Relay for Life tops goal of $15,000

The first Brackettville American Cancer Society Relay for Life opened May 6, with 38 local cancer survivors making the first lap around the field at Tiger Stadium.

According to event coordinators, fifteen teams and more than 150 participants raised an estimated $26,960, nearly twice the original goal of $15,000. These figures translate into nearly $8 for every county resident. Funds raised will be used nationally to promote awareness and fund cancer research.

"Small towns usually raise more money per capita than larger towns because of the closeness," said American Cancer Society Regional Coordinator Clarise Kehoe.

United Medical Center Team Antibodies Team #1 and #2 topped the fundraising charts with $2,152.63 and $2155.12, respectively. Rosalva's Raza raised $2113.76. Rio Grande Electric Co-op Pink Lightnin' raised $1,966.21. The Aloha Bunch raised $2027.50. The Frontier Walkers raised 1,898.15. Wisdom Seekers #1 raised $1,072.00 and Wisdom Seekers #2 raised $1,211.13. Moe's Angels raised $1454.00. The Warriors collected $1,021.00. The Cononly Clan raised $631.95. Ismael's Falcons raised $1,812.50. The Graceful Gaxelles raised $1,142.00. The Pink Ladies of the '80's raised $969.36 and the Pink Flamings collected $991.10.

Early Friday evening, participants formed a circle of hope around the field and quietly honored those in their lives affected by cancer.

Throughout the night, team members took turns walking around the football field. The field was encircled by 480 hand decorated luminarias honoring loved ones including many locals that have recently succumbed to cancer.

The night progressed, but the energy levels were kept on high as walkers were entertained with music, games and prize drawings.

The event concluded with a sunrise service led by Rev. Nathan Lafrenz early May 7. Prayers were said for those already lost to cancer and thanks given for the survivors.

The event, taken personally by so many residents, was led by local 16-year-old, Alison Carroll, whose life has been touched by cancer repeatedly. Carroll's own father is currently struggling with cancer of the larynx and all four of her grandparents were taken by the disease.

"It's very emotional for me to speak about Alison. To see the youth come out and be so dedicated.

"So many adults are unwilling to take the challenge, but the youth make it their own. I was honored to work with her," concluded Kehoe.

Aloha Girls
From left: Beverly Wright, Adela Avila, Mary Jane Garcia and Francine Collins walked hula-style at the Relay for Life on May 6 and 7 at Tiger Stadium.

Mr. and Miss Cinco De Mayo
Sam Stewart and Brianna Escamilla were crowned Mr. and Miss Cinco De Mayo on May 6 by the Las Moras Hispanic Organization.

City audit presented

The much anticipated 2004-2005 financial audit was presented by Allison Rosenow of Hardin & Newsome at the regular City Council meeting on May 9.

"I would suggest that you use this data as a managerial tool," said Rosenow.

Rosenow also suggested the council meet and amend the current budget using the figures and information from 2004-2005 to create a more realistic financial picture of the City.

The figures used for the current budget were based on estimates because the city did not have any financial records for fiscal years 2001-2004. "For three years, the City had no data, absolutely none," said Rosenow.

Rosenow briefly summarized the audit, "...you do have assets exceeding your liabilities and in financial terms that is where you want to be. The City, in spite of the last few years, is still currently in that position. The general fund shows a profit and the utility fund shows a loss. The audit shows an overall loss of $22,000, including $79,000 worth of depreciation."

Rosenow then turned towards City Secretary Bonnie

Mayes and her staff and commended the City for paying off all but one outstanding debt. The Texas Municipal League is still owed $29,500 for insurance premiums not paid during the David Luna administration.

No action was taken to approve the audit, but the council did schedule a workshop for May 18, to discuss the matter further.

Action to approve an ordinance to set monthly salaries for the Mayor and Council was tabled.

The Mayor is currently paid $541.42 gross every month. Each council member is paid $270.71 gross every month.

Councilman Tully Welch does not accept any monthly compensation for his service to the City each month.

Currently the only documentation the City has regarding the monthly salaries states that the Mayor should receive $250 per month and each councilperson $175 per month.

Councilwoman Mary Flores recalled the ordinance detailing the pay increase passed in Nov. 1998, but the actual ordinance has not been found to date.

