WHITTLIN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

Back a few weeks ago when housewives were organizing protests against the "high" cost of groceries, we ignored the issue because we felt that we weren't concerned about it on the local level.

As it turned out, of course, there was much, much more smoke than there was fire. The groceryman, the housewives learned after they did some research, was not really to blame for their problem, if they had one, and they had the wrong cat up the tree.

However, the governor of Texas appointed a special committee to study the problem along about that time. The study was made by representatives of A&M University, the University of Texas and Texas Technological College.

Results of the study as pointed out by Governor Connally were, in a nutshell, "A lot of food costs depend on the individual tastes of people and wise shopping on the part of the housewife."

So, area housewives, by planning your weekly shopping around grocery advertisements in The Blade, you can solve your own high food bill problem!

If you've already been doing that, you have no problem. You haven't been doing it, it's time now to start in the interest of the old family budget.

Connally's study committee also determined that "net price levels of food retailers actually declined from 1.91 per cent of gross sales in 1964 to 1.63 per cent this year."

Our knowledge of business is limited, but that sounds from here as if that's a mighty small percentage of net profit.

Most businesses must net a greater percentage than that to survive.

While it doesn't have much eye appeal in print, 1966 will have to be remembered as a negative one on the part of the people here, if we may say so without sounding cynical.

Two school bond issues were defeated, for instance. That was the first time in the history of the school district for such to happen, as far as we know.

Voters also voted negative, we think, in favoring Republican candidates for U. S. Senator and for congressional representative to replace Walter Rogers, who decided not to seek re-election.

Negative-type thinking caused a majority of the people to vote in this manner, as we see it. This is worthy of mention only because it is such a contrast to the way people here normally react to progress and to the betterment of themselves, their community and their area, state and nation.

In reading a summary of the year's events, which appears elsewhere in this issue of The Blade, we noticed that the city passed a $100,000 bond election last January. That election was carried before the "no vote" idea began to take effect, evidently.

This temporary negative attitude on the part of the people is due to change, we predict.

Oh! 1966 will have to be remembered, too, again not favorably, as the year of the early freeze and the short cotton crop. Area cotton production was off some 50 per cent, according to figures we've heard about. The early freeze gets almost all the blame for that decline. More-than-usual rains in August added to cotton's downfall, though, as excessive growth was created prolonging the crop's maturity. This put it in a position to be hurt worse when the October 15 freeze struck its costly blow.

And we're not saying that a short cotton crop won't cause the people to vote negatively...

At the same time, we don't mean to paint a dark picture

1966 Eventful Year In This Area To Soon Fold Into History

By Pat Jacobs

Bovina had its "ups and downs" during the fast-dying year of 1966 and with the coming of 1967 and the ebbing side of the decade, another annual chapter has been folded into the pages of area history.

Reviewing the news of 1966, Bovina has provided its surprises, as well as its substantial progress. Voters began the year by approving a city bond election of $100,000 to provide water storage, improvements to the water system, and for a paving project.

First State Bank reported over $2 million on deposit. Parmer County citizens honored Sheriff Chas. Lovelace, who has served since 1949 in that capacity, with an appreciation night, and during the same week 500 people saw Bovina High School students present a musical, "Bells are Ringing."

In February, Bovina Independent School District bought four blocks of land west of Ninth Street for future construction sites.

Patsy Cumpston and Scotty Rundell were named basketball queen and king.

Probably the biggest event of the month was the moving of the post office to its new building and location on Second Street.

March was the month of the annual banquet for Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture. Mrs. Flossie Rhinehart and Wilbur Charles received the plaques as "Outstanding Citizens" of the year.

A Science Fair staged in the grade school gymnasium saw over 15- entries, of which a large number of winners received ribbons for their efforts from grade school through high school.

Four Bovina basketball players under tutelage of Coach Darrel Read were named to the all-district team, Judy and Kathy Minyon on the girls team, Kenneth Webb and Jerry Roach on the boys team.

Roman Ramirez, outstanding Mustang footballer, signed a letter of intent with North Texas State University.

April began with voters turning down a $600,000 school bond issue nearly 2-1.

Bedford Caldwell was elected mayor of Bovina and new council members named to three vacant posts were Charles Corn, Billie Suddarth and Owen Patton. The "Slumtown Symfunny" of Lamesa raised $300 for the Bovina clinic fund, which later had a total of over $4,000 to its credit.

A freak April snowfall dumped four inches on Bovina, which was in the path of a narrow swath across this area. This attracted nation-wide attention for this area.

Bones of a pre-historic mastodon were uncovered on the Glenden Suddarth farm and given to Eastern New Mexico University.

Connie Vaughn was named Lions Club queen. Senator Walter Rogers was in town for the post office dedication services and was the principal speaker at the event.

Jerry Roach won second place in the Regional Track Meet in Lubbock in 180-yard low hurdles and qualified for the State Meet in Austin.

New chaps and vests for Bovina Roping Club arrived. May arrived with plans for graduation exercises on tap. Gwen Christian was named valedictorian and Karen Estes salutatorian of the senior class. Other honor students were Brenda Pruitt, Patsy Cumpston and Richard Carson.

