. More often, however, it must pass through a compressor station, where it gets a boost along the lines to cities, towns and industries where it can be used. Operation of compressor stations at key points in the system is one of many important functions of the United Gas organization...all of which have the ultimate purpose of assuring a continued dependable supply of gas for our customers.

Field compressors are used to draw low-pressure gas from remote locations in a gas or oil field to a central gathering point.

Main line compressors step up the movement of gas along transmission lines, and are frequently installed at intervals of 50 to 75 miles.

Cooling towers are employed to supply cooling water and to cool the compressed gas. Temperature of the gas increases as much as 120 degrees, for example, when the pressure is increased from 250 to 500 pounds per square inch.

MANY BREEDS ABLE TO PULL DOG CART

Plans for Home Construction of a Practical Rig Are Available

Few American dog owners, aside from bird dog, retriever, and hound enthusiasts, avail themselves of the full utility values of their pets, according to the Gaines Dog Research Center. This is particularly true in the case of owners of the large "working" dog breeds, such as Boxers, German Shepherds, St. Bernards, Collies and Doberman Pinschers. These breeds, all of which are of European origin, were originally produced for performing definite jobs and services. In this country, aside from their usefulness as companions and as guardians of home and property, few of these large dogs ever have an opportunity to perform the tasks for which they were created.

A fairly common sight in Europe is that of a large dog pulling a cart load of milk cans, truck farm produce, fire-wood or bakery goods. The usual equipment is a two-wheeled cart with double shafts, a simple leather harness and a collar and leash by which the dog is led. In fact, in Belgium there is a club which has existed for many years for the purpose of encouraging the improvement of draught-dog breeds and educating dog owners by giving them advice on the best types of vehicles and harness.

An American organization of St. Bernard fanciers known as the St. Bernard Club of the Pacific Coast is currently aiding its members in realizing the full potential usefulness and pleasure of owning their dogs by offering detailed plans and directions for the construction of a dog cart. A full grown St. Bernard, in good condition, is capable of pulling loads up to 250 lbs. (including the weight of the cart).

Any heavily built, mature dog measuring 24 inches or more at the shoulder and in fit physical condition is capable of performing light draught duty. In Europe a good draught dog is considered capable of performing the same amount of work as a donkey, and costs a great deal less to keep. There is no cruelty involved in draught duty, provided a dog is well nourished—in fact, the exercise will be of benefit. A few lessons between the shafts are usually all that are required for a dog to perform his job of pulling a cart cheerfully and willingly.

Children can derive as much pride and pleasure from a large dog and cart as they would in the ownership of a pony. Aside from the amusement value of such a rig, dog carts can be used for transporting groceries from store to home, carrying fire-wood, garden equipment, or refuse. A child's "express wagon" fitted with double shafts can be used for light loads, but is not as useful as a vehicle with built-up sides or a seat.

Dog owners interested in obtaining plans for the construction of the well-balanced dog cart shown in the above illustration can get information for ordering by dropping a post-card to the Gaines Dog Research Center, 250 Park Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fall to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

GREEN LIGHT: Waits Faithfully
Harry S. Truman, of Independence, Mo., is getting into a habit of popping up as a poll topper in this or that department.

"Man of the year... most popular, etc., etc..." are some of the poll winning titles he already possesses.
Now, he has come up with another.

Mr. Truman is the nation's No. 1 pedestrian.

No less an authority than that National Safety Council has so designated Mr. Truman.

THE ASSOCIATION'S magazine, Public Safety, pictured Mr. Truman on its cover and commended him for his interest in safety.

The traffic advisory board of the District of Columbia hailed the President's "firm decision to wait faithfully for the green light before crossing Pennsylvania avenue."

Mr. Truman turned down a suggestion that a special traffic control be established for his daily walks between his temporary residence at Blair House and the White House.

Mr. Truman said he preferred to obey the traffic signals "like any other citizen."

A-BOMB DATA: Reds Demand It
The Russians just couldn't stay out of the news.

But in an utterance which commanded American headlines, they revealed themselves as almost childishly naive.

With the cold war as hot as it could be, short of the bullet stage, the Soviets had the gall to demand that the United States tell them how many A-bombs this country has and provide full data on armed forces and armaments.

Never modest in demands, the Soviets set a deadline for receipt of this information. It was March 31, 1949.

HOWEVER they wouldn't be completely selfish about the matter. They demanded that the report on these matters be made to the United Nations, of which Russia is a member.

Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate to the U. N., dubbed the Soviet resolution a "succotash of all the beans and different constituents" Russia has put to the U. N. on the arms and atomic questions since the world peace organization was formed.

Even a non-betting citizen might be excused for risking a sawbuck that the Russians would have nothing but their pains in proposing that the U. S. bare its atomic war potentials to the Kremlin.

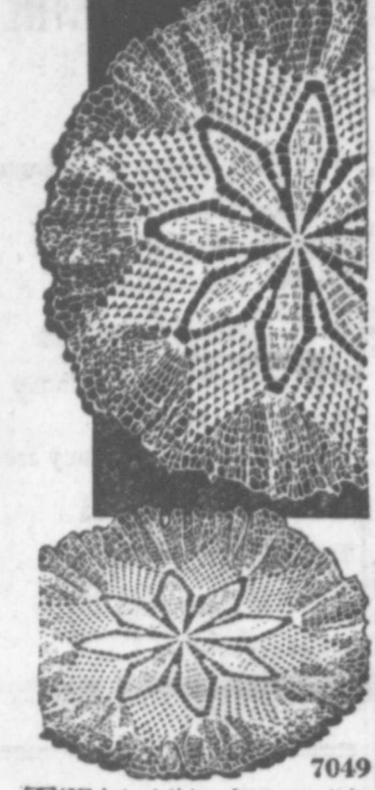

B-29'S: Direct Hits
The army air force was making a point for its contention of its importance as an effective arm in itself. Four air force B-29's scored direct hits on nine fighting ships attacking Kodiak island in the navy's north Pacific war games.
An airman aboard one of the bombers said the formation spotted the nine ships 250 miles southeast of Kodiak and registered bombing hits in three runs at 20,000 feet.
THE SHIPS were part of a navy task force attempting to retake the island from a theoretical enemy.
The report was significant from two standpoints. First, because the air force termed it important enough to report. Since that was done, it was motivated, probably, by the fact that the air force wanted to show that it had demonstrated the efficacy of the power of land-based planes in an off-shore attack.

Closeup
This latest excellent profile of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur was made when he arrived at Haneda airport, Tokyo, to welcome ranking generals and officials of the far east command.

ALLIGATOR: Nothing Fatal
In Alencon, France, Santos Dumot, circus performer, stuck his head into the mouth of a 300-pound alligator—his regular act. As usual, the audience oohed and aahed.
But this time, the alligator snapped his big jaws shut.
The actor's father rushed to the rescue with an iron bar and forced the jaws open.
The younger Dumot suffered deep head wounds but will live.

For Joyful Cough Relief, Try This Home Mixture

This splendid recipe is used by millions every year, because it makes such a dependable, effective medicine for coughs due to colds. It is so easy to mix—a child could do it.
From any druggist, get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its soothing effect on throat and bronchial irritations.
Then make a syrup by stirring two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.
Put the Pinex into a pint bottle and fill up with your syrup. This gives you a full pint of cough medicine, very effective and quick-acting, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and is very pleasant—children love it.
You'll be surprised by the way it takes hold of coughs, giving quick relief. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.
