West Texas Flying Club Visits

The skies were dotted with every kind of airplane from single engine Cessna 172's, Beechcraft Bonanzas, to twin engine Cessna 310's as the West Texas Flyers, a flying club headquartered in Midland, Texas paid a planned visit to our area with a "Fly In." The hangar at Fort Clark was completely filled to capacity with some planes having to sit outside.

James and Terri Day met the planes and transported the pilots and their passengers to their quarters which had been earlier reserved. All of the visitors spent the night on the Fort with some of them staying in the motel and others in local condos.

James Day, a local resident currently on the coaching staff, and his wife Terri, daughter of Clinton and Dixie Brown attended to most of the details prior to the flying visitors arrival.

After everyone was comfortably settled in to their quarters they met at the barbeque area on Fort Clark where Pat and Connie Day, mother and father of James, prepared and cooked hamburgers and weiners for the rest of the "gang."

Following their noon meal the group was shuttled out to Happy Shahan's Alamo Village where they were entertained with good music and lots of western excitement. After returning to Fort Clark a large portion of the men convened on the golf course for eighteen holes of golf while their "lady folks" took advantage of the swimming pool and it's cool spring water. After the golf game and the swimming party finished up the group returned to their rooms and freshened up for the evening activities.

Reservations for the Flyers had been made earlier on the upper floor at Las Moras Inn where they were treated to the Glory Road Buffet. Everyone was impressed with the hospitality of the Inn and the quality of the delicious food that was served. Following their dinner our visitors turned out en masse to the amphitheater where they were treated to an outstanding performance of "The Glory Road."

Early Sunday morning, this very gracious group of flying enthusiasts were seen inspecting their aircraft and loading their families and luggage as they prepared for their trip home. Many of them were overheard commenting on the hospitality, the accommodations, the food, the entertainment, and the beauty of Fort Clark. As each plane taxied around, preparing for takeoff, their occupants threw a kiss and waved goodbye, promising to return for another visit real soon.

Two Car Collision One Injured

A two car collision involving a 1985 Lincoln and a 1979 Chevrolet flatbed truck pulling a trailer and hauling a back-hoe occurred at the corner of west Spring and Ross this past Friday at 5:05 P.M. The driver of the car, Richard Bieszcak, was taken to the Val Verde Memorial hospital in Del Rio by the Kinney County Ambulance Service suffering from cuts and lacerations of the head. Frank Guajardo, the driver of the truck, was not injured and required no medical attention.

According to Guajardo he was eastbound on Spring when an unidentified van pulled out in front of him. He applied his brakes causing the truck to swerve across the center stripe and into the westbound lane, hitting the Lincoln nearly head-on. Both vehicles sustained major damage and had to be hauled off by a wrecker.

Guajardo is employed by Travis Wilson, local contractor from Brackettville. Bieszcak, who resides on Fort Clark, is sales manager for RLT Marketing, Inc., a local real estate company owned and operated by Larry Tucker.

Brackettville Chief of Police, John Fritter, investigated the accident.

Sheriff's Corner

By Sheriff Norman H. Hooten

Domingo Montoya, 38, of Brackettville, has been formally charged with Burglary of a Habitation and Unauthorized Use of a Vehicle after his arrest by U.S. Customs agents at the Port of Entry in Del Rio Saturday morning, June 30th.

At the time of his arrest Montoya was driving a vehicle reported stolen out of Brackettville. The victim, Esteban M. Pena, 79, of Brackettville, had reported the theft of his 1975 Ford after being awakened shortly after midnight by a friend who reported seeing someone push Pena's car out of the driveway, start it, and drive away. Later that morning Pena discovered that someone had entered his home while he was sleeping and took $35.00 in cash from his wallet, which was in his pants lying on the floor next to his bed. Montoya is a prime suspect in that crime also.

At the time of this writing, Montoya, who is on parole for a previous burglary conviction, remains in jail in lieu of bonds totalling $15,000.00 set by Justice of the Peace Alvin Hall sitting as magistrate. The evidence against Montoya will be presented at the next meeting of the Kinney County Grand Jury on July 18th.