The grade school track meet was held during May, when many elementary students participated. Ribbons were awarded the winners in various events.

Democratic primary elections were held with Parmer County giving the nod to Andy Rogers for state senator, although he was overall defeated by Jack Hightower.

Mrs. Bonnie Warren was re-elected county clerk; Loyde A. Brewer, county judge; and Mabel Reynolds, county treasurer. A run-off was necessary between Lucille Killough and Wilbur Charles for justice of the peace Precinct 3, which Charles won in a June 4 election.

Also receiving Parmer's majority vote were Governor John Connally, Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith, Wagoner Carr for the U. S. Senate, and Crawford Martin for attorney-general of Texas.

The eventful month saw 25 seniors receive their diplomas. Bovina teachers received a $300 a year pay boost. Rain finally came in June to the tune of 2.25 inches, the second fall of the year. First rainfall was .80 in April. Another half-inch fell the next week of June and later in the month 2.5 was recorded.

Christmas Donations --

Card Project Exceeds $800

Two more donors pushed the Christmas card project this year over the $800 mark, according to officials at the First State Bank of Bovina.

The project, sponsored by the Bovina Woman's Study Club, closed out with $814.12 deposited at the bank here to be added to the medical clinic and doctor fund.

Those contributing after the deadline for publication last week were the Henry Ivys and Inman Insurance.

When the final tabulations were made, 97 residents of Bovina had donated to the fund rather than send Christmas cards to their friends in the community. An average of $5.86 plus was contributed by each donor. Some gave more than the average and some less.

Names of those participating in the Christmas Card project in Bovina appeared in a greeting last week in The Blade.

Holiday Set

For Monday

Most business institutions in Bovina will be closed Monday, Jan. 2, declared by the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture as a holiday this year since Jan. 1 falls on Sunday.

Bovina also observed Monday, Dec. 26, as a holiday this year.

Holidays End January 3

For Students

Students in Bovina Schools will return to their classrooms Tuesday morning at the regular times, school officials said.

The holidays were extended an extra day last week, according to an announcement by Otis Spears, superintendent.

At first the holidays were set to end on Monday, Jan. 2. School was dismissed for the Christmas-New Year's holidays Thursday of last week.

Town Quiet Christmas

Bovina was quite over the Christmas holidays, reports Deputy Sheriff Henry Minter, and apparently residents here enjoyed the season in an orderly manner.

Minter reported there were no accidents, no vandalism of any kind, and no arrests were made.

At East Crossing--

Truck-Train Wreck Leaves Two Dead

Two Lubbock men were killed instantly at 12:20 p.m. Wednesday of last week when the 1960 Chevrolet pickup truck in which they were riding was struck at the east crossing in Bovina by a west-bound through freight train.

Dead at the scene were William Wesley Gholson, 28, of 5232 40th Street, Lubbock, and Leroy Clifford Shelton, 31, of P. O. Box 1176, Lubbock.

The men were enroute to lay new carpet in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Johnston, who live some five miles north of Bovina.

The pickup had turned north off Main Street toward Highway 60. The main track, running through the middle of the block, was blocked from view by box cars standing on sidings.

The bodies of the victims were thrown about 200 feet from point of impact, according to Deputy Sheriff Henry Minter, who investigated the accident along with highway patrolmen.

Struck by Train No. 914, wreckage of the pickup was scattered over a wide area, parts of it being wrapped around a signal light at the west crossing five or six blocks away. Other parts had to be taken loose from the engine of the freight train by a wrecker crew. The train was travelling approximately 60 miles per hour, according to reports.

The accident marked the second such train-vehicle wreck within the past few weeks in downtown Bovina. The first at the west crossing completely demolished an automobile, leaving five passengers uninjured.

The victims of last week's accident were employed by Myres Carpet Specialty Shop in Lubbock and were driving a pickup truck belonging to the firm.

Several non-stop trains pass through Bovina daily, some passenger and some freight. Signal lights and bells at the crossings MILLION DOLLAR SNOW-- Moisture in the form of snow began falling in Bovina Tuesday morning, and was welcomed by area farmers as a boost to 1967 crops. On Third Street traffic was light Tuesday morning and vehicles braving the slick streets were moving slowly.

Brings Moisture--

Snow Falling Here

Snow began falling in Bovina Tuesday morning and approximately two inches had fallen by noon with more predicted for the day and possibly continuing into Wednesday.

Farmers welcomed the moisture, following a long dry period, and although the snow was said to be fairly dry, is expected to be a boost to the 1967 wheat crop. More season is also needed in the ground for crops to be planted this spring.

Some snow and sleet fell here Christmas Day. Although it was not measurable, enough fell for a semi-white Christmas in Bovina.

Tuesday morning streets were slick and motorists were "taking it easy."

Texas Highway Department in Bovina reported Tuesday morning that roads west and north were considered "bad," as well as southwest to Roswell, N.M. However, from Muleshoe to Lubbock highways were still clear, but with continuing snowfall, motorists were being asked to check conditions before travelling.

The snow storm swept from the west, beginning Monday in Arizona and continuing its path across the United States, arriving in Bovina shortly after 6 a.m. Tuesday.

