By DOLPH MOTEN

The word is out. Now we know why Aggie jokes are short. It's so the Texas Tech people can understand them.

From a community standpoint, we were highly pleased with last week's announcement concerning the new cattle feeding operation here which will eventually have a capacity of as many as 30,000 head.

A month or so ago, we had predicted in this space that such an announcement would be made in the not-too-distant future. At the time we wrote that, we didn't know that the new feedlot was as near to being a reality as it actually was. We had no "inside" information, even though it later appeared that we did.

This area, we thought then and still do, is among the best in the nation for a feedlot operation. We have most of the advantages, the people who know about such things tell us, and few of the disadvantages.

The climate here, for instance, isn't severe in the winter as it is in other cattle feeding areas. And at the same time, the summers are mild enough and the temperature low enough that it is not necessary to provide shade for the cattle. Just a few miles to the South, shade, which increases the cost of the overall facilities, is a necessity.

Feed production of this area is known throughout the country and the supplies of feeder cattle aren't a great distance from here.

One major company already has a packing plant located at Clovis and another company has announced plans to construct one at Hereford. This will provide an almost-local market for the finished cattle.

The new feedlot is a great thing for this community and area almost any way you view it.

In regard to the new operation here, we picked up this information concerning the feeding of cattle in Texas from the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Inc.:

"Cattle feeding within the state has more than tripled in the last decade and expansion has been particularly great the last two years. On March 1, 1967, Texas cattle feeders had 679,000 head on feed, which was 35 per cent greater than the number on feed March 1, 1966. It is estimated that cattle feeding volume in Texas in 1967 will reach 1,750,000 head."

We're pleased that our area is playing its part in this expansion.

Down in Austin, there's a plan underway to make the grounds of the governor's mansion the number one garden in the State.

The governor's wife, Nellie Connally, is helping to raise funds from Texans which are tax deductible. Contributions may be made to the Mansion Landscape Fund, Organizations helping with the project are the Texas Fine Arts Commission and the Texas Garden Club, Inc.

Construction is slated to begin this summer.

Members of Bovina Roping Club kick off another parade season this week. They'll ride in a parade at Lubbock Thursday. Some 20 to 25 of them are planning to make the trip, according to an unofficial report.

That'll help advertise this community. That's quite a delegation of good will ambassadors. And they're good looking, too, when they are all attired in the colorful, maroon and white chaps, white shirts and the other incidentals which are a part of the "show."