There has been considerable confusion on the part of consumers who buy liability insurance in regards to the question of whether their liability covers them if they are driving a borrowed or rented vehicle. The answer is yes. The State Board of Insurance issued an official statement to eliminate the confusion by citizens, law enforcement officers, and judges over the matter. Many people with valid coverage have been ticketed and convicted for driving without insurance while operating borrowed vehicles.

"A personal automobile policy providing the minimum amount of liability insurance required by law is equally valid whether the policyholder is driving his or her own car or one borrowed from someone else," said Dan Collins, director of the State Board's Automobile and Miscellaneous Lines Division.

Auto liability insurance pays for injuries and property damage arising from accidents for which the named insured is legally responsible. In other words, liability insurance covers the actions of the operator, not just the vehicle owned by an operator.

State law requires all motor vehicles to be covered by liability insurance that will pay up to $20,000 per person, up to $40,000 per accident for injuries, and $15,000 for property damage.

The problems that caused the Board to clarify the situation arose when drivers throughout the State presented their personal auto policy or proof of insurance card while driving a vehicle other than the one identified on their insurance papers.

In some instances, police officers and judges have determined that this was insufficient as proof that the borrowed vehicle was covered.

The standard Texas Personal Auto Policy explicitly states that the insured is covered whenever he or she has an accident--without limiting coverage to the particular vehicles owned by the policy holder.

There are, of course, certain exceptions to this rule, including cases involving intentional injuries or property damage, use of a vehicle without permission and use of a non-owned vehicle that is furnished for the policyholder's use on a regular basis (such as my county-owned patrol car furnished for my use on a regular basis).