BITS AND PIECES -- The steering wheel and a small portion of the cab made up about the largest single piece of wreckage found as the result of a pickup truck-train accident at the east crossing in downtown Bovina Wednesday noon in which two Lubbock men died. In the background, Deputy Sheriff Henry Minter looks over other wreckage.

Result Of Projects--

Bovina Clinic Fund Reports Over $5,600

The Bovina Clinic Fund now has on deposit a total of $5,687.73, according to Mrs. Jesse Walling, chairman of the Community Improvement Committee. This represents an increase of over $1,600 since fall.

In September alightly over $4,000 was reported to be in the Clinic Fund. Since that time, the Bovina Woman's Study Club has raised $364.88 from rummage sales held downtown on Saturdays; Bovina Roping Club raised $450 from donations received for a saddle given away before Christmas; and the Christmas card fund tallied $814.12, less expenses.

The $4,000 already on hand was this fall placed in time deposit at the First State Bank in Bovina so that it may draw interest.

Purpose of the project is to obtain a medical clinic and doctor for Bovina. A survey was held here in November to determine whether or not Bovina would qualify for a Sears-Roebuck Foundation, which would provide a doctor of good standing with the AMA and equipment for a clinic.

Results seemed to indicate that Bovina does qualify, but word will be some time coming from the Foundation. However, if a grant is made for such, Bovina will be required to supply the building.

1966 Events ---

Project Headstart in the local school system got underway with 23 enrolled the first day.
 Jack McCracken resigned as secretary-manager of Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.
 Baptist began work on its recreation center, "The Spot."
 First load of wheat was brought to Bovina Wheat Growers on June 11 by Stan Hall.
 Work began on the new $120,000 Methodist Church as members began tearing out fixtures inside the old building. In July, school taxes were raised 12 per cent.
 Vegetable harvest began on July 19.
 Hail cut a path through Parmer County on Aug. 8, damaging cotton and vegetable crops, destroying some from Pleasant Hill to West Camp.
 August saw one of the highlights of the year when the "best ever" Bull Town Days celebration was staged. Pam Grissom was named Bull Town Days queen.
 Five inches of rain fell from Saturday through Tuesday, Aug. 20-23 and later in the month another 1.7 inches was measured here.
 Paul Holcomb resigned as Bovina water superintendent and in the fall John Wilson, who had previously held the position, was named as Holcomb's successor.
 School got underway in September and first registration figures showed a new record of 651 students.
 Jim Heard delivered the first 1966 grain sorghum to Sherry Grain Co. on Sept. 8.
 On Sept. 20 enrollment in Bovina schools broke the 700 mark, an all-time high for the school district.
 The first bale of cotton was delivered to Bovina Gin Co. on Sept. 24 by Charles Hawkins.
 Sugar beet harvest got underway Sept. 28, Johnny Rucker bringing in the first load.
 Candy Fleming was named football queen and Dean Stanberry football hero at the homecoming game during half-time.
 A medical survey of the Bovina area was begun by Bovina Woman's Study Club with volunteers from churches and civic organizations helping out. Purpose was for securing a Sears-Roebuck Foundation grant to provide a doctor and equipment for a clinic for Bovina.
 Results announced in November were highly encouraging, but whether or not Bovina receives the grant remains to be seen.
 The general election in November found Parmer County voting Republican for John Tower for the U. S. Senate and Bob Price for Congressman. Former Senator Walter Rogers earlier had erased his name from the ticket, being replaced by Dee Miller, district attorney in Amarillo.
 Mustang football team finished its season with two wins, eight losses in its first year in Class A.
 Water from the new city storage tank was turned on in Bovina on Nov. 11.
 Jim Ware became the new manager-secretary of Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.
 Students in Bovina schools named their favorites, including Candy Fleming and Lane Guber as Miss and Mr. BHS. Again voters in Bovina Independent School District turned down a bond proposal, this time for $268,000.
 Truck Lusk won the seventh annual Bovina Businesses Cotton Bowl Football Contest and a trip for two to the Cotton Bowl game in Dallas.
 The new Bovina Methodist Church held its opening on Sunday, Dec. 18, and the Christmas cantata was presented by the choir that evening.

McGehee In Armed Forces

Kenneth McGehee, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McGehee of Lazbuddie, will leave Jan. 4 for the Armed Forces.
 His wife, the former Miss Joyce Hucks, formerly of Bovina, will move to Bryan where she will live until McGehee completes basic training. At that time she will join him. Mrs. McGehee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alva J. Hucks.
 Trees are a crop, according to the Texas Forestry Association. Trees grow, are tended, and harvested like any other farm crop.

 about 1966. Agricultural, with the exception of cotton, had another good year and the effect the cotton loss itself had on the overall economy is hard to determine.
 This year will probably be a better one than most people thought when they have to pay their income tax here in a few weeks.
 If we could change 1966 to suit ourselves, we wouldn't do much about it. Just shift a few votes in a couple of bond elections and the general election and move the first freeze date back about 30 days.
 That's assuming, of course, that we're going to get plenty of nice warm moisture between now and the first of the year.
 When this issue is put to bed, we plan to slip off to Central Texas for a brief, post-Christmas vacation. We're looking forward to a couple of days of change of pace and then to a bigger, better Bovina in 1967!
 *****
 The Dallas Cowboys are tremendous sentimental favorites here in their NFL championship playoff game with Green Bay January 1.
 But sentiment is for pie suppers and dryland farmers.
 We'll have to go with the Packers by about 10 points... (just because we don't know anything about who's going to win the World Series each year doesn't mean that we can't pick winners in professional football playoff games!)