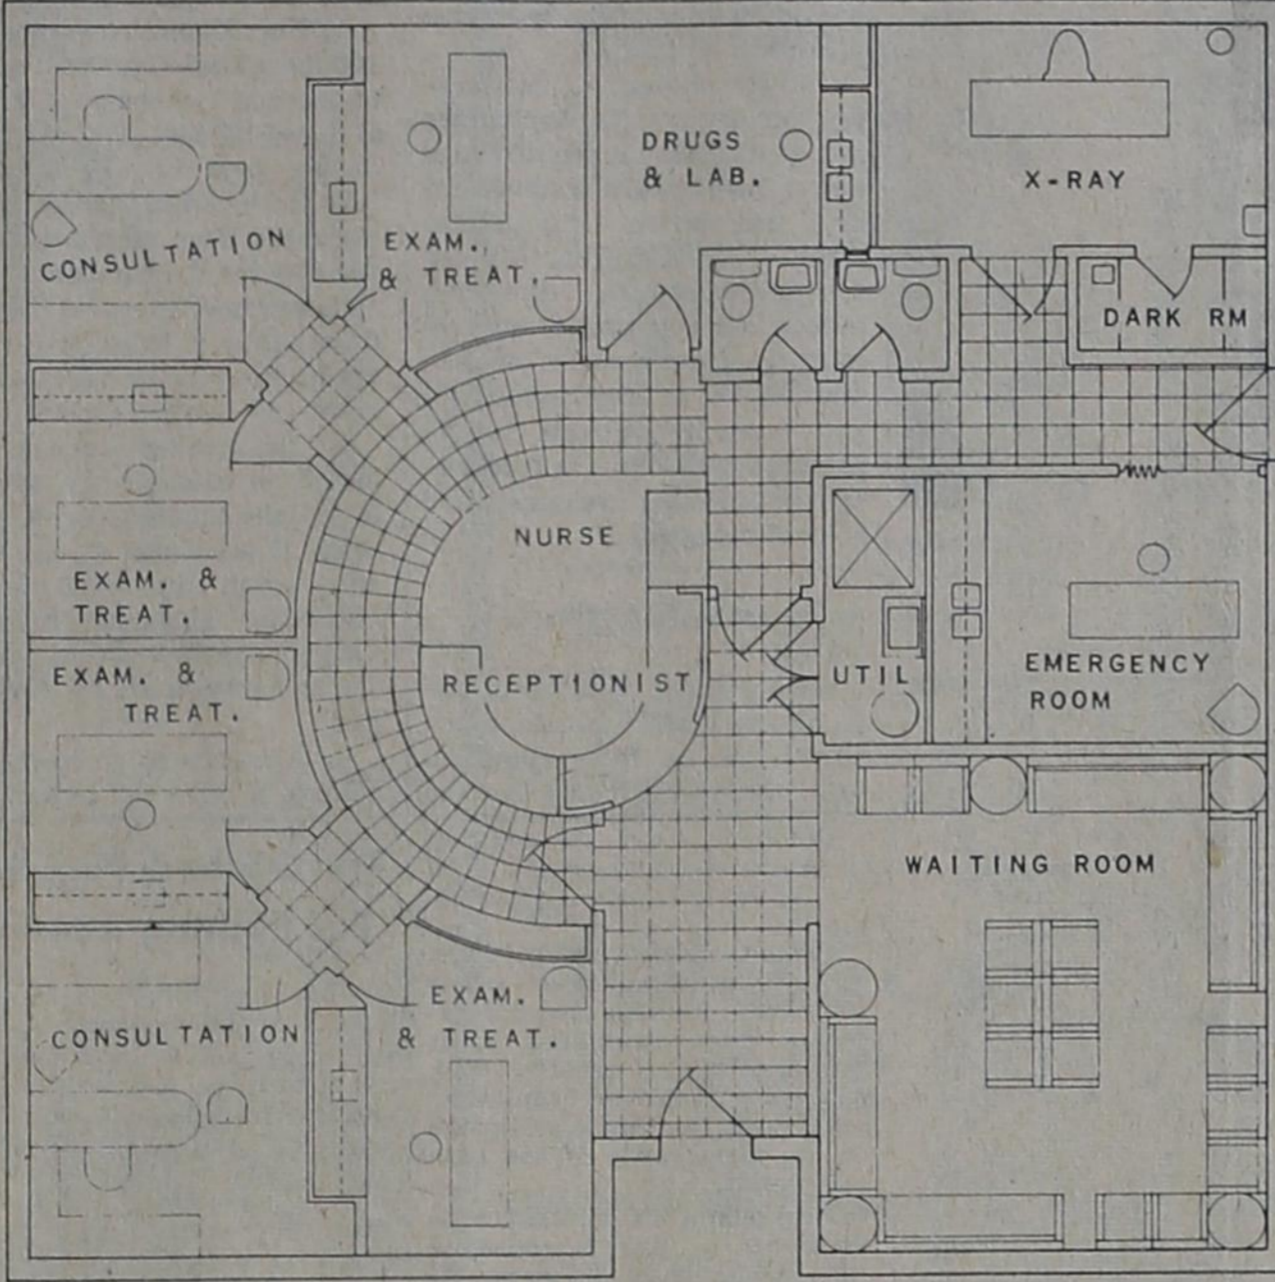

We're eager to see the fund drive for the clinic here launched.

This project, even though it's a large one from a total dollar standpoint, is one which can be accomplished here.

The people of the community owe it to themselves to have such a medical facility.

Another good deal for those who enjoy the sport is the FLOOR PLAN -- A typical two-doctor unit floor plan supplied for a Sears-Roebuck Foundation Medical Center provides maximum use of space because of the circular hallway, which also allows fewer employees to serve as receptionist, nurse, technician, and bookkeeper. If Bovina decides to follow the Sears-Roebuck Foundation plans, approximately $50,000 will be required for construction purposes and expenses in securing a doctor. The amount would be raised by selling certificates of indebtedness in multiples of $25, the cost of which would eventually be returned to the holders.

Sunday Afternoon --

.20 Rain Measured; Tornado Hits Farms

Showers in the area Sunday afternoon brought about .20 of an inch of moisture with about .40 measured about five miles east where a tornado touched ground on the adjoining Scotty Barry and Lawrence Jamerson farms.

The moisture was the first measurable amount received here in about six months except for light snows.

About 3:30 p.m., Mr. and Mrs. Barry heard a report over Clovis radio station that a "bad cloud" was travelling in a northeasterly direction. They looked outside, just in time to see a funnel dipping and coming toward their home. Barry says they didn't have time to get in the car, ran to the hallway in their home, and as he was fastening doors, the funnel struck.

It demolished a barn about 25 feet from the home, but apparently did no damage to the home or to another building on the other side.

The funnel then travelled directly east to the Lawrence Jamerson place nearby, damaged a combine in the back yard, and in a pasture behind the house scattered cotton trailers over a wide area. Jamerson says he had the trailers anchored. About seven of them were overturned, smashed, and some landed in a nearby lake. One and a half miles of irrigation pipe was also thrown about the pasture.

TORNADO DAMAGE -- A barn was demolished on the Scotty Barry farm 5.5 miles east of Bovina about 3:40 p.m. Sunday when a twister hit the building, scattering debris several hundred feet. The home, in which Mr. and Mrs. Barry sought refuge, was not damaged. Barry and Lawrence Jamerson, left, look over the damage.

most of it landing near the lake. Jamerson estimated his loss on the trailers at about $1,000.

The Jamerson family was not at home at the time of the severe weather.

About a quarter-inch of rain was reported in most areas around Bovina.

Mrs. E.H. Young Dies Tuesday

Mrs. E. H. Young, 65-year-old resident of the Bovina area for 40 years, died about 6:15 a.m. Tuesday in Parmer County Community Hospital in Friona. She had been a patient there about two weeks.

Funeral services are pending at Claborn Funeral Home in Friona. Burial will be in Bovina Cemetery.

Mrs. Young was born September, 1901 at Mountain View, Okla. She was married to E. H. Young in 1921 at Mountain View.

The couple came to Parmer County in April, 1927 from their home in Oklahoma and lived in the Oklahoma Lane community where they farmed.

In 1954 Mrs. Young was injured in a grain truck accident and had been in ill health since that time. They moved to Bovina in 1958 and lived on Third Street.