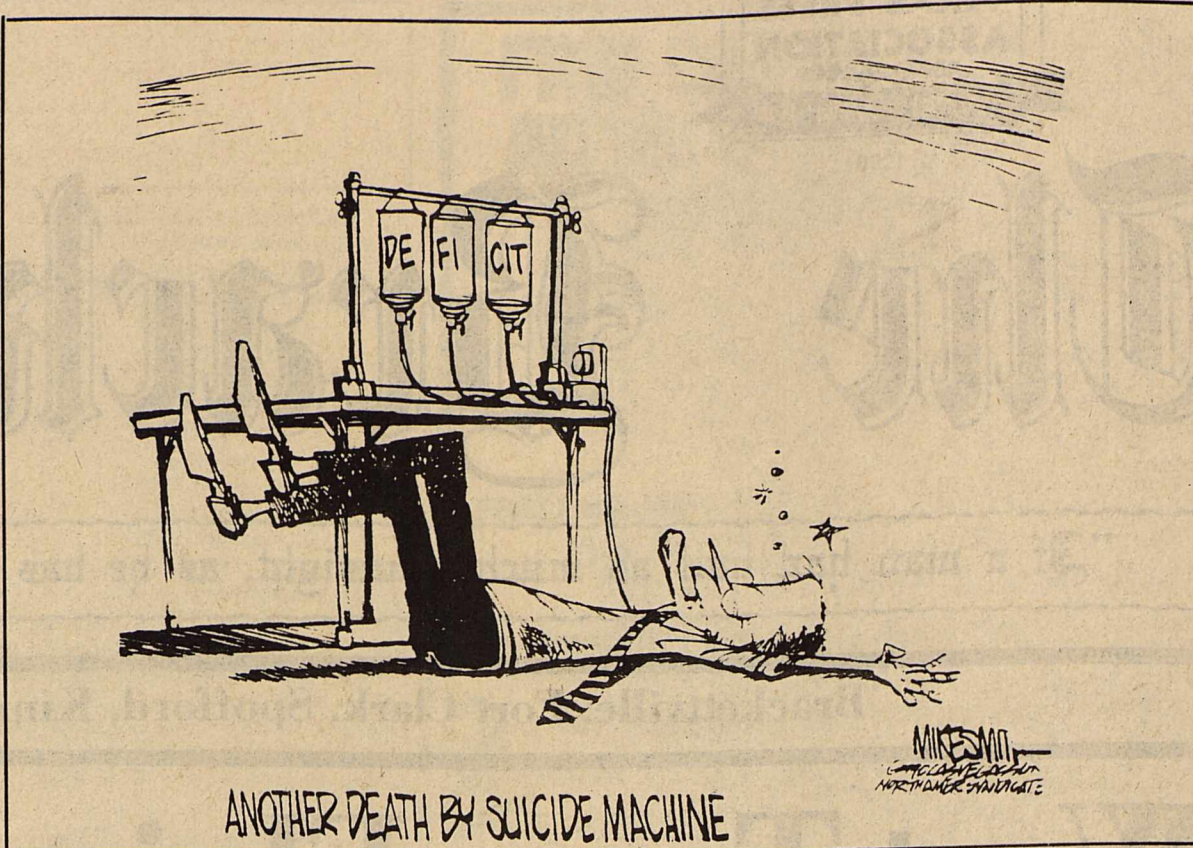

The Texas Personal Auto Policy also covers accidents involving the policyholder's own vehicle when driven by another party. The mandatory insurance law does not require that documentation presented as evidence of financial responsibility include identification of particular vehicles, however, if a policyholder owns more than one vehicle then insurance coverage for each vehicle is necessary (in other words, you can't purchase one policy naming one vehicle and expect to have all your other vehicles covered).

The law says evidence of financial responsibility may be either the policy itself, a photocopy of the policy, an insurance binder or a written instrument issued by an insurer. The statute requires that a proof-of-insurance document provide ONLY the following information: name of the insurer, name of the policyholder, the policy number, the policy period and either the policy limits or a statement that the coverage meets the minimum requirements of Texas law.

I hope this information clears up any questions or concerns that may exist regarding insurance coverage or proof-of-insurance requirements. Should any of you desire more information regarding insurance in Texas you may contact the State Board of Insurance, 1110 San Jacinto, Austin, Texas 78701-1998.

Drive safely out there, and remember to use the same good manners in your driving that you expect from others!

THAT'S ALL!

Between Us

By Joe Townsend

It's entrancing and fascinating to watch nature at work. All through the winter there were two Harris hawks in my pasture. I saw them almost daily. Many hawks came and left but these two remained. Early in the spring they started building a nest. They chose a relatively tall tree somewhat set apart from other trees. It was a matter of a few weeks until the nest was finished.

Looking at the nest through binoculars it was a wonder to behold. It was about four feet across and two and a half feet deep. It was made entirely of sticks. How they shaped them into a nest only a hawk would know. It was deep enough that the mother hawk could sit in the nest and you could barely see her head, if ever.

The male could be seen standing guard in a nearby tree. After time passed the father was most often seen, but the mother was always evident.

After a while I could see two heads barely showing. The mother was always nearby. The birds gradually grew until one day they climbed up on the edge of the nest looking like anything but Harris hawks. They continued to grow until one day they roosted on the side of the nest and were large enough you could tell they were truly Harris hawks. Mother watched from her perch high on a nearby tree.

The time came when the young birds were some distance from the nest when they saw my pick-up approaching and flew in haste back to the nest. A few days later I saw the youngsters a good long ways from the nest while the mother held to her perch watching. A few days later I saw the pair a long ways from the nest and the mother was no longer in evidence. I haven't seen them for several days. They may have moved on or may be simply somewhere in the pasture.

The nest is still there looking deserted and barren. When I think of the past weeks of watching the hawks morning and evening some of the romance of the pasture is gone. The nest is evidence of new life in this world and who knows. Maybe the two young hawks may be a pair and may give me hours of enjoyment watching them build a nest and rear their young next year. There's a world of enjoyment all around us if we but pause and look at the wonders God has spread about us in nature.

P.S. One day last week an illegal alien had what was apparently a heat stroke. It was a life threatening situation (rumor has it the man has died). For about an hour attempts were made to get an ambulance. The "gate" could get no response and the man could not be transported by ambulance. Many would like to know; when taxpayers pay the high cost of a director and several drivers why someone cannot be found to respond to a need. Must people be careful to need an ambulance at the convenience of the staff? When Commissioners court was persuaded to do away with a volunteer ambulance crew and pay exorbitantly under the present system they should demand that the ambulance is available with a driver any time it is needed especially in the middle of the day when this call came.

