Queen Contestants to Appear at Theatre

All Cotton Festival Queen Contestants are urged to appear on the stage at the Hedley Theatre next Thursday night in order that the public may make up their minds for whom to cast their vote. Each girl is supposed to be dressed in evening dress and will walk across the stage, and her name and the name of her sponsor will be announced. The appearance will be between shows which will be at approximately 9:00 PM. Corsages will be furnished by the Lions Club, but each girl should let Mrs. Myrtle Kirkpatrick or Mrs. Willie Johnson know what color corsage she wants at least one day before the contest.

28 Candidates in Cotton Queen Contest

Twenty-eight of the attractive and talented young ladies for which this area is famous have entered the contest for Cotton Festival Queen.

Read their names and sponsors in a page ad in this issue, and be prepared to support your favorite for this high honor.

A voting place will be provided in each sponsor's place of business. Votes are one cent each.

Cotton Festival Follies

Our group of entertainers known as the Cotton Festival Follies have been very busy the last week or so. They furnished a great part of the talent for "What's a Pop-pin," a benefit show at Amarillo last Tuesday and Wednesday night, a program for the retraining group at the Amarillo Air Base and a program to the Memphis Rotary Club.

The Follies are not only making a reputation for themselves and Miss Myrtle Reeves, their sponsor, but are advertising the Cotton Festival all over West Texas.

It is also planned to have livestock exhibits. If you have anything suitable for this portion of the Cotton Festival please contact any one of the committee and they will be glad to discuss it with you and help you select your exhibit.

Float Entries in Parade Coming In But Room For More

Several have announced that they will have floats in the big parade Saturday, October 10. Parade officials have asked that you begin now getting your float entered with them so the parade can be better arranged. ### W. S. C. S.

The WSCS met Monday in the home of Mrs. Frank Kendall.

We began the study of "The Life and the Task of the Church Around the World." Three of the women were dressed to represent some of the peoples that have been reached by the American missionaries. Mrs. Kendall, as secretary of missionary education, gave the introduction and pointed out some of the purposes of the study, and read a missionary poem. Mrs. Henry Moore read the scripture references.

Mrs. C. L. Johnson gave the first lesson from the book under such headings as Things that Cannot be Shaken, Barriers of War, Organization of Missionary Council and National Tensions.

Mrs. Ross Springer took the second part under the heading of Unchanging Missions and pointing out how our men in the service have realized something of the meaning of missions and how the United Nations is helping along such lines.

This is a very interesting and instructive study and we hope to have many more of our church women at the next meeting with Mrs. M. G. Whitfield, Sept. 28.

Schools To Be Closed Monday

Hedley schools will be dismissed Monday to permit the band to visit the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo. The band will play there in competition with other bands.

No busses will be sent, and parents will have to provide transportation for band members.

If it is a Justin boot you are looking for, Kendall has them.