Mrs. Young was the mother of 10 children, of which seven received a college education. One son, Marvin, was killed in an accident about three years ago.

Survivors include her husband of Bovina; two daughters,

Mrs. Lillian Allen of Bunnell, Fla., and Miss Mildred Young of Imperial, Calif.; seven sons, Sam Austin of Salem, Va., Henry of Houston, Paul and George of Lubbock, Roy of Channing, Denzel of Tom's River, N.J., and Donnie, who is serving in the U. S. Army in Imperial, Calif.; and 18 grandchildren.

Paving Project Starting

Bovina City Council Tuesday morning employed Ralph Douglas of Muleshoe as the engineer for a paving project here.

The council met this morning (Wednesday) to begin laying plans for paving some city streets.

Bonds for $20,000 were voted in January, 1966 for the project.

However, according to city officials, property owners will have to be signed up before paving can actually begin.

Named At Chamber Banquet --

Sherrill, Mrs. Caldwell Outstanding Citizens

J. E. Sherrill, Jr. and Mrs. J. R. Caldwell were named Bovina's Man and Woman of the Year as a highlight of the seventh annual banquet of Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Thursday night in school cafeteria.

Sherrill is owner-manager of Sherrill Lumber Co. Mrs. Caldwell, a widow, has long been active in community work.

A crowd of approximately 225 was present for the banquet. The meal featured top-quality ribeye steaks which were grilled just prior to the meal by a committee of three, A. W. Wilson, Wayne Spears and Jim Hemke.

Rev. Kenneth Wyatt, pastor of the Methodist Church at Morton, was guest speaker.

He based his talk on resisting temptation and thinking optimistically.

"Get the right things of life in your mind and you'll have progress," the speaker told his audience which was kept laughing regularly by the humor in his talk.

Mrs. Caldwell was introduced by Mrs. Bob Estes. She is the mother of seven boys and one girl. She brought area-wide attention to this community a couple of years ago when she was named Mother of the Year by the Caprock District of Federated Women's Clubs.

She has given "years of devoted service to this community," Mrs. Estes said in making the presentation. Mrs. Caldwell is an active member and a past officer of Bovina woman's study club. She has also worked for the Cancer Society, Red Cross, March of Dimes, Parent-Teacher Association, Home Demonstration Club and the Cemetery Association.

Sherrill was introduced by Wilbur Charles, who received the honor last year.

Sherrill was cited for being "active in most activities of the community."

He is a former mayor and member of the city council. He is a past master of the Masonic Lodge, is presently serving as a trustee on the school board. He is also active in Lions Club and the boys baseball program here.

Sherrill and his wife, Patsy, have four children, two boys and two girls.

Providing entertainment for the annual affair were the Bovina High Stage Band under the direction of Joe Wayne Harper and Carl Harris, who was introduced as "the singing sensation of Bovina High School."

Rev. J. B. Fowler, Jr., pastor of Bovina Methodist Church, introduced the speaker.

Leon Grissom, outgoing president of the chamber, served as master of ceremonies.

Organ selections were presented during the banquet by Mrs. Keith Howard of Dimmitt.

Father Claver Giblin, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church, gave the benediction. The invocation was by Rev. Fowler.

The meal, except for the steaks, was prepared by members of the cafeteria staff. Serving of the meal was done by members of the Future Homemakers of America chapter.

Out-of-town guests were introduced by Jim Ware, chamber manager.

New president of the organization is Tom Beauchamp. James Roach is vice president and Mrs. G. D. Anderson, Jr. is recording secretary.

Others on the 15-member board of directors are Grissom, C. E. Trimble, Mrs. Robert E. Wilson, Otis Spears, Mrs. Bob Estes, Wayne Spears, Nick Trienen, Jamie Clearman, Kenneth Cary, T. C. Wiseman, Earl Whitten, and Tom Bonds.

OUTSTANDING CITIZENS -- Mrs. J. R. Caldwell and J. E. Sherrill, Jr., second from right with plaque, were honored as the community's Woman and Man of the Year at the chamber banquet Thursday night. At left is Rev. Kenneth Wyatt of Morton who was the banquet speaker. At right is Leon Grissom, outgoing president of the organization and master of ceremonies at the banquet.

TEN YEARS AGO
March 20, 1957

A paving plan which won't increase city taxes or raise evaluations, was discussed at a mass meeting Monday night in Bovina School cafeteria by Tom Anderlitch, representative of First of Texas Corporation, San Antonio, a company which would like to finance a paving program for Bovina. The plan would cost property owners "approximately 4 a foot," Anderlitch said.

Debra Sue Edens was honored with a birthday party Wednesday, she was eight years old.

Plans are and have been, in the making for Bovina Cemetery to have city water. This step is a big one forward for the community.

The XII Ranch, or "Syndicate" as it is affectionately called by old timers of the area, donated a plot of land to the city in about 1907 for the purpose of a cemetery.

Irrigated wheat on the High Plains, including Parmer County, is making steady progress. County Agent Joe Jones confirmed the local conditions this week after a survey.

FFA advisors from Bovina and Lazbuddie met Thursday afternoon in Bovina to outline rules for the 1957 FFA cotton and grain sorghum production contest.