The Bible Says

By JOE TOWNSEND

"Whether you eat or drink or whatever you do, do all to the glory of God." All the controversy over what is right and wrong can find answers under the umbrella of this thought. God is not an arrogant tyrant demanding to be treated with unseemly adoration. God knows that anything that is done for His glory is good for the doer. God never demands we do anything that is not for our good. When He sets forth what we should do, that is helpful to us. It is not good for us because God says it; God says for us to do it because it is good. Don't argue or wonder whether any action is right or wrong." Whether you eat or drink or whatever you do, do all to the Glory of God."

Grandfather Chief was maker of all things, such as the two legged ones as well as the four legged ones, the ones with wings and fins and even the ones with no legs at all. It was said by the story teller that the worm was created with two little sets of feet but one day, two clans came to the big camp to challenge each other to see how far they could go. Well, it was said by the story teller that the green worm chief told the brown worm chief we are the leaders of our clans, so let us be the ones to set the goal pole or draw a line. So the line was marked and it was about one whole foot away from the starting line. But to a worm with little bitty feet it was as far as one hundred feet away. So, said the story teller, the race was started. The two strongest worms were the ones selected to race. They ran, they jumped, they even rolled, but by the time they got to the goal pole their little feet were worn out. That is the reason the worm has no feet and has to crawl. One worm started to grow hair and the hair started to turn white and that is the reason some worms have hair. The other worms started to get old, too, and started to get wrinkles so that is the reason worms are wrinkly. They grew old because it took them so long to finish the race.

Golf News

By Les Roper

Golf courses throughout Texas continue to suffer as the extended drought accompanied by days of heat reaching the century mark wreak havoc on players and playing conditions. Golf greens and fairways have always been dependent on irrigation and watering systems for survival but to be denied a good soaking rain now and then along with the 100 plus degree weather is just too much. These conditions saddle a golf course maintenance superintendent with a monumental task that has no solution.

Charlie Smith, who is an expert in the art of watering greens and fairways at Fort Clark, is putting in long hours as he attempts to save what little green grass that has survived the wrath of "Old Sol". He has reached deep down into Pandora's Box looking for a trick that might work. He has watered the greens from noon until the wee hours in the morning, trying to establish a time when the sprinklers do the most good, but so far he is just breaking even. Charlie certainly cannot be held accountable for this terrible weather and should receive an A+ for his efforts as he continues to do battle with these extreme drought conditions. The bottom line is, members...don't forget to pat old Charlie on the back and praise him for his efforts. A kind word and a friendly smile is the best therapy a fellow can receive when he is in a "no win" situation.

There was once a golf pro who asked for a raise and the committee promised to pay him what he was worth. The pro turned it down. He said, "Heck, I'm making more than that now."

Ronnie Gibbs was heard telling someone the other day that he got a lump in his throat each time he asked for a raise. It's probably because Bizzell immediately starts strangling him.

The P.B.G.A. sponsored a best ball 2 man tournament with full handicap this past Wednesday. Results and details were unavailable.

One of the largest turn outs in the existence of the Couple's Scramble was enjoyed this past Thursday as 48 hearty players signed up. Robbie and Ruth Robinson, host and hostess for the fun day, turned in another stellar job of organizing and pairing the players in equal teams of four each.

After all of the scores had been posted the winners were declared and awarded the first place trophies. The winner of the day was ... yep, you guessed it ... same song, zillionth verse ... Ralph Viestenz and his team of hearty hackers. Rounding out the Viestenz team was Ralph's wife, Hilda, and Dwite and Luella Gilliland, a recently married couple who are still enjoying an extended honeymoon. These winners posted a net score of 39.50. Playing a super round of golf was the team of Tom McNew, Betty Inman, T.C. McNew, and Lynn McNew as they turned in a better gross score than the winning team but their handicap moved them 1/2 point out of the lead for a net 39.75. Posting a net score of 41 and hauling down third place honors was E.W. and Louise Williamson, and Bob and Betty Barnett.

Sondra Meil's army of golfers signed up before 8:00 A.M. Monday morning assuring themselves of a tee time. Of course, that was not the primary reason for the early sign up time but taking advantage of the cooler playing conditions was the real reason. Fifteen golfers checked in and had their usual good time as they joked and bantered back and fourth with each other. Sondra let the men play a "winner take all" game that day and it was met with the approval of all of the participants. Playing good enough to completely overwhelm the opposition was the team of Dick Hirsch, Dave Blair, and Frank (General W.W. Belknap) Eckenroth. It was reported that Dick Hirsch hired a Brinks truck to haul his winnings home and he was following leisurely behind on his bicycle.

