THE NEWSPAPER

Whittlin'

By Dolph Moten

Last week's story and page concerning the Motens' first year in Bovina was a wonderfully pleasant surprise. The kind words and actions made me stop and consider what a nice group of people that we're fortunate enough to live and work with.

The surprise caused an inspiring, warm, hard-to-describe feeling inside me.

I certainly appreciate it.

Local baseball haters may read this issue of The Blade without fear this week. Baseball game stories are at a minimum because of open dates in league's schedules.

Maybe the teams will see more action next week.

The Fourth of July picnic's coming on Wednesday, the same day that The Blade comes out, created a problem. I didn't know whether to ignore the picnic in this issue, announce it again, or write a story about things that happened at the picnic and hope it was right.

So, as is usually the case when that many alternatives present themselves, I did neither. However, you will find in this issue a picec schedule of events. If you attend the picnic, the schedule will tell you what you're going to do, and if you've already gone, maybe it'll tell you what you did.

Writing a column can be fun if you're smart enough to know when to write it and something about how. Some preparation and a little quiet and unhurriedness usually makes column writing a lot mod simple for me.

Too much of the time, I neglect to make preparations and then allow not near enough time. This is one of those bad times.

Like I said before, it can be fun. But on the other hand, it can get to be quite a chore. It's like a lot of other things. Depends on how you go about it.
