Farm Bureau News

Waco (Spl)—The Texas Farm Bureau has shown an increase in members for the 13th consecutive year, TFB Organization Director Wayne Little announced this week.

Tabulations just completed place the membership figure at an all-time high of 95,229. This represents a gain of 2,677 members over last year, Little said.

"According to our best estimates," Little said, "this makes the Texas Farm Bureau about 24 times as large as the next largest general farm organization in the state. The fact that the organization continues to grow in a period of declining farm population is evidence that most farmers and ranchers support the goals and philosophy of Farm Bureau."

Oct. 31, the end of the TFB's fiscal year, was deadline for the 200 organized counties in Texas to send in memberships to the state office in Waco. Final tabulation was slowed by the last minute influx of memberships, Little explained.

While final figures are not available from across the nation, the gain in Texas this year will place the TFB among the four or five largest state Farm Bureaus in the nation, the organization director said.

The Texas Farm Bureau has shown an increase of 29,918 members in the past ten years.

Cotton Report

Harvesting and ginning during the week on the Golden Spread continued in low gear, according to the USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service, Memphis, Tex. During the latter part of the week, heavy dew has kept farmers out of fields early in the mornings. However, our sample receipts increased slightly each day. We are now receiving about 1500 samples per day, and with continued good weather, growers should be harvesting the early defoliated cotton next week.

K. E. Voelkel, officer in charge of the Memphis cotton classing office, stated the sunny, warm days would give the late planted cotton an opportunity to mature before a hard freeze stops all growth. The hard freeze date for the immediate Memphis classing territory was Nov. 20 last season. Other dates were Nov. 18, 1963; Nov. 8, 1962; Nov. 3, 1961; and Nov. 10, 1960.

For the week ending Friday, Nov. 5, 6,000 samples were classed. This compared with 4,000 for last week. For the season 13,000 have been classed, which is the same as a year ago.

Thanksgiving Holiday

Fall Armyworms

Reports coming to Extension entomologists from widespread areas of Texas indicate that fall armyworms are on the increase. Presently, most activity is in the eastern half of the state. The entomologists advise farmers and homeowners to be on the alert for the damaging insects. Young larvae often go unnoticed until they become rather large and have already skeletonized the leaves of the plants under attack. They feed on native and improved grasses small grains, corn, alfalfa, grain sorghums, cowpeas and lawn grasses.