The golf course was covered with lucious ladies this past Tuesday morning as a big turnout signed up for play. The gals have all expressed their appreciation for giving them one day a week with no interference from the men. Shooting the best score of the day with a gross 87 was Mary Stephenson. Low net honors went to Betty Inman with a score of 23 followed by a tie for second and third between Vicki Nichols and Rosemary Lovell. A lovely laughing lady can bring more happiness and cheer to a golf course than all of the bull frogged voices of male golfers combined together. Hang tough, gals, 'cause you is all winners!!!

Sometimes nurses get a bum rap and are blamed for things they can't help. However, they do make decisive leaders. It comes from years of ripping bandages off hairy men.

There are some isolated cases of mean nurses. One who comes to mind in particular was in charge of the exercise room at a Cardiac Rehabilitation unit. She made those patients pedal their bicycles for the full 30 minutes. One old gentleman kept yelling and screaming and trying to dismount, but she was inflexible.

She made him pedal that bike no matter how much he yelled. Finally when the half hour was up, the problem was discovered. The seat had fallen off his bicycle. The nurse just shrugged it off and said, "At least it took his mind off his heart problem."

WORDS OF WISDOM: Success is a journey, not a destination. You have reached the pinnacle of success as soon as you become uninterested in money, compliments, or publicity.

THANK YOU
I would like to express a heart-felt THANK YOU to everyone who sent letters, cards, flowers, all the prayers and everyone who visited Sam during his trying time at the hospital. This kind and sincere support was deeply appreciated. He is home now and doing quite well.

Kacy Lynn Fairchild, age 12, played her fiddle at the 54th World Champion Fiddlers's Festival June 9 at the Davy Crockett Memorial Park in Crockett, Texas.

Kacy was accompanied by her Grandmother, Josephine Wallace, on the guitar. The two were broadcasted live on KIVY Radio Station as they played at the Festival.

Accompanying Kacy and Josephine to Crockett were Ward and Sandra Fairchild and Stacy from Camp Wood. Stacy was chosen from the crowd to draw names for the door prizes while at the festival.

Kacy and Josephine met a lot of new fiddlers and had a nice visit with the fiddlers they already knew. Every-one had a great time and heard a lot of good fiddling.

Home Town Supply has Moved

By JAMES O. GREER
The Home Town Supply Company, owned and operated by Pat and Chris O'Bryant has moved out of the old lumber yard building that stands across the street from the Merritt hotel. The O'Bryants have recently moved their store to the former T. and V. Hardware building next to Sweeten Grocery.

The O'Bryants invite you to come by and see their new store. This is the first time I can remember that there hasn't been a lumber yard on the corner that they moved from. In 1927, J.W. Richardson was manager of the Alamo Lumber Company. That year the main building in the plant burned to the ground. Soon after the plant burned, Marvin Sanderlin became manager in 1929, a job he held for many years. After Alamo Lumber Co. sold out, there have been a number of managers and owners, and the firm has been operated under several different names.

Cheerleaders' Camp

The Brackett High School Cheerleaders attended camp last week at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos.

Cheerleaders for 1990-91 are Shelly McDaniel (Lead), Wendy McDaniel, Dorothy Ward, Theresa Terrazas, Jennifer Shahan, Jessica Taylor, Danielle Tucker, and Yvette Rocha.

The girls along with their sponsor, Ms. Donna Lanier, left early Tuesday morning and returned home on Friday afternoon. The girls won the spirit stick every night at camp based on spirit, team-work, and will-power.

On Wednesday night, Shelly McDaniel went up for a toe touch, but fell and sprained her ankle. She spent the rest of camp sidelined on crutches. When asked about her fellow cheerleaders she said, "I'm really proud of them. Though they were inexperienced, we all pulled together and wanted to learn."

She also commented that they have many new and exciting ideas for the football games and pep-rallies next year.

Moses Hernandez, Nacho Lopez, George Rodriguez, Miguel Serrano, Jared Shahan, Beau Smallwood, and Demetrious Williams. Nacho Lopez will manage the team and will be assisted by coach Manny Pena.