 Happy New Year!

Know The Truth
 By Lavern Stewart
 What is the one thing that everyone is seeking? No doubt, the answer is happiness. Of course what will make one happy will not make another happy, but all are seeking the same thing. Do you think one can really be happy for very long in this life? We can never be happy in this life because of anxiety over world matters; however, we can plan for the next life and thereby not worry so much about things of this life. Consider what Jesus taught, Matt. 6:31-34, "Be not therefore anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or What shall we drink? or Wherewithal shall we be clothed? For after all these things do the Gentiles seek; for your Heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first his kingdom, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. Be not therefore anxious for the morrow: for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." In meeting the problems of life, the Christian realizes that "It is not in man that walketh to direct his steps." Jeremiah 10:23. He therefore avails himself of the rich resources of God's Word to guide his steps. He is not unduly concerned with the things of this life because he realizes that this life is short, that earthly treasures decay, and that our physical needs are few. A Christian knows that he is not promised freedom from illness or tragedy, but that he does have the promise, in Romans 8:28, of all things working together for his good -- not his good according to the flesh, but according to the spirit. Regardless of what may happen the one who is seeking happiness in the next life rather than this life will be prepared. His soul is safe in God's keeping and cannot be harmed by accidents, illness, poverty, or even atomic blasts. What is here written does not mean that the Christian cannot enjoy living, he can enjoy this life even more than the one who does not serve God. Christians are "reasonably" happy because they do not expect too much from this life.

COTTON BOWL TRIP -- Mr. and Mrs. Truck Lusk left Thursday afternoon for a Christmas vacation, topped off by an expense paid trip for two to Dallas, where they will attend the Cotton Bowl football game between Southern Methodist University and Georgia Saturday. Lusk was this year's winner of the Bovina Businesses Cotton Bowl Football Contest sponsored by 10 local firms.

Lusks Leave
For Cotton Bowl

Coach and Mrs. Truck Lusk packed their bags and left for Dallas Thursday to attend the Cotton Bowl game there on Saturday, Dec. 31, when Georgia meets Southern Methodist University in the annual grid classic.
 Lusk won a trip for two to the Cotton Bowl game in the seventh annual Bovina Businesses Cotton Bowl Football Contest this year.
 In the 13-week event sponsored by 10 Bovina business institutions, Lusk named 95 out of a possible 130 winners. He didn't "really get with it" until he won first place in the sixth week of the contest, although Lusk had placed above average. After that time he picked nine winners three weeks, eight winners twice, six in one weekly contest, and wound up the event by picking all 10 in the final week.
 Of these, he won top prize money four times, tying once for first, for a total of $19.

 Lusk came to Bovina this year from Ruidoso, N.M., and joined the coaching staff at Bovina Schools, where he is junior high football and basketball mentor.
 Sponsoring the contest this year were Cicero Smith Lumber Co., Birkelbach Machine and Pump Co., First State Bank, Bovina Wheat Growers, Inc.,

Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply, Sherry Grain Co., Bovina Insurance, Bonds Oil Co., Bovina Gin Co. and Charles Oil Co.
 Truck Lusk joins the "Honor Roll" of the Bovina Businesses Football Contest.
 Neil Smith won the first event in 1960; Erith Hawkins, 1961; Emmett Tabor, 1962; Paul Jones, 1963; Jeanne Kerby, 1964; and Allen Cumpston in 1965.

Parmer County Employment Up

Employment in Parmer County rose 15 per cent between March 1964 and March 1965, according to one of the nation's economic indicators, "County Business Patterns, 1965 - Texas," issued recently by the U.S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of the Census. "County Business Patterns," now published annually, uses payroll information gathered for the first quarter of each calendar year by the Social Security Administration covering employment in most kinds of business and industry, but excluding notably agricultural and government workers and the self-employed. Number of employees in the county, in businesses covered by the report, for March 1965 totaled 1292 as against 1128 for the same month a year earlier. First quarter payrolls for the two years were $1.1 million and $1.0 million respectively.

Retail trade, the largest group of employers in the county, reported a March 1965 total of 429 employees and a three-month payroll of $352,000. Wholesalers, the county's second largest group of employers, had a total of 257 employees and $207,000 in quarterly payrolls.

Parmer County ranked 140th among the 254 counties.

Mrs. McMillian Reports ---

Trip To Spain, Morocco, Portugal

EDITOR'S NOTE -- The following report on a trip to Spain, Morocco and Portugal was written by Mrs. Joe McMillian, the former Nickie Woelfel, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Woelfel. The McMillians are stationed in France with the U. S. Army. This is the second report of a trip by the McMillians. The first was published in July and told of their trip to the Scandinavian countries. --DM

Sunday, October 2, 1966
This morning we didn't get up until about 8:30, then we had breakfast of rolls and coffee (orange juice for Joe), in the hotel dining room.