Failure to act on this item leaves the Mayor and Councilpersons unprotected against any potential legal action from citizens that claim the council is overpaying themselves.

Wes Robinson, the new Secretary/Treasurer for the Brackettville Volunteer Fire Department reported new officers had been elected in April.

Joe Williams was elected Fire Chief. Leo Luna was elected Assistant Fire Chief; Joe Luna, Captain.; Lieutenant, Nat Terrazas; Gina Terrazas, Assistant Secretary/Treasurer and Bobby Cortes, Chaplain.

The interlocal agreement with Brackett ISD and the resolution to move the water tower project from Sweeny Street to the track field off FM 334 were both passed and approved.

These actions coupled with the similar actions taken by the BISSD Board of Trustees on May 8, secure a building site for the proposed water tower project and prevent the loss of more than $500,000 in grant money.

In other city news, former utility clerk Rina Villarreal was found guilty by unanimous decision of harassment through phone calls to the City offices.

Sentencing in this case will be held later this month in County Court.

Editors Weekly PLOG

Do you like gossip? Just can't get enough of it?

Brackett is notorious for its rumors. I have never lived in a small town before, so living in Brackett has been a real eye opening experience for me. I wish I could print all the stuff I hear. My circulation would triple, but I would probably get sued and the joy would end. According to rumor, I myself have been involved in torrid love affairs and shady business deals, but mostly I think its funny (and if I didn't think it was funny - I would call you directly or just start something nasty and painfully embarrassing about you-Yeah! Take that!).

Why are we so bent on dragging people down? If you have to talk about people like that, you're avoiding what you have going on in your own house! Gossip and jealousy are signs of a guilty heart. If you are spreading rumors - especially ones that can hurt people - NOT TO MENTION PEOPLE'S INNOCENT CHILDREN- then you are feeling guilty about something.

I think the hardest part of living in Brackett has been dealing with people's appetite for watching others fall from grace. I used to ask myself why don't more "locals" get out there and run for office or start a business? I was in business 20 minutes and I figured that out. People want others to fail - they love it! The minute someone starts something - "they don't know what they're doing", "she just wants to run everything", "he'll never make it" and of course "he got that money from an insurance policy".

Do you ever wonder why you hardly ever see the same leaders in little league, 4H, local politics or civic organizations? Because half the people involved come out right away and criticize you - mostly on the way you look in your clothes (and Brackett women know what I'm talking about) and then how unfair you are and then the way you organized things just did not suit them and then back when so-and-so did it "blah,blah, blah" and then finally back to how bad you look in your clothes. And then the other half waits until you just plain give out and then talks about you being a quitter.

Just because you don't like someone doesn't mean you have to want bad things to happen to them. There are people that I don't care, but if they win the lottery I'm not going to say "well, maybe they can afford to get their stomach stapled now". If someone's marriage is on the rocks - be concerned about the children involved and not what a floozy she is! (But if there's no children involved consider setting that guy up with your spinster sister!)

If you are just a jealous person and you can't stand for anyone else to have something you don't - then you need a job and a paid therapist.

Try saying something nice today. Try walking through your office or down the hall and saying something nice to the person you like the least. If they have a nice shirt on - say "your shirt is pretty" - even if the rest of their outfit looks trashy, say something nice! Leigh V.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

As one of the many participants of Kinney County's first Relay for Life I want to say thank you to Allison Carroll and all her volunteers for bringing our wonderful community together for such a worthy event.

It was so heart warming to see all ages joining together to promote awareness and to raise money to combat Cancer.

The opening ceremonies, the singing of the national anthem by Brackett's own Monica Talamantes, the presentation of the flags by the Border Patrol, the survivor's lap followed by the beginning of the all night participant's laps, bingo carried on by the youth, cake walk, Andrea being prodded by Mary Jane, Jean Hood's paintings, future Tigers playing touch football on the field, too fuch girls cheering, unbelievable quilt raffle, luminary roll call as all were holding hands around the field, HOPE spelled out in the visitor stands with luminaries, God's good weather, the staying all night and the sunrise service.

God Bless America and everyone who made the Relay a possibility for Kinney County.