A weather balloon that drifted from an Air Force Base at Alamogordo, N.M., came to a halt in Parmer County last Tuesday afternoon around 4 p.m., landing in a field six miles northwest of Bovina. The site of its landing was the E. J. Hodges farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carpenter and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon C. Willard were hosts and hostesses to a duck supper at the Carpenter home Thursday evening.

Thirty-five animals were shown Saturday at the Second Annual Bovina FFA Project Show at the ag lots. About $150 in prize money was awarded to the showmen by Bovina Lions Club, sponsor of the show.

BANQUET COOKS -- This trio was in charge of preparing the ribeye steaks for Thursday night's chamber of commerce and agriculture banquet. The steaks were cooked on a large portable grill which was loaned to the chamber by Corn's Farm Store. The cooks, left to right, are Wayne Spears, A. M. Wilson and Jim Hemke. The grill held approximately 125 steaks at one cooking.

Those who like the game can get more entertainment there for a nickel -- just five cents -- than they can anywhere else, we'd guess, unless it would be at another domino hall.

Trailer Accident

A 4-wheel trailer which came loose from a pickup Saturday morning on Third Street hit a fence and slammed into an automobile, causing about $500 damage to the latter.

James Clayton was driving his pickup south on Third Street, pulling the trailer. When it came loose, the trailer hit the fence at the J. W. Bell residence, of which about 20 feet had to be replaced. It then hit the 1966 Buick, driven by Mrs. Earl Stevenson, as she was pulling up to Wilson's Super Market. No damage was reported to the trailer.

Domi no Hall Opens Here

A new domino hall is operating in Bovina.

Owned and operated by J. O. Combs, the recreation center is located on the north side of Main Street in a building owned by Mrs. Pearl Murry.

Six tables are available for domino playing. Cost is five cents per player per game, Combs says.

Stock tanks and farm ponds are becoming more and more prominent on the Texas fishing scene. Nowadays you seldom find a pond, even if it's constructed for livestock watering purposes, that is not stocked with some sort of fish.

State and federal fish hatcheries provide fish to private landowners at no charge. All a person must do is apply for them.

When a pond goes sour and fishing gets poor, the landowner invariably wants a hatchery to add more fish. This is a fallacy. By putting tiny fingerlings in a pond where adult fish already are present, all that would be accomplished is feeding the big fish at considerable expense.

Under normal conditions, less than one per cent of the fish spawned actually grow into catchable size.

Still, a pond does need restocking occasionally. This happens when undesirable fish such as bullhead catfish, shad, carp, suckers or small sunfish cause the fish population to become unbalanced.

Best approach then, says Wallace C. Klussmann, a wildlife conservation specialist at Texas A&M University, is to completely remove all the fish in the pond and start all over again.

This "cleaning out" of a pond can be accomplished by chemicals. Two of the most popular toxicants for eradicating fish are rotenone and toxaphene.

Fish killed with rotenone are edible if cleaned when fresh, Klussmann points out. Rotenone is not a poison in the true sense since it kills fish by suffocation.

Rotenone is the easy and practical way to remove most fish from private ponds, Klussmann says, but seldom does it give a 100 per cent kill of bullhead catfish.

Usual recommendation for rotenone is five pounds of five per cent powder per acre-foot of water (an acre-foot is one surface acre of water one foot deep). Three pounds per acre-foot usually is sufficient in warm water (65 degrees or above), if thorough and even distribution can be made.

Klussmann says best results are obtained when the water is at its lowest yearly level during the summer months.

Klussmann recommends that rotenone powder be mixed with water until the mixture is about the density of milk. Pouring the mixture behind an outboard motor gives good distribution.

In areas inaccessible by boat, the mixture can be sprayed on the water from the bank. Small areas also can be treated by "mud-balling"; that is, mixing the powder with enough water to form a paste and then tossing balls of mixture into the water.

Powdered rotenone can be purchased at most livestock supply stores since it is sold primarily as a grub control for cattle.

Fish killed with rotenone are edible if cleaned when fresh, Klussmann points out. Rotenone is not a poison in the true sense since it kills fish by suffocation.

HERBICIDES FOR WEED CONTROL

Weed control through the use of herbicides can be profitable provided the correct selection and application of the herbicide is made.

The seven steps to satisfactory results in using herbicides are as follows (1) carefully read the manufacturers instructions or precautions (2) careful sprayer calibration, (3) use proper herbicide rates, (4) careful seedbed preparation (5) thorough incorporation of materials, if recommended (6) good planting methods and (7) careful follow-up with mechanical or additional chemical weed control practices.

READ MANUFACTURERS LABEL

Be sure and read the manufacturers label. Certain characteristics or facts about the use of the herbicide can be Rotenone loses its toxicity in seven to 14 days and then the pond is ready to be restocked.

People, cattle, sheep, dogs, cats, frogs and most other vertebrate animals are not affected when swimming in or drinking water treated with rotenone. However, continued inhalation can cause irritation of the membranes of the nose and throat.

Klussmann warns that it is unlawful to use rotenone in any public body of water. It is to be used only in private ponds for management purposes.

Toxaphene can be used in ponds for complete kills when the fish are not to be used for human consumption. Usually a more complete kill can be obtained with toxaphene than with rotenone. A 100 per cent kill of bullhead catfish is possible.

Recommended dosage is four ounces of 60 per cent toxaphene per acre-foot of water. This should be mixed with enough water to permit spraying or distribution by pouring behind an outboard.

Treated water is not toxic to livestock if recommended dosages are used. But care must be taken to avoid spilling the concentrated or diluted form on skin or clothing.