Our first visit was to the Rastro--the famous Sunday flea market of Madrid. We spent a couple of hours walking through it. Much of the market is the selling of antiques and second-hand merchandise. We were fascinated by the range of items for sale--everything from used auto parts to canaries! Our only purchase was a set of hand-carved wooden spoons. They are about 3 feet long, and a typical purchase for Spanish souvenirs.

From the Rastro we went to the Prado, Spain's national art museum. We enjoyed looking around there. Many great works are on display there including some by Goya, Valezquez, Rubens, Greco, Van Dyck, and many others from the Spanish, Italian, French and Dutch schools.

This afternoon we went to a bullfight at the Plaza de Toros. Before leaving our hotel room, we took time out to read some information on the art of bullfighting, and this was most helpful to us. As we watched the bullfight we knew more about the different phases of the spectacle and also what actions indicated skill on the part of the Matador. The spectators at a bullfight are certainly interesting to watch. They make it known when they are happy or unhappy with the turn of events with an "ole" (hooray) or "boo". On one occasion they

Hartzog, O'Brien Marriage Vows Read In Methodist Church Thursday

Before the altar partially encircled with candelabra, white poinsettias adorned with red bows and evergreen entwined with red ribbon, Miss Dixi Jean Hartzog and Pat Douglas O'Brien exchanged marriage vows at 7 p.m. Thursday in the First Methodist Church in Bovina.

Rev. Melvin Sudderth, uncle of the bride of the First Methodist Church in Greeley, Colo., read the double ring ceremony. The marriage vows were the first solemnized in the new Methodist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hartzog of Farwell, and Mr. and Mrs. Connie O'Brien of Stratford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white delustered satin and Chantilly lace designed with an A-line silhouette. The sleeveless satin gown's empire bodice was accented with a band of lace and appliqued pearls. A cathedral train swept from the long-sleeved removable lace coat with jeweled stand-up collar. The bride's shoulder-length veil of imported silk illusion fell from a bandeau of lace and pearls.

She carried a bouquet of stephanotis garlands centered with a white orchid atop a lace-covered white Bible. Mrs. J. B. Sudderth of Farwell, aunt of the bride, played traditional organ selections and accompanied the soloist, Miss Donna Sudderth of Greeley, Colo., cousin of the bride.

Maid of honor was Miss Jane Steadman of Trent, Tex., and bridesmaids were Miss Pam Parkman of Alexandria, Va., and Miss Helen Knott of Fredericksburg, Tex. They wore floor length jacket dresses of currant red peau de sole fashioned with controlled bell skirts, scoop necklines and natural waistlines. The back buttoned jackets of currant red re-embroidered Alencon lace featured elbow-length sleeves and bateau necklines. Their matching peau wedding-ring headpieces held circular veils. They carried colonial red roses adorned with silver backing.

Serving as best man was J. D. Hance, Jr. of Watrous, N.M. Groomsmen were Don Mack Smith of Sulphur Springs, Tex., and Tommy Isbell of Paducah, Tex. Mike Jones and Don Gibson of Welch, Tex. served as ushers.

Candles were lighted by Roy Hartzog, brother of the bride, and Doug Isaacs, cousin of the bridegroom. Charlie Strawn, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer and Miss Janie Clements, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her floor-length dress was identical to that of the attendants.

Following the ceremony reception was held in Fellowship Hall.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Bovina High School and are senior students at Texas Technological College in Lubbock. After Jan. 1 they will be at home at 229 Indiana, Apartment 205 D, Lubbock.

Rhodes Host Yule Party

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rhodes were hosts to the young adults of the Church of Christ at their home last week for a Christmas party.

Sandwiches, chips, dips, fruit cake and home made candy were served to about 30 people.

The group played "Santa's Mixer" and high prizes were awarded to Mrs. Marlin Ferguson and Mrs. Robert Read.

ladies' purses for gifts, but never did find any nice styles.

After our shopping, we picked up our luggage at the hotel; (they let us leave it there after we had checked out of our room at 12 p.m.). We took a taxi to the Antocha station and boarded our train for Morocco.

We are doing all our traveling 1st Class now, so our compartment is comfortable, though not luxurious. We are with an older Spanish couple and a Spanish lady who is married to an American civilian. She speaks English fairly well. Her husband is now in Siagon where he is construction superintendent for a new school for the American children there. She told us that there are about 700 civilian families in Siagon and 60 children of school age. The government does not recommend nor support the civilian workers taking their families to Siagon, but of course, there is no way to prevent it. The lady plans to go there soon to be with her husband. They have 8 children. She has the high-school-aged ones in a boarding school in Madrid and the others she will leave with her mother.

Joe speaks and understands Spanish well enough to get a lot of railroad information from the Spanish man. He is an office employee with the government-owned Spanish railroad. They talked for quite a while, looking at the map, and having a good time.

It is about 10:30 and we all are yawning, so we will pull our seats down so that they are almost like beds and we shall probably be asleep soon. Good-night.

