Next week, March 4 to 9 is Public Schools Week again in Texas. For the seventh successive year, this is the time for Texans to visit their schools and see for themselves the progress that is being made in education in Texas.

The public schools are YOUR public schools. You build them. You maintain them with your taxes. They are major factors in developing the character of your children. Visit the public school this week and learn at first hand just what is being done to make your sons and daughters good American citizens.

Open house in the Hedley schools will be held in particular on Friday, March 8. Various examples of the students' work will be on display, and all parents are urged to visit the schools on that day and encourage by their presence the good work that is being done.

On Friday night a program will be presented by the various grades and a good speaker will be provided. All school patrons are urged to come out and hear this program

Theatre to Open

The Hedley Theatre will reopen this Saturday afternoon, March 2, with Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Lee Cherry in charge. The front of the theatre has been repainted, and Mr. and Mrs. Cherry plan to make every effort to furnish a show which Hedleyans can be proud of.

Senator Andy Rogers Introduces Bill

Austin, Feb. 20—Senate Bill 223, designed to prevent future "Duval Counties" and to bring prompt justice in crimes involving misuse of public funds, has been introduced in the Texas Senate by Senator Andy Rogers, District 30, of Childress.

A second measure, Senate Bill 224, would give aid in recovering misused or embezzled public funds "Every person of civic responsibility in our state is aware by now of what happened in Duval County," Senator Rogers said. "And we are all aware that our laws have to be changed and 'beefed up' in certain places in order, first, that a Duval County won't happen again and, second, so that when crimes are committed by persons in public office, the people of Texas can depend on swift justice."

Senate Bill 223 provides for the indictment and prosecution of persons accused of misusing or embezzling public funds, either in the county where the violation occurs or in any adjoining county, or in Travis County. The second bill, Senate Bill 224, would require county attorneys, criminal district attorneys and district attorneys to institute suits in behalf of the county school district or any other political subdivision within their jurisdiction for the recovery of such misused public funds.

Senate Bill 223 will make it possible for such cases to be brought to the attention of public prosecutors away from the heat of local controversy and free from the pressures of local politics and prejudices.

The Childress lawmaker said that "increased latitudes of jurisdiction and requirements that suits in the public interest be filed by the public attorneys are our only workable answer to the continued existence of machine politics in Texas" He emphasized that since the bills cover only those offenses relating to misus and recovery of public funds, the principle of local self-government is in no way compromised.

"Youth In A Responsible Society-A Christian's Concern," is the title of the book that is being studied by the Guild. "Juvenile Delinquency in the United States" was given by Mrs. Johnny Myers. 95% of all young Americans are fine, upstanding, decent, and law-abiding. There is a serious problem of juvenile delinquency. Between 1948 and 1952 there was a 29% increase in the number of children coming before juvenile courts. This problem concerns us all. It is no longer exclusively a city problem. There has been a 63% increase juvenile delinquency in farm areas. If the U. S. had been awake, the tide of delinquency could never have rolled across our nation. Even at this late date an aroused public opinion can change the picture. Mrs. W. L. Stewart gave chapter III, "Education for a Changing World. What is the most important thing to do in order to educate youth for responsibility in a changing world? We must find a place for youth; we do not give youth adequate responsibility yet we demand that they develop into responsible, sensitive, caring people without the help of responsible, sensitive, caring adults who are willing and competent to give of themselves.

Will Ehrle Writes

The House of Representatives made a great step this past week in approving two important measures. In six weeks this House has accomplished what other legislatures have failed to do in entire sessions. The state-wide water program sailed through this body almost without opposition. A constitutional amendment increasing funds available for old-age assistance was finally approved and sent to the Senate.

This amendment will, of course, have to be approved by a vote of the people before it can go into effect. It will increase the funds that the Legislature can appropriate for old age assistance from 42 million to 50 million dollars. This eight million dollar increase will be the first benefit for our senior citizens that Texas legislatures have approved in a long time. I am glad to have had a hand in helping the older people of our state.

The House voted for authorization of 200 million dollars of bonds to be issued by the state to help local water districts finance dams and water development programs. This program is particularly good because it will not cost the taxpayers of Texas a single cent. The bonds will be self-liquidating and, when they are all paid back, the state will have its investment returned in full. This program is also in the form of a constitutional amendment and will have to be approved by the people before it can go into operation.

LIONS ROAR

This week is regular meeting night with the Lelia Lake ladies promising a good feed at 7 p. m. The entire faculty of the Hedley schools have been invited to attend. The school will furnish the program which will preview Public Schools Week. Don't forget to visit your school next week.

Among the items discussed at last week's meeting was work on the floor of the Lions Den. It was thought that some kind of entertainment could be given and let anyone in the community who wish to, have a part in this project. More directors meetings are needed and more projects for the benefit of the community should be brought up.

Among things of importance on the Lions calendar is a zone meeting and ladies night entertainment at Memphis in March, the annual district convention and Lions queen contest at Lubbock early in May and the Hedley Lions Club 15th year celebration the latter part of May. Also let's don't forget that Hedley is 50 years old in 1957. A fiftieth anniversary celebration may be held in connection with the 6th annual Hedley Cotton Festival.

Hoggard Promoted

Gene M. Hoggard of Gulf Breeze Fla., received another promotion in his organization at an election in January. He is now 2nd Vice President of the Florida Typographical Conference, and is to be congratulated on his steady upward progress in his chosen profession.

Walter Parker is still seriously ill in a Memphis hospital.

Lonnie W. Smith and wife of Gardena, Calif., visited Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bain last week. They also visited relatives in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. W. B. Morgan was brought home Monday from a Memphis hospital and is reported improving.

Mrs. M. W. Mosley who was ill in a Memphis hospital last week end, was brought home Monday.