Water treated with toxaphene will remain toxic to fish for about 30 days. Before placing an entire stocking, put a few fish in a test solution to see if the water is still toxic.

found here. For example, only corn, sorghum or winter wheat should be planted the year following the use of Atrazine.

SPRAYER CALIBRATION

1. For 40-inch rows measure 100 feet. Then time the number of seconds it takes your tractor to travel 100 feet going the speed to be used on the sprayer.

2. Collect fluid and measure in ounces from all nozzels used per row for the number of seconds required to travel 100 feet. If the spray is broadcast, catch spray from the nozzels used to cover 40 inches (usually 2).

3. The number of ounces collected is equal to the number of gallons applied per acre of crop. If gallonage is not suitable, small adjustments can be made by changing pressure. Larger adjustments in gallonage must be made by changing tips.

4. When treating bands, the amount of chemical to be mixed with the gallons required per acre is a function of the area treated. For example, To apply 0.2 of a pound of diuron per treated acre, with 10-inch bands in 40-inch rows, the chemical rate per acre is 10/40 or 1/4 x 0.2 = .05 pound of diuron per acre of crop. With 36-inch rows the fraction of acre treated will be 10/36.

PROPER HERBICIDE RATE

The herbicide rate depends mainly upon three factors, (1) time of control (2) type of weed to be controlled and (3) the type of soil where herbicide will be applied.

For example, for season-long control of both grass and broad-leaf weeds, use 1, 1 1/2 and 2 pounds of Propazine per acre active ingredients on fine sandy loam, loam and silty clay loam, respectively.

SEEDBED PREPARATION

According to the South Plains Research and Extension Center at Lubbock best results have been obtained when pre-plant herbicides to control weeds in cotton are applied to dry flat soil prior to bedding for pre-irrigation. Heavy crop residues should be worked into the soil prior to spray-application. The herbicide must be incorporated 2 to 4 inches deep.

INCORPORATION

Some herbicides need thorough incorporation into the soil before effective control can be acquired. The herbicides that need thorough incorporation is pre-plant and pre-emergence chemicals for weed control in cotton.

PLANTING METHODS

Sorghum planted in 10 inch rows is difficult to weed mechanically but with the use of proper herbicide they can be profitably controlled.

Cotton should be planted on top of the bed or in a shallow furrow to avoid moving herbicides to the middles, thus leaving the cotton row unprotected.

FOLLOW-UP WEED CONTROL

The rolling cultivator or the broadcast rotary hoe are very effective for controlling weeds mechanically following a chemical weed control program. Along with mechanical weed control successful results can be gained by using additional chemicals as post-emergence.

PLANNING

It will be well worth your time and money to sit down and plan a chemical weed control program over a period of years.

NEW SERVICE HELPS TEACH CURRENT EVENTS

With 56 million American students in classrooms this year, the U.S. is witnessing a massive effort to learn more, learn faster, and learn better. Technology, business, and the education community are combining forces to uncover new and better ways of improving and accelerating the learning process. Innovations in schools, as a result, are many. Computers, closed-circuit television and overhead projectors are all playing roles. There are also vast arrays of new curriculum materials that permit new ways of teaching/learning and are compatible with the modern day equipment.

For example, current events now come into the classroom while still current with such tools as the new weekly publication, "News Focus," written and edited by the editors of "Newsweek" Magazine and marketed by 3M Company. The magazine covers national and international news in a format that allows teachers to present it to the class visually by means of a transparency projected on an overhead projector. Developed primarily for junior and senior high school students, "News Focus" brings alive developments in science, medicine, religion, and the arts as well as other news to help students understand history in the making.

Large Crowd Attends 100th Birthday Of Mrs. Woltmon

Over 130 guests attended the 100th birthday reception honoring Mrs. Mary Woltmon here Sunday afternoon in her home. Bovina's oldest citizen was 100 years old March 16.

Serving as hosts and hostesses for the occasion were her children.

A birthday cake topped with a gold "100" adorned the serving table, laid with a lace cloth over champagne. Punch, mints, nuts and cake were served from milk glass appointments.

Centering the table was a red and orange floral arrangement sent from a great grandson from Hawaii, J. W. Woltmon. Mrs. Woltmon's corsage of orchids was a gift from a granddaughter in Albuquerque, who had the flowers sent from Hawaii.

Many of those calling were friends from long ago, according to members of the family. A total of 14 floral arrangements were presented Mrs. Woltmon, including one from a lady from Lamesa of whom Mrs. Woltmon had not heard in 50 years.

Presiding at the serving table were three granddaughters, Mrs. Wendell Madera of Tucumcari, N.M., Mrs. Frances Cross and Mrs. Bill Lynn, both of Clovis, N.M.

Attending the event were friends and relatives from Brownfield, Amarillo, Farwell, Hereford, Friona, Floydada, Canyon, Albuquerque, Clovis, Tucumcari, California and Oklahoma.

Also present for the occasion were her children, A. J. Woltmon of Tucumcari, Chester Woltmon and Mrs. Ray Davies.