The Kinney County All-Stars will clash with LaPryor on Tuesday.

Senior League All-Stars

The District 21 Senior League baseball tournament is approaching and Kinney County should be well represented this year.

Brackettville's All-Stars are managed by Gilbert Perez and coached by Greg Sharpe. Players include Jerry Cedillo, Lynn Floyd, Frank Gaujardo, Angel Jaso, Michael Munoz, J.J. Sandoval, Marty Schermerhorn, Rinaldo Serrano, Will Shahan, Doug Spring, Jesse Terrazas, and Ruben Terrazas.

Tom Bond Field in Uvalde is the sight for for all the action in the West Zone competition of the district 21 Senerial League tourney.

Brackettville will face Asherton on Saturday in their first game. Other first-round matchups include Crystal City vs. Hondo/D'Hanis, Bandera vs. LaPryor, and Uvalde vs. Carrizo Springs. The East Zone competition takes place in Pearsall.

Basketball Camp

Steve Clementz, Peter Perez, Tevin Senne, and Lesly Floyd attended basketball camp last week for four days at Schreiner University in Kerrville. They were involved in several competitions and worked a lot on their shooting abilities.

Out of the 85 athletes who attended the camp, three received the "hustle" award. Steve Clementz was one of the three.

Steve, along with Tevin and Peter made it to the semifinals in the three-on-three competition. Tevin and Lesley were members of the top team who won the five-on-five competition.

"It was a great experience," said Clementz. "I wish I had gone when I was younger. You learn a lot and make a lot of friends."

The final performance of "The Glory Road" has been given and this production sponsored by The Old Quarry Society for the Performing Arts at Fort Clark Spring's Amphitheatre is now history. This year's presentation of this most famous play will certainly be recorded as one of the best, if not the best, following stellar performances by so many local participants. T.C. McNew, playing the role of two different officers, Colonel Thompkins and Colonel Ranald S. Mackenzie; Warren Outlaw, who was magnificent in his role of Colonel George S. Patton; Wes Lance, who portrayed the villain, Silas Applegate; and Jewel Robinson, in her ear piercing screaming of Mrs. Fritter. The list goes on and on with not enough words in the dictionary to do justice to this wonderful group of dedicated performers.

The citizens of Brackettville and Fort Clark were so sincere in their efforts to make this endeavor successful and it was evident by the

by Charles King Cooper

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You'll need extra care now in financial matters. Heed the advice of a close friend. Partners feel especially inspired or creative. It's not the best time to push your interests. Innovative techniques work out on the job. Be protective of health and nerves.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You may feel somewhat introverted now. Vary your routine to get out of the doldrums. Sidestep unwise social involvements. Friends and family don't mix favorably. A relative would appreciate more attention. Why not go out together to a favorite spot?

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Creative activities go better than career interests now. A pushy manner will offend a higher-up. Agreements are subject to change. Meetings with advisers prove less than satisfactory. An unexpected encounter is likely. Use your decorative touch at home.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Impromptu purchases are likely. It will be difficult to finalize financial moves now. Creative types are especially imaginative. Intuition brings important insights. Closer relationships will require a give-and-take approach. Don't let inner resentments mount up.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Interruptions affect work efficiency. Friends are helpful now. Be willing to make new acquaintances. It is wise to safeguard health. Career interests conflict with leisure-time activities. A friend gives valuable information. Work from behind the scenes.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Seek a fresh opinion about a career matter. Domestic life requires patience. Avoid friction around dinner time. Compromise. Mixups in communications are likely. Be flexible. Avoid arguments on the job. Seek the advice of financial experts regarding investments.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A lot of time may be wasted before you reach a decision that will truly work. After dinner hours are best for communication. Negotiations about fees involve a certain amount of haggling. Get a second opinion about a legal situation, if necessary.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A child will respond to discipline. Stand up for your convictions. After some uncertainty, you'll feel more secure about a love interest. Little things could be troubling you. It's best to discuss these matters with a close friend. You'll find your fears are groundless.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A friend is wishy-washy now, but you'll reach an understanding. Don't waste your time with triflers. Be serious. Stick to your guns about a financial matter. In business, make certain that you're not underpaid. Feelings stabilize after dark.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) After hearing a variety of differing opinions, you'll find that you're your own best adviser. Friends afford mental stimulation. The answers may seem elusive, but keep plugging and you'll find solutions. A negative situation turns out to be a blessing in disguise.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Friends give good advice, but one of them may not want to join you at an upcoming social event. Still, all's well that ends well. After considering a variety of options, you'll come to the conclusion that hard work and self-discipline pave the way to success.