Film Set At Church

Oklahoma Lane Baptist Church invites everyone at 10:30 p.m. Saturday, New Year's Eve, to attend a special program at the church, according to Mrs. John Vaughan.

"Souls In Conflict," a film of Billy Graham's will be shown as a highlight for New Year's Eve.

Dinner Held At Hartzogs

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hartzog were hosts for a get-together and Christmas dinner in their home.

Attending were Mrs. Lee Sudderth, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sikes and grandchildren, Jackie and Lee of Clovis, Mrs. John Underwood and Jance of Willow, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Sudderth of Conchas Dam, N.M., Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sudderth and family of Dumas;

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sudderth and family of Farwell, Mr. and Mrs. Don Sudderth and family, Mr. and Mrs. Billie Sudderth, John West of Farwell, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Estlock of Hedley and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Clements and family.

CONNIE VAUGHN

WT Student In Musical

Connie Vaughn, freshman student at West Texas State University, and graduate of Bovina High School, has been appearing in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," a children's musical being presented by the Branding Iron Theatre at the university.

Connie portrays two roles in the production, Christabel and Short Tail.

She is one of six freshmen in the play, chosen by Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics fraternity.

It has been presented twice at the Amarillo Little Theatre and at several elementary schools of the area.

Breakfast Served Here

Faculty members of Bovina Schools were served a Christmas breakfast Thursday morning of last week in the home-making cottage by Otis Spears, superintendent, Tom Templeton and Jake Jacobs, principals.

Teachers exchanged "fun" gifts and presented Spears with an attache case, Templeton with a golf bag and Jacobs with a blizzard suit.

Bacon, eggs and biscuits were served the group.

Of Interest To THE WOMEN

"SPACE TRAVELS" -- That was the title of the fifth grade play presented to Bovina Elementary School Wednesday of last week by a cast of about 75 students under direction of teachers Jay Boothe, Mrs. Bob Kidd, Earle Hise and Joe Wayne Harper. Hise wrote the music for the production while the play was written by Nancy Hutto and Margaret Minter, fifth grade students. Shown are creatures from outer space, spacemen, complete with ray guns, and at right the Ranger II space ship from the U.S.A.

Scoopin' Around

By Pat Jacobs

It happened, didn't it? -- the thing so many have shuddered at the thought of -- a train wreck and mangled bodies?

This has been particularly frightening to this new-comer, who isn't used to these fast-moving non-stop jobs -- especially when one hears the long, loud whistle at night when our teen-agers are driving around.

You think it's gory to talk about mangled bodies? I agree.

It's also gory to see, to have to report -- just as many realities are. Fact is, it's probably pretty gory to the families left behind, including three small children of a 28 year old man -- and just before Christmas, too.

Next time, who will it be? It may not be just names from a distant town -- it could be a car load of teenagers excitedly returning home from a party, or playing the radio so loudly that a train whistle can't be heard -- certainly not single bells.

It could be the elderly who sometimes drive so cautiously they endanger themselves on the average thoroughfare -- or it could be you or me, who do make mistakes occasionally ourselves, even though we hate to admit it.

Here's a New Year's resolution all of Bovina should adopt together -- do something about it. Best solution, but also most costly, would be either overpasses or underpasses. Next best would be arms -- and for the life of all of us, this writer can't see why they wouldn't help -- even though some drivers are nuts enough to go around them and cross the tracks, anyway.

Since the year "one" people have had the same problems. Here's a 19th century remedy guaranteed to cure baldness: Rub the head morning and evening with onions till it is red, and afterwards rub it with honey. ---Swiped.

Frank Hastings brought in a copy of "A History of Deaf Smith County" by Bessie Patterson, which proves to be most interesting reading. This document traces the county's emergence from Bexar Territory to 1964, including the years Parmer County was a part of Deaf Smith.

"booed" and waved white handkerchiefs and yelled something we couldn't understand. We finally learned that the crowd thought that particular bull was too young for the fight. The Matadors in the bullfights were all fairly young, but we thought they did well. The older and more experienced Matadors come to Madrid earlier in the season. The bullfight season is from the first of May through October.

Before the bullfight we had gone to the Atocha train station to buy tickets and make reservations for our trip to Morocco tomorrow night. We were discouraged to find at least 100 people waiting in line at the ticket window. The majority of the people in this line were Arabs and Africans. We waited in line a few minutes but it moved very slowly. We knew that we would be late for the bullfight if we tried to wait it out to the front of the line. So we decided to go on to the bullfight and try again later to get our tickets.

After the bullfight we took the Metro (underground subway) back to Atocha station for our tickets. The line was not very long this time, so we waited only about 15 minutes at the ticket window. Joe told the ticket agent we wanted to make reservations and buy tickets for the train tomorrow. The man replied, "Not possible; today's reservations today; tomorrow's reservations tomorrow!" So that was that! We came back to our hotel, ate "homemade" peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, took a cold bath and went to bed about 11:30 p.m.