Tell a Hairdresser
If you could hear what I hear

By Ida Holley
Professional Hairdresser

A hairdresser not only does your hair. Your hairdresser listens to everything you say, whether it involves your hair or skin or just dealing with everyday life. People confide in their hairdresser. When a person attends beauty school, he or she learns the basics of cosmetology. The rest is a learning experience. Remember that "knowledge is power".

Sometimes there are disappointments in our lives. Mistakes are made. We tend to make poor choices and usually suffer in the process. We should learn from our mistakes. Remember, learning is very powerful.

Getting your hair cut is a very personal thing. Therefore, it should be cut to suit you. I have seen grown women cry when they are forced to cut their long hair to secure employment.

However, long hair is not for everyone. That does not mean that all older women should cut their hair so short that they have no style. I can remember when I was a child, hearing people say that as a woman ages, she should wear her hair in a short style. That does not mean that you should lose your identity or femininity, ladies!

People are living longer lives, and women live longer. So just because you no longer have to report to work does not mean you should lose your sense of style. Women are beautiful in all shapes, sizes and ages. Sometimes, we as women are very critical with ourselves. Life is too short for that. Your hairdresser is there to help you with the right style and also listen. If you could hear what we hear. However, as professionals, we are there to listen not repeat.

You would be amazed at how some people confide in their hairdresser, and that don't even have a drink in their hand. I know that bartenders hear a lot too. But that is a different atmosphere. Being very observant, on my many visits to the beauty salon with my mother, I noticed that women actually looked better when they arrived than when they departed. So I decided then that I would go to beauty school and would help people look their best.

As time passed, I realized that some people reassurance in other areas of their lives. That they simply need to "vent". That's where the psychology part come in. If you have a question about your hair, etc., or you simply want to share an experience or need to vent. Write to "Tell a Hairdresser." P.S. You know why men look good at any age? Because they usually know what looks best on them. They see the whole picture. They are also the most loyal clients, and yes, they do "vent".

No more amnesty

Dear Editor,

In 1986, we granted amnesty to 2.7 million illegal aliens who were within our borders. This was supposed to solve our illegal immigration problem. Predictably, it only made the problem worse. Today, there are between 11 million and 20 million illegals in our country. And the number will continue to increase if we grant them amnesty.

The only solution is to demand that our federal government enforces our immigration laws. It certainly is not doing that today. We have troops all over the world protecting other nations. Let's bring some of them home and beef up security of our southern border.

Next we must enforce laws pertaining to document fraud and the hiring of illegals. If we do so, many illegals will leave our country because no one will hire them. Also, we must cancel granting automatic citizenship to infants born to illegals, a violation of our 14th Amendment. We then should begin deporting the remaining illegals and encourage them to apply for legal entry and eventual citizenship. What we must not do is to reward illegals with amnesty for breaking our laws and compromising our security and sovereignty.

Eugene E. King

Dear Editor,

A few weeks ago I read your blog about getting involved in volunteer activities in the community.

It was great and we need more volunteers for many activities. I am attaching an article that I hope you will publish about the St. Henry De Osso Family Project.

We have been working here in Brackettville since 1999 and depend upon willing volunteers. The literacy project goes on during the fall semester.

We are now in the process of getting names of children who will need help next year from Jones Elementary and soliciting volunteers to work with the children and their families.

I hope you will publish my article. Each year we have more calls for help than we have volunteers so this year we are starting now to get volunteers to sign up. I might add that we do not solicit money just willing volunteers.

Thank you so much.

Don Smith

Thank You

Over the years, I have had a wonderful opportunity to watch and groom a special member of your family. As most of you know I am closing the doors to Pampered Pups. I would like to thank each person for the many years of service and the trust which was generously given with your four legged friends while in my care. Each and every dog is very special to me however; in June, God will bless me with a grandson. I plan to devote my time to him and watch him grow.
Thanks Again,
Carolyn Card, Owner of Pampered Pups Salon

Thank You

The family of Gregorio Juarez would like to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to everyone who called, sent flowers, cards, food and especially those who prayed for our beloved father, grandfather, brother and uncle. Special thanks to the Guadalupians, Gloria's Botanas, Father Anton Quang Dinh Van of the St. Mary Magdalene Catholic Church. Thank you all for your prayers. They were all greatly appreciated.

