Favorite Poem

Following is the favorite poem of Mrs J S. Beach, who passed away last week at the age of 97: Not Growing Old

They say that I am growing old, I've heard them tell it times untold In language plain and bold; This frail old shell in which I dwell Is growing old, I know full well, But I am not the shell
 What if my hair is turning grey? Grey hairs are honorable they say. What if my eyesight's growing dim? I still can see to follow Him

Who sacrificed His life for me Upon the cross of Calvary.
 What should I care if time's old plough Has left its furrows upon my brow? Another house not made with hands Awaits me in the Glory Land. What tho I falter in my walk? What tho my tongue refuse to talk? I still can tread the narrow way; I still can watch, and praise and pray.
 My hearing may not be so keen As in the past it may have been, Still I can hear my Savior say In whispers soft, 'This is The Way'
 The outward man, do what I can To lengthen out the life's short span, Shall perish and return to dust As everything in nature must.
 The inward man, the Scriptures say Is growing stronger every day. Then how can I be growing old? When safe within my Savior's fold, Ere long my soul shall fly away And leave this tenement of clay; This robe of flesh I'll drop and rise To seize the everlasting prize; I'll meet you in the streets of gold And prove that I'm not growing old.

Melodrama at Hall County Celebration

As a part of the Hall County Jubilee celebration Sept 18 and 19, an outdoor dramatic production is planned for Saturday evening's entertainment. An early day street scene complete with wooden fronted stores will be the setting for Sagebrush Saga, a melodrama of pioneer times in the Texas Panhandle to be presented Saturday evening, Sept. 18, in the Memphis city park amphitheatre.

The rhyming narration of Sagebrush Saga will be ably delivered by John Binkley as the players in colorful costumes of the era move through the story. Since music is essential to a good production, Letha Springer of Hedley as the saloon soubrette, aided by the bartender, Ronnie Leach, the barber, Roger Hargrove, a dance hall girl, Elmonette Branigan, the banker, Carl Yancey, the gambler, Johnny Harrell Deadeye Dora, Patsy Morris, with Zip Durrett of Lakeview on guitar will regale their listeners with such old favorites as "Red Wing," "Bird in a Gilded Cage," etc. The Hall County Singers will do the hymn singing.

The main show will begin at 8:00 p. m., but there will be thirty minutes of breakdown fiddle music furnished by J. B. Yates of Hedley with Jack Pritchard and Ray David of Clarendon from 7 to 7:30 p. m., and thirty minutes of popular music by Jeral Rapp and Ted Bruce of Estelline from 7:30 to 8.

Admission will be $1 for adults and 50¢ for students. The Business and Professional Women's Club will have charge of ticket sales. Tickets will go on sale Monday, Sept 13. Get your ticket and don't dare miss this colorful extravaganza of square dancing, hymn singing music and mayhem.
