Are you going to live longer than your money?

Maybe you're having a pretty good life now. Your credit is good, you've got a few nice clothes and a good dependable car. And if you're lucky, maybe you own your own home. But that's because you're working. What happens when you retire? You can't live on memories. It's still going to take money. Lots of money. Money that you should be saving now.

And one of the easiest ways to start putting away a few dollars for those retirement years is by joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

That way every time you earn a little money for today, you save a little for tomorrow.

Then when the time finally comes to retire, you'll have something put away to retire to.

Four $1 bonds pay $4 interest annually for a period of 3 years. If you hold the bonds for 5 years, you are entitled to 5% interest. If you hold them for 10 years, you are entitled to 6% interest. Interest is not added to the principal until maturity.

There's a future in it for someone.

Your son's education for instance. But by the time he's ready for college his education may well cost a small fortune. The kind you just don't have lying around under a bed. That's just the reason why your government has a great thing going. A U.S. Savings Bond. In themselves they're not a quick buck. They won't make you that fortune overnight. But in the long run they do pay off. Damn well at that. And at a guaranteed rate. Starting a savings plan is easy. You can join a Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Or get into a Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. Then watch someone's future grow. Like your son's.

Warm Hearts Code Hands OR WHY MORSE was all KEYED UP.

In 1832, Sam Morse knew he had a great idea at his fingertips. Sending messages by wire.

But he had to invest twelve years of hard work before he could tap success.

When he did, the results were positively electrifying. The future of the telegraph (and Sam Morse) was assured.

Your future could be assured, too, if you get this message: Invest in United States Savings Bonds.

Sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and your earnings will automatically buy Bonds.

And your Bonds will earn interest.

And in twelve years, your results could be even more electrifying than Sam's.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds. They're something to get keyed up about.

Series E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.