The Little Plate

Hanging on our dining room wall is a little plate that is over thirty years old. It was given to my wife for Mothers day by one of our children.

My wife is not too sentimental about little gifts but I can assure you she is about that little plate.

It is faded and hard to read. It has a hand drawn picture of our house with two trees and two little flowers. The words read, "Mommy I hop you have a Happy mother's day".

Mothers are a special gift from God for the family. They have shown us that special love, unconditional and sacrificial, time and time again just as God has shown us a special love, (Romans 5:8, Psalm 36:5&7).

We are to show our mothers love and respect, (Exodus 20:12) just as we are to love and respect God, (Deuteronomy 6:5). This week let's call or send a card or flowers or take them to dinner or go visit them. We may even make our own little card that tells them how much we love and appreciate them. It may not be our mother but a step-mother, mother-in-law, grandmother, great-grandmother or just someone that is special in our life.

We could offer up a prayer of thanksgiving to God for them. We might go to Church with them or take them to Church with us.

Just don't forget them! See you in Church next Sunday. Brother J

CINCO DE MAYO

Vote May 13 at the MUD Office

WANTED

for Director of M.U.D.

JAMES "JIM" SPENCER

To All Customers of FCS Municipal Utility District:

- On 13, May, 2006, an election will conducted at the FCS MUD office/boardroom to elect your representative on the Board of Directors. Additionally on the ballot will be two (2) propositions for your consideration. One is for authorization to obtain a million dollar loan to be used for street repair, construction of golfcart/walking paths on Fort Clark Road and Scales Road and replacement of water lines under these roads which are more than 30 years old. The second proposition is for an Operation Maintenance Tax to repay the loan in a ten year time period.
- There is no doubt that our streets need repair and the golfcart/walking paths on Ft. Clark Rd. and Scales Road will provide not only convenience, but safety for all of us.
- The question is WHY NOW? Let's face it, if we wait another year or more the interest rate on a loan may be higher and with the cost of everything going up-I'm sure the cost of needed street repair , etc. will be much higher as well.

It's OUR decision to make. I'm asking you to let your voice be heard and vote on these issues and YOUR Board of Directors on May 13, 2006.

My name is James "Jim" Spencer and I am a candidate for the Municipal Utility District Board of VOTE: I would appreciate your vote, but by all means VOTE.

New podcast targets bird hunting enthusiasts

Fort Collins, Colo. - Wild birds are not the only thing hunters will set their sights on this season. A new podcast, "Bird Dogs Forever," will deliver education, entertainment and habitat information to bird hunting enthusiasts.

The premium podcast, which premieres this week, will feature hunting destinations around the country and globe; interviews with top sources on bird hunting, shotguns and bird dogs; and tips on selecting, training and caring for dogs. Two types of podcast subscriptions are available. The annual premium podcast subscription costs $30 and includes three new 20-minute podcasts each week. The standard podcast subscription is free and includes shorter episodes approximately once a week. Subscribers can access both podcasts at www.bird dogsforever.com.

Podcast viewers will join host Chris Hageseth as he talks tactics with the experts and as he hunts for dozens of wild bird species in popular and obscure spots. Hageseth and his guests' hunting excursions highlight the skills of a wide variety of dogs, from common hunting breeds to lesser-known breeds. A sampling of their adventures includes a blue grouse hunt in the Rocky Mountains with a pointing Labrador Retriever; a hunt for ruffed grouse in Northern Maine with a rare French pointing dog; and a South Dakota pheasant hunt with a pair of German Shorthaired Pointers. Another series will feature lesser known grouse including Blue Grouse, Sage Grouse and Columbian Sharp-tail Grouse.

These episodes will focus not only on hunting, but will include wildlife biologists describing the ecology, life cycle and future of these less frequently hunted grouse.

The "Bird Dogs Forever" podcast is an extension of the "Bird Dogs Forever" television show, a program about upland bird hunting and bird dogs that aired from 2000-2003 on the Outdoor Life Network. The Sportsman Channel has recently re-broadcast the show and it is now available in Canada and the republics of the former Soviet Union.

Podcast viewers don't even need an MP3 player, only a computer with internet access. Podcasts also can be downloaded from the "Bird Dogs Forever" website and transferred to an MP3 player such as an Apple iPod, Dell DJ or Creative Zen.