Party Honors Mrs. R. Read

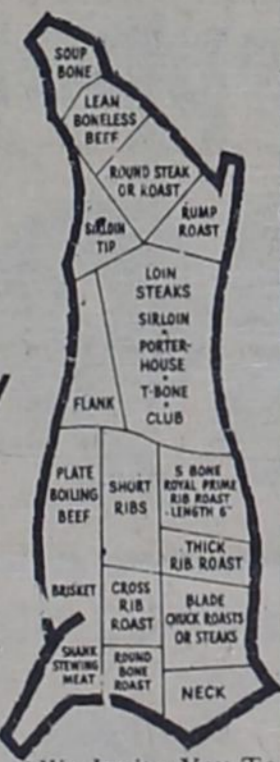

The 39er's Club held a birthday party Monday night in the home of Mrs. Emmett Tabor honoring Mrs. Robert Read.

Attending the event were Mes. Nola Read, Joe Wilson, Odie White, Paul Jones, Bud Crump, and Tiny Walling of Fair Oaks, Calif.

Chicken spaghetti and hot rolls were served.

A roll of walkovering, regardless of width, contains 36-square feet of area, according to the United Wallpaper Company of Chicago. However, because of trimming and matching, it is best to estimate 30 square feet of useful walkovering per roll.

PRAYER

Now I sit me down in school
Where praying is against the rule,
For this great nation, under God,
Finds public mention of Him odd.
Any prayer a class recites
Now violates the Bill of Rights,
Anytime my head I bow
Becomes a federal matter now.
Teach us of stars, of poles and equator,
But make no mention of their Creator,
Tell of experts in Denmark and Sweden,
But now a word of what Eve did in Eden.
The law is specific, the law is precise,
Praying out loud is no longer nice,
Praying aloud in a public hall
Upsets believers in nothing at all.
In silence alone can one meditate,
And if God should get any credit, great!
This rule, however, has a gimmick in it,
One has to be finished in less than a minute.
So all I ask is a second of quiet,
If I feel like praying, maybe I'll try it.
If not, O God, this plea I make,
Should I die in school my soul please take.
--Robert Dussman

Congratulations to Mrs. J. R. Caldwell and J. E. Sherrill, Jr. for the "Woman and Man of the Year Awards" they received Thursday night at the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture banquet.

Not only do such awards show appreciation to those who have spent their time in efforts to improve their community, but it also encourages the rest of us to try a little harder to live up to their examples.

A license to wed was issued by County Clerk Bonnie Warren on March 15 to William Vey Harvey and Sharon DePuy.

How To Sharpen Knife

Keeping knives sharp is easy if you use a sharpening-honing steel says Mary Ann March, home economist of the Ekco Housewares Company. According to Miss March, to sharpen a knife correctly, hold the steel in your left hand and the knife in your right. In a long gentle stroke, move the entire cutting edge of the blade across the grooved surface of the steel. When one stroke, from the heel of the blade to its tip, has been completed, position the blade under the steel and repeat the motion to sharpen the other side of the blade.

District Federation Convention Scheduled

Lubbock (Special) -- Peggy Parker, free-lance foreign news correspondent, will be a featured speaker at the seventh annual convention of Caprock District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held Monday and Tuesday, March 27 and 28 in Lubbock with headquarters at Pioneer Hotel.

The writer will bring a firsthand look at Vietnam, where she recently was sent on tour of the combat zones as special correspondent for the New York Daily News, to club women of the district and their guests at a banquet at 7 p.m. Tuesday, March 28, at Lubbock Country Club.

With "Caprock Angels" as its theme, the convention opens with a semiformal "Golden Wings" board dinner at 7 p.m. Monday, March 27 in the Pioneer Hotel ballroom. Speaker will be Mrs. Charles Caldwell of Midland whose topic is "Woman to Woman."

A professional teacher of charm and modeling classes for adults and teenagers, Mrs. Caldwell in the last two years has spoken at 15 high schools and 24 colleges on "Is God Dead?", "The New Morality", and "Love, Courtship and Marriage." She also narrates style shows and gives book reviews. She is a past president of the 20th Century Club of Midland and a member of the First Baptist Church, Midland, where she and her husband work with young people. She is a graduate of Rice University with a Spanish major.

After the law of Moses was given to the children of Israel, the elders build up a collection of human tradition, they contended that this tradition was as binding upon the people as the written word of God itself. But Christ and His disciples ignored tradition for "He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me. Howbeit in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. For laying aside the commandments of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups; and many other such like things ye do. And he said unto them, Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition." Mark 7:6-9. Thus we see that Christ forever repudiated and rejected man-made tradition as authority in religion.

When Jesus spoke "the people were astonished at his doctrine; For he taught as one having authority, and not as the scribes," Matthew 7:29. After Christ rose from the dead he said to his apostles, "All authority hath been given unto me in heaven and on earth." Matthew 28:18. There is no question but that Christ now has all authority in spiritual matters, and we must submit to His will. Jesus and His teaching are inseparable; to receive His doctrines is to receive Him and to reject His doctrine is to reject Him.

Easter

Easter is a convergence of three traditions: the pagan, the Hebrew, and the Christian.

The Norseman celebrated Eostre, the festival of spring at the vernal equinox when all nature is in resurrection after the chill of winter. Here we find the origin of the name "Easter."

The Hebrews celebrated the Passover, that awesome night when the angel of death "passed over" the homes of the Israelites, sparing their first-born sons while striking dead the sons of Egypt. This celebration also falls about the time of the spring equinox.

It was at the time of the Passover that Jesus was crucified and rose from the dead. His resurrection is the cornerstone of the Christian faith, the point at which it separates itself from the matrix of Judaism. Paul insisted that Christianity was meaningless without the resurrection. "If Christ is not risen, then is our preaching in vain," he says.