Monday, October 3, 1966

We got up about 8 this morning and had breakfast at the hotel. The first thing on our agenda was to buy tickets for our trip to Morocco. We found out from the desk clerk at our hotel that there is a ticket agency downtown for Spanish railway tickets. So we walked down to the agency (8 or 10 blocks from here), and we were finally successful in getting our train tickets. We also took a few pictures of the city and did some window-shopping. Then we walked back to the hotel and checked out of our room. We took a taxi to another railway ticket agency and made reservations and bought tickets for our trip to Lisbon, Portugal, on the 8th of October.

We had been hoping to get out to Terrejon Air Force Base, about 15 miles out of Madrid, and we heard that there is a bus which goes out there every two hours or so from Madrid. So, from the second ticket agency, we took another taxi to the Balboa Hotel where the bus stops. We got on the bus about 12:30 p.m., and it left at 1 p.m.

When we got to Terrejon AFB, Joe mailed two rolls of the group. Turkey was provided by Mrs. Leake and Mrs. A. M. Wilson, while members brought the salads.

Attending were Worthy Advisor Camille Hobbs of Farwell, Brenda Dilger, Teresa Page, Sheryl Lane, Myrna Ritchie, Vickie Kunselman, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Spears, Mrs. Leake and Mrs. Wilson.

slides to Kodak in the U. S. to be developed. Then we ate hot-dogs at the snack bar for lunch. We spent a little time looking around the PX and found it to be similar to all the other Army and Air Force Post Exchanges we have visited in Europe. Joe bought a small tripod that he could carry in his camera bag; and I bought a plaid-wool-pleated skirt to wear with a sweater I received for Christmas last year.

Back in Madrid a little later, we went to a couple of camera stores trying to find out what is wrong with Joe's camera. The first day on the train he started to cock it to take a picture and found that it would not cock. He has worked with it, but can't find anything to adjust himself. At both camera stores they said they needed at least two days to even look at it, but since we are leaving tonight, Joe couldn't leave it to be repaired. He will have to mail it to the U. S. when we get back to France. We are certainly glad that we are a "two-camera family" about now. He will be able to use my camera for our pictures.

Late this afternoon we did some shopping downtown. It was raining, and the stores were very, very crowded. At the Sepus Department Store we bought a Spanish record featuring bullfight, flamenco, and other types of Spanish music. Joe bought a "muchly" -- needed new bag for his camera and equipment. At the Galerias Preciados, a very nice department store near our hotel, we bought another Spanish souvenir: some swords which hang across a wooden plaque. All day I looked for

The Rest Giver

Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest! Matthew 11:28

These are wonderful words. They are some of the most comforting and best-loved words in the whole Bible. We cannot improve upon them. But we must learn some of the lessons contained in them. All of us have burdens, trials. The word "labor" expresses great effort and toil. This is sooner or later the lot of every man. We all know how wearying our daily work is. We all know how monotonous our everyday tasks may become. We are like squirrels in a cage. We put forth immense muscular or mental efforts for nothing. Therefore when Christ says: "Come unto Me, all ye that labor," He is speaking to every one of us about something with which we are all acquainted.

Now look at the word "laden." Not only do men have to work, they also have to bear. How comforting to hear Christ say: "Come unto Me, all ye that are heavy laden." But the words "labor" and "heavy laden" go a great deal deeper than that. Men may labor and toil with all their might to do what is right, and yet in spite of all their efforts there is still a burden of sin to bear. So Christ says: "Cease all your efforts. Carry that burden of failure and sin no longer. Transfer it to My shoulders! Then forgiveness and peace shall fill your heart!"

Finals in both divisions will be played Friday night.

Eight teams are entered in the boys division, Friona, Springlake, Bovina, Muleshoe, Floydada, Olton, Farwell and Lazbuddie.

Nine teams will see action in the girls tournament. These include all of the above except Springlake, and in addition, Dimmitt and Adrian are entered.

Trophies will be awarded in the two divisions of the holiday tournament.

Washday Fiends

Each washday, more than 80% of America's women march bravely off to do battle with one of the trickiest of laundry chores — starching. These unsung heroines pit all their skill and cunning against washday fiends who try to sabotage the boiled or spray starching job.

Like Stuffed Shirt Sam, for example, Sam's a double-offender who scratches your husband's neck while holding him in a vise-like grip. Lurking in overstarched items, Sam surprises victims before they can even yell "Ouch!"

At Home In Parmer County

Happy New Year! Christmas has come and gone. In the minds of some this could be a refrain that keeps popping up.

—'Tis the month after Christmas, and all through the house—

There's not a sign left of the big day -- except bills to be paid."

If the post-holiday season finds your family in financial doldrums, why not start the New Year right -- with a family spending plan that will help you end the next year money ahead, instead of bills behind.

To help you get started on your family spending plan we have scheduled a Management School beginning January 10th at 1:30 p.m. in the Hub Community Center. There will be six of these meetings. At these meetings we will discuss values and goals, resources, planning for spending, family business centers, files, records, taxes, estate planning, and other topics that are a part of Management.

There is no charge for these meetings, you and your friends are welcome.

Whoever manages the money, you are cordially invited to attend.

Nazareth Game Set For Tuesday

After two more regularly scheduled basketball games for the Bovina varsity teams, district competition is set to get underway Jan. 10 with Sudan coming to Bovina.