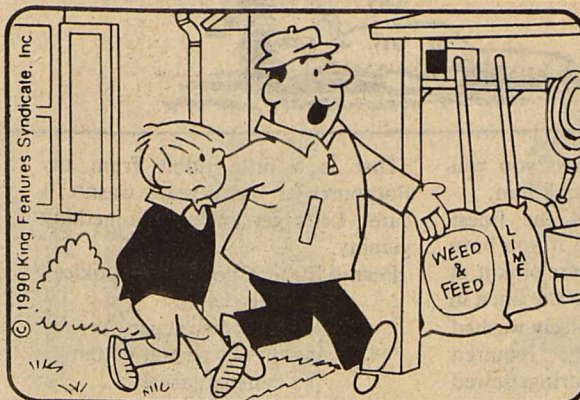

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Partners are mentally perceptive. You may be uncertain about how to deal with a child. Make sure your rules and regulations are clear. Attend to bookkeeping and accounting chores and cut down on expenditures. Invite an old friend to dinner. Patience is rewarding.

Grandma's Kitchen

By Grandma

Every once in awhile, it's kinda fun to just write something dumb and silly, heres a recipe I found that's just that. After we get through (cooking) with Husbands, we'll do one on wines.

Recipe for Cooking Husbands

A good many husbands are utterly spoiled by mismanagement. Some women go about it as if their husbands were bladders and blow them up. Others let them freeze by their carelessness and indifference. Some keep them in a stew by their irritating ways and words: their roast them. Some keep them in a pickle all their lives. It can not be supposed that any husband will be tender and good managed in this way, but they are really delicious when properly treated.

In selecting a husband you should not be guided by the silvery appearance, as if buying a mackerel, nor by the golden tint as if you wanted a salmon. Be sure to select him yourself as tastes differ. Do not go to market for him as the best are always brought to your door. It is far better to have none unless you will patiently learn how to cook him.

A preserving kettle of the finest porcelain is the best, but if you have nothing but an earthenware pipkin, it will do with care. See that the linen in which you wrap him is nicely washed and mended, with the required number of buttons and strings sewed on. Tie him in the kettle by a strong silk cord called "comfort", as the one called "duty", is apt to be weak.

Make a clear steady fire out of love, neatness and cheerfulness. Add a little sugar in the form of what confectioners call "kisses", but no vinegar or pepper on any account.

A little spice improves him, but it must be used with judgment. Do not stick any sharp instrument into him to see if he is becoming tender.

Stir him gently. You can not fail to know when he is done. If thus treated you will find him very relishable, agreeing nicely with you and the children, and he will keep as long as you want, unless you become careless and set him in too hot a place.

That is a little tidbit from my Potpourri of Yesteryear, wasn't it cute? Let's get back to something yummy.

Peanut Butter Choc. Chip Cookies

4 egg whites
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 1/4 cups chunky peanut butter
1/2 cup margarine
1/2 cup unsweetened orange juice
1 tea vanilla
2 tea baking soda
1 cup all-purpose flour

3 cups semi-sweet chocolate chips
Combine the egg whites, brown sugar, peanut butter, margarine, orange juice, and vanilla in a large bowl. In a separate bowl, combine the flour, oats, and oat bran, mix well. Add the dry ingredients to the wet ingredients. Add chocolate chips and stir well. Spoon onto cookie sheets and flatten by hand. Bake at 350 F. for 10 to 12 minutes. Cool slightly before removing from the cookie sheet. Makes four dozen cookies.

Apples don't have a season anymore, they're always around, and always delicious, no matter how we use them. Now let's try this recipe.