What we celebrate and remember in Easter is the empty tomb and the risen Lord, still actively alive in the fellowship of those who believe in Him. The Christian knows His continuing presence and is blessed with the knowledge that "whoever lives and believes in Him will never die."

Prayer:

Almighty and everlasting God, who on Easter Day did turn despair into triumph by the resurrection of Christ, help us to live each day in the faith that because he lives, we shall live also. Amen.

ANOTHER DEVELOPMENT IN CROSSBREEDING -- Texas A&M University researchers at the Livestock and Forage Research Center, McGregor, have added additional weight to calves at weaning time by breeding crossbred cows to a bull of a third breed.

Straight-bred calves at the station have averaged 392 pounds over the past 11 years at weaning time. Average 180-day weaning weight of the three-breed cross has been 460 pounds, says Walter Kruse. Reason for the increased weight, he says, is the boost in hybrid vigor brought in by the bull of the third breed.

GOOD FEED NO CAUSE MASTITIS -- High protein and high energy feeds are often falsely accused of being agitators of mastitis but dairy authorities emphasize that sanitation and management are the true culprits involved, says A.M. Meekma, Extension dairy specialist at Texas A&M University. Research workers, he adds, have not been able to link high protein and high energy with mastitis but have found that mastitis and other diseases are likely to flourish under poor management and herd health programs.

UPTURNED TRAILER -- Like a toy a child might pick up and throw down, one of seven damaged trailers on the Lawrence Jamerson farm was found upside down following the passage of a funnel through his property Sunday afternoon east of Bovina. Two trailers in the lake, background, were virtually destroyed.

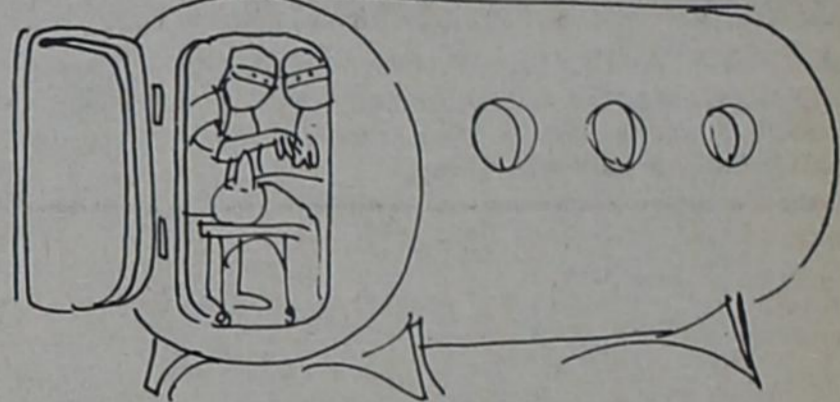

A BARN NO MORE -- Only the barn was destroyed near the farm home of E. R. "Scotty" Barry Sunday when a tornado touched ground. Stored inside the barn was the trailer, right, which was turned around. A large air conditioner in the trailer was picked up and set down on the ground beside it. A butane tank, just to the left of the barn, was not damaged.

At Bovina Bank -- County GSPA Meeting Today

Today members of the Farmer County Grain Sorghum Producers Association are meeting in the First State Bank in Bovina for the purpose of electing directors, officers, and hearing development plans for the future. The meeting began at 10 a.m. With the announcement made last week of the opening of a new feedlot in Bovina, members are expected to be especially interested in a talk by Rudie Tate of the GSPA North Plains staff, who is speaking on the current new developments in livestock feeding and processing in the sorghum area. He is also discussing the possibilities of using grain sorghum as a food and industrial product. Y. F. Snodgrass of the staff is discussing the possibility of changing the county loan rates on grain sorghum and the new laws affecting producers. Gene Smith, director of GSPA, is presiding at the meeting.

PREVENTION BEST CURE OF ACCIDENTAL POISONING
The week of March 19-25 has been designated as National Poison Prevention Week. Its purpose is to call attention to the dangers created by the increasing use of such toxic substances as medicines, polishes, cleaners, solvents, pesticides and others. Some 600,000 Americans may suffer from accidental poisoning this year unless people become more careful about handling and using harmful chemicals. Over 80 per cent of the victims will probably be children under five years of age.

Items should be stored under lock and key especially if small children are present. Small children cannot read and do not recognize the danger involved. They are attracted by the shape and color of containers, and anything that looks edible often winds up in their mouths. CONTROL SHADE TREE BORERS
Many pests of ornamental trees and shrubs will soon be active. Prevention is the best method for holding plant damage to a minimum. This is particularly true in controlling shade tree borers. The most important borer species includes the roundheaded and flatheaded borers. The adults of the roundheaded borers are known as long-horned beetles because they generally have antennae as long or longer than their body. The larvae (borers) make galleries beneath the bark and also tunnel into the heartwood. The adults of the flatheaded borers are generally beautifully colored or metallic, boat-shaped beetles. The typical injury caused by the larvae (borers) consists of rather shallow, long, winding, oval galleries beneath the bark.