This will be the first year Bovina basketball teams have played in Class A competition. On Tuesday night Bovina "A" boys and girls go to Nazareth for games there while Lazbuddie comes to Bovina Jan. 6 for three games, both varsity teams playing as well as "B" girls.

All tournaments will have been played when the Farwell event ends this week end for varsity teams, although Junior High teams have two more scheduled, including the district tournament in Sudan in February.

MANAGEMENT SCHOOL REMINDER --

Make plans over the holidays to attend the six-meeting Management School to begin January 10th. All Parmer County residents are encouraged to attend free of charge.

Programs of the school can be found at any of the local lending agencies. Registration forms are also available at the lending agencies to complete and return to the county agent's office in Farwell.

The school will be held at the Hub Community Center from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. each Tuesday for six weeks.

SMALL GRAIN INSECT SURVEY --

During the period of November 21 to November 30 a small grain pest survey was made in 27 Panhandle Counties.

Greenbugs were found in Parmer County. Light populations of the apple grain and crown aphid were found but in no case was significant aphid damage noted.

COUNTY JUNIOR LIVESTOCK SHOW SET --

The Parmer County Junior Livestock Show has been set for Feb. 16-18 at Friona. Judges are being contacted to judge and final plans are progressing. "Closing time," as it refers to 1966 farm records, is at hand. This means totaling the balance sheets on farm and home enterprises and taking a look at what happened during the year.

A close look should point up problems that must be met in planning for 1967 and the years ahead. Records often reflect whether management changes are needed and also whether an enterprise should be dropped or expanded.

Furthermore, a complete set of records is a must for proper income tax reporting. Regularly kept records can save dollars at tax paying time, for deductible expenses are often overlooked, especially if paid in cash.

Complete farm records are an asset when money must be borrowed for production and operating expenses. Knowing what the business is doing makes a strong talking point in effecting credit arrangements. Farm families need facts on which to base their decisions and none are more reliable than those obtained from well-kept records.

In Basketball Play--

Cotton Center Scores Victory

Cotton Center won two basketball games Tuesday night of last week when the Bovina teams travelled to that school. Mustangs met a 57-41 defeat and the Fillies bowed to Cotton Center 47-41.

The winning varsity boys held an 11-5 first quarter lead and maintained a 24-13 halftime margin. Third period score was 39-28.

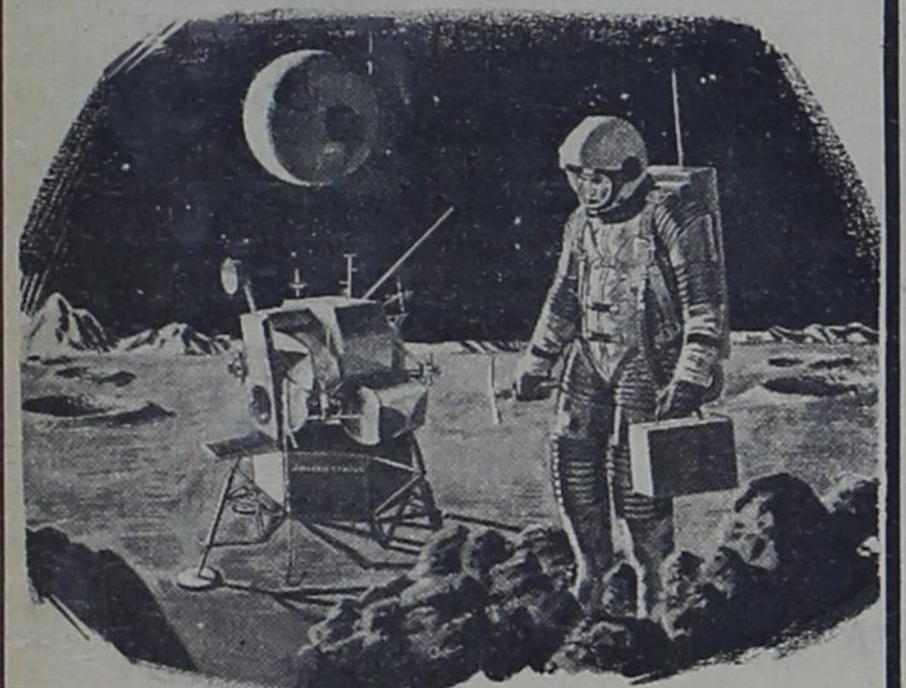

Scoring for the losing Mustangs were Randy Jones with 23, Lynn Murphy six, Bobby Redden four, Alfred Stanberry three, Carl Harris and Galen Hromas two each and Wayne Davies one.

The host girls took revenge on the Fillies, who won their first encounter with Cotton Center, by taking an early first quarter lead of 17-10, holding on to the game each quarter 29-20, 37-27 before winning 47-41.

Judy Minyen sank 22 points while Carol Kirkpatrick dropped in 14 and LaNelle Christian five. Diane Stowers played at forward and seeing action as guards were Linda Rejino, Margaret Venable, Candy Fleming and Janice Boothe.

Moring made 24 points for the winners.