Old Fashioned Apple Cake

1 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3/4 cup oat bran
1 tea baking powder
1/2 cup rolled oats

Beyond The Horizon

By Dorothy Payne

Juan Nepomuceno Seguin was a Texas born Mexican who fought for Texas. Seguin's father, Erasmo had been a major of San Antonio in 1821 and was one of the first to greet Stephen Austin on his first trip to Texas. During the years of the Texas Revolution Erasmo Seguin used his influence to help the Americans.

In 1834, at the age of twenty-eight Juan Seguin was appointed political chief of the San Antonio District. He was a liberal and soon followed in his father's footsteps in helping the Americans. In 1835 when General Cos marched against the rebel Texans, Seguin recruited a force of Mexican ranchers and led them against Mexico. This action resulted in a victory at San Antonio and won him a commission as Captain of Cavalry in the regular Texas Army.

In the battle of the Alamo, Seguin, by a strange coincidence came out alive. When Travis asked for aid from the Texas commander at Gonzales, Seguin was chosen to deliver the message because he could speak Spanish and was familiar with the country's terrain. He was on his way back when on March 6th the Alamo fell.

After the battle Houston ordered Seguin to stay behind the retreating Army and settlers to see no one was left behind.

At the battle of San Jacinto, Seguin fought again for Texas Independence. He was promoted to Lieutenant Colonel and was ordered to set up a military government in San Antonio until civilian rule was completed.

His life seemed cut out for him when he was elected to the Senate of the new Republic in 1838 and was twice elected mayor of San Antonio.

When the American newcomers moved into San Antonio, politics forced him to flee to Mexico in 1842 for his very life. There, Santa Anna said he had two choices, either rot in jail for the rest of his life or join the army. He joined the army and fought in the battle when Santa Anna briefly held San Antonio again.

Because he chose the army, Santa Anna gave him the right to live in Mexico.

But he yearned to go home and in 1848 he was permitted to go back to Texas.

Endangered Species

ALPINE--About 60 people concerned about the future of desert bighorn sheep in Texas gathered to discuss what may be the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's most difficult wildlife restoration project.

Once numerous across the mountainous Trans-Pecos region of West Texas, desert bighorns fell victim to market hunting and disease by the turn of the century. A restoration program headquartered at the department's Sierra Diablo Wildlife Management Area near Van Horn has made strides, but the species' status remains in doubt.

The "Chairman's Roundtable" was hosted by Chuck Nash, chairman of the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Participants included landowners, sportsmen, department biologists and law enforcement personnel, and members of the Texas Bighorn Society. Also attending were Sen. Ken Armbrister of Victoria and Ray

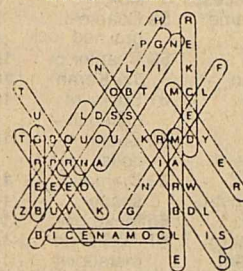

Lee, big game program director of the Arizona Wildlife Department.

Nash said the species' recovery may hinge on establishment of a long-range management plan. "Restoring these animals to self-sustaining populations will have to be a long-term project," Nash said, "and the response I've seen at this meeting indicates to me that the program is worth pursuing."

Nash stressed that landowner participation is probably the key element in restoring the wide-ranging sheep in West Texas. Landowners receiving sheep will be asked to protect the animals as much as possible from disease and predators, prevent possible contact with exotic animals, provide watering areas and conform to strict harvest regulations.

The chairman also thanked members of the Texas Bighorn Society, whose donations of labor and money made construction of bighorn brood pens at the Sierra Diablo possible.

Operation Game Thief

AUSTIN--Landowners can obtain durable "no trespassing" signs and support the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Operation Game Thief program at the same time by ordering official signs from the agency.

The 12-by 18-inch aluminum signs can be obtained by contacting any TPWD law enforcement field office or Austin headquarters. A $10 minimum tax-deductible contribution to the Game Thief fund is asked for each sign.

Officials said the signs identify the landowner as an Operation Game Thief contributor and also fulfill requirements of the state's criminal trespass statutes when posted on the landowner's property.

Along with the contribution, submit name, address, amount of contribution and number of signs requested.

To obtain the signs by mail, send check of money order payable to "Operation Game Thief Fund" to the TPWD, 4200, Smith School Road, Austin, TX 78744, or for further information call (512) 389-4626, or toll-free 1-800-792-1112, ext. 4626.