Another 4-H County Food Show is over. Out of some 40 girls who enrolled in food project groups, a total of 26 participated in the County Food Show. These girls will be eligible for County awards. It was unfortunate that some six girls were ill and unable to display at the food show, even though they completed the project work. The displays were generally very good, all scoring high. Next contest will be held April 1 at Hub Community Center. This will be demonstrations by individuals and teams in various award programs. Many girls and boys are working now on demonstrations. We hope we can have some District winners this year so they may go to Plants, can be obtained at the County Agent's office. Following the insecticide application, trunks of young or transplanted trees should be wrapped with nursery wrapping paper, burlap, aluminum foil or newspaper to prevent egg laying by the adult borers. Be sure to use these insecticides in wettable powder form on young trees to avoid injury to the bark when wrapped. Keep the wrapping on all year and replace when it becomes torn. There is no magic formula which can be applied to the soil or trunk of the tree which will kill wood borers in the trees. Mr. and Mrs. Tiny Gyles Walling, Steven, Rebecca, Donna and Haden of Fair Oaks, Calif. are on a two-weeks visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Walling. Mrs. Ethel Schroeder of Borger and three grandsons visited her sister, Mrs. Ezra Englant, here Sunday.

NATIONAL POISON PREVENTION WEEK is designed to create awareness of accidental poisoning in the home. If you have a child under five, the chances of him being accidentally poisoned this year are one in 38! Those are not very good odds -- particularly when your child's life is at stake. Before you say it is impossible for a child to be poisoned in your home, think about how many times you have known children to accomplish the impossible. Most accidental poisonings can be related to patterns of storage, handling, and disposal. Don't underestimate your children's ability to crawl, climb, or reach almost anywhere.

Two FHA Girls Receive State Degrees At Lubbock

Two Bovina High School Future Homemakers of America, Karen Beauchamp and Linda Rejino, received their state degrees at the area FHA meeting held in Lubbock Friday and Saturday.

State degrees are the highest award given to a member of FHA and recipients are determined on the basis of character, leadership, scholarship, service to the community, school and church, as well as standards within the organization.

Miss Rejino is a junior student in Bovina Schools and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben C. Rejino. Miss Beauchamp, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Beauchamp, is a senior.

Both girls have outstanding records.

Miss Beauchamp was recently awarded the Good Citizen Award from her school by the Daughters of the American Revolution. She is vice president of the National Honor Society, and has held several offices in FHA. She also belongs to the German Club, Pep Club and the Band Council.

The state degree winner is a member of the annual staff, as well as the school paper staff. She has served as head twirler with the Mustang Band and during her junior and senior years participated in the class plays.

A member of the Methodist Church, Miss Beauchamp is a member of the choir and has taught in Vacation Bible School. She is president of Methodist Youth Fellowship, is a member of the Teenage Club, and is currently serving as Lions Club Queen.

Miss Rejino, who is president of FHA this year, is secretary of the National Honor Society, is vice president of the Junior Class and a representative on the Student Council. She is a member of the German Club, and has also been a member of the Drama Club, Library Club and Pep Club.

She served as secretary of her Freshman Class and president of the Sophomore Class. Miss Rejino has been active in athletics, having won ribbons in tennis, and played on both volleyball and basketball teams her three years in high school. She has assisted with Inter-scholastic League one-act play, won first place in district prose competition and second last year in prose reading. This year she is entering prose and poetry interpretation, as well as tennis.

A member of St. Ann's Catholic Church, Miss Rejino has helped two summers with the "head start" program at the schools and has also worked with the FHA pre-school children during the summer months for two years.

The girls were chosen for the state degrees on the basis of their work submitted to a committee earlier in the school year.

ISLAND DWELLERS -- A family, portrayed by sixth graders, left the United States after evading income tax. "THIS IS MY AMERICA" -- Sixth grade students presented a patriotic program Friday morning to Bovina students under direction of the teachers, Mrs. Oleta Ford and Robert Kidd. Songs by the entire class were presented, accompanied by Mrs. Bobby Englant at the piano.

County Bee Held Here

Students from Farwell, Friona and Bovina participated in the annual Palmer County Spelling Bee held in the Bovina Schools Tuesday under direction of Mrs. Rita Mast.

A winner had not been declared when the Blade "went to press."

However, according to Mrs. Mast, each school entered several students in the county event. No eliminations were held in Bovina last week since only five or six entered the event locally.

Judges were chosen from the group of adults accompanying the spelling contestants here. Winner will complete in the regional spelling bee to be held in Amarillo.

No Injuries In Accident

A pickup truck pulling a trailer loaded with casing and pump pipe overturned on the Oklahoma Lane road Tuesday afternoon of last week just outside Bovina city limits.

The three passengers in the vehicle were not injured. Damage to the pickup was estimated at about $500.

Driver and owner of the pickup was Carl Goetsch of Farwell.

The accident occurred when the pipe shifted to the back of the trailer, lifting the pickup off its back wheels.

Highway patrolmen investigated the accident, according to Deputy Sheriff Henry Minter.

Two Events --

Team Places At Track Meet

Bovina thinclads placed in two events in the Hale Center track meet held there Saturday with Idalou winning first place in the Class A division.

The mile relay team took sixth place from a field of 16 teams entered in the Class A division.

Composing the relay team were Tommy Sisco, Harris, Ronnie Dyer, and Stuart McMeans.

Today (Wednesday) the Bovina track team is entered in the Sundown track meet with the same boys entering the events in which they competed at Hale Center, according to Coach Roy Stone.

The project has been adopted by the Circle here. Members would like to collect a good supply of sewing needs to send the girls there, Mrs. Stevenson said.
